Man held for assault at Shiloh

Shiloh police picked up Arnold Hall, Jr., and transported him to Richland county jail, where he is now being held. Norman Reed, formerly of 10 1/2 East Main street, was arrested Mar. 9 on a warrant from Shiloh Mayor's Court charging him with assault. He was released on bond. He appeared in mayor's court Mar. 10. His case was continued so he can engage counsel. Charges of assault were filed against Reed by Sharon Slagle, 10 1/2 East Main street.

Darrel Eugene Barks, Belleville, paid a $19.50 waiver for speeding. Wayne Deskins reported someone stole a SAW calibre .38 pistol from his home. Police are still investigating.

Police investigated two fights at The Rathskeller one Mar. 12 and one Mar. 13.

Shiloh police picked up one male juvenile from Plymouth for public intoxication. He was transported to the Plymouth Police department, then released to his mother.

His other memberships include the Norwalk Knights of Columbus, the Norwalk Rotary club and L.O.Moose, Norwalk.

He and his wife, Jeanne, are the parents of a daughter, Kara, five, and a son, Rob, three.

The Voice of The Advertiser — Another stone is called for!

It is fashionable, perhaps even proper, these days to throw stones at the postal service. Even its employees do so, with much more accuracy and venom than any outsider can muster.

We have complained about poor service several times. We are still waiting for a reply or an explanation from the postmaster at Bakersfield, Cal., requested by our own postmaster because an 8 1/2 by 11 inch flat piece containing a certified check, posted here last July 29, was never delivered.

Only last week, in two morning deliveries we received six first class letters that had been backstamped at other post offices because of mistaken deliveries and two letters that were backstamped at two different post offices.

But our complaint today is about another matter.

We prefer the collated stamps because they're smaller to lick with the tongue (and we admit to being unconstructed; no wet sponges for us) and therefore require less saliva.

Until the new 13-centers were issued, the job of licking stamps was not unpleasant. It wasn't very tidy, and one cannot slide more than 10 or 12 attached stamps across his tongue in a single swoop without gagging. But it wasn't especially unpleasant. And one never had to rely on the sponge in the post office being wet. Besides, there never is any sponge in the lobby.

Whatever it is that the USPS has applied as mucilage to the new 13-centers issued in coils, it's a crime. To lick one stamp is to be nauseated. The taste and effect of the mucilage would defy the abdominal composure of a whale.

We protest. We protest strongly. And like most of our protests, so far as the USPS goes, it will probably get no further than here.

Sure, we may get a call from the p. r. man at the regional center, though it's not likely. And we'll certainly get a cluck of the tongue from our friends in the local post office. But we'll be told in all likelihood, that until we've got the problem licked, we'll have to keep on licking the problem.

McDonald aims for Congress 32% power rate rise to take effect Apr. 1

John C. McDonald, 39-year-old Licking county native, has officially launched a campaign to become the 7th District member of the House of Representatives.

An attorney and a veteran Ohio legislator, the Democratic McDonald is giving up completely his private law practice. "I want to have all my time and energy to campaign and research and to become even more familiar with our district."

McDonald predicts the effort will be successful even though his opponent, John M. Ashbrook, a Johnstown publisher, has won eight consecutive terms in Congress.

People Deskins again sick of taxation without representation," McDonald believes. "Our federal government and Ashbrook have pretty dismal records these past 16 years. It is time now to try something besides spending more taxpayer dollars on growing bureaucratic bloat."

McDonald says Ashbrook has spent several million dollars of taxpayers' money running his own office even though he is often absent from Congress.

In 1964 McDonald ended 30 years of interrupted Republican domination of Licking county politics and became state representative, a post he won twice again. During those six years in the Ohio General Assembly he was Ohio's most active legislator.

In 1965 McDonald prepared legislation calling for ethical standards and financial disclosure for public servants. His fellow lawmakers balked at the idea and McDonald tried again in 1967 and 1969. It was not until Watergate his bill finally became law.

Before graduating from college McDonald spent his summers at various jobs. He was secretary's helper for Powell Electric Co., a re-melter at the Kaiser Aluminum and Chemical Corp. factory and he was a disc jockey for WCLT Radio.

