A 29-year-old New Haven man died early Sunday of injuries received when his convertible left Ridge road south of Norwalk, collided with a service pole, went over an embankment and struck a tree.

Richard (Danny) Van Wagner died in Fisher-Titus Memorial hospital of a crushed chest. His two passengers, James Buckingham, 26, Willard, and James Moyer, 26, Willard, were admitted there for treatment, Buckingham for broken ribs and a right leg, Moyer for cuts and bruises. Moyer was subsequently discharged.

The trio was en route to Willard at 1:30 a. m. when the mishap occurred.

Van Wagner, born in New Haven May 20, 1934, the son of Rollo A. and Jessie Van Wagner, worked part time as a bartender in the Peek-a-Boo Inn, New Haven. He was regularly employed as civilian clerk in an Air Force depot at Columbus.

His parents, four children, Cynthia, Sheryl, Richard and David, and two sisters, Mrs. G. Lyle Grabach, New Haven, and Mrs. Richard Groszost, Sandusky, survive.

The Daniel Carmany conducted a funeral service from McQuate Funeral home Tuesday at 2 p. m. Burial was in Maple Grove cemetery, New Haven township.

For more than 70 years a prominent figure here, Christian (Christy) Weber, 84, died in Shelby Memorial hospital Monday, two hours after he was stricken at his home, 89 Trux street.

He was engaged in the restaurant and a tavern business here, as successor to his father, for over 50 years before he retired in 1953. Active in Democratic politics, he served the Richland county executive committee in many capacities. For 27 years he was a poll watcher here.

IN HIS YOUTH, HE thought nothing of strolling to Ashland or Mansfield, a distance of 19 miles, and return during a Sunday afternoon.

Almost two years ago, while walking in Porter street, he fell and broke a wrist. His health declined thereafter, although he remained active and vigorous until a few days ago.

He was seized about 5:45 p. m., rushed by ambulance to the hospital and a. d. succumbed there, apparently with no suffering.

It was the way he wanted to go, he often said. A bon vivant who liked people and entertainment, even in later years he enjoyed participating with his fraternal lodges in social activities.

Born Jan. 6, 1877, in New

Albany, Ind., he never married. A sister, Katherine, who has since died, and a surviving sister, Elizabeth, neither of whom married, were his associates in Weber's Cafe, a restaurant and tavern which has done business under the same styling in the same building for over 70 years. Another sister, Mrs. E. R. Johnston, Ft. Wayne, Ind., also survives.

Mr. Weber was a director of the Richland County Auto club and a member of BPO Elks, Willard, and FEO Elks, Mansfield, and of Plymouth Chamber of Commerce.

A funeral service will be conducted today at 2 p. m. from McQuate Funeral home. Burial will be in Greenlawn cemetery.

Ruritan group to be organized if interest warrants

An explanation of the objectives of Ruritan National will be made in the vocational agriculture room of Plymouth High school, Thursday at 8 p. m.

Ruritan is a service organization designed to serve the village and rural community rather than the large city.

Local sponsors of the meeting are Keith E. Johnson, William R. Miller, A. L. Paddock, Jr., and Burr Knaus.

Every citizen of whatever calling is invited to attend. There is no obligation of any kind.

"A Ruritan club brings together men of diverse interest, promotes sociability, charges acquaintances, strengthens friendships, and provides a way by which these men, by working together, can accomplish for the home community many desirable programs which otherwise could not be accomplished, says R. Dale Miller, Lisbon route 5, organizer.

"The first club was organized in 1928 in Holland, Va., by men who sensed the need of an influence of that kind in rural life — in the towns and country areas. The amazing growth of Ruritan clubs, which are rapidly spreading throughout the country, indicates that the organization meets a need that exists among men everywhere."

The first clubs in Ohio were organized in Columbiana county in 1952. Today there are 45 clubs in the state with a total of 2,000 members. The club at Lodi was organized in 1961. It in turn sponsored the recently organized club at New London, which is at present the club farthest west in the Buckeye state.

Mayor William Fazio was thrown out of office by an aroused electorate Tuesday.

Parents called

All parents of Plymouth High school pupils are urged to attend organizational meeting Monday at 8 p. m. of a Parent-Teacher association at the school.

The last group died several years ago because of lack of interest by parents.

Interest has been shown recently by a number of parents.

Bake sale set

Plymouth High school chapter, FHA, will stage a bake sale at Mack's Foodland Saturday from 9:30 a. m. to 12:30 p. m.

