Larson declines a third term

Rex Larson won't seek a third term as common pleas judge of Richland county.

He said this week he will retire from the office at the end of his term.

Larson was elected prosecutor in 1960. He had previously run for treasurer of Mansfield on the GOP ticket in 1954. He was defeated. He served as prosecutor until he was elected judge in 1968.

Born in Mansfield, he is an alumnus of Ohio State University. He is a graduate of the college of law of the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor.

Larson is the second GOP office holder in the courthouse to say he won't seek reelection.

William F. McKee, incumbent prosecutor, earlier said he will step down.

The incumbent sheriff, Albert O'Neil, who was appointed to succeed the deceased Thomas Weikel, will seek election on the GOP ticket. He has not so far any Republican opposition.

Three Democrats have come forward to seek their party's nomination for sheriff.

One is Lieut. Richard Petty, commander of the Ashland post of the Ohio Highway patrol, who will resign his office to campaign. He lives near Bellville.

Another is Steven Francis, police chief at Bellville.

A third is Roger Zimmerman, Mansfield.

Ardeth L. Chupp, treasurer of Huron county says real estate tax statements for the first half of 1979 were mailed yesterday.

Final date for payment without penalty will be Feb. 28.

The taxpayer will have a new style tax bill, in order to process the bill, the right side or stub must be returned with payment. The left hand side of the bill may be retained for personal records.

Red letter day: income tax due

Today is a red letter day as never before in Plymouth history.

The village's first municipal income tax, amounting to one per cent of the wages and profits of every person working here, will be enforced from today.

What is means is that by 5 p.m. income tax withheld from wages of employees must be paid to the Department of Taxation in the village hall.

Tax withheld from and after Dec. 9, 1979, until Dec. 31 is due.

Each employer who hires one or more persons on a salary, wage, commission or other compensation is required to withhold one per cent of the gross payment in trust for payment to the village in accordance with a schedule set forth in the enabling ordinance.

Employers are liable for the tax whether or not it was in fact withheld. Penalties up to $500 for each offense is provided for in the ordinance for delinquency or willful failure to withhold or pay the tax.

Business, professional and individual returns have been mailed. These are due Apr. 15, for taxable income earned or net profits from Dec. 9 through 31, 1979. One fourth of the estimated tax declared for 1980 is also due on that date.

Mayor's objection turned down, clerk meets payroll

Over the objections of Mayor Eric J. Akers, village council agreed to allow Clerk-Treasurer Raymond L. Brooks to meet the village payroll last Friday. Only councilman David Howard agreed with the mayor and voted nay.

Meeting Thursday night in a special session devoted to the payroll and to the hiring of a solicitor, the council took Brooks' word that he would be able to have funds available even though the utility and general funds are in the red. The mayor said he would be able to transfer the money from the mayor's account. That would help to meet the payroll of $2,337 for the police department, which is paid from the general fund.

Brooks said that utility fund collections would be adequate to pay the other employees.

After an executive session with James C. Root, village administrator, three motions were made to the newly installed time clock in the village garage used by the utility employees is to be removed. All employees are to punch in on the clock in the village hall and out the hours actually punched on the time cards by the clock will be paid.

Terry Jump, head electrician, and Councilman Michael R. Taylor engaged in a heated discussion over the fact the utility employees will now have to take the time to go to the village hall to punch in and out. Taylor said the second time clock was an "illegal purchase" by Root.

Councilman G. Thomas Moore said Root was wrong in reason for purchasing the clock and that this action was eroding Root's authority.

The mayor told the council that Robert A. McKown, who has served as village solicitor for eight years, wishes to give up the position because of the demands the council had spelled out as to his duties.

The council had said that the solicitor should appear at all meetings, both regular and specially called sessions, and that all his opinions are to be in writing.

The council in the past has almost totally relied on the solicitor for its actions.

The mayor said he is aware of three attorneys who had shown an interest in taking on the position and would talk with them, along with the rules committee interviewing them.

