

Big Red underdogs by 20 at Ontario Saturday night

"Aw, what the heck, they aren't much good but they're ours!"

This sentiment, that it's Saturday night with nothing much else to do, and that a couple of dozen high school boys hope to salvage some self-respect from a dismal season will probably draw a goodly number of Plymouth fans to Ontario's new stadium for a Johnny Appleseed conference football game this week.

The Warriors are favored by 20 points.

C O A C H R I C H A R D C A R P E N T E R is not the complaining sort. He knew he hadn't much to start with and you can't win football games unless you're equipped with horses, experience and luck.

The Big Red took a sound thumping from Fredericktown Friday night, but the score was not so indicative of the Freddie's superiority as you might think.

Coach Jerry Boggs apologized for re-inserting his first string backfield. He says he was anxious to keep this quarter on its toes for the big one tomorrow against Clear Fork. For if the Colts hand the Freddie's, it's certain for Knox county out so far as the Johnny Appleseed title goes this year.

What with the changes Carpenter made in his lineup, it is remarkable the Big Red was able to do anything at all.

A N U N F O R T U N A T E O F F - S I D E penalty early in the game, when the Red was seeking to come back after a quick score, upset the team's rhythm.

The club was moving and might have made a better showing, though it's plain Plymouth couldn't beat Fredericktown with a pith-elm stick. "Experienced players aren't upset by such penalties," says Carpenter. "For one thing, experienced players don't make that kind of mistake at that point of the game. For another thing, the experienced player shakes off a penalty and goes about his business. We just don't have that experience."

Plymouth's defense, which was the superior part of its game earlier in the season, hasn't measured up to earlier standards of late. Carpenter drilled hard on defense this week.

BECAUSE THE RED WILL have to contain the running of Tom Maier, the cocky little Ontario back who infuriates almost every coach in the conference because of his superior attitude and makes this outrageous conduct stick because he is so infernally good, and the passing of Ron Walker, back in condition after an early injury.

Coach Roger Copeland's club runs from the single wing. Its off tackle game is superb. The halfback pass off the sweep gains well for the Warriors.

Ontario may be expected to stick to the running game unless it bogs down completely. Walker's passes, which killed Plymouth with two identical patterns for long yardage last season in a narrow victory after the Big Red led most of the way, are used to relieve front pressure on the ground game.

C A R P E N T E R E X P E C T S to start the same lineup he sent to the field last week.

Offensively, this calls for Bob Young at center, Bob Ford at tackles, Norman Horys and Dick Foreman at guards, Larry Bland and Jim ward and Eric Akers at ends, Chip Paddock at quarter, Billy Goth and Phil Fletcher at the halves and Mike Ruckman at fullback.

Game time is 8 p. m. The stadium lights behind the high school in Shelby-Ontario road, which joins Route 314 at Route 30N south of Shelby.

It has been brought to my attention, as of Saturday, Oct. 19, 1964, that word is being circulated throughout the village of Plymouth that if Gerald F. Miller is elected clerk of the village, there will be no change in the appointive clerical personnel of the clerk's office. I wish to inform you, and ask that you inform the public through your newspaper, THIS IS NOT THE TRUTH and party or parties spreading such talk are not telling the truth.

If the voters of this village see fit to choose me to the office of village clerk, I should be no less honest in telling them that there will be a complete change in appointive personnel in the clerk's office, subject to the sanction and approval of the board of public affairs, which is required by law.

It is my duty, yes it is the first duty, of any and all elected to remember that whatever office they hold, they are stewards and servants of a demanding public whose choice it is they serve.

An informed public demands the right to know "the state of the village" to the nth degree and it is the sworn duty of such officials to keep the public so informed, for they are the people who are paying the bills and the wages of the officials. Public office is still, and pray God always will be, a public trust to be administered not as superiors or masters, but rather servants of a people who entrusted us with the office we seek or hold.

Respectfully yours,
GERALD F. MILLER

Hot races end at polls Tuesday

General election polling places will be open Tuesday from 6:30 a. m. to 6:30 p. m. so that electors of the village and Plymouth school district can settle, for two years, anyway, a raging controversy.

Shall William Fazio be re-elected to a third term as mayor? Shall Carl V. Ellis be turned out as village clerk? Shall Donald Akers be defeated for another term as councilman? Shall a three-mill operating levy for the public schools be re-newed?

