

The Hugh Boyces, Noble road east of Shiloh, will hold open house Sunday, Nov. 18, from 2 to 4 p.m. and 6 to 8 p.m. in celebration of their golden wedding anniversary. They were married Nov. 23, 1912, by the Rev. S. P. Long, First Lutheran church, Mansfield. Their daughters, Mrs. Harold Cobb, Midland, Tex., and Mrs. Jesse W. Hamman, Shiloh, are planning the reception. A granddaughter, Sande Hamman, will register guests.

Now let this be a lesson, Mike

A telephone call on Oct. 31 from Senator Lausche, only a couple of hours before he entered the hospital, was for the purpose of thanking the editor for the newspaper's endorsement of his candidacy.

He noted The Advertiser has never backed a losing candidate for U. S. Senator or for governor, at least not formally, in its recorded history. He said he felt sure the results this year would bear this out.

Now it can be told that Senator Lausche was fed up with the antics of Ohio's governor long before the polls opened. The senator told us "I get around to quite a few meetings, you know, and I think it's fair to say DiSalle has made a big mistake, with all this mud-slinging. He certainly sickened me."

Ohio voters have spoken emphatically that they've had a bellyful of such conduct as DiSalle has manifested during his current term. They want a change.

By choosing Republican delegates to the Congress, Ohio voters have shown they want a change in national politics.

Is Ohio out of step with the nation? Democrats generally made important advances in the Senate and the House, in an election which traditionally finds the incumbents taking a beating in number and strength.

We think not. It just happened that Ohio Republicans put up the most attractive candidates. For this election, more than any other in recent memory, to our way of thinking, was decided less on issues and more on personalities.

Not only in Ohio. Romney's victory in Michigan, Kennedy's defeat of Lodge, Senator Dirksen's win in Illinois, Senator Hickenlooper's defeat of Professor Smith in Iowa, Governor Brown's victory over Richard Nixon in California — these were, in essence, the victory of the personality and the personal issue — Romney's business experience, Kennedy's brother, Dirksen's television projection, Hickenlooper's far-flung net of handshaking acquaintances, Brown's manly defense against charges he was weak on Communism — rather than the substantive issue such as too many taxes, new mental hospitals, or whatever.

The boob tube is doing this to us. It is not necessarily bad, insofar as it enables the voter to see into and perhaps through his candidate. It is not good, however, when it places a premium on baby blue eyes and minimizes courage, experience and intelligence.

Big crowd attends parade for goblins

A mild Halloween night brought out one of the largest crowds of participants and spectators in recent years for Plymouth's annual parade.

Sponsored by the Plymouth Community club, with H. James Root as master of ceremonies, cash prizes were awarded in the following categories:

PRE - SCHOOL, MICHAEL. Whittington and Glenna Dean, as bride and bridegroom; Cathy Jacobs, Mary Jo Macke; Michael Caudill and Martha Henry;

First through third grades, Rita Neeley, Shiloh; Jane Smith, Patty Lesho and Jane Lewis;

Fourth through sixth grades Terry Henry and Janet Broderick, dressed as angel and devil; Debbie Gullett and David Williamson, President and Mrs. Kennedy; and Lou Anne Strohenger, a hobo, and Duane McCormick, whose box-like costume represented Plymouth Square;

JUNIOR HIGH GROUP. Robert Meiser and Linda Baker, Mr. and Mrs. Abraham Lincoln; Ricky Van Wagner, clown; Richard Adams, Indian; Bonnie Lasch and Janet Lewis, Beverly Hills with costumed hound dogs.

ADULT GROUP, MRS. William Forquer and Mrs. Fred Bauer, as bride and bridegroom; Mrs. George Lesho, as Hawaiian hula dancer.

In addition, prizes were given to Sharon Glorioso, Sharon Baker and Ricky Horn for their original costumes.

Cider and doughnuts were served by J. Harris Postema and his committee.

Next year? Colts ought to be horses

Big Red football fans can with some justice adopt the hallowed Brooklyn Dodger cry, "Wait 'til next year!"