Here's schedule of holiday issues

The holiday publishing of this newspaper is cited below for the guidance of correspondents, advertisers and subscribers.

The newspaper's annual vacation will take place from Dec. 23 at 8 a. m. to Dec. 28 at 8 a. m. Business and editorial offices will be closed during that period.

The issue of the week of Dec. 15 will be published 24 hours earlier than normally.

The issue of the week of Dec. 22 will be published Dec. 21. It will include the annual Christmas greetings. Advertising deadline is Dec. 17 at 4 p. m.

Because Thursday, Nov. 28, is a national holiday, the issue of that week will be advanced 24 hours. All copy and advertising deadlines will be advanced 24 hours.

The newspaper office will be closed Thursday, Nov. 28, to enable the staff to pass the Thanksgiving holiday at home.

He was defeated 2 to 1 by his opponent, Luther R. Fetters, president of public affairs, and failed for the second successive time to carry even his home precinct.

Unofficial count compiled by The Advertiser showed Fetters with 343 ballots, Fazio with 179.

Every other candidate seeking reelection won it and every levy submitted for approval was passed.

VETERAN CLERK, CARL V. ELLIS, opposed for the first time in 12 years, defeated Gerald Miller, 310 to 217.

In a cumulative Councilman Donald E. Akers, completing a two year term, won a four year term. He led the field of four seeking two vacancies. Akers polled 363 ballots. William L. Moore won election to a four-year term, succeeding Councilman Charles Lillian Book for clerk-treasurer, 126 to 51.

Theodore A. Ross polled 210 and Raymond Babcock 81. Frank Fenner unseated Samuel H. Cashman, veteran Plymouth township trustee. The Advertiser's unofficial count was 212 votes for Fenner, 173 for Cashman.

DESPITE THE LIGHT rain that fell throughout most of the day, voters turned out in this off-year in strength. About 73 per cent of the eligible electors of the village signed the registry books.

There was more opposition to renewal of the three-mill operating levy than any of the other levies which were submitted.

In Plymouth, the school levy carried, 294 favoring to 128 opposing. These figures compare with the fire levy, 307 favoring and 112 opposing, and the cemetery levy, 321 favoring and 101 opposing. The school levy was defeated only in Bloominggrove township.

Throughout the district, unofficial figures show, the school levy received 317 favoring votes, 272 opposing. This was a 65 per cent majority.

A WRITE-IN CAMPAIGN was conducted in Shiloh, because there were insufficient names on the ballot.

Leo Russell polled 116 ballots, defeating A. C. Henry for mayor. Henry got 44 votes.

Mrs. Jane Beard thumped Mrs. Lillian Book for clerk-treasurer, 126 to 51.

C. C. Strickland polled 74 ballots and Delmar Nesbitt 53 to win council seats. Charles Guthrie got 45 votes.

Hobart (Kid) Garrett received 100 ballots and Marion Hughes 93 for trustee of public affairs. Robert Pittenger got 89 ballots.

Wood W. Arnold, veteran Cass township trustee, won reelection, 203 to 97, over Veril Malone.

Grabach boy hurt in bicycle accident

Roger Grabach, eight-year-old son of Mrs. Jean Black, was treated for cuts and bruises Sunday afternoon at Willard Municipal hospital.

The child was riding his bicycle with two friends in West Broadway. With no warning he swerved into a car which had stayed behind the boys until it was safe to pass them.

The driver, Andy Alfrey, Jr., Shelby, immediately stopped and took the Grabach child to the Lacey Willmson home to ascertain his injuries.

Hit-run driver fined after police chase

A Route 598 man was arrested Saturday night after he struck a car belonging to Fred Van Zoest in West Broadway opposite the residence of Mrs. Harry Brooks and failed to stop.

John Hicks was taken into custody later by Plymouth police after they found his car hidden in a field behind his house on the west side of the village.

He was charged with leaving the scene of an accident and driving without an operator's license in Mayor William Fazio's court Monday.

He was fined $100 and costs on the first charge, $15 and costs on the second.

Vernon Gayheart, Scott road, Crawford county, was arrested here Saturday at 11:45 p. m. on a charge of drunken driving. He had no operator's license. He was arrested on both charges Monday.

He was fined $250 and costs and sentenced to three days in jail on the first charge, $25 and costs on the second.

Two Willardites arrested at 6 p. m. Sunday in the Square posted bonds. Corbett Green, Tuberculosis again!

