

Big Red favored..

Winless Lexington comes here tomorrow

Last home game

Tomorrow's game is last at home for No. 60, Greg Reno, 12th grader, who plays guard. A letterman, he goes both ways. Smaller of the two brothers, he's a guard of "watch charm" type made famous by Rockne at Notre Dame.

Starter

Gary Reno, No. 88, an 11th grader, plays end. He scales 210 pounds and measures an even six feet. He'll start for Big Red against Lexington in Team Parents' night game here tomorrow at 8 p. m.

Meet Eric the Red!

The faithful -- and there were many who turned out Friday, despite the fact the home team was an underdog -- were treated to a special event: the introduction and subsequent antics of Eric the Red, the big Viking, alias Tom Reno, father of two players on the Plymouth squad. He made his entrance from a truck at west end of the field in

Mary Fate park, attired in the regalia of a Viking chieftain. And later he waved a red banner lettered "Plymouth Big Red" in white. Not since Plymouth sported a male cheerleader -- and there've been just two of them but only one during 11-man football period -- has such excitement been produced on the Mary Fate park gridiron. And, come to think of it, one of those male cheerleaders never cavorted on a football field in Mary Fate park; in his day, the team of six players took on its competition on the baseball diamond.

One question that remains to be answered: Tom Reno is a portly fellow, and that costume is bound to be hot in September. Fortunately, the ambulance is at hand.

When was the last time that Plymouth's football team could be rated a favorite over a Class AAA club?

Probably never. Yet that's the situation that prevails in Mary Fate park tomorrow, for two reasons: Plymouth has an uncommonly good football team this season and Lexington, by contrast, has an uncommonly poor one.

The Minutemen haven't won a game. On Saturday, performing before a home crowd, they were taken apart by powerful Loudonville in what surely will rank in Lexington hearts and minds for a long time. The Loudonville coach kept his studs on the field long after the outcome was in doubt and simply punished the weaker and smaller Minuteman squad.

Lexington has a new coach this season, Bill Stoner having given up the job that he began when Lexington started 11-man football.

His name is Burch McCormick, who has received a warm welcome in Lexington from everybody but Lexington's opponents. And they're included among some of the stronger teams hereabouts: McLabar, Gallion, Wadsworth, Claymont and Loudonville. Even Crestview, which has a weaker team than usual but which managed to defeat Ontario last week, has a victory over Lexington.

Plymouth will be hard put to prevail over Lexington.

The Minuteman line is its strongest asset. Mike Ward, who won all-JAC honors at center last year as a 10th grader, is back. Keith Stoner, who scales 165, and Kyle Ross, a 175-pounder, are the guards. Stoner won second team conference honors last year. Ross was second team linebacker in 1977.

Lexington's problem, more than anything else, is lack of experience. Of 19 returning lettermen, only five are 12th graders. Among these is Rick Ryan, who weighs 150, perhaps the best of the quarterbacks. A classmate, Gordon Harmon, who weighs 170, relieves him.

It will be team parents night in Mary Fate park and some players will be making their last appearance before home fans. These are Capt. Jim Wallace, Mike Berberick, Terry Iash, Jim Robinson, Scott Baker, John Ross, Mike Wheeler, Greg Reno, Barry Tuttle, Mark Lewis, Kevin Kamann, Joe Miller, Rodney Dye and Greg Gillum.

This is the largest group of prospective graduates to leave the Plymouth squad in 11 seasons.

There are only eight 11th graders on the squad, which means that next season's team will be relatively inexperienced, since there are only six 10th graders on the squad, of whom half have seen little or no action.

Game time is 8 p. m. Lions club will serve a chili supper in the high school cafeteria both before and after the contest.

State champions

Three win state title

For the first time in the long history of vocational agriculture in Plymouth High school, its pupils have won a state championship.

Competing against 50 schools of all sizes at Centerburg Saturday in the state vocational agriculture farm judging contest, the Plymouth team won first place.

Its members are James Sloan, 11th grader, son of the Harmon Sloans, Shiloh; Jerry Miller, 10th grader, son of the A. George Millers, Shiloh, and Todd Kranz, 12th grader, son of the Thomas Kranzes, Shiloh.

And young Kranz was selected as the first place winner among individual judges.

