

Rah, Supreme Court

Mr. Justice O'Neil struck some splendid blows for liberty in his opinion, written for his associates of Ohio's Supreme Court, in the case of McKinley High school at Canton.

The gist of what he said was this: it's really not important to education that some boys should not be permitted to engage in 10 or 11 games of interscholastic football or that some 125 boys and girls should not be permitted to blow or beat their musical instruments in marching formation before their parents, friends, admirers, well-wishers and friendly opponents. The real purpose of education in McKinley High school will not be interfered with if the school is prohibited from engaging in football next fall.

And further, that it's certainly not necessary for government, at whatever level, to organize high school athletics.

A hundred years from now, nobody will pay the slightest attention to the fact that McKinley High school didn't play interscholastic football in 1962.

Checking up?

The principal of Tappan Junior High school, Ann Arbor, Mich., warns parents to take an inventory of beer and cigarette supplies in the house.

Parents should organize, says Gene D. Maybee, especially on Friday nights, by calling each other to verify the stories teen-agers tell about where they have been spending the evening.

He says youngsters have developed a new Friday night game called "Whose house has no one home?" As soon as they find out, Maybee says, "they hold an unsupervised party."

We don't hold with spying on young people. If a child can't be trusted, he shouldn't be allowed out of the house.

But it is true that many of them are being dishonest, especially in regard to drinking. One of them who is honest told us how it's done. Go to a deputy registrar of motor vehicles and report loss of the driver's license. Obtain a blank form and insert erroneous birth date data to show that the bearer is at least 18 years old. This induces bartenders to serve "non-intoxicating" beer.

Whether 3.2 per cent beer is or is not intoxicating isn't the issue which concerns us. The law says one must be 18 to drink 3.2 beer. Young folks don't drink beer for taste, they drink for effect. If 3.2 beer is good for young people, the law would allow anybody to drink it.

The time has come, we think, to revise the alcoholic beverage law and the motor vehicle law. Don't allow sale of any beer to anybody under 21 years of age and don't allow anyone under 18 to drive a car.

Mrs. Berberick, 75, follows husband; dies in Bellevue

Mrs. Alex Berberick, 75, Plymouth route 1, died in Bellevue hospital Saturday evening.

In failing health for about two years, she followed her husband in death by about six months.

The Berbericks lived in the premises formerly occupied by the Nevin Borders on Town Line road.

Born Ida Holmer, daughter of Frank and Mary Siesel Holmer, Dec. 14, 1886, she was a communicant of Immaculate Conception Roman Catholic church at Bellevue.

Four daughters, Mrs. Elvin Harris, Toledo; Mrs. Oscar Deuchler and Mrs. Marie Sears, both of Clyde, and Mrs. Anthony Neuroth, Tiffin; three sons, Edward, Fremont; Leo, Bellevue, and sister, Plymouth route 1; a sister, Mrs. Anna Brandt, Reed township, Sandusky county, and two brothers, Fred Holmer, Bellevue, and Joseph Holmer, Reed township, survive.

The Rev. Albert Bishop conducted the funeral mass yesterday at 9:30 a.m. from her church. Burial was in Bellevue by Foss Funeral home.

Paging Al Capp! Hawkins day set by high school

Good Friday services will begin at 1:30 p.m. Apr. 29 in First Evangelical Lutheran church, its pastor, the Rev. John H. Worth, dean of the Protestant ministerial corps here, announces.

His Protestant colleagues, the Rev. Harland L. Dague, minister of Plymouth and Shiloh Methodist churches, and the Rev. James H. Nichols, pastor of Mt. Hope Lutheran church, Shiloh, will participate in the annual observance.

Business houses will close from 1:30 to 3 p.m. to permit employees to attend the service.

Girls will carry boys' books and open doors for them tomorrow. They'll do the inviting to the dance.

Costume prizes will be awarded for the best Daisy Mae and the best L'il Abner.

