

Let's be thankful

The nation has been sorely tried of late. Threats to its safety and happiness from Cuba may or may not have abated. Developments in India, where Red Chinese are attacking across the northern frontier, are depressing. The Soviets promise to make more trouble over Berlin, where they insist they will solve unilaterally by turning over their part of it to East Germany what the United Kingdom, France and the United States insist shall be a multilateral settlement.

Yet there is much to be thankful for. Let us give thanks this day for our many blessings.

Open meetings

The trend at Washington has been toward less, not more, public disclosure of public business.

The patterns of press censorship developed in World War I, reinstated for World War II and partially for the Korean War, appear to have been revived by the Kennedy administration for the Cuban crisis. President Kennedy hasn't made friends in the communications business by his action, or inaction, depending on how you look at it.

Communications media didn't start to complain when the Cuban situation developed; they had already been complaining, because it has been apparent for some time, even when Mr. Eisenhower was president, that it is the intent of the federal government to let the public have only that information it thinks the public ought to have.

No respectable newspaper or radio or television station wants to put the nation in jeopardy by publishing information which would compromise its safety. Prescriptions against such conduct are rightly written into the law and should be rigidly enforced.

But the law makes clear that only information of which disclosure endangers national security can or should be classified. Regrettably, there is no provision for petition to alter an arbitrary classification of information which the petitioner may think should not be classified.

The federal government is not the only area in which such trends are apparent. Right here at home, news media encounter the petty exercise of power by self-appointed satraps who think they're entitled to obstruct the public's right to know public business.

News media encounter every day violations of the spirit, if not the letter, of the Ohio "open meetings" law. While public bodies, such as city and village councils and boards of education, do not in fact enact legislation behind closed doors, the debate which precedes it is often conducted in secrecy. The debate is vital to the public's comprehension of the issues, whether petty or important.

The suggestion has been made that pre-council and pre-board meetings, at which the details of policy may be discussed, ought to be the rule locally.

It is made out of fear of embarrassment and criticism, whether or not justified, by functionaries who wish to avoid being embarrassed or criticized.

They know, in their hearts, that such proposals are immoral, unethical and illegal. They regard the "open meetings" law as Father regarded the Volstead Act: "that applies to Charley, not to me."

A respectable news media will fight such attitudes, even as we do.

There's only one way to look at it. As former President Truman once said, "If you can't stand the heat, stay the heck out of the kitchen!"

Schools closed

Public schools closed yesterday at 3:20 p.m. for the Thanksgiving recess. They will re-open Monday at 8:15 a.m.

Hunters complain of poor weather

"The weather hasn't been so good for hunting, it was dry most of the summer, and there isn't as much game as there was."

That's the consensus of local nimrods after a week of the 1962 small game shooting season which opened Thursday.

Save for average-to-good successes on the Willard Marsh hunting area west of here, no bags of the legal limit were reported to The Advertiser's hunting expert, John R. Masters, who himself was among opening day gunners with small results.

"Squirrel weren't so plentiful and now it's just as hard to find pheasant and rabbit, locally, anyway," hunters report.

PROSPECT FOR IMPROVEMENT? Depends on the weather, hunters say. If rain or snow falls in any quantity between now and mid-December, small game shooting will be poor. Fair but cold weather will improve prospects.

For hunters of raccoon, whether for sport or the pot, the reports are equally discouraging.

"Not so many as last year, but some that you do find seem to be bigger than usual."

Synopsis: when the summer is dry, game count suffers. More intensive cultivation of farm land eliminates cover for pheasant and rabbit. Better roads and more travelers result in higher kills by accident on the highways, animal as well as human.

Affends dinner

Mrs. Robert Kennedy was among worthy matrons of District 10 OES, who were entertained at dinner Saturday night by Mrs. Mary Cowgill, district president, before the installation of officers of the Crestline chapter. Mrs. J. B. Kennedy and Mrs. Joseph L. Kennedy were also at the installation ceremonies.

