

New cruiser

New police cruiser was bought second hand from Ohio Highway Patrol for $1,250. Sergt. W. Robert Seel spent about $250 more of official funds to repair it. The vehicle is now on station. It replaces a 1970 Ford, which will be sold by sealed bid Sept. 20.

Mundane matters occupy village council here

Village council Sept. 6 dealt with mundane matters as well as the firing of the utilities clerk.

And as usual, two councilmen, D. Douglas Brumbach and James L. Jacobs, Sr., dominated the discussion.

The council also gave its approval to the fire ladies to redecorate, remodel and purchase new equipment for the fire house meeting room, which they will pay for. No expenditures will be made from village funds.

Councilman Dwayne Keene reported the ambulance had five calls in the village and three in Plymouth township during August. It travelled 106 miles, using 15 gallons of gasoline.

The mayor's report showed that $512 had been collected in fines and fees for August but that $331 had to be returned to the Huron County Clerk of Courts over a misunderstanding of a case in 1975.

An error was made in the prosecutor's office and apparently not discovered until last week. When restitution for a stolen radar gun was made, the village assumed it received the full amount paid, but the gun was not what had been posted and it is the difference of the two figures that must be returned from this month's collections.

Ohio Department of Transportation will furnish school warning lights for village routes only. The mayor suggested that the state request three for Route 61, one to be at the high school, one near the police station and the other in the vicinity of the post office.

A police cruiser has been purchased from a selection of used state highway patrol cars. Sergt. W. Robert Seel and David Gibson went to Columbus Thursday. Seel purchased a 1975 Plymouth Fury with 66,000 miles on its odometer, but in excellent condition and equipped for $1,250.

Radio equipment still needs to be purchased. Seel is investigating costs, which range from $400 to $600.

Brumbach refused to sign a number of bills for payment during the meeting. His reason was that too many of them were being charged to the sewer fund, which is the "only one with any money". They are to be rechecked by the clerk and the acting administrator.

The mayor's attempt to show that electric collections and the Ohio Power Co. monthly bill were to close together failed. The council put the blame on the fund being in the red, which it is this month in the amount of $29,932.12, squarely on the fact the bills are several months behind.

She said the figures show the village should increase rates to gain at least $25,000 annually to make up the difference.

The Ohio Power bills are two months in arrears and have been since the beginning of 1976, when there was a balance of $106.75 left in the fund to start the year. The clerk was unable to pay the December, 1975, bill for two months until collections were forthcoming to have enough money in the fund. For a few months, the bill was current; in the last two year period, then lagged again when the billings were late.

The mayor contends, however, that even if the bills are behind, each month's collections still do not leave enough profit for the fund after a normal monthly payment is made to Ohio Power and that the department cannot operate on so little a difference.

Brumbach presented copies of rules and regulations to the council and mayor as to how meetings should be conducted.

The mayor said they have been conducted in this manner for years and if they are unruly it is the council's fault, since members persist in carrying on private conversations among themselves and the spectators do likewise.

A spectator commented afterwards that Brumbach was more to blame than anyone for unruliness during meetings.

Several complaints were aired about meter readings. Roll said that for one year his water meter has been estimated. The village hired a special meter reader last year when there were so many complaints of the village employees. The mayor suggested that Keene get together with the meter readers where any problems exist since he was hired on Keene's recommendation. Keene said no.

Solicitor Robert A. McKown was asked to prepare resolutions to advertise for salt bids for the water plant and streets and also for a pickup truck. Keene and Jacobs are to prepare the specifications.

He was also asked to prepare an ordinance to prohibit heavy trucks using West Broadway whose weight is more than that the bridge over the BBO railroad can bear.

Several residents have complained that sand and gravel trucks are scattering their contents en route to a building site in Shelby.

Council members refused to sign a form from the Richland County Welfare department which would allow the department to help pay utility bills overdue from last winter's storm to those who cannot.

Jacobs asked the mayor how many people were on welfare, and the best she could answer was that the last time she checked any figures was about four years ago and it was then 11 per cent of those living in the village. She said she thought the figure had grown.

Kin of villagers dies at Columbus

Brother of Mrs. Robert Lynch, Mrs. Merton Kessler and Lonnie and Ray Caudill, Raymond Caudill, 69, of near Willard, died Sunday in Mt. Carmel hospital, Columbus, of a lengthy illness.