Barring accidents and unforeseen developments, Coach Richard Carpenter should have some horses coming along for him next season. The forward wall should show some heft and seasoning. Bob Young, a senior next year, and Duke Sammons, a classmate, should afford Carpenter two of the better tackles in the Johnny Appleseed conference.

Larry Bland, now a soph, is coming fast and will make a stalwart guard. Bob Forsythe is available for the other guard post.

Bob Berger, Tom Rish and Eric Akers, who has also had some experience at quarterback, have been used at end. Each is tall enough to play end and if he gains some weight without sacrifice of speed could be a tough customer.

Clayton Padock, also a soph, has seen much service at center and if he grows 20 pounds can anchor the center of the line.

IN THE BACK FIELD. Carpenter will have the capable Fletcher, now a soph junior, and Mike Ruckman, an outstanding soph. Chuck Kaylor, a junior this year, has good hands and learns fast and ought to be a stand-out. Bob Foreman might make a dandy fullback. He is big, rangy and strong but lacks speed.

Carpenter's problem is to attract a turnout large enough in number and size to give this group some competition for starting jobs and drive from week to week.

There are others on the squad who'll be heard from. Among these are Fry Fidler, a soph end; Dave McQuown and Sid Allen, two freshmen, and Wesley Steele, now a junior.

As things stack up now, Carpenter would have only six seniors among his first-15 players next fall.

The schedule is organized much the same as this year, so far as we are concerned. We save that Margaretta and Ridgedale will be dropped in favor of Jeromesville and Colonel Crawford.

School, park levies approved; Commissioner Dawson beaten

Two new tax levies won approval here Tuesday as a record number of voters for an off-year election reported to the polls.

A 3.1 mill levy, to run five years, for operating expenses in Plymouth Local School district, carried every precinct and won, 609 to 423, by unofficial count.

A half-mill levy to finance Mary Fate park won approval by a narrower margin, 295 to 202.

Both levies had previously been beaten, the school proposal on two occasions and the park request on one. A year ago the school board asked for five mills of fresh operating funds and was turned down. In a special election later the proposal fared less well.

A total of 576 ballots was cast in Plymouth's two precincts.

MAYOR WILLIAM FAZIO, Democratic candidate for representative to the General Assembly in Huron county, failed to win his home precinct. His opponent, incumbent Harry V. Jump, Willard Republican, carried Plymouth, 168 to 89. In New Haven township, the figure was more emphatic. Jump pulled 255, Fazio only 50.

Jump drew 8,332 ballots in the county. Fazio was given 3,683.

Save for the Richland county commissionership, where aspirant Michael Smith, former mayor of Lucas, ousted veteran commissioner Fred Dawson, Shiloh, local races went about as expected.

Incumbent Huron County Court Judge Clifford F. Brown, seeking a second term, won a narrow victory over Mrs. Philip White, Jr., 5,129 to 4,990.

Arthur Leak defeated Clayton F. Bick, 6,978 to 5,136, for the Huron county commissionership.

Veteran Auditor Bernard F. Kean downed Marie Roth, 7,683 to 4,109.

Slightly more than 600 votes was the margin by which the younger Smith, who campaigned on a promise to make the commissionership a full-time job, defeated Dawson. Unofficial count was 15,345 to 14,717. Smith is a Republican.

Rep. Richard M. Christiansen, Democratic incumbent, won a second term in the General Assembly, defeating Harold Arlin, 19,507 to 12,252.

BOTH LEVY RENEWALS in Richland county, one for tuberculosis and another for child welfare board assistance, won approval.

Huron County Juvenile Judge Don J. Young, Jr., was defeated in his quest for a half-mill levy to finance expansion of his court. The New London Record's editor, Elliot Rhodes, badly embarrassed Judge Young a couple of weeks before election by publishing comparative figures of costs and finances in relation to case loads in other counties, an argument taken up by other opponents. Huron county commissioners did not publicly endorse the levy.

