Red tackles Freddie there tomorrow

Two teams that don't figure much in the Johnny Appleseed conference face this season lock horns in the second game of the seven match slate at Fredericktown tomorrow.

Neither team has won in the league so far. Plymouth risks extending the longest losing streak in the conference, which could reach 23 games if the Big Red does not prevail in this one.

The Freddie's have won just one game. So has the Big Red. On-form and past records, the Freddie's have to be favored, if for no other reason than that they are playing at home, where they are always tough to beat.

Fredericktown did not do too well against Ontario last week, but then, who does? The Warriors are loaded this season and the signs are that if Ontario gets past Loudonville there in two weeks' time, Coach Roger Copeland will have another undefeated season to boast about.

Judge releases tax return

Judge Thomas E. Heydinger, Huron county probate and juvenile judge, is running hard to win election in his own right.

He was appointed to succeed Robert Smith when the Smith went up to the common pleas bench, to succeed Robert J. Vetter, who retired.

Heydinger has now released what he says is a copy of his 1975 income tax return and challenges his opponent, Joseph F. Dush, a Willard lawyer, to do the same.

The copies of the form sent by Judge Heydinger to news media in Huron county show income of $28,668.96 and an adjusted gross income of $28,140. Tax paid was $6,105.76.

seasoned supporters, is zero mistakes.

In each defeat so far, it was mistakes, whether mental or physical, that led to Plymouth's downfall. The breakdown of the kicking team's defense led to Hopewell-Loudon's victory. The breakdown of the kicking team's defense led to two tight touchdowns in the Clear Fork contest.

In the first two engagements of the season, Plymouth was not over-matched and it acquitted itself well, if not nobly. In the third game, it was outweighed, outmanned and outran, if not out-thought, and in a dozen games with the Colts, Plymouth would be lucky to win one.

Tomorrow is a different story. Fredericktown isn't so strong this season as it has been.

Nevertheless, there are 19 lettermen on the squad, and 11 of them are 12th graders.

Coach Paul Watters downplays the importance of so many lettermen. He says a lot of them earned their monograms by playing on specialty teams. This may be a psychological weapon, because to win a letter, a player

22% drop in pupils at PJVS

Although enrollment in Pioneer Joint Vocational school has increased by 25 pupils, Plymouth's contribution has dropped by 21.6 per cent to 69. There were 88 Plymouth pupils enrolled there last year.

Total enrollment this year is 952 pupils, 421 in the 12th grade and 531 in the 11th grade. Last year the comparable figures were 500 and 427. Enrollment from other schools:

Buckeye Central, 91; Bucyrus, 21; Colonel Crawford, 25; Creswell, 61; Greening, 87; Gallion, 54; Lexington, 109; Lucas, 37; Northmor, 59; Ontario, 58; Shelby, 173; Willard, 96; Wynford, 12.

Three local persons have been approved as instructors for evening classes. These are Jerry Bishop, high school science teacher; Mrs. Earl Fidler, Shiloh route 1, in cake decorating; and Mrs. Thomas J. Webber, in needlecraft.

Registration to end Monday

Huron county board of election, at 180 Milan Avenue, Norwalk, will remain open today and Monday until 9 p. m. to take voter registration.

Regular office hours are daily from 8:30 a. m. until 4 p. m. and on Saturday from 9 a. m. until noon. Voter registration will close Monday at 9 p. m. for the Nov. 2 general election.

If one has moved since one last voted, has not voted in the past two calendar years or has changed his name, he should check on his voter registration.

Any United States citizen who will be 18 years of age on or before Nov. 2 may register and vote in the coming presidential election.

Voter registration and changes of name or residence may also be done at any of the eight permanent branch offices at their regular hours of business. The branches are in the libraries in Bellevue, Monroeville and New London; the bank in Greenwich; North Fairfield and Wakeman, the main office of the Willard bank and the Willard Chamber of Commerce. Those wishing to check on the status of their voter registration may call 668-8238.

