

Read to face Crestliners

If Plymouth can get out of December with a five-and-two result, it should be in good shape for a successful season and a winning record for the first time since 1970.

That's the consensus of coaches willing to speak for the record in a telephone survey over the weekend.

In fairness to Plymouth's coach, he wasn't asked for an opinion.

But his colleagues and friendly competitors have figured out this way: Fredericktown and Lexington must, on what's known now, be regarded as formidable opponents to rate as favorites at game time next week.

Lexington is widely regarded as the class of the Johnny Appleseed conference, and it takes a lot to beat Lexington," said one mentor. "They have size and speed and a winning tradition going for them and they've got a new coach who scares me just as much on the Lexington bench as he did on the St. Pete's bench."

Fredericktown came across in its first outing but then trounced Crestline, which is said to be improved this year. The Freds always play well before their home crowd.

The others on the head slate for the remainder of the month, in addition to Crestline in the Crawford county city tomorrow, and to Fredericktown and Lexington next week, are Buckeye Central and South Central. Plymouth already has a victory over the Bucks, who're tougher in their handbox, most of the time. And it defeated South Central at Greenwich last year and ought to be favored here this season.

SO THERE IT IS, CAN Plymouth win three, perhaps four, more games this month?

There has been one retirement from the squad.

Whether an lth grader will be moved up from the reserve squad, which is also undefeated, hasn't been indicated.

Plymouth has played well in spurts but has not yet shown consistency in its offense. Defensively, when adjustments have been made, as especially against Buckeye Central, the team has produced, save during the closing seconds Friday night.

There is no star. There is no player who scores outlandishly. The 12th graders collectively have about the same amount of experience and the difference in skills is minimal, on an overall basis.

If it is possible after two games to single out one player, it would have to be Steve Shury, a 12th grader who saw only limited duty last season and who has been plagued by a hand injury in the training season and during two games, and during two games. But he has made his presence felt while he has been on the floor and if the others show the same level of improvement, this team can have a winning record.

Redbird pick on district team

A Big Red opponent on the football field has been selected all-Northeastern district Class A performer by the Associated Press.

He is Loudonville's Steve Wigton, an offensive tackle.

Turson plays on reserve team

Brad Turson, Class of 1976, Plymouth High school, is a member of the Ohio Northern university junior varsity basketball team.

He is a freshman majoring in accounting.

The Polar Bears opened their season Dec. 4 against Ohio Dominican college in a home game. They play nine home games and five away.

They are coached by Joe Campoli.

Mrs. Kruger ends course

Mrs. Harm Kruger, Plymouth route 1, a service representative, has received a certificate for completing a course at General Telephone Co. of Ohio's technical training school in Marion.

Mrs. Kruger has been with the company for years and works in the company's Norwalk district.

Council criticizes Baker's performance

Village Administrator Thomas F. Baker came under heavy fire from the village council Tuesday night.

It started when Councilman Toy Patton complained that the bills presented for approval were too high.

He was joined by Councilman James L. Jacobs, Sr., who agreed about the amounts of the bills and also objected about overtime pay.

Clerk-Treasurer Anita L. Riedinger said Baker has not been paid overtime since the recent pay ordinance stipulated salaried employees would not receive it.

Jacobs said the administrator is to turn an overtime in to the council for approval and the village needs a new administrator.

He then complained that two other employees, Baker's son, Wayne, and James Holloman, are not being paid overtime properly and that they should be dismissed.

Councilman Hubert V. Akers said the administrator system has never worked at all and that a Board of Public Affairs would be better.

Councilman D. Douglas Brumbach said the system is good.

Patton said there are too many complaints about the meter readings and something has to be done by Jan. 1.

How to fire or dismiss Baker was broached by Brumbach, who said the council could take action. Akers said only the mayor can dismiss him, to which Brumbach suggested he read the Ohio Revised Code on the subject.

Of the five village administrators since 1968, when the Board of Public Affairs was abolished, none was dismissed. One, Brumbach, resigned by request of the council in 1970.

Mayor Elizabeth G. Paddock said Baker does not want the responsibility of the position but would be content as an employee of fees to subsidize.

She asked the council where a qualified person could be found for what the village can pay. Brumbach replied there are college graduates with managerial experience working at meager jobs and that a salary of $10,000 would be adequate. She said the village needs one with more skills.

No decision was reached to fire or keep Baker nor the two other employees.

APPROVAL WAS GIVEN to two resolutions requested by Eugene C. Gerken to expedite the request for funding under the Economic Development administration.

