Frank Holliday guarded two presidents; Rowland Cline stricken at New Haven

Funeral services were conducted in Mans for Frank L. Holliday Saturday morning. Mr. Holliday, 74, was the cousin of Mrs. Stacy Brown and E. L. Earnest, whom he visited often. For many years he maintained membership in Ehret-Parsel American Legion post here. He was a veteran of World War I in which he saw service in France two years as a sergeant. He died Sept. 5 in Akron City hospital, where he was a patient a week. A native of Lincoln, Neb., Mr. Holliday retired in 1947 from 20 years in the United States Secret Service. Since that time he lived in Medina. During his government career he helped to guard Presidents Hoover and F. D. Roosevelt. His wife, Laura, and a nephew, Harold Kimball, of Clarkfield Heights, also survive. The Rev. Harold Simones conducted last rites and cremation followed. His ashes were buried in Greenlawn cemetery here. Mrs. Brown, her sister, Mrs. H. A. Snider of Akron, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Earnest, Miss Laura Fenner, Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Fenner, Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Shields and son, Daniel, and P. H. Root attended the service.

The child is survived by his parents, a sister, Christine, at home; his maternal grandparents, the Oliver Gibsons, San Antonio, Tex., and his paternal grandparents the Frederick Nagels, Sr., Attica, and his paternal great-grandmother, Mrs. Gertrude Nagel, Plymouth. The Rev. Jett F. Mohr conducted graveside services in Attica-Venice cemetery Sept. 5 at 2:30 p.m.

who lived more than 40 years in New Haven township. Three daughters, Mrs. Jesse Ruth and Mrs. William Day, New Haven, and Mrs. Kathryn Barber, Sandusky; two sons, Paul, Willard, and James, Berlin Heights; a brother, Roam, Hincley, and a sister, Mrs. Grace Bushey, Stewart, Pa., survive. The Rev. Erdis Kollar, his pastor, conducted a funeral service Sunday at 2 p.m. Burial was in Maple Grove cemetery, New Haven.

It had to come!

The Huron county board of education has the right idea.

It was a long time in coming, but it had to come.

Joining with the Erie county board, the Huron county board is undertaking a study to determine the need for a joint vocational district. The state board of education will be asked to foot half the bill for such a study.

Each local district in the system will be asked to pay some of the expense. Willard and Norwalk will pay their share, too.

This is only right.

The only surprise to all this is why they waited so long.

Too often school administrators ask if the public is ready for a new gimmick, a new plan, a new idea.

This doesn't conform to our definition of what a school administrator ought to be.

There are many things he ought not to be, or need not be, to do his job right, as we've said here before, in detail. But one thing he ought to be is a turtle.

The turtle never gets anywhere unless he sticks his neck out. The school administrator, whether at the local or the county level, ought always to have his neck stuck out. About two feet.

And there ought always to be a group of dedicated citizens standing by with word, deed and pen to keep that neck from being lopped off.

For those who're interested, here's a prediction: when the $10,500 for the survey is paid, and the survey is submitted, it'll recommend that a joint vocational district be established for Erie and Huron counties.

This will imply eventual establishment of a vocational high school that'll draw as much as half of the enrollment of the several high schools in the two districts. Additional levies to support such establishment will need to be applied. There'll be a terrible hue and cry, in part from the sideline quarterbacks who'll complain that the old home town won't be Class AA in athletics any more, and what'll we do about the band. Others will contend the expense is too great, and to transport pupils from, say New Haven, to, say, Milan, the geographic and population center of the district, is nettlesome, cumbersome and too expensive.

But it's got to come, the sooner the better.

And patrons of the Huron county district can be pardoned for some pride in the fact they're obviously thinking about the needs of tomorrow. Which is something no contiguous county is doing, has done, or plans to do.

Bank loans for students now on tap

Needy students short of funds for college education may now obtain loans from Peoples National bank and First National bank of Mansfield's office at Shiloh.

They are participating in a new program sponsored by the Ohio Higher Education Assistance Commission (OHEAC), which has about $1.5 million for immediate loans to about 3,000 college students. OHEAC was established by law by the last General Assembly.

