

For the law and its enforcement

Ohioans this year choose their local law enforcement officers.

Each of the 88 counties will elect a prosecutor of the common pleas and a sheriff.

As the urban sprawl progresses, crime increases. The public has a right to expect of its law enforcement officers the highest ideals of professionalism, of strict adherence to the law, of careful attention to the rights of individuals and of a reasonable attention to the costs of providing these services, to the end that economies that do not sacrifice justice are enforced.

Generally, this newspaper has always supported the notion that where and when an incumbent seeks reelection, if he has performed satisfactorily, he is entitled to reelection, unless his opponent shows by cogent argument and past record that he is better qualified for the job.

Which is why we urge Richland countians to support the candidacy of Thomas Weikel for sheriff and William McKee for prosecutor.

Neither's opponent has demonstrated to us any reasonable argument to turn them out. Neither's opponent seems so well qualified by training and experience as to be preferred over the incumbent.

And which is why we urge Huron countians to support the candidacy of John Borgia for sheriff. He has been a good sheriff, ever since he succeeded Mrs. Harry Broome in the post (and she was accorded it out of courtesy upon the death of her husband). His opponent resorted to the worst kind of smear tactics, not one of which has been proved to our satisfaction. If he has ever been here, he certainly didn't turn up at the newspaper office, the existence of which he had to be reminded by his opponent, the incumbent sheriff.

And which is why we urge Huron countians to support Michael Fegen for prosecutor. He has said his opponent, who acceded to the post when the carpenter, William Owens, suddenly resigned, has caused the expenditures of the office to quadruple, a fact the incumbent does not deny, though there is some quibble about whether the costs are three times or four times higher, and that, now that Ohio has changed the law so that marijuana possession is no longer a felony and may be dealt with in the Norwalk Municipal court, the prosecutor need not have such a large staff. In the absence of convincing arguments to the contrary, we urge Fegen's election.

Huron countians have another choice in law enforcement. It is the judgeship of the probate and juvenile courts.

The incumbent, also a carpenter, who was appointed when the elected judge advanced to the common pleas bench, has shown signs that he lacks the stability and common sense we have a right to expect of a judge. He is unmarried, has no intimate family and can hardly be expected to be sensitive to the needs of juveniles and their families. He has resorted to harsh and, so far as we are concerned, having seen some written proof and been told by reputable persons about other such proof, inaccurate and unfair charges against his opponent, a man of sterling character, 29 years experience in the law in Huron county, one who has dedicated his life to the service of his community, a family man who has been into the valley of the shadow with his own children. His name is Joseph F. Dush.

Joe Dush served with high distinction as solicitor in Plymouth until he was summarily dismissed by functionaries who have since themselves been discredited. He is a man of honor, great candor, when it is called for, and discreet in his professional and private life. He is a scholar, a collector of Ohioana, a history buff and a darned good lawyer who is deserving of the respect, confidence and support of every registered voter in Huron county.

Court continues suits vs. village

Village council on Sept. 5 heard routine reports from Councilman Hubert V. Akers and Solicitor Robert A. McKown. And it also took some action honoring Councilman Toy Patton.

Akers reported the Policemen's hall sold $1,245 in tickets, and with only one bill not received, there is a total of $947.52

Sister of Nead dies in Florida

Sister of George Nead, who lives in West High street and serves as custodian of Plymouth Elementary school, Mrs. Mildred Shepherd, 58, Tampa, Fla., died in a hospital there Oct. 5 of a brief illness.

Born in New London, she lived in Greenwich and Dayton before moving to Florida 22 years ago.

She is also survived by two daughters, Mrs. Grace Ellison and Mrs. Betty Rockwell, both of Tampa; four sons, Robert, Dayton; Richard and Harold, both of Raeford, N. C.; and Larry, Phoenix, Ariz.; 15 grandchildren and 10 great-grandchildren.

The Rev. Jim Glien conducted graveside services in Greenwich Sunday at 2 p. m.

Liquor permit in New Haven

A beer and wine carry-over permit has been issued to Big Boy, Deli at Routes 224 and 61, New Haven, by the Ohio Liquor Control board.

The combined fast food restaurant and grocery store is owned by F. Robert Hartenstein, Willard.