Wayne Strine's orchestra will play. Cake walks are a part of the celebration and chickens will be given away.

Richard Sprowles and Jean Weaver comprise the publicity committee, John Bowman, judging; Karen Huston, entertainment; Roger McQuown and Walter Hall, decorations; Sue Henry, Michael Ruckman and Blanche Arnold, refreshments.

Student council, of which Miss Estella M. Easterday is adviser, is sponsoring the dance.

Winning costumes will receive a year's subscription to The Advertiser.

Triangular format for Good Friday rite

Format of the observance this year will be triangular, the Rev. Mr. Worth announces. The Rev. Mr. Dague will speak from 1:35 to 2 p.m. on "Arrest." The Rev. Mr. Worth will take up the narration of Christ's crucifixion at 2:05 p.m. with "Trial." The Rev. Mr. Nichols will continue the program at 2:35 p.m. with "Crucifixion."

Mrs. Francis C. Guthrie, church organist, will furnish music from her console during the five-minute intervals. It is hoped that worshippers will enter or leave the church during these periods.

He couldn't steer away from sleer!

The man simply didn't steer right!

A two-year-old Black Angus steer belonging to Gerald McKown, Plymouth route 1, was struck and killed early Monday by Howard E. Holloway, 38, Akron, driving a tractor-trailer rig in Route 61 north of Plymouth.

Moderate damage to the rig resulted. No arrest was made.

Masonic inspection to follow dinner

Hugh L. Strickland, Rittman, district deputy grand master, will inspect Richland Lodge 201, F&AM, Monday at 8 p.m.

A dinner for members will be served at the Plymouth Elementary school at $1.50 per plate by Plymouth chapter, 231, OES, at 6:30 p.m.

Mrs. Robert Kenney, worthy matron of the chapter, will head the kitchen committee. Mrs. J. Ben Smith is in charge of the dining room.

Mosher asks views of 13th district voter "What's Your Opinion?" asks Rep. Charles A. Mosher, 13th District Congressman.

Readers will find today a convenient form to use in sending the Congressman their thinking on a series of legislative questions important to the district and the nation.

Mosher's second public opinion poll is being mailed to several thousand residents of his district, and is being published in many of its newspapers, in an effort to give all citizens an opportunity to send him their views. Nearly 5,000 responded to his first legislative questionnaire last year.

Topics covered in the opinion poll are increased presidential power, urban affairs, federal scholarships, farm program, tariffs and trade, postage rates, nuclear tests, civil defense, United Nations, military and foreign policy, and health care. The Congressman also encourages additional comments.

"In addition to stimulating my own consideration of all points of view, I believe these questionnaires are valuable in stimulating grassroots consideration and discussion of some of the many issues that face us here in Congress," says Mosher.

"Often it is not easy to give a simple 'yes' or 'no' reply on such complicated problems. I find that true in attempting to represent all the residents of the 13th District in Washington."

The Congressman suggests that the form be checked and signed Monday by Supt. Maynard J. Coon.

Library readies for national week with story hours

Two story hours are planned by members of Plymouth Branch Library board to climax National Library Week, Apr. 8-14.

A special exhibit of new books will be on display in the library. The public is invited to visit the exhibit. Library cards to borrow books may be obtained from Mrs. Harold Shaffer, librarian.

The library has recently received a donation from Mr. and Mrs. Paul Root of Shelby in memory of Miss Margaret Cole and Mrs. Carl Jorgensen.

TROMBONE TRIO that won superior rating in District VII ensemble contest at Loudonville consists of Gail Amend, James Hoek and James Hawk. John Arndt, vocal coach, who prepared entrants in solo contest, will lead singers to state competition.

This week

Today is Thursday, Mar. 29, the 88th day of the year, with 277 more days to follow in 1962.

Sunrise is at 5:50 a.m.
Sunset is at 6:20 p.m.
Moon rises at 1:26 a.m.
This week, a year ago:

Everett Pry, Jr., was named to succeed Russell Keith as councilman at Shiloh.