F A Z I O I S O P P O S E D BY Luther R. Fetters, president of the board of trustees of public affairs, who argues that Fazio's efforts to oust Russell J. Moser as superintendent of light, water and power are wrong. This is the issue between them Tuesday night to operate Greenlawn cemetery will be submitted for approval. It would run five years.

Ellis, veteran clerk, is opposed by Gerald F. Miller, who says the issue is the personnel of the clerk's office. He pledges he will recommend appointment of new personnel if he is elected.

Akers stands on his record as councilman. He is completing a two-year term, having previously served two years, and now seeks a four-year term.

He is opposed by Theodore A. Ross, Raymond A. Babcock and William L. Moore.

Moore openly opposes Fazio's attempts to oust Moser and his election would have to be taken as a rebuke to Fazio.

No write-ins will be permitted for any office.

THE THREE-MILL O P E R A T I N G levy would run four years. It is a renewal, not a new tax for school operation.

Renewal of a one-mill levy to operate Greenlawn cemetery will be submitted for approval. It would run five years.

Renewal of a one-mill levy to operate the volunteer fire department and to provide for apparatus and equipment will also be submitted for approval. It would run two years.

Huron county voters will be asked to approve renewal of a one-mill levy to provide for welfare and relief. It would run five years.

A L L V O T E R S W I L L B E asked to approve a $250 million general obligation bond issue, to be retired by increasing the tax on cigarettes at the rate of one cent a package. Proceeds of the issue would be applied to construction of educational facilities for state universities and colleges, construction of water impounding sites, parks, recreation and conservation, and for construction of schools in areas where there is currently a local inability to pay for new construction.

Mrs. Janice E. Reynolds seeks re-election as treasurer, unopposed.

D. Guy Cunningham and Karl S. Lindauer, trustees of public affairs, who support Moser, are unopposed for re-election. Henry M. Trauger is unopposed for the third post.

Donald P. Markley, incumbent, and John F. Swartz are unopposed for election to the board of education.

S C H O O L D I S T R I C T V O T E R S have no choice for Richland county board of education. Two posts are vacant and only two candidates have filed, Burdell and L. J. Casheil.

New Haven township voters will elect a township trustee and a clerk. Incumbent Glen R. Evans seeks re-election as trustee and incumbent Dale V. Stearns re-election as clerk.

Plymouth township voters have no choice for clerk Joseph J. Lasch seeks re-election — but Frank Fenner seeks to oust Samuel H. Cashman as trustee.

Hayride ends in calamity

A hay ride at Cedar Creek ranch near Mansfield, ended in a calamity for members of the Westminster fellowship, First Presbyterian church, Saturday evening.

The youngsters with several parents started out for an evening of fun. With no warning the wagon broke loose from the horses and plunged down an embankment.

The only serious injury was received by Shari Mace, the 17-month old daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Robert Mace. She fractured her collar bone. The others were bruised, cut and scratched and did not require hospitalization.

No new taxes!

"This isn't the time for new taxes. The people aren't in the right mood for anything new."

A shrewd and observing citizen remarked last week upon the likelihood of approval of taxing issues on next week's ballot.

We get just a little bit tired of such pronouncements, since they imply that it's possible, as well as desirable, to dance without having to pay the fiddler.

"Make the state come forward and contribute more toward the cost of our operations," say some. "The legislature has shirked its duty."

It would be hard for us to put our finger upon a more impractical solution.

For why, indeed, should the citizen of say, Cuyahoga county pay more for the operation of government, in whatever form or facet, in this county? For certainly that is the intent of such a proposal — to make the richer area foot the bill for the poorer. And if these proponents want a graduated income tax, why don't they say so?

There appear on the general election ballot Tuesday some issues which are wholly local in character.

Each of them is a renewal of an existing tax, not a new tax.

We believe the municipal levies are entitled to approval. Specifically, this refers to the cemetery and fire apparatus levies.

We believe, as we have said before — were, indeed, the first to say so — the three-mill operating levy for the public schools should be renewed.

The Huron county poor-relief levy of one-half mill should be approved.

At the state level, the principal issue is No. 1, which provides for issuance of $250 million in bonds to finance construction of buildings and facilities for higher education, for the most part, and some construction in needy public school districts. It would be paid for by continuing the present tax on cigarettes.