The news that about a dozen new cases of tuberculosis have been discovered since September in Huron county is shocking.

That tuberculosis, a disease for which there is almost no excuse nowadays, should have reared its ugly head means that somebody, somewhere, has been asleep.

Those functionaries charged by law and custom with enforcement of the health laws are blameless, we think. They acted when they were apprised of the facts. The children afflicted are undergoing treatment, we hope successfully. Some adults are under treatment. Everybody in the county is paying for it.

The tuberculosis germ will not flourish where there is no encouragement for it. The germ does not thrive in a body which is well-fed, adequately clad, suitably housed and reasonably disciplined.

Where it does thrive, it thrives because of neglect and negligence.

It is to be hoped the enforcement agencies will be prompt in their findings and recommendations for action to prevent spread of tuberculosis. Where those recommendations refer to unsuitable housing, we hope there will be no equivocation: he whose building breeds tuberculosis, or contributes to the breeding of tuberculosis, must be compelled to tear it down.

Prompt detection is the only defense the public has. The portable detection unit will soon be here. Access to it is free. Food-handlers are, of course, required to make use of it. Nobody else should feel exempt.

Christy Weber

Christy Weber is gone. For more than an average lifetime he was a prominent figure on the Square.

He was a gentleman of the old school, courtly and polite, always courteous, always friendly, always helpful to those who needed help.

He lived life to its fullest, enjoyed every minute of it, and never complained when the sun began to set.

When his bier passes down the street to its resting place this afternoon, there are many who will rightly say, "Now there goes a fine man." He was just that, every inch of him.

Red to close dismal season

They'll ring down the curtain on the 1963 gridiron season in Mary Fae park tomorrow night — and none too soon!

The hapless, reorganized Big Red will meet Clear Fork's Johnny Applesseed conference champion Colts in a game that, if Plymouth were to win, would rank as the upset of the century.

Seasoned observers suggest, rather, the Big Red ought to check in at the gate, each player paying his own way, and then take off for parts unknown.

IN TWO GAMES THE Plymouth team has scored no points and advanced only 66 yards with five first downs. Neither of the opponents against which the Red achieved this splendid record is in a class with Clear Fork. It would be a moral victory for Plymouth if its offense can gain as many as 75 yards against the powerful Colts.

For three seniors, it will be the final schoolboy performance. Co-captains Phil Fletcher and Bob Young and Bob Forsythe will appear in red leathers for the last time.

Fletcher has had a fair season, Forsythe the good days and bad ones and Young only a so-so season.

ASSUMING THEY WILL survive the drubbing Clear Fork is sure to administer here tomorrow, five juniors and five sophoms and a single freshman of experience should be available to form the nucleus for the 1964 club. These are Bob Foreman, Larry Bland and Jim Kurtz, linemen, and Chip Paddock and Mike Ruckman, backs, all juniors; Dick Foreman, Norm Howard, Jim Clark, Dave McQuown and Dick Adams, sophoms, and Billy Goth, freshman.

A total of 430 man hours, costing the village $860, was used.

"With cost of equipment wear and tear, fuel and other items," Morrison says, "the cost to the village was well over $1,000."

Three calls early Thursday were all but simultaneous. One was a grass fire near the B&O right-of-way north of the village, a second was near the Bachrach Cattle Co. premises in the same general location and a third was at West High near the Fate-Root-Heath Co. siding. Firemen surmise the train threw off hot carbon which ignited grass.

A nine-hour short course in rescue training for firemen, civil defense volunteers and others who have completed the basic American Red Cross course in first aid will be offered by Don McNutt, Lorain, in the fieldhouse Nov. 14 and 21 and Dec. 5.

Enrollment is limited to 35 pupils. Fire Chief Judson A. Morrison reports. Classes will convene from 7 to 10 p. m. on each of the three dates.

McNutt is assigned to the trade and industrial education services division, state department of education.

Copeland charitable---

Ontario coasts to 38-0 win over Red

Inept Plymouth found a sympathetic opponent at Ontario Saturday night. That Coach Roger Copeland refused to run up the score on the visitors and was content with a 38 to 0 win over the Big Red in a Johnny Appleseed conference game.

THE PLYMOUTH EFFORT was ridiculous.

- Some items:
1. Not a single pass from center was acceptable even by rinky-dink standards. That Phil Fletcher, the Plymouth punter, was able to get off a single boot was remarkable. He never got a direct pass that he could handle without the piroettes of a ballet dancer.
 2. The blocking simply did not exist.
 3. The tackling in the secondary was execrable, if indeed there was any.
 4. Plymouth got into enemy territory only once by its own efforts and never was able to penetrate beyond the Warrior 36.