The contestants were accompanied to Centerburg by their instructor, Keith Johnson.

How did the Plymouth team get to the state contest?

The first three teams in the district contest were eligible to enter the state competition. Plymouth placed third in the district contest Thursday at Butler, where young Kranz placed second in judging of land for agricultural purposes.

John Donnersbach, Plymouth High school pupil attending Pioneer

Joint Vocational school, took second place among individual competitors. The PJVS team won first place in the overall judging.

What price victory? The team won $150 from the Federal Land Bank system for its achievement and young Kranz pocketed another $150 as first place winner.

And where next? To Oklahoma, in the spring, for the national contest.

Water rate raised 25% to $60 a year

Water rates were raised 25 per cent by village council Tuesday night.

The first 6,000 gallons of consumption in any quarter will rise to $15.

Other increments will be increased proportionately.

Mayor Elizabeth G. Paddock said "this form of raise really hits the minimum user. I think there should be further study to raise the rate on the average user, who consumes 6,000 to 20,000 gallons."

The council after discussion resolved to proceed with the straight 25 per cent increase and an emergency ordinance to do so was passed without dissent.

Councilmen Edward O. Ramsey and James L. Jacobs, Sr., were absent.

The billing machine must be reprogrammed. The council reaffirmed that it will only consider a five per cent raise over a three year period versus Columbia Gas of Ohio's proposal of 11 per cent over the same period.

Robert Simmers, representative of the company who is negotiating a new contract to replace the present three year one which has now expired, said his company could "live" with the village's proposal.

Mayor Paddock suggested that perhaps a compromise could be reached at about a six or seven per cent increase in gas rates for villagers.

Councilman Michael Taylor said the company should have made a counter offer to the village's offer and it was up to it to make the next move.

Councilman David Howard is to investigate if the Consumers Council can assist the village in coming to terms with an acceptable rate.

Tuesday's meeting was recessed because of this controversy until next Tuesday, when it is hoped a decision can be reached on an agreement.

Because the meeting was to be recessed, the acceptance of Clerk Raymond L. Brooks's appropriation ordinance, which it thought called for more expenditures than the village has incoming revenue to sustain.

Estate of Carl Willford, Plymouth East road, has been inventoried by Huron county probate court at $21,863.

Mrs. Thomas succumbs at 89

Mrs. Edith A. Thomas, 89, 64 Euclid street, Shiloh, died Thursday in New London hospital of a brief illness.

Born in Toronto, Ont., Canada, she lived in Shiloh 62 years.

She is survived by a daughter, Harriet, now Mrs. William Thompson, and two grandchildren.

Her husband, George, and six children died earlier.

The Rev. John H. Hutchison, Jr., Plymouth and Shiloh United Methodist churches, conducted services from McQuate-Sacor Funeral home Saturday at 3 p. m. Burial was in Mt. Hope cemetery, Cass township.

Mrs. Webster, 74, dies in hospital

Mother of Mrs. R. Harold Mack, Mrs. Paul Webster, 74, died Thursday in Magruder hospital, Port Clinton.

She was born Feb. 21, 1904, in Pittsburgh, Pa., and lived most of her life in Put-In-Bay.

She was a member of St. Paul's Episcopal church there and its Women's Guild, the Rebecca Lodge and the auxiliary of the American Legion.

She is also survived by her husband, and four daughters, Jean, now Mrs. Marius Garofalo, Oxford; Patricia, now Mrs. Edgar Miller, Oakland, Me.; Gail, now Mrs. Watson Smith, Columbus, and Mrs. Paula Bate, Ft. Collins, Colo.; a sister, Mrs. Ann Haslop, Irvine, Pa., 19 grandchildren and four great-granddaughters.

Funeral services were conducted by her pastor, the Rev. Harry Holzspess, Sunday at 1:30 p. m. in the church.

Mourners may make memorial gifts to the church.

No true bill against Stover

A Huron county grand jury returned Thursday an indictment against Jack Elliott, 36, New Haven, for carrying a firearm while on probation for felonious assault in another state.

Elliott is accused of firing a 12-gauge shotgun from a car through the front window of the Carl Gnappare residence in West Broadway early in the morning of Oct. 7. His companion at the time was a part-time Plymouth police officer, Willford Stover, who was not indicted.