Cheryl D. Faust and her roommate at Flower hospital, Toledo, spent Saturday with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. D. B. Faust. Her sister, Vaughn D'Lee, was home a few days early this week from her nursing duties at Children's hospital, Columbus.

Service conducted for C. C. Young, drowning victim

A funeral service was conducted at 7:30 p.m. Monday in McQuate Funeral home for Clarence C. Young, 70, who drowned Oct. 25 when his car plunged off the open draw bridge in Sandusky bay.

Ottawa county sheriff's deputies said his body was found floating near a slag dump about four miles east of Port Clinton about 3:30 p.m. Saturday by two boys playing near the U. S. Gypsum Co.

Young drove off the open draw bridge between Port Clinton and Danbury during the morning of Oct. 25. His body lay in his car when it was raised but it fell into the murky water while rescue workers were seeking to remove it from the car. Subsequent efforts by skindivers to recover the body proved futile.

A former Plymouth resident at 52 East High street, Mr. Young was a retired Baltimore & Ohio railroad employee. He moved to Port Clinton five years ago.

His wife, Anna, a daughter, Ruth Ellen, Sturges, Mich., and a son, Robert M., Plymouth, survive.

The Rev. Robert Mace, pastor of First Presbyterian church, conducted the funeral service. Interment was in South Melford, Ind.

Chest creeping up to goal of $3,500, treasurer reports

Plymouth Community Chest is 86.8 per cent full, Treasurer Quentin R. Ream reported Monday.

Contributions from 292 families and businesses amount to $3,038.82, Ream said.

The average is thus $15.04 per donor.

"We will continue to receive donations throughout next week," the treasurer announced, "since it's apparent that many who have been faithful to the Chest in years past have overlooked sending in their contributions up to now."

Last year the chest fell far short of its goal of $3,000. Only 88.4 per cent was contributed. This year, with a goal of $3,500, the response has been better, Ream reported.

Cubs to meet here

Skits depicting pioneers will be presented by Plymouth Cub Scout dens Thursday at the monthly pack meeting at 7 p.m. in the Elementary school.

Sunday the Cubs were guests of Sheriff John Borgia and Deputies James Wade and Richard Andres for a conducted tour of the Huron county jail in Norwalk.

The Cubs were accompanied by Cubmaster Franklin W. McCormick, John T. Dick, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hunter, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Jones, Mrs. Kenneth Eichelberry, George Hilton, and Mrs. Dorothy Van Wagner.

Dinner grossed slightly over $871

Gross receipts of slightly over $871 were reported late Saturday after somewhat over 500 diners had eaten their fill of roast turkey and dressing, family style, at the annual Mothers' club dinner in the elementary school.

"We noted a good many more out-of-town people this year than before," Mrs. Russell Kamann, president, said Tuesday. "This indicates our advertising people did a good job."

How much profit? "We won't know until our bills are in and paid," Mrs. Kamann said, "but we hope it will be in the neighborhood of $500."

Mrs. Risner dies; Plymouth native

A Plymouth native long ill of a debilitating sickness, Mrs. Alger Risner, 31, 29 North Railroad street, Greenwich, died in Cleveland clinic Friday evening.

She was born Mildred Kilgore.

Her husband, six children, Robert, Deborah, Gary, Theresa, Lary and Douglas, all at home; her father, Kelly Kilgore, Willard, and a brother, Rodney Kilgore, Willard, survive.

The Rev. John H. Worth, pastor of First Evangelical Lutheran church here, conducted a funeral service from Myers Funeral home, Greenwich, Tuesday afternoon. Burial was in Greenlawn cemetery there.

Floyd Steeles visit his mother, Geberts

The Floyd Steeles visited his mother, Mrs. Nannie Steele, and the Neil Geberts in Barberton Sunday.

Issued on Tuesday, dated Thursday

The Advertiser appears early this week because the regular date of publication falls on a holiday.

