

Athletic program between a rock and a hard place

By THE OLD TIMER
It has been fashionable of late to discuss the athletic situation in Plymouth High school from at least three standpoints: what league ought Plymouth to be in, why don't the people support the team, and what ought to be done to develop more support?

Each question impinges upon the others. And the answers are not wholly clear.

The athletic board of control will discuss soon the invitation to join a new league. There isn't much support for it among the school staff directly involved with athletics. The only sensible observation we've heard on the question of whether a new league will produce sufficient earnings to justify participation in it was that of the superintendent: "Gate's no problem. We need to think of what's good for the kids. If the gate isn't big enough, we will have to appropriate up to one-half of one percent of our general fund, as allowed by law, and simply find other ways to get the money."

Amen.

The new league would involve competing with North Baltimore, Danbury, Hopewell, Loudon and Seneca East in football and with these schools and Old Fort, Betsville and New Riegel in basketball.

The distance to North Baltimore is 72 miles, a heckuva way to go on a snowy night in February. Perhaps even riskier, Danbury is a far piece up the road, as well, and over less well travelled highways.

The alternative is a league that stretches to Zanesville. Neither choice seems propitious.

The present league is sure to come apart. It's now a six teams and one of them -- Crestview -- has already resigned. This leaves a Class AAA school, a Class AA school, which is, of course, in football and basketball, the two big spectator sports, are those of a snowball in hell.

There aren't enough Class A or small Class AA schools anywhere within shooting distance of here with whom to affiliate in a new league. Crestview is a starter. Perhaps Lucas could be induced. There isn't another until you get to South Amherst, which is a considerable distance up the road in Lorain county. An eight team league is desirable. A 10-team league is perfect, from a scheduling standpoint.

So the board has its work cut out for it. The ideal place to go is the one place where we're not wanted. Growing up with the thought of marrying the girl next door is one thing, but what if she can't stand the sight of you? WHICH BRINGS US TO public support. When our football team got off to such a fine start, they turned out in droves. Came one licking and the next week, at Belleville, on a perfect night for football, there were hardly enough people in the Plymouth stands to make eight tables of bridge.

Parents whose children are on the team turn out for the home games and some of the road games. When the kids are gone, the parents don't show up at the games of their home town team.

Some fans will deliberately go to Shelby or Willard to see a game when their team needs their support and their money. Even the freebies don't show up at the home games.

Who're the freebies? They're those who're recorded passes to enter free of charge? Who are they? Those who work at the games, such as concession managers and operators. Teachers of the staff, but not their wives or husbands. Members of the board of education, but not their wives or husbands. Members of the press (although the home town newspaper has always, invariably, without exception, paid for a regular admission ticket).

Perhaps it's too much to ask of a teacher who's cloaked with a couple of hundred yammering kids all day to tear himself away from home and school to watch a ball game and listen to some more yammering for an hour or so in the evening.

But the faces that're there game after game soon get to be noticed. What it boils down to is this: produce a consistent winner and the fans will be there. They may be fair-weather fans, but so what? Their money is just as good as anyone else's. To produce a winner requires a program that begins early in child development and is implemented consistently throughout the remainder of his school career. We think we have such a program going. But the products of that system can't be expected to win when they're priced out of fair and even competition before they start. And this is what the athletic board of control, and eventually the board of education, will have to deal with. It won't be any picnic. We're between a rock and a hard place. We can't go on in a league in which the fairness of competition is steadily worsening, from our outlook. To go into a league that affords no chance of more representative field of competition is what's desirable. But 72 miles?

DWI held

A 37-year-old Shiloh driver was summoned on a charge of drunken driving early Saturday after his car hit a snow bank in New State road and overturned.

Bernard E. Nease received visible injuries in the collision at 2:30 a. m. He was taken by ambulance to Willard Area hospital.

His passenger, Deanna M. Caudill, 21, claimed injury but did not seek treatment.

Youth stabbed

An unreported altercation in Bob's cafe Saturday resulted in a stab wound to a Plymouth youth.

Donald K. Ford, 19, 359 Willow drive, was taken to Willard Area hospital by private car after he was stabbed by Douglas Hall. Hospital personnel notified Willard police, who relayed the data to police here.

Mrs. Douglass in running

Mrs. M. Joan Douglass, an old GOP warhorse, is returning to the fray.