As The Advertiser has pointed out, this is a compromise issue. But it deserves the support of every citizen.

Ford to quit as rural carrier after 36 years

After half a million miles and 36 years of service, Donald J. Ford retires today as rural mail carrier here.

He started the job Oct. 24, 1927. Now, "26 or 27 cars later, I don't recall which," he is going to his home near Shelby "to putter around, and I don't mean with a golf stick."

When Ford began his duties, the rural route was 23.75 miles in length. Today it's 71 miles.

His colleagues in the post office staged a farewell dinner for him Saturday night. While they were about it, they honored Donald E. Akers, who retired some years ago as post carrier in the village. No farewell party for "Cap" Akers, with whom Ford has engaged in many baseball arguments over the years, was conducted before.

Teacher employed; sports board set up

Mrs. Joseph Milano, New Haven, has joined the faculty of Plymouth schools.

A veteran of 20 years of teaching, Mrs. Milano is assigned to a second grade class in Shiloh Elementary school, where she replaces Mrs. Helen Griscott, who resigned Oct. 25 because of ill health.

Mrs. Milano, who started her new duties Oct. 28; will be paid at the rate of $4,168 annually. She taught many years in New Haven school. She is a half sister of Mrs. K. D. McGinnis, for many years a sixth grade teacher in Plymouth Elementary school, and of Mrs. Dale V. Osborn, formerly a teacher here.

Appointment of a new athletic board of control was made by Plymouth Board of Education Oct. 23.

Athletic Director William Flaherty and the head coaches of the four interscholastic sports join the executive head and high school and junior high school principals on the board. Flaherty is also head baseball coach, but will have only one vote.

Other coaches are Richard Carpenter, football; Ronald Hoelzer, basketball, and Guy R. Flora, cross country.

Civilian members are John Kleer and Fred L. Buzard, Boosters club nominees, and G. Thomas Moore and William Rook, citizen nominees.

Donald P. Markley and Donald Dawson will represent the board of education on the athletic board of control.

T H E R E H A S B E E N NO parent-teacher or organization in the high school for some years. An effort to organize it will be launched Nov. 11 at 8 p. m.

A rider to a fire insurance policy issued by the Hartford Fire Insurance Co. by which full replacement cost of any building damaged or consumed by fire is assured was proposed by the company's agent, James C. Davis. It was approved.

The board committed itself to purchase of a new school bus, but not by means of central purchase if this can be avoided. C. Todd Strohmenger, executive head, asked for and obtained permission to send a copy of a previous resolution decrying this procedure to the president of the state board of education.

Mrs. Roy Carter is principal delegate and Mr. Dawson alternate delegate to the Ohio School Boards association meeting Nov. 13 at 8 p. m. and Nov. 14 at 9 a. m. in Columbus.

No action was taken on appointment of a successor to Edwin S. Beeching, board member who will shortly resign because he is moving to Shelby.

Golden Agers see style show by Mayflowers

Plymouth Golden Agers were the guests of the Mayflower Home Economics club Thursday night in the Presbyterian church.

A ham and scalloped potato dinner was served at tables decorated with autumn floral arrangements.

The specially prepared program was a style show of costumes from 1895 to 1909 and the flapper models of the 1920's. It was narrated by Mrs. Roscoe Hutchinson, who wrote original poems to fit each costume as it was modeled.

Members of the Mayflowers were Mrs. Kenneth Futt, Powell Holderby, Max Fidler, C. Todd Strohmeier, Jerome Walker, Nevin Border, Herman Goodyke, Robert Haas and Herbert Newmeyer.

Mrs. Garrett's kin dies in rest home; ailing eight years

Funeral services were conducted Oct. 22 for Mrs. Mary Cavalier, 59, who died Oct. 20 in Golden Age Rest home, New London.

Mrs. Cavalier, a sister-in-law of Mrs. Willard Garrett, worked as a telephone operator for many years at the Fate-Root-Heath Co. She was stricken eight years ago with apoplexy, from which she never recovered.

She was a member of Trinity Lutheran church, Willard, the OES and Daughters of Union Veterans. Four daughters, three sons, her mother, a brother and 15 grandchildren survive.

The Rev. Warren Wilkie conducted the final church service. Burial was in the Attica-Venice cemetery.