Although the newspaper was mechanically produced in advance of the regular date, it is dated Nov. 22, 1962, and the news and feature matter in it has been edited to conform with it.

Holiday service planned today

Union Thanksgiving service will take place in First Presbyterian church at 9 a.m. today.

The Rev. Robert Mace, junior member of the Protestant ministerial corps, will preach the sermon, "Implications of Thanksgiving."

The Rev. John H. Worth, pastor of First Evangelical Lutheran church, doyen of the corps now, and the Rev. Harold L. Dague, minister of Plymouth Methodist church, will participate in the service.

Mrs. Charles H. Dick, church organist, will accompany the congregation in the singing of hymns.

The Rev. Dr. Richard Wolfe will fill the pulpit Sunday during the regular 10:30 a.m. service in First Evangelical Lutheran church.

A former pastor of the church, he is now professor of church history in the graduate school of theology of Oberlin college.

State-wide hunt begun for man who may have robbed school

A statewide search has been initiated by local police who wish to question a 32-year-old Stark county man in connection with the breaking and entering of Plymouth High school Nov. 8.

Police in the city where he was last reported to have been residing have been on the lookout since Plymouth police forwarded the "arrest-for-questioning" request 10 days ago.

Again, it was the technique of checking non-local license tags that led to the conclusion the suspect may have been involved.

Police Chief Robert L. Meiser noticed a sedan bearing non-local tags proceeding suspiciously near the village dump in Route 61 shortly after 2:30 a.m. on Nov. 8. He compared notes with a Huron county sheriff's deputy, who reported having seen the same car in Route 224 between New Haven and the Ashland county line at 4:15 a.m. the same day.

Police want to question the suspect as to his whereabouts during the nearly two hours of time between the sightings.

when he covered only three miles of road.

Mrs. Iceman fails to appear in court, suit dismissed

A suit for damages against Royal W. Eckstein, Sr., trading as Eckstein's Plymouth Hardware, and the Village of Plymouth seeking $40,000 for injuries alleged to have been received in a fall on snow in West Broadway in 1959 was dismissed with prejudice to the plaintiff in Huron county common pleas court Monday.

Robert Ross, Mrs. Iceman's attorney of record, resigned from the case, it was disclosed.

G. Robert Sager, 37, 17 Market street, Greenwich, was arrested by Huron county sheriff's department Nov. 10 on a charge of non-support filed in Tuscarawas county.

Charles Reeder, 62, 124 1/2 East Main street, Plymouth, was arrested by the sheriff's department Nov. 11 on a charge of disturbing the peace. He posted bond of $25.

Alva M. Laser, Plymouth route 1, has been granted a divorce from his wife, Florence Butler, in Richland county common pleas court.

Evelyn Trauser Williamson Crouse charges neglect and cruelty by her husband, Harold R., whom she married Dec. 18, 1960, in Bucyrus, in her suit for divorce in Richland county common pleas court. She seeks custody of a minor child.

Three hunters pay fines of $5 each for intoxication

Three hunters arrested near the village water works Saturday paid fines of $5 for public intoxication in Mayor William Fazio's court Saturday.

They were James Adkins and F. H. Thomas, Lucas, and J. E. Monastere, Rome. Ernest Kimberlin, Plymouth route 1, forfeited bond of $31.80 on a charge of disturbing the peace, a lesser charge deriving from his arrest Nov. 12 after a fracas with his wife, Edna Mae, in the Public Square.

SCHOOL BOARD members Edwin S. Beeching and C. David Rish attended the 7th annual joint convention of the Ohio School Boards association at Columbus Nov. 13-15.

Chairman Joseph Woodruff of the OSBA finance committee called for increased state aid to local schools.

Huron fair board to elect

Huron County Agricultural Society — which annually stages the Huron county fair — will choose a director from Plymouth and 10 other directors, including one woman-at-large, Dec. 1 from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. in the courthouse at Norwalk.

