

For reason and justice

The issue in the national campaign this year is the same as anywhere else. Only one of the candidates wants to touch it with a 10-foot pole.

It is this: Who'll get the free ride, who'll pay for it, and how much will it cost?

One candidate for the highest office in the land flashes his dental work and promises a program that, let's face it, will cost a heck of a lot of money. Money he admits we don't have right now. Money he says we won't get UNLESS we adopt his plan to spend borrowed money to create more jobs, none of which, he further admits, will be permanent. And he promises a balanced budget by the end of his term.

If he can do that, he's a better man than Franklin Roosevelt, John Kennedy and Lyndon Johnson rolled up into one.

His opponent, when he can get his foot out of his mouth, promises less because, by experience, he knows that no program proposed by the president can be enacted without the approval of the Congress.

If you're interested in keeping free-loaders off the gravy train by building jobs in private industry for them to work at, if they'll work, and restraining the Congress from going hog wild with money we don't have and see no probable chance of coming by in the immediate future, vote for Gerald R. Ford.

We supported Howard Metzenbaum in his contest with John Glenn. We thought he was the superior candidate. Now we think he's overmatched. Which is why we support Robert Taft, Jr., for the U. S. Senate.

We've disagreed with John Ashbrook on a number of matters. He's a fiscal conservative and a social liberal. His opponent has flailed away with strong rhetoric and some statistics, none of which convinces us that now is the time to turn John Ashbrook out. Vote for Ashbrook.

Candidate Pfeifer is an engaging fellow with a handsome family. He has been honest in his statements of candidacy and the promotion thereof. But he has failed to show us why his opponent, Gene Slagle, ought to be defeated. The argument that Oliver Coseak's power must be broken is a cogent one, but Slagle is his own man. Vote for Senator Slagle.

Richland countians who live in the 61st House district may remember that the incumbent representative to the General Assembly promised he would support school legislation, get more state support for schools in his district, visit this town often to keep an ear to the ground, and increased unemployment compensation and a higher minimum wage.

So far as we can see, no school district in the county has received more money through his efforts. Indeed, one of his votes was for instant tenure for teachers, a grievous affront to experienced teachers who had to WORK for their tenure and to electors in the local district who rightly think they ought to have some input on teacher retention. And the only time he was in town since he ran in 1974 was on Sept. 4, 1976, when he and his equally handsome brother appeared in a parade and ate beef at the Legion ox roast, and on Oct. 13 and 14, when he was also politicking.

Richland countians will consider candidates for commissioner, treasurer, recorder, clerk of courts and engineer. The incumbents seem to us to have performed acceptably. Some of their opponents can put their feet under our table any time. It is a pity they have chosen such formidable opposition. Vote for McFarland, Swank, Griffith, Orewiler, Coffey and Roberts.

Huron countians have some problems. Many of the candidates don't think it's worth the candle to come here because the electorate is small in size.

Those who don't or won't show up deserve to be defeated.

Farm profits hit $1.7 million

Market value of all agricultural products sold by the 1,375 farms in Huron county in 1974 amounted to $36,566,000, according to a preliminary report of the 1974 census of agriculture by the U. S. Department of Commerce's Bureau of the Census. Production expenses on these farms totaled $24,856,000 in 1974.

The figures are for farms qualifying under the definition first used for the 1959 census of agriculture; a farm includes all agricultural operations conducted at any time during the census year under the control of an individual management, provided that sales of agricultural products amounted to, or normally would amount to, at least $250 for places of less than 10 acres or $50 for places of 10 acres or more.

Figures for farms with sales of $2,500 or more are shown for 1974 and 1969. These farms accounted for $36,309,000 of all agricultural products sold in 1974 and $17,176,000 in 1969.

There were 1,112 of these farms in 1974 compared with 996 in 1969. The average size decreased from 242 to 222 acres during the five years. The value per acre increased from $313 to $555, raising the average value per farm from $75,792 to $123,514.