As for scoring, in case anyone is interested, here is how it went:

At 5:46 of the first period, Ron Walker rounded Plymouth's left end for 12 yards. He did the same thing for the PAT. Score: Ontario 8, Plymouth 0.

Four minutes later, Walker sped 57 yards through the Plymouth defense (what a laugh!) after hitting a hole over his right tackle big enough to swallow a dirigible. Walker ran the PAT and was stopped, but Plymouth was offside. Dean Apper then ran in from 1 1/2 yards out. Score: Ontario 16, Plymouth 0.

After Plymouth had a series of five downs in the second period, and still was unable to advance, Fletcher punted. Walker ran it back to the Red 40 and on the first play pulled off a 40-yard hipper dipper play that defies description. At least eight red-shirts had hands on him en route to paydirt. Walker racked up the PATs. Score: Ontario 24, Plymouth 0.

Norman Howard let Fletcher's pass hit him in the head, where Magistro intercepted and Ontario scored in four plays. Paine sneaking in on what seemed to be illegal procedure. The try for PATs was no good. Score: Ontario 30, Plymouth 0.

Chip Paddock fumbled at PAT and that was it.

ONTARIO INSERTED scrubs thereafter and Plymouth was no more able to gain against them than their older and more seasoned colleagues.

The last period was played for the sake of convention. Everybody was ready to go home at the end of the third period. It appeared the Plymouth team was first to go home, after the first touchdown.

Not in 10 years has a Plymouth team played so poorly as this one on this night.

Only three lettermen on hand, Hostler starts re-building chore

An 18-game varsity and reserve basketball slate opens for Plymouth's Big Red at Loudonville Nov. 29

Only three lettermen comprise the squad of about 50 now drilling under Coach Ronald Hostler.

Two of them are still with the football squad. They are Phil Fletcher and Bob Young. The third, Chuck Kaylor, is already at work.

HOSTLER LOST MOST OF the quintet which carried the Big Red banner to the district tourney at Mansfield last season, only to bow to Mike Hyde and Western Reserve.

Dave Myers, Jim Hamman, Allen Arnold, Tom Barnd and Earl Hess were lost by graduation. Three players with some varsity experience will be back this year. They are Girard Cashman, Bill Conley and Terry Hamman. John Selick will be ineligible for the first nine games.

The three lettermen and the four others with varsity experience will comprise seven of the traveling squad of 12. Some candidates from last year's reserve squad, including Eric Akers, Mike Backman, Chip Paddock and Bob Foreman, all with the football team, and a handful of others will seek the remaining five berths.

No Tuesday games appear on the schedule. All contests are slated for Friday and Sat-night play.

THE SCHEDULE:

Reed, Arnold Hamman play

Dayton (Hub) Reed, until now in Coach Ken Mast's doghouse at Bluffton college, passed for two TD's Saturday as the Beavers downed Manchester college, 34 to 14.

Jimmy Hamman, Reed's successor as quarterback of the Big Red who is dogging Dayton's tracks at the same post at Bluffton, played on both offense and defense when the game was locked up.

Allen Arnold, who played end for the Big Red last season, saw some action for the Beavers Saturday as well.

Mrs. Foreman dies at Shelby; Miss Dick marries in Dayton

Mother of Elva Foreman, Mrs. Sarah Foreman, 78, 131 Broadway, Shelby, died in Memorial hospital there Saturday.

Funeral services were conducted Tuesday at 2 p. m. from Barkdull Funeral home, Shelby, by her pastor, the Rev. Cletis Hayes. She was a member of the Church of the Nazarene.

Her husband, Samuel; four sons, Willard and Vinton, Shelby; William, in Michigan, and Hubert, Chicago, Ill.; three daughters, Mrs. Lola Kidwell and Mrs. Ruth Wood, Shelby, and Mrs. Florence Glover, Newark; three brothers, three sisters, 15 grand-children and 36 great-grand-children also survive.

Interment was in Oakland cemetery, Shelby.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cline spent the weekend in Lakewood, guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Burton Forquer.

During the business meeting, Christmas plans will be formulated.

Libraries ready for big week

Beginning Monday all libraries — public, private and school — will begin National Children's Book Week.

