

Beaten by Bucks, 33-0, Red to face Trojans

Plymouth's defense broke down on five occasions against Buckeye Central Saturday night and the Big Red absorbed a 33 to 0 beating.

The Bucks struck in every period and dominated Plymouth throughout.

The winners scored the first two times they obtained possession.

Piotrowski punted 27 yards to the Plymouth 44. Dan Niese ripped off a first down to the Big Red 24. Dan Pifer got 10 yards and another first down and on second down, Scott Moore passed 14 yards to the awesome Dan Wurm. This produced the touchdown, Wurm running untouched into the end zone. Carl Mahaffey place kicked the PAT; the Bucks marched 44 yards in seven plays.

Plymouth was not able to move on its own two times throughout the first period.

A short punt of just 12 yards by Gowitza in the second quarter gave the Bucks possession at the Red 25, but three penalties, one of them a 15-yarder, against the Bucks nullified the advantage and Plymouth took over on downs at its 23.

On third down, Steve Tackett lost possession of the ball while standing erect. Randy Kape recovered and Buckeye Central was in possession at the Red 18. Moore passed to Wurm for 18 yards on the first play. The clock read 5:53. Mahaffey was forced to kick from five yards deeper because of a penalty but it was good all the same.

Plymouth managed to penetrate Buckeye Central territory in the next series, thanks to a roll-out by Tackett; good for 17 yards. On fourth down, from the Red 40, Plymouth decided to punt. The attempt was not good.

The half ended with Buckeye Central 30, Dan Shell having completed a 20-yard toss to Wurm.

Niese intercepted Tackett's pass early in the third period but the Bucks were compelled to punt. The boot carried 39 yards. Plymouth returned the favor, also for 39 yards. In the next series Buckeye Central scored a third time.

After Kehres and Moore, by now, had each picked up a first down, Moore passed to Wurm for 14 to the Red 30. Niese burst off tackle for the TD at 5:16. The place kick was not good.

Plymouth could not advance in the next series after the kickoff. A pass on fourth down went awry but Buckeye Central was penalized 15 yards. On first down, from the Buck 45, Doug Shell, a big fullback, burst off tackle and ran down the middle of the Red territory for the score.

Behind by 28 points, Plymouth tried hard for respectability in the next series and got into Buckeye territory. Scott Harris contributed 14 yards and nine yards in successive shots. An offside penalty against the Bucks gave Plymouth first down at the Buck 49. The Big Red reached the 41 but that was it. It did not again threaten.

A 61-yard punt went deep into Red territory, where Tackett fumbled. Kape recovered, at the Plymouth six and in four plays Dan Niese sneaked the last yard. Niese again kicked the PAT.

There were slightly over four minutes left. Neither side showed any enthusiasm for the changing score. Plymouth managed to get a five yard penalty and to gain three yards rushing in its final possession. Gowitza's kick carried only 14 yards and Buckeye Central was in good field position at the Red 44. It was at the Red 33 when the gun sounded.

Coach David Coulter said after the game he was not so disappointed with his team's performance as might have been imagined. "We played real well at times, especially during the first half. Our defense is complicated and we made mistakes in the second half, especially in the third period. We figured our first two games would be man-killers and that after that we would meet up with the winners."

Water...

Willard eager to serve village but questions of cost, rate persist

Willard definitely wants to help the village out of its water problems.

It requested a special meeting with village officials Aug. 27.

Mayor Eric J. Akers and Councilmen Ernest E. Ervin, Donald A. Howard, Douglas Brumback and Deane Cline at 8:30 a.m. with Willard's council president, T. Wade Eden, Councilman Todd Schininger, Paul Capelle, city manager, and Robert Hanes, water superintendent.

On offense, South Central will go to Mark Uselton at end and Fetter will be in charge of backfield as passing targets.

On defense, the Trojans show.