Market value of livestock and their products on farms of $2,500 or more of sales was $7,259,000 in 1974; poultry and their products, $451,000; and crop sales, including nursery products, hay and forest products, $28,599,000. Farms reporting less than $1,000 in sales numbered 98 in 1974. The value of agricultural products sold on these farms totaled $15,000.

He was a communicant of St. Francis Xavier Roman Catholic church. He is also survived by a son, Anthony J., Centerton; a sister, Irene Lubino, Clarkdale, Miss.; seven grandchildren and 17 great-grandchildren.

Voter strength lies in village, township

Proponents of a 4.22-mill bond issue to raise $2,020,000 to build a new junior high school on the site of the present building in Shiloh have their work cut out for them. They've got to convince voters in the Village of Plymouth and Plymouth township of the need and desirability of such a project in order to win.

A study of the voter registration in the district proves this.

If voters in Plymouth and Plymouth township don't support the issue, it's doomed.

Why? Because they're more numerous. Here is the breakdown of registered voters as of Oct. 1:

Bloomington township (in the school district), 241; Village of Shiloh, 606; Cass township, 296; Plymouth A (Richland county), 475; Plymouth B (Huron county), 335; Plymouth township, 277; New Haven township, 41; Auburn township, 21.

$5.2 million valuation of village

New tax valuation of the village is $5,244,668, of which $2,792,710 is in Huron county and $2,451,958 is in Richland county. One mill of new taxation will thus raise $5,244 in fresh revenue.

Value of property in Huron county increased by 38.7 per cent from the previous figure, Auditor Charles Deed says. The old figure was $2,013,710. The increase amounts to $779,798. Overall increase in the village is only 19 per cent. Previous value of the tax duplicate was $4,381,904. The increase amounts to $862,764.

Red faces Cougars

With the first back-to-back victories in league play in nine seasons, Plymouth's Big Red team seeks to do at Creativity tomorrow what it hasn't done in history: strutting together three consecutive John Applesseed conference wins. Odds are that Plymouth can do it if.

"If we don't get to thinking in the middle of the week that we can beat 'em without tacking and blocking and running and passing and kicking and some luck like we've been having," one player told The Advertiser.

Coach Mike McFarren's team is healthy. Bob Combs, out with a leg injury, will be back. The Cougars gave Clear Fork what-for last week and although witness so far, are showing improvement. Besides, they dearly love to lick Plymouth.

To the game: Proceed east in Route 603 to second road beyond Route 13, turn right to stadium.

Property sold

The property of Mrs. Scott Hartz at 220 Sandusky street has been sold by her heirs to Mrs. Jonathan Weller, Huron county recorder reports.

Three water tower bids rejected, village to buy billing machine

Three bids to refurbish the old water tower were rejected by village council Tuesday night.

Two bids were higher than anticipated, at $15,461 and $29,206. The third one of $6,750 was delivered without a 10 per cent bond.

The council agreed the work will have to wait and will be rebid early next spring.

A motion declaring an emergency situation concerning the present NCR billing machine, made by Councilman James L. Jacobs, Sr., and seconded by Councilman Duane Keene, was approved, paving the way for the purchase of a new machine without delay advertisement for bids.

Councilman D. Douglas Brumbach cast the only negative vote. The present machine has broken down three times in two months, causing delays in preparing utility bills. The village is now three months behind and has not been able to charge delinquent penalties for late payments under the circumstances.

The motion followed a lengthy discussion between representatives of National Cash Register and the council. Brumbach said that since the renovated machine will be rebid early next spring.

Annual Halloween costume parade will be Thursday at 7 p. m. in the west side of the Public Square. It will again be sponsored by Independence Chapter, Order of DeMolay.

Judging, which will begin promptly, will be in these categories: preschoolers, first through third grades, fourth through sixth graders. First, second and third prizes will be awarded to the three groups. Older will be served after the judging and awarding of the prizes.