PEA elects music teacher as president

Miss Janeane Cunningham, vocal music teacher, has been elected president of Plymouth Education Association, the teachers' union.

Karl Pfaff, 3rd, high school teacher, is president-elect. Miss Joyce Sloan, third grade teacher, secretary. Mrs. Charles Briggs, head teacher in Plymouth Elementary school, is treasurer.

Mrs. Margaret Sloan heads the membership committee, Miss Linda Clipse the social committee, Finn Laursen the professional rights committee, Mrs. Wayne H. Strine the human relations committee, Mrs. Guy Flora, the communication committee, Mrs. Bernice Campbell the political action committee.

Barnes quits after 40 years

After nearly 41 years in the employ of the Fator-Root-Health Co., Clarence Barnes has retired. He took time out during World War II to serve in the Army.

"If I had a quarter for everybody who's asked me what I'm going to do with myself, I'd be a rich man," Barnes laughed last week. "But I'll manage to find things to do."

Huston pleads not guilty

Pre-trial conference will be conducted before Judge Robert Smith in Huron county common pleas court Oct. 25 in the case of James Huston, 45, Shiloh, who pleaded not guilty to theft of a school bell when arraigned Oct. 4.

The mayor reported Sgt. James Refrett is on sick leave because of an injury to an ear when he was hit by a bar stool in a brawl.

Patron, at the suggestion of Councilman John Ray, was appointed temporary president pro tempore of the council during the absence of Councilman James L. Jacobs, Sr., who is vacationing.

McKown briefly reported on a pre-trial hearing in Cleveland Monday concerning the pending suit of American Empire Insurance Co. against the village and Arken. The case has been continued until the latter part of January, 1977, with the hope that the sewer contract will be completed.

Jail rated 100 per cent

The village jail received a perfect score Tuesday morning.

The annual inspection conducted by the Huron county grand jury, headed by Charles Perry, rated all aspects of the facility "very satisfactory."

USPO names Mansfielder acting chief

Larry Dunson is officer-in-charge of Plymouth post office.

With six years of experience as a postal employee, this alumnus of Senior High in Mansfield is married and the father of three boys, Christopher, nine; Bryan, seven, and Joseph, one.

He will serve a maximum of 120 days and is not eligible to be appointed postmaster.

Red faces Crestline tomorrow

Big Red footballers go to Crestline tomorrow with some optimism.

They think they've finally turned it around. An upset victory over Loudonville, defending champion of the Johnny Appleseed conference, is the goal.

Plymouth will have its work cut out for it against the Bulldogs, who have an identical record of 2-1.

Crestline has and-3. Crestline has and-3. Crestline has and-3.

Girl cured of apnea, now home

Born June 29 in Shelby Memorial hospital, Shandra Barney hasn't had an easy time of it since.

But she's home now, miraculously cured of severe sleep apnea, otherwise called crib death.

Two weeks after she was born to the Handy Barneys, she stopped breathing. She was taken to Columbus for examination and then flown to Leland Stanford, Jr., university, Palo Alto, Cal., for study and treatment.

Her grandparents, the La Vaughn Isaacs, Plymouth, say the girl may be the first child to suffer the affliction.

An account has been opened in Peoples National bank to defray the monstrous expenses of the child's treatment. Donations are welcome.

No turkey dinner!

Mothers' club to drop event started in 1954

A 22-year-old fixture in Plymouth Elementary school will die next month, Supt. John Fazzini told Plymouth Board of Education Monday night.

The annual Mothers' club turkey supper will not be served this year. Reason: "Nobody wants to work on it."

The first dinner was served in November of 1954, when Mrs. Charles L. Hannum, wife of a doctor then practicing here,

Rhodes to call here Monday

Gov. James A. Rhodes will be in Plymouth Monday at 10:45 a. m.

He will be accompanied by Paul Pfeifer of Bucyrus, GOP candidate who opposes the incumbent, Sen. Gene Slagle (D-Galion) for the Ohio Senate.

They will travel by bus and will stop in the Public Square. Last governor of Ohio to visit Plymouth was Michael V. DeSalle, who was engaged as speaker at a banquet of the Chamber of Commerce when that organization was operative here.

was president of the Mothers' club. Since then the club has raised thousands of dollars to pay for equipment and materials for which the board of education had no funds.

