

College bells tolling for 55 students

Nineteen per cent of local high school graduates since 1958 are enrolled in accredited colleges, universities or professional schools, a survey shows. The figure, higher than at any time in Plymouth's history, is still less than the national average of 27 per cent.

Explorers to seek data on bedridden tomorrow evening

Members of Explorer Post 411, Boy Scouts of America, will deliver questionnaire forms to each household in the village tomorrow from 6:30 to 7:30 p. m.

They seek data regarding identity, age, sex and usual location of bedridden persons. From these data, they will compile a listing of such persons for use by firemen and civil defense personnel in event of disaster.

The questionnaire is simple, says Girard Cashman, chairman of the post. "All we ask the householder to do is write down the name, the age, the sex and the room where the bedridden person usually is in the daytime and in the nighttime."

A bedridden person, for purposes of the survey, is one who is either habitually unable to rise from his bed because of infirmity or illness or who has difficulty in walking alone.

The questionnaires will be delivered tomorrow. They will be collected Sunday afternoon commencing at 6 p. m.

"Only those households where there are bedridden persons need to return the questionnaires," Cashman says. "We will appreciate it if the white questionnaire is displayed in the screen door, then we won't have to disturb the occupant of the house."

21.4 per cent gas hike asked Council votes to seek outsider lagoon estimate

A 21.4 per cent increase in rates for natural gas was requested of village council Tuesday night by Ohio Fuel Gas Co.

The present contract expires Sept. 21.

Cloyce V. Messenger, manager of Ohio Fuel for Shelby and Plymouth, laid the new proposal before the council.

It calls for a new minimum for all users, whether heating or non-heating customers, of $2.50 monthly. Present minimum is $1.50. The company, Messenger said, has 93.8 per cent saturation in Plymouth; only six per cent of all householders do not use gas for heating purposes. Ohio Fuel has 619 customers. The company seeks "more stable revenue in the summer and that's why we're proposing to set the minimum at $2.50 instead of $1.50."

Councilmen took strong exception to the proposal that the first 2,000 cubic feet of gas would be billed at 25 cents per hundred, whereas the first unit under the existing contract calls for the first 1,000 cubic feet at 15 cents per hundred.

The average consumer uses 20,000 cubic feet of gas monthly during the year, Messenger said. His bill would rise from $13.40 to $18.95 during the first year of the new contract. An increase of two cents per thousand cubic feet of gas per year is built into the new contract, Messenger pointed out, until in the fourth year the average bill will be $4.07 more than what it is now.

A clause is included providing that if Ohio or Plymouth should assess any special tax on the supplier, the rates would be adjusted to compensate therefor. Council took some exception to this, but promised to make a counter proposal to Messenger Sept. 19. Meanwhile, the present contract will remain in force, even if the expiration date is passed.

DONALD WILLET, REPRESENTING the self-appointed citizen's committee, said he spoke with Carl H. Derken, Napoleon engineer who installed the Deshler sewer lagons, and was assured that — other advice to the contrary notwithstanding — sewer lagoons are always less expensive than the conventional system. Derken agreed to come here to prepare an estimate of cost of the lagoons for $250.

He asked that Alden E. Stilson & Associates, the village's engineering consultants, be told of this arrangement. Under no compunction to do so, here to prepare an estimate of cost of the lagoons for $250.

He asked that Alden E. Stilson & Associates, the village's engineering consultants, be told of this arrangement. Under no compunction to do so, here to prepare an estimate of cost of the lagoons for $250.

Richland county commissioners will be asked to apply a seal coat to about two miles of streets in that county, at a cost of $750 a mile. The streets are Springmill road, Birchfield, High and Mulberry streets.

A blanket bond covering all functionaries of the village — making officers will be purchased. Coverage for the clerk will be set at $15,000, for the superintendent of light and power at $6,000.

A separate bond for the treasurer will be required, the council said, with its face value to be determined after the council confers with her.

MRS. CARL V. ELLIS, ASSISTANT clerk of the board of public affairs, asked for additional compensation to pay her for duties she performs for the council. This was approved in the amount of $25 monthly.

Supt. M. J. Coon told the council insurers of the board of education decline to accept premiums for the football stadium, on the grounds the village is already insured under an omnibus policy. It was agreed that if a binder to cover the stadium can be obtained without charge, it will be done. Otherwise, the board of education will be billed for the additional premium.

Red meets Col. Crawford there Saturday, underdog by at least a touchdown, PAT

King Football kicks off Saturday at 8 p. m. in North Robinson, when Plymouth's Big Red plays a return match with Col. Crawford.

