Grand jury indicts man, 44, in slaying of star PHS athlete

Wednesday, Aug. 1, will live through this century as Plymouth's day of infamy.

For at 11:30 p. m. that night, at 41 1/2 East Main street, a 20-year-old former star athlete in Plymouth High school was gunned down. He died in Mansfield General hospital at 2:40 a. m.

A 43-year-old Crawford counsiller who came there from New Boston has been charged with aggravated murder.

The dead youth is Charles Jay Adams, a 1978 alumnus of Plymouth High school, where he was an outstanding football, wrestling and track and field athlete.

The accused is Donald Lacey, late of North Robinson.

The entire incident is clouded with mystery.

Authorities piece the evidence this way:

Adams shared the upstairs apartment of the house with a friend, Edward LeMaster. The staircase rises along the east side of the house. When there came a rap at the door, Adams answered it. LeMaster was in the bedroom. When he emerged, Adams bade him return to the bedroom.

Lacey and his nephew, Harry Lacey, a one-legged man who lives in Route 99, Willard, engaged in a verbal dispute. Subject of the dispute was the liaison between Adams' sister, Beverly, and Harry Lacey, whom Adams had visited earlier to urge his sister to return home.

Harry Lacey took umbrage at this order to Miss Adams and bought a calibre .38 pistol.

On Aug. 1, he was drinking in a Willard cafe. There he met his uncle. The uncle took the gun from the nephew and the two set out for Plymouth, first telling Miss Adams they were going to Plymouth "to do some target practice, and maybe the target is an Adams".

When the dispute with the dead youth reached its height, police say, Donald Lacey drew the weapon and discharged it one time within inches of Jay Adams' face.

Police were called at 11:31 p. m. by the telephone operator at Norwalk, who said a call was received to the effect that "a shot was fired east of the Laundromat".

The ambulance was called quickly and Adams was rushed to Shelby Memorial hospital, whence he was taken at once to Mansfield.

Apparently confused as to the identity of the dead youth, ambulance personnel notified William L. Van Wagner, 212 Trus street, to proceed to Mansfield to identify the body. This Van Wagner did. He said he was no less upset when he recognized the Adams boy, whom he had often transported to school events in a bus to which Van Wagner is from time to time assigned. William L. Van Wagner, 22, is five years older than Adams but the two are similarly built and wear fair hair similarly.

Statements by witnesses led Huron county sheriff's deputies to suspect Lacey and an all-points bulletin was issued. It was thought he had fled to Shelby, to the house of a brother, but Shelby police could not find him there.

Lacey was found by Crawford county sheriff's deputies living in a tent along Route 96 at 5:29 a. m., about 90 minutes after the bulletin was issued.

He was taken to Norwalk, where Capt. Robert Sutherland and Larry Silcox of the sheriff's department questioned him until 3 p. m., when he was charged with aggravated murder.

He was lodged in the county jail pending arraignment, which occurred Friday. Represented by Robert Brown, a Bucyrus lawyer, Lacey was returned to jail in lieu of $100,000 cash or $200,000 property bond.

Adams was employed by Festival Homes of Ohio, Greenwich, as an assembler and electrician.

Born in Portsmouth, he attended Shiloh United Baptist church.

He is survived by his parents, the Donald Adames, Shiloh; three brothers, Robert, Shiloh; James, Ashland, and Donald, Jr., at home; three sisters, Mrs. Donna Castle and Mrs. Shirley Reeder, both of Shiloh, and Beverly, Willard, and his paternal grandfather, Charles R., Lucasville.

The Revs. Julian Taggart, First United Presbyterian church, and Delmar Bailey conducted services Saturday at 1 p. m. from McQuate-Score Funeral home. Burial was in Mt. Hope cemetery, Cass township.

Judd Keller, 79, dies in Florida

Formerly of 143 Walnut street, Judd Keller, 79, died Aug. 3 in Jacksonville, Fla.

He was retired from the Fate-Root-Heath Co., predecessor of Plymouth Locomotive Works, Inc.

He is survived by a daughter, Becky, now Mrs. Wade Garrett, 114 West High street, nine grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

AWOL held

Gerald Sexton, 27, Shiloh, absent without official leave from the army, was arrested by Greenwich police Aug. 2.