Mrs. Brinson succumbs at 76

Mrs. Frank M. Brinson, 76, Plymouth route 1, died early Sunday in Shelby Memorial hospital of a brief illness.

She was a retired teacher in Huron and Richland county schools.

Born L. Ruth McClelland, she lived her whole life here. She was a member of First Evangelical Lutheran church and of its auxiliary and of the Get Together Farm Women's club.

She is survived by her husband, two daughters, Mrs. Margaret, now Mrs. Lowell Amick; Mansfield, and Myra, now Mrs. Thomas Miller, Springfield; a sister, Mrs. Glenn Brinson, Shelby, and two granddaughters.

Her pastor, the Rev. James W. McDorman, conducted services Tuesday at 2 p. m. from the church. Burial by McQuate Funeral home was in Mt. Hope cemetery, Cass township.

Brooks to retire Oct. 8

Postmaster since 1957 cites poor health

Postmaster Raymond L. Brooks, 63, will retire at the close of business Oct. 8.

He succeeded the late Claude Sourwine as postmaster in 1957, having resigned as clerk of Plymouth township to take the federal appointment. Rep. J. Harry McGregor (R-West Lafayette) was then 17th district Congressman. Brooks had previously sought nomination as GOP commissioner of Richland county and as recorder.

Born between Plymouth and New Haven, the son of the late Harry Brookses, Postmaster Brooks was graduated by Plymouth High school in 1931. He has always lived in or near Plymouth and now resides with his wife, Hazel, at the west edge of the village. They have three daughters, all married.

Two plots sold in school district

Carl H. Ganzhorn has sold his homestead in Plymouth township, comprising one acre, to John H. Rievers, Jr.

Hansel D. Robinson bought two acres in Bloomingrove township from Pearl Hamilton, Richland county recorder reports.

C. S. BeVier dies in Florida

Formerly a retailer here, Clarence BeVier, 76, Tampa, Fla., died there Sept. 6.

Born here, he lived in Tampa 22 years. He formerly operated a garden and small implement business at West Broadway and Plymouth street.

He was a member of Hyde Park Presbyterian church, of Richland Lodge 201, F&AM, and of Tampa Consistory, AASR. His wife, Virginia, died in July, 1975.

He is survived by three daughters, Mary Ann, Tampa; Mrs. Geraldine Dietrich, Los Angeles, Cal.; and Mrs. Virginia Maple, Beale Air Force base, Marysville, Cal.

There are five grandchildren. Services were conducted in Tampa Sept. 9 by his pastor, the Rev. Gerald L. Voyer. Burial was in the Garden of Memories there.

Mrs. Sams, 73, dies in hospital

Mrs. Harold Sams, 73, 76 Portner street, died in Shelby Memorial hospital late Friday night.

Although she was in failing health for a long time, she had been hospitalized only briefly. Born Helen M. Rowlett Apr. 5, 1903, she lived here all her life. She was a member of First United Presbyterian church, whose minister, the Rev. Bruce Williams, conducted services there Monday at 3 p. m. Burial in Greenlawn cemetery was by McQuate Funeral home.

ried. These are Beverly, now Mrs. William Flaherty, Plymouth, an elementary teacher in Shelby; Bonnie Jean, now Mrs. Michael Ward, Columbus, and Melody, now Mrs. Gregory Sherck, Plymouth route 1.

Brooks is retiring now, sooner than he wanted to, because "my legs won't take the constant pressure of being on my feet all the time." He has recently undergone leg surgery for the removal of a vein. Postal authorities have reduced the staff and increased the demands on the permanent staff in an effort to reduce costs and to obtain greater efficiency. The present staff consists of a rural carrier, James J. Cunningham, who has most seniority among postal service employees here; Wilford Postema, clerk, and three local carriers. Very little recovering from painful third degree burns in University hospital, Columbus; Roger Smith and Charles Harrington. There are 311 drops in Plymouth route 1, the only rural route operated here, and 736 in the village, including lock boxes.

The Plymouth post office is classified as a second class office now. For a time, when the Rev. William Conner, then pastor of St. Joseph's Roman Catholic church, was soliciting sales tax stamps, the office was a first class office. That period, so far as Postmaster Brooks recalls, was between 1954 and 1962.

