

Village buys $5,912 worth of water softening chemical

Purchase of $5,912 of new zeolite for the water plant was authorized by village council Tuesday night.

This will save the village about $1,800 by re-using what is there now.

will cost $256, bringing the total cost to $6,318.

Mrs. Meiser sells cafe

A request to transfer the D-5 liquor license of Bob's Cafe from Mrs. Robert L. Meiser to her daughter, Mrs. Terry Hamman, has been received by the Ohio Department of Liquor Control.

The license allows the cafe to sell spirituous liquor by the glass until 2:30 a. m.

The cafe has been in business longer than most can remember.

For many years it was operated by the late F. B. Lofland. During the Depression when there was no work, unemployed played pool on credit there.

In 1940 William Fortney bought it from O. F. Ward and ran it until he sold out to the late Robert J. Wechter and the late Clement Ruffing.

Ruffing ran it for a short period after Wechter's death and then sold it in 1968 to the late Police Chief Meiser.

His son-in-law, Allen Heydinger, bought his interest and ran it for several years until he sold it back to his mother-in-law.

The only bid received for the zeolite, which is used to soften the extremely hard water, was from Culligan, Mansfield.

An additional $150 will be spent for the purchase of a mixer that will remove a substantial amount of grains of hardness in the existing zeolite so that it will become effective.

This is the first time since the early 1960's that any improvement has been made to the zeolite beds.

At that time the whole zeolite beds were replaced. The substance will last for long periods of time, but must be periodically replaced by adding new materials to it.

The village is purchasing 160 cubic feet at the cost of $36.95 a cubic foot. Freight Councilmen agreed it would be a waste of time to request a hearing on the request of the transfer of the liquor license of Bob's Cafe from Mrs. Robert L. Meiser to her daughter, Mrs. Terry Hamman.

Councilman Michael Taylor asked Police Chief Robert W. Seel whether it is a "trouble spot." His reply: "The trouble is with its patrons." Taylor then asked Village Solicitor Robert A. McKown if any conditions could be tied to the transfer of the license by the village.

This is legally impossible, he said. Then McKown said the village could consider a nuisance ordinance, one of which there are two types, one that would "hit" at the retainage of the license itself and the other that would act as a code of operation. He is to bring examples to the next meeting.

Taylor said that by the Jan. 16 meeting, he hopes to have a planning committee ready to organize and would appreciate any suggestions of names from the other councilman. Mayor Elizabeth G. Paddock said she had checked the village records and that such a commission had been set up about 1960 by ordinance and that the last time it was activated was in 1972 and 1973, when a small group worked on a zoning ordinance, which was ultimately rejected by the council.

Taylor has said several times he favors zoning, so it would most likely be one of the main objectives of a planning commission. Councilman G. Thomas Moore and David Howard have had several copies of such ordinances, that were prepared for Plymouth and another from a nearby village about the size of Plymouth, for several months now to study.

At the Dec. 5 meeting Moore suggested the village make a complete survey and inventory of the electrical distribution system.

The mayor said she knew of one person capable and would contact him. She told the council Tuesday night the person she had in mind declined because of his responsibilities at home and did not feel he could afford the time to be away from his ill wife.

She said she had remembered another person whom she knew would be capable and had tried to telephone him a number of times and assumed he is gone for a vacation, since he is now retired.

Taylor and Moore both asked Village Administrator James C. Root what plans the village has for such a storm as hit Ohio on Jan. 26.

He said village employees and departments had worked together through two bad winters and can continue to work together.

Moore specifically asked what is being done to let people know what they should do.

The mayor suggested that Fire Chief Wayne E. Strine be notified by everyone who has a CB. He in turn said it would be a wiser move that anyone with a CB contact Elmer Caudill, Shiloh, who heads the Roaring 20's, a CB club, who is setting up a headquarters for emergency calls.

If Mr. Caudill cannot be reached, CB'ers may turn their names into the Plymouth police department, which will forward them. Allen Carey, 85½ Mulberry street, was approved and sworn as a member of the fire department.

Nicest Yuletide gift of all?

Nicest Christmas gift of all, say junior high school pupils at Shiloh, is that new building costing $1.3 million is rising more or less rapidly and ought to be ready for occupancy in the spring. Problem: bricklayers don't want to work in cold, prefer indoor work in Lorain county at higher union wage. Building was about 80 per cent under roof on Tuesday.

LeSage wins farm post

The Christmas story

In those days a decree went out from Caesar Augustus that all the world should be enrolled.

This was the first enrollment, when Quirinius was governor of Syria.

And all went to be enrolled, each to his own city.

