Honor roll returns to elementary school

An honor roll for academic achievement has been re-established in Plymouth Elementary school by its principal, Mark Sheely.

Thirty-one pupils in grades two through five have been named to it.

These are Susan Beebe, fifth grader; Jenny Taylor, Steven Hall and Tina Row, fourth graders; Linda Brubaker Sherry Felty, Libby Martin, Miki Reno, Katrina Riedinger, Jodi Putnam, Terry Hall, John Hutchison, Bonnie Greathouse, Jeffrey Nickles and Laura Paulo, third graders.

Also, Lori Caudill, Jennifer Chase, Susan Connelly, Kim Gibson, Aaron Keimath, Charles Kosse, Becky Jamerson, Rachel deLombard, Peggy Osborne, Rhonda McDougal, John Myers, Danya Pritchard, Bradley Seel, Stephanie Truman and Jenny Young, second graders.

Mrs. Hall gets divorce at Mansfield

Kimberly Dawn Hall has been granted a divorce in the Richland county common pleas court from Anthony Hall, New Smyrna Beach, Fla. Her former name, Kimberly Stewart, has been restored.

Bloodmobile to call at Willard today

ARC Bloodmobile will call today from 11:30 a. m. to 5:30 p. m. at Willard Junior High school, seeking 150 pints of whole blood.

Rath boy injured

Eric Rath, son of Mrs. David Rath, Shelby route 3, was severely injured Saturday at Defiance, where he was visiting his grandparents.

A fifth grader at Shiloh, he received three fractures of the pelvis when a mini-bike that he was riding collided with a fuel tank, which fell on him.

He is in City hospital, Defiance.

The Voice of The Advertiser—

Another judge?

It is too bad that Judge Smith's request for another judge on the Huron county bench comes at a time when there is a bad taste in many mouths over what was regarded as high-handed judiciary tactics in another county.

Remember only a few short weeks ago when the probate judge of Carroll county ordered the commissioners to jail because they wouldn't authorize expenditure of moneys that she deemed essential to the conduct of the court's business?

His request deserves careful consideration.

Judge Smith and each of us have an obligation to obey the Constitution. The 14th amendment thereto guarantees due process to every man jack of us. It hardly qualifies as due process when the process is so overdue that its principals have doubtless forgotten many of its particulars, to the detriment of both plaintiff and defendant.

Grievance returned to PEA

Two alumni on dean's list

A grievance submitted by Plymouth Education association through its president, Karl Pfaff, 3rd, and its grievance chairman, Lawrence J. Root, was turned back to it by Plymouth Board of Education Thursday afternoon.

Reaction of the board to the grievance was that its interpretation of Sections 102 and 107 of Article I of the agreement with PEA is correct. By resolution, the board said it has received so far no concrete evidence that its interpretation is wrong.

The vote was unanimous, although A. George Miller was absent.

The board recommended that both parties proceed with the negotiations process.

What's at stake is whether the whole body of the agreement shall be renegotiated or whether, as the board insists, only those matters resented by PEA as subjects of negotiation should be dealt with.

Lions to sell lamp bulbs here today

Lions club members will call door-to-door tonight to sell electric light bulbs.

Richard Horton, high school principal, is in charge of the sale.

The bulbs will be sold in convenient packages containing 60, 75 and 100 watt bulbs at the price of $3.10.

Proceeds will be applied to the Lions club's ongoing assistance to blind persons and those with sight problems.

Domestic strife must be reported after Mar. 27

After Mar. 27, all newly-hired law enforcement personnel will be required to take a 15-hour course on domestic crisis intervention.

The new law goes into effect that date. It also requires all domestic violence acts to be reported to the Ohio Bureau of Criminal Identification and Investigation for the next four years.

This will include all cases where charges are filed by a family member and later dropped, along with those cases that reach the courts.

The majority of such cases rarely reach the courts and end up with a "kiss and making up."

Nevertheless, police departments spend many hours preparing the paper work.

The new law clearly states that no person shall knowingly cause or attempt to cause physical harm to a member of a family or a household.

These offenses are first-degree misdemeanors now. For repeat violators, the charge will be a fourth-degree felony.

Huron County Sheriff John Borgia has completed a course on domestic violence at the Ohio Peace Officers Training academy and is qualified to instruct other officers.

Dianne Russell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Eugene Russell, Shiloh, has again been named to the dean's list for scholastic achievement by Wittenberg university, Springfield.

She and a friend, Robin Strickler, Richmond, Va., returned to the university Sunday after spending their spring vacation with the Russells.

South given county post

Formerly elementary teacher at New Haven and later principal of Richmond school, Delbert Stout, 51, has been chosen by Huron county board of education to serve as interim superintendent after Thomas Lascy leaves on Apr. 1.

