

Confusion

Nobody has come forward with what seems to us to be suitable argument favoring one judiciary candidate or another.

We think the bar associations are delinquent in this respect. Nobody knows the competence of a professional better than his conferees. Physicians rate their colleagues in a fashion, by regulating the conditions under which a candidate may be accredited, or obtain the right to public announcement of his specialty. Dentists behave similarly.

It's only right, we think, for lawyers to say which of their fellow attorneys is more competent than his opponent for a judicial post available to the people by direct election.

Neither Huron nor Richland county bar cares to do these things. This omission could — mind you, the word is could, rather than will — result in the choosing of an incompetent judge.

In the absence of such recommendations, the Huron county voter must rely upon other touchstones for his choice of county court judge. Two aspire to a four-year term, incumbent Clifford Brown and aspirant Mrs. Beverly White.

The seat of the court is Norwalk, but voters living in all parts of the county will express their choice.

It is obvious that the best candidate should be elected, whether male or female, without question. How to choose? We confess we do not know. It is the duty of the voter to measure, by whatever means he can, whether the character and integrity of the one is superior to that of the other. In the event of a standoff, he must vote for experience.

In Richland county, Judge Stuart H. Creamer seeks reelection as juvenile and domestic relations judge. He has served honorably and deserves wide public support.

Newspaper week

Last week was National Newspaper week.

The Advertiser was proud to join newspapers throughout the country in urging readers to take special note of this observance.

We didn't plan to do anything special about it. Every week is newspaper week for us, whether the president so proclaims or not. Our doors are open to anybody who wants to see how a newspaper is published at any time. Even to those who want to see how the mistakes are made.

Theme of Newspaper week this year was "Newspapers make a BIG difference in people's lives."

Do they, really?

Consider what occurred in Minneapolis, Minn., during the summer, when the newspapers of that great city were beset by strikes and did not publish for nine weeks.

"It was awful," says a friend of ours who lives there. "We didn't know who was dead, who was selling what, or where, or when. Radio and television tried hard to fill the gap, but you can't take them to the bathroom with you."

The point is well taken. Note also that bankruptcies in Minneapolis for the period in 1962 far exceeded those for the same period in any other year. Some of them can be traced to a general downturn in the economy, true, but it is significant that some bankruptcies — the Chamber of Commerce said "a lot of them" — were traceable to inability of these businesses to advertise.

There's no need to belabor the point. Newspapers do make a big difference in people's lives.

On Oct. 22, this one had made a big difference in the lives of its readers and its community for 109 years. We intend to carry on with that record for at least another 109 years.

F-R-H lands biggest ever -- $1 million Army contract

Biggest single order ever placed with the Fate-Root-Heath Co. was announced in St. Louis, Mo., Tuesday when Transportation Materiel Command, U.S. Army, reported it has contracted with Plymouth Locomotive Works, a division of F-R-H, for 10 locomotives and spare parts amounting to about $1 million.

The 57-ton locomotives will be of a new design, the Army said, with full torque hydraulic shifting transmissions, capable of speeds of 50 miles an hour. They will be powered by two General Motors V-12 diesel engines developing a total of 1,000 horsepower and with Clark hydraulic transmissions.

Destination of the locomotives, which must be delivered by mid-April, 1963, is a military secret, Miles Christian, vice-president of the firm, said.

Although these locomotives will be new in design, Christian said, they will be "somewhat similar to those which we made and shipped to Mexico several months ago."

LAST of a distinguished line of Utiss brothers, Gary — co-captain of the Plymouth eleven — is expected to play a big role in his team's effort at Fredericktown tomorrow night. He plays full-back on offense, end on defense.

Big Red underdogs at Fredericktown

Plymouth has never defeated Fredericktown in interscholastic football and it would be unreasonable to expect it this year.

The Freddie's are loaded with an offensive juggernaut that grinds out yardage with great ease (over 100 points in and Butler contests.