Two held after crashes Saturday

Two cars were extensively damaged Saturday about 8 p. m. in Trus street.

Devere Wadsworth, Willard, was eastbound near the AC&Y crossing when a car driven by Benny Kilgore, 191 Nichols, went left of center, skidded 64 feet and hit the Wadsworth car.

Kilgore was charged by Plymouth police with operating an unsafe vehicle and driving left of center.

At 2:31 a. m. police were called to Portner street where Garland Sexton, 170 Nichols, hit the parked car of James Broderick.

He was charged with drunken driving and reckless operation.

Fracas ends in arrest of three men

Three local youths were charged with disorderly conduct here Thursday after the brother of one of them sought police help in constraining him.

Randy Howard, Plymouth route 1; Thomas Crager, Roma, and Michael Weaver, Shiloh, were charged with disorderly conduct and resisting arrest.

Councilman David Howard, police said, stopped at the police station and asked that an officer accompany him to compel the younger Howard to return to Mary Fate park to clean up debris caused when, in the presence of the elder Howard, the younger Howard overturned a trash can.

Police said Randy Howard was intoxicated when he was approached in a bar and asked to step outside. This he did. Crager, who was bartender, and Weaver, a customer, engaged in noisy conversation with the police officer, inasmuch as the younger Howard earlier pleaded, in another case, that he "can't get justice here".

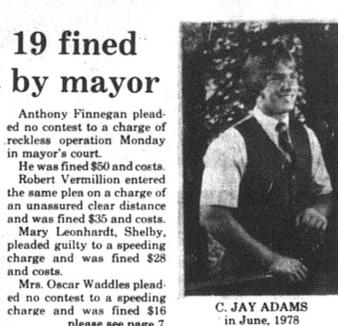

19 fined by mayor

Anthony Finnegan pleaded no contest to a charge of reckless operation Monday in mayor's court.

He was fined $50 and costs. Robert Vermillion entered the same plea on a charge of an unassured clear distance and was fined $35 and costs.

Mary Leonard, Shelby, pleaded guilty to a speeding charge and was fined $28 and costs.

Mrs. Oscar Waddles pleaded no contest to a speeding charge and was fined $16 and costs.

McQuates closing for keeps

A long standing business will close its doors forever next week.

McQuate Furniture store, operated by R. Earl McQuate, and his wife, Janice, for a generation, will conduct an auction sale of its stock. The business has been closed to the public for about a month.

McQuate says a prospective buyer for the building is "arranging financing" but that he was unable to sell the business, which was vigorously advertised for several months.

McQuate came here in 1940 to join the late Charles Miller as a funeral director. In time he bought out Miller's widow.

The McQuates will now retire completely from the business area.

They are the parents of two sons, Jack E. and Douglas E., and the grandparents of both children of Douglas E.

Square dancers first

Winners in the third annual Firemen's Festival parade Saturday.

Best overall entry, Star Promenaders, Willard.

Best float, Shiloh Community Grange.

Best marching organization: Madison High school, first. New London High school, second.

Oldest car: Robert Frasher, Shelby, 1931 deluxe roadster.

Best hitch: Charles Myers & Sons, Plymouth route 1, first. Tom and Iris Clear, Fremont, second.

Ladies' choice: Stanley E. Condon, Plymouth, 1955 Thunderbird.

Huron county fair opens Monday will participate in pulling competition in the grandstand the entire evening, with four-wheel drive vehicles also having a pull of their own.

Junior fair members will conduct their annual square dance, beginning Tuesday at 8 p. m.

Wednesday's grandstand brings the School Teacher Challenge II, produced and directed by Steve Zimmerman. Teachers from Huron county schools will compete in games of skill, which last year resulted in several ways of spilling the teachers in all directions.

On Aug. 16 harness racing begins at 4:30 p. m. At 8 p. m. Kenny Price and Susan Wray of the Hee Haw Show will appear with the "Sunshine Express," a musical group.

As a permanent member of the Buck Owens All-American show, Susan has become an international star. Her tour abroad as a member of that show has netted her two gold records, one in New Zealand and one in Australia, both for "I. A. International Airport." Her partner, Kenny Price, has been referred to as the large-economy size of happiness who records for RCA and is a regular member of Hee-Haw. His frat record, "Walking On New Grass," reached great proportions. He is a veteran television performer of some 25 years, five on "Midwestern Hayride," as lead singer for the Home-Towners, and two as host of the show.