Terms of the incumbents expire at year's end. Carl V.

Ellis, veteran village clerk, is currently the member from Plymouth. He is a candidate for reelection.

Candidates were to have filed their nominating petitions with the secretary, Mrs. Elfreda Clayton, 33 Oak street, Norwalk, signed by at least 10 members of the society, not later than yesterday.

Being a periodic, but irregular, presentation of human interest stories that come to the staff's attention yet seem for one reason or another not suitable for treatment elsewhere in the paper.

Pupils in advanced science and mathematics classes in Plymouth High school will leave by bus at 7 a.m. Wednesday to go to Cleveland to attend the space fair.

Jerry Bishop, physical sciences instructor, will be in charge of the trip, which will return about 3:30 p.m.

Cost of the trip: $2.50 each. Pupils are required to furnish a lunch or be prepared to buy one at Cleveland.

The equinox is only 119 days off but from present signs it might be here now. Mrs. Robert C. Haas' forsythia bush is blooming. The leaves have turned reddish, but the blossoms are bright.

This week Mrs. Alfred Parkinson has a forsythia in full bloom and plans on using an arrangement of it on her Thanksgiving day dinner table. The leaves on her bush are still dark green.

The flowering quince in the garden of the B. R. Scotts in East High street has one blossom, but no leaves.

Even the village's leading horticulturalists have no answer to why all this is happening. "It's just different" here. No other place like Plymouth!

IN RESPONSE TO AN ever-growing number of requests, the matter of the editor's avoirdupois should be settled here.

Since June 19, 1962, he has shed 43 pounds. Why? Strong suggestion from his physician. Result? Some clothing fits better and some doesn't fit at all, he has a better mental approach to life and he attests to the power of fear in carrying out a diet.

What to avoid? Wheat and wheat products, including bread; rice and rice products, potatoes and potato products, animal fats, ice cream, candy, alcohol and mixtures thereof. What's left? Fish, fowl, lean meat in reasonable quantity, vegetables and fruits in almost any quantity, gelatin for that hungry feeling.

He took absolutely no diet depressants during the period, is not taking any now, is still losing weight, albeit only a little.

Price of formula? Take it, it's for free. Encouragement and sympathy likewise.

DISMISSAL OF THE $40,- 000 damage suit filed by Mrs. Helen Ice man with prejudice to the plaintiff means she can not initiate another suit on the same issues. Village council heaved Monday a sigh of relief, although it now can be told they had a strong suggestion the previous Friday this is how the case would result. Mrs. Ice man did not appear in Thomas Fetters is home this week from Chicago, Ill., visiting his parents, the Donald Fetters. His sister, Judith, a student in Ohio State university, will be here for the holiday weekend. Their brother, James, was taken to Children's hospital, Columbus, from Mansfield General on Nov. 14, where he is being treated for an injured nerve. He was struck by a hit-and-run driver in Mansfield some weeks ago.

The Robert C. Haases will spend today in Willoughby as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Freeze.

The R. Harold Macks will be guests of her sister and brother-in-law, the Watson Smiths, in Port Clinton. Sunday they will be hosts to the Ed Millers of Ashland. Mrs. Miller and Mrs. Mack are sisters.

The Stanley E. Condons will spend the holiday with her mother, Mrs. Clara Mosher, in Loudonville. Their daughter, Hilda Lee Elliott, will join them in the evening and return home for the weekend for a short vacation from her studies at St. Luke's hospital school of nursing in Cleveland.

Mrs. John Garrett with the Willard Garretts, the Russell Kamanns, Mrs. Thomas Garrett and Chester Garrett will be dinner guests of the Donald Engles in Willard.

The Rev. John H. Worth, Mrs. Worth and their children will spend the holiday weekend in Pennsylvania visiting his mother, Mrs. Gertrude Worth, in Bethlehem, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kalman La Barr, in Allentown.