Gov. James A. Rhodes came here Monday to politics with GOP candidates Paul Pfeifer, left, and Michael Fegen, right.

and also onto the post cards sent to the utility users, rather than having just one step of putting them onto the ledger card and having the machine automatically carry them forward to the post card.

The basic cost of the proposed new machine is $12,350. There will be a charge of $2,000 for programming, an under-estimated charge for freight, and $921 a year for a service contract.

NCR offered the village a three year plan to purchase the machine, interest free. The first year the village will pay $7,122, which includes the programming and service contract. For the next two years it would pay $5,022 each year.

If the machine is simply leased on a monthly basis for this same three year period, the village would pay $1,638 more and not own it.

Worker quits at Shiloh

James R. Bailey resigned as street department and utilities employee at Shiloh Oct. 13. He said the pay is too low.

Pay is $2.20 an hour for street work and $2.75 an hour for work on utilities.

designing a new water plant. The village will not collect leaves this year. Reason: cost is too high. Mayor Grady McDonald said. He said leaves should be bagged and left for collection by W. F. Armatour, Willard, trash collector.

Village council endorsed the 4.22-mill bond issue to raise $2,020,000 to construct a new junior high school in Shiloh.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Sir: May I tell you a story about a six year old boy?

This is a true story about Jeff, my grandson. Last year around Halloween we in time I purchased a pumpkin and one evening Jeff and his grandfather carved a pumpkin face which they both thought was a masterpiece.

After the masterpiece was created and a candle placed in the center, we sat around our kitchen table and told several stories, one of which was how the pumpkin grew from a little seed into a vine, then blossomed and finally grew into the pumpkin which now was on our kitchen table.

That person is Marie Tansey, who is running for state representative from our area. Marie is, in my opinion, the best person for the job because her views as representative of our district.

What are Marie's qualifications? She is a well educated person who has raised children, worked in her community and demonstrated her concern for her neighbors throughout her adult life.

Amid charges and counter charges by most candidates in this, a presidential election year, it is gratifying that Richland county voters have an opportunity to vote for a man with the qualifications and the dedication of Sherrod Brown to represent them in the Ohio House of Representatives.

For an aggrieved boy and his pumpkin, for Mrs. Tansey, for Rep. Brown his cheek, saying "My pumpkins are gone! Naturally, we all went to view the tragedy and sure enough the vines were trampled and the three pumpkins were gone. Someone had taken them. Did you ever try to explain to a six year old that pumpkins which he grew, nurtured and treasured could be replaced?

I'm sure there is a method in this story. If we try we can figure it out for ourselves. Sincerely, Mrs. Whitney Briggs

We have a chance to vote for an excellent person this November. That person is Marie Tansey, who is running for state representative from our area.

But, most importantly, Marie Tansey will be on the job all week, not just part of the week. She has pledged and will work at her job every day of the week to provide the best possible service to our citizens of the district.

We need that. I hope my other friends and neighbors throughout our area will take a close look at both candidates and I'm confident they will see Marie Tansey is the one we need.

Ethel G. Swanbeck, State Representative, 72nd House District

Amid charges and counter charges by most candidates in this, a presidential election year, it is gratifying that Richland county voters have an opportunity to vote for a man with the qualifications and the dedication of Sherrod Brown to represent them in the Ohio House of Representatives.

But what about the issues? Marie Tansey has her feet firmly planted on the ground of common sense. For example: Marie wants to get more out of our tax dollars, not spend more tax dollars. Marie wants to reform our welfare system, such as an annual audit of the ADC welfare program to assure the needy get assistance and that mismanagement and fraud are stopped.

Marie wants our state aid to education program to be more effective, to help assure that our children have adequate basic skills when they graduate from school so they can get jobs and have a productive life. There are many other issues which Marie is working and will work hard to resolve as our State Representative.