Roy J. Johnson, Jr., prospective graduate in medicine at Ohio State university, was appointed to an internship by Flower hospital, Toledo.

This week, five years ago:

Plymouth Board of Education filed a request for detachment of the district from Richland county control, intending to join Huron county.

This week, 10 years ago: William B. Ross resigned as village councilman.

Wayne Mathews enlisted in the Army and was sent to Ft. George G. Mead, Md.

F. Ellsworth Ford, radarman 2nd class, was released from the Navy.

Robert Rakestraw and Charles Miller were assigned the leads in "One Foot in Heaven", annual dramatic vehicle of the junior class at Shiloh High school.

Martha Ann, weighing only 4 lb. 14 oz., was born in Willard Municipal hospital to the Wayne Geberts.

This week, 15 years ago:

Mrs. D. Karl McGinty, local chairman, reported collections of $833.37 in the annual Red Cross drive. Quota was only $425.

William Reed took Miss Genevieve Jacobs as his bride in a double ring ceremony in the Lutheran parsonage here.

Garber to speak about guidance

Utzes sell parcel in Plymouth township

Frank R. Garber, Plymouth High school guidance counselor, will speak to members of Plymouth Community club at a dinner meeting Tuesday at 6:30 p.m. at Cornell's.

J. Elden Nimmons and Donald P. Markley have arranged the meeting.

Robert Leo Utz and others, Shelby, have sold to Clyde C. Bell and others part of lots 14 and 15, Sunset View allotment, Plymouth township, north of Shelby, according to deeds recorded at the Richland county courthouse. The seller is the son-in-law of the Leo G. Barneses, Plymouth.

Suzie sez:

A little boy was helping his mother da family shopping, I was helping Mom do ours, so I watched what he did. He must have been about three. He picked up an item and carried it about 25 feet to where his mother had the shopping cart.

"Oh, no, honey," she said to him, "take that back — you have to cook that!"

POP SAYS THAT MOST people can drink just as easily sitting down as standing up. But few people can stand up as well after they have been drinking sitting down as they can sit down after drinking standing up.

I CAUGHT HIM THE OTHER day with his guard down. He was spouting off about Africa, which he claims he knows a lot about. He was talking to his friend, Mr. D, and he said, "Dang it all, I can never remember the name of that bird in the Congo that I'm supposed to be for."

I WAS GLAD TO BE away during the basketball games. From what I hear, all they had to do in Louisville was open the door and they could have heard Pop cursing one team or another.

THERE IS A DANDY CARTOON in the New Yorker magazine for this week. It shows a man sitting in front of the idiot box. His face is the picture of rage and disgust. And his wife is saying, "C'mon to bed, dear. You've despised it enough for one day."

If it weren't that on the other side is some stuff Mom wants to save, I would cut it out and pin it on Pop's shirt. WE MAY NOT KNOW EVERYTHING at our house, but let me tell you this week we are experts on comosis. It is funny how we got that way. Unknown to me, Chip and Pop have been putting their heads together for a long time to get equipment. Pop had half a dozen people trying to find a thistle tube. They tried in Mansfield and Ashland and Norwalk. The advice was, "Try Columbus." Friday night I got a thistle tube by blinking my eyes just once. The power of the press may be great stuff, but don't underestimate the power of a woman.

GOP women to meet

Three GOP candidates for Huron county commissioner will appear Wednesday in

New Haven township hall from 2 to 4 p.m. as GOP women stage a pre-primary meeting to acquaint party members with issues and candidates of the primary.