Parrigan buys Kester property

Robert Parrigan, a resident here, has purchased the Kester property in West Main street. His father-in-law, Norman Hale, and a number of relatives will occupy the place and hope to move soon. The house consists of 14 rooms. Mrs. Kester will spend her time with her two daughters, Mrs. Arthur Taylor at Vermilion and Mrs. Curtis Pittenger, in Crall road.

In about two weeks, Mr. and Mrs. Steven Patterson, who now reside in Mechanic street, will move to the home of his mother, Mrs. Frank Patterson, at East Main street. For several years Mrs. Patterson has driven to Shelby every school day, where she is a teacher in the public schools. She plans to now live in an apartment in Shelby.

Mrs. Avis Koerber accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Earl McQuate and Mrs. Mabel Koerber Phillips of Ashland to the Paramore Rest home to visit Lloyd Domer Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Archdeacon of Shelby accompanied Mr. and Mrs. John Bryan to Lakeside hospital, Cleveland, to visit Mrs. Ralph Carroll, a patient there. Mrs. Carroll is showing some improvement. Her address is Division 45-North, Lakeside hospital, Cleveland 6.

Sunday will be the 65th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Porter. The event will be celebrated by an open-house reception from 2 to 4 p. m. at the home of a son, Walter Porter, in Prospect street.

The celebrants are also the parents of another son, George Porter, and two daughters, Mrs. Louella Vaughn and Mrs. Ciola Weyerbacher.

They were married Nov. 3, 1903, at Greensburg, Pa., and came to Ohio in 1911. There are 15 grandchildren and 27 great-grandchildren.

After a stroke last week, Lloyd Domer was taken by ambulance to Paramore Rest home, Ontario. His visitors Sunday reported he was able to sit in a chair but could not be on his feet.

After observation and tests at Cleveland Clinic hospital, Mrs. Hugh Boyce was brought home Oct. 23. She is able to be around the house but unable to work.

On Oct. 20, the 2½-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. George Miller was playing in a wagon when the end gate came down and broke his leg. He was taken to Shelby Memorial hospital and later brought home, where he will have to be in traction six weeks.

On Wednesday evening theme of Shiloh Community Grange will be "Future Farmers of America". Thomas Rish, George Miller, Henry Fulk, and Richard Penell will conduct the program. Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Yost and Mr. and Mrs. Edwin McBride make up the refreshment committee.

Mrs. Mildred Sheeley, Circle, Mont., is a visitor for a couple of weeks at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Robert Pittenger. Mrs. Sheeley makes her trip about twice a year, mainly because her father, Jay Rex, of Willard, has suffered the amputation of both legs and is confined to his bed. He is, however, patient and cheerful.

Harold Company has just recently purchased the Reed Noble farm east of town. He will farm the land but not move his family from the family home in Bowman street road.

Mrs. Donald Hamman and son, John, spent the weekend at Bluffton where they visited her son, James, and saw the Bluffton-Wilmington football game.

Mrs. J. J. Cihla and her mother, Mrs. Brad Miller, visited relatives in Findlay Sunday.

Garrett-Reist Post of the American Legion enjoyed a fish fry Sunday in the Legion hall. Next monthly dance will be Saturday evening.

LOCALS

The George Robertses, Raymond Willets and Charles Vanadasales were guests of the Rev. and Mrs. Moss Rutan in Mingo Junction Sunday. During the afternoon they attended the dedication services of the newly built Presbyterian church, of which the Rev. Mr. Rutan is the pastor.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Brown visited Mrs. David Scrafieid, who is staying with her daughter, Mrs. Robert Bishop, in Norwalk. She is steadily improving and plans to re-enter Fisher-Titus hospital tomorrow for additional medical tests.

Plymouth High school Class of 1966 will sponsor a dance tomorrow from 8 until 11 p. m., at the school.

Admission is 50 cents and the public is welcome.

Will of John T. McKown, admitted to probate and record in Huron county probate court, appoints his widow, Agnes T. McKown, as executrix. Transfer of real estate has been effected.

Transfer of real estate belonging to the late Arlene I. Fox to her survivors has been ordered by the court.

David M. Williams, 45, Plymouth route 1, arrested by Willard police in April on a charge of driving under the influence of intoxicants, stood trial Oct. 14.

He was convicted and sentenced to three days in Huron county jail.