Harness racing continues Aug. 17 at 4:30 p. m. and again with a matinee show on Aug. 18, beginning at 2 p. m.

Entertainment Aug. 17 is an animal show, with racing mules and ostriches, some of which may be driven by some Huron county people. Other animals will be put through their paces by their trainers and handlers.

On Aug. 18 morning is the annual pony pull at 9 a. m. The fair ends, as usual, with

Income tax question to be decided by ballot

Plymouth will have the chance to vote for or against the village income tax on the November ballot.

The Mayor, Elizabeth G. Paddock told the council that in the face of the petition signed by 122 residents (six names were invalidated when Clerk Ercyway checked) at both the Huron and Richland county board of elections) it had three ways to go: rescind the ordinance, amend it or leave it as it is written.

Councilman G. Thomas Moore said, "Leave it", and made a motion to that effect, which Councilman Edward O'Ramey seconded. In the absence of Councilman Michael R. Taylor, there were five yeas.

Alvin Kelley, North Fairfield, will offer a contract as tax director for a period of six months to set up the system and train another person.

He will be paid $200 a week for the first three months, then $150 for the remaining three months.

A retired director of the Internal Revenue service, he brings a wide background of experience. During his long career with the IRS, he headed the Cleveland district. Since retired, he has had an active interest in Huron county.

Ramey and Councilman David Howard strenuously objected that The Advertiser had printed a story in last week's issue that the council was considering a new parking ordinance.

The council went through the proposed ordinance street by street and made changes that will allow parking in West Broadway as it is now. Parking will be allowed in the west side of Beelman street, the east side of Mulberry, on the west side of Brooks court and in the west side of Riggs street.

No decision was made about in which side parking will be allowed in Birchfield.

Streets that already have parking in one side or the other will remain the same, and the rest will have no parking at all.

A routine ordinance was passed designating through and stop streets. Streets running east and west for the most part will be through streets.

A "minor's curfew" ordinance was also passed. It prohibits anyone under 18 years of age from being on the streets or in the park area between 9 p. m. and 7 a. m. unless accompanied by a parent or guardian. The sheriff will sound each night at 9 p. m.

School Supt. John Fazzini told the council that it is up to the village to police the entry to the park but that the school will cooperate anyway it can. He said the school is being blamed for some of the problems in that area.

He pointed out that the easement the village signed with the school for the entry road into Mary Fate park stipulates that the village can close it off at 6 p. m. and restrict the speed of cars.

The police department's 269 hours of overtime last week was approved and councilman David Howard added that extra funds should be made available to the police department if needed.

The excessive amount of extra hours worked by the police was because of the murder of the Adams boy and the Firemen's Festival. Ramey complained the village should be cutting weeds and that many sidewalks need repair. The mayor said this was the responsibility of the property owner and there are old ordinances that cover both.

David Howard said it was the mayor's and the police chief's job to see they are enforced.

Want same plates? They'll cost $10 more!

If one's license tags bear a special number that's consistently marked his car over several years, he can retain that number under the new system adopted by Ohio.

But it'll cost him $10!

Bureau of Motor Vehicles announced some months ago it intends to use a new system of numbering license tags. It calls for three numbers and three initials. This enables the registration of 25 million vehicles, whereas the present system allows of only 15 million.

To reserve the present number, one must do so on or before Sept. 1.

He must affix to it a photostatic copy of his present registration.

He must mail these two documents to Ohio Bureau of Motor Vehicles. Attention: M/V/VP, Box 16521, Columbus, 43216.

No money should be sent with the forms. The registrant will be billed later.

Two held after crashes Saturday

Two cars were extensively damaged Saturday about 8 p. m. in Trus street.

Devere Wadsworth, Willard, was eastbound near the AC&Y crossing when a car driven by Benny Kilgore, 191 Nichols, went left of center, skidded 64 feet and hit the Wadsworth car.

He was charged with drunken driving and reckless operation.

Thomas L. Root marries Kathy Geer at Norwalk

Thomas Lawrence Root and Miss Kathy Geer were married July 7 at 6 p. m. before the altar of First United Methodist church, Norwalk, by the Rev. Oden Haynes.

