

Bloodmobile to call tomorrow, seeking 150 pints of blood

ARC Bloodmobiles will call here tomorrow from noon to 6 p.m. to collect 150 pints of whole blood.

Donors are invited to report to Plymouth High school gymnasium during these hours.

Plymouth Lions club is the sponsor of the visit.

In an effort to develop broad community support, quotas have been assigned to the four churches, the high school and faculty, the fire department and rescue service and the Lions club.

Any person in good health between 18 and 65 may give blood. Seventeen-year-olds may give blood upon presentation of a permission slip issued by the Red Cross and executed by a parent or guardian. Persons 66 years old may give blood upon presentation of an authorization of their family physician.

The Bloodmobile will use new equipment designed to offer more comfortable atmosphere for the program's most important member, the blood donor.

Most notable is the adjustable reclining lounge-type chair that replaces the former hospital bed that donors lie on as they give blood.

Most of the time the attending nurses may now sit while administering to the donors. The new beds have other advantages of being lighter to carry and taking up less space. Donors will be able to converse freely with fellow donors, read a book or easily view the activities around the new donor lounge unit.

The procedure for hemoglobin/hematocrit testing and blood pressure reading will not be combined with the medical history review at the health check station.

The canteen, the last station, will, as always, provide donors with refreshments after the donation.

Northern Ohio Red Cross Blood Services is currently using a new bag for the storage of whole blood and red cells that extends the shelf life from 21 days to 35 days. The bag will be in use here Feb. 29.

Administering a protein substance that enhances the capacity for the blood to carry oxygen, has been added to the other preservatives and anticoagulants already used by the supplier. The bag, from Fenwal Laboratories, has been in use since mid-November.

Barry Whitman, director of protein management for Red Cross, explains the benefit of the new bag this way: "If blood donations drop, those extra 14 days of life can make a difference. These longer life bags also help at the smaller hospitals further from our center. Because the blood can remain on their shelves for longer, it gives that hospital more time to use each unit."

During the recent holiday period, which is always rough for Red Cross Blood Services, the new bag proved its worth. When the center found itself with an abundance of A+ blood and a shortage of all others, the organization began recruiting specifically for all other types. When the needed blood was collected, those units of A+ on the shelf were still good due to the long-life bag. Thus Red Cross was able to attain an advanced level of all blood types.

Mrs. Whitman concluded, "During a time when advanced medical techniques demand the demand for blood to increase, the extension of storage period will provide the Red Cross with greater flexibility in helping to meet the total blood needs of the Greater Cleveland area."

Any donor wishing a specific appointment may call 687-5511 today or tomorrow until 11:30 a.m.

Salary of clerk raised to $7,500

Salary of the clerk-treasurer was raised to $7,500 during the recessed meeting of village council Thursday night.

It had been $5,000 since the summer of 1973, when it was raised from $4,500. Councilman G. Thomas Moore and Dean A. Cline and Mayor Eric J. Akers had met the night before and all agreed the position because of its importance to the village should pay more.

Moore said, "It is an awful increase, but necessary."

Proceeding the passage of the emergency ordinance increasing the salary, a new appropriation ordinance was passed to include a sum of $7,000 to be spent from federal revenue sharing funds. It will be used to pay current salaries.

Councilman Ervin Howard said he has talked with several accountants who showed an interest in straightening out the village's financial situation.

Another emergency ordinance was passed to create such a position, not paying over $2,000 for the work.

A motion by Cline and seconded by Councilman Mrs. Allan Raymond to pay the employees passed with only Ervin Howard dissent.

Shall PJVS be accorded tax increase of one mill?

Voters in Plymouth Local School district will go to the polls Tuesday to determine whether Pioneer Joint Vocational school shall have one mill of fresh tax money.

It will be the third time around for the levy, although in its present form it is the first time it has been submitted to the electorate of the 14-district joiinture.