Congressmen Charles A. Mosher (R-Oberlin) and John M. Ashbrook (R-Johnstown) won reelection to second terms, Mosher less handily than his younger colleague.

In the state, indignant voters turned out Gov. Michael V. DiSalle and elected Republican James A. Rhodes by a whopping majority.

IN LOCAL PRECINCTS, the vote on key issues and candidates was as follows:

Big Red to wind up season at Bellville with punts, many passes, and prayer

An all but impossible assignment faces Plymouth's Big Red tomorrow night at Bellville in the final game of the season.

Win, lose or draw, the Plymouth club will have a record better than its strongest supporter dreamed of back in September. Big Red wasn't expected to win three games, has instead won five, could have won two more, perhaps three if it had played to its potential.

Tomorrow, against Bellville, the Big Red faces a club which was beaten last week for the first time in 22 games (there was a single tie) by Fredericktown. Presumably the Blue Jays will be high as a kite for this one.

AS WELL, PLYMOUTH will seek to avenge its most humiliating defeat. Hank somehow, Plymouth will avenge that licking.

It is unthinkable to expect it tomorrow.

For one thing, the Big Red will not be at full strength. Duke Sammons is out of the last three games. Phil Fletcher may not play at all. His legs bother him, as they have all season, and he left the game at the half last week with what appeared to be a chest injury.

This will be the last interscholastic grid contest for nine players, some of whom apparently thought their last game was with Johnsville, because they certainly haven't played football since.

If Coach Richard Carpenter can rouse them sufficiently to play sound football tomorrow, Plymouth may come close, but not close enough to win.

FOR BELLVILLE NEEDS a victory to share in the championship of the Johnny Appleseed Conference in its first full season of play.

Crestline has five wins and a single defeat and holds top ring. Bellville can tie that record. Failure to do so would put the Jays in second place with Fredericktown.

It was said here at the outset that Plymouth would be a second flight team in the JAC this season. The prediction turns out to have been accurate. Big Red fans hardly expect their team to win tomorrow, but they have a right to look forward to hard football, such as Plymouth has played before and could play again if it wants to.

Halloweeners throw scare into firemen, gas station man

Halloween pranksters who shut off the valve in the service station of Ray E. Dinninger Oct. 31 caused some hours of concern Thursday for police, firemen, the service station and business houses in East Main street.

Not realizing the valve had been closed, Dinninger pumped gasoline which overflowed into sewer lines under businesses.

Firemen and police instructed occupants to avoid open flames and to flush sewers frequently to dissipate fumes and combustible material.

The danger passed about 10 a.m. Thursday. A charge of driving off of center resulted in a stiff sentence for Billy Vanderpool, 32, Plymouth route 1, in Mansfield Municipal court Thursday.

Held overnight in the Mansfield jail until he could plead to the charge, Vanderpool was treated in Mansfield General hospital as an ambulance patient for facial cuts after he plunged his car over an embankment in Route 13 7.9 miles north of Mansfield at 1:45 a.m. Thursday.

He was fined $50 and costs. His driver's license was suspended for three months, save for driving to and from work.

A sedan driven by Mrs. George Roberts, Rt. 88, collided with the rear of a school bus belonging to Ontario High school at the A.C.M. crossing in Trux street before the football game Friday night.

Mrs. Roberts was issued a summons for failure to drive with an assured clear distance ahead. She paid $6.80 costs.

James Paul Martin, 18, Plymouth route 1, headed north from his home in Townline road east of here Oct. 30 and stalled his vehicle when he stopped at Rt. 224.

Frank Porter McLaughlin, 59, Shelby, driving in Rt. 224, swerved to avoid striking Martin's car driven by Phyllis Jane Briggs, 34, Willard.

McLaughlin was summoned on a charge of failing to drive with an assured clear distance ahead.

PUCO expertise to be sought in gas rate controversy here

Proposals of Ohio Fuel Gas Co. for a rate increase in Shiloh, affecting 234 consumers in that village, will not be acted upon until the village council obtains expert advice.

