

Drifted snow isolates Plymouth

High winds that blew a four inch snowfall into huge drifts brought traffic to an absolute halt in Huron and Richland counties Monday.

Scores of motorists were marooned in drifts. A double handful of them were housed overnight Monday by Plymouth Fire department.

Its time-honored boast that "Neither rain nor snow nor hail nor sleet keep these couriers from their appointed rounds" couldn't be met by the postal service. Plymouth post office was closed Tuesday morning and its telephone left off the hook. Rural delivery was obstructed by drifted snow.

About 25 cars were stranded in Route 61 between Preston road and Morse's hill Monday afternoon. A courier dispatched by a Shelby business to carry advertising copy to The Advertiser required 75 minutes to drive six miles. The village solicitor, who lives in Shelby route 3, sought to reach the village hall in time for a 6:30 session of the village council Monday night, only to run into a ditch at Kaple & Kaple sawmill in Route 98. He called a friend, who managed to take him home. He left the car where it was stuck. Councilman G. Thomas Moore, who operates a business in Galion, was marooned in Route 96 and could not attend the session.

Route 603 east of here was blocked by drifts. Dean Cline, 1 1/2 East Main street, may have been the last person to negotiate the hazardous route to reach Plymouth. Larry Vredenburg, who is employed at Shelby, was forced to turn off Route 61 into Dintinger road and by a circuitous route reached home safely.

Route 13 was blocked from Free road north. Route 61 was blocked from Guinea Corner north. Supplies of fresh milk and bread dwindled rapidly. Resupply was obstructed by drifted snow. Public schools were closed Monday and Tuesday. Regular meeting of Plymouth Board of Education set for Monday at 7:30 p. m. was postponed a week until Monday at the same hour. The village apparatus to cope with emergency went into action on call of the mayor Monday afternoon. Mrs. Harold Laseer of the fire department was in charge of feeding and housing stranded travelers. Plymouth ambulance service was instructed not to leave the village without an escort capable of extricating the ambulance from a drift. Village street crew worked into the night Sunday and Monday to plow main thoroughfares.

The Perry McKenzies billeted Floyd Wrane, Mansfield, an employee of Midwest Industries, Willard, Monday night. David Nicholson, Mansfield; Don McCoy, Shelby; James Heiser, Perrysville; Philip Cline, New Haven; and David House, Crestline, stayed the night in the firehouse. Kenneth Moyer, Shiloh, was able to leave later Monday. So were Charles Oney, Robert Olson, Robert King and Mark Wright, all of Mansfield.

Electric service to the northern end of the village was interrupted Monday night and some occupants of Plymouth Village apartments were without light and heat for about two hours. The electric department worked a loft in 50-mile winds to restore current.

Michael Ard, proprietor of Michael's Place, left it about 7 p. m. Sunday in fine order. When he returned Monday, he found the inside temperature in the low 50s. Investigation showed the fuel line had frozen and it was not until 3 p. m. Monday that heating was restored. Meanwhile, about a dozen lumberjacks relied on coffee and wassail to keep warm.

Persons employed at Willard struggled in to report roads were impassable or nearly so. William Reed, Willard, who grew up here, drove to two towns from Willard Tuesday morning and reported Route 61 was barely passable. Plymouth Locomotive Works, Inc., shut down Tuesday because so many employees could not get to work.

A number of villagers employed at Norwalk were not reported for work Tuesday because Route 61 and Peru Center road and New State road were all blocked.

The mail truck from Willard through Plymouth and Shelby by Mansfield and Crestline was blocked. The Advertiser may be late this week and it certainly is not up to its usual quality because the publisher decided Tuesday to press on with this issue despite the fact his principal composing machine was not functioning properly.

Inclement weather did not stop some 300 persons Sunday afternoon to fill Ehret-Parsel Post 447, American Legion, to honor Police Chief Robert L. Meiser for 30 years of service to Plymouth.

The guest list was a who's who of state, county and local officials. They included John Ashbrook, representative to the Congress from the 17th district; Paul Pfeiffer, Ohio senator; Marie Tansey and Sherrod Brown, representatives to the Ohio General Assembly; Maurice Smith, Huron county commissioner; Richard Hauser, Huron county prosecutor; Richard McFarland and Arthur Touby, Richland county commissioners; Sheriff Thomas Weikel, Richland county sheriff; John Borgia, Huron county sheriff; Judge David Arbaugh, Richland county domestic relations and juvenile court and his staff; Referee Don Lett, Anthony G. Padonna, Richland county assignment commissioner;

Also, Mayor Kenneth Sommers, Willard, Thomas Ludban, Willard police department; Capt. Richard Reers, retired Shelby police chief, and representatives from the Crawford county sheriff's department and neighboring police departments.