And Joseph also went up from Galilee, from the city of Nazareth, to Judea, to the city of David, which is called Bethlehem, because he was of the house and lineage of David, to be enrolled with Mary, his betrothed, who was with child.

And while they were there, the time came for her to be delivered.

And she gave birth to her first-born son and wrapped him in swaddling cloths, and laid him in a manger, because there was no place for them in the inn.

And in that region there were shepherds out in the field, keeping watch over their flock by night.

And an angel of the Lord appeared to them, and the glory of the Lord shone around them, and they were filled with fear.

And the angel said to them, "Be not afraid; for behold, I bring you good news of a great joy which will come to all the people; for to you is born this day in the city of David a Savior, who is Christ the Lord. And this will be a sign for you: you will find a babe wrapped in swaddling cloths and lying in a manger."

And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God and saying, "Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace among men with whom he is pleased!"

Fido's tag available at bank

For the first time in history, one who owns or harbors a dog in Plymouth can buy a dog license without leaving town.

Acting on the initiative of The Advertiser, Richland County Auditor Freeman J. Swank has arranged that Richland counties may buy dog licenses in First National Bank of Mansfield here. The bank, under its present styling and as Peoples National Bank, has for many years sold Huron county dog licenses.

Richland counties may also buy dog licenses at A. W. Moser Hardware, Shiloh.

Dog licenses may be purchased through Jan. 20 without penalty. Price is $4 a tag and $20 for a kennel license.

Each auditor will accommodate applications by mail. After Jan. 20, there is a penalty of $2 for the license and $5 for the kennel license.

Lost weekend: Lucas defeats Plymouth

Redbirds overcome Big Red

Lucas came from behind early in the first period here Saturday and pulled away to a 60 to 51 victory over Plymouth.

It was the second win of the campaign for the Cubs and the fourth defet of the season for the Big Red.

The visitors outbounded and outshot Plymouth. Lucas showed a plethora of left-handed shooters. It may have been that Plymouth could not cope with them. Whatever, one of them, John Banks, scored 26 points with 12 field goals and a pair of free throws. Most of that scoring came in the last quarter, when Banks bagged 12, 10 of them on field goals.

Lucas held a slight lead of two points after eight minutes, with the score at 14 to 12. The Cubs outpointed Plymouth in the second quarter, shooting 50 per cent from the field and scoring 14, whereas Plymouth managed only nine points.

The visitors got off just 12 shots at the basket in the third period and succeeded with only three of them. They cut loose in the final eight minutes and buried the Big Red with 22, four more than Plymouth was able to muster. Plymouth did not get closer than five points during the last half.

That coach Kevin Bright can't rely on his bench for much scoring was reflected in the individual totals: just five players scored. One substitute, Ted Stone, fouled out.

Jerry Scott scored 13 for the Cubs, the only other Lucas player in double figures. As it was, Lucas shot 40 per cent from the floor with 24 successes in 60 attempts. The Cubs missed seven of 19 free throws.

For its part, Plymouth shot slightly over 31 per cent with 18 made of 58 tries. Plymouth missed 10 of 25 free throws.

Lucas outbounded Plymouth, 40 to 34.

Jeff Ream led the Big Red scoring effort with 21. Ron Schuller got 13.

Red reserves led at every stop and prevailed, 58 to 47. Jerry Wheeler scored 16 and Scott Harris 13.

Two Plymouth players, Mike Berberick and Ron Schuller, fouled out. Schuller was the first to go, at 6:10 of the final period. But he had four personals before the first half was over. He scored only one point in the final 16 minutes.

Loudonville drew first blood there Friday night and coasted to an easy 58 to 47 triumph over Plymouth in Johnny Applesed conference play.

Plymouth never was a factor.

The Redbirds did not play well but they shot magnificently and they shot accurately. They tried for field goal 49 times and converted 24 of them, just under 50 per cent. And they shot exactly that with free throws.

For its part, the Big Red was much less accurate, despite the fact it ruled the board, 39 to 35. Plymouth unloaded for field goal 58 times and succeeded with 19 of them. The Big Red also shot exactly 50 per cent with free throws, missing nine of 18.

Two Loudonville players, Mike Berberick and Ron Schuller, fouled out. Schuller was the first to go, at 6:10 of the final period. But he had four personals before the first half was over. He scored only one point in the final 16 minutes.

These were Mike Dennis and Jim Grassman.

Loudonville doesn't have great height and Coach John Carlisle stresses disciplined shots. Eric Haudenschild, who led the Redbirds with 16 points, was successful with seven of 10 tries. Grassman, who scored 13, shot seven times and made five. Tyler Mowery, who also scored 13, went five-for-eight.

