The Voice of The Advertiser -

Vote YES on two levies!

Two money issues face Plymouth voters on Nov. 6.

One of them is a renewal, pure and simple. The other ought to be a renewal and but for an unfortunate oversight by a previous clerk, would be on the ballot as such. Instead it appears as a new levy.

But it's not one that we haven't paid before.

This is the proposed tax of one mill to benefit Greenlawn cemetery. A levy in this amount was on the tax rolls and was allowed to expire without renewal by oversight.

A blind man can see that the cemetery needs the money. Its costs have risen even as everybody else's costs have risen. Its staff is entitled to periodic pay increases even as everybody else's staff is entitled to periodic raises. There is a limit to the funding of these increased expenses by raising fees.

We have spoken before about the custom of burial as a means of disposing of the dead. Our personal religious convictions are opposed to it. But it is an established custom and the village has a very substantial investment in it. It would be foolish not to protect that investment by refusing to approve a one mill levy to run for five tax years. Vote "YES" on Nov. 6 for the cemetery levy.

The renewal levy is for the benefit of the fire department. It amounts to one half of a mill. It would run for five years.

It is not a new tax. Save for taxpayers on the Huron county side of the village, who face a 15 per cent increase in their taxes this year, it won't cost anybody one lime more than what he's paying right now.

Our fire department not only requires funds to maintain the status quo, it needs funds with which to upgrade services. For the first time during a general election, all fire and rescue services are under a single administration, albeit paid for from separate funds. But the proposed renewal specifically provides for application of its proceeds to the purchase and/or maintenance of ambulance or emergency medical services.

Which is as it should be.

Members of the department have engaged in specialized and refresher training on a consistent basis. They have strived to raise money by other than taxation to fund their proper expenses. Who shall deny them their proper support?

Vote "FOR" the fire levy of one-half mill to run for five years on Nov. 6.

Victory: Red's fourth period score defeats Seneca East, 12 to 6

Plymouth managed a 12 to 6 victory over Seneca East at Attica Saturday afternoon, scoring with 1:22 remaining to salvage what was otherwise a frustrating day.

The Big Red kicked on the Tiger door no less than five times after its opening score with the kickoff and a series of omission and commission each time.

But the sixth time, which came on a lucky break, proved the charm. Plymouth again used the best play in offensive football - the recovery of a fumbled punt - to produce its first touchdown. Unable to score, Plymouth sent Phil Gowitzka to punt. This he did, for 27 yards, to the Seneca East 32, where the safety man fumbled. Plymouth recovered and needed five plays to score. Steve Tackett rolled out for the last four. James Jamerson was the workhorse in this drive.

gaining 23 of the 32 yards. Indeed, he was the workhorse all afternoon, accounting for 73 yards in 17 carries. Plymouth set up to kick the PAT but the snap from center was too high and Bill Hudson, the kicker, was forced to run with the ball. He was thrown short of the last line. Seneca East took advantage of a Plymouth mistake in the middle of the second period. A 15-yard penalty set the Big Red back to its 33, a screen pass to Gary Blankenship having fallen short of first down at the Tiger 45. Seneca East couldn't advance and turned the ball over at the Red 30.

On first down, Jamerson fumbled after a four yard gain. Randy Stein recovered and the Tigers set to work. After a 15-yard holding penalty, Brett Hemminger passed nine yards to Mike Miller. On third down, Hemminger set up to pass, couldn't find a receiver and dashed 36 yards through the Red defenses for the tying score. The run for PATs was short.

Plymouth put on a long drive with the next kickoff but fell six inches short of first down at the Tiger 30.

Seneca East was at the Plymouth 30 when the half ended. Plymouth clearly dominated the first half, statistically, save on the scoreboard. In 37 plays, the Big Red had 111 yards rushing and 17 yards passing - the passing attack was ineffective, perhaps because of the quartering wind - and had lost the ball on its only fumble. Seneca East, for its part, had 62 yards rushing and 26 through the air. It had lost one of two fumbles.