All Ohio residents, including those under 21, are eligible for the loans. No collateral is required.

All loans are processed by the participant banks who have agreed to sponsor and assist in the program. The banks make NO profit on the loans. Most banks indicate they will require the parent to co-sign the loan.

TERMS OF THE LOANS:

1. No payments have to be made while the student is in school.
2. Almost six years after graduation is the period during which the loans may be repaid.
3. Students with grants or scholarships may receive funds through loans.
4. From 10 days to two weeks is the period required to process the loans.

HOW MUCH CAN A STUDENT BORROW?

First year, $500; second year, $750; third year, $750; fourth year, $1,000; fifth year, $1,000; graduate $1,000. Maximum to one borrower, $5,000.

WHO GUARANTEES THE LOANS?

The State of Ohio, to 80 per cent of their total.

HOW MUCH INTEREST?

5 1/2 per cent simple interest, with one-half per cent reverting to the state commissioner. Participant banks retain only five per cent.

HOW TO OBTAIN FUNDS?

1. Write to G. E. (Ned) Sharples, OHEAC office, 611 Hartman Bldg., 79 East State street, Columbus 15. Ask him for two application blanks, or
2. Alternatively, go to any bank participating in the program. Be sure to refer to the main office, not a branch.
3. Complete the forms as directed.
4. Submit both copies of the application to the bank.
5. Arrange for the disbursement of the funds. (Proceeds of loans are paid directly to the fiscal officer of the college or university concerned, not to the student.)

Students attending trade schools, night schools, business schools or Ohio junior colleges are NOT eligible to obtain funds.

All loans are made to the student, not to his parent or guardian.

No requirements have been laid down concerning major field of study and no preference

Red underdogs at Margareta

They'll have to show more to stand a chance with the Polar Bears at Margareta tomorrow.

That's the consensus of the experts — both of them — as Plymouth's Big Red prepares for its second contest of the season.

Margareta has size and lots of it and a tremendous defensive performer in Al Bluhm, a 225-pound senior who was credited with half of the tackles made by the Polar Bears in their defeat of Elmore, 6 to 0, Friday.

Three persons hurt in two-car crash

A Plymouth driver and his passenger and a Willard housewife are in fair condition in Willard Municipal hospital as the result of a two-car collision at Rts. 194 and 99 there Tuesday at 5 p.m.

John F. Stumbaugh, East Main street, Plymouth, and his passenger, Raymond Clark, Rt. 194, Willard, and Mrs. Lois King, 16 West Tiffin street, Willard, have lacerations and contusions of the head, face, neck and torso.

Police said Stumbaugh, proceeding east in Route 194, failed to observe a stop light at the intersection and struck Donald King, Mrs. King's husband, proceeding north in Route 99.

Both cars were extensively damaged. Stumbaugh will be cited by Willard police for failure to observe the red light.

SOS dates planned in Huron county

First of six Sabin Oral Vaccine Sundays will be staged in Huron county Sunday at eight clinics.

Clinic at Willard and Greenview will take place in the public schools there, from 1 to 6 p.m.

Type I vaccine will be given Sunday and alternatively on Sept. 23.

Type II vaccine will be given Oct. 14 and 21.

Type II vaccine will be offered Nov. 11 and 18.

A donation of 25 cents for each dose is requested by the Huron County Medical society, but no one will be turned away if unable to pay. The vaccine will be administered on sugar cubes with three drops of vaccine on each cube.

OFFENSIVELY, MARGARETA counts on Bob Harple, Dan F. Redick and a 165-pound freshman, Herman Grant, who shone Friday with 92 yards gained in seven carries.

The Margareta defense is not bad. Elmore managed only 89 yards during the whole game.

Coach George Reash promised Monday his outfit would be up for this one and said his offense would "be sharper — or else."

On form, record and size, Margareta has to have the edge, perhaps by as much as three touchdowns.

