Six councilmen remained silent Tuesday night when Mayor Elizabeth G. Paddock asked for a motion to confirm her appointment of W. Robert Seel as police chief.

Nor was there any discussion at the moment on the appointment.

That came about an hour later when the council agreed an extra session was needed to study Councilman James L. Jacobs, Sr.'s, proposed parking ordinance.

Council refuses to confirm Seel as police chief

It was agreed to recess the meeting until Saturday at 10 a. m.

Also to be discussed will be the police chief, Councilman David Howard requested that Eugene G. Gerken, sanitary engineer, be present. Howard was asked that Gerken was not present Tuesday night as had been planned. He said this was the third meeting he had not attended and was of the opinion the village should look for a new engineer.

He also asked the mayor why the council could not interview the candidates for the chief's job, as she had with Sheriff Thomas Weikel, Richland county, and Sheriff John Borghia, Huron county.

The mayor said she had planned it for her own benefit so that she could make what she thought would be the best recommendation to the council and that the two sheriffs had gone out of their way to cooperate with her.

She said she would be happy to furnish the council with the names, addresses and telephone numbers of all the candidates (there were two, however, who withdrew from the competition once they were told what the salary was) so that the council could arrange to meet with them.

Councilman Ervin Howard requested Village Solicitor Robert A. McKown to prepare an ordinance that would pave the way for the village to pay the doctor and hospital charges for the delivery of the child of Patrolman William Hodges. He later said he felt Hodges had actually been working full time before the previous council had appointed him.

No egg roll here on Sunday

Plymouth's annual Easter egg hunt in Harry Fate park has been cancelled because of the ground conditions.

Sponsored the last several years by independent chapters, Order of De Molay, the chapter hopes to plan another event for village children later.

Mrs. Shields, 64, interred here

Services were conducted from McQuate-Secor Funeral home Thursday at 2 p. m. for Mrs. Lester Shields, 64, 168 Walnut street, who died Mar. 14 in Mansfield General hospital, where she was a patient for some time.

Born Opal J. Sourwine in Plymouth, she lived here her whole life. She was a member of First Evangelical Lutheran church. She worked for many years for the Auto-cast Corp., Shelby.

She is survived by her husband and a sister, Mrs. Mabel Wilson, Plymouth.

The Rev. James W. McDorman, Ashland, former pastor of the church, conducted the last services. Burial was in Greenlawn cemetery.

Nursery school set by pupils

Parents of children between three and five years may send them to a nursery school to be conducted by home economics classes in Plymouth High school April 3 through 7 from 11:40 a. m. to 12:45 p. m.

A small fee will be charged.

Registration on a first come, first served basis may be telephoned to the instructor, Mrs. Green, in the high school.

to a full time position, which was then termed as temporary, and that the village owes it to him. Hodges was put on Bus Cross as soon as he received the appointment, but missed the maternity coverage because there were two 30-day waiting periods under the village's policy.

The mayor appointed Ervin Howard and Jacobs to study the problem of an alley running east and north from Park avenue and down behind Walnut street.

Councilman G. Thomas Moore said he had an enlightening meeting with Charles Moulton, district manager of Ohio Power, who said he would make it because its electric rates are too low. Moore said a study must be made. He is also working with village employees, Wayne Baker, on an inventory of the system.

The mayor said that she and Moore had been gathering data to be sent to the state concerning the amount of kilowatt hours consumed in 1977. The only way it could be determined was to use the figures Ohio Power billed the village for, which was 9,276,750 kwh for the year.

Some of that, the council agreed, was given away and there is no way of knowing how much. Now with the new building machine an accurate count can be recorded of how many kilowatt hours are actually billed.

The mayor said she had made an error at the last council meeting in reporting the billing for Jan. 17-Feb. 17. The actual amount billed was $25,717.17 and not $20,000, as she reported. She explained that inadvertently she had been given the wrong figure.

She also said that while she and Moore were collecting the data for the state, she did a survey on collections and expenses. In 1977 a sum of $249,580.22 was collected, with $219,082.23 paid to Ohio Power, leaving a balance of $24,498.29 to run the distribution system and thus the electric fund is considerably in the red.

