A 19-year-old Capital university student who lives in Shelby route 3 was seriously injured in a head-on crash on Route 61 at Morse's hill early Saturday.

Raymond E. Lynch, a 1961 graduate of Plymouth High school, is under treatment in University hospital, Columbus, for injuries to his nose and jaw, his left leg.

His Vaux Hall sedan collided with a car driven by Walter E. Dewitt, 27, 59 Portner street, Plymouth, at 1:35 a. m. Saturday.

State highway patrolmen who investigated, reported DeWitt sought to overtake another car driven by Myles Wilson at the crest of the hill and struck Lynch's car.

Lynch had completed a social visit in Plymouth and was returning home. He was driving south.

DeWitt was treated at Shelby Memorial hospital for abrasions of the left ear. Lynch was admitted at Shelby and then transferred to Columbus.

Automobile repair experts who removed the Lynch car said if he had been restrained by a safety belt he would probably not have survived the crash.

DeWitt was cited to Shelby Municipal court on a charge of reckless operation, Plymouth police reported.

DRIVER of this car received only slight injuries but got a summons for a traffic violation. Police said he was driving recklessly in wrong lane.

BPA rebuffs mayor, seeking discharge of Moser as superintendent of utilities

Abolition of the $5,000-a-year post of assistant superintendent of utilities was recommended to village council by the board of public affairs Monday night, during a heated session in which Mayor William Fazio demanded the board fire its superintendent.

Fazio read a letter in which he urged the board to:

1. abolish the post of assistant superintendent.
2. relieve the superintendent and offer him a demotion an hourly rate.
3. combine the water, electric and street departments under the incumbent street supervisor, William Forquer.
4. retain the present electrician's assistant, Thomas Baker, at $180 hourly.

Russell J. Moser, superintendent, asked Fazio to specify his charges of poor performance of duties, which Fazio offered to do "in this public meeting, but for your protection I didn't want to do that."

At this point Trustee D. Guy Cunningham, Sr., asked Fazio to state under what statute he has the "authority to come in here and tell the board of public affairs whom to hire or fire."

FAZIO RETORTED THAT as mayor he has the proper authority and demanded action on his recommendations on the spot with notice of the action to be communicated to him Tuesday morning.

Later he returned to the meeting brandishing a copy of the Revised Code of Ohio, indicating a statute which says the mayor of a municipal corporation has a general supervision of all offices and functions encompassed by Section 7 of the Code.

Councilman Donald E. Akers, an attorney who was present as observer, read from the code that authority resides in the legislative body of the village, although the mayor may make recommendations as he wishes.

What brought the long-simmering situation to a head was an argument Thursday between Moser and Richard Stover, the assistant, in which Moser is reputed to have told Stover "to get out and stay out and don't come back." Stover claims Moser immediately changed all locks at the water plant.

Board members pointed out Moser has the power to suspend Stover but not fire him.

IF THE VILLAGE COUNCIL acts favorably on the recommendation tonight, Stover will get 30 days of notice, two weeks of accumulated leave, and a favorably recommendation for further employment from the board.

Trustee Karl S. Lindauer told Stover the board had been considering abolishment of the post of assistant superintendent, which it created Jan. 8, 1960, as a means of giving Stover a title and a salary instead of an hourly rate of pay which was costing the village between $5,300 and $5,400 annually, as an economy measure.

Edward O. Ramsey, representing Raymond L. Brooks, was told the board will cooperate in laying of water service to a 28-lot allotment in West Broadway where Brooks plans to develop housing.

Shelby football star tackled by speed cop

Russell J. Hepner, 24, Shelby, was fined $10 and costs on a speeding charge in the mayor's court this week.

He was apprehended driving at a rate of 60 mph in a 35 mph zone.

Walter Seel and Francis

Briggs were charged with reckless operation and fined $25 and costs. They were arrested by Police Chief Robert L. Meiser in front of his own home in Plymouth street Sunday afternoon.

This is their second offense.

Clerk's office closed

Office of the village clerk will be closed today, Thursday.

It will remain open all day Saturday to receive payment of utility bills.