Lasley will retire from education to become a full-time Baptist minister near Mt. Vernon.

A veteran of 29 years in education, South has a baccalaureate degree from Austin college, in Texas, and a master's degree from Bowling Green State university. He has done additional work there and in Kent State university.

'73 water tanker sold; how will village fund parks?

A bid in the amount of $1,577.50 from Baker Equipment & Supply, Perryville, Mo., to purchase the 1973 water tanker was accepted.

The only other bid was from the Bachrach Co. for $1,225.

Fire Chief Wayne E. Strine said he believes the other vehicles in the department are more than adequate to carry the required amount of water. The minimum is 1,500 gallons and the department has the capacity to carry 2,300 in three vehicles.

Two members of the department, Mrs. Harold Laser and Wallace H. Redden, will attend a two-day workshop devoted to developing a fire prevention program at the Ohio Fire academy, Columbus.

Will West Broadway be blacktopped?

Bids will be solicited.

If money is available from both Huron and Richland counties, there is the chance the whole length can be done.

Councilman Edward O. Ramsey and Root are to arrange meetings with the commissioners.

Councilman Ervin Howard estimated the village could manage to resurface the section from the bridge west to the top of the hill with the permissive tax money from Huron county, which now totals about $12,000, and from the street fund money appropriations.

Howard unveiled elaborate plans to improve Mary Fate park and the newly installed park in Riggs street.

It totals an expenditure of just over $90,000, half of which he hopes will be federally funded, with the work done in small sections over a period of years.

Specifically planned for the future in Mary Fate park is a pavilion for 200 persons at a cost of $18,500; resurfacing of the existing pavilion floors, $3,000; two standard horseshoe pits, at a cost of $750 each; installation of a 2,500 square foot skating pond, $3,500.

Plan also call for the installation of two new tennis courts with fencing and lighting at $20,000 each. Howard said he hopes the Plymouth Local School district would share the costs.

The existing two tennis courts are to be resurfaced and relined for $7,100.

For the newly created park off Riggs avenue behind the Plymouth Locomotive Works he plans a pavilion to seat 100 persons for $12,300, 15 eight-foot permanent benches, at $300 each, for a total cost of $4,500; two high-top foot long and eight feet high, at $800 each; two teeter totters, at $300 each, and a 10 foot merry-go-round, at a cost of $1,250.

Howard said there is a chance that the play equipment costs would be shared by the Plymouth Lions club.

He also said he has had several conversations with Marvin Tanner, who owns the land east of Mary Fate park, and there is a chance about 10 acres or so would be given to the village.

No action was taken on the proposed pay ordinance. Councilman Michael Taylor said he still needs to obtain more accurate figures from Clerk Raymond L. Brooks as to the village's 1979 income.

Brooks said he in turn is waiting for new figures from the Richland county auditor's office.

Police Chief W. Robert Seel reported that 38 complaints were made to the department between Mar. 1 and Mar. 15.

Eleven traffic arrests were made. Three collisions investigated, six other departments were assisted and two funeral processions were escorted.

The two cruises travelled a total of 2,600 miles.

FHA chief succumbs in Florida

The man whose expertise led to financing of Mary Fate Park Pool, Inc., and to installation of the sanitary sewer system here died Mar. 25 in Leesburg Memorial hospital, Tavares, Fla.

Services for Maynard McFadden, 68, former chief at Newark of Farmers Home administration, Department of Agriculture, were conducted yesterday at Medina. Burial was in Spring Grove cemetery.

His first wife, Louise, died in an automobile collision in Mansfield in September, 1974.

His second wife, Velma; two daughters, two stepdaughters, a brother and three grandchildren survive.

Judge Smith asks for help, cites heavy case backlog

Will Huron county get a second common pleas judge?

It will if Judge Robert W. Smith has his way.

He wrote Friday to members of the legislature representing Huron county asking that another judgeship be established to cope with a heavy backlog of civil and criminal cases.

The letters went to Reps. Marie Tansey (R-Vermilion) and Gene Damschroder (R-Fremont) and Sens. Ronald Nabkowski (D-Lorain) and Paul Pfeifer (R-Bucyrus).

Smith points out that the case load at the end of February was 680. To cope with these cases, there are Smith and a court referee, Robert A. McKown, Shelby route 3.

A survey of these cases shows that the backlog in Huron county is higher than any of the other 47 counties having only one judge.

The oldest case was filed in 1966.

Sandusky county, with a population of about 10,000 more than Huron county, now has two full-time judges. Its case backlog is 549.

Seneca county, which is seeking a second full-time judge, has 291 cases.

There are 117 personal injury cases on file in the court, more than at any time in the county's history. The number of criminal cases has risen 45 per cent since January, 1977.