Born in Riceville, Ky., he moved to Willard from Kenton in 1939. He was a retired farmer.

He attended United Baptist church, Carey. He was a past noble grand of New Haven Lodge 41, IOOF; a member of Eastern Rebekah Lodge 458, of the Masonic order, Norwalk Encampment 47, Lodge 161, RAM, and the 3-C Farm Bureau council.

He is also survived by his wife, Lydia; a son, Beecher, Shelby; two daughters, Allene, now Mrs. John L. West, Memphis, Tenn., and Gloria, now Mrs. Kenneth Predmore, Willard; three brothers, Lee, Carey; Powell, Lima, and James, Willard; Hicks, Mansfield, and five grandchildren. Services were conducted at Willard yesterday at 3 p. m. Burial was in Maple Grove cemetery, New Haven township.

A proposal to obtain a secretary to assist the elementary school principal through the CETA program was approved. The employee, who must meet CETA requirements, would be screened by the administration. The work year is 38 weeks.

Michael Anderson, an experienced teacher from Shelby, joined the staff Monday as a CETA assignee. He will be used in elementary schools as a special tutor and will also be assigned to work with gifted pupils. He may additionally be assigned to teach art in Plymouth Elementary school.

Against the vote of Mrs. Roger Hugh, president of the board, a gift of fencing was authorized so that the trustees of Mary Faye park may complete enclosure. Member R. Harold Mack urged approval of the proposal to keep the friendly relations we have had with the park board.

The gift proposal won out over an alternative to charge $1 a foot for the fencing.

Mrs. John Hass, a part-time cook in Plymouth cafeteria, resigned. She said her husband is changing his work and she will wish to accompany him. Mrs. Wilford Postema was hired to succeed her.

Mrs. Betty DeVore and

Mrs. Cindy Vasilakos were hired at $6 an hour as learning disabilities tutors at Shiloh.

MEMBER DAVID HOWARD said he has received a number of complaints that the basketball facilities at the parking lot at the high school have been altered by removal of baskets. Richard Horton, high school principal, said the baskets were removed at the request of the basketball coach, who does not wish his players to be active during September, in view of their practice during the summer. He also said it is difficult to prevent vandalism of the baskets.

The board instructed the superintendent to examine whether public funds cannot be spent to maintain the baskets and make the facilities available to all.

Robert James and Karl Pfaff, 3rd, were assigned as advisers on the 12th grade, Michael McFarren and David Dunn as advisers to the 11th grade, Richard Roll as adviser to the 10th grade, Herbert Hill as adviser to the ninth grade, Amy Robinson will be junior high school cheerleader adviser, Douglas A. ## Unusual Thursday!

Pritchard wins $25,000 in lottery, gets $250 bonus for selling ticket

It's not usual for Charles Pritchard to close his pharmacy on Thursday afternoons.

He does that on Wednesday afternoons.

But last week was an exception. And if all Thursday afternoon closings would pay out as that one did, Pritchard would be happy to make the change.

He drove to Cleveland with his family - his wife and seven children ranging in age from seven to 21 - and sat before a television camera while his name was drawn for $25,000 third prize in the Ohio lottery program.

The prize came as a sort of premature birthday anniversary gift. Pritchard reached 45 this week.

"What'll he do with the money?"

"Put some in the bank, pay some bills and buy my wife some new car for the house."

"And how much is it all told?"

"Well, I get $250 for selling the winning ticket to myself so the $25,250."

"Had he ever won anything before?"

"In the lottery, you mean. Sure. A few bucks here and there, but no more than what you'd spend for dinner."

The industrial products group, of which Plymouth Locomotive Works is a part, contributed 51 per cent of pre-tax earnings and 24 per cent of revenues.

Messer scores two touchdowns, Red roars from behind to overcome Trojans, 21-12

Plymouth overcame two early mistakes and a 12-point lead to score three touchdowns. In the final period at Greenwich Friday night and hand South Central a 21 to 12 defeat in the season's opening game.

A brilliant performance, both offensively and defensively, by Mike Messer, an 11th grader, led the Big Red to victory.

Messer scored two touchdowns, one of them on a sparkling 65-yard run on second down with 6:59 left in the game. He ripped off left tackle, went down the west sideline, reversed his field and outsped two tacklers to hit pay dirt.