The Tigers were shocked by a 15-yard penalty before the second half started. They failed to report to the field on time.

Plymouth kicked off from the Seneca East 45. The outside kick was touched by a Tiger and Plymouth recovered. Scott Harris was called on for the first time and he responded with a 20-yard burst around right end with a pitchout. A pass to the end zone to Jeff Hale was dropped. On fourth down, from the nine, Hudson sought to kick a field goal. The 26-yard kick went awry.

Plymouth was back knocking on the door with its next series. Fielding a poor punt of 19 yards at its 39, the Big Red passed laterally to Hudson and then ran Tackett and Blankenship up the middle until, on third down, a fumble occurred at the Tiger eight. Seneca East recovered but could do no damage and punted out to its 38. Plymouth stormed back, getting another completion to Kenee, this one good for 15 yards, but failed of first down with a pass to Hale that fell incomplete at the Tiger 15.

Seneca East punted out. On first down, Tackett sought to pass but he hit Chris Mahl, fumbled and surrendered possession and 15 yards as well.

On the next play a 15-yard holding penalty against Plymouth put the ball at the Red 25. The defense braced and took over at the Plymouth 28.

Land judgers win contests

Plymouth's land judging team won the Richland County Vocational Agriculture district championship on the farm of Commissioner Dale Cook in Crimmon road last week.

Plymouth not only won the agricultural portion of the contest but also took the urban test.

In agricultural judging, high scorer was Bud Klopfenstein, Crestline, who attends Pioneer Joint Vocational school. Michael Truax, Plymouth, was second. Kevin Cross, Crestview, was third.

James Sloan, Plymouth, was the urban winner. Brian Siler, Crestview, was second. Todd Tegmeyer, Crestview, and Stephen Orchard, Clear Fork, tied for third.

It is the second time in two years that Plymouth's land judging program has won high honors. In 1978 a Plymouth team competed in the state contest.

District land judging contest will take place in Ashland county with the fortnight.

Willard, Shelby and Lucas also competed in the county contest.

W-h-o-o-o-p! Six whistles in village tell several stories

Whistles that go w-h-o-o-m-p-h-o-o-p-h-o-o-p in the night, and in daylight hours as well, number six unless you count the church bells that toll the hour daily (as in the case of St. Joseph's Roman Catholic church) or weekly (as in the case of the Protestant houses of worship).

The count of six is modest, because it's based on a single whistle for electric systems, trains proceeding to and from Delphos, and on the whistles of the heard their nocturnal noises realizes there's a parcel of 'em, and the tone varies as the engine and the tempera-ture vary.

But first things first. The whistle most familiar to villagers sounds every weekday save Saturday at 6:55 a.m., 7 a.m., 9 a.m., 9:15 a.m., 11:55 a.m., noon, 12:25 a.m., 12:30 p.m., 3:25 p.m., 3:30 p.m., 4:25 p.m., 4:30 p.m., 9 p.m. and 9:15 p.m.

It's operated by Plymouth Locomotive Works, Inc., by wire, and regulated by an antique chain control system that will have to be adjusted again come Oct. 28, when Ohio and the nation returns to Eastern Standard time.

Workers are summoned to their toil at 6:55 a.m. The second whistle is the official resumption of work. That at 9 a.m. signals the first coffee break. It ends 15 minutes later. At 11:55 a.m. is the warning signal for lunch, which begins at noon. A warning shriek occurs at 12:25 p.m. and workers resume at 12:30 p.m.

Some workers quit at 3:30 p.m. and the whistle at 3:25 p.m. notifies them their shift is about over. It officially ends at the sound of the whistles at 3:30 p.m.

Council to seek revision of referendum ballot wording

Because the wording of the referendum to repeal Ordinance 8-78, which established the local income tax, is inaccurate on the ballot, an attempt will be made to have the Richland county board of elections to correct it.

As it now reads, it is to ask the voters if they approve the passage of the ordinance. The problem is that the ordinance was passed by the council as an emergency measure several months ago and went into effect Oct. 1.