That policy was decided upon Oct. 24 when the council voted unanimously to request the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio to supply, at no charge to the village, a rate expert to study the proposals of the supplier's draft contract.

Ohio law guarantees a public utility a fixed return on its investment, computed at replacement cost, net of 6.6 percent. The PUCO expert would seek to ascertain if the return to Ohio Fuel Gas Co. under the draft contract would exceed that rate.

The draft presented by Clarence V. Messenger, Shelby district manager for Ohio Fuel, calls for an increase of 11.3 per cent over current rates over its four-year term.

The proposed rates:

- 30 cents per 100 cu. ft. for the first 1,500 cu. ft.
- 7.25 cents per 100 cu. ft. for the next 98,500 cu. ft.
- 7 cents for consumption in excess of 100,000 cu. ft.

ESSENTIAL DIFFERENCE between the present contract and the proposed one: 3.3 cents more for the second increment (over 1,500, under 100,000 cu. ft. consumption).

Plymouth school district would benefit from the new rate, since the present rate calls for 7.25 cents per 100 cu. ft. for consumption over 75,000 cu. ft. monthly. The new rate cuts to 7 cents at 100,000 cu. ft.

What does it mean to the average consumer of 20,000 cu. ft. of gas monthly. An increase of from $16.03 monthly to $17.90 monthly.

John Precup, 46, proprietor of Shiloh Inn, is the sixth councilman. He was nominated by Mayor Keith Dawson and elected to the council. He will complete the unexpired term of John Barnhart, which runs until Dec. 31, 1963.

Eleven were present when Mr. and Mrs. Chester Bell entertained Saturday with a dinner honoring the 95th birthday anniversary of his mother, Mrs. Jennie Bell.

The honoree was carried from her room to the dining table, where she was greeted with "Happy Birthday to You." Old friends and neighbors comprised the guest list. One friend, 93, uses a crutch, but thoroughly enjoyed the occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Bell of Newark were callers that afternoon.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Lausche thanks editor for help

Dear Mr. Paddock: I am truly glad to thank you for the endorsement which was given me by The Plymouth Advertiser in my candidacy for reelection to the office of the United States Senator from Ohio.

In my telephone conversation with you, you told me that The Plymouth Advertiser celebrated its 109th birthday on the 22nd of October of this year.

My congratulations go to you and the other officials, and to the workers of The Plymouth Advertiser in this 109th year of your life. We celebrate centennials and sequicentennials, I invariably have awakened within me the thought of the absolute need of each one of us following a course of conduct that will insure the future life of our country and make possible additional anniversary celebrations in a system of government where the freedom, the dignity and the supremacy of the individual are maintained.

I am grateful to you for the confidence which you have in my public service.

For you and your newspaper, I wish many more years of happiness and success.

Sincerely yours,

USCGA aspirants invited by Mosher to fake exams

Competitive examination for entrance to the U. S. Coast Guard academy will be conducted in 150 cities Feb. 18 and 19, 1963. Rep. Charles A. Mosher (R-Oberlin) announces.

"Appointments are made on a competitive basis; there are no separate quotas for states or districts and no special categories," he said. "I urge all qualified young men who are interested in this worthwhile profession to write for details and application as soon as possible to the Commandant (PTP-2), U. S. Coast Guard, Washington 25, D. C." Mosher emphasized that completed applications must be post-marked on or before Jan. 10, 1963.

A candidate for the next examination for the Coast Guard academy at New London, Conn. must be single, must have reached his 17th birthday on his 22nd birthday by July 1, 1963, and must be in excellent physical condition.

A high school diploma is the minimum educational requirement, although high school seniors assured of being graduated by June 30 are eligible to take the examination if they will have at least 15 credits by that time. All applicants must have three units of English, two in algebra, and one in plane geometry by graduation.

Mosher said he welcomes any inquiries concerning this academy, or the three other service academies, at any time. Letters of inquiry should be directed to his office, Room 410, Old House Office building, Washington 25, D. C.