Approval was given to selling projects by four groups of pupils, even through member R. Harold Mack, a prominent retailer himself, said. "Retailers pay taxes and shouldn't be compelled to compete with pupils."

Nevertheless, he voted to support the approval. Shiloh pupils will sell magazine subscriptions and seeds. Plymouth Elementary pupils will sell seeds. Tenth graders will sell stationery. Athletic Boosters will sell candy bars. Vocal music pupils will sell light bulbs. Instrumental music pupils will sell a general purpose cleaner. Future Homemakers of America will sell hair shampoo and Future Farmers of America citrus fruit. FAZZINI REPORTED there are 19 rolls of link fence, totalling 1,140 linear feet, available. Park board had asked the board to sell it some fence so that the athletic field in the park can be enclosed.

The park board said its funds are exhausted for this year and requested a deferred payment plan. Mack said, "We would be totally wrong if we charged for this, since the park board has provided so many services to the schools for free."

The buildings and grounds committee, comprised of the Rev. Arthur Hamman, who was absent, and Frank R. Garber, will study the request and report at the next regular meeting, Nov. 15.

The board will meet in special session Oct. 27 to consider what use shall be made of Charles Rhine armory, which was deemed to it on Oct. 7, and whether to exercise its option on 7.6 acres of land northwest of the armory site, at $3,000 an acre, to drop it or to extend it.

Fazzini said the administration is considering recommending the armory be used for administrative offices, for vocational agriculture ser-VICES, for vehicular storage and for classroom. PROCEDURES BY which pupils and teachers may file grievances under Title IX of the education amendments, by which schools participating in federal funding may not discriminate against any person by reason of his or her sex, were approved without dissent.

Fazzini was named compliance officer. Mrs. Carmela Lawrence, who has four years of experience as a library aide at Shiloh, was hired for six hours a week, on time card, for the same role at Plymouth High school. She replaces Wayne H. Strine, former principal of the high school and of the junior high school, now retired, who found personal commitments interfered with his service. Pay is $2.60 an hour.

Participation in Title IV funding was approved. The schools will actively seek funds to assist with library acquisition, purchase of other teaching equipment and guidance counselling materials. They do not now plan to seek funding for innovative programs.

Thomas Reynolds and Richard Hursh were approved as pupil workers at $1.80 an hour.

Car wash set

Class of 1978 will stage a car wash at Plymouth High school Saturday from 10 a. m. Price is $1.25 for simple wash, $1.75 to wash and clean interior.

Here's slate this week —

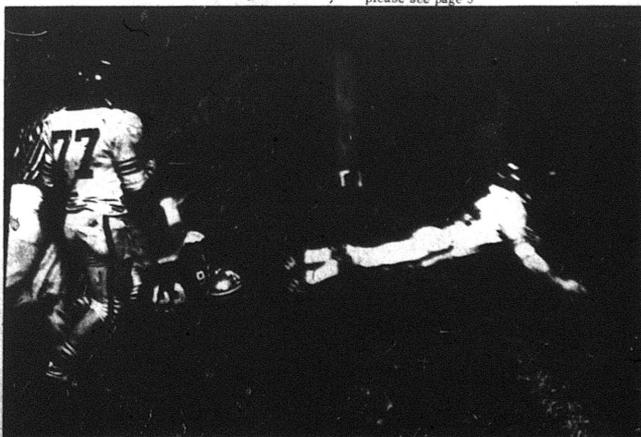

Here's schoolboy football slate for this week: TOMORROW

Black River at Monroeville; New London at Western Reserve.

St. Paul's at South Central; Plymouth at Crestline; Clear Fork at Crestview;

Ontario at Loudonville. SATURDAY

Fredericktown at Lexington; Mapleton at Edison.

The winner!

Prettiest sight so far this season for eyes of Big Red fans was this one: Mike Messer, in his first year in Plymouth livery, falling into the end zone with the winning touchdown against Loudonville in Homecoming game here Friday.

Amy Seitz bride here

Miss Amy Therese Seitz, a 1975 alumna of Plymouth High school, was married Oct. 2 at 10:30 a. m. in St. Joseph's Roman Catholic church to Richard Eugene Russell. The Revs. George M. Koerber, pastor of the church, and David A. Genszler, pastor of Mr. Hope Lutheran church, Shiloh, performed the double ring ceremony in a setting of pink, blue and yellow blossoms.