They all offered commendations to the chief.

was turned back south of here Monday and mail collected in Willard, New Haven and Plymouth for processing at the regional center at Mansfield was not delivered.

Bricker to file for auditor

A veteran GOP party worker and functionary is the first to say he wants to succeed Norman L. Wolfe as Richland county auditor.

Dale E. Fricker, 52, Shelby, director of elections in the county since 1964, will seek nomination to the office in the June primary.

He is married to the former Ann K. Morris. There are four children. He was formerly clerk of the council at Mansfield and is currently a member of the Republican state central and executive committee from the 17th Congressional district.

Wolfe plans to retire after 45 years as auditor. He is the senior Democrat in the county and has served as auditor longer than any person in Ohio history.

Three Richland county incumbents will seek reelection. Probate Judge Richard M. Christiansen is circulating a nominating petition among Democrats for another term.

The 49-year-old Jurist served in the Ohio House as representative from Richland county for 12 years. He is completing his first term as probate judge.

James Touby, Mansfield, a Democrat, wants to be county commissioner again. He was first elected in 1970, when he defeated the incumbent, Michael Smith, a Republican. He won another term over Republican Dale Cook in 1974.

Mansfield Municipal Court Judge Ralph Johns announced he will seek the common pleas bench post now occupied by James J. Mayer, who has not announced his plans. Some months ago, his physician in a public statement said Judge Mayer is suffering from terminal cancer.

Two Republicans so far are seeking their party's nomination to be county commissioner. One is Terry Wolf, a former photographer who worked for several years as photographer for a Mansfield newspaper.

The other is Dale E. Cook, a dairy farmer who lives near Mansfield. Cook was narrowly defeated by Touby in 1974. Only 635 votes separated the two.

Solicitor says David Howard can't hold two offices

Village council took no action during a special meeting Monday night on Mayor Elizabeth G. Paddock's suggestions. She requested them to reenact the legislation passed at the Jan. 3 meeting.

Copies of a letter to her from Solicitor Robert A. McKown were given to the council. In it he stated an opinion that David Howard cannot legally hold both the elective office as a member of Plymouth Board of Education and that of village councilman. He cited two sections of the Ohio Revised

Kin of Shilohans succumbs at 45

Sister of Robert Castle and of Mrs. Judy Adkins, Shiloh, Mrs. Robert Jewell, 45, Newark, died Jan. 4 in Mt. Carmel hospital, Columbus, of apoplexy.

Born Joanne Castle in Johnson county, Ky., she lived in Newark 14 years. She was a member of the Newark Hts. Church of God.

She is also survived by her husband, five sons, Robert and Paul, Newark; Mark, U. S. Marine Corps in Virginia; Phillip, U. S. Navy in Florida, and Ernest, at home; two daughters, Mrs. Angela Scott, Newark, and Patricia, at home; a brother, William Castle, Newark, and a sister, Mrs. Mary Brown, Newark.

The Rev. Thomas Williams conducted services in Shelby Church of God Saturday at 1 p. m. Burial was in Mt. Hope cemetery, Cass township.

Code, 731.12 and 705.12, which are almost identically worded, saying that "no member of the legislative authority shall hold any other public office". The exception is that of notary public, member of state militia or state or county executive committee of a political party or state or county officer of a political party.

McKown also stated in his letter that there would be some question of the validity of any legislation passed with Howard voting as a councilman under the circumstances.

The mayor's request to Councilmen Ervin Howard, Edward O. Ramsey, James C. Root and James L. Jacobs, Sr., was that they repeat the legislation done at the previous meeting so that there would be no "legal loopholes".

Councilman G. Thomas Moore was not at the meeting because he was spending the night as a guest of the chief of police in the jail at Shelby. However, David Howard was present.

Kin of Keinath, Mrs. Hemmerly dies at Tiffin

Sister of Foster I. Keinath, Mrs. Cecil Hemmerly, 69, Tiffin, died in Mercy hospital there Jan. 4. She was ill a long time.