Making allowances for the fact that Friday's game with Black River was the first of the season, one must nevertheless discredit the Big Red on three points: the tackling was shoddy, the blocking offensively very poor and the pass defense was no great shakes, albeit extremely lucky.

The lack of timing which cost 80 yards in minor penalties presumably is a temporary ailment which can be cured in an afternoon's drill. But old hands can see that the lack of old hands, the inexperience of the Plymouth club, is a big reason why such penalties occurred.

COACH RICHARD CARPENTER was properly indignant over the two game penalties, in which key players were ejected because they lost their heads. He also saw that many of the starters simply do not know or understand the game well enough to think for themselves how to avoid minor penalties. Presumably he will be hard at work on these this week.

Only a light drill is planned today. Whether Carpenter plans changes is a tightly kept secret. It's no secret the squad has been working on a special offense for two weeks. Will the Big Red pass? Success against Black River suggests that it will. If Gary Utiss will execute the quick-hitters in the crouched or bent-over position rather than standing straight up, his average-percentage will rise considerably.

Condition will stand the Big Red in good stead, because it has no depth. But condition simply doesn't wear down or compensate for excessive size and speed, which Margareta has in great quantity.

Who meets whom?

Big Red opponents are scheduled this week thus:

- LOUDONVILLE at New London
- ONTARIO at Hardin Northern
- BELLVILLE at Mt. Gilead
- BUTLER at Shreve
- CRESTLINE at Gallion
- Berne Union at FREDERICKTOWN
- Hayesville at JOHNSTOWN
- Cardington at RIDGEDALE

Fair days forecast for fair

The pony set holds forth tomorrow at the annual Huron County fair at Norwalk.

The open pony department will have about 100 head of registered Shetlands, grade Welsh, Shetlands, hackneys and other types and will be on display until closing Saturday.

Plymouth High school band will play during the noon hour of the fair tomorrow. The band is slated to begin its music at 12:15 p.m. and will play 30 minutes.

Pupils will be excused from classes to join the bus for the fairgrounds and will return to classes after their stint.

Harold R. Davenport, Jr., will direct the band.

urday. A special show and judging of these in the open pony department will be conducted tomorrow night.

Besides these, there will be another 30 ponies which are being exhibited under the 4-H program and they can be seen in that department. About 20 teams of pulling ponies performed before the new grandstand yesterday morning.

And another 75 will exhibit at the Saturday night show. The Huron County fair opened Tuesday and continues on through Saturday night.

Harness racing will be staged today and Saturday but not tomorrow.

Plymouth High school band will play tomorrow afternoon.

Garden club plans show Saturday

Little Garden club will stage its first flower show Saturday in First Presbyterian church.

Entries are to be placed between 9 and 11 a.m. Judging by Mrs. L. M. Gault will be completed by 1 p.m., when the show will be open to the public.

Entries are invited from any person living in this area. They are limited to one in each class. There will be 12 classes of horticulture exhibits, 40 of arrangements for plants and two of arrangements for school age children.

Members of the club will meet tomorrow at 7:30 p.m. at the church to prepare for the show.

After scoreless first half---

Red rouses, rips Black River, 22 to 0

Plymouth's Big Red woke up in the second half at Lodi Friday night and won an easy 22 to 0 victory over undermanned Black River.

It was a tawdry contest, marred by at least two fights, several dozen warnings by the officials, rank officiating, heavy penalties against Ply-outh, and ragged play on both sides.

Each team had a touchdown called back by penalty.

On balance, Plymouth was clearly the better ball club. Better conditioning was the principal factor in Plymouth's victory, although more backs of a capable character certainly added to the Big Red's chances.

Line play was ragged on both sides, and Plymouth's reserves who got into the struggle midway in the fourth period performed better against the best the Pirates could offer than did the first stringers.

THE FIRST HALF WAS scoreless. Late in the second period, the Pirates began to roll. A 15-yard penalty against the Big Red led to a first down for the Pirates on the Plymouth 30. Dick Van Meter, certainly a big time fullback, banged in to the Red 19 and then, after a setback to the 26, for 20 yards to the Plymouth 6. Here Don Rosecrans threw to Ron Blessing for the score. But the Pirate left end was offside and the home eleven couldn't repeat. Plymouth took over on downs and got to its 27-yard line. On second down Phil Fletcher took a piteous from Jim Hamman and whistled 73 yards for the score.

