Mrs. Ehret loses brother suddenly

Brother of Mrs. Carlton Ehret, 32-year-old William Calabria, Willard's only shoe repair specialist, died suddenly of heart seizure at his home at 116 Third-street here Friday.

His wife, Lucille; two daughters, Susan and Linda, both at home; his father, Nick, Willard, and his sister survive.

The Rev. Harry Adams, pastor of the Evangelical United Brethren church at Willard, conducted a funeral service Monday at 2 p.m. Burial was in Greenwood cemetery.

William C. Laser succumbs at 58

William C. Laser, 58, chief of the Richman county highway garage at Shiloh, died at his home on Willet road Tuesday.

He had only recently been released from Shelby Memorial hospital after lengthy treatment for a cardiac ailment.

His wife, Lillian; a son, Thomas, Columbus; three brothers, Lester, Shiloh; Myron, Plymouth route 1, and Harry, in Arizona, and three sisters, Mrs. Ross Adams, Mrs. Walter Dick and Mrs. Autha Norman, all of Shelby, survive.

The Rev. James Nichols conducted a funeral service from McQuate Funeral home, Shiloh, Monday at 1 p.m. Burial was in Mt. Hope Cemetery.

Z. B. Paramore, colorful pioneer, is in home reported here. Mr. Robert Blashford, Plymouth route 1, Zell Burton, Paramore, 93, died at the home of a son, Lee, in Ontario Jan. 2.

As a young man, Mr. Paramore pioneered in Kansas. He made the last Cherokee run into Oklahoma before statehood. He then went to California, stayed there a long time, and returned to Ohio in 1915 to settle seven miles east of Shiloh.

Born near Crestline, he was an active member of the Free Methodist church in Harker street, Mansfield.

Two daughters, Mrs. Myra L. Conteras, Mansfield, and Mrs. Mildred Lowery, Shiloh; five sons, J. Bartley, Summerfield, Fla.; Glenn, Massillon; Alvin, New London; Emory, Shiloh, and Lloyd, in Australia, and many grandchildren also survive. Last rites were conducted from the home of the James Lowerys, 37 East Main street, Shiloh, Friday at 2 p.m.

Dun, Bradstreet list 43 firms locally

Dun and Bradstreet's reference book lists 43 manufacturers, wholesalers and retailers in Plymouth as of November, 1961.

It does not include some of the service and professional businesses such as beauty and barber shops and stock and real estate brokers. Thus, the figures for the number of businesses in Plymouth are actually higher than the 43 quoted above. During the past 12 months there was one addition in the number of businesses reported here.

Twenty changes were made in the reference book listings of Plymouth in 1961. The reference book contains almost three million business listings for over 50,000 communities in the United States. It is published every 60 days to keep listings current.

W. W. Williams dies

Father of Floyd Williams, Walter W. Williams, 88, Shiloh route 1, died Friday in Tiffin State Hospital.

The Rev. James Nichols, pastor of Mt. Hope Lutheran church, Shiloh, conducted a funeral service from McQuate Funeral home there Tuesday at 1 p.m. Interment was in Mt. Hope cemetery.

Driver fined $100, costs on DWI here

A fine of $100 and costs was assessed against Alex R. Ramey, 36, Tiro route 1, in the court of Mayor William Fazio on conviction of a charge of driving while under the influence of alcohol.

Ramey collided with a service pole in West Broadway Dec. 30. He said he was overtaking another car in West Broadway when his car went out of control, crossed the curbstone on the south side of the street and struck the pole.

He paid $82.25 to the board of public affairs for damage to the pole.

The Denver Taylors, Cornell hotel apartment, are free from Huron county jail on bail of $1,500 bond for her and $250 for him on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor. Their six-year-old daughter is alleged to have been found on the Square clad only in pajamas on a bitterly cold night. Police found the parents at home, asleep.

Mrs. Christian quits board job, cites 'pressures'; tennis axed

Mrs. Miles Christian, first woman to be elected to the Plymouth Board of Education, now in the middle of her first term, resigned Tuesday night. She said "There're too many pressures".

The board asked its president, Donald P. Markley, to discuss it with her before officially accepting it.

Five economy measures were adopted to offset the loss of monies from the second decade of a five-mill operating levy.

Charges will be made to pupils for construction and practice paper used in classroom work.

A one cent charge per lunch will be added to cafeteria costs to offset the differential.

Tennis will be eliminated from the spring athletic program.

Extra-curricular and civic activities in the school buildings on weekends will be held at a minimum unless paid for privately.