A message from the Treasury of a free people

You, too, can help put down a threat to freedom

Uncle Sam has had some pretty conscientious help in the "freedom department" over the years.

Some of the best-known contributors were an expert horseman named Revere . . . a group of amateur sievedores who made iced tea in Boston Harbor . . . and a party of revolutionaries who created an unsplitable nation under the shadow of a cracked bell.

Today the freedom which those patriots won for us is being challenged. And freedom will always need brave men to defend and preserve it. Men and women, like you.

You can do your share toward defending freedom by buying United States Savings Bonds today. The dollars you invest this way go right to work for your country now, as well as for your future.

How about buying a $50 Savings Bond (the most popular size) next payday? The cost is only $37.50.

Best known for his midnight ride to Lexington, famous patriot Paul Revere also designed the first Continental currency, the first official seal of the Colonies, and the state seal of Massachusetts, still in use today.

Ontario passes sink Big Red; Hess returns punt for only TD

Two identical 55-yard pass plays cost Plymouth a Johnny Appleseed conference game here before a packed house Friday night.

A better effort by the Big Red in this, its season's finale, would have gone far toward assuring profitable openings next season.

But it was a shabby performance by the home entry, which should — and could — have won it by two touchdowns.

IT WAS THE OFFENSE that came apart, more than the failure of the defense. For had the offensive unit performed up to the level it had demonstrated in prior games the two lapses in the secondary which allowed Tom Mayer to run down the middle for the scores would have been overcome.

Ontario, beset by heavy penalties for unsportsmanlike conduct and personal fouls, scored first, late in the first period.

Plymouth took the opening kickoff and advanced from its 43 to the Warrior 25 before failing to make a first down by inches.

Ontario moved smartly to its 45 in four plays and then Ron Walker hit Mayer in the middle of the secondary. He sped untouched into the end zone.

The try for PATs went for naught.

Ontario punched deep into Plymouth territory in the second period with the help of a freak bounce of the football.

Chuck Kaylor, a green junior, was inserted as safety man on a punt play. Jim Rader's boot carried to the Red 17, where Kaylor unwisely sought to field it. It slipped through his fingers and Ontario had possession on the Plymouth 14. Mayer cracked to the nine but fumbled on fourth down. Allen Arnold recovered and although the Big Red took an offside penalty to set it back to its three, the threat was averted.

ONTARIO WAS ONLY slightly the superior team, statistically speaking, during the first half, the only difference between the two being that 55-yard pass play.

Coach Richard Carpenter, who deserves praise for the job he has done with the Plymouth team this season, spoke harshly to his charge during the intermission and it responded after the second half began.

A red-dogging defense forced Rader to punt from his 48-yard line early in the third quarter. The pass from center was poor and Rader fell on it on fourth down.

The Big Red moved in 14 plays to the Ontario eight, largely because Jimmy Hamman gambled on third down in two situations and tore off big gainers of 13 and 12 yards. Once he had a touchdown, on a pass to Mike Ruckman, but an offside penalty set Plymouth back.

Then the Red ran out of gas on fourth down.

Ontario gained only seven yards in three tries and Rader punted to Earl Hess on the Ontario 44. Hess feinted to his left, wheeled to his right and with two fine downfield blocks sped untouched down the far sideline for the TD.

Hamman passed to Ruckman for the PAT and the Big Red was in the van.

ONTARIO WAS GOING nowhere in the final period when Mayer slipped beyond Hess for the winning score.

Kaylor, who punted splendidly in the second half in the absence of Phil Fletcher, who reported to a physician at halftime for examination of what appeared to be a chest injury, booted to the Ontario 44. The Warriors were stopped for no gain on two plays, whereupon Walker dropped back and hit Mayer in the identical play for the winning TD.

His pass to Sower for the PAT was only frosting on the cake.

It was strange to see a team that had completed only nine passes all season before this contest winning on pass plays. Ontario completed only three tosses, two of them for 55 yards each and one for 23 yards on the last play of the first half.