Earlier, the renewal of 4.2 mills of operating money and one-half mill of fresh tax money were combined in a single submittal amounting to 92/100 of one mill.

This levy was twice defeated. When its second effort occurred on Nov. 6, 1973, the Pioneer JVS Board of Education sought to schedule a special election so that it would not lose existing tax money during the 1980 tax year. This move failed because of legal technicalities and the 42/100 of one mill of tax that would have been collected in 1980 was lost.

Aim of the board now is to obtain approval of the fresh levy and to borrow, if need be, against its proceeds to fund expenses for the remainder of 1980. If the tax is approved, it would be collected during 1981 and thereafter.

Supporters of the levy argue that enrollment has risen steadily and the number of faculty and non-certificated has increased commensurately, but the amount of millage was diminishing. They say that prior to 1978, the voted millage was 2.5 mills. In 1976, they add, this figure was reduced to 1.6 mills by the county budget commission, then raised to 21 in 1977. House Bill 920 in 1977 reduced the effective rate, they contend, to 1.7 mills and ultimately, in 1979, to less than 1.496 mills.

In the same period of time, supporters say, overall expenditures of the district have doubled.

All precincts in Plymouth Local School district will be open to registered voters between 6:30 a.m. and 7:30 p.m.

An application to compel the PUCO to adjust upward rates for natural gas service in Plymouth has been filed with it by Columbia Gas of Ohio, Inc.

In its application, the supplier recites present rates, which went into effect Oct. 1, 1974. These are for the first 2,000 cubic feet, 51.648 cents for each 100 cubic feet in each meter each month, over 2,000 cubic feet, 29.998 cents for each 100 cubic feet in each meter each month, with a minimum charge of $3.50 for each meter. These rates include a purchased gas cost adjustment charge of 16.64 cents for each 100 cubic feet.

Columbia Gas proposes rates of $2.88 for each meter each month, regardless of gas consumed, and 30.950 cents for each 100 cubic feet each month, for all gas consumed.

It says in its application these rates will increase current rates for residential consumers by 3.9 per cent, for commercial consumers by 5.1 per cent, for industrial consumers by 5.6 per cent.

Any persons, firms, corporation or association may file, pursuant to Sec. 4909.19 of the Revised Code, an objection to the proposals by alleging the rates are unjust and discriminatory or unreasonable.

Address of the PUCO is 180 East Broad street, Columbus, 43215.

34 times in 25 years!

For the 34th time in 25 years, the premises at 78 Plymouth street have been vandalized.

A large rock, said by Police Chief W. Robert Seel to have come from railroad ballast, was thrown through a large window in the north side of the house, penetrating the storm window, a screen and the natural window of the dwelling.

Glass was strewn over an area of 20 square feet inside the building.

The house is occupied by the A. L. Paddock, Jr. They told police they retired Saturday shortly after 11 p.m. and did not hear the shattering of the windows. Neither did their dog bark. They said they believe the windows were broken after midnight. A neighbor who did not retire until after that hour said there was no sound of vandalism until then.

The house was last vandalized Oct. 22, when yellow paint in a plastic bag was thrown against the door to a porch, smearing the door, the porch floor and the siding of the building.

Only three times have police been able to detect the identity of the vandals. One of them, Charles Cutright, confessed that he destroyed wiring in one of the family cars, slashed the seats and upholstery and gouged the finish of the roof and hood. He said he was paid by Edward O. Ramsey to do it. Ramsey was brought to trial in Shelby Municipal court on a warrant executed by the then police chief, the late Robert L. Meiser, but a jury acquitted him.

Seneca East nips Red with last period surge

Plymouth squandered a lead in the final period here Friday night lost its 15th game of the season, 66 to 63, to Seneca East.

It was splendid basketball, well worth the money and time to see it.

Both teams shot sensationally. The Tigers tried for field goal 57 times and scored with 28, just under 50 per cent accuracy. The Big Red was no less excellent. It fired for field goal 50 times and made 28 of them, just over 50 per cent.