Other costs, such as foods used in the home economics department will be paid for by the pupils.

The clerk was authorized to borrow $35,000 from Peoples National bank to tide the board over for two pay periods until foundation and tax monies are received. In reviewing the school's financial standing, Supt. M. J. Coon pointed out local evaluation increased just over $4,000 from last year. State foundation monies were increased some $19,000, which had been estimated when the board asked for the additional five-mill operating levy. It anticipated that about $70,000 would be needed for additional costs this year and it could plan on the two increases, which left about $50,000 to be raised by fresh taxation.

Markley pointed out the schools operated within one per cent of the budget last year. "We were fortunate in receiving all over tax money rather than waiting for delinquent payments to come in," he said.

A formal motion to support the Ohio High School Athletic association in its suspension of Canton McKinley High school for using undue influence in obtaining athletes from other schools was approved without dissent.

Euchre parties set

Plymouth Grange will hold a regular meeting Jan. 19. The next night will begin a series of euchre parties to be held each Saturday night in the Grange hall. The public is cordially invited.

USPO offering booklet on fallout

"Fallout Protection", what to know and do about nuclear attack, a publication of the Department of Defense, is available in Plymouth post office free. Postmaster Raymond L. Brooks reports.

The 46-page booklet deals primarily with a five-megaton atomic explosion, the damage to be expected within a radius of 50 miles, and with fallout.

Presumable enemy targets in this region would be Cleveland and Toledo, each of which is about 80 miles as the crow flies, well beyond the net effect of the blast wave of a five-megaton explosion but well within the effect of the fallout area.

Advertiser getting some new leathers for cap, now 109

The Advertiser, now in its 109th year, the oldest continuous business in Plymouth, is again a winner for newspaper achievement, according to William J. Oertel, executive director of the Ohio Newspaper association.

"The Advertiser has been selected as a winner of one or more Osman C. Hooper Newspaper show awards which will be presented in Columbus, Friday morning, Feb. 9, during the annual ONA convention. I am not at liberty to reveal what award The Advertiser won nor the place won, but the place is in the top three. The judges will announce the winners they selected during the convention. Prof. George J. Kienzie, Ohio State university school of journalism, will lead a panel discussion among the judges."

The publisher intends to attend the convention.

The Advertiser is entered in the under-2,000 class of circulation, with newspapers from such communities as Yellow Springs, North Baltimore, Spencerville and Blanchester.

P. H. Root to mark 80th anniversary

Percy H. Root will mark his 80th birthday Sunday.

It will also be the 63rd anniversary of his association with The Fate-Root Health Co. or its predecessor. He has served as treasurer and vice-president in design and engineering assignments in the ceramic and special products divisions.

He remains active in the special products division.

"P. H." as he is familiarly known to employees of the firm, came to Plymouth from Medina in 1895. Twice married, once a widower, he has two daughters, Miriam and Ruth, now both married and living in Elmira, N. Y., and two sons, Thomas and Paul, associated with him in the company.

There are 13 grandchildren and one great-grandchild, Molly Susan Streeter, born in Ithaca, N. Y., last fall. Mr. Root will make her acquaintance in Elmira this week-end.

Slansberry to stand trial for assault

A true bill was returned Thursday by Huron county grand jury against John Slansberry, 26, Spanish instructor in Plymouth High school, arrested Nov. 18 at his home in Shiloh on a charge of assault and battery against John Selick, 3rd, Shiloh.

Complaining witness against Slansberry is young Selick's father, John Selick, Jr.

Slansberry will now stand trial in Huron county common pleas court.

NOTHING ... is so universally read as the classified pages!

Readership surveys of daily and weekly newspapers show that subscribers turn to the classified page just about as often as to any inside page save comics. (And comics often appear on classified pages!) For variety, breadth of interest and attention-holding, classified pages are second to none in the newspaper. Many advertisers insist upon classified space, subject to the rules of the trade, because they know these facts.

CLASSIFIEDS ... are news, as well as advertising!

The reader learns the Joneses are having a baby before Mrs. J announces it to her bridge club. "WANTED: used baby buggy, call Mrs. Jones." He sees that Mrs. Brown has left Mr. Brown. "I will not be responsible for any debts other than my own. John A. Brown." The Wilsons have a new calf. "FOR SALE: Milk cow, just freshened. Inquire Adam Wilson." Billy Smith has grown two sizes since Christmas. He says so! "FOR SALE: Hockey skates, size 6, used only five times, too small for owner. See Billy Smith."

DURING JANUARY Advertiser classifieds will be sold at bargain rates!