She will contest her party's nomination to run for Richland county commissioner with Dale Cook, a dairy farmer, and Jerry Wolf, a commercial photographer.

Wolf may drop out. If he is appointed director of elections to replace Dale Bricker, who's running for auditor, he'll have to drop out.

Mrs. Douglass was representative to the General Assembly in 1973 and 1974. She was defeated in a bid for reelection by Rep. Sherrod Brown. She sought to oust Brown in 1976 but failed.

She served as councilman in Mansfield for eight years, was on the Metropolitan Housing board for four years and now serves on the park board.

Primary opposition to an incumbent Richland county commissioner emerged last week when Ray E. Walter, Lexington, said he'll run on June 6 against Arthur Touby.

Democratic central committee chairman in the county, Walter is a councilman in Lexington, where he twice ran for mayor unsuccessfully. In 1972 he was defeated by Freeman J. Swank for the party nomination to run for commissioner.

A Shelby lawyer is the latest to challenge incumbent Common Pleas Judge James J. Mayer.

Mayer will seek reelection as an independent candidate.

Vincent R. Phelan is circulating nominating petitions both as a Republican and as an independent.

If he files as an independent, he won't need to run in the June primary. If he files as a Republican, he will face at least one opponent. He is Ralph E. Johns, now municipal court judge at Mansfield.

Lions to stage career night

Lions club will stage a Career night for eighth graders and some ninth graders in the old gymnasium, Plymouth High school, Thursday from 6:30 to 9 p. m.

Pupils who meet at Shiloh Junior High school will be bused to Plymouth and return.

Refreshments will be served between 8:30 and 9 p. m.

Eighty-two resource persons for 24 careers will be available for individual counseling.

Bonds sold

at 5.5 per cent

McDonald & Co., Cleveland bond house, was low bidder on $1.15 million of building bonds to fund construction of a new junior high school when Plymouth Board of Education opened bids Thursday.

The firm bid 5.5 per cent interest on the bonds, which will be retired over 23 years.

After a discussion of preliminary plans drawn by D. James Crawfis, Marr, Knapp & Crawfis, Mansfield architects, the board went into executive session to study negotiations of teacher contracts.

Deputy victim of coffee thrower

A Richland county sheriff's deputy was hit in the face with a cup of hot coffee Tuesday when he tried to question a local suspect about a robbery.

Capt. William Miser went to the home of Mrs. Allene Gasparac in West Broadway, on the Huron county side of the village, in the company of Lieut. Larry Falch to question Mrs. Gasparac's son. He said she told him her son wasn't home and then threw a cup of hot coffee in his face. He put her under arrest. He later received treatment for minor burns in the emergency room of Mansfield General hospital. Mrs. Gasparac was charged with assault and disorderly conduct.

He has been a police officer in Carpentersville, Ill., and was deputy sheriff in Bernatillo county, N. M.

He previously ran for a seat on the Deming board of education but did not win.

Jacobs aims to oust Seel

Councilman James L. Jacobs, Sr., completely rejected the attempt of Mayor Elizabeth G. Fadlock to be objective in the choice of a police chief Tuesday night.

She said she is well aware the council is divided three to three and examination is the best solution.

He flatly said the council only wants to consider the two local candidates, W. Robert Seel, who is acting police chief, and Ronald Humphrey, who joined the force last year.

Jacobs said that if the candidates are interviewed by the sheriffs of Juchland and Huron counties, which the mayor has suggested after the written test scores are reviewed, that "it looks like the council can't make a decision."

He also said his "gripe" with Seel is his conflict of interest in owning a business. He said that when he job (referring to Police Chief Melser) bought the lot, we had trouble and I do not want to live ever with such a problem.

At the special meeting of the council, Jacobs said that if the candidates are interviewed by the sheriffs of Juchland and Huron counties, which the mayor has suggested after the written test scores are reviewed, that "it looks like the council can't make a decision."

Ervin Howard said Seel was not a "leader" and was not "doing anything". He said Humphrey should be given a chance as acting police chief but later extended Seel's time by a motion until Mar. 7.

Patrolman William Hodges spoke up as a private citizen and said that none of the local police is trained in investigations and that trained people from the sheriff's department should be called in.

Will village be paid for removal of snow?