By the same token, the vaunted Plymouth passing attack wasn't worth a dime this pleasant night.

With 1:42 left, the Big Red took the kickoff. Hamman's runback was to the Plymouth 38-yard line. Here the offensive blocking collapsed completely and Hamman could get nowhere.

It was a dismal note upon which to close what had been, until the last two games, a highly successful season.

FOR PLYMOUTH IT WAS the fourth defeat in nine outings, the third in league play, in which it has won twice.

For the visitors, who played well under the circumstances and won the statistical struggle, it was the first JAC victory, against a tie and two defeats.

Lineups:

Ontario: ends — Perman, Rader, McClain; tackles — McMahon, Strahminger, Blaney; guards — Schuster, Carpenter, Shaw; center — Huffman; backs — Walker, Mayer, Sower, Zimmerman, Rupp, Agger, Shafer.
Plymouth: ends — Arnold, Hess, Berger; tackles

Young, Wells, Foreman; guards — Cunningham, Hall, Forsythe, Bland; center — Paddock; backs — Hamman, Fletcher, Ruckman, Kaylor, Utiss, Bowman, R. McQuown.

Freddie's backs lead JAC scoring

Lenny James, Fredericktown halfback, is the leading scorer of the Johnny Appleseed conference in its first season of competition.

With his league schedule completed, he has eight touchdowns and 18 extra points for a total of 66.

Teammate Al McQuigg has one more touchdown but only seven extra points, for 55.

Carl Ruhl, Bellville, is third with 46 and Tom Mayer of Ontario is tied with Jon Eckert, Crestline, at 24.

Crestline on top, as predicted

That Crestline would wind up at the top of the heap after JAC play in the first season of the new conference was predicted here early in September.

Bellville and Fredericktown were tabbed as first flight teams.

Plymouth, Ontario and Loudonville were labeled second flight, with Butler somewhat less effective.

That's how it's turned out. The O. T. hit it right on the nose.

AND WHAT WITH Iowa's spectacular thumping of w. w. Hayes and Ohio state (lower case letters intended) Saturday, the O. T. has a chance that his Big Ten predictions of Michigan State and Wisconsin, with Iowa and Ohio State first flight, will come true.

The hot special for basketball this season: watch Union. Lacking one boy in the enrollment for Class AA, the Union club is loaded, especially at home.

Football liberts will note the O. T. predicted Green Bay would wind up with no more than one defeat and would meet New York in the play-offs. See?

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lawrence Nice

Living in New Haven

Richard G. Fox took Miss Teresa Bonal as his bride in a solemn high nuptial mass performed in St. Francis cathedral, Santa Fe, N. M., Oct. 27 by the Rev. C. R. Finbar.

Mr. Fox is engaged in Mack's Foodland here. He and his bride plan to live in New Haven, at least temporarily.

The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Paul G. Fox, 234 East Mary street, Bucyrus, and the late Mr. Fox, whose death occurred on the eve of his son's wedding.

The bride is the daughter of the Arthur Bonals, Santa Fe. She was attired in a gown of white peau de soie. The moulded bodice was fashioned with a pleated cummerbund effect and veiled with Alencon lace appliques. The scoop neckline was enhanced by sleeves of elbow-length. The fullness of the bell-shaped skirt swept to a wide chapel-length train. Her veil of pure silk illusion fell in misty layers to her waist from a cluster of pearled flowers.

GIVEN IN MARRIAGE BY her father, she carried white roses.

Mrs. Gerald Romero was matron of honor, in deep candy red velvet of floor length, with matching headband.

Bridesmaids were the Misses Charlotte Amatto, Yvonne Bonal and Shirley Eidel, attired similarly as the matron of honor and carrying old-fashioned bouquets of red and white carnations.

Gerald Bonal was ring bearer.

Edward Fox was best man. Carl Fox, Arthur Bonal, Jr., and Charles Bonal ushered.