HALCYON DAYS

OLD MAN MOSE: After Tuesday, civil strife may begin in earnest and gynecocrats may let off steam.

GRANDDADDY LONG LEGS: The canning season is here. Unc, why not do just that to that? Although you have pictures of eight youngsters with a merry look in their eyes, no doubt yearning to get back to learning, ochlocracy never in their young minds.

TIMELY SUGGESTION: All farmers attending Plymouth Drive-in movie Aug. 10 may see reason of abnormal lock-stock-barrel attack on their corn fields. No joke intended.

SALESMAN TRACY: Good night, Unc, why waste your time writing such stuff. You could just as well enjoy the atmosphere of Bob's Cafe, while parking your young chums at Cornell's, where malteds are at their best and join their worth-while birthday club.

ANNOUNCEMENT: Uncle Bill's corner will shortly return to the B&C Hardware, next door, to the Brunswick Grill, where you should get your typewriter in good shape so it will be up snuff when school starts. Never be a doubter without a reason.

Old Timer says stars for Hall quite few

Just about the only aspect of American life that the Russians don't claim they invented or hold title to the place of invention (although the Soviets do say they had something like it going before the 1870's) is baseball and Cooperstown, N. Y., where this week two more join the Hall of Fame.

One of them is Elmer Fleck, a Cleveland outfielder. The other is Sam Rice, a Washington fly-catcher.

Each of them doubtless deserves the honor. But it strikes us that selectors are coming pretty close to scraping the barrel by choosing the likes of Fleck and Rice at this late date.

The emphasis is on the final phrase. If Fleck and Rice were so all-fired hot, says the son and heir, how come it took 'em so long to get in?

There follows a patient explanation of the rules of selection and the circumstances surrounding the establishment of the Hall of Fame, which has not always been with us.

History bores the younger generation. S & H (who has absolutely nothing to do with green stamps) queries, "So who'll make it of the present players?"

It's a good question. The answer isn't so tough. Not by our book.

FIRST AND FOREMOST, Musial of St. Louis. Any argument?

Second, Warren Spahn of Milwaukee, who'll not appear in the annual exhibition game at Cooperstown this week because he has injured an elbow.

Third, Lawrence Peter Berra of the New York Americans (we abstain from the use of that horrid word Y----- out of deference to the ears and hearts of confirmed Y-----desters).

Fourth, Early Wynn, because he has won 300 games and is likely to be the last pitcher to do so.

Fifth, Willie Mays of San Francisco, probably the best player in baseball today.

Sixth, Al Kaline of Detroit, certainly the most consistent outfielder in baseball.

BEYOND THIS SEXTET, who else stands a chance?

Mantle? Not unless he controls his injuries and puts in a couple of solid seasons with big averages. Ford? A possibility, but he needs three or four more good seasons. He's pretty long in the tooth. Maris? Don't be silly.

And in the National League? Drysdale? Robinson? Pinson? Mazeroski? Banks? Wills?

The doughty St. Louis shortstop could make it if he racks up five or six seasons of solid belting to match what he's done so far this season.

But of the other 464 players in the two major leagues, the Old Timer sees no chance of enrollment in the Hall of Fame. Do we hear a differing opinion.

"But she's just a baby..."

... about to take on all the responsibilities of womanhood.

In the past few years, the number of marriages between the ages of 15 and 19 has increased overwhelmingly. Too often juvenile marriage statistics are immediately followed, however, by an increase in divorces, too.

You may find yourselves in the position of having a son or daughter who marries very young. The best thing you can do is to try to make the marriage a success. Teach your youngsters, through strong religious Faith, that marriage is a permanent union based on two people united and working together. Faith is a powerful guide for your children and comforter through growing up or growing older. This week go with your children to the Church or Synagogue of your choice.

Nancy Silliman weds Jon Milliron in ceremony in church at Delphi

Miss Nancy Silliman became the bride of Jon Michael Milliron in Delphi Methodist church July 19.

The bride is the daughter of the Walter Sillimans, Willard route 1. The bridegroom is the son of the Wayne Millirons, 62 Third street, Shelby.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a sheath gown of ballerina length fashioned of antique white satin with scoop neckline and short cap sleeves. The full overskirt was accented with a bow in front.