Is Plymouth about to get federal and state funds to help pay for snow removal in January?

After two visits to Norwalk and a number of telephone calls to obtain the 75 per cent disaster reimbursement for snow removal from Jan. 26 through Jan. 31, the mayor said that there were perhaps more during the storm period that were unreported because there were so many persons answering telephones.

For this period he reported 40 incoming calls. The mayor said that there were perhaps more during the storm period that were unreported because there were so many persons answering telephones.

Spiger quits council post

Youngest member ever elected to Shiloh's village council, David Spiger resigned, effective at once, when the council met Feb. 22.

He was into a second term of four years, which will expire Dec. 31, 1982. Spiger is 26.

High scorer

William Tackett, 12th grader, was leading scorer for Plymouth team in Class A tourney at Willard. He produced 30 points, one more than Blane Baker.

Trojans oust Red in thriller, 51 to 50

Plymouth played its best game of the season at Willard Friday night but bowed out of the Class A playdowns nevertheless. The Big Red fell victim to South Central 51 to 50, for the second time this season. An earlier meeting at Greenwich resulted in a 62 to 59 defeat.

Plymouth led for three periods and did not give up the lead until the clock read 1:47 of the final period. Tony Hall, who had a moment earlier tied it at 44 with a steal and a lay-up, fired one home to make it 46 to 44. After Plymouth took a time out, Dave Kelsner stole an in-bounds pass from Greg Muma, steamed almost the length of the court and laid it in for a fourth point lead.

It was this play that broke Plymouth's back. Bill Tackett, Plymouth's high scorer with 20 points, garnered two free throws before Hall countered with the first of a one-and-one penalty. Three points behind, Ron Schuller scored with a rebound with 20 seconds left. Plymouth was down by only one at this point. But Randy Adams fouled Hall and he responded with two free throws, the penalty and the bonus, and Adams's final shot merely made the score tighter with time running out.

As it was, Plymouth was beaten from the foul line. The Big Red matched the Trojans shot for shot from the field, each team having scored 20 field goals. The Trojans did it with 61 attempts, Plymouth with only 50. South Central fired 21 free throws and made 11.

Plymouth fired 11 and made 10. And that was the difference. The Big Red fell behind early on and was compelled to come back with two buckets. The teams tied the score nine times in the first half and 14 times throughout the game.

It was tied at 12 after eight minutes and at 22 after 16. Plymouth led by three going into the final period, during which the Trojans shot nine times for field goal and made six. Plymouth got off 11 tries and made three. The victors produced five successes in 13 attempts for free throw, Plymouth seven of eight.

Hall led the Trojan offense with 20 points. Kelsner had 12 and Kevin Wilhelm 10. Tom Gratific, the big gun of the South Central attack, scored only five.

Tackett, in his career high, was easily the outstanding Plymouth player on offense, though Adams excelled with his floor play. Blane Baker scored 13, the only other Plymouth player in double figures.

South Central was a bit more careful than Plymouth. The Trojans committed 17 turnovers, Plymouth 19. The Trojans took down 27 rebounds, Plymouth 21.

It was a good, stiff encounter between two classic rivals who played their hearts out and produced an exciting and highly competitive basketball game that was in doubt until the final second.

hang on to it and when the horn blew for the end of the third quarter, Plymouth led by just two.

The Big Red started out in the final period with a bucket by Adams, who drove nearly the length of the offensive court to score. Ron Rider countered with a shot made after breaking through the Red defense, whereupon Tackett scored. After a Cougar time out at 5:47, Brian Stimmell scored. The margin was back to two. Blane Baker, Plymouth's high scorer with 16, fired one home on the fast break and Gary Eberts countered with a rebound. Eberts connected again at 3:41 and it was tied at 41.

Ron Schuller was fouled by Jeff Stoffer and made both ends of his one-and-one, giving Plymouth a two point lead. But Stimmell was right there again and it was tied once more. Greg Muma fired a field goal and Eberts came right back so that with 1:37 left in the game, it was tied at 45.

Here Plymouth forged to the front. Schuller made one of two free throws. Crestview called time with 46 seconds left. Then Coach Keith Diebler called time. Baker was fouled by Rider and scored with both shots. This gave Plymouth a three point advantage with 27 seconds left. Crestview called another time out. Adams missed a free throw and then Schuller had a double opportunity. He made the second and Crestview tied right there.