Councilman James C. Root reported the new 12-inch well went into operation, although it is not yet fully completed, Monday at 3:30 p. m. and the water tower is beginning to fill to an adequate capacity. He said the clear well is sucking up debris from the other wells, thus the discoloration of the water. Once the new well is working well, each of the other wells can be shut down and cleaned.

Root said the village has needed a new well for the last 10 years but did nothing about it. He is also getting prices for zeolite, which needs to be replaced in the softening system.

Just before that he had his water tested the night before as he is installing his own softening system and "that he was shocked at the junk" in it.

David Inward said he had investigated the storm sewer problem in Brooks court and found the excessive water's running from the pond installed on the Noah Sammons property.

Moore disputed this. He said it was the result of a natural water flow from the elevated land. The mayor said she had a tour of the area Saturday and thinks it was the responsibility of the village to install a culvert where the road dips, which would take care of the water flow that goes from east to west.

Meat judges

Clifford F. Brown, appellate court judge in the Sixth Ohio District, filed yesterday as a candidate for justice of the Ohio Supreme Court in the Democratic primary of June 6.

Judge Brown is a native of Norwalk who has served on the court of appeals in Toledo for 14 years. Only three appellate judges of 44 in the state have served longer. He has run for the Ohio Supreme Court twice before. In 1974, he lost by only 50,000 votes of 2,910,000 cast, a margin of less than two per cent. He is nominated at the primary June 6. Judge Clifford Brown will run for

Judge Brown to try again for seat on Supreme Court

The Supreme Court seat now held by Judge Paul Brown, Republican of Columbus. He says the court needs more small town representation. Of the seven incumbents, six are from Cleveland, Columbus and Cincinnati, the state's largest cities.

Vincent R. Phelan, veteran Shelby attorney, has reconsidered his decision not to run for common pleas judge, in the light of the removal of James J. Mayer, and will file a nominating petition to run as a Republican.

Mayer was removed by a special judicial panel of the Ohio Supreme Court on grounds of physical and mental disability.

Phelan is an alumnus of Union college, Schenectady, N. Y., in 1948 and of the college of law of Georgetown university, Washington, D.C., in 1951. He was admitted to the practice of law in the District of Columbia in 1951, in New York in 1952 and in Ohio in 1958.

He was assistant prosecuting attorney from 1956 to 1959 and from 1962 to 1966 and was special counsel to the attorney-general from 19 to 1971.

He is a past president of the Shelby City Planning commission, of the Shelby Chamber of Commerce and of the Shelby Rotary club. He is a member of O'Brien post, American Legion, at Shelby, of the Knights of Columbus and of the Mansfield Sailing club. He is a communicant of Most Pure Heart of Mary Roman Catholic church.

Married to the former Martha Armstrong, he is the father of two daughters and a son.

JUDGE BROWN

John Buker, Mansfield, has launched his campaign as Republican candidate for representative to the General Assembly from the 61st district.

Buker graduated from Mansfield Senior High school in 1971. He received an academic scholarship to Ohio Wesleyan university, Delaware, where he majored in pre-medicine, graduating cum laude in 1975. Since graduation, he has worked for Mansfield Sealcoating, taught as a substitute teacher in the Mansfield schools and worked for Mansfield Ambulance service as an emergency medical technician. In November, he began as a representative with Metropolitan Life Insurance Co.

He is a member of First Congregational church, BPOE's, Young Americans for Freedom and the National Rifle association. He is married to the former Mary Lynn McGraw. His parents are Dr. and Mrs. Wallace Buker of Mansfield.

Driver injured as car upsets

A 27-year-old New Haven man was injured in Route 61 Friday morning when his car skidded on an icy spot south of Norwalk, spun around and overturned, landing on its top.

James Clark was treated at Fisher-Titus Memorial hospital, Norwalk. He told officers he tried to regain control of the car after it skidded but could not do so.

A third Republican has come forward to seek the party nomination to be Richland county common pleas judge.

Max Chilcote, 53, Ontario, will challenge Ralph E. Johns and Vincent R. Phelan for the nomination.