But Plymouth was offside and the run was for naught. Duke Sammons was judged, together with Tom Smith of the Pirates, for fighting on this play.

Plymouth was knocking on the Pirate door when the half ended. Time ran out after the Red had advanced to the Pirate 12.

Black River was forced to punt after the first series in the third period. Jim Hamman fielded the kick on the 50 and dashed to the Corsair 33. Fletcher ate up 26 yards in two cracks, Gary Utiss banged to the four and then Hamman rolled out to the left for the TD. He passed to Fletcher for the PAT.

ONE OF THE MOST BIZ-arre performances by any team of officials set up the second touchdown.

On fourth down, Fletcher punted from the Plymouth 22. The gun, fired by Big Van Wagner, who was watching the clock with Tom Bangert, Black River superintendent, went off before the snap of the ball. Nevertheless, the play was allowed. The punt carried 27 yards to the Plymouth 49, where the safety man bobbed it. It rolled six yards to the Pirate 45, where the Big Red recovered.

The officials seemed confused for a moment, then reversed the directions of the combatants and awarded Plymouth possession on the Pirate 31. There was no explanation of any kind.

Shortly thereafter, Hess and Blessing were ejected for fighting.

The Pirates couldn't move with the ensuing kickoff and only a 15-yard penalty resulting from Mike Ruckman's unnecessary roughness infraction gave the home club a first down on the Plymouth 40. On third down Hamman intercepted Regal's pass and returned 35 yards to the Pirate 40.

With the second-string line opening good holes against Black River's best, and Eric Akers at quarterback, the Red stormed to the Pirate 19 before incurring a 15-yard penalty. On third down, Coach Richard Carpenter sent orders from the bench and Johnny Bowman went 38 yards around the weakside end for the third TD. Roger McQuown rounded right end for the PAT but Plymouth was offside. From eight yards back, the Red couldn't make it a second time.

CHIP PADDOCK KICKED off for the Red, all but bowled over by the astonishment that he was chosen to boot. His kick was nubbed, carried only to the Pirate 44, but he got the tackle and a play later it was all over.

For the Red, some performances were worth praise. Dec Cunningham did an outstanding job at guard. Hamman and Fletcher performed nobly as ball carriers. Utiss played well on defense, but showed an inclination to stand up on offense, which vitiated the effect of his bull-like charges.

The blocking was, in the main, shoddy and imprecise. There is much to be done defensively. Many of the penalties were senseless. Two fighting offenses need not have occurred. If some of the linemen and two of the backs will learn to count beyond two, this team can avert needless offside penalties.

Lineups:
Black River: ends, Blessing, Ford; tackles, Wacker, Smith, Bowling; guards: J. Rosecrans, Sifread; center: Keep, McKean; backs: Van Meter, D. Rosecrans, Hastings, Regal, McMillan, Simonson, Walkden, Wilhelm;

Plymouth: ends: Arnold, Hess, Allen; tackles: Sammons, Berger, Hall, Reed, R. Foreman; guards: Cunningham, Wells, D. McQuown, D. Foreman, Bland, Echeberry, Fidler; centers: Young, Paddock; backs: Bowman, Utiss, Hamman, Akers, Ruckman, R. McQuown.

Hats off for boy who gave up pads!

One unheralded player of the Big Red deserves public notice for his unselfish attitude.

Tom Rish is a gangly freshman, green, not very big and still learning. Up to now, he's been cannon fodder during football workouts.

But he's suited up for games, travels with the squad, does what he's told and keeps his mouth shut.

At Lodi Friday, Tom could not play because he gave his shoulder pads to an older, more experienced player who stupidly left his at home.

This is the kind of spirit that makes a ball player. For even though Tom was ordered to sacrifice his pads, he did so without whimper or complaint.