The bride, daughter of the Lloyd Seitzes, Shelby route 5, was given in marriage by her father. She was attired in a princess line gown of organza with a bib effect front and back of Cluny lace trimmed with a ruffle. The long, fitted sleeves were of Cluny lace. The gown was hemmed with the same lace and extended into a chapel-length train. A fingertip veil of Illusion fell from a Camelot cap of lace and seed pearls. She carried white carnations, blue-tipped chrysanthemums, blue daisies and baby's breath.

The bride's cousin, Miss Susan Phillips, Shelly, maid of honor, and the bridegroom's sisters, Dianne J. and Karen E. Bridegmaids, were attired in knit gowns in vibrant teal, styled with Empire bodice trimmed with lace. Long, full sleeves with wide cuffs trimmed with lace. They carried blue carnations, white, pink and yellow daisies, yellow chrysanthemums and baby's breath.

David P. Egner, Shiloh, who best man, Daniel Seitz, brother of the bride, and Edward Russell, cousin of the bridegroom, ushered.

A reception took place in the church rooms. Mrs. Ronald Lybarger, Mrs. Polly Cornell Deskins, Miss Barbara Rettig and Miss Anita L. Riedlinger, all of Plymouth, and Miss Jane Studer, cousin of the bride, assisted guests.

The bride is employed by Firestone Tire & Rubber Co. in Shelly, where they will live.

Mike Messer, No. 44, was leading ground gainer for Big Red Friday.

Red iars Redbirds; long loss skein ends

A gallant Plymouth team that wouldn't quit twice came from behind in Mary Fete park Friday night and before a Homecoming crowd, upset mighty Loudonville in Johnny Appleseed conference play.

The score was 14 to 9. It was the first Homecoming victory and the first league win since Nov. 8, 1972, when Plymouth defeated Clear Fork, 8 to 0. Plymouth had lost 23 consecutive league games until Friday night.

Loudonville won the statistical battle, but what counts is what's on the scoreboard. And Plymouth put it there by capitalizing on Redbird mistakes and by refusing to make some of its own. This was errorless football, for the most part. Plymouth threw one pass interception, halting Red drive at the Loudonville 13 with the first possession in the third period, and sustained a major penalty when Steve Endicott was fined for a late hit on Loudonville's ultimate possession of the game, when with less than two minutes left the Redbirds were driving for what would have been the winning score.

As it was, after five minutes 23 seconds of ball possession, the Redbirds ran out of gas and downs at the Plymouth 10. Red Conway passed on a screen down the south sideline to Big Close. He gained six yards, not enough for first down, and Plymouth took over with 22 seconds remaining.

THE VISITORS DREW first blood when, in the first quarter, after stopping Plymouth's opening series for nine yards, they drove 52 yards in 10 plays, from their 48, where they took Kevin Finnegan's 11-yard punt, to go ahead. The foot of Scott Browning produced three points with a 38-yard field goal from the Plymouth 18.

The clock read 6:23. Plymouth was unable to advance with the kickoff and Finnegan again punted, this time 28 yards to the Loudonville 17.

On the first play, Close fumbled. Jim Wallace recovered for the Big Red and Plymouth went to work.

It took one play. Mike Messer hit right tackle, was momentarily held up by a loose tackle, then broke loose down the north sideline for 44 yards and the go ahead touchdown. Wallace kicked the PAT and Plymouth was in the win.

Loudonville, retaliated with a vengeance. The Redbirds mounted a drive with the kickoff that carried to the Plymouth nine before Close fumbled a second time. Marty McKenzie fell on it and the Big Red breathed a bit easier. Plymouth got out to its 49 before Finnegan was compelled to punt again. THIS TIME THE REDBIRDS were not to be denied. They stayed on the ground, save for one play at the Plymouth 33, and marched 82 yards in 14 plays to produce a touchdown at 4:09 of the half. Browning burst home from two yards out. Conway's deception on the option play to the right racked up 17 yards to give the Redbirds first down at the Plymouth 20. Browning's kick for PAT was wide.

Plymouth moved deep into Redbird territory with its first possession of the second half, only to suffer interception on third down from the Loudonville 27. Clark Gaines nailed Tom Miller's throw. Jack Thatcher was detected in a clip and a penalty of half the distance to the goal set the Redbirds back to their seven. Conway got 12, Browning two through right tackle and then Conway rolled out to his left. Here he was hit hard, fumbled and lost possession.