Some questions about the administration of the ambulance service and of the village sewer system arose during the meeting of sewer council Sept. 21.

New Haven township trustees, Willard Baxter, Thomas Sharda and Frank Smith, inquired why they had not received their monthly reports. It was explained the clerk did not realize she was to send them out

Estate of George Ally, New Haven, has been inventoried at $73,325 in Huron county probate court.

Estate of Addie Gurney, age New Haven, has been inventoried at $44,783.

Revaluation of real estate in Huron county for tax purposes shows a 100 per cent increase since 1975, the county auditor, Kenneth Reed, announces.

Market value for about 32,105 parcels in the 19 townships of the county jumped from $152,228,700 to $323,654,531.

The picnic is over in Shiloh. Trustees of public affairs have accepted the townships of the county for $152,228,700 to $323,654,531.

For the first time in 34 years, they won't give free electricity to about 276 customers of the village electric service for November. Heretofore, all customers who were not delinquent in their electric accounts received the November stamped bill as a Christmas present. Trustees think an increase in rates may be required in January.

The mayor and clerk were authorized by council Sept. 22 to sell 10.21 acres of land owned by the village at the site of the Little league

Council faces questions on ambulance, sewers

Some questions about the administration of the ambulance service and of the village sewer system arose during the meeting of sewer council Sept. 21.

New Haven township trustees, Willard Baxter, Thomas Sharda and Frank Smith, inquired why they had not received their monthly reports. It was explained the clerk did not realize she was to send them out to them. In the past the ambulance committee had delivered them. It was agreed they will see a monthly financial statement also, rather than one each six months, which had also been sent in the past.

The townships are to be billed for their 25 per cent share each of the ambulance radio. The bill was paid from the village's revenue sharing fund so there would be no delay. The township payments will go into that fund.

Councilmen D. Douglas Brumback and John Ray said they did not approve of the "emergency" connection to the sanitary sewer by Carl Hays, who lives in Walnut street, on the grounds it was not a bona fide "emergency".

The decision to connect was taken by the mayor and Councilman Toy Patton during a special session Sept. 18.

Wayne Baker and James Holloman, utility employees, were authorized to attend the upcoming sewer school. The village will pay the fee of $85 for each. Brumback made the motion to approve it, providing they attend the classes and take the final examination, otherwise they will have to reimburse the village for the cost of the school.

But this applies chiefly to bonding the ambulance service. Ten mills is the maximum amount of tax that can be levied without the approval of the electorate.

Shiloh - Cass - Bloomingrove ambulance service will sponsor a training school for attendants of three hours a week for 20 weeks. Thirteen Plymouth and 14 Shiloh are expected to enroll.

Red loses 22nd in league play

The lights on the scoreboard clock went out late in the first period Friday night. And the lights went out on Plymouth about 10 minutes later.

Handed two early touchdowns by Plymouth mistakes, Clear Fork proceeded to maul the Big Red in Johnny Appleseed conference play here, 32 to 6. It was the 10th loss in 12 games with the Colts and the 22nd straight conference defeat.

Big Doug Weikle, a 197-pound fullback who's only an 11th grader, scored three touchdowns.

The Colt defense kept Plymouth bottled up during much of the first half. The Big Red never advanced from its own territory and late in the half, from its 29, a poor snap from center forced the punter, John Beyer, to kick to catch it. He touched his knee and the ball went over to the visitors at the Red 16.

IN FOUR PLAYS WEIKLE scored, the last play covering five yards over tackle. He ran the PATs and the Colts were in a lead they were never to give up.

Only an interception in the end zone by Marty McKenzie saved the Big Red from disaster.

As time ran out, McKenzie snatched Mike Carroll's pass about two yards into the end zone and ran it out 45 yards before he was forced out of bounds.

Clear Fork had clearly the better of it during the first 24 minutes.

The Colts were twice intercepted, but one completion among seven tries produced seven yards. The Colts rolled up 61 on the ground, with four first downs.