Squirrels said slightly increased for 1962 season

Squirrel hunters who venture into the field on the opening day of hunting season tomorrow should find slightly better hunting this fall than in 1961.

That report is official word from the state division of wildlife, and it is confirmed by reports from veteran local hunters.

A number of farmers and sportsmen questioned think the nut crop is fairly good this year, despite the severe August dry spell.

Hickory and beech trees are producing well and the other hunting enthusiasts feel the squirrels will be spotted in areas where there is sufficient water, and the game will move to areas where it is available. Many ditches and normal water holes are bone dry.

Another factor in squirrel hunting is that game will move in quickly if rains come before the season opens. The game will gather where the ditches, and low areas in woodlots.

The dry woods will be a hindrance to the hunter in one way, for there will be little chance of secrecy in moving about the woods in search of game. Every movement will produce a crackle which can be heard for hundreds of feet.

State reports say the squirrel population in this area averages about the same as last year throughout the district. The extreme northwest portion of the area has a somewhat better squirrel population.

Hunting is from daylight to dark. The daily limit is four, with a possession limit of eight at the first day. The season closes Oct. 27 in this section of the state, and Nov. 10 in the hilly southern areas.

New hunting licenses went on sale Sept. 1. The 1963 license is required for all hunters who venture into the field on the opening day of the fall season.

O rare day!

It has taken us a number of years to reach the conclusion that vacation travelers do not report their experiences adequately or honestly. This is the chief reason why their written accounts submitted for publication are returned with thanks and regrets.

Editors are slightly cynical students of human nature, and one must understand this fact to comprehend the policy.

To admit that anything but the best of all times was had on a vacation would be to belittle one's choice and suffer personal humiliation. One never sees or reads a bad appraisal of the food or drink or lodgings. But it's certainly true there're more bad than genuinely good.

Hence whatever the miseries may have been at the resort, or whatever the discomforts suffered on the journey there and back, the temptation to make an alluring report is irresistible.

Sometimes lucky and adventurous travelers encounter such exciting adventures that the confession of them would be embarrassing. The truth never can be gotten from their ilk.

The meek see nothing, do nothing and hear nothing worth repeating, or so it seems to them, and probably would to their friends. Yet they'll insist it was "perfectly wonderful" without supplying a single detail of convincing evidence.

We get a surfeit of enticement that needs to be taken with a grain of salt from the Sunday supplement travel ads. We expect honesty in reports of those who may have accepted the blandishments thereof.

When we find it — O rare will be the day! — we'll print it.

Among Shiloh young people who are entering or returning to college this fall are Kay Forsythe, Susan Ferguson, Anetta Dawson, Edwin Kranz, Larry Hamman, Jesse Hugh Hamman, Ohio State university; James G. Russell, Capital university, Columbus; David Ruckman, Ohio university, Athens; Carol Ann Company, Ashland; Robert Bushy, Jr., Ohio Northern university, Ada; Karen Huston Taylor university, Upland, Ind.; Wallis Ann Harnly, St. Luke's hospital, Cleveland.

Kranz and Larry Hamman are graduates of Warren Willson college, Swannanoa, N. C. Mrs. Rudy Elinger and son, Matthew, Lorain, spent Monday with relatives here and in Shelby. Matthew leaves next week for South Bend, Ind., where he is a student in the University of Notre Dame.

First meeting of Shiloh P.T.A. will occur Monday at 7:30 p.m.

Theme will be "Let's Get Acquainted".

Teachers will be in their rooms to meet pupils' parents. Approximately an hour will be allowed for the room visitation.

At 8:30 p.m. the meeting will convene in the multipurpose room of the elementary building.

John Fazzini, principal, will introduce the teachers and other school officials and personnel. A social hour will follow.

Membership committee, assisted by the room mothers will accept memberships.

Jay Baker, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Norris Baker, stationed at Norfolk, Va., recently spent a two-week leave with kin in Shiloh and Shelby.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Collins in Willard Municipal hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Ruckman, Lake Wales, Fla., are visiting here.

Ann Uible, Cleveland, spent a few days here as the guest of Janet McInnis at Moore's.