The Eagles will be seeking revenge for a 28 to 16 defeat here last season.

On pre-season form, and allowing slight advantage to the home eleven, the Eagles ought to be favored by eight points.

Coach Bill Ramsey has been pushing his squad hard since school opened. The scrimmage against Cory-Rawson showed defensive weaknesses, that with New London defensive deficiencies and lack of downfield blocking.

It seems likely Ramsey will start Dick Lewis and Billy Young at ends, Jim Fetters and Dave Barbour at tackles, Ken Kieffer and Duke Sammons at guards, Bob Young at center, Jim Hamman at quarter, Rog McQuown and Phil Fletcher at halves and Gary Utiss at full.

Billy Cook, the 147-pounder who ran Coach Gary Walker's club last season, departed with a sheepskin. Just what the Eagles will offer is problematical. This is their second season of full competition. The squad outnumbers Plymouth's, and has greater size.

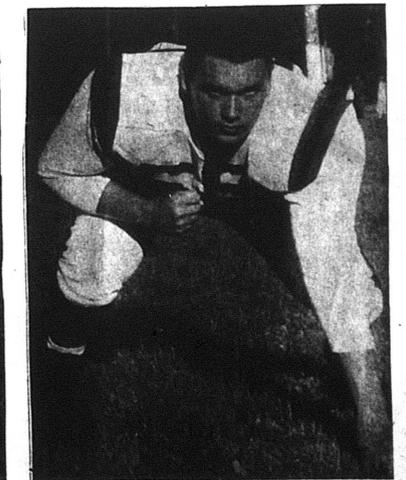

Rooters accompanying the team should expect to pay $1 for seats in the stadium, which may be reached by following Rt. 598 to Rt. 30 N, turning west past the drive-in theatre to the Spanish tavern, then turning south to the school. Ramsey had a terse "no comment" of Saturday's drill with New London. It was plain he was far from pleased.

Obviously, he regards a victory Saturday as important and therefore may be expected to keep the older players on the field so long as the issue is in doubt. A sound defeat either way will doubtless prompt the young coach to use his yearlings.

Mrs. Whitney tells church women how to find God's peace

Mrs. Eleanor Searle Whitney spoke Tuesday night before the Women's association of the Presbyterian church.

Women of the First Evangelical Lutheran church, the Methodist church, Christian Reformed church of Celeryville and the First Lutheran church of Shelby were among the guests.

Mrs. James Cunningham led the hymns, Mrs. Harold Sams gave the invocation, and Mrs. David Sams read the Scripture texts. President of the association, Miss Florence Danner, introduced Mrs. Whitney, who preceded her talk by singing "Recessional", the famous poem written by Kipling, and set to music by de Kovan.

Mrs. Whitney pointed out with enthusiasm how important are Christian women in spreading the word of Christ and His Gospels. "The most important thing in our whole lives is our Lord and Saviour", she said. "Hatred, jealousies, and rancor will all drop away, if we really have Christ in our hearts."

Mrs. Whitney said she spent the greater part of her life in church, where she sang in choirs of a number of sects and had learned to use the power of prayer, but not until four years ago when she met Billy Graham, the noted evangelist, did she realize what it means to understand the Bible and Christ. At that time she rededicated her life and became active in organizing Bible study groups.

Along with faith, one must have the knowledge to understand Christ, and that is why the lay activities of the churches are so important, Mrs. Whitney said. She recommended a "quiet time" during the day "when you stop and close out the world around you to be with the Lord, to praise and thank him."

"When accepting Christ," she concluded, "God will show you how to solve and accept your problems, give you peace of mind, hope and forgiveness, and life which shall never end."

Today at 9 a.m. Mrs. Harry Dick will be hostess in West Broadway to women of the three Protestant churches for an organizational meeting of a Bible class. Mrs. Whitney will assist her.

On Sept. 19 at 8 p.m. a class of men and women will meet at the Presbyterian church. Mr. and Mrs. Sam Bender of Toledo will be the guest speakers. The Benders and Mrs. Whitney will organize another class today at 7:30 p.m. in the Shelby Lutheran church.

Contest Closes September 30, 1961

This may not be Red's year, but don't blame purposeful coach, O. T. says

"Leave us face it," an old-time football buff told The Old Timer Saturday morning, "we won't have much this season."
He may be right. After Saturday's session with New London, which didn't seem especially big or fast, the Big Red retired to lick its wounds and wind up pre-season training before Saturday's opener with

Col. Crawford.