O. W. Leech, Ray Feichter and Arthur Leak will speak briefly, outlining their qualifications and platforms.

1962 OPINION POLL of Ohio's 13th Congressional District

by CONGRESSMAN CHARLES A. MOSHER

- Yes No
- Increased Presidential Powers — Shall Congress give the President new "standby" authority to lower taxes and to speed up public works spending whenever he decides such action is needed to stimulate the economy?
 - Urban Affairs — Recently I voted with a majority of the House Members (284 to 150) against the President's order to create a new federal Department of Urban Affairs and Housing at cabinet level. Would you have voted for the new department?
 - College Scholarships — Should the federal government offer loans or grants for scholarship aid to college students of exceptional ability who can prove severe financial need?
 - Farm Program — Do you favor the President's new proposals for stricter controls and marketing quotas to reduce farm surpluses?
 - Tariffs and Trade — Do you agree our national interest requires expanding foreign trade, increasing participation in a widening common market, by reciprocal bargaining to lower tariffs?
 - Postage Rates — Do you favor the attempt to end post office deficits by increasing all postage rates, to 5 cents for letters and relatively higher increases for second and third class mail?
 - Nuclear Tests — By the time you read this, the President may announce an imperative need to resume limited nuclear tests in (or above) the atmosphere. I trust the President's judgment regarding such tests. Do you agree?
 - Civil Defense — Do you favor appropriating federal funds, matched by state and local funds, to build community shelters for group protection from radiation in case of nuclear warfare?
 - United Nations — Recognizing its weakness, shall we still continue to support and try to strengthen the United Nations?
 - Military and Foreign Policy — Do you approve most of the Administration's current (1962) national defense and foreign policies? (Berlin ... Laos ... South Vietnam ... The Congo ... Cuba ... Latin America ... Foreign Aid ... Peace Corps ... Arms Control Effort ... Military Reserve Call-up ... Larger Military Budget ... Space Program ...)

Health Care — What plan do you favor to provide health care for elderly people? (Three of the many different proposals are listed briefly here. Please mark your choice.)

- Plan A — (Now federal law, but not yet fully approved by Ohio legislature) Pays medical, surgical and hospital benefits, without time limit, for any person who qualifies on basis of need according to welfare department standards. Financed from federal and state general funds. Do you prefer this plan?
- Plan B — Anyone eligible for Social Security benefits would receive hospital (but not medical-surgical) care, up to 90 days limit, or nursing home care up to 120 days limit, if patient pays first $10 per day for 9 days. This plan requires increase in Social Security taxes. Do you prefer this plan?
- Plan C — Every person at age 62 could take his own choice of (government approved) health insurance policies, to cover both hospital and medical-surgical costs. Federal government to pay for insurance of anyone whose annual gross income is below a certain level. (Suggested levels: Government pays for insurance when income is below $2,500 for individual or $4,000 for couple.) Do you prefer this plan?

Please! — I invite here your personal advice, and criticism, concerning my efforts to represent you in Washington.

Methodists to expand home for elderly

Ainsworth lodge, a branch of Elyria Methodist home for the aged, will expand to accommodate more residents.

Contracts will be let shortly for the installation of utilities, roadways and walks for a section of the cottage development.

The Rev. Dr. W. Stanley Smith, superintendent of the home, says the complete program may require 10 years for completion.

Plans call for the erection of a central building to house 50 persons. It will have a central dining room and space for special nursing care for those who need it.