Stover was committed to Tiffin State hospital.

The grand jury made recommendations to Solicitor Robert A. McKown regarding Stover, who faces possible charges that he was carrying a weapon while intoxicated, that he fled police officers and that he drove a motor vehicle recklessly. These are misdemeanors.

A double ring ceremony united Sharon Dentas Waddles and Nathaniel Muggard Oct. 7 at 7:30 p. m.

The couple exchanged their vows before the Rev. S. T. Adkins in the Tiro United Baptist church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Waddles, Walnut street. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Loy Maggard, Hollybush, Ky.

Arrangements of fall flowers decorated the church altar.

Steven Baird, pianist, accompanied Kelley McGulre, who sang "If We're Only Just Begun," "Evergreen," "Wedding Song" and "You Light Up My Life".

Karen Adkins was organist.

Mr. Waddles gave his daughter in marriage.

Her gown was designed with a mandarin neckline of Venise lace with a U-shaped bodice trimmed with lace and seed pearls.

The full bishop sleeves were also accented with lace and ended in wide cuffs. The A-line skirt which ended in a chapel train was bordered with scalloped lace.

Her waltz-length veiling was held by a mantilla of sheer Illusion trimmed with lace and seed pearls.

She carried a bouquet of apricot roses with stephanotis and baby's breath.

Laurie Brooks, Shelby, was maid of honor.

She also wore an apricot dress fashioned with a cape and carried a basket of fall colored silk flowers.

Bret King, the bridegroom's nephew, was the ring bearer.

Rodney King was best man. Vernon King, Jr., Hollybush, the bridegroom's brother, Michael and Gregory Maggard, Hollybush, and the bride's brother, Randy Waddles, ushered.

The three-tiered cake on the bride's table with a small water fountain was baked and decorated by the bride's mother.

Guests were assisted by the bride's aunt, Mrs. John Tuttle; her sister-in-law, Mrs. Edwin Waddles, Shelby, and the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. Richard King.

Shannon Root circulated the guest book.

The new Mrs. Maggard is a 1978 graduate of Plymouth High school and also attended Pioneer Joint Vocational school. She is employed in her father's hardware store, Shelby.

Mr. Maggard is a 1976 graduate of Knott County Central High school and the Carl D. Perkins Vocational school, Hollybush. He is employed by Midwest Industries, Inc., Willard.

They are now at home in Plymouth.

Michael Glorioso, Miss Bender wed in church ceremony here

Counte May Bender became the bride of Michael Lee Glorioso in an afternoon ceremony Sept. 30 in St. Joseph's Roman Catholic church.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Jones, Mansfield. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Salvatore J. Glorioso.

They exchanged their vows and rings before the Rev. Gerald Czeranowski. Bouquets of fall flowers were on the altar and the pews were marked with lighted candles in hurricane lamps surrounded with small floral arrangements.

A prelude of music was played by Walt Keppler and the bridegroom's cousin, Merik Heydinger. It included "Ave Maria", "I Love You Truly", "On This Day, Oh Beautiful Mother" and the wedding recessional.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a candlelight gown of tana designed with a V neckline, slim fitted sleeves and an Empire bodice. The skirt of the gown ended in a short train.

Her headpiece was a hood of matching material edged with Venetian lace.

She carried a cascade bouquet of sonia roses and small chrysanthemums accented with angel lace.

Mrs. Donald Earley, Mansfield, was matron of honor. She wore an apricot gown of siletta designed with a scooped neckline, fitted sleeves and a quato draped back.

The bridegroom's sister, Mrs. Jeffrey Sutter, Shelby, and Kristina Glorioso, and Mrs. John Niehaus, Mansfield, were the bridesmaids.

Their gowns were of the same design but rust colored.

All the attendants carried small hurricane lanterns filled with dried arrangements of fall flowers with silk roses. Jennifer Niehaus, Mansfield, was the flower girl. She also wore an apricot gown trimmed with crocheted lace.

The ring bearer was

Eric Bender, Mansfield. Robert Riggelman, Bellefontaine, was best man.

Terry Hopkins, Plymouth; Dan Sutter, Richard Schroeder, Thomas Glorioso, Dan Scheurer and Robert Minnear, all of Mansfield, ushered.

Mrs. Jones chose an apricot gown of tana. Her corsage was of white sweetheart roses.