Karen S. Horner, Butler route 2, has obtained in Richland county common pleas court a decree of divorce from her husband, Donald J. Horner, Plymouth, a journal entry shows.

Daniel A. Courtright and Kathy S. Courtright, Plymouth, have been accorded in Huron county common pleas court a dissolution of their marriage.

McDonald came, at age 31, the youngest party floor leader in Ohio history. Other honors included the 1967 John F. Kennedy award for outstanding citizenship. In 1969 he won an award from Republican Gov. James A. Rhodes for advancing the prestige of Ohio. In 1968 he was chairman of the Ohio Democratic Convention.

McDonald is the father of three children and his personal hobbies include camping and fishing, Civil War history and collecting American stamps.

McDonald graduated with multiple honors from Denison university and then from the Ohio State university college of law. His first public service job was as solicitor for Heath in 1962, 1963 and 1964. After giving up his legislative seat to run unsuccessfully for Ohio Attorney General, McDonald served Gov. John J. Gilligan's administration as legislative counselor before returning to private practice.

32% power rate rise to take effect Apr. 1

Electric consumers will pay during April for power used in March at an increased rate, to reflect the cost of fuel assessed to the village by the supplier, Ohio Power Co.

It is estimated the average residential bill will be increased by 32 per cent. Basic electric rates set in 1965 by the then trustees of public affairs have since been increased by 30 per cent for residential users of less than 1,500 kilowatt hours in billing period and by 30 per cent for consumption over that figure.

Non-residential users are paying 130 per cent of their base rate for less than 1,500 kilowatt hours and 20 per cent for consumption over that figure.

Consumers rated as "large power users" are paying the same percentage of their base rate as consumers rated as "private street and security lighting" users.

During February, Ohio Power Co.'s billing to the village was comprised of a contracted charge for metered consumption and the fuel cost, which was roughly equal to the charge for metered usage.

Until now, the electric system has been subsidizing from its earnings and savings about 35 per cent of the electric bill of each consumer.

Councilman D. Douglas Brumback and Mayor Elizabeth G. Paddock did not see eye to eye on the final report of ambulance services for 1975. On Mar. 2 he objected to the figures she and Clerk Anita L. Riedinger had prepared of expenses from the village ledger, so the next day they spent several hours checking each entry, bill and check.

There were also two boys from New Haven. All four were charged with delinquency.

There were four juveniles having Plymouth addresses and one having a New Haven address, with on traffic counts.

Annual birthday dinner of Elbert P. Pease, American Legion, will be served Saturday at 6:30 p. m.

Several differences were found and corrections made. Brumback objected to the gasoline charges posted in official ledger, which amounted to $231.43. His records, which were kept monthly, showed a sum of $120.41 spent on gasoline.

During Tuesday night's meeting Brumback said that upon rechecking his own records of ambulance expenditures, he has discovered a sum paid to a service station in the amount of $14.21 was erroneously charged to the safety fund.

The records are to be rechecked again. Meanwhile, the year's costs were presented to both Plymouth and New Haven townships and they have paid the village $647.69 each for their 25 per cent share.

The council tabled a request by the mayor for official acceptance of the figures on which the townships paid their share.

He pointed out the ambulance staff is now taking a 20-hour course in the emergency room of Mansfield General hospital.

The ambulance radios are to be shipped by the end of this month and will be installed. They will have three frequencies, those of Huron and Richland county fire and ambulance service.

Joining the disaster programs of the two counties was tabled until the next meeting. The mayor said it would probably be the only route to obtain a new ambulance, although a federal program is being investigated by Brumback.

The council agreed to purchase a trailer-water tanker in the amount of $5,900 for the fire department. It is to be paid from the reserve fire fund, which now totals $7,075.64. In order to replenish it, an additional fire levy for the November ballot will be considered.

EUGENE C. GERKEN, sanitary fire engineer, notified the village that Lester Stone, state director of the Farmers Home Administration, had approved the awarding of a contract to McDaniel Construction Co., Amherst, to complete the sewerage system.

The problem involving a bill paid by Salvatore J. Giorioso for having a sewer line from his house cleaned was again tabled until Councilman James L. Jacobs, Sr., can check with a former village employee to determine if the house is connected to the sewer system or if the damage was caused by the installation of the new phase. The Giorioso home was built in 1962 and should have been connected to the nearby interceptor when it was installed in 1964-65.