Moore said the village should think twice about the demands required of a solicitor since the village could not continue without one and suggested that McKown's previous contract be offered again to him.

Councilman Mrs. Allen Raymond said that any candidates for the position should be well versed in municipal law.

A decision about hiring the solicitor is to be reached this week.

Smallest...

Rob Smith is a 10th grader, the smallest player on the Big Red squad. He's been a starter of late, his coach obviously seeking to develop a playmaker over the long pull. When Smith shoots from outside, look out! He competed with the cross country squad and was a letter winner.

in and out...

Matt Patrick has been in and out of the Plymouth lineup all season, more out than in, of late. But on Friday night he was a significant contributor to the Big Red's victory over Lucas with four important buckets in the last period. Patrick is an 11th grader.

Cougars fall to matmen

Plymouth wrestled at Northmor yesterday and will compete in the Highland Invitational Feb. 9.

Bigger days?

Scott Mowry looks forward to bigger and better days as a Plymouth basketballer. A 10th grader, he plays guard, has started some games, figures importantly as the seventh or eighth player on a quintet that's won only four games and lost 11 and hopes to extend its streak to three at Crestview tomorrow.

112-pounder

Pete Daron will wind up his schoolboy career as a wrestler at the end of this season. He's been a factor in the mat fortunes, and misfortunes, of Plymouth since he was a freshman. He grapples in the 112-lb. class and recorded an important pin against his Crestview opponent at Olivesburg Jan. 23. He was in action at Northmor yesterday.

Ream scores 37 points, Red defeats Lucas

Jeff Ream scored a career high 37 points against Lucas here Friday night and the Big Red won its second consecutive game, 72 to 66, but it was Matt Patrick who won it for the home forces.

Patrick scored four buckets in the final period to keep Plymouth just a step ahead of the visitors.

Both teams shot exceptionally well. Plymouth fired for field goal 52 times and made 29 of them. And it missed only two of 16 free throws. The Cubs shot 59 times, made 25, and missed nine of 27 free throws.

The teams were tied at 16 after eight minutes, Randy Neeley having scored eight points on four buckets and Ream just four on two baskets. Ream went to work in the second quarter. He scored 14 points, 12 of them on field goals, missing only three shots at the basket.

Plymouth led by four at the half, 34 to 30, and came out smoking at the beginning of the second half. Ream knocked out one in at 7:10, whereupon Lucas got three quick buckets to tie it at 36. Plymouth answered with six unopposed points and after the teams exchanged baskets, the Cubs went on a rampage. They scored eight unanswered points to take the lead at 46 to 44 and finished the period ahead by three at 50 to 47.

Steve Tackett bagged a field goal to start the fourth quarter. Steve Kern countered with one of his own. Ream fired a jumper to take the lead to 52 to 51, whereupon the dependable Neeley scored from underneath at 5:31, sending the Big Red into a lead it never gave up. Lucas was to call three time outs before the final buzzer but Kevin Bright couldn't get his forces together enough to thwart the fourth Plymouth victory of the campaign.

Patrick bagged his first field goal to make it 55 to 52. Dan McGugin and Ream exchanged buckets. So did Robin Boone and Neeley. Ream snared two free throws, having been hacked by McGugin. The redoubtable Boone, who led Lucas with 21 points, shot a field goal at 2:27 and went to the line for two shots at 2:16. He missed both. The second would not, have been good because there was a lane violation.

Here Patrick hit the nets again, making it 65 to 60. Rick Hardin, the Cub quarterback in football, shot two free throws, Patrick having guarded him too closely. Ream retaliated, at the expense of Ted Stone. Then Stone scored two free throws, followed by Ream. Patrick's goal brought the total to 70 and with 41 seconds left, Lucas again called time. Tackett shot two free throws and all Plymouth had to do was be patient. Boone threw in a rebound and Neeley went to the line and made the first of a one.

Neeley wound up with 15 points. Two other Cubs were in double figures. Stone at 12 and McGugin at 10.