When Smith became judge in January, 1975, there was a backlog of 693 cases.

During 1978, there were 898 new cases filed in the Huron county common pleas court and 886 were terminated.

Smith suggests that a room now used by the auditor be converted to a court chamber. The auditor doesn't like the idea.

If a new judgeship is created, Huron county would be required to pay $8,925 of the salary of $38,425. The county would be obligated to pay for a law library for the judge, his secretary, a court reporter and perhaps some clerks.

Christian Noise control bill reelected by Brown

Legislation to give county and township officials the power to curb loud, excessive noise in motorcycles and cars has been introduced by Rep. Sherrod Brown (D-Mansfield).

Brown said, "The complaints I have heard from Madison township and other areas around the state tell me that the state must do something about loud cars and motorcycles."

Under present law, only cities and towns have the power to enact and enforce motor vehicle noise ordinances. This bill will extend that same right to non-incorporated urban, suburban, and rural areas.

The Richland county legislator said, "The citizens of Mansfield are able to do noise, but runs free in Madison township, something must be done."

Brown's bill will likely be assigned to the Transportation and Urban Affairs committee.

A similar bill introduced by Brown three years ago passed the House. The Senate adjourned the session before it could be voted on.

One SJHS pupil makes 4.0; 12 on honor, 36 merit roll

Four letter winners out for baseball

Only four lettermen are among a contingent of 27 candidates for starting roles on Plymouth high school's 1979 baseball team, which undertakes a 26-game slate at South Central Mar. 30.

The lettermen are Greg Gillum, catcher; Ron Schuller, infielder and some time pitcher; Jim Wallace, infielder and some time pitcher; and Barry Tuttle, outfielder.

Coach Dave Dunn admits

he is depending a lot on hope and prayer.

The name of the game is pitching, especially at the high school level, and he looks to Schuller and Wallace to be the bellwethers of the staff. Other help is expected from Mark Lewis, who pitched as a 10th grader but didn't report last season; Randy Collins, a 10th grader; and perhaps Jeff Ream, an 11th grader who's out for his first season of high school baseball.

5th graders win in last second

Fifth grade Vikings defeated Mansfield Wesley's team Saturday in the Plymouth tournament. Sean Maudsley was fouled in the act of shooting at the buzzer. He stepped to the line and made both shots giving the Vikings the win, 34 to 33. Leading scorer was Steve Hall with nine. They will play Mansfield Jimmy's Friday at 6:30 p. m.

Sixth grade Vikings defeated Moritz Concrete Thursday night in the Plymouth tournament, 35 to 27. Tim Scott was the leading scorer with 12 points. The Vikings will play Saturday at 8:30 p. m. against the winner of the APLC/O-Mansfield Celtics game, seeking to raise their record to 26-and-5.

Fishing, trapping fees new

Amended Senate Bill 419 increased the fishing license fee from $4 to $7 and separated the hunting and trapping license.

Now there will be a separate hunting license at $7 and a trapping permit which will cost $5.

There is a mandatory hunter safety requirement. All persons who cannot produce a previous hunting license, resident or non-resident, must have evidence that they have successfully passed a hunter safety course in this or another state before they can obtain a hunting license.

There is a mandatory trapper education requirement. First-time trappers without a previous license or permit, resident or non-resident, must exhibit proof of passing the trapper education course when obtaining their trapping permit. Persons 65 years of age or older will not be required to have a trapping permit. A resident fur dealer's fee is increased from $2 to $25 and a non-resident from $50 to $100. In addition, fur dealers will be required to keep daily records of all purchases of furs. The license or permit issuing fee was increased from 50 cents to $0.75.

The increase in fishing license fees took effect Mar. 1. The new hunting license, trapping permit, the mandatory hunter safety, and trapper education program will take effect Sept. 1.

new fur dealer permit fees and new reporting requirements will be effective Apr. 1.

Never, never look gift horse in mouth, Auntie learns

By AUNT LIZ
There are still some really good bargains left in this world.

Granted, they are pur luck, but we got one.
How would you like to spend the night in a $325 suite to the tune of the rate of a double room in a large city hotel?

The name of the hotel I will leave unmentioned, but the name of the city I will tell. It's Cincinnati, and all of Ohio can take lessons from it for what it has done to the downtown shopping district. A lot of money, private and most likely federal, went into it, but it is alive and vital. No empty stores, immaculately clean, and things like escalators to make it easy for people to get around and shop conveniently. There had to have been a great deal of tearing down and rebuilding, and parking is fantastic in constructed buildings.

