

On attitude

The joy that is evident that, at long last, as the self-deposed monarch said two generations ago, Plymouth is a member of an athletic conference in which it can be expected to win a fair share of its engagements needs to be tempered.

We have said repeatedly, over at least the past 18 years, that our team ought to be in a league with schools more nearly its own size. Save for Edison, which competes in Division III in football and in Class AA in other sports, none of the other schools is so much larger than we. New London, Black River and Western Reserve compete in Division IV in football and in Class A in other sports. Half of the schools in the 10-team league are smaller than ours.

Our records are by no means absolutely complete. Over the years since the Firelands conference was established, Plymouth teams have played Firelands schools in at least nine sports. So far as our records show, the Big Red has prevailed in only 26.9 per cent of these engagements.

So it is clear that, despite the advantage of a more competitive size of enrollment, it's another size that we need.

One may safely say that physical size would be a great help. How nice it would be to have six or seven players in the six feet six inch class out for the basketball squad! And some six footers who scale 230 pounds and can run like a deer on the football squad! Some of them would likely be strong candidates for the wrestling team and for the weight events in track and field.

But the size that is absolutely essential, one that we need to seek after with great fervor, is called attitude.

Those who've dealt with Plymouth athletics for a long time, as we have, acknowledge that it's the attitude of Plymouth players that produces failure.

"What we need," says one sidewalk expert, "is some victories, that'll change our attitude."

To which we respond, "what we need is a change of attitude, then we'll get some victories."

How are attitudes changed?

There are experts who draw big money from rich clients to lay out the framework for a change of attitude.

The entire advertising industry, all of our communications network, is aimed at changing attitudes. Some of it is forthright, some of it is subtle. But that's what it's all about.

Attitude can best be changed by leadership. Whose leadership? Leadership by players. We claim the purpose of schoolboy athletics is to develop character and resourcefulness. If this is so, then those who compete need to show leadership. By their conduct on and off the field, in the classroom. By achieving. Leadership by teachers and coaches. By their conduct on and off the field, in the classroom. By achieving. Leadership by administrators and those charged with guidance of the schools. By positive, energetic, even bold approaches to old problems and new ones.

Leadership most often stems from excellence and achievement. Those whom we choose to lead us invariably are those whom we perceive to be successful in whatever it is they do.

To make waves in the Firelands conference, indeed, anywhere, all we need to do is apply the gifts with which we are endowed to the purpose at hand. It is sinful to approach the task with the defeatist attitude. No matter how many times one has been beaten, if he changes his attitude, and the attitude of his opponent, he will ultimately prevail.

Homecoming fete starts today with parade

The annual hoopla that is Plymouth High school's Homecoming is under way. A noise parade will march from Plymouth Elementary school at 5:15 p. m. The queen and her court will be introduced at 7:30 p. m. Plymouth, winless in 15 consecutive games, will face Danville, which has won one game. Annual Homecoming dance will begin Saturday at 7 p. m. in the high school. Tickets if purchased in advance are $1.25 singly and $2.25 for couples. If bought at the door, they are $1.50 and $2.50, respectively.

Devils favored to send Red to 16th defeat

The Danville eleven that comes here tomorrow has not set the world afire but it has been competitive. It lost by one point, 15 to 14, to Rosecrans, the parochial school at Zanesville, and it was defeated by Carlington, 14 to 6, in both of which games the Blue Devils outgained the opposition. The third defeat was at the hands of Fredericktown. Danville's sole victory was over Centerville.

It's an experience, albeit not so heavy, team that Danville brings here tomorrow for Plymouth's Homecoming. "Our opponents have scouted us pretty well by now," he observed, "and they know we've had trouble with our kicking game. If we wait till fourth down to kick, they'll be all over us with a 10-man front. So don't be surprised if you see the quick kick on third down."

Driver fined $400 by mayor

A New Haven driver was convicted in mayor's court Thursday of two offenses and fined a total of $400 and costs.

Michael D. Sparkman was charged with reckless operation and drunken driving. Gary Oney, Plymouth, charged with drunken driving without a license, pleaded no contest and was fined $50 and costs.

Jeffrey Adams, Willard, sentenced to three days in the Huron county jail and to pay a fine of $50 and costs.

Debbie Parks, Plymouth, accused of assault, pleaded not guilty and her case was transferred to Shelby Municipal court.

Raymond Spangler, Norwalk, pleaded guilty to driving without a license and was fined $50 and costs.

James E. Coleman, Shelby, pleaded guilty to tire peeling and was fined $30 and costs.

Donald L. Miles, Plymouth, charged with disorderly conduct and public intoxication, posted a waiver of $25 and costs.

Todd Brown, Willard, posted a waiver of $27 and costs on a charge of speeding. Rick Stephens, Shiloh, also accused of speeding, posted a waiver of $9 and costs.

Two bars face fight in renewal

Objections have been filed against renewal of two local liquor licenses.