Plymouth wasted no time.

MILLER CALLED ON Messer for four shots and the stocky 10th grader produced. He got six yards on each of three tries and 10 on the final burst into the end zone. Wallace again kicked the PAT.

Loudonville did not quit. The Redbirds came right back with a drive of 58 yards to the Plymouth 37, a drive that penetrated to the Red 13 only to sustain two major penalties. On fourth down, Charlie Mack intercepted Conway's pass at his 20 and ran it out to the Loudonville 46.

Plymouth made a serious effort to put the game out of reach with the next drive, penetrating to the Loudonville 25 before Les Bauer smeared Miller in an effort to pass. The loss set Plymouth back to the Loudonville 32, where a short punt rolled out at the Loudonville 17.

Three plays later, Bob Combs recovered Conway's second fumble.

It appeared Plymouth was home free. BUT IT WAS NOT TO BE.

Thatcher blocked John Ross's punt at the Loudonville 17.

Here're scores

Here're scores of last week:
 Monroeville 34, South Central 0;

 Clear Fork 28, Crestline 14.

Vikings to play

Vikings, sixth grade basketballers, get their first test tonight. They will play Springmill in the high school at 6:30 p. m. onville 31. The Redbirds recovered at their 46 and drove deep to the Plymouth 10 before failing to make first down on Conway's pass to Close.

This was a quality performance by a team that was outmanned and outrun from the start. Loudonville outgained Plymouth on the ground, 284 to 133 yards, and through the air, 49 to 43 yards.

But the Redbird fumbles cost them victory.

NOTICE TO HURON COUNTY TAXPAYERS

Notice is hereby given that Huron County Taxpayers wanting to know their new 1976 tentative Real Estate Tax Valuation may call the Huron County Auditor's Real Estate Assessment Office, located in the basement of the Huron County Court House, at the following numbers: 668-8643, 668-8464 or 668-4304 for that information only. Any taxpayer wanting more information than just the tax valuation would necessitate the taxpayer to appear in person at the above mentioned office.

These values are only tentative at this time, as formal, and final approval of the State Board of Tax Appeals is required before the new valuations are considered final.

For those taxpayers who are to appear in person, the following dates and times have been established.

For Agricultural taxpayers -- October 18 to and including October 23, 1976 between 8:30 a. m. and 4 p. m.

For Residential and Commercial taxpayers -- October 25 to and including October 30, 1976 between 8:30 a. m. and 4 p. m.

Working together is the only way.

Keeping electricity coming is a big job.

It's more than just taking care of the day-to-day problems of supplying power. It's also making sure we have enough fuel and facilities to keep up with the increasing needs of our area.

And the needs are growing. For instance, our electric requirements are almost double what they were ten short years ago. Simply stated, electric power continues to be called upon to do more and more things in our work and in our homes.

Keeping up with this increase is tough. It requires the best of everyone. It also requires planning, new facilities, and unfortunately, a lot of money.

And frankly, we can't do it all by ourselves.

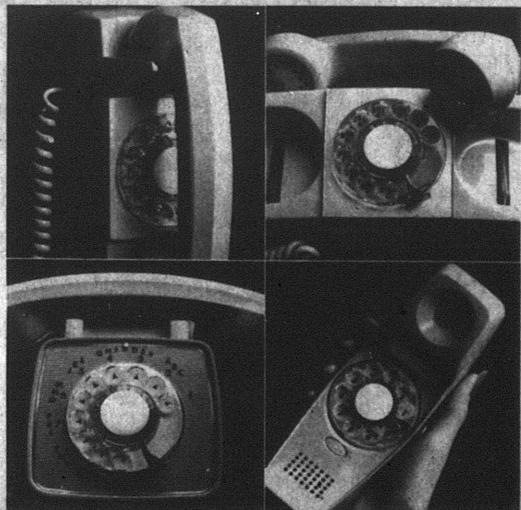

That's why we need your cooperation. You can help by using electricity wisely. And by your understanding of the joint responsibility for supplying our future electric needs. It's a critical ingredient in our power partnership.

We know that asking you to work with us is asking a lot. But when you get right down to it, working together is the only way.