The Red took a severe trouncing at Cory-Rawson but held Bluffton, a smaller school, to only two scores. New London won by six TD's.

Coach Bill Ramseyer knows what he's up against and expects no miracles. But if miracles can be worked, it's this corner's view that Ramseyer is the kind of coach who can do it.

His approach is positive. The introductory letter he sent to players and their parents adopted the "do", rather than the don't, notion. It wore well with parents who believe the purpose of the sport is to build poise and character and sportsmanship rather than to encourage the kind of hoodlumism that is so prevalent in some squads.

He is a stern disciplinarian. A letterman who apparently didn't want to abide by the rules was summarily dismissed. He has the respect of the players. He works as hard as anybody and he seems to be a sound teacher. That he knows the game is without question.

Ramseyer will build something he and we can be proud of if he gets some cooperation and is otherwise left alone.

One sort of cooperation he needs is a more representative turnout. Some lettermen didn't report, for whatever reason. Others who are big enough and healthy enough to be useful declined to suit up. The Plymouth squad was smaller in number than either Cory-Rawson or Bluffton, where enrollments are smaller.

"You can't learn football in a season, or even two seasons," says the diminutive coach.

The implication is that if some underclassmen who don't turn out now think they'll have first preference for starting posts in later years by reason of age and size alone, they're mistaken.

Indeed, one of the bright spots of the season so far has been the performance of some of the younger players. They more than held their own against New London. One or two freshmen may see considerable varsity action.

If Ramseyer can win half of the games on the tough 19-61 slate, he'll have done a yeaman job in his first year. Next season, the Big Red will enter the new Johnny Appleseed conference — Loudonville, Crestline, Bellville, Butler, Ontario, Fredericktown and Lexington Ramseyer will need to train his horses soundly to hold his own in that circuit.

It is to be hoped a sizeable following will accompany the team to Galion Saturday night for the Col. Crawford contest. A victory in the first one will go a long way toward making the season more successful than what seemed possible in mid-August.

Four officials to work each of five home games

For the second consecutive season, Plymouth High school football games will be manned by four certified officials.

Contracts have been signed for five home games thus:

Margaretta, Sept. 15: Joe Miller, referee; Trent Snavey, umpire; Don Hardy, head linesman; Ralph Johns, field judge;

Black River, Sept. 29: James Hunter, referee; George Donges, umpire; Robert Bogantz, head linesman; Ralph Johns, field judge;

Ridgedale, Oct. 27: Nello Monarchi, referee; Robert Gwin, umpire; Eli Joyce, head linesman; Merle McConkey, field judge;

Western Reserve, Nov. 3: John Mickley, referee; Jack Robeson, umpire; Ron Patrick, head linesman; Paul Staughtner, field judge; Bellville, Nov. 10: Harry Smith, referee; Larry Etwiler, umpire; Richard Ubrecht, head linesman; Charles Getz, field judge.

Bachrach gets gold first

A gold medal for the United States team was the reward for Bill Bachrach Aug. 30 when he won in a romp — his nearest pursuer was 100 yards in the ruck — in the 10,000 meter run of the 1961 Maccabiah Games at Tel Aviv, Israel.

A recent graduate of Yale university, where he was a standout performer in both cross country and track, Bach-rach covered the nearly seven miles in 33 minutes 1.6 seconds.

Bachrach had intended competing in the 15,000 meters but was nominated to run the shorter distance for the first time in competition.

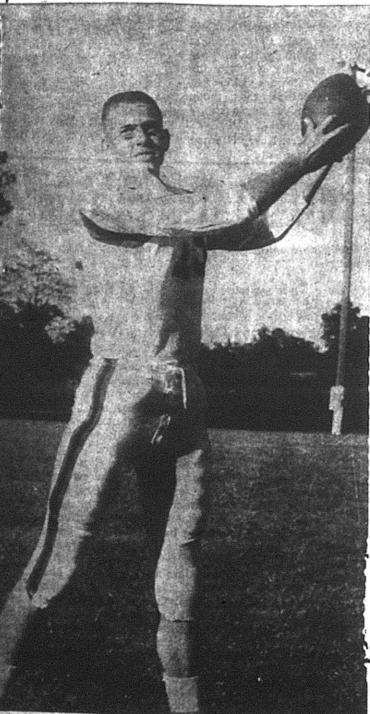

He will enter the law school of the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor later this month.

He is the son of the David H. Bachrach, 32 Trux street.
