'Canada, here we come!'

Nine young women from Girl Scout Camp Molly Lauman, Seal of Ohio district, near Lucasville, passed through here Monday en route to Canada on three-week bike trip. They planned to ferry from Sandusky to Leamington, meet a Girl Guide troop and return to Sandusky and make for New Philadelphia. Bikers: Nikki Simcox, 16; Kim Lundy, 13; Gay Ann Gabbert, 15; Dawn Duncannon, 15; Rhonda Martin, 15; Lynn LeMaster, 24; Debbie Barnett, 15; April Loos, 15; Anne Brienza, 21.

Shiloh bans loitering; permit needed by solicitors

An anti-loitering ordinance will be law in Shiloh Sunday.

Village council there approved on third reading the new rule that prohibits "remaining idle in essentially the same location and shall include the colloquial expression 'hanging around'." It states no person shall loiter on or about the public streets or sidewalks, breach the peace, create a disturbance or unreasonably annoy other persons, obstruct the free passage of pedestrians or vehicles, engage in conduct that treats reasonable risk of physical harm, or make remarks of an offensive, disgusting or insulting nature to another person.

An ordinance requiring solicitors to be issued a permit by the mayor was approved. Permits must be applied for between five and 15 days before the solicitation and will be valid for 15 days.

Two trustees of public affairs, Danny Adkins and Robert Steele, complained that a ruling made by the council earlier concerning the storage of village equipment at night is offensive to the trustees. They said a part of the work contract with the superintendent of utilities is that he may use the pickup truck. Adkins said since the superintendent is on call 24 hours a day, he should have prompt access to the truck.

Councilmen Harry Foster and Frank Gowitzka argued that since village shelter is available, the equipment is safer when stored there. Besides, they added, the village garage isn't far from the superintendent's house.

Mayor Grady McDonald instructed councilmen to refer calls about utilities to the trustees or to council callers to attend the meetings of the trustees, which are on the first and third Mondays at 7:30 p. m. in the municipal building.

J. Harris Postema was released from Shelby Memorial hospital last week.

Methodists to greet new minister Sunday

The Rev. William Carter, new minister of Plymouth and Shiloh United Methodist churches, will arrive today at Hopkins International airport, Cleveland, from the Holy Land, where he has been on a study mission.

His wife, who moved here Friday, will greet him and fetch him here.

But he thinks he's going to South Canton, since he doesn't know Mrs. Carter has already moved.

After the service Sunday, there will be a potluck luncheon for the Carters in the church rooms in Sandusky street, to which the Shiloh parish is invited.

Once at New Haven, Magaw at Mt. Vernon

Minister of New Haven United Methodist church between 1964 and 1966, the Rev. James E. Magaw is the new senior minister of Gray Street United Methodist church, Mt. Vernon.

An alumnus of Rio Grande college, Rio Grande, he holds the master of divinity degree of Oberlin graduate school of theology, awarded in 1958. He was at Trinity Methodist church, McConnelsville, from 1960 to 1965 and St.

Mark's United Methodist church, Galion, from 1966 to 1971, until he went to Shelby.

Mrs. Magaw, whom he married in 1953, has taught elementary classes in Galion for 13 years. They have two children, Krista, a graduate of the University of Cincinnati now married, and touring Europe who plans to enter graduate school in September, and James, 2nd, a 1979 alumnus of Shelby High school who will enter the University of Cincinnati to study broadcasting techniques in September.

Township roads vacated

Huron county commissioners have approved a petition seeking the vacating of 3,450 feet of Township Road 210, Wiers road, New Haven township, and 2,000 feet of Kok road.

The former tract runs from Route 103 to Buckingham road. The latter tract runs from the west edge of the Burnsia Bros. packing house to Buckingham road.

Two of Big Red play at Shelby

Two members of the 1979 baseball team at Plymouth High school are playing American Legion baseball with the Shelby team.

These are Jim Wallace and Greg Gillum.

Wallace started the second game for Shelby at Fremont June 23 and was the victim of shoddy play. Fremont scored five runs on one hit, albeit getting seven passes from Wallace. Fremont won the twin bill, 5 to 4 and 7 to 4.

New loop?

In case anybody wondered if the Johnny Applesseed conference could or would survive the resignations of Crestview and Plymouth, principals and superintendents of four schools probably gave it the kiss of death Thursday.

Lexington, a charter member of the league, joined Mansfield and Malabar and Mt. Vernon in committing itself, in principle, to establishment of a new league for the 1981-82 season.

The negotiators said "an interest and the current gas crisis" are the reasons for forming the new league, to which they seek other applications.

The vandalism occurred during the night hours of June 26-27.