She is also survived by her husband, whom she married May 29, 1976; two step-sons, three step-daughters, 28 step-grandchildren and 32 step-great-grandchildren, two brothers, John Keinath, Mansfield, and King Keinath, North Fairfield, and five sisters, Mrs. Ray Cooper, Shelby; Mrs. Wenzel Williams, Republic; Mrs. John McGovern, Bakersfield, Cal.; Mrs. Lloyd Marks, Saratoga, Cal., and Mrs. Robert Heydinger, Chico, Cal.

Services were conducted at Tiffin Friday at 1:30 p. m. Burial was in Fairmont cemetery there.

Room rates go up at Shelby, Willard hospitals

Hospital rates in Willard Area and Shelby Memorial hospitals have been increased.

New rates at Willard: Private room, $90; semi-private room, $85; intensive care, $180; nursery, $68.

New rates at Shelby: Private room, $88; semi-private room, $84.

His brother questioned why the mayor had not sent him a notice of the meeting. The mayor replied that she was not certain if she had done the right thing, but believed that he could not vote. All the councilmen expressed concern that the solicitor was not present.

The mayor said that she had not considered it necessary since the purpose of the meeting was to merely reenact legislation and not to discuss David Howard's position. She added that in view of the solicitor's opinion, this would give Howard time to make a decision. Nothing like this situation could be resolved in a short time, she said.

The four new councilmen were sworn in by the mayor on Dec. 28. The mayor said she had assumed that David Howard would have come to a decision about resigning from the school board so he could serve on the council by Jan. 1.

Former Councilman D. Douglas Brumbach, who came equipped with copies of the Ohio Revised

Mrs. Kline succumbs; lived with niece here

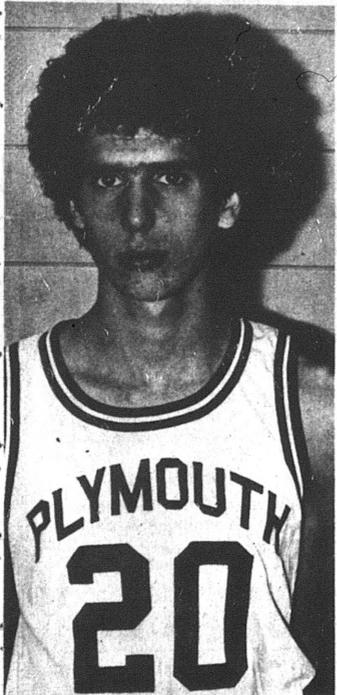

Mrs. Bertha Elizabeth Kline, 86, died Monday afternoon in Willard Area hospital.

She made her home with a niece, Mary Ann Vitell, 209 Tru street, for a number of years.

She was a retired office worker for the A. I. Root

Co., Medina, and was a member of St. Joseph's Roman Catholic church here.

Other nieces and nephews also survive. Funeral arrangements are pending at the Waite Funeral home, Medina.

Last of the Fazio's

Greg Fazio, 12th grader, is last of Fazio family living here to play for Plymouth. His father, William, wore the red and white uniform in the late Forties. Young Fazio will see action when -- and if -- Lexington game is played here tomorrow.

Meiser competes on mat as well as gridiron. He wrestles in 167-lb. class.

Bob Combs, letterman, is important point-getter for Plymouth wrestling team in 175-lb. class.

Ontario outshoots Red at foul line

Plymouth matched Ontario field goal for field goal there. Friday night but had fewer opportunities at the foul line and went down, 48 to 43.

The Big Red led at the half, thanks to some hot shooting from the floor. Plymouth connected with five of nine in the first period and five of 11 in the second, an average of 50 per cent.

But in the thirdquarter, the visitors simply couldn't connect. They fired 13 times and made only two and Plymouth had to settle for just five points. Ontario, meanwhile, shooting four of nine from the floor, scored 11.

The Warriors went into the last eight minutes with a four point bulge at 35 to 31. Plymouth never got closer. Plymouth shot seven of 10.

Blane Baker, still suffering from the dregs of the flu, scored 11 for the Big Red, the only player in

39. Playing catch-up basketball, the Big Red needed the ball and to get it had to foul. Ontario bagged seven free throws in the last period and missed five. Overall, the Warriors connected with 12 of 21. Plymouth shot seven of 10.