One approved the payment of fees to Gerken for the rippaging of the sewer lagoons in the amount of $5,000 for design engineering and $5,120 for construction services. The village is applying for a grant, but if it does not receive one, money will have to be borrowed from the Farmers Home administration to do the work, which is demanded by the Ohio Environmental Protection agency.

The other was to approve fees to Gerken in the amount of $8,100 for a sanitary sewer south of the river in Springmill road and Willo-Root subdivision providing federal funding is forthcoming.

Other plans were approved in 1973 by the F.P.A. It was then planned that the contractor hired for the principal sewer line would do the set aside when the contractor proved unsatisfactory.

The mayor explained to him that only the council can approve a bill.

Patton objected to paying it, saying he recently paid one of his own, and does not think the village should do so. Keene agreed the village should not pay it.

The motion made by Jacobs to pay it died for want of a second.

Bill Collins, who has another home in Brooks court under construction, was told he could connect it to that sanitary sewer line until it is repaired and has Gerken's approval.

Mrs. Ralph Frisby, Park avenue, complained of sewer water backing into her basement. Apparently the construction company broke a village line and faulty repairs were made by two local men. The problem is being turned over to Baker, since it lies outside the Frisby property.

A REQUEST BY MR. and Mrs. Charles Cobb, Maple street, to connect to the sanitary sewer line so they will not have to repair a broken tile in their yard was turned down. The Cobbs said they don't want to go through the digging twice. A bonding company and a bad contractor, which is causing the delay.

PHS alumnus wins plaque at Ohio State

A Plymouth High school alumnus is the recipient of a plaque given by Drake University to the board at Ohio State university, Columbus, where he is a student, for outstanding citizenship and leadership.

He is Richard Seymour, only son of the G. Deming Seymours, Shiloh, who is president-elect of Ohio Drake Union Activities during the winter quarter.

The plaque was presented Dec. 30 during a banquet in the union, which was attended by the student's parents.

The Voice of The Advertiser - Games?

Is the council playing games with us?

The whole business of a billing machine is all but the biggest fiasco this town has seen in a long time.

What are the facts?

The Burroughs machine was worn out. It didn't do the job.

The NCR machine, kindly given by the village's long-time benefactor, was unsatisfactory from the start. NCR said it couldn't be programmed to do that which was expected of it. The then clerk and his cronies got some programming done that would serve HIS purposes and left the rest of us stranded.

The NCR machine has metal fatigue. It requires two motions by the operator instead of one. Its "down time" is roughly 30 per cent of its "up time".

The subscribers to the electric service have a right to be billed promptly and regularly. This hasn't been done for so long that when it does occur, as fervently we hope it will eventually occur, most of us will be so daunted surprised we're apt to pay the village twice. Not bloody likely!

Bids received on Nov. 19 were thrown out because another bidder wasn't included. The circumstances under which that bidder failed to receive notification are bizarre but true. But the village has no obligation to notify any prospective bidder, although it is certainly in the village's interests to have as many bidders as possible.

New bids will now be opened this week. The council will meet Monday night to discuss its regular business and, presumably, these bids.

It's time that prompt action be taken.

The lowest and best bid, without reference to whether the man who painted the machine has a red mustache, or whether he drives a compact car, or in which country or state he stood when he painted it, is what we're entitled to.

And when the council has sat down and resolved together, perhaps it will turn its collective mind to the question of whether the electric department is making expenses as required by law and dictated by custom.

We think not.

And since we all own it, every man jack of us, we're obligated to make it pay for itself and entitled to fair rates while doing so.

And since we all own it, every man jack of us, we're obligated to make it pay for itself and entitled to fair rates while doing so.

For those who like ham, here's how to make glaze

By AUNT LIZ

Giving a gift to another is as old as mankind. There is no doubt in my mind that our caveman ancestors would drag a good sized dinosaur to the opening of a friend's cave for a tasty dinner. We aren't really that more civilized. Think of the cooking we palm off on unsuspecting friends because we think it is downright tasty, but it can be the one thing they hate.

When you make this and someone turns his or her nose up at it, snatch it back and take it home to use on ribs, chicken and oven hamburgers. It is kind of a fancy barbecue sauce. In a saucepan measure two cups of catsup, a cup of chili sauce, a half cup of 1 liqueur Galliano, two tablespoons of Worcestershire sauce, a half cup of dark brown sugar and a fourth of a cup of lemon juice.

Heat it all up. It makes about four cups, and two cups would make a nice gift and should be enough for one barbecued meal. This should be the time mothers and grandmothers are kind of tearing their hair out over those little stocking presents.

