

Red to face Lucas, seeking fourth win

With a three-game winning streak on the line, Plymouth goes on the road for the first time this season Saturday, meeting Lucas in a match in which the Big Red is clearly favored.

The Cubs have lost three of the last one to a Crestview team that isn't supposed to be all that strong.

Bill Nardo is the Lucas coach. His team has some experience but not much size.

Plymouth ought to outweigh the Cubs up front by as much as 40 pounds a yard.

Defensively, Lucas is a stronger team than offensively.

Tom Wilson, Pat Simon and Chris Pollard are lettermen in the secondary.

Tim Cooper and Tom Hunt are veteran linebackers.

Guy Ross, who weighs 170, will play at defensive guard.

Todd Harris, another 12th grader, scales only 160 but knows what he's about.

Last season Lucas led its league offensively, with 430 yards rushing. But 620 of those yards are gone by graduation and Nardo needs to depend upon two players of last year's squad, Tom Linder and Mark Van Tillberg, to carry the mail.

Linder weighs 170. He carried only 18 times last year for 82 yards, an average of 4.6 yards.

If the young Cub quarterback finds his range, Lucas can be tough. His name is Rick Hardin and he's just a 10th grader. He plays at Ross, Simon and Chris Niswander, a 12th grader who plays halfback.

Plymouth's performance against Lucas can well be a harbinger for what it'll do the following week at Danville. The two teams play in the Mid-Buckeye conference and Danville's Blue Devils are favored to win the league this year. Lucas has given notice it will resign and is negotiating with Crestview and Plymouth to establish a new league for next season.

Plymouth has no words from its engagement with Hopewell-Loudon and apparently plans no major change in its lineup.

What has been encouraging to Red fans is the relatively rapid development of players who weren't figured to advance so fast. These, such as Joe Miller and Gary King, have proved invaluable so far.

Plymouth generated a sustained offense only three times Friday night. Two of them produced touchdowns and one of them might have done so but for a broken play, when on fourth down Mike Berberick's attempted pass resulted in a sack, a loss of five yards and a goodbye kiss from touchdown country.

The Big Red had only nine possessions against the Chiefs — one of them was for two plays only, as time was running out — and will look forward to more opportunities against Lucas.

Game time is 8 p. m. Best approach to Lucas is via Route 39. Turn left at traffic signal in Lucas and proceed to school. Stadium is on hill behind school.

Terry Tash, 12th grader, is veteran defensive back and flanker, upon whom Plymouth will rely Saturday to contain Lucas aerial attack.

Water rates up in Shiloh

Water rates in Shiloh were increased by 67 per cent effective Oct. 7. The village council there met Sept. 13.

New rates will be $10 a household a month. Present rate is $6.

Schools will pay $44 a pupil, teacher and employee a month until a meter is installed, after which the commercial rate will be charged.

Commercial rates are 80 cents for each 1,000 gallons up to 7,000, 55 cents for each 1,000 for the next 10,000, 45 cents for each 1,000 for the next 50,000 and 30 cents for each 1,000 for consumption in excess of 67,000 gallons.

Commercial sewer rates to go into effect Oct. 1. These are $3.20 for the first 7,000 gallons of water used, $3 cents for each 1,000 gallons of water used to 10,000, 22 cents for each 1,000 gallons of water used to 67,000 gallons and 10 cents for each 1,000 gallons of water used beyond that level.

Rates were raised to fund payment of $75,000 borrowed to refurbish the water plant.

Gordon Figley, Delphi, was engaged to repair the village hall at a cost of $200.

Mayor Grady McDonald said the county building inspector should be en-

Assault charge result of feud

A 29-year-old Plymouth man was charged with assault on a police officer after an altercation in the Rathskeller at Shiloh Saturday at 9:47 p. m.

Pearl Hamilton, Jr., whose brother, Glenn, died in a tragic collision in front of his home in Trux street on Apr. 15, 1978, is said to have attacked the driver of the police car that struck his brother. He is Wilford Stover, who was taken to Mansfield General hospital and released. Stover was not on official duty when the altercation occurred and he was not armed.