Wallace gains

Burly Jim Wallace, No. 42, Red full-back, made yardage off right tackle at Crestline Friday night.

Big Red wins on fluke

Crestline falls, 13-12, on mistake with time expired

Plymouth was beaten when time expired at Crestline Friday as the Big Red's last appearance there.

The score was 12 to 7, Crestline having punched in with the lead touchdown on a 99-yard drive that culminated in Alck Biglin's three yard shot into the end zone.

After the Bulldogs kicked off, Plymouth came upfield with intentions of scoring the winning touchdown. On first down, after Crestline was penalized 15 yards for defensive pass interference, Tom Miller's pass was intercepted by Biglin. All Crestline had to do was run out the clock.

Biglin carried twice and Ed Taylor once and Crestline advanced to its 44. Here, on fourth down, the Bulldogs deliberately stalled and took a five yard penalty for delaying the game.

With six seconds left on the clock, and fourth down, Bill Bauer, the Crestline quarterback, took the snap and retreated toward his goal line to use the last six seconds. At the 12, he turned toward the scoreboard, saw that time had run out, and in jubilation threw the ball high into the air. CO-CAPT. FOREST Dent, who played splendidly all night, snatched the football and dashed 12 yards to the end zone.

The veteran referee, Don Hardy, had no choice but to rule a touchdown. "The play wasn't dead yet," he explained when the tumult died down, "but all he had to do was touch his knee to the ground."

The try for PAT was anticlimactic. Plymouth didn't need it. The game was won.

Coach John DiPietro rushed onto the field to inquire of Hardy what had occurred. He did not protest as the referee explained why Bauer's act was a mistake.

Plymouth's coach, Mike McFarren, strode across the field and offered his hand to the dejected Crestline mentor.

Then he summoned his team and caused it to kneel in prayer, right there in the middle of the field. There wasn't a dry eye in the house.

One hopes Plymouth also said a prayer for Bauer, who deserved a better fate. He directed his team magnificently in its 99-yard push for the go-ahead score.

Crestline needed 18 plays to make it. And it held the ball for 10 minutes 32 seconds (total time, not game time) in the drive.

Bauer passed 19 yards to John Phillips to make first down at the Red 45 and he threw 25 yards to Bill Rinehart, on a pass play that Marty McKenzie narrowly missed intercepting, for first down at the Plymouth 15.

CRESTLINE WAS socked with two five yard penalties in the shadow of the Plymouth goal, one for illegal procedure and one for improper equipment.

But Bauer passed to Fred Collins for 11 yards on second down and Crestline was back at the Plymouth nine.

Taylor got six over right tackle before Biglin went in for the score.

Bauer's pass to Collins for the PATs was good but Collins was out of bounds when he came down. Until this time, Plymouth led all around, on the scoreboard and statistically.

The Big Red spotted Crestline the first score. With 1:42 remaining in the first period, Crestline climaxed an 80-yard drive on the 12th play with a 13-yard pass completion by Bauer to Phillips. Plymouth had punted to the Bulldog 20.

The place kick by Chuck Cooper was blocked. Hardy offered Co-Captain Dent the options: "you can take the penalty or you can take the play." Dent opted for the penalty and the surprised Hardy paced it off. Then Dent realized his mistake and asked for a correction. Hardy replied, "You've got only one choice, son, and this is it."

Happily, Plymouth blocked the second kick.

The visitors took the ensuing kickoff and marched 67 yards in 12 plays to score.

THE BIG RED ROLLED up three first downs in its drive.

Alert play calling from the Red bench produced two nail-biter first downs. At the Bulldog 20, on fourth down, Miller rolled out to his left and reached the down stake with an inch to spare.

He wasted no time. On the next play he found McKenzie on the fringe of the goal line and hit him squarely with a pass that carried 18 yards. Jim Wallace booted the PAT and that's how it was until the drama of the fourth period.