Eligible for parole

Ohio Parole commission will hear after Nov. 12 an application for parole by Thomas Paul Marvin, Ohio State Reformatory, Mansfield, admitted from Erie county July 20, 1962, after conviction of felonious assault and sentence to one to 10 years.

Firemen angry with use of soap

Firemen complained early today that vandals who anticipated the Halloween season soaped windows of emergency vehicles so badly the volunteers were forced to clean them before going to bed after strenuous duty at a fire.

"Fun is fun," said Chief Judson A. Morrison, "but these youngsters ought to remember a fire truck is an emergency vehicle that isn't of much value if we can't move it when the alarm rings because we can't see out the windows."

Mrs. Snow wed to Robert Driver

Mrs. Cora Snow and Robert Driver were married in New Haven Methodist church Sunday afternoon by the Rev. David Carmony.

The bride was attired in a turquoise sheath of matelasse crepe, designed with a bateau neckline accented by fan-shaped satin cording over the shoulders. A jacket-effect bodice was edged with scallops. She wore a matching rope belt. Her hat was a small floral creation of pale turquoise with short circular veil. She wore a pink shoulder corsage and a pearl necklace and earrings, gifts of the bridegroom.

Her son and daughter-in-law, the Kenneth Snows, Findlay, and his daughter and son-in-law, the Robert Jacobs, Sandusky, attended the couple.

MRS. SNOW WAS ATTACHED in lavender with beige accessories. She wore a corsage of pink carnations. Mrs. Jacobs was attired in white with black accessories. She also wore a corsage of pink carnations.

A reception in the bride's home in Route 224 followed the 2 p. m. ceremony. Pink and white roses decorated the cake, topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom.

After a wedding trip to Niagara Falls, the Drivers will be at home in Route 224.

MRS. DRIVER IS ENGAGED in real estate sales with Goebel Realty, Bellevue. Mr. Driver is a freight conductor with the Baltimore & Ohio railroad.

The bride was a guest of honor at a linen shower Oct. 21 at the home of Mrs. Robert Grove, Jr., Shelby. Mrs. Grace Grove was co-hostess. Mrs. Charles Vanadasale assisted the bride in opening gifts. Favorites of pink and turquoise with tiny white doves held pink and white mints.

BUY BETTER-THAN-EVER U.S. SAVINGS BONDS

A new 50-star flag now flies over the capitol of 50 states—symbol of a new America that's bigger and stronger than ever before. And there's a better-than-ever U.S. Savings Bond, too, to help keep our new America strong.

U.S. Savings Bonds are now better in two ways:

1. They mature 14 months faster than before. In E Bonds $18.75 now becomes $25 in just 7 years, 9 months.
2. They continue to earn interest after maturity. If you hold your bonds for 17 years, 9 months, you get $1.93 back for $1 you put in.

Other advantages of U.S. Savings Bonds

- You can save automatically with the Payroll Savings Plan.
- You invest without risk under a U.S. Government guarantee.
- Your money can't be lost or stolen.
- You can get your money, with interest, anytime you want it.
- You save more than money—you're helping your Government pay for peace.

Poems move columnist to defy rule against them

By AUNT LIZ

One finds, from time to time, some pleasant approach to English as she is spoke in America, an approach which openly admits that in some forms of the mother tongue we excel the mother country.

On Sunday I found one such, which plainly said "fall" is a better word than "autumn", which is the British term for that period between Sept. 21 and Dec. 21.

Perhaps one of the reasons why the British reject "fall" in favor of "autumn" is that the summer season, such as it is, simply doesn't fall in the United Kingdom. There is no sharp change of season as we have.

WHAT REMINDED ME OF these facts was a little poem written by a young friend, the text of which was revealed to me by an older one.

Ordinarily, poetry in its traditional form is omitted by newspapers for a number of reasons. One of them is that editors are just a little afraid to give endorsement to traditional forms of poetry by publishing them; this encourages others to do so, and not everybody is a Roelief Lovland, the brilliant Cleveland editor who can express himself so well in verse.

And the man who makes these decisions around here is adamant about it. His daughter says that Robert Frost or John Keats could walk into the office and offer a pearl of a sonnet and he would say, "No, thank you." Humph! He never says thank you to me. He only says No!