Solicitor Robert A. McKelvey has been instructed to negotiate another year's lease for the use of Charles Rhine army with the Army Corps of Engineers. The village will have use of it until the federal government either sells it or it is turned over to the Plymouth Board of Education, which has applied to obtain the land and buildings at no cost.

Hicks trial set May 5 at Bucyrus

Trial of George Hicks for the murder of 74-year-old Jonathan A. Weller at Plymouth on May 16, 1975, will begin in Crawford county common pleas court May 5.

Hicks, formerly of near Plymouth, but then living in Florida, is said by a witness to have been seen to shoot Weller at the ruins of a burnt out house southwest of Plymouth. Weller, who was staying with his mother-in-law nearby at the time, had gone to the scene to view the ruins.

A birthday cake recipe for use each 200 years!

By AUNT LIZ
Never in my life have I read anywhere how the birthday cake came about. Somewhere it must have

Two graduates to get degrees

Two alumni of Plymouth High school are candidates for baccalaureate degrees when Bowling Green State University conducts its winter commencement Saturday.

These are Steven Carl Williamson, younger son of the late Williamsons, 371 West Broadway, and Martha Ann Fazzini, second daughter of the John Fazzini, 312 East Main street.

Ryan to serve in Colombia

A 1974 alumnus of Plymouth High school, Gregory Ryan will serve in the Novice Overseas Fitness Corps in Colombia. A student in Asbury college, Wilmore, Ky., he will pay his own way in the program, especially planned to give young adults considering missionary service a short exposure to the spiritual, social and physical needs of the people of another country.

He is the son of the Arni Jacobes.

a history and it should really be interesting.

Our happy bicentennial is bringing out all sorts of such things.

At Cypress Gardens in Florida, California has been outdone. Somehow one simply associates flowers with California and the Rose Bowl, but they have made a round cake, 36 feet to be exact, of flowers and plants. It is a three layer job with something like 7,000 plants composing it and it must be very beautiful.

The bottom layer has 13 candles for the original states, the second layer has nine for the major wars our country has fought, and the top layer has four for Lincoln, McKinley, Garfield and Kennedy, who lost their lives while in office, which is a very sad thing.

People will drive miles and miles to see it. California, nevertheless, got in there first with a real cake which was on display in a San Francisco department store. The thing is 30 feet high and sits in the middle of the store that is designed as a rotunda.

Being a real penny pincher I can think of better ways to spend a hundred thousand dollars, but if the good people of San Francisco wanted to do it, let them. It is a fruit cake and they sold off sections of it for something like a dollar a pound.

I would say the whole affair is an engineering feat rather than that of a baker. It took 2,625 pounds of flour, 665 dozen of eggs, 2,310 pounds of sugar, 10,245 pounds of pineapple, 8,925 pounds of cherries, 4,620 pounds of pecans, and the "pinch of salt" that all recipes call for was 220 pounds.

I have copied all the statistics off a post card we bought about it all when we went to see it, but it does not mention where the whole thing got mixed up. Who has a mixing bowl that big except a steel foundry.

THIS BEAUTIFUL thing is even getting to me and I am slowly considering a centerpiece for our table of red, white and blue, which will not match our pink dishes. I should be out of my cotton-pickin' mind.

I am willing to bet that in the next few months you will not be able to buy any dress that is yellow or orange. They will all be red, white and blue. Thank heavens, I do have one from last year, blue polka dots on white with a red coat. It is my Girls' State costume, and it tickles me to bits that all the auxiliary members are wearing something like it. What I really draw the line at, and some will hate me for saying this, are those silly rhinestone pins of our flag. I consider them almost sacrilegious. I would not be caught dead with one. There is a limit for good taste. Now if the flag pin is the real thing of diamonds, rubies and sapphires, maybe that is different, then it is a real piece of jewelry, which every girl loves with a passion.

Historically, where did ground beef come from? That I do not know either, but it is the mainstay of every kitchen and you can do so much with it.

This recipe is designed for eight but can be adjusted. Start with two pounds of lean ground beef. Mix it with a quarter of a pound of butter, a quarter of a teaspoon of nutmeg, some salt and pepper.