Mrs. Zella Cramer, Toledo, is here this week visiting Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Cramer.

Heather Morrison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Morrison left Tuesday night to begin her second year at a Midland college. Her roommate, Diane Damon, Tecumseh, Mich., arrived Sunday to spend two days here.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Thomas Moore and the Robert Moore family are in Detroit, Mich., today to attend the showing of new Ramblers. Their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Moore are moving into the Monroe Van Wagner home in West Broadway until their new home in Route 61 is completed. The Van Wagners are moving to Norwalk.

Mrs. Robert C. Haas, Mrs. R. Earl McQuate and Mrs. Powell Holderby will be among the members of the WPCS at the sub-district meeting at the Methodist church in New London Tuesday.

Bank loans on tap for college student, two banks report of study. Thus, the intending a ch or scientific work more or less chance for a loan than an intending poet or musician.

Earl C. Cushman, president of Peoples National bank, and E. Dean Wolford, cashier of WPCS National at Shiloh, will assist student applicants.

Being a periodic, but irregular, presentation of human interest stories that come to the staff's attention yet seem for one reason or another not suitable for treatment elsewhere in the paper.

Comes now Edwin A. Fensch, assistant superintendent of special services, Mansfield City schools, who requests The Advertiser to do what may be impossible: to

Two arrested

David Dorion, 22, New Washington, arrested Saturday evening on a charge of reckless operation and held in the village lockup, responded last night to that charge in Mayor William Fazio's court.

Merlin Dye, 20, Plymouth route 1, was fined $200 and costs and suffered revocation of his driver's license for six months upon conviction of drunken driving by Huron county common pleas court.

Guthrie's cousin, aviation pioneer, dies suddenly at 64

Cousin of Francis Guthrie, Merle (Mope) Moultrup, Beaver Falls, Pa., an almost legendary figure in early aviation, died suddenly Sept. 1 at his home there.

He was 64. On Sept. 1, 1918, at Newport News, Va., he flew alone for the first time after taking instructions from the famed Eddie Stinson.

When World War I erupted, he enlisted in the aviation branch of the Army Signal Corps, Hqs., Washington, D. C. He was assigned to training missions.

Discharged in 1919, Moultrup organized his own flying service after buying his own plane. Then he barnstormed the country. He flew a JM-4-0X5 across the country and for four years flew stunt missions for the motion picture industry.

HE JOINED MAYER AVIATION in 1924. The next year he flew in the international air races at Mitchell field, L. I., N. Y., and in 1926 competed in the Philadelphia, Pa., sesquicentennial races. In that year he joined Clifford Ball in early ventures that developed into Capital Airlines, now merged with United Airlines.

He flew the first air mail from Cleveland to Bettis field, Pittsburg, Pa., Apr. 21, 1927, joined Colonial Western airlines in 1928 and flew the air mail run from Cleveland to Albany, N. Y., via Buffalo.

Moltrup and Jack Mitchell set what was then the world endurance record at Beaver Falls, Pa., by remaining aloft for eight days over Buffalo. By 1937, Moltrup was a "bush flier" for the Forest Service out of Ely, Minn. In 1940, he joined Douglas Aircraft at Santa Monica, Cal., as a test pilot, was voted membership in the United Airlines Million Mile club, and in 1942 went to Tulsa, Okla., as chief test pilot for Douglas.

In 1946, he went back to Ely to start his own flying service. It was while so engaged that he experienced his first and only crash — he crashed in a swamp in Michigan on June 9, 1940, when his aircraft ran out of fuel.

Despite 18 broken bones, he crawled through 3.5 miles of brush to a road, where he received help.

His wife, the former Viola Masters, is the only immediate survivor. The Guthries attended funeral services at Beaver Falls, Sept. 5.

tell adults who can't read that a school to teach them how to read will begin in Mansfield Oct. 1.

Films of the celebrated reading methods of Dr. Frank Laubach, the missionary educator, will be used in the course, which costs $8.

Richard King, 171 Ausfale avenue, Mansfield, Tel. 522-9491, will accept registrations.