It was the score that tied the game. Jim Wallace booted a placement for the lead point.

The name of this game is defense and that's what Plymouth put on, notably in the second half, when it held the vaunted Trojan offense to just 18 yards rushing and a net of seven yards passing.

Plymouth forced its own breaks.

Earlier, its mistakes cost it a lead that, for a time, at least, seemed likely to stand up for the South Central team.

It was during Plymouth's third possession of the game, South Central had stormed back from a red punt to the 50-yard line with a splendid run-back of 25 yards by Yancy Toney. But the Trojans couldn't muster any offense to speak of and were forced to surrender possession at the 20. Plymouth punched for first down at its 32 before committing to a 15-yard penalty for holding. At the 17 a Red fumble fell directly into the hands of Randy Coaway and he dashed into the end zone with the score. The clock read 1:01 of the first period. Tony Hall's pass for PATs was not good.

PLYMOUTH MADE ANOTHER mistake that cost it a tying touchdown in the next series. The Big Red took the kickoff and drove to the Trojan 13. From the 13, the Big Red went off tackle, only to fumble at the one, where the South Central recovered.

The half ended with South Central in the lead on the scoreboard but nowhere else. Plymouth had five first downs with 80 yards rushing and three yards through the air, having one completion in two tries. The Big Red had given up 50 yards on four penalties.

The Trojans, meanwhile, had only three first downs, 72 yards rushing, four yards passing with two successes in two tries and had given up only 25 yards on three penalties.

A third Plymouth mistake led to the second Trojan score. On second down, Tom Miller aimed a pass at Marty McKenzie. Jon Fishbaugh stepped in front of the ball, nailed it, and put the Trojans into business at the Red 23. South Central produced the score in seven plays. Chris Howard carried the ball to the end zone, only to fumble. Rod Stevenson fell on the loose ball for the touchdown. A running play for the PATs was stopped.

It was at this point that Plymouth went to work. Superior conditioning and more personnel contributed to a 69-yard drive that should have culminated prior to the gun of the third period in the first score. But the referee overlooked stopping the clock.

SO, AFTER MARCHING the length of the field to get started in the fourth period, on fourth down Miller sneaked in for the touchdown. Wallace's bot struck the right up-right and bounded to the ground.

It was for Messer to provide the heroics thereafter and he did not fail his team nor its supporters.

His defensive play was equally outstanding. But so was that of Greg Reno and Mark Lewis, notably on a fine stop of Fishbaugh on a pitchout from the Trojan 29 that cost the Trojans four yards. South Central was forced to punt. McKenzie fielded it at the Trojan 45 and got four yards on the run-back.

Here Miller and his team went to work. Messer and Ray Gullet got important yardage before Messer carried four times in succession, the last one a five yard shot into the end zone with 47 seconds left in the game. Miller threw to McKenzie in the left flat for the PATs and it was in the bag, the most satisfying win for the Big Red over

South Central since the series started:		Rush yardage	261	90
Score by period:		Passes	5	8
P	0 0 0 21	Completed	3	5
S	6 0 6 0	Intercepted by	0	1
STATISTICS		Pass yardage	16	11
		Fumbles lost	4/3	4/1
No. of plays	60	Punts	4/31	5/32
First downs	14	Penalties	9/85	5/35

Hero of Friday's victory over South Central was Mike Messer, burly half-back, who scored two touchdowns.