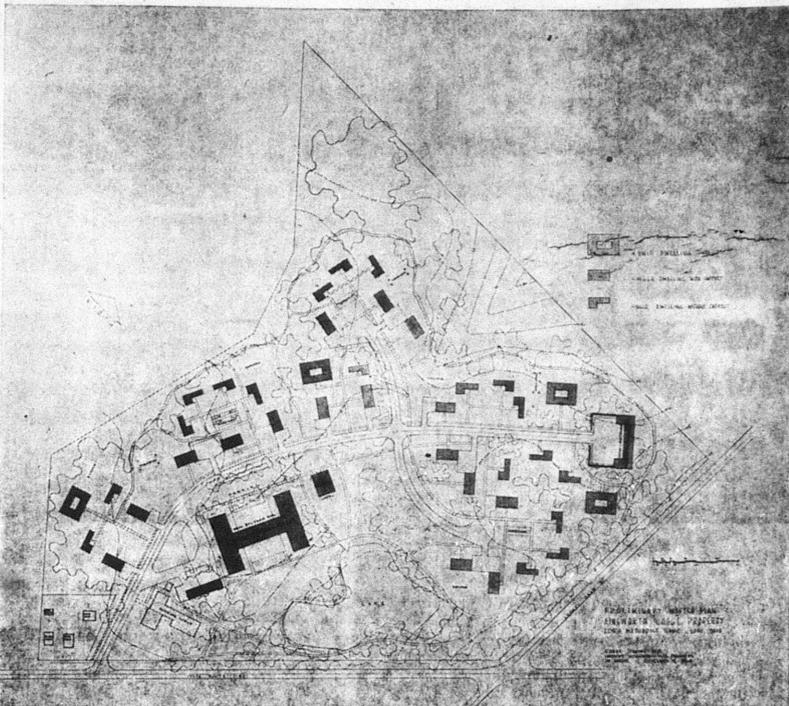

The cottages will be built under contracts let by the home after consultation with prospective occupants. Costs will be borne by the applicants. When the cottages are occupied, residents will pay monthly an amount to cover utilities and other services. They will be entitled to medical care and have the services of the home physician and nursing staff. Occupants of the cottages will otherwise live as usual, making their own purchases and leading their individual lives. When no longer able to do so, they will be given a room in the central building where they will be cared for.

THE LONG-RANGE PLAN calls for about 20 cottage units. Landscaping and the construction of a lake are being planned. The first cottages will probably be built this summer.

The committee working on the plans includes Robert C. Benton, a former trustee of Ainsworth lodge before it became a part of the Elyria home; the Rev. Allen Blackman, Mayfield Methodist church, Cleveland, chairman; the Rev. Howard Patrick, Firestone Park church, Akron; the Rev. Dr. Stanley Mullen, First Methodist church, Wooster; the Rev. Dr. Smith and his assistant, the Rev. Donald Carpenter.

Landscaping architects are Behnke, Szunoy and Nees, Ainsworth lodge lies in Rt. 421 atop hill in Lodi, Medina county.

Grover Hamman of Cleveland visited relatives here Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Boyce and Candy Hamman were in Wooster to visit relatives Sunday.

Fiftenth birthday anniversary of Miss Sue Henry was honored when her parents entertained a few relatives at dinner Saturday evening.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Henry and son and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Clark and family, all of Plymouth.

Mr. and Mrs. Donis Sparks of Mansfield spent Saturday evening with the Howard Noble family.

Dinner was served Mar. 14 evening at the Methodist church, for distinguished guests and members of several chapters of the Order of Eastern Star.

After the dinner, the annual inspection of Angelus chapter took place in the chapter room of the Masonic temple.

Fifty-four members and 59 guests were registered.

Ruth Case, deputy grand matron, was inspecting officer, Lovetta Adams, Grand Representative of Colorado, was also present.

All officers of the chapter, except two, were in their places for the inspection and were complimented for their work.

Light refreshments were served by a committee composed of Mrs. Mildred Barnhart, Mrs. Robert Boock, Florence Yeager and Sharon Warwick.

Eggs economical items for budget during Lent

One of the foods available for "extra duty" during Lent is eggs. In addition to normal breakfast uses, they offer many possibilities as a protein substitute for meatless meals. And supplies are reasonably large at this time of year, since production is at a yearly peak during March, April and May. In addition, production is a little larger this year than last due to slightly more laying hens on the nation's farms and greater output per layer. This supply situation adds up to relatively low retail prices. Farm and wholesale prices range from four to eight cents below a year ago, and retail prices show a similar drop.

Strawberries should be more plentiful than usual this spring, based on present prospects in the south. The Florida winter crop is nearly 60 per cent larger than last year and shipments are still under way from there. The early spring crop in Louisiana, Alabama and Texas is now expected to be nearly a third larger than last year and 20 per cent above average. Limited shipments are starting from these areas, with good volume expected by mid-April. California harvest is also under way with light volume moving into Ohio.