Crestview victim of Plymouth

Twice defeated by Crestview in the regular season, Plymouth staged the upset of the year at Willard Feb. 22 by downing the Cougars, 49 to 45, in a game that was tied 10 times before Plymouth surged to the front with the last four points.

Crestview won the game from the field, 22 goals to 20. It was Plymouth's opportunities at the free throw line that produced victory. The Big Red shot 14 times and converted nine of them to win. Crestview missed one of two tries.

Plymouth jumped off to a four point lead on shots by Randy Adams and Bill Tackett only to see Crestview tie it. It was knotted at 10 after eight minutes and at 21 after 16.

Girls ride over Mounties

Plymouth girls gridred for sectional tourney play that began Tuesday at New Washington by whipping Mapleton, 54 to 32, Saturday.

The Big Red closed its regular season with a fine 11-and-3 record. One defeat was at the hands of St. Peter's, runner-up in Ohio in 1977. Another came from Lexington, a Class AAA school, and the third was by Ontario, a Class AA power. Kathy Brown scored 25 and Peggy Lewis 14 in the rout of Mapleton. Lewis took down 17 rebounds.

Twelfth graders on Coach Mike McFarren's team concluded their schoolgirl careers with a 32-and-11 slate.

Fifth graders stretch streak to 22 games

Fifth grade Vikings ran their undefeated streak to 22 games Saturday, defeating Brinkerhoff in league play at Mansfield, 27 to 16.

Sixth graders trailed by 13 points at the half at Bellevue Friday, rallied to tie and won in overtime, 38 to 37. Rodney Hampton scored 23 points.

Bailey's defeated the Vikes in league play Saturday at Mansfield, 33 to 21.

Both teams will play in Ashland tomorrow night.

Plymouth girls were beaten for the third time this season by powerful Ontario on Feb. 21. The score was 45 to 32. The Warriors outshot and outrebounded the Big Red.

Music teacher bride here

Miss Janeane E. Cunningham, vocal music instructor in Plymouth schools, was married Feb. 17 at 6:30 p. m. in First United Presbyterian church here to Phillip B. Hopkins, Sandusky.

The Rev. Dr. Calvin Winder performed the double ring ceremony in a setting of white chrysanthemums and pink roses lighted by candelabra.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a white A-line gown over pink underlay. She carried roses and white chrysanthemums.

Her younger sister, Kitty, matron of honor, wore a pink flowered print with pink and white daisies.

Robert Burdue, Fitchville, was best man.

Richard Blair Hopkins, Plymouth, and Jack Miller, Mansfield, ushered.

Mrs. Cunningham chose a gown of blue with pink and white carnations. The bridegroom's mother watched from the front pew in a blue gown with pink and white carnations.

The bridegroom, son of the William D. Hopkinses, Sr., New London, is an alumnus of New London High school and of Ashland college. He is employed by Columbia Gas of Ohio, Inc., Sandusky.

The bride is a graduate of Plymouth High school and of Heidelberg college, Tiffin.

David Swartz takes bride

David Swartz, son of the John Swartzes, Shiloh, was married Feb. 18 at 3:30 p. m. in Mechanistown to Miss Jean McClester.

The ceremony was performed in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert McClester, by the Rev. Kenneth Mansfield in a setting of potted chrysanthemums lighted by tapers in twin candelabra. The bride, Mrs. Swartz, wore a floor-length skirt of ivory wool knit and softly cowed sweater in mint green. The bride and her attendants carried a single ivory rose.

Mrs. McClester chose an apple green gown of ploy knit accented with seed pearls at the waist. He wore a daisy corsage.

Mrs. Swartz was attired in a floor-length gown of chiffon fashioned in green with a floral design. The ensemble had a full-length matching jacket. She wore a daisy corsage.

Darrel Clements, Columbus, the bridegroom's brother-in-law, was best man.

A reception and open house took place in the McClester home.

The bride is Richland county extension agent in home economics. She was graduated by Carrollton High school, Ohio State university and Michigan State university at East Lansing.

The bridegroom is an alumnus of Shiloh High school. He is associated with his father in Swartz & Son Potato farm. They will live in Shelby route 1.