And it depends on how you look at it. Did Crestline indeed have an off night when it played Plymouth? Probably so, but then Plymouth was down too. Crestline licked the Freddie's, 22 to 8, and whipped Plymouth 22 to 0.

Fredericktown (5-1-1) walked all over Butler, whereas Plymouth couldn't get going in the first half.

On form and past record, therefore, only a fool would rate Plymouth closer than two touchdowns to the Freddie's.

But fools and experts are often made more so by school-boy football.

How to reach field at Fredericktown

How to find Freddie's stadium:

Because Rt. 13 is apt to be interrupted south of Bellville, because of road repair, some drivers may wish to approach Fredericktown via Rt. 314 south from Shelby to Chesterville, thence east in Rt. 95 to Fredericktown. Turn north (left) in Taylor street, first street inside corporation line, to stadium.

Those wishing to proceed via Rt. 12 through Mansfield should turn west (right) at Salem avenue, first street inside north corporation line at Fredericktown, continue two blocks and turn south (left) in Taylor street to stadium.

Parking in a gravelled lot is available.

Admission is $1 for adults, 50 cents for pupils.

the last two outings) and a strong defense that has faltered in two games only, that with Ontario, when it gave up 20 points and a tie, and that with Crestline, when it gave up 22 points.

The only points of comparison between the two opponents at Fredericktown tomorrow, when Plymouth seeks its fourth straight victory, and third in the Johnny Appleseed conference, are the Crestline

High school plans open house Oct. 30

Plymouth High school will stage open house Tuesday from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m.

Parents and friends of pupils and the general public are invited to attend abbreviated sessions of each class. These sessions will endure for 10 minutes each.

Each high school teacher will be at his desk for the open house and will explain how his classes are conducted. Visitors should feel free to ask questions, Principal Wayne H. Strine announces.

The last penny

"Teacher, please let me take some money so I can go too." Time: 1960.

The request was plaintive and apparently sincere. Mrs. Fred J. Port, the teacher, produced a dime and a penny, the cost of the presentation which the pupil wished to see, and was given in return a promise to pay it back.

In almost a generation as teacher, Emma Port has received dozens of similar requests, almost always accompanied by such promises of reimbursement.

"They're always sincerely given and I accept them as such, well knowing such little children aren't likely to pay me back," she said last week. "And I don't really care about the money, if the child is going to get some good out of it."

But earlier last week, the pupil surprised her.

David Tackett, whose home burned to the ground, forcing his parents to move to another community before re-locating here, asked his third grade teacher in Plymouth Elementary school if he could go to Mrs. Port's room on an errand. Permission was granted.

In his hand were 10 of the 11 cents he had borrowed two years before, and on his lips was a promise to pay that last penny.

Goblins to parade here Wednesday

Plymouth's Community club will again sponsor the annual Halloween costume parade at 7 p.m. Wednesday. Mrs. Donald J. Willet, Clarence O. Cramer and Harold Ross will judge entries.

Classes are pre-school age, first through third grades, fourth through the sixth grade, junior high and adults. Last class will again be divided into the most original, the prettiest, the scariest and the most comic costumes.

Cash prizes will be awarded in each group. Donald P. Markey is in charge of the prizes.

H. James Root will be master of ceremonies for the parade. Charles H. Dick, president of the Community club, is general chairman.

After the judging is completed, cider and doughnuts will be served by J. Harris Postema with the help of the Civilian Defense unit.