Boy, 17, held after collision

A 17-year-old Plymouth boy was summoned by the state highway patrol Sept. 11 after his car struck a culvert in the left side of Fairfield-Angling road, west of the intersection of the right side of the road and then careened into a soybean field.

Scott E. Lewis was charged with speeding. The procedure is simple and also can be accomplished by mail.

The long nightman is over: sewers ready for final inspection

The nightmare that began for the village Feb. 19, 1972, when Farmers Home administration officials met with the village council to lay the ground work for installation of a sanitary sewer system, will end in a few weeks.

Eugene C. Gerken, engineer for the project, told village council Tuesday night the sewer system, with the exception of very minor repairs in the grouping of several tiles in Brooks court and the installation of two sections of storm sewer which had been torn up, is acceptable and can be put to use.

He said the village can do these repairs more cheaply and easily on its own.

However, final approval must come from P.H.A. A resolution was passed by the council requesting an inspection as quickly as possible, preferably the next week or two.

Mayor Elizabeth G. Paddock suggested arrangements be made for the council with the P.H.A. inspectors to view the televised film that will become village property for future use.

The film was made when Needles & Associates, which was awarded the contract to do the repair work, discovered the repairs as detailed did not exist in some sections of the system. This was notably in Brooks court.

Gerken had based his repair work estimate on film that American Empire Insurance Co. made two years ago. It is the bonding company for the defaulted contractor, Quentin Alderman Co., Inc., Flatwood, Ky.

The films turned out to be of an inferior quality and what looked to be broken tiles turned out to be discolorations.

Needles contracted with Municipal & Contractor Supply, Inc., Lexington, which came in with a better camera and equipment.

Needles bid $52,643.25 and will be paid a total of $24,859.40, which is a savings to the village of more than half of the proposed amount.

Approval was given to a Needles bill for $10,032.14, which is for 92 per cent of the work completed through Sept. 7.

It will be paid on Sept. 25 when a $15,000 time deposit is due.

Clerk-treasurer Raymond L. Brooks invested $55,000 of the $60,000 borrowed from First National Bank of Mansfield for the repair work. One time deposit for 30 days was for $15,000 and the other $40,000 was put in a 60 day deposit.

The village will receive about $500 in interest on the two.

Four change orders were approved as suggested by Gerken. No. 1 deducted $12,500 from Needles' contract for work in East Main street, which the Bachrach Co. is doing for $8,500.

No. 2 deducted $19,862 for unneeded work in Brooks court.

No. 3 compensates Needles in the amount of $4,443 for needless work, purchase and return of materials and such.

No. 4 is for the film, which the village is purchasing from Needles to keep. It costs $134.90.

The actual construction of the system began June 25, 1972, with a contract stating it would be completed in 365 days. A 60-day extension was granted to Alderman by the council, which meant a deadline of Aug. 1, 1974. Alderman abandoned the project, leaving the Beelman street area uncompleted.

This was done in 1977 by McDaniel Construction Co., Amherst.

What householders outside the corporation limits are paying the sewer charge because they are water users was tabled until the next meeting. Some are and some are not.

When the original sewer charge of $1 a month was assessed, the ordinance read that all water users would pay it. Over the years the corporate limits are paying 10 per cent more for water.

The council agreed that Mrs. William Wheeler, utility clerk, would have to prepare a list of who is paying and who is not before any definite action could be taken.

Former Councilman and Village Administrator D. Douglas Brumbach appeared before the council to argue against the selling of the electric distribution system.

He said the reason the electric fund is in the red is that charges that rightfully belonged to other funds are consistently charged against it. He realized this, he said, when he became the administrator in 1968. He cited the utility building as one large example and said it had been built entirely from profits of the electric department.

He claimed it could be made into a profitable business and if the village sold out, there would be an exodus of residents.

Councilman C. Thomas Moore said he did not notice any exodus from Willard when that municipality sold to Ohio Power.

Moore said he did not want to raise its rates to meet those of Ohio Power to survive but wondered what the future would bring.