Blane Baker, still suffering from the dregs of the flu, scored 11 for the Big Red, the only player in double figures. Steve Santmyer and Al Waterhouse bagged 15 apiece for the Warriors and Scott McMillen had 12.

Plymouth outrebounded the Warriors, 30 to 28, but made more turnovers, 19 to 15. Ontario tried 48 shots for field goal and made 18 of them. Plymouth shot 44 times and scored with 18.

Red reserves were beaten, 44 to 43, after a controversy developed at the final buzzer. The question was whether a Plymouth player had intentionally called time when there were no time outs left. Despite his argument he was signalling the referee for a technical foul against an Ontario player, the technical was called against the Big Red. It really didn't matter, because it and two free throws by Plymouth that would have won the game went for naught.

Jerry Wheeler led Plymouth scoring with 16.

Shortest player shooting 50%

Smallest -- oops, make that shortest -- player on the Big Red team is Co-Capt. Randy Adams, a 12th grader who's more or less consistently on the honor roll.

He's had to make up for his lack of height (the program lists him at five feet seven inches, perhaps with elevator heels) with a sharp eye, an aggressive floor game and snappy passing.

He is one of two lettermen on the varsity team.

Son of Mrs. Robert Ward and of William Adams, this personable chap comes of a long line of Adamsons involved in Plymouth athletics. His oldest brother, Dick, played in the line for Plymouth's football squad for three years. Two other brothers, Mike and Steve, won letters in track and field and cross country.

Adams didn't see so much action last season, his first as a varsity player, that he became jaded. And this season he's broken into the scoring column with some vigor: eight at Monroeville, six versus Clear Fork, 17 in the first Buckeye Central game, six in the Cresview defeat, four in the squeaker loss to Loudonville, 21 against Buckeye Central in the return game, four against South Central, four against Ontario.

He plays the wing position. It's a great opportunity to score but he doesn't take all that many shots. Of the 66 points referred to above, he connected on 27 of 54 shots, exactly 50 per cent.

When you're short, you've got to employ ruses and strategies plus speed and deftness to prevail over the six footers.

This is what young Adams seeks to do.

His coach, Keith Diebler, labels him a "hard worker, a good leader, the boys'll do as he suggests because he does by example."

Which is, after all, the name of the game he'll start to play after June 4, when Plymouth High school graduates its 1978 class.

Girls win two games

Big Red girls downed Buckeye Central Thursday, 48 to 36, behind Linda Osborne's 18-point output.

Plymouth girls led throughout Jan. 3 in defeating Monroeville, 56 to 43.

Kathy Brown had 22 and Peggy Lewis 16 for the Big Red.

Why pass a law, any law, if it's not to be enforced?

By AUNT LIZ
Those flying saucers are back with us since the movie "Close Encounters" has come out. But did you realize that under the main title is a small line that says "of the third kind"? I never knew what that meant until the other morning. My favorite radio station was interviewing the best expert in the country about it, and there are degrees of what various people have seen. The third one means that there were actual sightings by people like us to people like them. So far I have not seen them and kind of hope I do not. My first thought is what can I say to them? I hardly speak one language let alone all the others that exist on this earth. (Ed.

Note: What makes you think these creatures are from earth?
Say I am crackpot, but I am convinced that another world close by exists. I am really not alone in my thinking. Even the most crude scientists say this and feel it is a responsible thought. If they do exist and have watched us over the centuries, they certainly would be afraid to even speak to us, because we are crackpots. People are simply downright strange. Now everyone knows what moonshine is and where it is made, so off we go to Kentucky for Christmas, but to a part of that pretty state that is bone dry. We had to take our larger car to transport what was needed, and was really afraid we would be picked up for smuggling.

One night we went to a really nice place for dinner, and it was our first experience of what is called "brown bagging". We carried two bottles of ordinary wine in a grocery sack. This looks great, when you are all dressed up, to be hauling a large brown bag. We did it a few minutes for our table, and our son nudged me and said, "Look, Mom, that guy has a large cooler". This makes me think twice about laws. Why pass them if they are to be evaded? It is like the bingo laws in Ohio. Some places allowed them and some didn't. I will never forget a nearby police chief who said no bingo in my community because the state says it is illegal, so he goes to church each Sunday morning and no one will speak to him nor sit in the same pew with him. I really felt sorry for him. He was trying to follow the law that everyone else was simply ignoring. That is what it is like in parts of Kentucky. This place we had dinner in was truly nice, expensive, which meant the top dogs in the community went there, which I assume included those in charge of enforcing the laws of the state. I guess it is like the time I asked my favorite years; James E. Reffett, $15.50 an acre for three years.