Persons having information should notify the Huron county sheriff or the Huron superintendent at Willard.

Willard bank seeks branch

Willard United bank has applied to state superintendent of banks for authority to establish a branch office at Sandusky and Dix streets, on a site purchased by its agent, Ray Snook, from the Babcock family.

For many years the house was occupied by the family of the late David Scraft.

The house will be razed and the site improved before a bank building is erected there.

If the application is successful the new bank will mark the first time in this century that Plymouth has been served simultaneously by two separate banks within the village limits.

Four injured in collision

An 18-year-old Plymouth girl was charged with driving left of center June 27 after a head-on crash in Route 61 about one half mile south of Snyder road.

Lauren A. Lewis, 206 Sandusky street, was headed south. Her vehicle crossed the center line and collided with that of Donald Buss, 20, Willard, who was admitted to the intensive care unit of Providence hospital, Sandusky.

Miss Lewis was also admitted to Providence hospital.

Her passenger, James C. Combs, 19, Willard, was admitted to Fisher-Titus Memorial hospital, Norwalk.

Thoughts of a grown woman on Independence day eve

By AUNT LIZ

A few weeks ago was my annual stint at Girls' State in Bixley.

Once a year on a Monday night, I battle the evening traffic. You have to veer left to get on Route 70 from 71, and once you are on it, then you have got to sneak over to the right lane to get off it, and you are allotted one lousy mile, which is tricky with four lanes all going 60 miles an hour.

When it has been accomplished, I am absolutely limp and yearn for our back roads, where you can drive 20 miles without meeting another car. Civilization sometimes leaves me cold, along with its bright lights.

I leave early enough so that any flat tires or such things will still get me there when I should be, and since this very rarely happens, it gives me time to have a tasty dinner in a nearby Chinese restaurant just down the street from Capital University.

After all these years, I think they kind of know me with my yearly visit. To me it is kind of embarrassing to walk alone into a place with a bar and say, "Just one."

I have never forgotten the Sunday we went to Cleveland with friends. The guys went to a football game, and the two of us after the car was parked walked toward the Square to find a place to have a small lunch. This we did, a luncheon in a hotel. Then we went out to look for a cab to take us to the art museum, and when we started to get in, the cab driver politely asked, "Which hotel would you girls like to go to next?" It took me a number of seconds to realize what he meant and I asked him. His answer was, "Any gals I pick up here are on their way to another hotel." Meaning you know what. Here we were, seasoned mothers, one with five and one with two. He finally realized that we were serious about the art gallery and we got there with a gal tour of all the damage done during the Hough area riots.

In a way, that cab driver kind of flattered us. To get back to that night in Columbus. It is a truly good experience for the girls who will become 12th graders. It kind of awakens them to what they should be looking forward to when they graduate and become adults and

Miss Jacobs sets Sept. 1 for wedding

Betrothal and approaching marriage of their daughter, Cathy Jo, to David Wayne Holt, her high school classmate, are announced by the Arthur Jacobes, 5160 Ladow road.

Miss Jacobs is a registered nurse, an alumna of Mansfield General hospital school of nursing, and now a student in Ohio university, Athens, seeking the baccalaureate degree in science. She is on the staff of O'Brien Memorial hospital, Athens.

Her fiancé, a 1979 alumnus of Ohio State university, is employed by University hospital, Columbus, as a circulation technologist. They plan to be married Sept. 1, 1979.

part of their communities.

There is nothing that makes me more unhappy than when some wife says, "I do not vote, my husband does." And it is absolutely amazing to read the voter registration lists and realize how many do not even want to vote.

About 1,300 young women were forced to listen to me — there was no way they could troop out, and they were polite not to. They could have all fainted in the middle of it all if they wanted to.

I make no claim to being a politician or a public speaker. I could be very serious about what village government is all about and it is serious, but it has its funny side too.

Always the biggest question asked when we get to that part of it all, because I know they are itching to ask questions, is how am I accepted as a woman (I am using that term because I think female is too vulgar and some people would object if I use the term of lady).

My stock answer is that they do not, and I have no answer for it.

These young ladies are very concerned about their role in our country, and should be, because they will have the right of voting and the nice privilege of paying taxes.

I have never thought I was unequal to anyone except those who have great skills and knowledge I do not have. Since we all live together as we do fairly equal, we should start giving the younger ones a chance, even if they are gals. They are equally as good as young men.

Phillipses conduct reunion

The Clyde Phillips residence was the scene June 24 of the first annual Phillips family reunion, attended by 100 persons.

The Alex Phillipses, Findlay, were the oldest family members present.

A whole pig was roasted June 23 evening.

Each family was asked to assist in developing a family tree.

Next reunion will be on the third Sunday of June, 1980.