The bridegroom is the eldest son of the Thomas Floyd Roots, 118 Plymouth street. The bride is the daughter of the Robert Geers, Norwalk.

Salmon and white carnations decorated the chancel. Mrs. Blodwen Bowers was organist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a gown of white quiana styled with lace sleeves, lace Queen Anne neckline, lace shoulders with wateau and chapel-length train.

She carried orange sweet-heart roses, orange-red carnations and baby's breath.

Mrs. Michael Heys, West-erville, matron of honor, wore a floral blouson-style gown styled with lace collar and long push-up sleeves. She carried a round bouquet of orange-red and salmon carnations and yellow sweet-heart roses.

The bridegroom's sister, Susan Diane, Plymouth, and Mrs. Richard Cunningham, Fredericktown, bridesmaids, were similarly attired.

Steven Root, Plymouth, was best man. Brett Geer, Cleveland, and William Toad

Root, Plymouth, ushered.

A reception took place in the National Guard armory at Norwalk.

A wedding trip was taken in the Adirondacks in New York and to Prince Edward island in Canada.

The bride is a 1971 alumna of Norwalk High school who took a bachelor of arts degree from Ohio Wesleyan university, Delaware, in 1975. She was a member of Phi Beta Phi social sorority. In 1976 she received the master of arts degree of Ohio State university.

The bridegroom was graduated by Howe Military school, Howe, Ind., in 1971. He took the bachelor of arts degree of Ohio Wesleyan university in 1974. In 1977, he received simultaneously a master of arts degree in journalism and the degree of juris doctor at Ohio State university, the only student to successfully complete those curricula simultaneously.

The bride is employed by the National Trust for Historic Preservation, Washington, D. C. The bridegroom is an attorney with a Washington firm.

They are living in Alexandria, Va.

Newsy notes...

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Beebe spent last week in Huntsville, Ala., and Oak Ridge, Tenn., where they toured the American Museum of Atomic Energy.

Dutch pen pal sees correspondent again

After 14 years as a pen pal, Penny Rhodes realized a lifetime dream July 6 when she greeted Sibbele Haarsma, a Dutch girl, at Cleveland.

Three years ago, Miss Rhodes went to the Netherlands to meet her pen pal.

Miss Haarsma was accompanied by Jan and Eke Van der Helm.

The trio stayed two weeks with Miss Rhodes's parents, the Ivan Rhodesses, Willet road.

On July 8 employees of Plymouth Foodland hosted the trio at a picnic at the home of Mrs. Warren Hollenbaugh. They subsequently toured R. R. Donnelley & Sons Co., Willard; Wiers Bros., Celeryville; Plymouth Locomotive Works, Inc., Kingwood Center and Cedar Point.

On July 15, they were guests at a family picnic, Miss Rhodes's grandfather, Foster Leapley, Sr., and Mrs. Leapley, her parents, the Ivan Rhodesses, Jr., Battle Creek, Mich.; Miss Rhodes's aunt, Frances Wunderlin, Postoria; Mary Apai, Shelby; the Sam Leapleys, Mansfield; the Dean Galloways, Shelby; the Harold Olsons, Mansfield, and the Arthur Karis, Shelby, were special guests.

On July 19 Mrs. Rhodes, Sr., and her daughter drove the visitors to Grand Rapids, Mich., whence they departed July 26 for home.

CHURCH NEWS

Lutherans ...

Altar of First Evangelical Lutheran church Sunday was decorated by the B. Mark Reams in honor of their anniversary.

Since it was the first Sunday of the month, holy communion was observed.

An ice cream social for members and guests will be staged Sunday at 6:30 p. m. to honor three confirmands, Michelle Courter, David Burkett and Traci Caywood, all of whom are now adult members of the church.

Church council agreed to pledge $500 a year to the Oesterlin home to support its building program.

Altar Guild had added to the parchments of the church. Using the memorial fund, the Guild bought a white funeral pallium that will cover the coffin when a funeral is conducted in the church.

O joy! What is so heartening as that one's contribution was eaten?

By AUNT LIZ

There is nothing so heartening as taking home an empty bowl from a pot luck supper.