Six to appear in court of mayor

Six persons are slated to appear in mayor's court Monday afternoon.

Two are for traffic violations.

Mrs. Ethel Hamilton is charged with driving left of center, and James Predmore, Shelby, with following too closely.

Frances Burks, Willard, is charged with two counts of disorderly conduct and interfering with the official duties of a police officer.

Randal Howard is accused of disorderly conduct, and a charge is clarified by his wife, Barbara, with assault.

Bread new in China

By AUNT LIZ

Computer dating is back in style. I can remember that when our kids were in school, it was the thing. Once our son signed up for it and ended up with some gal from Kent State whom he investigated rather thoroughly, and if I remember correctly, he decided the computer made an error and he wanted his money back.

Back in my day there were no such machines, but there was a system called "blind dating." I went to a girls' school for a while and there would be a dance, and you could sign up to be fitted out with a date from a neighbor by boys' school. I never had the courage to do it, but one friend did for the heck of it and ended up marrying the guy.

One school which has recently indulged in the computers got its faculty involved and the machine matched up the principal with all the lady teachers as being very compatible except for one. It just happened to be his wife.

We are all really being run by computers and perhaps they can be better than people at times. But it leaves something out of life.

One bright thing happened last week. We discovered that Congress and the President passed into law that there would be a Grandparents' day on the first Sunday after Labor day.

No one even told me and I gather it all started last year. We did not know until we received a friendly card with two identical pictures -- his and hers -- from one grandchild. We have a great problem about any pictures we get in the mail, they all end up in one waller, so now our kids send two of everything. Still both end up in one place.

Some day I will buy a big album for all the pictures that simply cannot fit in any hip pocket and that will solve the problem.

It is fun being grandparents, but our main problem is when you see something really cute to wear, but do not know what size it should be. Each baby seems to be different at the same age, so it is pure guess work. I can vaguely remember back when our children were growing up. I knitted all their socks and sweaters, and they got to the point of growing faster than I could knit, so that was that.

SHOULD I GET BACK into the knitting business for two little granddaughters just over a year old, I think it best I do a three-year-old size. One slows down a little over the years. You even look for easier ways to cook that are not so time consuming. Of course, the easiest way is to pop a TV dinner in the oven, which can go over like a lead balloon in some houses.

Right now the poor Chinese are discovering bread, the one thing that we all grew up on. They simply never had it. It will be their newest revolution.

Can you imagine what it would be to live without a tasty bacon, lettuce and tomato sandwich? Think what joy that will bring into a Chinese life.

And a tuna fish, an egg salad and a chicken salad sandwich? There is probably the biggest sandwich eaters in the world and all of a sudden we discover that those poor Chinese do not even know what one is. We may be a very small planet in the universe, but we certainly cover a lot of territory and it seems very odd that bread is just now reaching such a vast county as China.

They got to us first through with their great influx of cookbooks, and I am willing to wager anyone that the best Chinese cooking is now in our country.

We are a very lucky country. There is not another one that can get most of the world as we have kitchen-wives. Those that had colonies have gotten in on it all with curries, but we get the best of each country. And it is the average housewife who did it all.

Brookes vies

Competing for the first time in bicycle motocross racing at Norwalk Sunday, 14-year-old Jamie Brookes, a ninth grader, daughter of the Donald Brookes, finished 11th against an all-male field and won a handsome trophy in the powderpuff competition.

Her younger brother Larry, 12, placed fifth and sixth in his heats.

Girls beaten

Volleyball team met St. Paul's Thursday and took it on the chin, 15 to 12 and 15 to 3.

The Flyers led by 14 to 18 before Plymouth closed the margin to 10 to 12.

Ross's score produces third straight victory

Plymouth put on two touchdown drives, each with the first possession of the half, in Mary Fete park Friday night and came away with a well-earned victory over Hopewell-Loudon.

The score was 14 to 6. But for an unfortunate mistake, the score would have been 14 to 0.