After service in the Army between 1943 and 1946, Chilcote was graduated by Heidelberg college, Tiffin, in 1951. He taught and coached in Attica High school, eight years and four years thereafter in Ontario High school. He obtained his law degree from the University of Toledo in 1955.

He served nearly eight years as assistant prosecutor of Richland county and simultaneously as solicitor of Ontario. He was solicitor of Lexington nearly four years.

He and his wife, nee Marcella Williams, are the parents of four children, Donald, a lieutenant in the Air Force, Richard, a sergeant in the Army; Rhonda, a college student in Boca Raton, Fla., and Rebecca, a pupil in Garrettsville High school.

Although a five judge panel has recommended he be removed as sitting judge of common pleas of Richland county because of physical and mental disabilities, Judge James J. Mayer filed his nominating petitions for reelection yesterday.

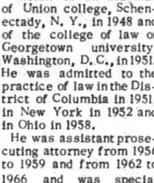

Appointed and then elected as a Democrat, he bolted the party and became a Republican. Now he's running as an independent.

Whether his name will be allowed on the ballot, a question that doesn't need to be settled right now because Judge Mayer wouldn't run in the June 6 primary, remains moot. Mayer thinks he is the victim of a political cabal and obviously hopes the electorate will see it his way and vindicate him in November.

George Murray, a leading Mansfield attorney, became the fourth Republican to declare for the bench on Monday. He filed a nominating petition for common pleas judge yesterday, bringing to four the number of Republicans vying for the nomination on June 6. Donald Lett, now referee in Judge Mayer's court, is the only Democrat seeking the nomination.

A primary race is assured for the post of Huron county commissioner in each party.

Latest candidate to

come forward is John Yacoh, Willard's veteran fire chief, who will contest the Democratic nomination with the incumbent Maurice Smith, who sold his tire business in New London a couple of weeks ago.

Yacob is now circulating nominating petitions.

He joined the Willard Fire department in October, 1949, after serving five years in the Army during World War II. He began as a full-time employee of Willard in July, 1952, and served as fire truck driver and city hall maintenance man. He is a disabled veteran, the holder of the Purple Heart with oak leaf cluster.

He was chosen Citizen of the Year for Willard in 1958. He is a past president of the Kiwanis club and is vice-chairman of the governor's safety committee on fire prevention.

John Baltes, Norwalk, a Republican, will contest with Joseph Sherman, who lives in Hartland township, where he farms in partnership with a son, for the GOP nomination.

John Buker, Mansfield, has launched his campaign as Republican candidate for representative to the General Assembly from the 61st district.

Buker graduated from Mansfield Senior High school in 1971. He received an academic scholarship to Ohio Wesleyan university, Delaware, where he majored in pre-medicine, graduating cum laude in 1975. Since graduation, he has worked for Mansfield Sealcoating, taught as a substitute teacher in the Mansfield schools and worked for Mansfield Ambulance service as an emergency medical technician. Lettermen are Tom Miller, pitcher and outfielder; David Gillum, infielder and catcher; George Brown, first baseman; Marty McKenzie, outfielder; and Rick Collins, outfielder, all 12th graders; Jim Wallace, outfielder and third baseman, and Ron Schuller, shortstop, 11th graders.

Other candidates are Jerry Furr, Bob Vermillion and Mike Ebersole, 12th graders; Barry Tuttle and Greg Gillum, 11th graders; David Martin, Doug Beverly, Doug Miller, Gary King, Randy Neely and Mike Branham, 10th graders, and Steve Tackett, Ralph Butler, Marty Garry, Randy Collins, Bill Hudson and Jeff and Phillip Beverly, ninth graders. "With seven returning lettermen," Dunn observes, "we have some experience but the pitching corps lacks both experience and depth. Tom Miller is our only returning pitcher. How well we do will be dictated by the development of our pitching staff. We should be sound defensively and be able to score a few runs. Our strength is in our enthusiasm and our determination."