UNICEF drive set here Monday night

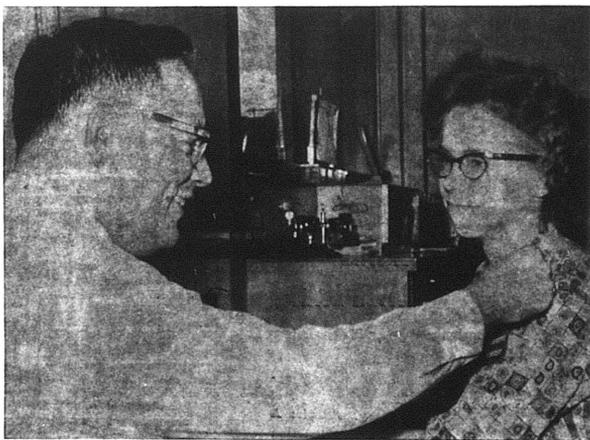

Young people of Plymouth's Protestant churches will join Monday night in this year's UNICEF (United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund) drive.

Some 57,000,000 children in 100 other countries are aided by small contributions made by householders during the Halloween season. The drive in many communities has taken the place of the "Trick or Treat" night. Families give what they might have spent on candies and other treats.

Mrs. Robert C. Haas, Plymouth Methodist church; the Rev. Robert Mace, First Presbyterian church, and Mrs. Wallace Redden, First Evangelical Lutheran church, will arrange routes of call for the young people. They will begin at 7 p.m.

"It is wonderful what very small sums of money will do," Mrs. Haas said this week. "One cent will buy five glasses of milk, five cents will buy penicillin for one child, 10 cents will cover the cost of penicillin to cure two children of the yaws, a common tropical disease afflicting thousands, and 25 cents will buy 125 vitamin tablets to start a child on the road to good health."

TREASURER Ream rewards Mrs. Paul Weatherbie for contribution with red flyer, innovation by chest this year. — advertiser photo

Chest 26.9% full with $941.50 with eight days remaining

Plymouth Community chest was 26.9 per cent full with eight full days remaining, Treasurer Quentin R. Ream announced Tuesday. A total of 101 donors had contributed $941.50, an average of $9.32 per contributor.

Response to the written appeal amounted to about 14 per cent, Ream said. "Only a few of the business houses have contributed so far," he said, "which is normal, since they generally are heard from in the last week of the campaign."

Strohenger urges electorate to back 3.1 mills of fresh taxes

Why electors of Plymouth Local School district should support the new 3.1 mill operating levy is outlined by C. Todd Strohenger, executive head, in a statement issued this week.

"Are our children good enough for the best in educational opportunities? Should they be penalized because they do not live in a high valuation district?" Strohenger asks.

"Individual need for quality education is becoming greater," he said. "Demand for unskilled labor will remain the same. The need for farm workers will decrease. It can be seen that education and special skills will play a larger role in the economy our children will face."

"General needs of Plymouth district are," he asserted, "more funds for general building maintenance, a program of continual equipment replacement, an additional equipment for classroom use and stimulation of teacher salaries, which are the lowest in the area." THE BUILDING MAINTENANCE program cannot be adequately financed under present conditions, Strohenger said.

Desks, chairs, textbooks and other supplies must be replaced on schedule, he claimed.

"Science equipment, language laboratories, maps, charts, reference materials, library books and audio-visual materials are urgently needed," the executive head said.

"One basic reason for the large teacher turnover this year," he asserted, "was the teacher salary scale. You cannot have continuity of program unless the staff remains fairly stable."

What the board of education requests in new funds is not the complete answer to the district's problems, Strohenger said.

"Final answer seems to be in more state help. Real estate taxes are admittedly high in this district. Help your representatives in Columbus to represent you. Tell them what you want. Write or call them. They will listen to you. They consider school people a pressure group. Let them know you consider quality education a must. Let them know you are willing to bear the burden of more taxes on the state level. Show them that you are willing to accept additional taxes on liquor, cigarettes, sales tax, amusements and such other sources."

He cited these representatives of local constituency: State Sens. Roy B. Gardner, Mansfield, and John W. Brown, Medina, Ohio Senate (Sen. J. L. Simpson, Forest, is deceased and a successor will be elected next month); State Reps. Richard M. Christiansen, Mansfield; Harry V. Jump, Willard, and Terry Drake, Galion, all candidates for reelection next month.