Two bids were received for the purchase of a pick-up truck. Both were for 1978 three-quarter ton Chevrolets. Guthrie Chevrolet-Olds, Willard, bid $6,515. Bacon Chevrolet, Greenwich, offered $4,980.

Four bids were received to furnish a dump truck with a snowplow hitch. These were from Bud Young, Inc., Shelby, $14,432.22 for a 1978 or 1977 model and $9,309.92 for a Chevrolet now in stock; Graham Chevrolet, Mansfield, $15,290.70 for a new Chevrolet; Whitey's, Inc., Mansfield, $12,950 for a 1978 GMC ($11,450 without airbrakes) plus $2,162 for a dump body, and Heisler's, Inc., Willard, $12,074.32 for a 1978 International and $2,113 for a dump body. The bids will be studied by Councilman Root, Jacobs and Ervin Howard. Councilman G. Thomas

Plymouth Advertiser, Jan. 12, 1978 Page 5

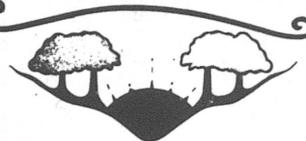

Moore and Edward O. Ramsey will make a recommendation on the pick-up truck bid. Residents living in the north end of the village complained of dirty water. William Albright produced a jar of discolored water and some baby attire that he said had been washed in it. Ramsey said the hydrants "have not been flushed in eight years. Echelberry, Root and Ervin Howard disputed this, saying the hydrants have been flushed regularly. Acting Administrator James Neely said the screens of the wells need to be cleaned. Russell J. Moser, for many years water superintendent until he retired, has volunteered to assist with water plant duties. He will go to the water plant with Root, chairman of the water committee, and Ervin Howard to look into the matter.

grandfather if he had voted for prohibition way and he said yes. Then I said, "But Grandpa, we have always had this and that in our house which is wrong." And his wife was, "It did not mean us."

That is what has been wrong with the whole countryside. We have laws for them and laws for us, and there should be just one law for every one.

One thing we came back with and I have not had the courage to try is what is called Kentucky Bourbon Balls. I had made a batch of what we call hoochy balls with vanilla wafers, and they got eaten in a hurry, so I said I will brew up another batch, but could not really remember all the measurements. Just about then some friends appeared, and one called home and came up with this recipe, which is not the one I had done. This is a real native one.

Soak a cup of pecans all night in three-fourths cup of 100 proof bourbon. This is to be done in an airtight container. The next morning, drain off the hooch and combine the nuts with a pound, which would be two cups, of sugar that has been creamed with a quarter pound of butter or cream cheese. Chopped this, roll into balls, then dip into a mixture of a half pound of semi sweet chocolate which has two teaspoons of butter in it and a tablespoon of wax.

Couple wed by mayor

Kathy E. Butler and Raymond Van Loo exchanged their marriage vows Saturday before Mayor Elizabeth G. Paddock in the village hall.

Land use contract to Reber

Richard Reber's bid of $10,150 for three years to use about 90 acres of idle land belonging to the village was accepted by village council Jan. 3.

Other bidders were The Bachrach Co., $7,020 for three years; Dennis McKown, $10 an acre a year; Robert Reber, $6,000 for three years; Ronald F. Reber, $6,240 for three years.

Just send away for the Consumer Information Catalog and a key to enlightenment will appear in your mailbox. The Consumer Information Catalog is put out by the Federal Government. And it lists over 200 of their booklets that you can send away for. Most are free. And they can help you with things like how to buy a home, how to grow vegetables, how to deal with headaches, simple plumbing repairs and many other everyday and not-so-everyday problems.

So if you wish to learn about the mystic sensibilities of the wayward ancients, put on your climbing gear. But if you wish to know about how to fix a leaky faucet, send for the catalog. Write: Consumer Information Center, Dept. A, Pueblo Colorado 81009. Remember, it's free. Which is only right. After all, the first step towards enlightenment shouldn't enlighten your pocketbook.