Shape into flat-like patties, roll in bread crumbs and score the top.

Simply fry in butter, and when each side is cooked, stash in a heated oven to keep hot. In the same skillet, place about a half cup of chopped onion and when it is all cooked, throw in about a tablespoon of flour, stir heartily, add a fourth of a cup of ordinary white wine. Mix well, then add about a cup of sour cream. Then pour the hot sauce over the warm meat patties.

Introducing TeleDialer 32.

Push a button and it does everything for you but say hello.

Our new electronic directory doesn't just keep track of phone numbers. It dials them for you, too. Automatically. It records up to 32 numbers. There's one button for each number and, next to that button, a place for the name. When you want to make a call, you just point to the person you want to talk to... and push.

For emergency or other important numbers, there are four separate color-coded buttons. They save critical seconds if you ever need the police, doctor, ambulance, etc.

In fact, TeleDialer 32 saves you time and trouble all day long in your office or home. It reduces time-consuming dialing errors. It even has a "last number dialed" button that automatically records your last manually-dialed number. So, if you get a busy signal, you can call back without re-dialing.

TeleDialer 32 comes in white, or in black with simulated wood grain panels. And it's available to all our customers.

Ordering one, however, takes a little effort. You have to dial all seven digits of your General Telephone business office.

Ross Russell given Legion card for life

Ross Russell received a life membership in the Garrett-Riest Post 503, American Legion, at Shiloh Mar. 13. The post served its birthday dinner. Chester Stollar, past state commander, spoke on administrative obstructions to requests of Legionnaires and disabled veterans. Thirty year members who received cards and patches are Robert Book, Robert Bushey, Don Calhoun, George Chila, Joseph J. Chila, Donald, Keith and Dean Dawson, Pete and Mary Ferrell, Alvin and Neal Garrett, Wallace Harnly, John Heeden, Merle Lutz, Jay Moser, Delmar Nesbitt, Harold and George Porter, Joseph Witche, John R. John W. and William D. Reynolds, G. David Rish, Ross Russell, Woodrow Shaffer, Carl Smith and Byron Urie. Members with five, 10, 15, 20 and 25 years of service were also honored. Charter members of the auxiliary were recognized as well as those with

29 and 30 years of membership. First president was Mrs. Bushey. There followed Mrs. Dean Dawson, Mrs. Fred Dawson, Mrs. George Spiger, Mrs. Keith Dawson, Mrs. Emma Jane McDavid, Mrs. Helen Murphy, Mrs. H. R. Nesbitt, Mrs. Bernita Goth, Mrs. Enos Renner, Mrs. John Reynolds, Mrs. Rish, Mrs. Glen Swager, Mrs. Robert Seaman, Mrs. Carl Smith, Mrs. Donald Dawson, Mrs. Robert Russell, Mrs. Mary Lou Smith and Mrs. Ross Russell. The auxiliary gave a covered bridge plate to Mrs. Murphy. Mrs. Joyce Rinehart made the birthday cake. Auxiliary members cooked the dinner, served by the Fire Belles. A round and square dance followed. Honored guests included Winston Green, past 5th district commander, and Mrs. Green; James Friday, district commander; Hager Burkhard, first vice-commander, 5th district, and

Mrs. Burkhard; Henry Case, second vice-commander, 5th district, and Mrs. Case; Melvin Switzer, 5th district adjutant, and Mrs. Switzer; Lester Amstutz, 5th district finance officer, and Mrs. Amstutz; William Swartz, 5th district chaplain; Joseph Reindle, 5th district sergeant-at-arms, and Ira Black, 5th district assistant sergeant-at-arms, and Mrs. Black. David Witche was master of ceremonies. Robert Bushey led the prayer.