Mrs. Young to host 20th Centurians

Mrs. Ruby Young will be hostess to the Twentieth Century circle at her home Monday night.

The program, "Unforgettable Characters," will be given by Mrs. R. C. McBeth, Mrs. Harry Dick and Mrs. E. L. Earnest.

Pyers boy shot

A former Plymouth youth was the victim of a freak shooting accident in Ontario Oct. 11.

Donald Pyers, 13, son of Mrs. Donna Pyers, whose mother, Mrs. Martha Stotts, operated the H&M Grill prior to its sale to Donna Vanderpool, was accidentally shot in the left leg by a 15-year-old Ontario boy. The calibre .22 weapon belonged to another Ontario boy, 17 years old.

Juvenile Judge Stuart H. Cramer sentenced the 17-year-old youth to probation for a year, to relinquish the gun to his father, not to take it out without supervision. Young Pyers was treated in Crestline Memorial hospital for two days.

LETTERS THAT SMILE

September 27, 1962

Dear Uncle Bill:

How very nice of you to take time to write us such a complimentary letter. We are very proud of our store and are always happy to hear when our customers are pleased.

We showed your letter to Mary and she said to tell you that of course she remembers you, and wondered why you had not been in recently. You say it has been ten months since you visited us. We trust that you have not been ill.

The same girls are still selling notebooks and paper. However the photo machine is no longer at the head of the escalator. It has been replaced with a better machine, one which takes pass-photos pictures and is now located in the front of the store.

We are still serving the delicious soup that you mentioned, and the next time you pass this way, drop in and have a bowl on the house.

We are sorry about the locked door and hope you were not too inconvenienced. In the future see one of our floor men who will see that you are admitted.

Thank you again for your nice letter. May you have many more happy years, and visit us often.

Yours truly,
F. W. Woolworth Co.

Mayor warns

of burning leaves

Burning of leaves or other trash in the street is a violation of a village ordinance, Mayor William Fazio says, and prosecutions are mandatory.

"Householders who burn their own leaves should do so elsewhere than in the street and at times which do not create disturbances for their neighbors," he says.

"Never point your gun at one you've befriended, for if it goes off—your friendship is ended!"

Wheat rules cited by ASC chairman

Farmers who participate in the 1963 wheat stabilization program must divert the full acreage and the specific tract for which they sign up in order to be eligible for payments, says Robert Finlay, Huron county ASC office manager.

Huron county farmers who comply with all the requirements of the diversion program are eligible for payments on the acres diverted, price supports at an average of $1.85 a bushel on all wheat grown, and an 18-cent a bushel payment based on normal yield on the acreage harvested.

Farmers must designate the specific tract of land in the intention and divert the land to conservation uses. Failure to abide with the intention makes farmers ineligible for price support, diversion payments and the 18-cent payment.

John Wells, Huron county agricultural agent, says farmers are eligible upon request to receive advance payments up to one-half the diversion payment at the time of sign-up. Farmers not participating in the diversion program but complying with allotments are eligible for price support at an average of $1.85 a bushel in 1963.

The wheat program is voluntary. Farmers taking part sign an intention to divert a minimum of 20 per cent of their 1963 wheat allotment, or in the case of small farms their 1959-60-61 average accreage. Farmers may divert up to 50 per cent of their allotment or three year average, or 10 acres, whichever is larger.

Dec. 14 is the deadline to sign up for the 1963 wheat program. Huron county ASC office will be ready to take care of sign-ups by Nov. 1.

Girl Scouts learn of new affiliation

Plymouth Girl Scout leaders attended an area meeting in Mansfield yesterday to hear about the reorganization of the present council.

As of Thursday the present council of which Plymouth neighborhood is a member — Applesed Trail Girl Scout council — will merge with the Wooster council and Indian Trails council of Marion to become the Heritage Trail council.

The enlarged area will give more facilities, including camping, to Brownies and Girl Scouts. The area office will remain, as it is now, in Mansfield.