A fumbled punt that the Chiefsains recovered, on what is the best play in football, gave the visitors possession at the Red 20. They needed just four plays to score as Kerry Brickner poked home from the one. When Ladd Howell booted the PAT, Hopewell-Loudon was in the lead, 7 to 6.

Hopewell-Loudon kicked off to start the game and Plymouth went right to work.

In II plays the Big Red covered 64 yards. On third down, Mike Berberick sought to pass. He was forced from the pocket, ran to his right, spied Jim Robinson in the end zone and threw a 23-yard strike to him there. The try for PAT by placement was wide. The clock read 7:02 of the first period.

Plymouth did not do much with the Chiefsain defense for the remainder of the half.

Indeed, it managed only 15 yards rushing before time ran out at the half. Plymouth went to the break with five first downs, 79 yards rushing, 23 yards passing and 30 yards lost in penalties, of which there were four. The Chiefsains, on the contrary, with five first downs had 84 yards rushing, none passing, and 20 yards lost by penalties, of which there were two.

Hopewell-Loudon drove to the Plymouth 15 early in the second quarter. Kevin Galeto ripped off 18 yards that brought a first down at the Plymouth 23. Brickner was sacked up for a yard loss, a pass fell short and then Brickner took a pitchout to the right for nine. The Chiefsains laid it all on the line on fourth down and sent Galeto up the middle. The Red defense stopped him cold.

Hopewell-Loudon punted to the Red end zone with its first possession of the second half, Plymouth having kicked off.

A stunning defense keying on Jim Wallace forced Coach Mike McFarren to call on John Ross. This he did 25 times and Ross responded with 148 yards rushing before he was ejected after a scuffle on the penultimate play of the game.

Ross got the winning touchdown drive going with a splendid 28-yard run through his left tackle. This gave Plymouth first down at the Red 48. Ross got six more through left guard, Berberick rolled out for 10, Ross got 14 in three plays, Tash added seven on a flanker-around play, Ross got three, Wallace hit for three and then Ross went the last nine yards. The clock read 4:36 of the third period. Berberick passed to Gary Reno, alone in the secondary, for the PATs and that was the scoring for the night.

Neither team threatened in the final period after Plymouth ran out of downs at the Chiefsain 15. Hopewell-Loudon struck back in II plays was at the Plymouth 39, where it was forced to punt.

Plymouth drove out from its nine to the 49, and was preparing to seek first down on fourth and one when a penalty set the Big Red back five yards, whereupon Ross punted 30 yards to the Chiefsain 26.

The Big Red recovered a Chiefsain fumble at the Red 40 late in the game, but there wasn't time to do anything about it.

Ross punted capably, albeit excelled by the Chieftain kicker slightly as to yardage and hang time. Plymouth's defense braced after a poor showing in the second period. That quarter aside, the defense held the Chiefsains to just 13 yards in the air and 82 yards rushing.

The Red offense made only two sustained drives but each was well-chiseled. Plymouth was credited with 251 yards rushing and 23 yards passing, on one completion in two tries.

The Big Red was punished heavily by penalty, giving up 85 yards in nine assessments. Two of them were for unportsmanlike conduct, resulting in two ejections.

Some Red fans criticized the officiating.

Annual Rally day will be observed Sunday in Shiloh and Plymouth United Methodist churches. Sunday is also Christian Education Sunday and marks the beginning of Christian education week. These two events mark the close of summer activities and the return to the regular schedule.

In observance of Rally day all children attending church school will receive special gifts to remind them of the event. In addition the teachers and workers of the church schools are to be honored for their work. During the service a special recognition of them will be included and service of dedication for all for Christian education week will be conducted at the end of the hour. Children's sermon will be "Developing."

To further honor Sunday school teachers and workers a luncheon for all the parish will be served at 12:30 p. m. in the Plymouth church's Fellowship hall. Teacher and workers are guests for this event, which is open to all of the church members and families. The meat and drink will be furnished by the Plymouth Christian education committee. Those attending are asked to bring only salad or dessert dishes, table service and their families.

After the luncheon and program, at 3 p. m. the Shiloh church's teachers will meet in the church school rooms for their quarterly meeting.
