

What about subsidized housing?

The village council ought to take another look at the offer by Huron Metropolitan Housing authority at Mansfield to extend its aegis to Plymouth.

What it would do is enable owners, either public or private, to rent units in existing structures, directly to lower income tenants. Owners receive a contract rent, not exceeding local fair market rent, paid in two parts. The rent (together with an allowance for utilities) paid by the tenant is equal to between 15 and 25 per cent of his family income. The difference between the tenant's rent payment and the total contract rent is paid for through a government subsidy called the housing assistance payment.

After a contract is entered into between the Metropolitan Housing authority and the Department of Housing and Urban Development to provide a grant to pay for the program, the authority notifies owners and prospective tenants. Families and elderly persons who meet eligibility requirements receive certificates of family participation which permit them to locate suitable units.

If the tenant selects an owner's unit, the authority inspects it and offers the owner a chance to repair it to meet standards or, if it is satisfactory, offers to enter into a contract with the owner for an amount to be determined by the authority.

Tenant and owner enter into a lease agreement. If the lease is acceptable to the authority, it enters into a contract with the owner to pay the difference between the tenant's share of the rent and the contract rent.

A security deposit may be required by the owner, equal to one month's tenant rent. The contract between the owner and the authority may not be less than a year nor more than three years. The owner may reserve the right to give notice to vacate during the lease.

Some harsh and offensive statements were made by some councilmen on Mar. 15. Comment upon some of these is submitted in the letters to the editor column today. Further comment is not necessary.

What the councilmen seem to ignore is that this program enables owners of EXTANT housing which is rented or leased to upgrade that housing, thus enlarging the tax duplicate of the village, WITHOUT making further demands upon village services, such as water, electricity and sewer, not to mention police and fire protection.

There is no proper inference that NEW housing is capitalizing on this program would ensue. Certainly, if an entrepreneur sees his way clear to construct new housing that meets the state and county (the village follows Richland county) codes, and rent or lease it to persons who qualify under the program, surely the village should not discourage him.

Some of the councilmen who spoke so harshly on Mar. 15 have previously cudgeled the electorate with protestations of "we have so many old people, we've got to look out after them!"

One could hardly find a better way to do so than to adopt this proposal, with safeguards the village may well wish to negotiate.

There are signs that some councilmen didn't do their homework, agreed, the written proposal was laid before the whole council by the mayor on Mar. 15 without prior notice or consultation. But surely, in a matter so critical as where a person lives or can live, within his means, ought to have commanded more than a cursory look into the proposal and perhaps even a subsequent examination.

It is to be hoped this will come about. The proposal was tabled, not wholly defeated, though there was no doubt about the council's sentiment.

New ambulance in offing?

Trustees of New Haven and Plymouth townships agreed informally Monday night to pay half the cost of purchasing a new vehicle for the ambulance service.

Meeting with Donald Vanderpool, captain of the service, and Duane Keene, council committee man for the service, they agreed that Vanderpool should travel to Kansas City, Mo., to inspect a 1974 fully equipped ambulance, which is available for $8,700.

Vanderpool told village council at its Mar. 15 meeting Plymouth cannot qualify for federal aid with which to purchase a new vehicle, which would cost between $18,500 and $24,000.

The ambulance fund has a sum of $5,893.49, which is earmarked for a new vehicle.

General fund broke, village borrows $15,000

Councilmen James L. Jacobs, Sr., and D. Douglas Brumbach spoke forcefully during village council a session Mar. 15.

Because tax money will be later this year than in the past, the council moved to borrow $15,000 in short term funds from Peoples National Bank. Jacobs objected to paying Plymouth Board of Education for backlogging done in the school driveway, which also leads to Mary Faye park.

Mrs. Huston packs it in: ave atque vale

Smoke, didn't drink, didn't associate with those who did and had no matrimonial intentions. A young red-headed farm boy at Shiloh soon changed that. She married him in 1943. She turned in her resignation before the marriage ceremony and thought that was the end of it. But a week after she was married, the board asked her to resume her duties. This she did and taught the following year in Shiloh.

Then Earl, her husband, was not a soldier, was sent overseas, she went back to her family in Belmont and taught there a year.

Thereafter there were born two children, both titan-haired. Karen became a girls' physical education teacher. She is married to Terry Russell, a school principal in Shelby. Roderick is a teacher and reserve basketball coach at Lexington.

The Hustons are now on a trip to Georgia. When they return, she'll resume her church work -- they're members of Community Gospel chapel at Shiloh, where she is organist and pianist and director of the "Gospelettes", a girl organization that sings locally.

And she plans to keep busy on the 250-acre farm in the north side of Route 603 east of Shiloh, where that red-headed farm boy wrestles with the land for a living.

What will board do?

Board of Education heard Mar. 14 about a knotty problem.

The board president, Mrs. Roger Pugh, read a long article published by the Ohio School Board association concerning proposed legislation for collective bargaining among all public employees.

One copies of the proposed legislation are obtained, a meeting with the Shiloh and Plymouth councils and the board will be arranged.

Flor was summoned on a charge of failure to stop within an assured clear distance.

Greek meat balls have spicy taste

By ALN LIZ
You would think that governors would have time to do that carry on a first class feud over a statue.