Plymouth Branch library will set out a selection of newly acquired books for its best customers. Gay posters with the week's slogan, "Three Cheers for Books!" are already on display. So are colorful paper puppets of various characters from children's literature.

Library statistics prove that children out-read adults in Plymouth. Last year they borrowed 14,184 books. Adults took only 4,119 from the library.

"Children like to read about real things," Mrs. Harold H. Shaffer, librarian, says. She sees a definite trend toward factual reading. "There was a time when horse stories or mysteries were the most heavily borrowed books by young readers," she continues, "but now the youngsters are asking for non-fiction."

THE LIBRARY WORKS closely with Plymouth Elementary school across the street. On Wednesdays and Fridays, classes come as a group to the library to borrow books and return those they have finished reading.

The evening hours are mostly for the junior and senior high school pupils, who come to use the reference material for class assignments.

Mrs. Shaffer says the most popular reference is the Reader's Guide, an index to subject matter in magazines.

With this in mind, the library board plans to reevaluate its magazine program and purchase what it can within its budget to meet demands of high school readers. The four most-called-for magazines are not yet on the library's subscription list. They are US News and World Report Time, Christian Century and Life.

With funds from the Plymouth Community Chest, the library has purchased a number of new reference books. They are "World Authors", "The Encyclopedia of American History", "Facts About The Presidents" and "Barlett's Familiar Quotations". The latter Mrs. Shaffer herself finds invaluable to use to help answer some of the questions which only an eager young mind would think to ask.

Mrs. C. R. Archer will review a current best-seller Thursday at 8 p. m. before the board of directors and guests in Plymouth Branch library. She has chosen, "The Day They Shook the Plum Tree" by Arthur H. Lewis. It is the biography of Hetty Green, one of the richest and most eccentric women this country has ever known.

HONOR PUPIL, Kenneth Springer, 15, works as library page but has career aspirations in field of engineering. He is only son of the Kenneth Springers.

Just like a woman! Changes recommended for OSU crowds

BY AUNT LIZ
If the Russians, or the South Vietnamese, or anybody, are ever going to attack this country, the time to do it is on the football season.

Better make that from supper time Friday to supper time Sunday during the football season.

For this time when everybody's mind is on defenses of another sort than what Mr. McNamara deals with.

And the bombs are called "long" bombs and refer to an air-filled piece of leather thrown by a player with a strong arm to another with long legs and sure fingers.

EVEN WITH A NASAL drip that simply drives me mad, I like football crowds.

That man who is married to me says it does him good to go off to a college football game with a big crowd now and again. I am sure I do not know what he is talking about, because it seemed to me Saturday he didn't see me of the crowd. If I hadn't grabbed him by the coattail a couple of times, when he was staring at one part of the crowd, he would have been run over.

I look at the crowds to see what the girls are wearing. He says he looks to see what they aren't wearing.

I JUST WISH I COULD be in charge of that program at Columbus for one season. I would make some changes. For one thing the bifflies. In other houses it goes by the name of "john" or some other vernacular that I won't mention here, but in our house it is the biffy.

At football games, it is as important as the ball, the players or the referee. And it ought to be warm, clean and airy.

Surely they make enough money out of 83,000 darned fuses huddled there in the cold four or five times a season to make alterations in the bifflies.

If I think if I could campaign for state representative-at-large on this platform alone, I would come close to winning.

For another, the hard seats. It is said the Ohio State people allow you two more inches to sit upon than the Navy allows. Since when has the Navy had to deal with derrieres of female size? I know all about the Waves, but Waves seldom go over the waves. And seating capacity in the Navy is planned for those whose bottoms are usually narrower than their shoulders.

For a third, the footspace. It is narrow, and it is cold. During November in these latitudes, it is darned cold. How can the Ohio State people think a woman would be interested in going to a game when she can't show off her attire? Which includes shoes. (Aside to R. J. W.: the Yankees cost him three pairs, and he hasn't paidoff yet!)

Finally, and only because my nose was dripping so much I couldn't see to write any more down on the back of a 50-cent program that's worth only a quarter, the food. The hot dog is an American institution, but so is the insane asylum. Surely some smart person could come up with some reasonable and speedy way to prepare a hot dog so that it can be served promptly, tastily and HOT.

I doubt that anybody concerned with the Ohio State football season will ever pay any mind to these suggestions. Never mind. I have had my say.

No change!

Arnold Howard will continue as owner-manager of the Plymouth Elevator.