Grapefruit will continue in good supply for several more weeks. In fact, April and May are the usual peak supply months. Orange supplies will continue fairly large in the weeks ahead. The Florida Valencia crop, estimated to be 12 per cent larger than last year, is being harvested now. Although a large part of these will be processed, some will go to fresh market. Navel oranges are still available from the west and Valencias will be starting from that area soon. Apple supplies in storage remain above a year ago. Movement to market appears to be closely managed, however, and prices have shown little change. Principle varieties available are Winesap, Delicious and McIntosh. Supplies of pineapple and rhubarb will be increasing in the weeks ahead and banana supplies should stay near recent levels.

means "weekly" in French. In Plymouth, "weekly" means The Advertiser.

So it has been for 109 years — the community's weekly journal of news, features and advertising. Note that "weekly" is spelled with two e's. It wouldn't be accurate, not to say fair or honest, to spell it "weakly".

Because The Advertiser isn't weak. It covers the whole news front broadly, without fear or favor. It's the reader's watchdog in government, in education, in civic affairs. You can't be an courant (that's French for "up-to-date") with what's going on in Plymouth unless you read The Advertiser. You can pay for it weekly, at 10 cents a copy (for the time being), or at $3.50 annually (also for the time being).

Less than 12 weeks remain in the current school year. About 64 youngsters expect to receive diplomas in May. Some of them need help to continue their education. You can participate. For each new subscription, or renewal 30 or more days in advance of expiry date, The Advertiser will pay 10 per cent into a loan fund for graduates of Plymouth High school.

Caution? None, except that the money must be repaid by the borrower. This offer to subscribers terminates May 30, 1962.

hebdomedairement — that's The Advertiser. The translation is "weekly". Certainly not "weakly". This week and every week, read Plymouth's best news and advertising medium. Subscribe now. Help a graduate get advanced education.

Old Timer wrings out his winter's wash

Notes the O. T. has been collecting:
 Larry Siegfried hasn't been in the Cleveland Piper lineup for several games. Is there a story there?
OFFER OF THE YANKEES for Rocky Colavito, in which the Bombers would trade Bobby Richardson, Hector Lopez and Johnny Blanchard, may have meant the New York brass thinks the left field combination of Yogi Berra and Lopez can't cut the mustard. It may also mean that Yankee management is more than a little teed off with Roger Maris, whose public relations are so poor he would do better to stay at home. Colavito is a Bronx boy and might draw well in The House That Ruth Built. But to give up the league's best second sacker and a man who could catch first-string on any other club in either league seems too much to the O. T.

HOW SILLY THE ALL-state basketball selections are! Dallas Newton, the big Norwalk center, won several mentions on one wire service. Yet opposing players in the MGL didn't even consider him the best Norwalk has. They chose Alex Koslow for the first string.

 The same is true of the pro league. Everybody thinks Wilt the Stilt is so great, but the experts (those who play against him) chose Bill Russell of the Celtics for the pivot post.
LEE HIMMEGER, COACH at Ayersville, is being roasted for the fast deal he pulled on newspaper reporters. After asking them to wait outside the dressing room while he consoled the Pilots, he sneaked out the back door and left them flat. And Himmeiger wants a college job!
BE SURE TO BUY TWO

scorecards at the Lakefront stadium this season. Mel McGaha will be platooning the Indians so much the fan won't have enough room on one card to make all the entries. Two first basemen (Vic Power and Gene Green), two second sackers (Jerry Kindall and Ken Aspromonte) and two third sackers (Bubba Phillips and Aspromonte), when Phillips plays outfield) are likely. The prediction here is Cleveland will wind up fourth, behind New York, Detroit and Baltimore.