Hanging up a stocking on Christmas eve has been going on ever since I can remember, and my memory is getting to be plain historical.

But did you know how the Christmas stocking really started?

It goes back to the 400s when a Turkish bishop felt sorry for a peasant who did not have enough to give his daughters dowries. While the girls' stockings were hanging by the fire to dry, he dropped gold pieces into them, and back in those days that made them highly desirable brides because gold was kind of scarce.

No one is really sure that this story is true, but it is believed that the Dutch settlers in New Amsterdam, which is now known as New York or the Big Apple, brought the custom to this country for the Christmas season.

The Swiss had kind of the same thing. I cannot remember the date, but it was early in December that the children put their shoes out at night. The good ones got candies and fruits and the bad ones got switches and sticks. Bad as the kids were in our neighborhood, I do not remember a one who did not get the goodies. Mothers are not mean.

Christmas is for all ages and there is nothing more fun than picking out this and that to give. It's the wrapping that gets me down. After a season last week, I have decided that each gift to be considerable will be bought with an eye as to how easy it is to wrap.

It is really the time of the year for very special things.

Not everyone wants a plump, beautiful, delicious turkey for a holiday meal. Some settle for ordinary ham because they plain like it better. This is simply not understandable to me. Turkey had twice a year when I was growing up, Thanksgiving and Christmas, and it was such a treat. They were not that available back then.

Ham is really good, too, and there are so many bastings to use.

You can buy it prepared, but this is more fun. Mince five maraschino cherries and mix them with an eight ounce jar of apricot preserves, a fourth of a cup of cider vinegar, a fourth of a cup of well-packed brown sugar and a teaspoon of ground ginger. Simmer for about five minutes and it is ready to start brushing onto your haking ham.

Red outlasts Crestview, 55-54

Two evenly matched Johnny Applesseed conference basketball teams fought it out for 32 minutes in Plymouth High school gymnasium Friday night and when the smoke had cleared away, Plymouth was the victor, by a single point, 55 to 54. The Big Red won it at the foul line, the Cougars of Crestview having outdone Plymouth from the floor, 24 to 23. But Plymouth had one more penalty shot than did Crestview and better accuracy. The winners converted on nine of 12 tries, the losers on six of 11. Plymouth had it locked up with 34 seconds remaining and a five point lead, fashioned early in the fourth quarter when the Big Red broke away from a 42 to 42 count with five straight points, a free throw by Holly Tuttle, a bucket by Mike Carly and a basket by Mike Weaver. Crestview retaliated with a hoop by Ron Rider and then Plymouth struck with two free throws by Tuttle. After Tom Pfister canned a bank shot, Weaver fired a basket and Blane Baker got home from underneath. At this point the score was 53 to 46. And the clock read 2:40. Pfister and Tim Bradford scored for the Cougars before Tuttle got home with the last Plymouth outburst. Two turnovers in 32 seconds resulted in baskets by Bradford and Mike Steiner and when time ran out Crestview's last shot was teetering on the rim. Had it gone down, the Cougars would have won. Plymouth took an early lead but could not hold it and after eight minutes the score was 14 to 13 in the Red's favor. At the half, Plymouth led by six. Crestview outscored Plymouth in the last half. The Cougars converted 24 of 59 tries for field goal, snared 39 rebounds and committed 18 turnovers. Plymouth, meanwhile, shot 23 of 56 tries for field goal, took down 30 rebounds and committed 20 turnovers. Weaver had 10 rebounds for Plymouth, Bradford, who towers six feet seven, 12 for Crestview. Tuttle led all scorers with 17 in his finest night in a Red uniform so far. Bradford had 16 for the Cougars.

Vikes beaten by Spartans by 30 points

Sixth grade Viking basketballers will meet AFL-CIO, which is undefeated in three outings, Saturday at 11:15 a. m. in Friendly House competition.

Fifth grade Vikings stack their 2-and-1 record against the Springmill Steelers, also 2-and-1, at 2:15 p. m.

St. Peter's trounced the older Vikes, 41 to 11, Saturday.

The young Spartans are unbeaten in three games. Plymouth lost for the first time. Jeff Hummel and Jeff Music has four points apiece.

Fifth graders led Ontario by a point at the half but went to town in the third period and won, 19 to 10. Rodney Hampton scored 11 for the Vikes.

Martha Fazzini weds

Miss Martha Ann Fazzini was married to Jeffrey William Hall Nov. 26 in a double ring ceremony in St. John's United Church of Christ, Bucyrus.