Mayor Elizabeth G. Paddock told the council Tuesday night she does not know how nor why the wording occurred, since the petitions which were turned into the board in Mansfield clearly stated the ordinance was to be voted upon to repeal or rescind it.

The mayor pointed out to the council that the last tax settlement for general property taxes received by the clerk shows that $10,762.07 was deducted for workmen's compensation.

The village's rate is $8.23% cents per $100 of the annual payroll.

She said she was told by the Richland county auditor's office, which receives the rate from Columbus and merely passes it on, that Plymouth has the highest rate in the county.

Why the village has such a high rate, she went on to say, is that she firmly suspected in the past many claims were being processed by a village resident who worked for the Bureau of Workmen's Compensation and they never passed through the clerk's hands.

She cited one case when the clerk received a letter concerning a claim for medication and it was shown to her, and she instructed the clerk to write to the bureau that there was no basis for it and to ask for more information. No answer was received.

Councilman Michael R. Taylor immediately demanded to know why she had not investigated further, since she was aware something could be wrong. She said she did as much as possible.

It was determined the village solicitor should delve into the matter, since rates for the compensation are for the most part based on past claims.

Approval was given to the fire department and the ambulance service to share their telephone bill on a 75 to 25 per cent basis, with the fire department paying the major share.

Councilman David A. Howard who had been asked to approach James Babcock of the Consumer's council, reported Babcock complimented the village for its stand against Columbus Gas of Ohio. Babcock told Howard the village did the right thing by fighting and holding out on the proposed rate increase.

Because several cases of other municipalities against rate increases will be grouped with Plymouth, it will most likely take a year or so for a decision to be reached, which translates that Plymouth has had two years of grace at the rate.

Babcock also told Howard that Columbia Gas would most likely be awarded rate increase of about half of which it is requesting.

Most of the semi-monthly meeting was spent in executive session at the request of Police Chief W. Robert Seel to discuss personnel matters within the department.

When the session was finished, Councilman G. Thomas Moore brightened the meeting by telling how he had received a sample from a nationally known water softening company which had a gadget to immerse in one's water to determine the amount of softness.

He and Mrs. Moore experimented with it and happily discovered that the village water was about as soft as any water can be.

Sheriff enters contract to police Shiloh

A public meeting in Shiloh Elementary school Oct. 29 at 7:30 p.m. has been called to explain the new police protection contract there and to urge support of the 6.8-mill police operating levy.

Shiloh's village council on Oct. 10 voted 5 to 1 to enter into a contract with Richland county sheriff's department to furnish police protection with CETA employees. Shiloh will make up the difference between what Sheriff Albert O'Neil can pay the two deputies to be assigned to the village and the agreed salary.

The sheriff's office will furnish the police vehicles. Shiloh will pay for fuel and preventive maintenance.

Salary expenses for the two deputies will amount to $2,816 a year. Fuel costs are estimated at $20 a day.

officer from outside the CETA program and his salary will be divided between the sheriff's office and the village.

Mayor Grady McDonald said if the proposed levy, which would raise $14,000 a year, does not pass on Nov. 6, he cannot foresee that Shiloh could continue with the contract with the sheriff.

Councilman Barbara Music voted against the contract. The outcome of the negotiations did not please her. She believed, she said, that what Shiloh would get in its own police budget was its own police officers.

This light dawned October 21, 1879.

And a whole new way of life was born. With the success of the incandescent bulb, Thomas Edison set out to develop an electric power system to take the electric light out of the laboratory. Into homes, factories and onto the streets.

Now, 100 years later, electricity is the energy of modern America and our brightest hope for a productive and rewarding future. Running millions of time-saving electric appliances in America's busy homes. Operating water treatment systems and pollution control equipment. Powering production in manufacturing plants. Controlling computers and communications equipment.

Little did Thomas Alva Edison know a century ago that his invention would eventually enable workers to produce more in an hour than their parents and grandparents could in a month.

Or, because of the convenience of modern electric appliances, women would have time to work outside the home as well as in, to help produce the goods and services that make our standard of living the highest in the world.