Friday night, the Trojans need some wins but it's big and reasonably fast and it had experience. Fidler, Tim Hall, Eric Rinhardt and Mark Evans, who plays center on offense, are the linebackers.

The gists of the three hour meeting was that if Plymouth goes to Willard for water, local rates will be more than doubled.

Capelle has estimated it will cost close to $52,000 to install a water line on an eight inch line. He suggested that he inquire of Willard's engineer the difference between that size and a four inch line.

Both Schininger and Capelle asked how far apart are Plymouth and Willard from reaching an agreement.

Eden said that Willard will be furnishing water to New Haven within five years and that is the time to put in the line, first. Plymouth must make a decision on its water supply for the future.

Capelle said that Jan. 12, 1981, is the next deadline to apply for a grant to install the line. He added that some agencies seem to be "cooling off" and wondering if Plymouth actually has a water crisis.

David Howard asked Capelle if he thinks Plymouth can apply for a grant as easily as Willard. His answer was that Willard is more experienced in such things and is financially sounder and has better borrowing power.

Brumback questioned the purity of the water, which would be traveling about seven miles.

He was assured there would be no charge to the village until the water is thoroughly tested and free of any contamination.

What was an oddity of Brumback's questions was that he knew that the new night during the regular council meeting he would propose that the village enter into an agreement with Burgess and Nippe, Ltd., Columbus, to make a study of the village's water problems.

What was an oddity of Brumback's questions was that he knew that the new night during the regular council meeting he would propose that the village enter into an agreement with Burgess and Nippe, Ltd., Columbus, to make a study of the village's water problems.

This was done Thursday night. The council has earmarked a sum of $8,000 from the water reserve fund for the study.

Mark Rowland, representing the company, said from the information he has so far the village has several alternatives on which include going to Willard or Mansfield.

Another alternative, he said, is the well on the Chapman farm, on which the village had an option to develop for many years until last spring, when Mrs. Frank Smith, who is the owner of the land, told the council she wished to terminate the agreement.

No definite answer was given to Willard, and it is being pressed for a commitment.

The spokesman said at the moment Plymouth is not experiencing any dire water problem but that he feels it is a pressing issue and must be dealt with.

Willard officials made a point of saying that if the village owned the proposed water line from Skinner road southward, development would result to the benefit of the village. This cannot be wholly true since most of the east side of Route 61 is the sewer lagoon site, on which nothing can be built, and the west side is farm land unlikely to ever be sold into parcels.

Village records show that the amount of water being pumped and that being billed do not coincide which indicates faulty meters or serious water leaks in the system.

put off for the time being. Eden, who is an R. R. Donnelly & Sons Co. employee, said he gets any information from him about the water problem and his answer is, "It is up to your council."

Cost of the water is what the problem is local officials are facing.

Capelle pointed out it would be cheaper for Plymouth to come to Willard than to spend the same amount to try to develop what is probably not here.

Record keeping...

Ralph Roll, senior accountant of Ernst & Whitney, village financial supervisor, told village council Thursday that one of the main problems is the bookkeeping systems being used.

He said it does not reflect what the council and clerk know will be future expenditures and consequently, they are not reflected in any budget.

He suggested to Mayor Eric J. Akers that a new system be put into effect.

He added there is no question that the general fund cannot support itself in the future, but the other funds will be able to do so and are doing so at the moment.

Capelle said that a new system be put into effect.

Both Schininger and Capelle think that there is a good chance of federal grants to plan the additional sewer and water lines. A water line extends into the proposed addition, but the sewer line will have to be extended.

Bill Collins, the developer, is planning on about six lots to comprise the addition.

Moody, a 100-year-old cemetery, was turned over to the village for a $3 to $5 a foot because of the cost of materials has risen. The present ordinance will be reviewed and changes that are necessary will be made.

Brumback said water rates should be increased and suggested that small increases be made from time to time.

Councilman David A. Howard suggested waiting until the village received the report from the newly hired water consultant.