Plymouth, meanwhile, couldn't get an offense going. With three first downs, the Big Red gained 34 yards on the ground and just three in the air.

Clear Fork intercepted Plymouth once.

THE COLTS WENT TO work early in the second half. With their second possession, they needed four plays to cover 16 yards to paydirt. Weikle booted home for the last yard. Carroll threw to Mel Doup for the PATs.

Clear Fork obtained possession with another gift. Ross sauted to punt. The snap sailed over his head and Clear Fork recovered at the Red 16.

guard, squirted through, reversed his field and sped down the middle of the field ahead of all pursuers.

Tom Miller's pass to Charlie Mack for the PATs was successful but short and no points resulted.

The clock read 6:10 of the third period.

CLEAR FORK WAS FAR from through, although its conduct with the kickoff seemed to suggest otherwise. The Colts fumbled and Plymouth recovered.

The Big Red punched to the Colt 17, where Miller was intercepted by Darryl Jones.

From here the Colts marched 86 yards in seven plays for the crusher.

Amos Fry tore through left tackle for 252. Weikle rained for 18 after the Colts lost 15 by penalty. Doup got six and Weikle made first down at the 50. Here Carroll rolled out to his left, swept diagonally across the field toward the east sideline and raced untouched for the touchdown. He threw to Doup for the PATs.

Plymouth did not again penetrate Colt territory.

Clear Fork had another score left.

Halfway through the fourth period, the visitors fielded Kevin Finnegan's punt at their 42. It took them seven plays to score. The big winner was a 23-yard pass play from Carroll to Doup, which gave the Colts first down at the Red 32.

Fry hit right tackle for 18 and first down at the Red 14. Weikle got four, Doup five and then Weikle went the last five. Carroll rolled out for the PATs.

This is not a Clear Fork team of the old stripe but it is opportunistic and it certainly collared Plymouth's offense. Save for Cunningham's breakaway run, the Big Red was limited to a total offense of less than 100 yards, 90 on the ground and three in the air.

Plymouth's defense, meanwhile, wholly satisfactory during the first half, simply came apart under punishment in the second half and when the smoke had cleared, the Colts had amassed 236 yards rushing.

Has Ice age returned? You'd think so from data!

By ALN LIZ
In a few months, either in Washington or New York City, there may be the final splurge of the whole bicentennial year. It is going to be a real creation, but it must wait until the weather cools down a bit. Even then it really will not be cool enough to keep it in shape very long.

This will be a sculpture in ice called "We the People", which is being designed by a Californian. It will be composed of 250 blocks of ice weighing 300 pounds each (at this point all I can think is "What a hoard of ice.") It makes our three little ice trays look sick, especially when you are planning ahead for guests). The creation will be four feet wide, 53 feet long and 11 feet high.

All this ice, and this is the big catch, will come—and I assume rather equally from all the 50 states. What I would like to know is ice to be transported in dry ice or will it be plain ordinary water to be frozen once it arrives on the site. Anyway, the whole thing is going to cost about $15,000, which is rather cheap as bicentennial things have gone. And here is the next catch: It is estimated that it will melt away to the tune of $748 a day.

Translated into the language of a small community, the whole thing represents about three good police cruisers. Admittedly, my thinking has become rather warped about how money is spent around the countryside, and no one in this whole great bicentennial year seems to come up with such practicalities. Of course, all sorts of buildings were restored, books were published like mad, but they were the extras that we really do need, but a hungry man does not need to eat caviar.

This creation is being paid for by the National Ice Association. They have the moola and wish to show their gratitude. They really should be complimented because they were almost out of business completely once everyone started to buy those new-fangled ice making machines.

I can still remember the horse-drawn wagon our local ice man had. In fact he had two horses, and daily came down our street, and can you believe this was in a city? During the warm months, the whole neighborhood chased after him, snatching bits of ice. Dirty as it was, we ate it. After 50 some years most of us are still around, so it really did not hurt us.

ICE HAS BEEN MAKING a real comeback as a commodity to be purchased.