New Haven township trustees object to renewal of the license of George Wright, doing business as Wright Way Inn, 2966 North street.

Shelby's government objects to renewal of the license of Eugene E. Avers, doing business as Courtney's Saloon, 182-84 Broadway, Shelby.

YOU CAN GET TAX-EXEMPT ALL-SAVERS CERTIFICATES AT WILLARD UNITED BANK BEGINNING OCTOBER 1.

BUT ALL-SAVERS MAY NOT BE GOOD FOR EVERY SAVER.

New U. S. Government regulations permit all banks and deposit institutions to offer tax-exempt savings certificates between October 1, 1981 and December 31, 1982.

Beginning October 1, Willard United bankers will work with you to find out if the All-Savers Certificate is best for you. If you aren't above a 28% tax bracket, you will probably want to consider other investment alternatives.

We'll have charts and formulas at each bank. We can apply them to your particular circumstance to give you your taxable equivalent yield on various savings Certificates, and how much you would have to invest in the new CDs to take advantage of the maximum limit on tax exemption.

If the new All-Savers Certificate is a wise investment for you, we'll be glad to sign you up starting October 1. Watch for more information about the All-Savers Certificate from Willard United Bank - Everything You Want A Bank To Be.

'77 alumni wed at Shiloh, now living in Shelby

Classmates in Plymouth High school who graduated in 1977, Miss Jill Arlene Von Stein and Steven Andrew Baldrige were married Sept. 19 at 6:30 p. m. in Mt. Hope Lutheran church, Shiloh, by the Rev. Pauline Atkins and Daniel Humrichouser.

The bride is the daughter of the Raymond Von Steins, Shiloh route 2. The bridegroom is the son of the Homer Baldriges, Plymouth route 1.

Gregory Von Sten, pianist and organist, accompanied Deborah Hamman, soloist.

Pink anemones and red roses decorated the altar for the double ring ceremony. Pink bows marked the family pews.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of ivory chiffonette styled with Queen Anne neckline defined with Venice lace and a fitted bodice accented with lace and seed pearls. Long bishop sleeves ended in fitted ruffle cuffs. A back panel scattered with lace flowerettes extended over the chapel train, which was edged with crystal pleating.

A finger tip veil of illusion edged with lace was suspended from a caplet of Venice lace.

She carried ivory and burgundy silk roses with forget-me-nots and stephanotis. She wore a pearl necklace and earrings, gifts of the bridegroom.

The bride's sister, Sally, was maid of honor. Another sister, Julie, and the bridegroom's sisters, Lori and Lisa, were bridesmaids. Each was attired in burgundy quina styled with rounded neckline, blouson bodice and split sleeves with matching tie trim. The maid of honor carried a fan style arrangement of burgundy and ivory silk roses and forget-me-nots. The bridesmaids carried identical arrangements save with pink roses. Each of the bridal party wore a pearl-centered heart pendant necklace, a gift of the bride.

Jeffrey Baldrige, the bridegroom's brother, was best man.

Paul Von Stein, the bride's brother, and Kenneth Bauman and Kevin Humbert ushered.

Mrs. Von Stein chose a floor length gown of pink polyester with deep lace-edged collar. Mrs. Baldrige wore a floor length gown of green polyester knit with pleated bodice.

A reception took place in Shiloh Elementary school, where a four-tiered hexagon cake with pink and burgundy blossoms and lovebirds was served by Mmes. Frank Snyder, Kenneth Burrer, Jr., and Kevin Humbert. Mrs. Thomas Hamman registered guests.

The couple is living in Shelby, where she is employed by Shelby Mutual Insurance Co. He is employed by Cooper Energy Co., Mt. Vernon.

Defeat No. 15 . . .

Errors by special teams cause 28 to 13 loss

It was a long ride for Indian Lake's football squad Friday but a rewarding one because it went home with a 22 to 13 victory that snapped a 31-game losing streak.

The Lakers handed Plymouth its 15th consecutive defeat.

And they did so in unique fashion. Outgained by Plymouth both on the ground and in the air, the Lakers managed to outpoint the Big Red special teams to produce three scores.

Plymouth drew first blood. With its second possession in the Big Red drove 55 yards in nine plays to squirt Rick Hawkins into the end zone from four yards out. Plymouth took over after a punt at its 45. Red Hampton passed 16 yards to James Will on second down and Jeff Jacobs ripped off another first down with a 14-yard burst through tackle. After a five yard penalty, Plymouth went to the air again, this time to Tom Baker, good for 10 yards. With first down at the 13, Jacobs got into two shots and Hawkins took it in.

Will's kick for PAT was good.

The lead did not last long. On the ensuing kickoff, Andy Malley ran the ball deep to the Red four, whence on third down John Will, the quarterback, sneaked in from the one. The run for PAT failed.

Indian Lake scored with its next possession. Plymouth was forced to punt after the kickoff and the Lakers took advantage of a poor snap from center. Plymouth's punter couldn't kick it and he didn't pass it so well either. Indian Lake took over at the Red 23.