To re-introduce Advertiser classifieds to its family of readers, the classified department will sell four classifieds for the price of three, during January only. RATES: 20 words for 60 cents for single insertion, FOUR insertions for $1.50.

Call at the business office or phone 687-5511 for this grand opportunity to buy, sell, lease, rent, hire, find a job, say thank you, advertise your wife or husband, or give away your kittens.

Being a periodic, but irregular, presentation of human interest stories that come to the staff's attention yet seem for one reason or another not suitable for treatment elsewhere in the paper.

Village landholders who pay their annual taxes at the Richland county court house have a pleasant surprise in store.

The tax rate this year will be lower than the all-time record established last year. Auditor Norman L. Wolfe announces taxes in Plymouth will be collected at the rate of $38.60 for each $1,000 valuation, down $1.80 from the record of $40.40.

Other Plymouth township taxes will be assessed thus: Plymouth school district, $31.50, down 60 cents from last year;

Buckeye Central school district, $30.20, up $6.70 from last year;

Shelby school district, $30.40, down 20 cents from last year;

BLOOMINGGROVE TOWNSHIP TAXES: Union school district, $31.20, up $2 from last year;

South Central school district, $30.50, up $2.10 from last year;

CASS TOWNSHIP TAXES: Shiloh village, $34, down $1 from last year.

IT WAS A WEEKEND OF eating crow for the popular young coach of the Big Red football team. Sunday he debated — and lost — with his wife on the question of how to deal in pinhole. She said it's three cards at a time, he said otherwise. Conclusion: consult Hoyle. Result: he lost.

Monday afternoon, in discussing the strategy of his second most favorite sport (the first is eating), he said that when a team returns a free kick by punt, drop kick or placement on the same play, the ball is not free. He consulted the rules and found he was wrong. The ball IS free. Opposing coaches of the Johnny Appleseed conference might take note that he has

75 PHS boys to take battery of tests for physical fitness

About 75 boys of Plymouth High school are enrolled in a physical fitness regimen which seeks to develop motor skills, their physical education instructor, William Ramseyer, reports.

A basic physical fitness standard will be enforced at the conclusion of the present six-week grading period, Ramseyer says. "Boys who meet the 'ceiling performance' will then undertake the second phase of the tests, which requires speedier performance in the several tests. Those who meet the 'ceiling performance' in the second phase will then undertake the final battery of tests."

Ten tests, or "events", comprise each battery. These are pull-ups, push-ups, sit-ups, the "burpee", a shuttle run of 160 yards, a rope climb, an agility course, an 880-yard run, a man lift-and-carry and the overhead ladder.

In the second phase, distance of the shuttle run is increased to 200 yards, the half-mile run to 1.25 yards. In the final phase, the run is increased to one mile. The tests are administered to all boys save seniors and players on the three basketball squads, who number 36.

A 14-year-old Plymouth High school freshman hopes the rest of 1962 won't be so bad as the first day.

A. L. (Chip) Paddock, 3rd, anxious to augment his allowance, and certain he had figured the outcome of holiday bowl games correctly, ventured small wagers with his father on the outcome of seven games. He won on Alabama over Arkansas and Green Bay over New York, but lost on Georgia Tech over Penn State, Gray over Blue, Mississippi over Texas, East over West, and UCLA over Minnesota.

While he was agonized by these developments, he was summoned to Plymouth street, where a hit-and-run driver had struck his seven-month-old beagle, "Banjo". The dog is now being treated by Dr. William Henson, Shelby veterinarian, for a fractured skull and broken jaw.

Miss Predieri becomes bride of New Londoner at Willard

Miss Dorothy Jeanne Predieri became the bride of Carlton Joe Runkle Dec. 30 in a nuptial high Mass at 10 a.m. before the altar of St. Francis Xavier church in Willard.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Predieri, Mill road. He is the son of Mrs. K. J. Chandonia, New London. Bouquets of red poinsettias were lighted by tapers at the altar.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in white taffeta and Alencon lace, fashioned with full skirt which ended in a chapel train tucked softly to reveal a large circular back pleat. An Obi sash, trimmed with an Alencon medallion, fell down the length of the train. The skirt also had motifs of lace medallions. The bodice was outlined in pearls with iridescent. Long tapered sleeves ended in points at her wrists.

A crown of aurora borealis crystals, rhinestones and pearls held her fingertip illusion veil. Her only jewelry was a small silver dove on a slim chain. She carried a bouquet of white carnations and ivy surrounding a white orchid.