A new industry has been created because of the wants and needs of fishermen, picnickers and those who have a bunch of friends in for a quiet evening. Ice is the most essential part of it all. Only our English friends will drink a very warm scotch and soda. They do, too. I have had them in my living room and watched them throw the ice cubes into the fireplace.

About five million tons of ice are produced by the ice making industry each year, and what they call "social ice", translated means what you put in your drinks and those of your guests, accounts for two-thirds of it. I would guess that the rest goes to those fishermen who go so far north and must get their fish back home again.

Since we all have refrigerators and some have the automatic ice making deals, it is hard to believe that such an industry is thriving, but it is, and the fact that it is, simply makes it a part of what a really great country we have. It is the diverseness that makes us what we are.

And is there anything more diversified than the frozen food section of the local grocery store? Some of it is plain lousy. This you discover by trying it out, but some is really better than the average person can brew up.

There are some things I have simply given up trying to create and just buy them. One thing is a good pizza. I know how to make them and it would take me two days to do one and if the weather is bad, there goes the dough. You can blame all sorts of things on the weather, and frankly, in cooking, you will be most right. Only cook when the sun is shining brightly. At this rate you can plan on eating out some place about 182 days a year, which means you save all that washing and drying of dishes, and you save gas and electricity, too, since you are not cooking.

There will be no recipe this week because I have found one which has not been tried out, but I know will work, and it is to be Thanksgiving day presents. Once it is tested, then I will pass it on, but it simply sounds like a real dream, and can be a very welcomed holiday gift.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK

Mr. and Mrs. Earl C. Cashman vacationed last week along the Skyline Drive and at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va.

The Rev. and Mrs. David Sams and their family are occupying the apartment of Harry Vandervort while he spends his winter months in Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. William Fazio, Orlando Park, Ill., are visiting their daughter, Mrs. Elaine Tackett, this week.

Mrs. Louise Angelovich, Brooklyn, N. Y., is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. McIntire.

Mrs. Reese Clemens, Shelby, was the guest speaker Monday night during the meeting of Church Women United in the social hall of St. Joseph's Roman Catholic church.

Plans are being made by the women to plant a nativity scene vaneath the village Christmas tree again this holiday season.

Art show set

An arts and craft show will be conducted Oct. 10 from noon until 6 p. m. at the MSC Center near Shelby. The public is invited.

Club sets 81st year

Plymouth's oldest organization, the Twentieth Century circle, will begin its 81st year of meetings Oct. 11 with a dinner session at 6:30 p. m. in First Evangelical Lutheran church.

The circle was founded by 25 women, who originally called themselves the Women's 19th Century Reading circle. In 1901, out of necessity, the name was changed to the 20th Century circle.

The circle has met continuously bi-monthly each year between October and April.

Officers for this year are Mrs. Robert L. McIntire, president; Mrs. John H. Hutchison, Jr., secretary, and Mrs. Walter Butler, treasurer.

The committees are Mrs. H. James Root, Mrs. Carl V. Ellis, Mrs. William B. Ross and Mrs. Gave Shira, program; Mrs. R. Harold Mack and Mrs. Butler, membership; Mrs. Edward O. Ramsey and Mrs. Carl Wilford, flowers and gifts; Mrs. Dale McPherson and Mrs. Hutchison, refreshments; Also, Mrs. Norman B.

McQuown and Mrs. Earl C. Cashman, entertainment, and Mrs. Wayne H. Strine, Mrs. McIntire and Mrs. Ronald Geller, picnic at 4:30 p. m. in First Evangelical Lutheran church.

Mrs. McIntire will give the president's greeting at the potluck dinner, and a program of American music will be presented by Mrs. Strine and Mrs. Geller.

Honorary members of the circle are Mrs. E. Edward L. Earnest, Mrs. J. Elden Nimmons, Mrs. Robert C. McBeth, Mrs. Henry H. Fackler and Mrs. Charles H. Dick.

Bids sought

Competitive bids to provide cleaning services in the Plymouth post office will be received until Saturday at 2 p. m.