Jeff Ream led all scorers with 21 points, the only Plymouth player in double figures. He got 13 of them in the last half, six in the third period only.

period and seven in the fourth.

Plymouth made too many mistakes on the floor. In the first period there were 10 turnovers, in the second eight, in the third four, in the fourth five, for a total of 27.

Loudonville was almost equally careless, with seven in the first quarter, four in the second, six in the third and five in the fourth, for a total of 22.

Plymouth managed to outscore the host team in the third period only.

The president, Mrs. R. Eugene Russell, reported items worth $1,600 were taken to the Ohio Soldiers & Sailors home at Sandusky by the Dennis Baileys, Sr.

Other officers installed are Mrs. Philip Fletcher, associate matron; Mrs. Moore, associate patron; Mrs. Robert Kennedy, secretary; Mrs. Edd Vanderpool, treasurer; Mrs. Moore, conductress; Mrs. William Armstrong, associate conductress; Wayne H. Strine, chaplain.

Those cards came in handy when our kids were in school. Whatever they were studying, I would sort out the ones that fitted in, and they would take them to show.

Now I have discovered that it is a real hobby. Not long ago I went to a local flea market and could not believe my eyes when I saw a young man hand over a $5 note for two miserable old cards of Atlantic City. He apparently knew what he was doing and looking for.

By AUNT LIZ

Just about everyone is a natural born collector.

It can be a hobby that costs nothing or it can be the most costly one you can imagine. There are the Beam bottle people, and I am willing to bet most of them started out because they bought the stuff to drink, then got really hooked by the bottles themselves. There are the Avon people, who most likely had something given to them years ago and decided the container was attractive, so they kept it.

There are post card people. Someone sent them a card while on vacation, and they liked it and tucked it away. That is just what we did years ago because they were of such wonderful places like the cable car going up a Swiss mountain.

Those cards came in handy when our kids were in school. Whatever they were studying, I would sort out the ones that fitted in, and they would take them to show.

Now I have discovered that it is a real hobby. Not long ago I went to a local flea market and could not believe my eyes when I saw a young man hand over a $5 note for two miserable old cards of Atlantic City. He apparently knew what he was doing and looking for.

I leavedropped, which was not too nice, but it seems that one card showed a particular billboard that was rare, and I was looking for.

Some of these hobbies have been around a long time, like stamp collecting. Right now the postoffice is really getting for it and urging everyone to collect. It does make extra money for them, but it is really a fun thing and educational beyond all belief.

The most popular way lately to collect stamps is by a subject. This can be flowers, birds, famous paintings, and it all leads to learning more about the world.

This time of the year is a fine time to start a young one on such a hobby. I would not recommend the Beam bottles for a 10 year old, but stamps are free, if you start out slowly and for the fun of it. Kids learn history, geography, other languages, you name it, and it is there.

Every stamp collector dreams. You dream of somehow finding a very rare stamp accidentally. That's what makes it fun; you really know you will not, but it has happened.

Every time I go to a country auction, I look at a book there. Not for the book, but for a letter which might be tucked in it with the hope it will carry a used inverted airmail. Anyone can buy an unused one if he has the moola; the last one sold a few weeks ago for $100,000. As far as I know, one used stamp does exist, but no one knows where it is.

Not every child is going to become interested in a hobby which someone dreams up for him or her, but a few will remember it all their lives. So with THAT day almost here, I can cook away and day dream of what may be under the tree for me: just a few choice bits of paper, I hope.

And while you are waiting for your family to arrive and do not know just when they will come, you can have a tasty dinner ready to go.

Potatoes can go in the oven so they are ready, you can open a can of vegetables which just need heating, mix up a salad which can stay in the refrigerator along with some ice cream or sherbet for dessert, with all those Christmas cookies you have brewed up.

The main meat dish can be done ahead and ready to cook at the last minute.

This can be done with either chicken breasts which are deboned or thin slices of veal. Pound them out thinly. They go a long way.

Place a thin slice of Swiss cheese and a thin slice of boiled or even baked ham on each. Roll up and somehow secure them, dip in beaten eggs, then roll in crumbs. Chill for as long as you want.

When everyone gets settled, heat up some oil in a deep fryer, and cook them up. It is a real meal and frankly, economical, because both the veal and chicken are so thin that you do not need so much like an inch thick steak.

One more pole decorated

Ehret-Parsel Post 447, American Legion, and its auxiliary voted Dec. 6 to donate ornaments for one village pole. They were not included on the original list because of their meeting nights.