The Robert Kesslers will have a family dinner today. Their guests will include her parents, the Floyd Steeles, and the Floyd Harrars, Chatfield.

The Wayne H. Strines will be guests today of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Allhouse, Galion. The James Strines left Monday for Annapolis, Md., to spend the holiday with her parents, the Charles Parkers.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Altamonte, Mansfield, will be dinner guests of her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Akers. Richard Akers came home from Case Institute of Technology for the weekend.

The Charles H. Dicks will be hosts tonight for a holiday dinner for his mother, Mrs. Harry Dick, John T. Dick, the David Dicks and Haldon Myers of Willard.

The Deryl L. Reams, Columbus will spend the holiday weekend with their parents, the Arthur Weavers and Ralph Reams.

The George Leschos will be holiday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Heaney in Cleveland. Mrs. Lescho and their children will remain for the weekend and attend the wedding of the Heaney's son, Patrick, Saturday morning in Shaker Heights.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Earl McQuate will be hosts at dinner to their neighbors, the Clinton Sourwines, and the Ivan L. McQuates of Shiloh.

Guests of Mrs. P. W. Thomas will be the Peyton S. Thomases and Mrs. L. D. Barkes of Shelby and the Daniel M. Henrys.

A musical evening is planned by the Twentieth Century circle Monday night at the home of Mrs. H. James Root. Mrs. Frederick Ford, Mrs. Charles H. Dick and Mrs. Edward O. Ramsey will present the program.

Roll call will be answered by naming an opera.

Wyandt class to meet

Mrs. George Roberts will be hostess to the Nora Wyandt class, First Presbyterian church, at her home Tuesday at 7:30 p.m.

The Rev. Robert Mace will speak on the Book of Romans, which the class has been studying this year.

Shiloh's council forwards request for gas rate study

A formal request of the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio to examine a proposed rate schedule for 234 consumers of natural gas in Shiloh has been filed by the village council there. Mayor Keith Dawson announced Nov. 14.

Purpose of the request: to ascertain if the proposed rates will return to Ohio Fuel Gas Co., supplier of the gas, in excess of 6.6 per cent on its investment there.

The study by the PUCO will be gratis to the village, Dawson said.

The PUCO will require the supplier to expose the nature and amount of investment in the village and in its supply system.

IN THE MEANTIME, THE proposal to negotiate a new contract will be tabled and the present contract will remain in force. If a new contract is eventually concluded at higher rates than those applicable now, the rate will not be retroactive, Dawson said.

Only 13 protests against special assessments to pay for the sanitary sewer system have been filed. The council will act as a committee-of-the-whole to decide whether the assessments are equitable. They amount to $2.10 a front foot.

When formal notice of assessments has been completed, property holders will be given 30 days during which the assessments may be paid in cash. Thereafter the assessments will be certified to the Richland county auditor and collected with interest on the tax bill.

BUY BETTER - THAN - EVER U.S. SAVINGS BONDS

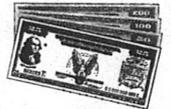

A new 50-star flag now flies over the capitals of 50 states—symbol of a new America that's bigger and stronger than ever before. And there's a better-than-ever U.S. Savings Bond, too, to help keep our new America strong.

Other advantages of U.S. Savings Bonds

- You can save automatically with the Payroll Savings Plan. • You invest without risk under a U.S. Government guarantee. • Your money can't be lost or stolen. • You can get your money, with interest, anytime you want it. • You save more than money—you're helping your Government pay for peace.

U.S. Savings Bonds are now better in two ways:

1. They mature 14 months faster than before. In E Bonds $18.75 now becomes $25 in just 7 years, 9 months.
2. They continue to earn interest after maturity. If you hold your bonds for 17 years, 9 months, you get $1.93 back for $1 you put in.