Plymouth went into the last eight minutes with a five point lead at 52 to 47. The Tigers tied it at 58 at 4:26 on a free throw by Joe Schueler, whose accuracy from the penalty line was later to produce the winning margin.

Seneca East had three opportunities to build a lead but failed with each of them before John Schueler stepped to the line on a two shot foul. He canned both tries. Mike Miller missed a free throw for the visitors before Steve Tackett, who led the Big Red with a career high of 19 points, scored with a jumper. Jeff Ream bagged the first of a scoreless four effort and Plymouth led by one. But John Schueler was back at the line at 1:51 and he made both tries. When, at 1:5 seconds left, Schueler was fouled by Randy Neeley, it all hung out. If Schueler were to fail, Plymouth had a golden chance. If he were to succeed, Plymouth's chances would be poor.

Schueler did not disappoint the Seneca East fans. He calmly sank both efforts and the Tigers had a lead of 64 to 61. They allowed Neeley to score, cutting the lead to one. And the same Schueler stepped once again to the line, with two seconds remaining and fired home two more free throws.

Seneca East outbounded Plymouth, notably in the final period, and this fact was contributory to its victory. The Tigers were credited with 31 rebounds, Plymouth with 21.

Plymouth had more tries from the foul line, 17 to 15, and made one more, 11 to 10. Ream and Neeley wound up their schoolboy careers, save for tourney action, with 18 points apiece.

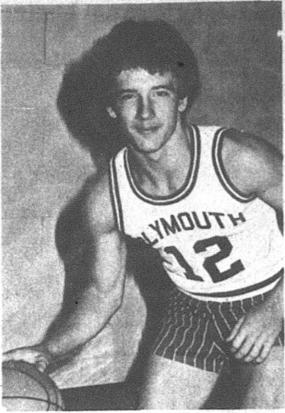

Four Tigers were in double figures, John Schueler with 20, Mark Wurm with 14, Joe Schueler and Miller with 10 each.

Seneca East committed more mistakes, 18 to 10.

Did family own it? keep it!

By AUNT LIZ
Antiques can leave some completely cold and set others off in hot pursuit.

Going to auctions around the countryside is a great pastime. You meet old friends, perhaps have the chance to have a homemade sandwich that some church group has prepared, and you get to nose around to see what a family had in its house.

What has bothered me all these years when I do break down and park about three blocks down a country road and have to hoof it to the sale, is that what is being sold should really stay in the family.

I cannot imagine anyone parting with a 100-year-old cradle or a dish that was loved for years.

What it is amounts to the fact the older people are selling while the younger ones are hunting down treasures. And since silver is booming like mad, some lovely things that should be passed down are being sold for perhaps a Florida vacation.

This is beyond my thinking. Such things should be passed onto one's children. Oh, I've heard people my age (and since I have had another birthday that puts me right up there in just about the senior citizen status) say their kids simply could care less about something they inherited from their family.

A family antique should be treasured for the memories it brings. It really means nothing to anyone else, but I have just discovered in the big antique auctions that it really counts what famous person actually owned something.

An old pipe or pair of glasses can be nothing, but if Ben Franklin wore them, the price about triples. Never will we have anything like that but we do have the shaving mug that belonged to my father-in-law which is really important to us. It even has his name on it since it was left in his barber shop and used when he visited it, which had to be around World War I.

I suspect as the economy keeps going as it has, there will be a great deal dumped on the market. This is sad. It has happened all through history, though. Family treasures can mean food.

We once knew a lovely Dutch couple who had been Japanese prisoners during WWII on an East Indian island. The wife owned a beautiful pair of large diamond earrings that she managed to bury and dig up, about four years later. She told me they paid for them to buy an apartment in Holland afterwards. Knowing her, I knew she would have loved to have passed them on to their only child, a daughter.