Contract period is from Sept. 25 through Mar. 24, 1978. The postmaster will furnish further data, which may also be obtained by referring to Procurement Services Office, Room 317, 850 Twin Rivers drive, Columbus, 43216.

Oct. 29 has been set as the tentative date for the swine flu vaccine to be given in Plymouth. It will be at Eshet-Parcel Post 447, American Legion, in Trux street. Further details will be announced later.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Croy and their daughter, Karen, Waterford, Mich., and Mrs. Croy's mother, Mrs. Edmund Hawk, St. Petersburg, Fla., were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Frakes. Thursday Mrs. Frakes was hostess to the Maids of the Mist Farm Women's club.

Look . . .

It's not so much where you say it, in this newspaper, anyway, as what you say and how well you say it. Mrs. W. H. says, "I always get good response when I run ads in your paper." (She never spends more than $2 an issue.)

C. R. says, "The business I have developed over the years is in part because we used The Advertiser to serve our friends in Plymouth, old friends that we had before we started to advertise and new friends that we made after we started to advertise."

You don't need a whole page to tell your story. But you need to tell your story professionally. Why not rely on a pro? We haven't many pretensions, but one is that we know how to write ad copy, whether to sell a barn, a baby carriage or a brougham (remember?).

Our cheapest rate is 20 words for $1. You could hardly go wrong at that price. You can reach us at 687-5511. We'll come a-runnin' to serve you, or we'll deal via Alexander Graham Bell. Call now.

Announcing Thurs. - Fri. - Sat. Grand Opening Scotti Muffler Center

Located at Sunshine Car Care Center Rt. 224 Willard

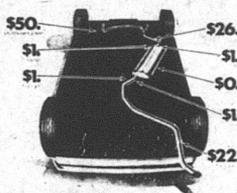

A little note from my heart: This area has done a lot for Sunshine's. It gives me a wonderful feeling to bring a muffler center to the area that will give quality, guarantee & price. It's long over due. It's another way of saying, "Thank You".

Thank You, Billy "Sunshine" Inmon

If you ever have to collect on a muffler guarantee, this is what could be collected from you.

Lots of places are willing to repair your exhaust system. But not too many are willing to guarantee any more than the muffler. Which means if you have to replace any other part of the exhaust system they installed (like the tailpipe, exhaust pipe, clamps, hangers, etc.) you'll have to pay the piper. What you pay depends on what kind of car you drive. The approximate prices in the example above are just for a 1970 Chevy Impala V-8.

Now at Scotti, we're willing to guarantee each and every part of the exhaust system we install. Which means if you should ever have to replace part of a Scotti exhaust system, you'll never have to pay for any parts, or labor, for as long as you own the car. And any of the 450 Scotti dealers coast to coast will honor that guarantee.

And with a guarantee like that you can be certain we're going to give you the best muffler and pipes money can buy. If we didn't we could end up spending all our time replacing them and working for nothing. Yet you don't pay any more at Scotti than you would at one of those other places. After all, what's the good of giving you all this, if we couldn't get you into a Scotti Muffler Center in the first place?

We give you a 100% guarantee on 100% of our work.

field, and it makes little difference what kind of time that was. Fredericktown claims to be the smallest school in the JAC. It may be so, but the Freddie's have some horses. PLYMOUTH WILL need to watch Randy Gaddis, a 170-pounder who scored two touchdowns against Marion Catholic in the opener, which Fredericktown lost, 18 to 15. And the Big Red will need to key on Gary Mickle, another 12th grader, who scales 165. The quarterback is Joe Masararo, an 11th grader who scales

155. On defense, the Freddie's boast Darrell Phillips, who was their MVP on defense last season, in the backfield and Greg George, who weighs 210 pounds at linebacker. George was second team choice on the all-Central district club last season. As for the Big Red, its fans hope it learned a lesson Friday night football is 90 per cent mental and 10 per cent physical. Clear Fork out-physicalled Plymouth, but wouldn't have won so big save by Red mistakes.