At the half, Plymouth had the lead on the scoreboard and on the statistical pad. It had put the ball in play 34 times with eight first downs, 78 yards on the ground, 29 in the air on two completions in five tries, with one interception. It had two penalties with 10 yards lost.

Crestline, correspondingly, had five first downs on 22 plays with 51 yards rushing, 18 yards in the air on three completions among five tries, and six penalties for 40 yards.

Plymouth threatened with its second possession of the second half. But Mike Messer fumbled a pithout to the left on third down. Cooper recovered at the Crestline 43. Charlie Mack intercepted Bauer's pass at the Red 20 to stop Crestline's push.

It was here that Plymouth began its long drive to the Crestline one. One could sense that Plymouth was a disappointed team after it failed to score from three yards away on fourth down. Messer carried the ball and got only two.

IT WAS PLYMOUTH'S third victory of the season, more than it had won in its previous three seasons. It was the first time the Big Red has won back-to-back conference victories since 1967. And it snapped a string of eight consecutive defeats at the hands of Crestline, which is leaving the league.

$100 BILLION CANDIDATE

Here are a few of the NEW spending programs our opponent has advocated so far in this campaign

- Kennedy National Health Insurance bill . . . $70 billion
- Humphrey-Hawkins Government Jobs bill . . . $20 billion
- National Education Association's Education package . . . $20 billion
- Irrigate African Deserts . . . $7.5 billion
- Guaranteed Income . . . $20 billion
- Consumer Protection Agency . . . $50 million (cost in red tape too staggering to estimate)

Remember, these are all new spending programs. We can't begin to add the total of those existing programs he has promised to expand or increase their costs!

WANT A GOOD LAUGH? (OR CRY!)

"I think I have been able to prove that we can successfully fight crime, create full employment, meet our obligations to older Americans and to our children and improve health services without fueling inflation and without expanding the taxpayer burden." (our opponent's quote in Willard Times, July 15)

DO YOU FEEL LIKE YOU HAVE HEARD THAT LINE BEFORE? Phony promises by liberals have put us $600 billion dollars in debt today!

Run that one by again . . .

"Substantial increases in federal aid to education can be accomplished without increased tax levels by eliminating the $70 billion annual deficit attributed to unemployment and welfare benefits and lost taxes associated with our current 8 percent unemployment and by eliminating waste and inefficiency in the federal bureaucracy through adoption of the Government Economy and Spending Reform Act sponsored by Senator Glenn." # Pity the poor housewife at World Series time!

By AUNT LIZ.
This is my favorite season of the year. Spring can be beautifully green, but the colors now simply light up the sky. Every tree seems to become an individual one, not just another green one. Some do better than other, like people, I guess, but each has its own character.
It is also a very costly time to rake up all the leaves. We go through leaf bags like they are going out of style. The sad part is that they get hauled off to the landfill, and really should go into a giant compost heap someplace in each county to which people could come and take advantage of their spring gardens.
It is also baseball time. Just try to watch something really good like M*A*S*H on a Tuesday night when the Series is going. It is pure treason to even mention any other programs around here. Still, the players can be interesting. To most people Catfish Hunter is a really good pitcher. To me, he is a really nice looking young man, of whom there would be more of to perk up the population.

Since I am still back in the era of Babe Ruth and Joe DiMaggio among famous players, I had never heard of Catfish until last year.
The New Yorker had published a little paragraph about a third grade teacher who asked her class to write a descriptive sentence. One little boy did: "Catfish Hunter wears a baseball cap." She returned the paper to the child with the following correction: "A catfish hunter wears a baseball cap." That is when I did a little inquiring and discovered how famous he was.
Another nice part of this season is a new batch of raspberries that a kind friend has passed on to us: three full quarts and they are more beautiful and tastier than the June berries. Most berries can be converted to this and that, but there is only one way to eat raspberries - in a boy's with cold milk and sugar.