Because we produce more, we earn more. By earning more, we can afford more education, better medical care, more social services, and make better use of our leisure time.

More jobs. Greater productivity. A higher standard of living. A great step for mankind.

Just think, it all started with a little bulb.

Want candy? $3,000 a box?

By AUNT LIZ

Everyone seems to be getting flooded with Christmas catalogues.

They are a ball to look at and try to figure out how you ever got on their mailing list.

We subscribe to just four magazines and get another each year as a gift, so that means five mailing lists.

Each catalogue we have been getting is addressed differently, and we can just about tell who is selling names to whom. Only one of our subscriptions is addressed directly to me, and I must admit the catalogue we are getting is much superior to the others, if that is where they got my name.

That particular magazine, which is simply beautiful and worth reading each month, is a real bargain considering all the other things it generates.

I am still waiting, though, for the Lady Godiva catalogue that I heard about last week on the radio.

They are outdoing that Dallas department store this year like mad.

For a unique gift you can have a box of Lady Godiva chocolates (I've never tasted one, but I guess they are good and darn expensive) delivered to your doorstep by a gal dressed in a flesh-colored body suit, with long flowing blonde hair on a white horse, accompanied by a guy leading the horse plus a bunch of minstrels who are singing the song hits of the year 1014, which was when that young lady rode through the streets of Coventry, England, because she was mad at her husband over the way he was taxing people.

So she said, "Ride I will," but the whole town was ordered to shut their shutters so no one could see it all.

There happened to be a young man by the name of Thomas who simply could not resist not seeing a good looking blonde riding a white horse in her birthday clothes, so he opened his shutter just a tiny bit, and that is how the phrase "Peeping Tom" began.

This can be ordered for any place within the continental United States for just $3,000. (I think the candy might be extra, though) and certainly would be worth it to see the look on your neighbors' faces when a white horse approaches your front door.

Another little thing I have discovered in a catalogue is that you can order Christmas cards that contain a packet of poinsettia seeds to plant.

This solves a problem for us with a relative. Every year we send her a plant, and one year she was furious at us because she got a white one instead of a red one. We assume that the florist who got the order was out of order and nicely sent the other, which usually costs a little more. Since we never get a thank you note from her, this year, we are going to let her plant her own.

How mean and nasty can one be? But as an old friend once said, "God gave you your relatives, but thank God you can choose your friends."

This will really fix her. Now that it is getting coolish, and wintry things should be on your kitchen table for meals, try this. It is good and given to us by a kind friend who got the recipe from her kind friend.

Perhaps everyone has it by now, since I know it has been passed all over the countryside, but if just one person who might read this does not have it, we are doing a great favor.

It is called Taco Salad, which is misleading, because it is a meal.

Brown a pound of ground beef, drain the excess fat, add a package of Taco seasoning and a drained can of kidney beans.

Shred a medium-sized head of lettuce. Then add a package of shredded cheddar cheese. Dice about four tomatoes and an ordinary size bag of crushed Taco flavored Doritos.

Have this all ready, so it can be mixed together while the meat is still hot. Then pour a large bottle of Catalina dressing over it.

With a few rolls and perhaps just ice cream for dessert, you have it made. Chalk up another meal and sit quietly dreaming up the next one.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT In Memory of Wor. Bro. George E. Hereshier, who died September 1, 1979.

Once again a Brother Mason, having completed the designs written for him on life's trestle board, has passed through the portals of Eternity, and entered the grand Lodge of the New Jerusalem, and hath received as his reward the white stone with the new name written thereon; and

Whereas, The all-wise and merciful Master of the Universe has called from labor to refreshment our beloved and respected brother, and he having been a true and faithful member of our beloved Order, therefore be it Resolved, That Richard Lodge No. 201, F. & A. M. of Plymouth, Ohio, in testimony of our respect and affection for our brother, do hereby observe a day of mourning for thirty days, that we tender to the family our sincere condolence in their deep affliction, and that a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family.