Women invited to exercise in gym

What made Larry run? Root won four letters

(Ed. Note: The promise of the sports department to publish from time to time feature pieces about Plymouth High athletes who competed at the college level hasn't been forgotten. This is the first of a peripatetic series.)
By CHARLES D. BACHRACH

in football for three and on the hardwood for two.
 He batted .292 as a freshman, .333 as a soph and "over 400 as a junior and senior." He got his diploma with the Class of 1954.

he wound up with a figure slightly over .250. But he won four diamond letters.
IS COLLEGE COMPETITION so tough? Why don't more boys turn out for college sports? Should a boy seek to excel in one sport, even though he plays several sports, rather than to spread his talents over three or four sports?

By CHARLES D. BACHRACH
 "Hey, freshman, get a bat!"
 The coach shouted at a gangly Plymouth kid wearing Eagle feathers for his first season.
 There were men on the bases and Ashland needed runs. Larry Root, a southpaw first baseman, was being sent up there to get 'em home.
 He delivered a rousing double to score a pair.
 Had his collegiate career been fully so exciting, and rewarding, as that single time at bat, Larry Root would probably now be hitting fourth for the Orioles, drawing $35,000 a year and looking forward to opening day Apr. 10.

"I wanted to be a coach," Root explains. "I knew that I'd have to take part in some sport, and that'd have to be baseball, which was my first love."
 He entered Ashland college and showed enough to stick with the diamond squad for his first season. After he made his debut with the run-scoring double, he recalls, he got another chance to join the Frank Merriwell brigade.
 "We were playing Baldwin-Wallace college at Ashland. They were ahead by a run going into the ninth. We loaded the bases and I got to bat. I laid it down and squeezed the tying run home. We won in extra innings. That was my best day for Ashland — I got three hits in four times at bat."

"I don't think a player ought to try to excel in everything at the expense of his studies. It's difficult to participate in athletics and keep up with a full load of subjects at the college level.
 "The competition is definitely tougher, but a high school player shouldn't let that fact alone keep him out, because it's very worth while and any boy with some experience ought to try to make the team in at least one sport."
 These advices, which are free, and come with a free smile, are also imparted to pupils of Shiloh Junior High school, where Larry teaches geography and physical education and coaches basketball and football.

THE SON OF THE JOHN F. ROOTS, Plymouth, Larry lettered in baseball at Plymouth High school for four seasons,

His batting average tailed off after that first season, and

PML call seeks 19 regulars

Registration for the 1962 season of the Plymouth Midget league will take place Apr. 6 from 7 to 8 p.m. and Apr. 7 from 2 to 3:30 p.m. in Plymouth elementary school.

Boys from the age of 8 to 12 are eligible to play. One parent must accompany them at the time of registration. A fee of $1 is required to cover insurance costs.
 Nineteen boys graduated from the league last year, so each team has a number of vacancies. All boys in this age group are urged to come out.
 Managers will be George Lesho, Fred Buzard, Bill Forquer and Sam Gloriosio.
 A public meeting to organize the season and elect officers among parents will be held Apr. 9 at 7 p.m. in the elementary building.
 Boys in the 13-to-15 year age group who are interested in a Pony league are asked to call Mrs. G. Thomas Moore, as is any person willing to manage a team.

NOTICE
 We wish to express our appreciation to all of our customers for their patronage during the 17 years we have been in business.
 This spring season we will have strawberry plants only for sale. We are having a wholesale auction sale in August and no plants other than strawberry can be sold as our inventory is in the hands of the auctioneers now.
 We will be digging strawberry plants as soon as weather permits. We have several leading varieties and welcome your inquiries concerning them.

Girl Scouts deliver 2,064 cookie boxes

Girl Scouts and Brownies have sold and delivered almost 2,064 boxes of cookies. A few boxes remain. They may be obtained from any of the Scouts or from Mrs. Roy Carter, cookie sale chairman. Three cents from the sale of each box is kept in the troop treasury. The remaining profit is used in the area camping program.