However, it is the most "LETTERS TO THE EDITOR"

Sir: The reasoning of our village council has amazed me many times but their decision of Tuesday night, not to allow subsidized housing in Plymouth has made me wonder "What kind of town are they living in?" They seem to have a goal in mind and that goal is "don't let Plymouth grow." We can seek the same or regress but not grow.

One councilman is worried "we will get undesirable out-of-towners moving in." What are we saying? Are you undesirable because you are from out of town? I'm glad we moved here 16 years ago because I do like Plymouth. Perhaps we should build a wall around town and hire a gate keeper. We could issue passes to all of us people who have to go out of town to earn a living, so that we can buy our needs and pay our taxes in Plymouth.

One councilman says "when you get federal money coming in you lose control." You lose control of what? Who does he want to control? I think we could use money, federal or otherwise.

People who live in low subsidized houses spend their money for the same things we do. They buy food, clothing, gasoline, go to the doctor, dentist and send their children to school. In return for these things they spend money, renewe which this town needs.

I agree with Jim Jacobs, we don't have the money for electric services, etc. for this housing. Our turning our backs on this sort of thing is the reason we don't have the money and with the attitude toward people "from our of town" we never will.

We desperately need a new junior high school and a great deal of other things for our schools. How are we to get these things if we keep turning our nose at the federal government or anyone else?

important statue this country owns. So important that over 1.4 million come to look at it each year.

By now you must know that it is the Statue of Liberty. It is a thrill to see. Once I took the ferry just to ride past it. The second time, while we were sailing out of New York harbor, I was too darn seasick to even look. Never, never eat a spaghetti dinner on your first outgoing boat. The third time it was three years later when we came home. We all got up early to see it, and it meant we were home.

The State of New York, and the City of New York have always considered it basic to them, but New Jersey says, "Heck, no." It has a point. It is New Jersey that furnishes the electricity, water and sewer system to the little island on which she is perched. Now they want to build a bridge to it from the Jersey side, which the park people who take care of it really do not like, because it will increase the visitors and they have enough trouble handling what comes by ferry.

She will celebrate her 100th birthday in 1986, so maybe by then the feud will be over, because everyone will become buddies, which special celebrations tend to do. It's like going to a happy party and speaking to people you don't even like because you must be polite to your hosts.

EVERYONE WILL BE really friendly if you serve them Greek-like meat balls. You can do a lot with these. They can be little balls for munching with liquid refreshments or larger balls with tomato sauce over them on noodles or rice. In a bowl mix two pounds of hamburger, a cup of bread crumbs, a cup of finely chopped onions, a half cup of water, a teaspoon of salt, one egg, a half teaspoon of cinnamon (or a little more if you like), a couple twists of peppercorns, a teaspoon of garlic powder. When this is all well mixed, add two teaspoons of oregano and mix well. Roll into balls, then roll them in flour gently. Grease a cookie sheet with oil, and into the oven they go at 350 degrees for an hour. Turn them around - occasionally - so they will brown evenly. What makes these Greek is the cinnamon, which all good Greek cooks seem to add to everything.

Here're rules to guide engageds

There is never a charge for publishing the photograph of a newly-engaged girl or a newly-married bride. "Newly" means within 30 days.

Black - and - white glossy photographs are suitable for reproduction. Color photographs are generally unsatisfactory. The society editor will reject any photograph that will not reproduce well, to avoid offense to the bride.

Photographs of the affianced girl and/or the bride alone are preferred, in weddings, since it is her family that foots the bill, save for minor expenses, the society editor thinks the news story should feature the bride alone.

Photographs will be returned after a reasonable interval.

Photographs used first in other local media will not be published.

About letters to the editor . . .

Letters to the editor are always welcome, subject to some rules. They must deal with a subject of common interest, be free of libelous, obscene and impertinent matter, be limited to 250 words, and signed by the writer.

The name of the writer will be concealed on request. Letters that have been previously published elsewhere are not acceptable. The newspaper does not customarily accept letters written by persons not usually residing within its circulation area.

Letters that are typewritten, double spaced, on one side of the sheet, normally receive greater consideration, but others will be accepted.

The newspaper reserves the right to edit all letters to conform with good taste, its rules of style and its rule of brevity.

Letters arguing one political question or another are not accepted after two weeks before an election in which the question is pertinent.

Who Makes The News... THIS PAPER CARES ABOUT? YOU DO!!

You do, of course...just take a look through its pages.

Somewhere there's the news of a new citizen or two who's come into our lives, noisy and hungry. To you, it's a baby. To others it's a sister or a brother or a niece or a grandson. But its arrival is an important and happy event worthy of notice.

Somewhere else there is news of losses — grievous ones — and we have occasion to reflect on the sometimes inscrutable nature of life's patterns.

Then there are graduations, and, weddings, homecomings and leavings. There are meetings and planings and projects.. All the efforts expended by you to advance a cause, change a situation, improve our community. There are promotions and advancements and honors and controversies.

There are the exertions of volunteer firemen serving us with their skill and dedication, and of so many others who provide community services.

All this — the complexity of community life — is reported and commented on by this newspaper 52 weeks a year.

Basic to these efforts is the realization that this newspaper exists not just FOR YOU . . . but BECAUSE OF YOU.

It is first and foremost . . . YOUR NEWS-PAPER!