Village Administrator James C. Root has been notifying village residents who have not installed their sanitary connection that they must be done by Oct. 1. Some have replied they were unaware of the date and did not realize they are being required to connect to the system.

Councilman G. Thomas Moore, a Brooks court resident, agreed. The proposed addition to the village will be at the south end of Brooks court, and Moore said he was in complete agreement that such requirements are not necessary.

Obaus said that the council thinks that there is a good chance of federal grants to plan the additional sewer and water lines. A water line extends into the proposed addition, but the sewer line will have to be extended.

First it was the village employees' turn, and now it is the council's turn.

Thursday night the council threw the ball back.

The utility employees requested the current pay ordinance be reviewed with the idea of adding a cost of living clause.

The police department came up with dollar salary increases.

These were presented to the council at the Aug. 14 meeting.

After a short executive session, the council gave its answer through Councilman David A. Howard.

Salary increases will be forthcoming, but no mention of a cost of living clause, providing the employees improve their work. However, they will undertake more schooling applicable to their duties.

Grumblin started immediately when the employees learned this.

Their reply was that it would take up any pay increase if they had to bear the cost of any future training.

Action Police Chief David Gibson said the local department is as well trained as either Willard or Shelby's departments.

Councilman David A. Howard suggested waiting.

Both utility workers and the police department said that in no way would they walk off their jobs while negotiating.

Youth, 17, held in crash

A 17-year-old Plymouth route 1 youth was summoned for juvenile court action Friday after his car struck a two-hundred foot stretch of Route 103, about two miles south of Route 102.

The Kenneth Echelberry's truck was westbound at Lake Erie.

After recessing for the summer months, Plymouth Chapter 231 OES, will resume its monthly meetings Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the chapter rooms.

Participation of all pupils who participate in instrumental music are invited to the first meeting of the Band Parents' Club Tuesday at 7 p.m. in the music room of Plymouth High school.

John Schlesman was charged with following too closely. His car struck that of Rafael Salvo, 42, Westlago, Tex., northbound.

The spokesman said at the moment Plymouth is not experiencing any dire water problem but that he feels it is a pressing issue and must be dealt with.

The reactivated planning commission headed by Kenyon Osburn feels the subdivision ordinance adopted in 1970 does not give enough leeway for new developments.

The village council said the town of Plymouth is not experiencing any dire water problem but that he feels it is a pressing issue and must be dealt with.

Punter, guard on offense and linebacker on defense, Phil Gowitzka is in his final year of eligibility with the Big Red. He had only a so-so night kicking the ball against Buckeye Central and is looking forward to a better success against South Central in the season's opener here tomorrow. Game time in Mary Fate park is 8 p.m.

NEW IT'S HERE! ETS...
A HOME AND WATER
HEATING SYSTEM WITH A NEW, LOWER ELECTRIC RATE.

Suppose you had a special furnace and water heater that could store heat, saving it for use throughout the entire day.

Suppose this furnace and water heater used electricity only at night.

Suppose you could buy that nighttime electricity at a new lower rate. And this lower rate would apply to all the electricity your home uses, every night! Monday through Friday from 11 p.m. to 7 a.m. plus all weekend around the clock from Friday night until Monday morning.

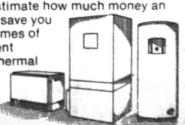

Suppose all these things came true, wouldn't that be great?

Well wait no longer because they've just come true. Thanks to a new heating system called Electric Thermal Storage, ETS, for short.

How ETS stores heat and hot water for your home is an interesting story. How ETS qualifies you for a lower electric rate makes the story even better.

Contact us to learn more about ETS. There's much more we can tell and we'll give you our special SAVE* booklet on ETS. If you're interested, we'll estimate how much money an ETS system could save you and provide the names of local ETS equipment dealers. Electric Thermal Storage... we think it's the best thing to happen in a long, long time.