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Sir: First, I have to admit that I know very little about town or city government, but I would like to express my concern about the water problem that this town has. We have lived here in Plymouth now for four years, and as an Air Force family of 23 years we have lived in many small towns and large cities, but I find the water here to be the worst I have ever seen. I cannot see how a town like Plymouth could be satisfied with the water that we have. Have you ever noticed the thick sediment that collects in your pet's water dish? Also, white clothing is almost nonexistent! My line of work calls for white uniforms, and do you have any idea how expensive they are? I often wonder if there is a legal way of having the responsible party pay for such damage, as in the short life of my uniform!

Has anybody ever thought of the possible health hazards that may exist within our water? Sure, the EPA monitors the water, but I often wonder just how closely. I think it is time that the citizens of Plymouth start to voice their opinions! It is not only the elected few that should run a town, but it is the proud citizens that live here also!

I honestly feel, among other citizens in the town, that the wisest investment would be for the village to tap into the Willard reservoir instead of wasting money on dry wells, or gambling with successful well that we have no idea how long will last.

People of Plymouth, I beg of you, get off your cans and let's unite to do something for our town. Let's quit making it the laughing at town of Ohio! I intend to make Plymouth my home for many years to come, because I believe it is a great little town. I feel our mayor is doing a more than adequate job, and one would have to admit she has a lot of courage and determination. Now all we need is for the council and the mayor to unite, along with citizen support of necessary attitudes. Plymouth has to fight together, not against one another. Let's get together, proud people of Plymouth, not only with the water situation, but all the other problems in the town, like the sewer.

One person cannot do it alone, what we need is a Community Good Friday service will be conducted in St. Joseph's Roman Catholic church at noon.

This service sponsored by the community ecumenical planning committee of Shiloh and Plymouth will center around the events of the first Good Friday leading up to the crucifixion of Jesus. The scripture story will be told by the narrator, Carl Webber; Jesus, Michael McFar-ren, and speaker, Diane Russell. It will continue through the use of slides and individuals observing the various Stations of the Cross. The closing will be on the meaning of the cross in life. There will be a free will offering received at the doors at the conclusion of the service. These funds will be used by the planning committee for future projects and the group's community emergency fund.

Easter Sunday for United Methodists will begin at the community Easter sunrise service at 6:15 a. m. in St. Joseph's church. It will feature congregational participation, hymns, several selections of special music by Sue Shurt and Mr. McFarren, portions of Scripture and several short testimonies by community individuals. Also, a free will offering will be received to cover expenses of the day and other projects of the sponsoring group, the community ecumenical planning committee. At the conclusion of the celebration there will be a continental breakfast served in the parish hall.

Methodists will conduct regular Easter morning services. Shiloh church will begin at 9:30 a. m. Choir will present the music selection, "Where Grave, The Victory". Plymouth church will worship at 11 a. m. with special music presented by the choirs. Junior choir will sing, "Hallelujah Easter Morning" and "Come, Christian Join to Sing". Adult choir will sing, "The Lord Is Risen Today". The Rev. John H. Hutchison, Jr., s. message will be "Death, The Way to the Resurrection". A short service of holy communion will be observed for those unable to attend on Maundy Thursday.

Church members are reminded to order their lilies for Easter by Friday and give this information to the pastor. They may be given as memorials or as gifts. Also, members are reminded that Lenten-Easter offerings through the Joash bags will be received Sunday. Individuals and families will have the opportunity to bring their offerings forward during the service for dedication.

This is what little girls are made of.

Every minute, three billion cells in a little girls' body are being replaced by new ones.

The material for each new cell comes from the nutrients in the food she eats. What these nutrients do once they reach her body, and what they do with each other will make her different from every other little girl.

Her life depends on nutrition. She'll grow to live life well or ill because of it. We study nutrition. And we've learned that although poverty is the chief cause of malnutrition, it isn't the only cause.

Almost half of us are undernourished. And through nothing more than a lack of knowledge about the food we eat.

Every day we're learning more. You should learn more too.

To give you some basic information and valuable guides to preparing meals and diets, we've put together a book entitled "Food Is More Than Just Something to Eat."

Write for it. Nutrition. Pueblo, Colorado 81009. And we'll send it to you. Free.