My latest possession is a wheat penny which is probably worth a good three cents now, but they do not make them any more, so one grandchild is getting it. It will not exactly fund a college education but will be fun for her to have when she is 60.

Collecting can be fun, but there comes a time when the top of your refrigerator needs a little cleaning out, so we have gone on a binge of zucchini bread. Last summer I packaged up in little bags with the help of a friend, two cups of the stuff. This makes one recipe. At this point, it is almost antique.

It makes great tuna fish salad sandwiches, kind of adds a little something extra. A quick meal too, so there is time to hunt down another wheat penny, since we have two granddaughters, and they must be kept equal at all costs. I do feel for those grandmothers who have a dozen to contend with. I don't back I remember one who had something like 15, and let each choose their colors, and she made afghans for what penny, since we have two granddaughters, and they must be kept equal at all costs. I do feel for those grandmothers who have a dozen to contend with.

Do we have a representative on the Pioneer Joint Vocational school board? Northmor School district in Morrow county has defeated special levies seven times, something of a record that is not desirable here. They are also in the PJVS district. The cost of this special election Mar. 4 must be paid by all in the schools spread over seven counties, whereas in a local district only a few precincts are involved and cost less.

Terry Wolf, election director, stated $3,000 in Richland county. Four people for each precinct at $40 each ballot material, telephone, room rent, can vary. The money spent would reduce the debt. The reason for a special election as stated, is by approval, it can be used as collateral for borrowing money, only a few weeks, before the June primary. The line is the board is gambling on the people not wanting to go to the polls and a few in favor of swinging the vote. The millage is only a small part. The county auditor can double your real estate valuation, as in my case, in the last three appraisals. Issues where bonds are called would not vary my levies, according to the current listed value.

John M. Brook Shiloh route 2 Sir:

On Mar. 4, Pioneer Joint Vocational School will once again bring its case before the voters of the thirteen participating school districts in an effort to win support for the badly needed 1 mill operating levy. Unfortunately, in the last election, Plymouth was one of several communities whose failure to support the levy was evidence of a conspicuous lack of commitment to its youth.

Since Pioneer opened its doors in 1968, it has experienced a steadily increasing enrollment as well as a demand for new and more varied programs. Many people are unaware that additions have been made, nor do they realize that repair and replacement of existing equipment and utilities and other operating expenses have been paid for out of an income which was fixed over ten years ago. Not since 1969 have taxpayers been asked to approve additional funds. Yet, with inflation eating away at the buying power of us all, there still remain numerous skeptics who find it incomprehensible that the school has finally felt the crunch. To paraphrase an old adage: "A thing not properly taken care of will become something else." We must all accept responsibility for taking care of what is certainly one of the finest vocational schools in the state.

I am a first year teacher and the newest member of the academic staff at Pioneer and perhaps I reflect much of the idealism of a beginner. I have learned that, along with teaching skills, we must also help our students develop attitudes of professionalism and concern as well as pride in their abilities and the desire to excel. These are qualities which will complement the students' technical training. In teaching these attitudes, it is imperative that we reflect a sense of commitment. However, that responsibility does not rest solely with teachers. It extends to anyone who considers himself an adult. We ARE the example. A very visible way to display our commitment is through sup-

No matter how you're thinking of voting on the Pioneer Levy on Mar. 4, consider these facts:

Enrollment has increased steadily from 468 students in 1968 to 1,243 in 1980.

Training has been extended from 18 to 35 courses.

Pioneer has more than doubled in size to handle this growth.

About 84% of its graduates found employment.

VOTE FOR THE Pioneer JOINT Vocational School one (1.0) mill operating levy Mar. 4.

The levy will only cost the average taxpayer about 2¢ a day more. Yet without this small operating levy the quality and scope of vocational training at Pioneer will be drastically reduced, affecting the careers of hundreds of youngsters who depend on Pioneer.