Aside to Mr. Fensch: with no information of how many illiterates there are hereabouts, nor how they can take advantage of this notice if they can't read. The Advertiser offers its cooperation with no apologies if nobody applies. Miles Christian, vice-president in charge of locomotive sales, Fate-Root-Heath Co., has been named by the Secretary of Commerce, Luther Hodges, to an executive reserve board of industrialists who will study national industrial needs in the national defense program.

A former Plymouth High school teacher has joined the staff of Shaker Heights High school, where he will teach social studies.

He is Emil J. Sarpa, formerly of Willard, who taught last year at Shelby.

Licensed to marry

Application for a marriage license, has been made by Lonnie Laser and Alice Hershiser in the Huron County courthouse.

Junior and senior high Sunday school classes of the Presbyterian church will be hosts at a picnic for the Flat Rock orphanage Sunday afternoon...

The classes earned money for this event during their car wash this summer.

They will meet at the church at 3 p.m. to leave. Drivers will be Billy Young, the William Chronisters, Raymond Willets, Don Brooks and the Rev. Robert Mace and Mrs. Mace.

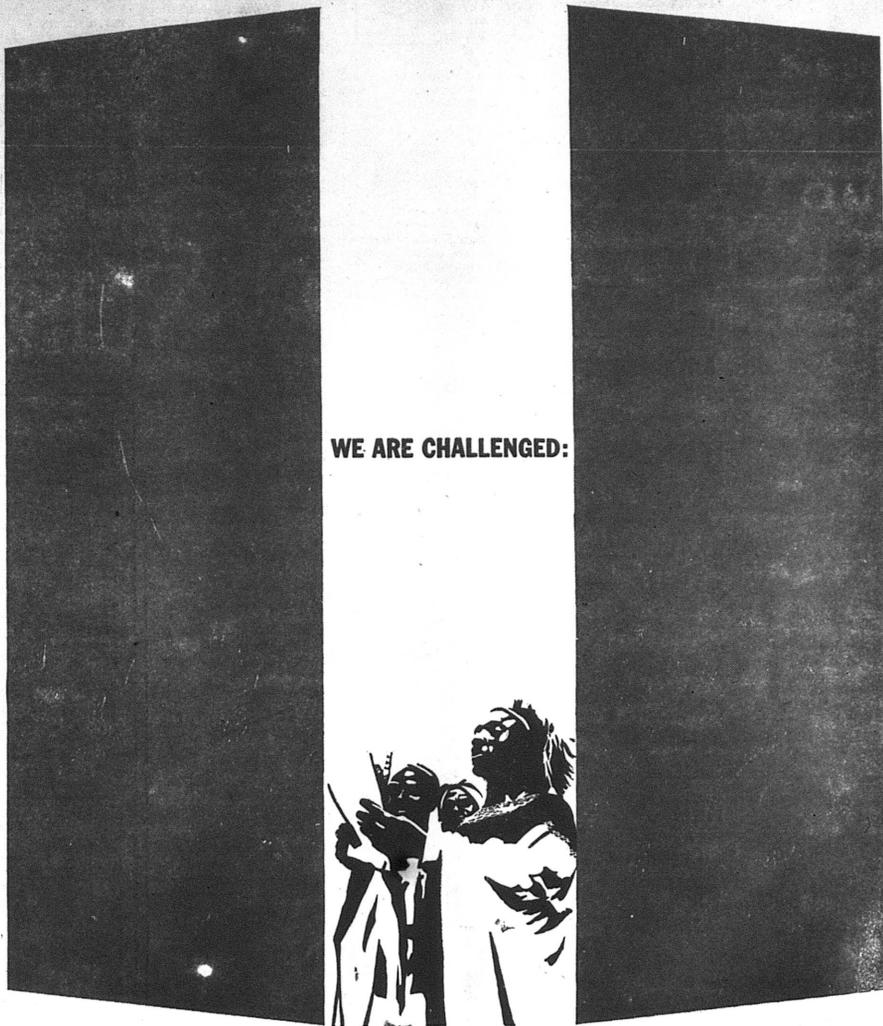

The hospital beat

Roger Daron was released Saturday from Willard Municipal hospital, where he was a patient for a week with a hand infection.