The bridegroom's mother wore a sand-colored gown with a chiffon capelet trimmed with Chantilly lace. Her flowers were sonia roses. A reception took place at Ehler-Parzell Post 447, American Legion.

The wedding cake was a combination of six hexagon cakes surrounding a fountain with three tiered cakes. It was decorated with apricot roses accented with dried flowers. It was baked and decorated by the bride's aunt, Mrs. William Heydinger, nee Rose Fenner, New Washington.

Mrs. Heydinger and her daughter, Cheryl, served it. Ann Earley registered guests.

The bride is a graduate of Shelby High school and a five year member of Beta Sigma Phi sorority. She is employed by United Telephone Co.

The bridegroom, a Plymouth High school graduate, is an emergency medical technician and a CPR instructor. He is employed by Plymouth Locomotive Works, Inc.

The couple spent their wedding trip in Jackson, Miss., and are now living in Mansfield.

Weavers set open house

Married Dec. 25, 1928, in Stilloh, the Victor J. Weavers, New London, will celebrate their 50th anniversary with open house in New London Grange hall, East Main street, New London, Sunday from 2 to 5 p. m. She is the former Thelma Johnson. They have two sons, James W., New London, and Robert E., Coshocton. There are seven grandchildren. The Weavers hope that gifts will not be sent.

SPORTS

Downed! Terry Tash was dumped after strong run in first half here Friday night, but Clear Fork defense proved too much for Big Red, which absorbed 13 to 0 defeat in Johnny Applesseed conference play.

Colt defense stops Plymouth

Clear Fork's stout defense shut off Plymouth's ground game in the second half here Friday night and spoiled the Big Red's Homecoming, 13 to 0. The Colts limited Plymouth to a minus 15 yards rushing during the last 24 minutes. Meanwhile, the visitors were putting their ground game together and their heavier line wore down the Red defense sufficiently to gain 105 yards on the ground in the third and fourth quarters, enough to produce the insurance touchdown. It was as even as could be until only three seconds remained in the second period. Plymouth penetrated deeply into Colt territory, thanks to a 27-yard pass completion from Jim Robinson to Terry Tash. But on fourth down, with 6:25 remaining in the half, Mark Lewis tried the second field goal of the night. The kick was low and to the left and the Colts took over at their 20. They lost three yards during the series and were compelled to punt. Plymouth returned the gesture, having lost one yard in three tries, and when Rose's punt carried 32 yards to the Colt 37, Clear Fork scored in nine plays. A 25-yard pass completion by Rob Fellure to Chuck Golden gave the Colts first down at the Red nine. Greg Sharp was thrown for a loss of four but Fellure sneaked for five. On fourth down, with just three ticks left on the clock, Fellure threw to the clock, Fellure threw to the clock, and he is a souhpa passer -- to Dave Carroll for the TD. Layfield booted the PAT. After two periods, with 32 plays, Clear Fork had six first downs, 75 yards rushing, 80 yards passing with three completions in five attempts and had lost 10 yards by penalty. Plymouth, for its part, in 25 plays had three first downs, 50 yards rushing, 27 yards passing with one completion in two tries, and had lost 20 yards by penalty. An interception by Jim Wallace shot off Clear Fork's first drive in the second half. Plymouth was unable to gain and Ross punted 35 yards to Golden, who was felled in his tracks. On the second play, Rodney Dye recovered a Colt fumble at the Clear Fork 20. Plymouth got o the Colt nine, only to be thrown back and an eight yard pass played from Robinson to Ross failed of first down and the Colts took over at their five. It was Plymouth's finest hour and after that the Big Red did again threaten. Early in the fourth period, having driven from its five, Clear Fork was forced to punt. Plymouth took over at the Red 45. On third down, Wallace attempted the halfback pass. It was intercepted by Layfield and he stormed to the Red 26. The Colts needed only five plays to score. Fellure rolled out to his left with 8:11 left in the game to add the second touchdown. Layfield's kick was wide and low. Plymouth clearly showed, especially in the second half, that, on this night, at least, it simply wasn't so. The Red passing attack, although it produced 86 yards, did not bother Clear Fork much. The Colts seemed content to bottle up the running game, an effort in which they certainly succeeded. Score by periods: C 0 7 0 6 - 13 P 0 0 0 0 - 0

Earl Pry dies at 76 at Shelby

Funeral services were conducted yesterday in Shelby for Earl Martin Pry, 76, Hazel Brush road. He died Sunday night in Shelby Memorial hospital. He was born in Auburn township and farmed in this area all his life. He is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Kenneth Egner, Shelby route 3, and Miss Dorothy Pry, Mansfield. The last service was conducted by the Rev. Donald L. Albert, associate pastor of First Lutheran church, Shelby. Burial was in Oakland cemetery there.