Because the bidding was so low during the auction sale of the elevator and its equipment Oct. 26, Mr. Howard declined to sell and bid the property himself.

Services the elevator offers to farmers will continue.

Richard Dye visited his brother, James A., in Cleveland over the weekend.

The Clarence O. Cramers and their great-granddaughter, Melodie Gooding, spent the weekend in Columbus, guests of the Keith Goodings. On Saturday night the Cramers were the house guests of the Evan P. LaFollettes at Red Fox Hollow, Reynoldsburg.

Mrs. James St. Clair spent the weekend in Columbus with her sisters-in-law, Mrs. Nellie and Miss Estelle St. Clair. She drove there with the Harry Dyes, who brought their daughter, Sharon, home for the weekend, and returned when they took Sharon to attend her classes in Ohio State School of Cosmetology.

The Robert A. McKowns, J. Benjamin Smith and son, John A., James D. Cunningham and the A. L. Paddocks, Jr., saw the Ohio State-Iowa football game at Columbus Saturday. James Miller celebrated his seventh birthday at a party Saturday afternoon for a group of school friends. He is the son of the William Millers.

Paul Forderm of San Diego, Cal., spent several days with his sister and brother-in-law, the Fred Lewises, last week. While he was here, they all drove to Dayton to visit the Air Force museum. He went on to the University of Indiana in Bloomington where he attended banking business course.

Ehret-Parsel Post, American Legion, will serve its annual Veterans' day dinner Saturday at 6 p. m. in the Legion hall.

All members and their families are invited. Guests are asked to bring their own table service and a covered dish. Turkey and ham will be prepared and served by the post's auxiliary.

Buckeye Farmerettes . Garden club to meet

Buckeye Farmerettes 4-H club will meet Saturday at the home of Mrs. Kenneth McDougal Fenner road.

Girls wishing to join may attend the meeting. Those unable to attend are invited to telephone Mrs. McDougal or Mrs. Mac Trauger.

Plymouth Garden club will meet at 7:30 p. m. tomorrow at McQuate's Furniture store to make Christmas arrangements.

Afterwards members will go to the home of Mrs. D. Cunningham for a business and social meeting.

Strohengers' dragon wins Hallowe'en prize here

A dragon and Benjamin Franklin with his kite shared the grand prize in the annual Hallowe'en parade Oct. 30. Judges, Mrs. Harold Ross, H. James Ross and R. Earl McQuate, chose the two winners at the end of the judging.

Benjamin Franklin, who was Roberta Meiser, and the kite, who was Susan Root, were the winners in the most original costume in the fifth to eighth grade entry. They are the daughters of Police Chief and Mrs. Robert Meiser and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Root.

The dragon which was the winner in the adult entry for the most original costume was composed of the four members of the C. Todd Strohenger family, Mr. Strohenger, Mrs. Strohenger, who was the dragon's head; their daughter, Susan, Ann, and son, Thomas.

In the pre-school group Bonnie Enderby and Gloria Baker took first and second place for the most original costumes.

Carney Jean Arnold and Kay Brown were the winners for the funniest and Blana Baker and Linda Osborn won for their space costumes.

For the first through fourth grade group, Denise Hollenbaugh won first place for the most original. Holly and Polly Cornell were the second place winners.

Joe Lasch and Beth Ann Taulbee were the first and second place winners for the funniest, and the space costume winners were Robert McKown and Janean Lewis.

Terry Bauer was the second place winner for the most original costume in the fifth to eighth grade group.

Janet Broderick and Terry Henry took first place for their Raggedy, Ann costumes in the funniest category and Thomas Root and James Cutright were second.

Sharon Levering was first for her queen of outer space costume.

Judges awarded a special prize to Sharon and Marcia Baker in this age group for their scare crow costumes.

In the oldest age entry second place for the most original costume went to Dick Adams, Craig Forquer and their hunting dog, Red.

Mrs. Fred Lewis and Mrs. Joseph Lisch took first place for the funniest costumes. Second place winners were Mrs. William Adams and Mrs. William Forquer.

The veteran of Plymouth's annual Hallowe'en costume contest, Mrs. Roy Carter, took first place for the funniest costume as a teen age idol. Second place in this category went to Janet Fazio.

Chest rheumy, and roomy, too!
Failure of the community chest drive to achieve its goal of $4,000 by the cut-off date prompted directors yesterday to extend it for one week.
"Only 19 businesses have contributed so far, and only half of the number of residential contributors we normally expect to participate," the directors said.