Extension phones.

They're well within your reach.

Hitchhailing it from your living room or bedroom to answer the phone in your kitchen is inconvenient, inefficient and a pretty amusing sight to onlookers.

So why not add an extension or two? It's easy enough to arrange. Just call your General Telephone business office.

We've got desk phones, wall phones, decorator and pushbutton phones. In plenty of styles and colors. Which makes our extensions as easy to look at as they are to get at. GTE GENERAL TELEPHONE

Cranberry conserve just fine as special holiday gift

By AUNT LIZ
The last couple of weeks have certainly been filled with little surprises, yes? Lusting is fast becoming a real sport. And what is to one person a real joke about another American can really backfire. Americans should be kinder to one another, because when it comes right smack down to it, we need each other.

What really seemed to shock a lot of people is that they did not expect people for whom they had great respect to be like most of us, just ordinary Americans. Somehow Americans have always had leaders they wanted to look up to with respect. Boy, the last couple of years have really been blah, a real bad scene. For the last couple of weeks, after reading two articles in a weekly paper written by a young Canadian on the relationship of readers of hard porn and the crimes they rush out to commit, I have been making a little survey of just what magazines are being purchased in our happy rural-like community. You win, pornos go our immediately. You can hardly blame this vast circulation on hardened criminals, members of the Mafia, or real kooks. We really do not have this element. What we have are just ordinary, good people, most of whom go to church each Sunday and do their part in the community.

So who is buying them all up? Well, me for one. I bought a Playboy a few months ago because it had a political article I wanted to read. November's will be a no-no. It has already had enough said about it.

Censorship is the one thing I do not believe in, but perhaps what people should learn is what the heck the word "discretion" means. Some apparently have never heard it before.

WHILE EVERYONE was lusting around a few weeks ago, we experimented with a new recipe. It is cheap and takes about an hour to compose and will make a great Thanksgiving gift.

It is for cranberry conserve. This recipe will make six half pint jars. We doubled it, and it came out to an even dozen, which was great because I went out and bought some really pretty jelly jars for it.

Clean up a pound of fresh cranberries. Picking those little stems off can be a real chore and it is really amazing that a package comes so cleaned up. Measure a cup and a half of water. Put the cranberries in it. Use a fairly decent size sauce pan.

Then grate the rind of one lemon and one orange, squeeze out the juice of each. Be sure you remove any seeds. Here you put in two and a half cups of sugar. Do this in a bowl, then add a cup of seeded raisins. I bought the dark ones because though they would somehow match the cranberries better and such reasoning has absolutely no intellectual basis at all. (I added half a cup of brandy to the raisins before mixing with the sugar). Then add a medium size apple, peeled, cored and chopped into small pieces.

Once all this is ready, start cooking the cranberries until the skins begin to pop, which you can bear. Then add the other stuff. Bring to a boil, and boil while stirring a little for about 15 minutes. The cranberries and apples will cause it all to start to jell. When you remove from the stove, toss in a cup of walnut pieces. This we forgot to do because we were entertaining a friend while making this. The nuts are an added touch.

Pour into little jars and cover with paraffin.

The Dennis Howalds, Parma Hts., were dinner guests over the weekend of her parents, the Charles E. Pritchards, 150 West Broadway. The Pritchards went to Ada Oct. 6 to dine with their son, C. Edward Pritchard, Jr., a student in Ohio Northern university, and with Roger E. Stone, formerly of Shiloh, also a student there. Mr. Pritchard was defeated at billiards by Mr. Stone.

ALWAYS SHOP AT HOME FIRST

Cars or Horses

Sometimes a person may think it would be easier on the nerves to have a horse but you have to spend money on them too. When the need for a really good car comes to your household, one that you can depend on, we have some used ones that can fill that need. We take good care of our cars and our customers. Most of our used cars were sold new by us and serviced in our shop. We frequently have very low mileage cream puffs that anyone would be proud to own. When you are shopping for a used car it pays to look at all the lots before you make a decision as to where you will spend your money and you will find that we stand tall among them all. You will also find our prices are as good as you will find anywhere. Want to go new? With our Buicks, Pontiacs, Dodge cars and trucks we can fill your need for any type, size or style you have in mind. We do it better at Schaffer Motor Sales. adv.