BUT VICKI REDDEN'S piece about "Autumn Leaves" is an exception. It goes like this:

"Autumn is the season that I like best. The trees are arrayed in their most colorful dress.

Oranges, reds, golds and browns,

Drifting down like a carpet all over the ground. They swirl and dance and flutter about,

Saying winter will come and fade them out."

Vicki's classmate is Bobby Reed. He wrote a poem about "Trees". It will never rate with Joyce Kilmer, to which I can hear the editor add,

"Thanks be to Almighty God", on account of he thinks J. Kilmer is for the birds. But it's a pretty good poem.

"Trees are very tall And that is not all. They are also wide And hard to hide. On the trees are big green leaves:

When leaves fall to the ground, They are scattered all around. If you pass a tree some time, Always keep the beauty in mind."

WHEN I WAS YOUNGER, I cherished the notion I might like to teach school.

I was deflected from this objective for several reasons, about which my husband and I disagree. He will tell you his reasons at the drop of a hat, or a burned-out cigarette.

Perhaps one of the reasons, although unconscious, was that James Donald Eberole writes about in his poem:

"If I'm in a silent room, I wish I could hear a noise, Like the racket of toys, Or the roar of a plane, Or maybe the clack of a cane, The scratch of chalk, Or someone's crackling sort of talk;

The whiz of an arrow, Or the chirp of a sparrow, The patter of rain, On a window pane, Or the wind rustling, Down a lane.

But whatever the noise, I'll be glad to hear." The boy's title: "I Hate Silence".

If I were his teacher, he and I would have to confer, because we'd be at cross-purposes otherwise.

Mothers' club plans to meet teachers

Teachers of Plymouth Elementary school will be in their rooms Monday from 6:45 to 7:25 p. m. to confer with parents prior to the regular meeting of the Mothers' club at 7:30 p. m.

Mrs. Powell Holderby will preside at a short business meeting to finish plans for the annual turkey dinner to be held Nov. 23 at the school.

Pupils of Mrs. Thomas Rhine's dancing classes with guest pupils from Willard classes will provide the program.

Patricia Lesho, Kay Young, Laurie and Mary Berberick, Ann Young, Gail Turson, Kelly Rhine, Belinda Immon, Ellen Parrigan and Margie and Bonnie Enderby will perform.

Refreshments will be served by Mrs. Robert McKown, Mrs. Sam Glorioso and Mrs. George Farmwall.

Six of local OES to go to Cleveland

Plymouth chapter, OES, will be represented by six members at the grand chapter meeting in Cleveland Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

The present worthy matron, Mrs. Joseph Kennedy, will head the delegation. Others going will be Mrs. J. Ben Smith, worthy matron-elect, Mrs. Robert Kennedy, Mrs. J. B. Kennedy, Mrs. Thomas Henry and Mrs. Wanda Young.

Ruth chapter of Mansfield, was host to the local chapter Oct. 21 for a friendship night.

The hospital beat

Mrs. Karl Webber underwent minor facial surgery last week in Straith clinic, Detroit, Mich. She was accompanied by Mrs. Thomas J. Webber.

Omer Burkett was admitted to Shelby Memorial hospital Friday night. He was a patient there earlier in the week.

Thomas Baker, village employee, was rushed to Willard Municipal hospital about 1 p. m. Sunday when he fell from the roof of his home at 50 Portner street.

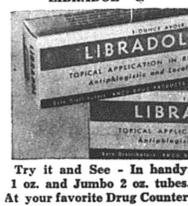

Examination revealed he fractured a hip and an ankle in the fall.

Roger McQuown and Gary Brumbach, freshmen at Bowling Green State university, spent the weekend with their parents, the Norman McQuowns and the Leroy Brumbachs.

Mrs. Thomas Rhine and children were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Leak in Norwalk Sunday. Mr. Rhine is in the east on a two-week business trip with James C. Root.

Fredericktown clouts Plymouth

Mighty Fredericktown scored the first four times it got the football here Friday night and rode to a 50 to 0 Johnny plessed conference victory over Plymouth.

Plymouth was never in the ball game, never advanced out of its own territory and was completely outclassed.

The Freddiees scored first at 8:30 on the clock in the fifth period. They marched 53 yards in seven plays, Dick Carter scoring on a 22-yarder third down. Jim Ronk, certainly the best of a sparkling try of Freddie back, rushed for the PATs.