You save more than money with U.S. Savings Bonds

What's ethical in calling play at schoolboy level, O. T. asks

John Miller, the erudite sports buff who's editor at Wadsworth, poses a philosophical question in his column. He relates the story of the west coast quarterback who was yanked by his coach because he failed to use a play that was sent in from the bench. The quarterback trudged to the sideline, past the bench and his teammates and into the locker room, saying not a word to coach or team, and showered and dressed before the game was over. Then he left without a word.

Miller says the boy deserves praise, because he showed the courage of his convictions. We're inclined to agree with him. Whatever develops the boy is good for football. What does not develop the boy is bad for football.

So is it morally wrong to permit the coach to send in a play?

Surely John Miller, who likes baseball about as well as anybody we know, wouldn't object if the Wadsworth baseball coach were to give the bunt sign with runners at second and third and one out. It is usual for the coach to call the plays from the bench. It's not usual for the coach to call the pitches, assuming a high school pitcher is sufficiently advanced to have more than two pitches — fast and slow.

What's ethical? Allow the coach to call the bunt but not the pitch?

And in football, what's ethical? Allow the coach to consult with the quarterback when time is out, or when the boy asks for advice, but not at other times?

We think it's a matter of what kind of boy you're dealing with. If it's a Milt Plum or a Johnny Unidas, who's playing for pay, whose success or failure determines whether a legitimate business will make a profit or lose money, then by all means encourage the coach to send in a play, or call every one.

But if it's a Bill Mrukowski or a Ron Vander Kelen, who fundamentally (and note the emphasis) is not playing for pay, whose success or failure does not determine whether a legitimate (note the emphasis again) business will make a profit or lose money, we wonder whether sending in the play is moral. Does it contribute to the development of the boy?

It'd be awfully hard to police, but we'd like to see the college and high school game arranged so that advice can be asked for by the quarterback, but plays can't be sent in by the coach.

Red shows progress in three practices with one to come

Three scrimmages under their belts, Plymouth High's varsity cage squad will tangle with Berlin Heights here tomorrow in the final practice session before opening the 1962-63 season.

The Big Red begins with Buckeye Central, which has a new coach and 10 seniors among its first 12 players, at New Washington Tuesday night.

Coach Ronald Hostler is "satisfied so far with what I've seen, because we've made some progress. I was particularly pleased with what we did against Willard."

The Big Red scrimmaged the Crimson Flashes under game conditions at Willard Friday and was no more than two points off the bigger Willard club when the final whistle blew.

HOSTLER HAS CHOSEN his first 12 players. Five seniors and seven juniors make up the travelling squad. Three juniors are likely to dress with the reserves and see some action, although Hostler has made clear he is not impressed with the athletic potential of the Class of 1964 in Plymouth High school and hopes the sophs on Coach William Flaherty's reserve squad will see much action.

The five seniors are Dave Myers, Tommy Barnd, Jimmy Hamman and Allen Arnold, all lettermen, and Earl Hess, a reserve last season. The seven juniors are Bob Young, Girard Cashman, Chuck Kaylor, John Selick, Terry Hamman, Phil Fletcher and Bill Conley. The last-named is a transfer from New London. Fletcher will be a starter. Terry Hamman, Selick and Conley are likely to be assigned to the reserve squad for early seasoning.

"If Allen Arnold continues to develop in the pattern I've seen so far," Hostler said Monday, "I look for him to become a very valuable point man. With Arnold at the point, we'll get more scoring from front or at the side."

Game time Tuesday is 7 p.m. Admission is the usual $1 for adults, 40 cents for pupils.

Union toppled in first outings

Highly touted Union got off to a bad start and compounded the felony the next night with a narrow defeat. Union now has two losses to show for its pains, or lack of them, in the early season.

Lucas defeated Union by 10 points, 58 to 48, despite being outshot from the field, 21 goals to 17. Union canned six of 13 tries from the penalty stripe, Lucas 24 of 37. So even if the losers had shot 100 per cent on their free throws it's doubtful if Union could have won.