She is the second daughter of Supt. John Fazzini and Mrs. Fazzini.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Hall, Bucyrus.

The 7:30 p. m. ceremony was performed by the Rev. Herman Hartman.

Fall arrangements decorated the church. A bouquet of fall colored chrysanthemums on the church altar was lighted by seven branch candles, one on each side of the chancel. The family pews were lighted with candles in hurricane holders.

Mr. Fazzini gave his daughter in marriage.

She chose an ivory gown of polyana fashioned with sheer bishop sleeves cinched at the wrist and a sheer yoke rising to a mandarin collar. Bands of Venice lace daisy chains formed a bib effect on the bodice. Matching lace encircled each gathered tier of the five-flared skirt. A satin ribbon encircled the slightly raised waistline with a bow and streamers at the back.

Her veil, which fell from a small headband, was also edged in lace.

Her bouquet was a combination of roses with fall colored flowers and baby's breath.

Vicki Fazzini was her sister's maid of honor. The Misses Judy Hall, the bridegroom's sister, Bucyrus; Cindy Farnsworth, college roommate, Wooster, and Paula Postema were bridesmaids.

They wore copper-colored long sleeved A-line gowns with deep yokes of ecru lace. They carried baskets of fall flowers.

Jeffrey Reser was best man. Robert Bothel, Edward McComes and Scott Mollineau, college classmates of the bridegroom, ushered.

Both mothers were long sleeved pink gowns and corsages of pink rosebuds and white carnations.

A reception was at the Crawford County Conservation League.

Guests were assisted at the buffet table by Miss Holly Cornell.

Mrs. Rick Richenbacher registered guests. The newly married couple are living in Fremont. The new Mrs. Hall is a graduate of Plymouth High school. Mr. Hall is a Bucyrus High school graduate. They received baccalaureate degrees from Bowling Green State university in 1976.

She teaches home economics in Bellevue High school. He teaches in Oak Harbor High school.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Sir,
I am writing this letter in response to an ad that appeared in your paper last week. The ad stated in part "Shiloh Landrum at - New Hours 6:30 a. m. to 11 p. m. Due to the absence of 24-hour Police Protection, it has become necessary to close at 11 p. m."

This ad is misleading in two ways. The first way that it misleads you is that it makes you think we don't have any police protection after 11 p. m. I can assure you we do.

Since our last full-time police chief quit in April we have been without a full-time man. We have been doing the job with three part-time men, who hold down other full-time jobs. We do not patrol all night long but we have it set up so somebody is on call all night long. And the streets are patrolled at different times of the night.

The second way the ad misleads you is the new hours 6:30 a. m. to 11 p. m. It makes you think that they are closing earlier because of lack of 24-hour police protection. The fact is they are staying open one hour later than they usually do as they used to close at 10 p. m.

I hope this letter clears the air for some of the Shiloh citizens who thought that they didn't have any police protection at night.

Sincerely,
Sgt. Dale Keesy, Shiloh Police Department

NOTICE TO BIDDERS
Sealed bids will be received by the Clerk-Treasurer, Village of Plymouth, Ohio, at her office, 25 Sandusky street, until 12 o'clock noon, EST, on Dec. 11, 1976, for the purchase of an electronic billing machine.
The machine is to be programmed as follows: to create utility bills and update ledgers to include all items specified on the current post card; to calculate fuel adjustment factor; to accumulate control totals such as total kilowatts, total gallonage, charges for water, sewer, electric and security lights; to set up control ledgers to show current totals; post receipts to ledgers and accumulate totals to show total receipts of electric, water, sewer, and security lights; post penalties automatically after balance pick-ups are made; to provide an option to override penalty calculation and to accumulate trial balance totals as penalties are posted.
The machine is also to be programmed to create payroll checks, to post employee ledger, to report retirement deductions and to prepare W-2 forms.
Bid must state the type of memory whether volatile or non-volatile, if equipped with bumper buffered keyboard, if it can be up-graded to a magnetic ledger feature, give a description of how programs are loaded into the machine, annual service contract charge and delivery date.
Each bid must contain the full name of company interested in the same and be accompanied by a bid bond or certified check on a solvent bank in the amount of ten per cent (10%) of the bid as a guarantee that if the bid is accepted, a contract will be entered into and its performance properly secured.
Should any bids be rejected, such check or bond or cash will be returned upon proper execution and securing of the contract.
The Village of Plymouth reserves the right to reject any and all bids and to waive formalities in connection therewith.