The Old Timer - Title IX requirements

insist that girls be afforded an equal opportunity with boys, in athletics as well as other aspects of education. The lawyers so far say this doesn't mean equal funding but it does mean the same number of programs and the same amount of space and time. Which may mean that we'll have to give up the junior high program for both boys and girls so that we can have the space and time to accommodate girls. Already 12 girls have said they want to play varsity softball. The athletic control board will be asked to stretch an already tight budget to fund the equipment and game expenses. WHAT IT ALL BOILS down to, we think, is this: The whole business of the 'athletic program ought to be studied before we put another new dime into it. It ought to be discussed with no preconceived notions as to its inevitability, or lack thereof, but rather with emphasis upon whether the pupils want it and will support it, whether their parents (as distinguished from parents of graduates) want it and will support it, and NOT whether the program can be supported by dunning every merchant in capacity or staging a football in the Public Square for one week each summer. And when the measure of support is determined, the program ought to be cut to fit the last.

The Johnny Appleseed conference may be a thing of the past by that time. Aside from a couple of seasons in basketball, we've hardly been competitive in the major sports, so if it folds, we won't have lost much. If the three teams slow talking about leaving do so, the league will die of its own weight.

The present school board has served notice it doesn't want to be a rubber stamp, that it will decide what's good for the district after careful deliberation. The time for that deliberation, and a prompt decision, is now. And the board will do well to keep in mind that if it's proper and just to raise and spend $75 on Johnny to play basketball, it's also proper and just to raise and spend $75 on Johnny, or his sister or brother, to play the violin.

Pledges were led by Connie Sloan. Recreation leaders, Margaret Flora and Kay Pittenger, led in a game of "Simon Says", won by Carmie Sciotto.

The group sang "Happy Birthday" to Tammy Phillips, Tammy Adkins, Nancy Ritchie and Laura Kraft.

A demonstration on "How to Make Panocha Bars" was given by Kay Pittenger. Robin Castle demonstrated "How to Make Chocolate Brownies".

Laura Kraft gave a talk on "Twelve Rules for Good Health". Health chairman, Karen Russell, passed out leaflets, "Let's Concentrate on You".

Next meeting will be Mar. 23 in the home of Angela Tallman.

Shiloh Community Grange 2608 met yesterday at 8:30 p. m. Theme was "Inspection Night Lecturer". Women's activities committee were in charge of the refreshments.

Program books were written when Shilohettes 4-H club met in the home of Kay Pittenger Mar. 9. Winners were Kay Pittenger, first; Karen Russell, second; Angela Tallman, third; Amy Echeibarger, fourth. Honorable mention was given to Judy Hatfield and Nancy Ritchie for their books.

Pledges were led by Connie Sloan. Recreation leaders, Margaret Flora and Kay Pittenger, led in a game of "Simon Says", won by Carmie Sciotto.

The group sang "Happy Birthday" to Tammy Phillips, Tammy Adkins, Nancy Ritchie and Laura Kraft.

A demonstration on "How to Make Panocha Bars" was given by Kay Pittenger. Robin Castle demonstrated "How to Make Chocolate Brownies".

Laura Kraft gave a talk on "Twelve Rules for Good Health". Health chairman, Karen Russell, passed out leaflets, "Let's Concentrate on You".

Next meeting will be Mar. 23 in the home of Angela Tallman.

CHURCH NEWS

Methodists . . .

The Rev. Merlin V. Vining, Mansfield district superintendent of the United Methodist Church, East Ohio Conference, will be the speaker for the third Lenten service of the Plymouth-Shiloh parish Sunday.

The Rev. Mr. Vining is serving the first year as district superintendent under appointment by the resident bishop, Francis Kearns.

Prior to his appointment, he was senior pastor for five years in First United Methodist church, Ashland. This will be the Rev. Mr. Vining's first opportunity to speak to the members of the parish.

The service will be in Plymouth United Methodist church at 7:30 p. m. with special music presented by Michael McFarren and Miss Sue Shury. Parish junior choir will sing "He Was a Rebel" and the combined parish adult choirs will sing "Alone". Public is welcome.

Roman Catholic . . .

A paper drive to benefit the Upstairs Store will be staged Saturday by the auxiliary of St. Joseph's Roman Catholic church.

A truck will be parked in the church's parking area for those who are able to deliver their papers. There will also be a curbside pick up during the morning.

Persons are asked to tie their papers together in bundles and not to include catalogues nor magazines.

Shiloh club plans flower show

Shiloh Town & Country Garden club staged its March meeting at the home of Mrs. R. Eugene Russell.