Her sister, Mrs. Marvin Wurm, was matron of honor. She wore flame red with a taffeta bouffant skirt. There was a crushed cammerbund at the waist with a large butterfly drape in the back. The bodice of velvet had a scoop-neckline with short sleeves. Her headpiece was a matching taffeta clip topped with a cabbage rose, from which fell a short circular veil. She carried a bouquet of red and white carnations entwined with ivy.

Bridesmaids were Miss Lana Runkle, sister of the bridegroom; Jane Vanderpool, a cousin of the bride, Donna Arnold and Beatrice Baurma. They wore gowns similar to that of the matron of honor in emerald green. Their bouquets were tangerine and yellow carnations with ivy.

The bride's niece, Michelle

Wurm, was flower girl. She wore white voile with elbow-length ruffled sleeves, and a Peter Pan collar. Her full skirt fell in tiers from the waist. She wore a small white band of fur on her head and carried a little white fur muff with red and white carnations with ivy.

Michael Wurm, a nephew, was the ring bearer. Robert Predieri and Rodney Smith ushered.

THE BRIDE'S MOTHER chose a beige lace with white accessories and wore a red and white corsage. Mrs. Chandonia wore a blue wool jersey with white. Mrs. D. K. McGinty, the bride's grandmother, wore a brown lace dress. The bridegroom's grandmother, Mrs. Zelma Fulbrick, was gowned in rose-colored jersey. They all wore corsages of white carnations.

A reception was held at the Knights of Columbus hall in Willard. A color scheme of red and green was carried out. James Predieri, the bride's godfather, greeted the guests. They were registered by her godmother, Mrs. Joseph Predieri.

The bride's table held a four-tiered cake which was served by Mrs. Marie Miller, Mrs. Perry Grimmer and Miss Marilyn Risner.

The new Mrs. Runkle is a graduate of Plymouth High school employed by the Bachrach Cattle Co. Mr. Runkle, a graduate of Ruggles-Troy High School, is an R. R. Donnelly & Sons employee.

Junior auxiliary sent boxes to veterans

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn J. Hartman of Shelby were guests of Mrs. Esther Paine Saturday.

Regular meeting of the Junior Auxiliary, Garrett-Reist Post, Unit 503, was held Dec. 19.

Grace Harnly, junior chairman, presided over the meeting and installed the new officers, who include: Nancy Dawson, president; Sherry Nesbitt, first vice-president; Audrey Dawson, second vice-president; Lana Dawson, secretary; Susie Reynolds, sergeant-at-arms.

Plans were made to go Christmas caroling and deliver treats to the shut-ins. A bake sale was held Dec. 30 and Christmas favors were made by the junior members and delivered to the Soldiers and Sailors hospital, Sandusky.

Twenty-one boxes of candy and oranges were delivered to Shelby Memorial hospital and 10 boxes of candy and oranges were delivered to People's hospital, Mansfield.

Next meeting of the Junior Auxiliary will be Tuesday at 7 p.m. at the auxiliary room of the Legion home.

Honoring their son, Robert, home from Ft. Knox, Ky., on holiday leave, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Seaman entertained at dinner Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Bloom, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Strimple, Mansfield; Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Davis and Miss Mary Hockenshelt.

Shelby; Mr. and Mrs. Dale Seaman, Willard route 1; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Seaman, Mr. and Mrs. Marion Baker and Janet Baker, Chester Bloom and Miss Carolyn Noble, all of Shiloh.

James Wells, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Wells, student at Central Institute of Technology, Kansas City, Mo., recently spent several days at his home, east of Shiloh.

Lutherans . . .
Annual congregational meeting of First Evangelical Lutheran church will convene after Sunday morning's service with Wallace Redden as chairman.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to express my sincere appreciation to all my friends, neighbors and relatives who sent me cards, flowers and gifts while a patient in Willard hospital and since returning home; also to the Rev. Mr. Rutan, Catherine Taylor class, Women's association of First Presbyterian church and the Firebells for their thoughtfulness.
Mrs. Harry Briggs 11p

Barnd leads Plymouth to win over Lexington

Tom Barnd led Plymouth's Big Red from behind at the half here Friday night as the home quintet won a big one from Lexington, 77 to 56. It was a 25-point outburst in the third quarter that turned the tide for the Big Red.

Coach Ron Hostler announced in advance he would win this one and he was as good as his word. His charges went wild in the final period with 26 points.

Barnd was all but phenomenal. Jim Hamman scored 19 and Roger Van Loo 15, the only other Plymouth players in double figures.