When is bread pudding time? With this recipe, all the time!

By AUNT LIZ
One thing everyone in this country has in common with each other is that as kids we all learned to recite "Mary had a little lamb."
"It even was a reading lesson in McGuffey's Second Reader."
It has really been around for a while and covered a lot of generations.
There is one thing about the poem: that snowy lamb was for real, and there actually was a little girl named Mary.
But how many of us ever knew this?
I know I didn't and it was not until I picked up the Sept. 18 Christian Science Monitor that I read the history of it.

About 160 years ago, little Mary Elizabeth Sawyer who lived in Sterling, Mass., took over a pet lamb whose mother was ignoring it. She convinced her father that it should be brought up in their house.
She coddled him all summer and he was a very happy lamb.
Then came September and like today, that meant school was starting, at least in most places. But back then it started right smack on time.
One morning, Mary's pet decided not to be left at home and followed her. She hid him under her desk most the day, then she was called to the front of the class to recite, and you-know-who went too.
The teacher, Miss Kimball, thought the lamb would be better off outside, so out he went until it was time to go home.
Just about then, as the teacher and Mary were tying him up, a young Harvard student who was visiting his uncle appeared. He was John Roulstone.
He thought the lamb and Mary were a great combination. That night he whipped up a little poem of 12 lines, the one we all learned.

Later three more verses were added to it by a Mrs. Hale.
It is a wonderment that a simple thing like a pet lamb following the person he loved most of all would go down in history like this, and I'll bet little ones will learn those verses forever and forever.
Something else has been around just about as long: bread pudding.
You can put all things in to it, depending how your grocery budget is holding out. Some recipes have nuts and some chocolate, but the very basic recipe is fit for royalty.
Cut up three cups of apples, break up four cups of bread, mix together a half cup of sugar, and throw in about two tablespoons of dark brown sugar with a fourth of a teaspoon of nutmeg and of cinnamon. Do this in a bowl, break in two eggs and about two cups of milk.

Mix it up and pour into a greased baking dish. With a cup of raisins, it is even better, but you know what is happening to those little potlickers and they are more important to a lot of cookie recipes. Dot the top with butter and bake slowly until a knife comes out clean when you test it.
It can be eaten here, with whipped cream or a vanilla sauce.
Serve it hot, but it is also tasty cold with a hot sauce.

Sales projects OK'd

Annual selling projects for classes and organizations as a means of raising funds were approved without dissent.
Joseph Irelan resigned as custodian at Shiloh. He has joined PFG Industries, Crestline.
John Justice was hired as full-time custodian, on salary scale.
Kim Smedley and Laura Mullins were hired as substitute cleaners, to work not more than four hours a day.
Ishmael Kissinger was approved as Neighborhood Youth Corps cleaner in the high school.
John Hart was named student council adviser in the junior high school.
Approval was given to preliminary plans and preliminary plans and drawings made by D. James Crawfis, Marr, Knapp & Crawfis, Mansfield, architects, to remodel Plymouth Elementary school at an estimated cost of $65,000.

Car hits deer, damage heavy

A 25-year-old Norwalkian ran into a deer in Route 61 about half a mile south of Route 598 Friday night.
Joe L. Reed told police he couldn't stop. The impact killed the deer and caused about $150 in damage to his car.
State highway patrol said Saturday drivers who strike and kill deer may have the carcass. The game protector is notified of the accident and can release the carcass to the driver.

Help Save Our Natural Resources

Here's How: Keep your home heating system in good repair. Check pilot light; oil blower motor; change filters; clean radiators, grills, vents, and registers; tape any leaks in hot air pipes. If the furnace needs repair or adjustment, call your heating dealer. Don't try to do it yourself.