An elbow-length veil of imported French illusion fell from a crystal and pearl crown. She carried a loose colonial bouquet of yellow rosebuds, clustered about a yellow and white corsage and entwined with ivy and stephanotis.

THE BRIDE'S NIECE, LORI Garrett, Warner Robins, Ga., was flower girl, in yellow silk organza. She carried yellow roses in a white basket.

Rodney Siedel, Shelby, was ring bearer.

William M. Vincent, Columbus, his brother-in-law, was the bridegroom's best man.

Paul Siedel, Shelby route 1, the bride's brother-in-law, and Gary Milliron, Shelby, the bridegroom's brother, ushered.

The Rev. Merle Wolf read the vows in a setting of white carnations lighted by candelabra on the altar.

Mrs. Alvin Garrett, organist, accompanied Mrs. Carl Blackert, vocalist.

A RECEPTION IN THE church rooms followed the ceremony. Janice Seidel, Lois Garrett, Beth Milliron and Mary Lynne Vincent, sisters of the bride and bridegroom, served from a four-tiered wedding cake.

The young couple is now at home at 65 South Gamble street, Shelby.

She is a 1958 graduate of Greenwich High school who graduated from the Ohio State school of cosmetology in 1959. She is now engaged in that calling. He is a 1957 graduate of Shelby High school engaged

Dr. Johnson wed in Shelby ceremony

Dr. Roy J. Johnson, Jr., took Miss Mary Ellen Bodenbender as his bride July 27 before the Rev. Dr. Stanley Shoemaker and members of their immediate families in the chapel of the Shelby Methodist church.

A prelude of nuptial music was played by Mrs. Shoemaker.

The bride wore a street-length white lace dress with a rose pattern. The straight skirt's edge was scalloped. The fitted bodice was designed with a high neckline. A collar of several tiers fell to just above the short sleeves.

She wore a mantilla of white lace in the same rose pattern, the scalloped edges of which fell in folds to her waist back.

Her bridal bouquet was an arrangement of white rosebuds with white carnations and ivy leaves on a small white ribbon.

JO ANN BODENBENDER was her sister's maid of honor. She wore a light blue street-length dress of light brocade. The sleeveless bodice was fitted with a scooped neckline over the skirt. She wore a small matching headband with a nose-tip veil.

Her flowers were a corsage of white carnations.

The bridegroom's father was his best man.

Mrs. Johnson wore a dark blue lace dress with small brilliant buttons down the front. Her matching hat was a petal design in velvet and satin. She wore a corsage of white carnations.

After the ceremony, the wedding party dined in the Brickley hotel, Shelby. A reception in honor of the newly married couple will take place after their return from Florida.

The new Mrs. Johnson is the daughter of James F. Bodenbender and the late Mrs. Bodenbender of Bryan. She graduated from Bryan High school in 1954 and from Toledo hospital school of nursing in 1957. She has attended Toledo, Michigan and Ohio State universities. Recently she has been a private duty nurse in Columbus.

Dr. Johnson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy J. Johnson, Sr., West Broadway street. He is now practicing physician in Shelby, where they will make their home.

He attended Plymouth and Shelby schools, graduated cum laude from Columbus academy and received a bachelor of science degree with honors from Capital University, Columbus. He is a graduate of the Ohio State medical school and did his internship at Flower hospital, Toledo. He is a member of Nu Sigma Nu medical fraternity.

All-Jersey milk . . . a naturally better drink any time

Morning, noon and night, there's no better drink for children than All-Jersey milk. World preferred for extra-rich flavor, All-Jersey supplies more protein, calcium and phosphorus than any other natural milk, of the same cream content.

It provides these essential nutrients in a form more easily assimilated than the same elements in other foods. Naturally rich in vitamins. All-Jersey contains an extra-liberal amount of energy units.

While some beverages dull the appetite and are not helpful to teeth, All-Jersey actually builds stronger teeth, muscles, bones and tissue.

With meals or snacks, serve extra-nutritious All-Jersey milk. Costs no more than ordinary milk.