WITH ONLY 45 SECONDS remaining in the quarter, Don White, the nifty quarterback, with third-and-eight, passed Carter unsuccessfully and then on fourth down scooted the second TD.

This broke Plymouth's back. White's pass to Carter for the PAT's merely frosted the cake. Plymouth could not gain, despite a new offense which featured Chip Paddock at quarterback. The little senior had only three days to learn these chores and duties as a passing game, but no more. But not for his passing.

Fredericktown got on the scoreboard twice in the second period. With 5:15 left, Herb Phillips romped four yards for the third score, the Freddiees having covered 74 yards in the plays. White's pass to Ronk, with a third-and-seven, was good for 31 yards, to the Plymouth 41.

The rush for the PATs was as unsuccessful. Plymouth lost a net of three in the next series and Fletcher's punt carried to the Freddie 42.

WHAT HAPPENED HERE was typical of this tough Freddie team. Fletcher played what was certainly the best game of his schoolboy career. He was a terror on defense and saved one boot, punted superbly, but the Freddiees got splendid yardage on runbacks.

This punt carried 29 yards, but the runback went up to the Plymouth 39, a net gain of 17 yards for the Big Red.

Six plays later, Fredericktown had another score, this time on a rollout by Mike Gregg, second-string quarterback, a little fellow with a world of power who ran over five Plymouth tacklers from 10 yards out. Gregg passed to Gary Stevens for the PATs.

Couch Jerry Boggs let up a little in the third period. He served some second stringers, nose inept play cost the Freddiees a TD. A screen pass from White to Ronk was good for 46 yards and a score, but the little red flag lay at the Plymouth 20. The Freddiees were socked 15 for clipping.

Undaunted by this penalty and another of the same size two plays later, the Freddiees went into punt formation on fourth down and nearly pulled off a pass, Phillips to Carter, for the first down.

PLYMOUTH TOOK OVER the game. It was the only time Fredericktown had failed to score after obtaining possession up to this point. There was to be one other.

Fletcher's 26-yard boot to Carter from the Red 46 resulted in a 22-yard runback. Fredericktown had the TD in five plays. Gregg rounded end for 30 yards on third down. The end sweeps, the trap plays and the passing, executed for the most part by superb faking by White, were more than Plymouth could cope with.

Gregg rolled out right for the PATs and the Freddiees had a 38 point lead. Gene Crouse was sent in the next series around right end in a sweep off the single wing formation for the only appreciable gain. Plymouth made all right. On fourth down the Cleveland Browns double reverse-and-pass went for eight when Paddock found himself hemmed in and threw a yard to Fletcher, who could not contain it. Plymouth's defense held at its 20 when the Freddiees took over and the Red almost gained enough for first down. But Fletcher was again forced to boot.

WITH POSSESSION AT its 47, Fredericktown passed 10 yards, White to Carter, on third down-and-nine, picked up 14 and seven in two shots by White and Carter and on third down scored the penultimate touchdown. White threw for 21 yards to Ronk. There were 46 seconds left in the game.

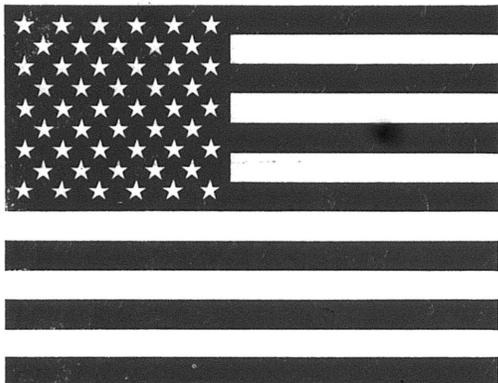

Fletcher was hit hard with the kickoff fumbled. The Freddiees' Gregg recovered and by wise use of timeouts, Fredericktown produced the final touchdown just as the gun sounded.

Dick Ewers got six from the Red 22, Carpenter rounded left end for 12 to the four and Bob Ewers banged in. The PATs, tried after the game was over, did not result.

TALK AT JOHNSTOWN was that Plymouth, Northmor, Lucas and Crestview ought to organize a separate league on the grounds that other schools in the loop — Fredericktown, Clear Fork, Ontario, Lexington, Crestlitt, — are too big by enrollment to be playing smaller schools.