The next night, against Buckeye Central, it was the same story with a slight plot variation. Had Union shot a little better from the foul line, it could have beaten Buckeye Central, but as it turned out, the Bucks took a two-point decision.

Craft has scored the big point totals for Union. Neither Clingan nor Farmer has shown much so far.

Mrs. J. L. Kennedy installed by OES here by friend in higher chairs in Washington

Mrs. Agnes Hoffman, Washington, D. C., past appointive grand officer, OES, came here Tuesday night to install her friend, Mrs. Joseph L. Kennedy, as worthy matron of Plymouth Chapter No. 231.

Mrs. Kennedy and her staff of officers were installed in a setting of yellow and white, colors chosen by the new matron. All officers were attired in yellow gowns fashioned with lace bodices, scoop necklines, cap sleeves and full, sheer skirts.

Mrs. Hoffman wore the gown in which she was attired when she was installed as Ruth of the grand chapter of the District of Columbia. She was accompanied by Mrs.

Ralph Wightman, Cheverly, Md., grand representative of North Dakota in the District of Columbia, another friend of Mrs. Kennedy. Both Mrs. Hoffman and Mrs. Wightman were guests of the Kennedys at their home in Sandusky street.

PAST MATRON ORVA Dawson was also an installing officer. Mrs. Dawson and Mrs. Stanley E. Condon were installing marshals. Mrs. W. E. Day was installing chaplain, Mrs. Marshall Rose installing conductress, Mrs. Harry W. Shutt installing warder, Mrs. Edith Kessler installing sentinel, Mrs. Carl V. Ellis installing organist, Mrs. Jack Hamilton and Mrs. Ami Jacobs pages.

Mary Jackson was soloist, accompanied by Mrs. Janice Roush of Nevada.

A social hour followed. Mrs. Robert Kennedy, the new worthy matron's sister-in-law and immediate predecessor, was chairman. She was assisted by Mrs. G. Thomas Moore, Mrs. Thomas Henry, Mrs. Robert C. Haas and Mrs. Gerald W. Caywood. White lilies in the centerpiece were lighted by tall candles.

OTHER OFFICERS ARE W. E. Day, worthy patron; Mrs. J. Benjamin Smith, associate matron; Mr. Dawson, associate patron; Mrs. Arline Schreck, secretary; Mrs. Edd Vanderpool, treasurer;

Also, Mrs. Lawrence Caplinger, conductress; JoAnn Dawson, associate conductress; Mrs. J. Balis Kennedy, chaplain; Mrs. William Hough, marshal; Mrs. Luther R. Fetters, organist;

Also, Mrs. Roy W. Carter, Adah; Mrs. Wanda Young, Ruth; Mrs. H. James Root, Esther; Mrs. Toy Patton, Martha; Mrs. Lincoln Sprowles, Electa; George Ellis, warder; Luther Fetters, sentinel; Mrs. Edith Kessler, prompter.

ETHEREAL THINKING

THE NINE MUSES: Une, we unanimously appoint EUTERPE to be your lamplighter this week.

UNCLE BILL: Your poignant interest obviates any head-holding or misunderstanding of the omniscient who put me under protective care and guidance while certain ones are absent scrutinizing their should-be constituents universal-wise. Profuse thanks in making such a wonderful selection. She is well qualified.

NEBUCHADNEZZAR: Although I don't like your style, Une., I attempt not to undermine you.

MACHIAVELLIAN: Heck, no! You are not the type!

MEPHISTOPHELES: No! Une is not dealing with the nether world.

MOLOCH: Plain old softie!

PROF. STUMBLE: Piffle!

PROF. STUMBLE-BUMBLE: Now what's biting Senor Stumble?

DEAN FUDDY DUDDY: Don't worry, some are on their way to piercing through Uncle's seemingly ignoramus complex and are not merely gasping for air.

HIPPOCRATES: Many who have insomnia are being cured by reading Uncle Bill nightly.

THANKS to all grandmothers for preparing such a wonderful Thanksgiving dinner.