Then we have turnips from another friend who is overloaded with them. A lot of people really like them and have all ways to boil them up and eat with a little butter and salt and pepper. Such a version I can live without, and I have solved the problem, I think rather well, so we have turnips disguised. Steam them until mashable, mix in a bunch of margarine and generously sprinkle cinnamon in. They taste half and half that way and are not too bad.

are arriving, and we have been loaded with cheesy ones. I have no idea where they get our name and address because I have never ordered from them in my life. We got one today that had a brandy cake in it. It really looked good. The illustration kind of looked like an ordinary fruit cake probably gooped up. If anyone has such a recipe, I would really like to have it. It was a loaf cake. The prices were really stupid, $5.95 for a pound of fudge, and $6.75 for a 28 oz. jar of strawberry jam. That is more than I paid last spring for eight beautiful quarts of strawberries that made much more. The only advantage is that if you order from such places, they ship it. At a charge, match, but it does save wear and tear on your packing it. Once I sent some jam very carefully wrapped in bathtowels, and I guess it took three washings to get the towels in action, and the jam was kind of lost. As a stamp collector I do love the postal system, but they really goofed that time, and we had packed it so carefully.
Since everyone will be sending packages for the holiday season, I really think the mails have begun to perk up. I do think they went through a period where no one cared, then they realized they needed to care, because everyone was using the private systems. Something has come over them which is good. I will never forget the Christmas eve

PA rules: be brief, be right!

By THE OLD TIMER
The main reason why a boy puts up with the hard disciplines of scholastic athletics is that he seeks recognition.
Which is natural and certainly deserving of encouragement.
He has a right to have his name spelled correctly, pronounced as he wishes to have it pronounced, and recited correctly when he is deserving of praise or entitled to proper criticism, such as when he commits a foul.
Time was when schoolboy football games, and basketball games, were carried on without the benefit (?) of a public address system.

There are a few who remember those days.
We couldn't go back to them if we wanted to, so it behooves us to insist upon professional conduct with the system.
The precepts that ought to govern each such system are:
1. Get it right. Jones carried the ball, not Smith. Brown made the tackle, not Miller.
2. Pronounce it right. Ask in advance if there are doubts.
3. Give the visitor as much notice as the home team.
4. Be brief. The Ohio State (Glory be! Can you imagine this corner with praise for Ohio State?) football announcer is nearly perfect. He does not talk down to the intelligence of the spectators.
5. Griffin carried the ball. Karras made the tackle. The ball is on the Ohio 27. That's all.
6. Keep it free of partisanship, emotion that tends to stir up the crowd, pandering to home town heroes.
Scholastic game spectators are more sophisticated these days.

They've been places. They demand, and they have a right to demand, that things be done in a professional manner.
Or as nearly so as we can afford.

A Message From Michael R. Fegen

Dear Huron County Voters:

As a taxpayer and attorney, I am disturbed by what I see happening in the County Prosecutor's office. Tax revenue is being spent at an alarming rate, with no significant reduction of crime in the county. The prosecutor and his predecessor have used public funds to create an entrenched bureaucracy, unresponsive to citizen needs and dedicated to its own perpetuation.

He has duplicated services already available. For instance, he is not content with cooperating with state, county and local law enforcement agencies. Instead, he has sought appropriations to hire his own investigators and create his own police force -- one that answers not to the people but to him.

He has refused to use the Norwalk Municipal Court and the Norwalk Law Director for the initial prosecution of crimes as provided by law. He has clogged the calendar of the Probate and Common Pleas Court with unnecessary business, business that could and should be handled by the city law director in the Municipal Court. Justice is delayed, civil actions must take a back seat to criminal prosecution and everyone suffers.

In four years the prosecutor has managed to turn a budget of $21,554 into one approaching $100,000. When the budget for any county office rises over 400 per cent in four years, then something is wrong. And when something is this wrong, it must be fixed -- that is why I am running for the office - TO CUT DOWN ON THE EXPENSE.

Next week: What can we do?