Red seeks fourth straight over Hopewell-Loudon Friday

Plymouth goes to Bascom tomorrow with the only record belonging to Plymouth that's worth a nickel: the Big Red has never lost to the Chieftains since the two schools began their series here on Sept. 13, 1974. Plymouth had lost 12 straight, 10 of them without scoring a single point. Mike McFarren was in his rookie year as a head coach, having come that summer from Titusville, Pa. And Plymouth beat Hopewell-Loudon, 6 to 0. In 1975, Plymouth won 14 to 7. Last year the Big Red took away a narrow 9 to 6 victory. The Chieftains are winless so far, but neither have they lost a game. They tied Lakota, 0 to 0, last week. McFarren was pleased with the progress shown by his team -- "We made some mistakes that we'll have to correct but I'm generally pleased with our progress so far" -- and went about his work this week with an aim to try to convince the Big Red that Hopewell-Loudon will have something new and different up its sleeve. "Every time we've played them, they come up with something new," the titian haired mentor said Sunday. Plymouth scouted the Chieftains Friday night and a copy of the scouting report has been handed to each player. Plymouth came out of its match with South Central with no severe bumps or bruises. On form and record, the Big Red rates a slight favorite to win its second of the campaign. But the Chieftains will be playing before their home crowd. They have a new coach who's determined to succeed professionally and considerable size if not great speed. McFarren plans no changes in his starting lineup. He used a greater number of players at Greenwich Friday night than Plymouth has employed for a goodly number of years. Tom Miller will start at quarterback, Mike Messer and Jim Wallace as the deep running backs, Ray Gullet as the flanker. Gullet contributed impressive yardage against the Trojans. So did John Ross when he was in the game. The offensive line is green but promising. Marty McKenzie, Dave Gilum and Steve Shaver will rotate the assignment at end. Rodney Lye and Mark Lewis will be at tackle, Greg Reno and Mike Wheeler at guard, Combs over the ball. Game time is 8 p. m. Best route to the game: Proceed west from New Haven in Route 224 to Route 18, continue north to Bascom, turn left at traffic signal, proceed 300 yards to field, which is on south side of the road, opposite the high school.

'Sommores' tasty tidbit for dad and lad

By AUNT LIZIE
It may sound a little odd-ball, but the history of the very ordinary graham cracker is interesting.

And, in the bargain, they have been around longer than any of us.

It all started back in the 1830's when a Presbyterian minister, Sylvester Graham, started telling people they were eating and drinking all the wrong things (thank heavens he isn't around to see what is going on today). He advocated a good diet should be of fruits, vegetables and the whole wheat bread he made. He was using the whole kernel of the wheat, thus, it was named for him, so when someone came up with the cracker bit, they, too, were named for him.

Apparently, he was the first person to use the wheat in this fashion and this made other Boston bakers really mad since his bread tasted better than theirs, but he stuck to his guns, and the word "graham" has become a part of the language and is no longer someone's name.

The biggest treat in Girl Scout camp when we were kids was the night during the week we had "Sommores". And if your children have never tasted them, start with two graham crackers, take a long, flat Hershey chocolate bar, break it in half, roast a marshmallow and put it together like a sandwich. Who invented that one, I do not know, but it was around before my time.

This can be another treat: pralines made with crackers.

Spread about a pound on a cookie sheet. You need one with a rim. Then cook up a cup of brown sugar with a cup of butter or margarine until it comes to a rolling boil. Toss in a teaspoon of vanilla and three-fourths of a cup of chopped pecans. Mix up and pour over the crackers. Then it is to be baked at 350 for just 14 minutes. Turn off the oven, and do not open it for another 10 minutes. Take them out and break them apart. This will make a nice holiday gift, and best you start thinking now of what you are going to make to give away come December. This is the time to do all your making, so you can sit back then and watch everyone else running around. Since we all of a sudden have two granddaughters, I am beginning to look at ads for children's clothing. This I never did before, and it is a real educational activity and unbelievable.

The other day I saw a really nice looking ad in a newspaper for a little girl's dress of a printed corduroy and rather simply designed. Can you imagine, $85? That is when I started writing letters like mad which start out "Get your sewing machine out."

skillness and again bring comedy to Plymouth! Firing Jean to put in Emily, neither of whom had any training to run the new billing machine, wasn't too smart.

First you saddle Jean with an old monstrocity, then one that shorted out and was not complete. All while dealing with people, the constantly ringing phone and the police radio. When are you going to get smart and send someone in to Mansfield to learn how to run the billing machine without interruptions so it can be done intelligently? After the billings are up to date, consider billing half the first of the month and the rest the middle of the month.

About letters to the editor

Letters to the editor are always welcome, subject to some rules. They must deal with a subject of common interest, be free of libelous, obscene and impertinent matter, be limited to 250 words, and signed by the writer.

The name of the writer will be concealed on request.

Letters that have been previously published elsewhere are not acceptable. The newspaper does not customarily accept letters written by persons not usually residing within its circulation area.

Letters that are typewritten, double spaced, on one side of the sheet, normally receive greater consideration, but others will be accepted.

The newspaper reserves the right to edit all letters to conform with good taste, its rules of style and its rule of brevity.

Letters arguing one political question or another are not accepted after two weeks before an election in which the question is pertinent.