In the new organization the local unit, which had included only Plymouth and Shelby, will be enlarged to include Mansfield, Shiloh and Adario.

You, too, can help put down a threat to freedom

Uncle Sam has had some pretty conscientious help in the "freedom department" over the years. Some of the best-known contributors were an expert horseman named Revere... a group of amateur steeplechase who made good in Boston Harbor... and a party of revolutionaries who created an unsplittable nation under the shadow of a cracked bell.

Today the freedom which those patriots won for us is being challenged. And freedom will always need brave men to defend and preserve it. Men and women, like you.

You can do your share toward defending freedom by buying United States Savings Bonds today. The dollars you invest this way go right to work for your country now, as well as for your future.

How about buying a $50 Savings Bond (the most popular size) next payday? The cost is only $37.50.

Best known for his midnight ride to Lexington, famous patriot Paul Revere also designed the first Continental currency, the first official seal of the Colonies, and the state seal of Massachusetts, still in use today.

It's a good thing you have Blue Cross!

You will find a medicine cabinet like this on every floor of most hospitals. Some of these medications may cost several dollars per dose, some less than a penny. Each of them does a job that's impossible to evaluate in terms of money . . . they cure, ease pain, relax, strengthen. Most patients need one or more of them. No need to worry about the cost though—not if you have Blue Cross. Your plan covers the cost of prescribed formulary drugs during your hospital stay plus, of course, your other hospital care expenses. And Blue Shield, the companion plan to Blue Cross, helps pay your doctor. All you do is show your Blue Cross card. No money to handle or payments to arrange. If your company's present Blue Cross-Blue Shield program doesn't give you the benefits of the new extended coverage, ask someone there about it today. Some day you may need this modern coverage and when you do, you'll agree—It's a good thing you have Blue Cross.

Red routs Johnsville, 26 to 0, Fletcher, Hess, Utiss get TD's

Plymouth's Big Red delighted a packed Homecoming house with its third straight victory here Friday night, rolling over Johnsville's Raiders with ease, 26 to 0.

The Big Red marched 57 yards in 13 plays with the opening kickoff and never was in trouble in winning this one.

A certain touchdown, a brilliant 50-yard punt return by Earl Hess, was called back on a penalty and there were two other sure touchdowns save for minor mistakes, or this would have been a complete rout.

Johnsville showed nothing. The question is whether it could have shown anything if it had had it. Because the Plymouth defensive play was a thing of beauty, Johnsville wound up with a minus 26 yards on the ground.

PHIL FLETCHER, PLAYING on an injured leg, scored the first TD for the Big Red by cracking right tackle for a yard and a half early in the first period. A third-down pass from Jim Hamman to Allen Arnold, good for 15 yards and a first down on the Raiders' 10, paved the way. The try for PAT was not good.

On the last play of the quarter, Fletcher missed another touchdown by cutting outside his interference instead of dashing inside, where a sure score awaited. As it was, Plymouth punched to the two, lost five yards on a penalty and finally, on fourth down, saw Larry Ness intercept one of Hamman's tosses and run it back to the Raiders' 17.

Only slightly earlier, Ken Wiseman punted to Hess at the 50 and the senior speedster dashed through the entire Johnsville team for a touchdown, only to have it called back on a clipping infraction on the Raiders' 14.

Johnsville was unable to advance after recovering Jim Hamman's fumble on the Red 43 midway in the second period. Wiseman's fourth down pass to Dick Sargent was incomplete. Gary Utiss racked up six off the weakside, Fletcher got a pair in the same hole and then Hamman sent an accurate flip to Hess, who had slipped behind the secondary. He was several steps in the clear and kept it that way to the end zone. The play covered 54 yards.

HOW CLEARLY PLYMOUTH dominated the first half was shown by the statistics: Johnsville in 20 plays had two first downs, netted a minus 33 yards on the ground, 83 yards in the air on five completions in nine tries, made two punts averaging 32 yards and lost five yards on penalties; Plymouth in 38 plays had nine first downs, 71 yards on the ground, 94 yards in the air on four completions in seven tries, did not punt and lost 30 yards in penalties.