Twentieth Century circle convened Monday at 7:30 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Carl Willford.

Mrs. Edward O. Ramsey discussed Ohio glass. Mrs. Norman B. McQuown's subject was Ohio pottery and Mrs. Dale McPherson talked on Ohio camp grounds.

Roll call was answered by a pertinent fact about Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. Eric J. Akers were among those attending the inaugural ceremonies Feb. 18 morning at Ashland college for the school's new president, Dr. Arthur L. Schultz. Along with his law practice in Plymouth, Mr. Akers is an assistant professor of business law on the college faculty.

What's a snob?

By AUNT LIZ

Every place has good people, bad people and those kind of in between, I guess.

There is another category, though, that no one wants to mention: snobs. They come in various categories. Some are the way they are because of the way they dress, some for what they do, some for where they are seen, some for the kind of car they drive, some for where they travel to, and some for what they cook, and they are the worst of the whole bunch.

That last little group now has something going for it that will probably make them more unbearable. Truffles are now in the process of being faked. Leave it to the French to dream this one up.

Those little morsels are for some strange reason the most desirable of all foods to every cook. This I could never understand because those mushroom-like things usually end up as little delectative tidbits on a dish ready to be served.

Because they grow underground among the roots of oak trees and for the most part only in France and Italy and are only found by a trained dog or pig that can sniff them out, they are plain expensive. Worse than real caviar, which now the Russians are in the process of faking up just like the Japanese did for pearls, raising fakes.

The earth-shaking thing in the truffle business is that now they are implanting them in the roots of young hazel trees so they can be controlled and harvested cheaper and faster. I can hardly wait.

If all this faking keeps up, we will lose all our snobbish people, which will cause a lot of hardship.

No one will have anything to look up to nor forward to anymore. Soon we will all be able to have that hundred dollar a pound stuff on tasty meat loaves. Truffles do have an extremely delicate flavor but really not a hundred dollars' worth.

Now if you want something more flavorful and more than in reach try this on one of our happy snowy nights which apparently will never go away.

It is onions au gratin. Slice up a pound of onions, boil them until just tender in salted water, then drain. Save the liquid, just a half a cup.

Melt two tablespoons of butter, add two tablespoons of flour, beating it with a whisk. Meanwhile, have a half a cup of milk if you are a really snobbish cook, use cream; but milk works just as well, heating up. Add this immediately to the butter and flour and stir into a sauce.

Start a casserole with the onions and sauce which has been treated to some shakes of ground pepper, whatever you think you need. Sprinkle the top with a mixture of buttered bread crumbs and grated cheese.

Bake or put under a broiler until the top is brownish.

Served with a two inch piece of choice steak, it is tasty. And not too bad with a slice of tasty meat- loaf. The real gourmet cooks will opt for the meatloaf, which takes real ingenuity to make. Anyone can cook a steak.

CHURCH NEWS

Methodists . . .

Choir of Shiloh United Methodist church will rehearse today at 7:30 p. m. Shiloh and Plymouth United Methodist Women will participate in World Day of Prayer program in Mt. Hope Lutheran church, Shiloh, from 10 a. m. until 1 p. m., sponsored by Church Women United. Guests should bring their own table service and items for a potluck lunch with hot dishes provided by Lutheran Church Women. Everyone should bring his own Bible with him. United Methodist parish will continue its Lenten services Sunday in the Shiloh United Methodist church at 7:30 p. m. Fourth speaker will be the Rev. Ed Wisbert, serving the Wooster parish, Wooster district, United Methodist church. He traveled in the Holy Land in the summer of 1976. He will be moving to the Florida area this summer to a two-point charge there. There will be a free will offering received each evening and special donations during the refreshment and fellowship will be received to support the church hunger project. Final Lenten service will be in Plymouth United Methodist church on Mar. 12 with the Rev. Gerald Ceranowski, St. Joseph's Roman Catholic church, as guest speaker. United Methodist church's general offering for the "One Great Hour of Sharing" will be received Sunday at the worship hours. This year's theme is "Feel the Need - Share the Gift." United Methodists along with 30 other Protestant and Orthodox denominations are observing this annual "One Great Hour of Sharing." United Methodists go to the United Methodist Committee on Relief, which, in turn, uses these funds in ministries of relief, rehabilitation, renewal of life and refugee resettlement. Pupils in the church school of the Plymouth church have also been given the opportunity to share in this offering through their rice sack offering bags. Pupils are reminded to return these to their church school classes this Sunday also. Shiloh United Methodist women will resume their monthly luncheon Thursday in the church basement.