Mrs. Don Baker entered Cleveland Clinic this morning for observation.

WE ARE CHALLENGED:

TO OPEN NEW WORLDS TO FREEDOM

The dream of freedom is buried deep within every man. But today, it is rising to the surface in volcanic eruptions of hope and hate and fear. Seventeen new nations were born in Africa alone last year. Their birth pangs shook the world and shake it yet. For the dream of freedom does not translate readily into reality.

The illiterate millions roused from ancient sleep wake to responsibilities of citizenship they cannot comprehend. They clamor for an end to age-old degradations — poverty, hunger, pain, individual earnings of less than $100 a year.

They stand a puzzled people. We are challenged to help them.

The Communist world is only too ready to help. Technicians, teachers, trade missions come with skilled hands and blank checks . . . not only to Africa and Asia, but to our very doorstep in Latin America. To the impoverished millions, democracy and communism are only words. Freedom is a word that often spells confusion. Communism seeks to create and exploit this confusion.

We are challenged to counter Communism, to help bring millions into a world of individual freedom and opportunity under law. We seek this not merely for our security. The world is grown too small for anything less than moral kinship.

What can you do? Make our public goals your private goals. Put real meaning into our Bill of Rights. Blot out racial and religious discrimination, the hypocrisy in our democracy. Know all the challenges. Know how to meet them. Begin by reading the new report of the President's Commission on National Goals. It sets programs for action in the 'Sixties on all fronts.

Both President Eisenhower and President Kennedy urge you to read, to think about, to act upon this Report, entitled "Goals for Americans." It is available in hardcover and $1 paperback at bookstores, or in the free digest version offered below. If we are to help open new worlds to freedom . . . if we are to survive in freedom, we must strike a balance between comfort and purpose; we must pair the pursuit of happiness with the pursuit of excellence in our private lives as well as our national life. FREEDOM IS NOT A GIFT BUT A TASK.

Harriers defeat Ontario, but Rams win on new record

Tim Luikart, rangy Mansfield Madison junior, set a new course record of 11 minutes 30 seconds in winning a dual cross country meet with Plymouth here Tuesday.

His teammate, Gary Dunham, was a second behind.

Greg Cashman, in 11:41, was the third place runner.

Madison defeated Plymouth, 18 to 43.

IN ANOTHER DUAL MEET conducted simultaneously, the Big Red downed Ontario, 23 to 35.

Since Madison meets Ontario in a dual meet later this week, the Rams wished not to tackle the Warriors in a triangular meet.

FIRST THREE finishers in reverse order of placement Tuesday were Greg Cashman, Plymouth's ace; Gary Dunham and Tim Luikart, Mansfield Madison.

Board postpones approval of water tower specifications

Approval of plans and specifications for a second water tower to cost about $35,000 was delayed by the board of public affairs Monday night.

Reason: the board isn't sure about finances.

Action: postponement until after Sept. 24.

Why this date? Huron county common pleas court will hear on Sept. 24 the case of Mrs. Helen Iceman vs. the village and Royal W. Eckstein, Sr., doing business as Eckstein's Hardware, in which the plaintiff seeks $40,000 damages for injuries alleged to have been received when she fell on ice and snow in West Broadway about two years ago.

If Mrs. Iceman wins a judgment against the village, sustained by appeal, if an appeal should be taken, payment of the judgment would probably have to be made from the electric fund, which now carries a substantial surplus.

A second law suit could also result in inability to finance the second water tower. If Alden E. Stilson & Associates, Ltd., Columbus, wins a judgment in its suit seeking $18,300 from the village for payment and damages alleged to when it can spare funds to undertake capital improvements such as the second water tower with the certainty of its biggest business so far — a sewer establishment — starting it in the face.

It told J. Phillips Moore, who sought information about sewer connections for his new home in Plymouth street, that he ought to install a septic tank, "because we don't know when we'll get this sewer system installed."