You get conned, not really invited, into such things because husbands are involved with this and that. Then you sit down over five cups of coffee and try to think up what people will really like.

From now on, if we are involved in such little social occasions, I have the answer. A nice big bowl of fruit, half fresh and half canned (the canned stuff you must drain thoroughly). Then just pour over about a half a bottle of white port wine. Our daughter gave me that idea, the wine simply blends in beautifully with the fruit with a little zest. Not too noticeable, but it is there.

The fact that it is a cold dish eliminates the idea of keeping it piping hot. That is what is sowing around pot luck deals. By the time everyone gets around to eating, everything is about the same temperature no matter how it started.

The last little affair we attended had an array like you would not believe, and not one bowl of potato salad. I had considered it and thought every one will bring that. You simply cannot trust people at times, I guess.

One wife came up with a dish that was out of this world. Rich as all get out and so simple to assemble.

Simply start with a 9 x 13 cake pan. Dump two ordinary sized cans of cherry pie mix in it, then a box of yellow cake mix - just like that - then top it with a cup of broken up walnuts. Over that pour a stick and a half of melted butter. Bake at 350 for an hour.

You will not believe what this tastes like. One helping was too much for me so I shared it with a husband who was alone. We also shared my knife and fork because he came with plastic ones. When his knife broke while cutting a piece of steak, I said, "Wait, I'll get mine?" (We were enough to bring steak knives). Then he yelled over, "Bring your fork, too!" It was a real night of plain sharing.

What to take to such cook outs is a real problem. I remember one year we were asked to a pig roast, and I spent a half a day doing a great zucchini dish that was really good, but did not look too good, and no one even touched it. I was crushed.

I took it home and we ate it reheated for two days. Some things get better with a little aging.

Harvest time is getting closer and closer, and my pot of basil are almost ready. The big catfish whom will we share it with.

Not everyone knows nor will like pesto. It is purely Italian and something you have to fall in love with at the first taste. And that taste is very different from most things.

It gets made into a sauce for pasta. Just chop up a good batch of fresh basil, throw in some good olive oil and stir in some grated cheese. You kind of have to guess at the amounts so it is saucy and will spread itself around on the pasta.

Zucchini are coming into their own, too. By now everyone must have his pet recipe for bread. It can be a little more perked up with a good handful of cut up nuts and raisins.

Such things that were staples in any good kitchen are fast becoming real luxuries. It used to be if you owned a tin of caviar you had it made and had real status. Not any more. Just have a box of raisins on your shelf.

With the economy the way it is going, the kitchen is simply coming into its own. It does not matter so much anymore what lovely rings you can flash around nor fur or clothes nor prized antiques: it is what is in your cupboard.

An extra jar of mayonnaise, a three pound can of coffee unopened, a few cans of tuna fish, a couple of packages of cake mix - that is what is simply counting right now.

Seven letter winners expected for 1979 football club

Seven lettermen and six reserve letter winners are expected to turn out for pre-season drills for the first eight game football season in 18 years.

And Coach David Coulter has his work cut out for him. For the Big Red lost almost all of its first line offense and a great part of its defense.

Lettermen are Dave Brooks, Gary King and Doug Miller, with two spice, and Gary Blankenship, Jeff Burrer, Gary Ryman and Steve Tackett, with one each.

Reserve letter winners are ALL COUGARS in stock sold at dealer's costs. Cy Reed Ford-Mercury, Rt. 224 E. Willard. 2c

First activity of a contact nature is a scrimmage with Monroeville at Monroeville Aug. 18 at 10 a. m.

Since by OHSA rules the season may start earlier this year, players are forced to compete during the dog days of August.

Plymouth will be hard put to match last season's record even percentage-wise. The 1978 squad finished with a 7-and-3 record. That's not possible this season, since the team only plays eight games. Unless some of the green hands ripen faster than most fans suspect, the

Davis out of tourney, 6-0, 6-1

Plymouth's entrant in the City tennis tourney at Mansfield, Robert M. Davis, was ousted in the semi-finals of the men's doubles.

Davis and his partner, Bob Hanna, fell before Bud Vetter and Ron Schaub, 6-0, 6-1.

Big Red may have some difficulty winning seven games. Buckeye Central, South Central and Hopewell-Louden, the first three teams on the slate, are said to be stronger this season than last.