The Kenneth Heydingers, the Arthur Jacobses and her brother and sister-in-law, the Gilbert Heubergers, Mansfield, have returned from a 10-day trip to Hawaii and Las Vegas, Nev. Donna Reynolds and Walter DeWitt were admitted to Mansfield General hospital Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. John L. Fetters, Canal Winchester, visited her mother, Mrs. Elton Robertson, Saturday.

The James G. Russells returned Sunday from a week's vacation in Aruba.

John Strine, New Haven, spent the weekend with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne H. Strine.

Helen Akers, who has been a patient in Mansfield General hospital for surgery, was moved to Mansfield Memorial Homes Tuesday.

G. Thomas Moore underwent heart surgery Thursday morning in Cleveland Clinic.

The Jerrold Harringtons and James Fenderby drove to Wooster Sunday to visit Todd Fackler, a student in the College of Wooster.

Mrs. R. Harold Mack recently visited her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. James M. Broderick, Alpena, Mich. Last week the Macks were guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Webster, Put-in-Bay, Monday. Mr. Webster will go to Mercy hospital, Toledo, for further surgery.

Mrs. J. Raymond Willet, Mrs. Rebecca Scott and Mrs. Percilla Reed were admitted Sunday to Willard Area hospital. Charles Bland was released Sunday from that hospital.

Legion sets spring parley

Ehret-Parsel Post 447 will be host Sunday to the spring conference of the 5th district, American Legion. Registration will be from 9:30 until 10 a. m. in Plymouth High school. Commander, will call the meeting to order.

The conference will be welcomed to Plymouth by Mayor Elizabeth G. Paddock. Dinner will be served at 12:30 p. m. in the local post home. The conference will reconvene at 2 p. m. to hear Clement C. Dombrowski, Toledo, second vice-commander of Ohio. He was elected to that office during the 50th annual state convention last July in Toledo. Mr. Dombrowski is a Navy veteran of World War II and a member of Argonne Post 545, Toledo.

After the retiring of colors, Legionnaires and their wives are invited for a buffet at the Legion hall. Mr. and Mrs. Keith Gooding will provide a musical background from 5 until 8 p. m.

Newsy notes . . .

The William Fazios, Roland Park, Ill., were weekend visitors of their daughters, Mrs. J. Elaine Tackett and Mrs. Janet Fry.

March Red Cross month - Two to lead ARC canvass

Mrs. Harold Laser and Mrs. Roy W. Carter are co-captains of the annual American Red Cross canvass in the village. Mrs. John H. Hutchison, Jr., is Huron county chairman.

The canvass will be conducted this month, proclaimed by President Carter as Red Cross month.

For the first time in several years, the Red Cross was placed among the beneficiaries of the annual Community Chest campaign. But the amount allocated to the Red Cross is insufficient to meet its local needs and the canvass is intended to collect the difference.

Swimmers wishing to make a contribution to the Red Cross may do so during the special program in Sandusky High school Saturday from noon to 4 p. m. A swimmer invites a fee for each lap of the pool negotiated by the swimmer. This money when collected by the Red Cross is credited as a donation by the swimmer.

Swimmers wishing to participate on Saturday will be bused to Sandusky and return. Mrs. Hutchison, Tel. 687-6242, has further details.

Services set for Mrs. Predmore

Services will be conducted today at 2 p. m. from McQuate-Secor Funeral home by the Rev. Edward Brandt, Trinity Lutheran church, Willard, for Mrs. Madalean Predmore, 78, Willard route 2, who died in Willard Area hospital Monday afternoon. She was ill a long time. Born Feb. 26, 1900, in Delaware county, she lived her whole life near Willard. Her husband, William, died in 1963. She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. June Emerson, Willard, and Mrs. Kathryn Stancel, South Amherst; three sons, Leeland, Elyria; Dale, Hebron, and James, Shelby; 11 grandchildren and 14 great-grandchildren. Burial will be in Greenview cemetery.

Help wanted. Every day of the year.

The American Red Cross. The Good Neighbor.