Roll call was answered by 12 members naming their signs of spring, which included the spring flowers, leaves, buds and sunny days. The guests were present, Mrs. Guy Flora, Mrs. John Stima and Miss Lisa Gundrum.

Dean Hamman conducted the business meeting. Members will purchase two mountain ash trees to be planted at Mr. Hope cemetery as an Arbor day project.

Donations were received for the planting at the Shiloh-Cass-Blomington fire station.

Flower show July 30 and 31 was discussed. Mrs. Hamman appointed committees and Mrs. Stima named members from the Ganges Garden club who will also serve.

Chairmen are Mrs. Robert Gundrum, place; Mrs. Hamman and Mrs. Stima; Judge, Mrs. Robert Forsythe, Mrs. Ina Boyce, Mrs. Alice Owens, Mrs. Nadine Warrington, Mrs. Virgil Yarger and Mrs. Wilgus Patton, scheduling; Mrs. Russell and Mrs. John Gundrum, publicity; Mrs. Frank Dossan and Mrs. Robert Gundrum, educational; Mrs. John Barnhart and Mrs. W. W. Pittenger, staging, and Miss Margy Hamman and Mrs. Karen Bloodhart, ribbon placing.

Members were reminded of the bake and handicraft items sale on Friday, Apr. 16.

Mrs. Barnhart gave the Kingwood report.

OAGC spring regional meeting will be Apr. 28 starting at 10 a. m. at Mansfield Grotto hall. Knox county garden clubs will be hosts. Deadline for luncheon reservations is Apr. 21.

Mrs. Charles Russell, Shelby, demonstrated the art of quilting. She said that quilting first started in the 15th century and was done in the 17th by nuns, using birchfeathers and wrapping the paper strips around them. The art is being revived now and is becoming popular. The present day "quilt" is a round toothpick around which the narrow precut strips of paper are wrapped and glued. Mrs. Russell showed some of her creations. Each member and guest then made a design and framed it.

April meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Owens. Easter egg glitters will be made.

"Flame of Freedom" ceremony took place Friday at Shiloh Elementary school.

Shiloh Junior High band played several songs. Girl Scout invocation was led by Junior Girl Scout pledge of allegiance by Brownie Girl Scout Diana Hudson.

Cadettes led all troops in singing "America". Mrs. Pat Breemer, Mansfield Girl Scout Council, accepted the contributions from the Scouts for the Juliett Law Fund. All the troops formed a "hand of friendship" circle and the leaders lit a candle, then the "Flame of Freedom" was then passed around the circle. The flame was extinguished and the girls traveled to Plymouth Fireworks school for a combined ceremony with the Plymouth Scouts. The girls then took their candles home to be lighted at 5 p. m.

Mrs. W. W. Pittenger, Mrs. Robert Gundrum, Mrs. Proctor Steele, Mrs. Everett Pry, Jr. and Mrs. Leo Russell went to Cleveland Mar. 8 to attend the Home and Garden show.

Mrs. Thomas Dawson's fifth grade class went to Tiffin Mar. 11 for a field trip in Tiffin Glass

Co. to see how glassware is made. Pupils were shown how designs are put on glass and how some designs are cut into the glass.

Chaperones were Mrs. Dale Keesy, Mrs. Gerald Strong and Mrs. Robert Crabbs.

Ellen Parrigan will celebrate her 19th birthday anniversary Mar. 19.

Kathy Vanderpool celebrated her 19th birthday anniversary Mar. 17.

Regina Lewis will celebrate her 12th birthday anniversary Mar. 19.

Why the good neighbor made instant grandchildren.

In our time, in our world, the old get hidden away and forgotten much too often.

In a Connecticut city, The American Red Cross—America's Good Neighbor—did something about it.

There, Red Cross Youth each "adopted a grandparent." Strictly one to one. The purpose: regular visits—to make life just a little more worth living for older folks.

A small matter, you may think—especially if there just don't happen to be any older people in your neighborhood, or your life. But it represents just what Red Cross is all about.

Because The American Red Cross is a home town affair. That's why you find us doing different things in different home towns.

We're what you need us to be. Whoever you are. Wherever you are.

And isn't that what a Good Neighbor is all about? Be a good neighbor. Help The Good Neighbor.