Plymouth outscored the Cubs, 34 to 30. The Cubs were charged with 17 turnovers, Plymouth with 22.

About grandchildren, bathing with same!

By AUNT LIZ
There is nothing like spending a few days with grandchildren who do not know you are their grandmother.

We them so seldom, and they are so little that they simply cannot remember who we are. Somehow we did survive this last holiday visit. It took a couple of days for them to accept us. Then, unfortunately, it was time to leave again.

One, right off the bat, and I think it was simply to test me out, said, "I will take a bath with Grandmam." So off we go to the tub. Granted, it was slightly crowded, but we did manage, and I very graciously asked them to get like her back scrubbed off, and what an answer, "I will ask for assistance if I need it." So there I sit in all that hot water, thinking, "Well, Liz, do your own back."

Then a day or two later we got to the next little granddaughter, and she did not want a bath but wanted to watch Grandma take one. This is basic with small animals, they like to be clean and it is plain important to them. So with a great audience, Grandmother takes a bath.

Grandchildren are really like lovable little puppy dogs. They want pure love and it comes in various forms. Hugs and kisses really do not amount to too much, it is how do you read a book like Mommy does. They brought out books that I know they have read so many times, but the big test was, would it sound the same?

Addresses the world has known through the ages, always they were people who proved themselves as adults, but do not ever underestimate the acting ability of a two-year-old. They are naturals and right to the heart. One minute they are angelic and the next something more devilish than an ordinary adult can believe.

Any grandmother can go on and on about beautiful grandchildren, but they were really only part of our holiday.

There were so many other little things during the week that really made it for us.

Perhaps it may sound silly, but when you are stranded in the airport in Peoria, Ill., for two hours, what do you do? Peoria I had heard about, and never did I think I would spend so much time there. Our plane lost its brakes somewhere along the line, so we had a two hour wait while the airlines changed everyone around, thank heavens for that.

We spent the two hours in the local watering hole of the airport, which was the only place to waste time. What was the fun of it all is that two young men were at the table and we started to talk. They worked as bargemen on the Mississippi and were on their way home to Kentucky and Arkansas. Their stories of what they did each day were really fantastic. One was a 19-year-old who had worked his way up to first mate, which is good in any water language, and because he did not take the union benefits, he was hauling down $250 a day.

Perhaps that is why we have to pay so much for everything we buy.

I just sat there and listened to the two of them talk away. You could not have found two friendlier guys, and I thought, they have their lives and would never believe how we live in a small community and exist. Their life was so different that great river, which is hard for us to understand. Like thousands before them, they want to master it, and do one has. There are words to a song we all know how the river keeps going and going. Perhaps those two guys are the real pioneers of today while the rest of us think there is simply nothing left to pioneer about.

There really is if you were among the lucky people to get a food processor this holiday.

They are dreams and plain fun. In seconds you can cut up things which would normally take hours. It is the best adult toy to come out in years, so if no one gave you one, rush out and give yourself a present.

Mrs. Edwin McBride, 75, a retired teacher at Shiloh, died at Shelby.

Guy E. Flora won a first place in extemporaneous speaking and James Miller a first place in prepared speech during the annual FFA contest.

Five named by Lutheran church council

Committees were named last week by the council, First Evangelical Lutheran church.

Mrs. F. J. Buzard, president of the council, is chairman of a special social activity planning committee.

First such activity will be on Ash Wednesday, Feb. 20, when soup and salad will be served.

The Harold Sloans remembered his father and her mother with flowers at Sunday's service.

Catechetical class will conduct a retreat at Camp Mowana Saturday, leaving from the church at 10 a.m. and returning at 6 p.m.

A daughter, Jenny Rosina, was born Jan. 9 in Willard Area hospital to the Michael Cruma. Mother is the former Pamela Vogel, daughter of the Clarence Vogels. The Ernest Crumas, Shiloh, are the paternal grandparents.

Sixteen-month-old Monica Brooke has been adopted by Mr. and Mrs. Duane Keene. The child is a native of El Salvador.