Plymouth broke it open in the third period, getting two scores and a freak PAT, and seemed content to sit on that performance.

Johnsville advanced the second half kickoff to its 29, where Wiseman's fourth down punt got only 23 yards. Hess fielded it on the Plymouth 48 and ran it back to the Raider 29.

This was one of several extremely effective runbacks for the Plymouth team in this contest. Total runback yardage for the night, not including Hess' colossal return for the TD that didn't count: 129 yards.

It required only eight plays for Gary Utiss to pop into the end zone from a yard out. A pass for the PAT, intended for Fletcher, dropped incomplete.

THE BIG RED SCORED for the last time the next time it obtained possession. Hamman intercepted a Raider pass on the visitors' 35 and got 14 yards on the runback.

Utiss got six and Fletcher 10 before the junior halfback slid over tackle for the score from five yards out.

"It was an accident, how we scored the PAT," said Hamman after the game.

"Yeah, I thought a certain signal had been called," said center Bob Young, "and I passed the ball directly to Utiss through Hamman's legs instead of handing it to Hamman, which is what was intended. But it went okay and that's what counts."

Plymouth was storming the Johnsville goal line when time ran out.

Score by periods:
Plymouth 6 6 14 0-26

Lineups: Johnsville: ends—Ness, Plesants; Sargent; tackles—Brewer, D. Clever; guards—L. Crawford, R. Ruhl, Baker, Lilly; center—Cass; backs—J. Ruhl, Wiseman, Gregg, C. Crawford, D. Oates.

Old Timer tabbed flag winners in April

Those who follow the O. T.'s guesses — and they're seldom more than that, except when he has a real hot tip, such as that Shelby will lick Bellevue tomorrow — will be pleased to note that a bob or two on each of them, starting from the first week in April, would have produced a tidy collection of stogies by now.

In the Apr. 5 issue, the O. T. gave you the Yankees and San Francisco to win the flag in the major leagues, and that's how it turned out. He also chose the New Yorkers, in six or more in the Series.

In the National, the O. T. had Los Angeles, Cincinnati, St. Louis, Pittsburgh, Chicago, Milwaukee, New York, Philadelphia and Houston in that order. Save for the fact that the Pirates outdid the Cards, the first division wasn't a bad choice at all.

His AL choices weren't so hot, because he didn't figure the Angels and the Twins to be so good. The O. T. picked 'em thus: Detroit, Baltimore, Chicago, Cleveland, Minnesota, Los Angeles, Kansas City, Boston and Washington.

Note that his choice of the Tribe was just the ticket.

The O. T. said Mantle and Mays would be the most valuable players. Choices haven't been announced, but it's likely the results will prove the prediction to be half right.

String along with the O. T.'s choices, you might smoke for free!

EQUILATERAL THINKING

Hoover Dam suggests lots of water, lots of dirt-removing where aqua is necessarily involved. Water's not needed where a Hoover cleaner is used. A swell job always results.

After your cleaning chore is over, hardly ever would you be so thoughtless to sweep the sweeper forward to the curbs. For Heaven's sake, no!

Don't take literally everything you read. That requires membership in the "Camera of Commerce".

Professor Stumble Bumble, mumbling "Do many roads lead to Rome?" Anyway, lots of roaming the globe, but no roads expected in the jungleland that is a state? Quite near Plymouth and Celeryville in the uncultivable muckland good Rh---- will be nice.

How many know about a certain game that has temporarily replaced tic-tac-toe?

Appleseed Johnny, remember when you pumped the dots and dashes through the Morse wire? I wondered if there was an iron mine below ground as I never could down that water! Johnny, how could I tie a human knot?

Special to Susan Miller: it's certainly nice when small kiddies are guarded to and from school.