To get back to our lapping in pure luxury for a night, we registered and were given a key to room 2502, so up we go carrying our bags (there were no people around for that because the place was a beehive of convention activity). The elevator stopped at the 25th floor, and the arrows said thataway for our room, so we walked and walked, then came to a kind of an archway affair painted white and gold. It said "Imperial Suite" and we found the room number, the key worked, and we walked into the most lushly furnished living room with a view you could not believe of the whole city.

We absolutely gaped, but started looking. We had a dining room, a fully equipped kitchen (no pots nor pans or dishes, nor knives and forks), a bedroom with a bed so large that it took three large pillows, and a bathroom in which you could have a small party plus a smaller fully equipped one.

After seeing all of it, I headed for the telephone and called the desk clerk saying something is very wrong. She nicely said, "Mrs. Padcock, it was the last room we have and your rate is the same as for a double room."

So for one night we lived like the other half does. There was one thing missing, though. We had two telephones (two TVs also) but no telephone book, which I wanted to look at. We figured anyone who could afford such a deal simply had someone get his numbers for him, so he did not have to hunt them up.

And let me tell a bunch of people that Cincinnati water is also colored, even more than what some of us had had. I got in the tub the other morning, and it was a decided beige, which I figured could not be plain dirt from me. And one bathroom kind of had the hot and cold water reversed, so we all do have the same problems.

The doorman went by for those things. As you entered this suite area there was one, so you would know who was coming.

It was a real experience and kind of like winning the lottery. Somehow they picked us, but our poor son and daughter-in-law were in a room at about the same rate which was smaller than our kitchen.

The one reason we really went to eat in Ohio's only five-star restaurant, and can you believe that they were filled up for the next six weeks for dinners?

It is smallish, but we managed to have lunch there. It was wonderful and so tasty with ample servings that we simply did not eat any dinner that night.

Our salad was out of this world and there is no reason that everyone cannot enjoy it this summer. Simply plant some bibb lettuce and harvest it when the leaves are really tender. It was served with a cream dressing which I am sure anyone can dream up. What made it was the tenderness of the lettuce leaves.

Methodists . . .

Shelby cluster, Mansfield district, United Methodist church, is observing Mansfield United Methodists for Missions today.

Mrs. Geraldine Bowker Heilman, a field representative for the McCune schools of northern New Mexico, will be the speaker at a gathering in the New Washington United Methodist church today at 1:30 p. m.

At 12:30 p. m. the Rev. James W. Spitzkeit, a missionary to Korea for 29 years, will speak to several groups of high school pupils in Shelby. A light supper will be served at 6 p. m. in First United Methodist church in Shelby. This is open to all at no charge but reservations should be made through the Rev. John H. Hutchison, Jr., by calling 687-6242. At 7 p. m. in the auditorium of the church a special missionary program will be conducted.

In addition to the Rev. Mr. Spitzkeit and Mrs. Heilman, other missionaries and other key mission personnel of the Mansfield district will be introduced. Principal speaker will be the Rev. James Hough, a recently retired missionary to Brazil. He has just recently returned from there on a visit with his son and daughter-in-law, who are now serving there. All the day's activities are open to United Methodists of the district, who are encouraged to attend one or more sessions in gain a better understanding of the work in the mission field in the United States as well as abroad. These are the second annual MUM days to be held in the Mansfield district. The Shelby cluster is comprised of the churches in Plymouth and Shiloh, the Franklin and Adario United Methodist churches, Tiro, New Washington and the Shelby United Methodist churches.

Fifth and final Lenten service for 1979 will take place in Plymouth United Methodist church Sunday at 7:30 p. m. Jim Ray, a senior student in Ashland Theological seminary, a graduate of Ashland college, where he was active in sports, especially in baseball, will speak. Upon his graduation, he was offered a professional baseball contract and was assigned to a farm team. His spiritual life was changed and he was called to the Christian ministry. During the academic year 1977-78, he was enrolled in classes at the Institute for Holy Land studies and resided in the school located on Mt. Zion just outside the walls of the Old City of Jerusalem.

Mrs. William Simpson, New Haven, a member of the First United Methodist church in Willard, will provide the special music for this last service. Refreshments after the service will be served by the Plymouth church.

Trustees of the Plymouth United Methodist church will meet in the church school rooms Monday at 7:30 p. m.

Parish council on ministries of the churches will meet in the church school rooms here Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. All work area chairmen and the lay officers of the parish are members of this planning group.

Plymouth church's administrative board will conduct its quarterly meeting Thursday at 7:30 p. m. in the church.

Young United Methodist Women will continue to take orders for Easter candies made from milk chocolate and white and assorted color chocolate through Apr. 6. Items being sold are peep suckers, 25 cents; peanut butter eggs, 30 cents; bunny suckers, 75 cents; 4 oz. chocolate bunny on basket, $1; 8 oz. sitting bunny, $2; half pound sacks assorted pieces and colors, $1.60.