Volleyball candidates called

Girls' volleyball team will meet with the coach, Miss Barbara Schamadon, today at 7 p. m. in the high school. First practice will be Monday, the time of which will be set tonight.

Miss Schamadon will respond to questions at 687-2471.

1979 alumna, New Havenite to wed Sept. 13

Oct. 13 is the date chosen by Miss Ann Hopkins, Plymouth street and Mills avenue, and C. Allen Gibson, New Haven, for their marriage.

She is the daughter of the Phillip Hopkins, Sandusky, a 1979 alumna of Plymouth High school employed as apprentice by Midwest Industries, Inc., Willard.

On Tuesday the Haron Soil and Water Conservation district will picnic.

For Aug. 18 the First Baptist church, Shelby, has made reservations.

The Barnett, Hamman, Fackler and Oney families will have their reunions on Aug. 19.

On Aug. 25 the McPherson and Lykins family reunions are planned.

On Aug. 26 the Fidler, Feltner, Fox and Farmer families have reservations for their reunions.

On Sept. 2 the Robinson and Garret families have their reunions and on Labor day the Blanton and Collins family reunions are planned.

The last two family reunions for the Holmeses and Newmeyers will be Sept. 9.

Mrs. Howard Waldruff, Shelby, visited her sister-in-law, Mrs. Glenn Frakes, Saturday. Last week Mrs. Frakes visited Mrs. W. C. McFadden, Crestwood Care center, Shelby. Tuesday Mrs. Frakes began jury duty in Judge Max Chilcote's court of common pleas, Mansfield.

Mrs. Francis Guthrie was released at Willard Saturday.

A paper drive will be conducted from 9 a. m. until 3 p. m. Saturday by the Church Women United of the Plymouth and Shiloh churches.
Bundled papers may be delivered to the parking area of St. Joseph's Roman Catholic church in Sandusky street.
Persons who cannot deliver their own papers may call their churches to arrange a pick-up.

Generation after generation, trust officers have been helping families feel more secure about the future.

Isn't it time you asked a trust officer to help you?

ZERKLE REAL ESTATE
Howard R. Zerkle, Broker
1050 S. Main St.
Willard, O. 44890

AVAILABLE MONTH - Move in for about $224 per month plus taxes and insurance. This three bedroom house has Buyers Protection to warrant furnace, water heater and most other mechanical equipment for one full year after purchase against repair costs over $100. Owners moved to larger home and will help with the down payment needs.

BUY OF THE MONTH - Monthly payments about $263 per month with 10% down. Taxes and insurance extra, but either part of this large double will rent for at least $125 per month so you could pay less than $150 per month for your own home. No more fixing up a house you do not own. Two bedrooms, three down. Nice garage and garden area.

111 BROADWAY - Another low monthly payment. $260 per month will provide coddies of room for a large family. Redecorated with new gas furnace. Two baths, four or five bedrooms and maple parking space. Could be made into a double with little trouble.

64 MULBERRY - a real bargain for $290 per month with two bedrooms down and a loft type bedroom up. Two car garage and a storage shed on a good sized lot.

CAPE COD HOME AT EDGE OF PLYMOUTH ON S. R. 61 SOUTH - This very neat and attractively decorated home has a large living room, kitchen-dining room, bath and full basement, on almost one acre of ground.

EXCELLENT VIEW ON FOUR ACRES AT THE EDGE OF PLYMOUTH - Three bedrooms, fireplace and more can be yours for about $402 per month or about the cost of a new automobile every month.

WILLARD - Work in Willard, live in Willard. Nice one story home on three lots for about $220 per month.

COUNTRY LIVING FOR $140 PER MONTH IS NOT EASY TO FIND - Move into this 1 1/2 story cottage with a good well and one car garage. Now vacant so move fast.

ANTIQUE ELEGANCE AT $312 PER MONTH IN SHILOH - Needs to be redecorated and insulated but this home would bring twice the asking price in a larger city.

WE HAVE FARMS FOR SALE - Call for monthly payments.

SHELBY - Night club. High gross, excellent terms. Many other listings in Willard, Shelby, and the local area. Come see Holiday Lakes, the playground of the area.

Note: Monthly payments based on 10% down and interest at 11 1/2%.