The bride is a graduate of Loretto Academy High school in Santa Fe. The bridegroom is a graduate of Bucyrus High school.

Armstrong became the bride of Edward Lawrence Nice.

The Rev. Robert Bricker read the vows.

Mrs. Thomas Brown, organist, played a wedding prelude.

GIVEN IN MARRIAGE BY her father, the bride was attired in a gown of ivory satin fashioned on classic lines with high neckline, V bodice and long sleeves. A chapel-length train fell from the fullness of the controlled skirt.

From a circlet of satin on her head was suspended a veil of candlelight silk illusion. The veil was edged with heirloom lace. She carried white roses arranged with laurel leaves.

The maid of honor, Miss and-green brocade cut with bell skirt and fitted bodice. Her floral hat and slippers were blue and she carried a nosegay of red rosebuds.

Mel Rose was best man. David Armstrong, the bride's brother; David Nice, the bridegroom's brother, Ray Harpham and Walter Schmitt ushered.

The bride is the only daughter of the John T. Armstrongs, formerly of 166 Sandusky street, now of Granville. She is a 1961 graduate of Willard High school and is now attending Ohio State university. The bridegroom, the son of the Walter E. Nices, is employed by Dodson, Kinney & Lindbloom, civil engineers, Columbus, where the couple will live after a wedding trip in Pennsylvania, for which the bride chose a brown suit with other and black accessories.

A reception for 75 followed the ceremony. Mrs. Harold Penick served the wedding cake, Mrs. Wilcox Taylor and Mrs. Richard Helman the punch, Mrs. Margarite Anderson the coffee.

Chest rheumy, says Treasurer Ream

Its formal campaign closed, Plymouth Community Chest board was licking its wounds today.

Response to the sixth annual drive has, so far, been the poorest ever. As of 10 a.m. Tuesday, the chest was only 60 per cent full. A total of $2,103.82 had been collected from 201 donors, an average of $10.46 each.

CARD OF THANKS

I want to thank the Drs. Drury, Emery and Rosso for the wonderful care I received while in the Willard hospital. My sincere thanks also to all the hospital staff from the kitchen on up to Mrs. Steely for their consideration of me; to our own Rev. Robinson and his wife and the Reverends Crabtree, Dague, Ebberts, Koller and Lyman Smith, a former pastor, for their many prayers and visits in my behalf; to the host of neighbors, friends and relatives for their prayers, cards, flowers and many remembrances, and also to my faithful servants my sisters and sisters-in-law who never left my bedside. I shall always and forever be grateful. Words are so inadequate, all that I can say is, God Bless you all!
 Jeanette Buchanan

Treasurer Quentin R. Ream reported some businesses have not yet contributed. But, he said, the "sad fact is that the householder didn't respond this year the way he has in the past."

Contributions to the chest will be received until Thursday, the board said, in an effort to reach the goal of $3,500.

UNCLE BILL

Introspective Thinking

MNEMOSYNE: Maybe I should return.
SOCRATES: How right you would be!
ACADEME: Jury-type state would indeed be appropriate for students who seem to be attending classes of Morpheus.
HIPPOCRATES: Unc, your column may be touching on wanting thinkers. However, the omnipotent says remember not the Alamo, but the AMA!
LOONY LOON: Will Unc still be in darkness after Nov. 6th's mousy, reticent activities?
GYMNASIUS: 'Twould indeed be proper if mental gymnastics were included. Why not prop those eyelids a wee bit upward, cup your aural intakes. You will be surprised at the amazing benefits.
POLEMIC THINKING: Shall Ohio forever be ruled by the c/2-3% Marching and Chowder society?
WORTHWHILE: A letter written with common sense addressed to The Plymouth Advertiser, Plymouth, O., stating with sincerity that Uncle Bill appears in a fine weekly, and why it's a fine weekly. Remember, only two prizes: $5.00 for the best letter from a non-subscriber, $10.00 for the best letter from a subscriber. You have until Nov. 30 to get your letter in. Uncle Bill is the sole judge of all letters, which become his property.