The Lakers made first down at the 13 on fourth down. Will sought to pass. He was sacked. But Plymouth was hit with a face mask penalty, and, afforded new life, the Lakers passed to Malley for 12 yards and the second score. Malley ran the PATs.

Here're scores last week —

Here're results last week:
 South Central 6, Monroeville 0;
 Black River 6, Western Reserve 6;
 New London 0, Mapleton 0;
 Indian Lake 28, Plymouth 13;
 East Knox 19, Crestview 7;
 Edison 34, St. Paul's 0.

It was that way at the half. In the third period, Indian Lake took the kickoff and marched 85 yards in 12 plays. Todd Cavender bolted into the end zone from two yards out with 6:45 left in the quarter. Save for a 21-yard pass to Malley, all of the gains came on the ground. The run for PAT was not good.

Neither team was able to gain much for the remainder of the period.

Plymouth was at the Indian Lake 33 when the final quarter began. Hampton was sacked for seven and a penalty set Plymouth back to the 45, where it died on two incomplete passes.

The Lakers reached the Red 45 and punted. Poor judgment by the punt receiver allowed the ball to be downed at the one and a half yard line. Hampton was tackled in the end zone on the first play.

Plymouth punted from its 20 and Indian Lake got a deep runback to the Red 23. Larry Carlson scored the touchdown from a yard away, the Lakers having needed just seven plays. The run for PAT's failed.

Plymouth came upfield with the last kickoff of the night and was led by Jacobs, who gained 44 yards in the 69-yard push to the goal. He ran it in with 59 seconds left. The run for PATs was short.

In football at this level, it's less what one team does than what the other team fails to do that results in victory. Plymouth's special teams did not perform so well, the cost was three touchdowns and a safety, and thus a 15th consecutive defeat went into the books.

Red, Cougars go into FC

The eight-school Firelands conference will expand to 10 teams next season.

Plymouth and Crestview were voted into membership Sept. 23.

In the reserve contest, Nancy Howell scored 14 points to lead Monroeville to win, 15 to 11 and 15 to 6.

Paul Midiam, superintendent at Crestview, said "We could have expanded southward to seven teams any time we wanted to. The reason I refused to join the FC last year was that I felt we were on the verge of league expansion."

James Craycraft, principal at Plymouth, greeted the news enthusiastically. "We've played some Firelands schools in many sports and we've always had good relations with them. We play South Central in football and basketball and we play other Firelands schools, such as Monroeville, in basketball. Now we'll have easier scheduling."

Give your furnace an energy-saving partner.

If you heat your home with a furnace, regardless of its fuel type, send in the coupon above.

In return, we'll send you our free SAVE* booklet. It tells all about the best partner your furnace could ever have, the add-on electric heat pump.

Combined with your existing furnace, an add-on heat pump will help heat your home, often letting your furnace rest. Conserving fuel. Saving energy. Even acting as a hedge against the anticipated rising cost of heating fuels.

Since the add-on heat pump uses less energy when it operates, it's the best way we know of to lower your winter heating bill.

If you think it's about time you and the add-on electric heat pump got together, send in the coupon for the whole, detailed story. You'll find it very interesting reading.

Fried ice cream? Here's the recipe!

By AUNT LIZ
If it is fried, I love it, no matter what.

Someone keeps telling me that fried food is simply not good for any one and that everything should be poached, broiled, steamed or baked.

Just about everything can be done by these methods, but not one thing: a very large and beautiful puff ball.

A kind friend gave it to us the other day, and so far we have had two dinners of it and I estimate we have four more to go. We mixed up an ordinary batter with some spices, dipped the slices in it and fried away.

Now I have found the absolute ultimate of what can be fried.

You won't believe me, but it is for real.

Ice cream! They do it in Mexico and Japan.

A pint of any flavor, but be sure it is superior ice cream, none of the substitute stuff, will make about five scoops, depending on the size of your scooper. Make them, and rush them right back to your freezer.

Mix a half cup of crushed cornflakes with a teaspoon of cinnamon and two of sugar. Divide this in half and roll the scoops in it and stash them again in the freezer.

After a while, beat an egg, roll the ice cream out again, roll it in the egg and roll in the remaining crumb mixture.

Back to the freezer. When you are ready to serve it, heat oil and dip each scoop of ice cream into it for one minute one at a time.

Serve with a little honey and whipped cream on top.

Granted, this is really not a good idea for guests, but will be a real treat for your kids who can line up next to the stove with their dessert plates ready.

Now this you can serve to guest. Use a bundt pan, and the cake will come out like a dream and nicely shaped.

Creem a cup of margarine. You can use butter if you are really affluent, but no one will really know the difference. Add three cups of sugar gradually. One by one beat in six eggs. Beat some more. This will take the largest mixing bowl you own.

Have three cups of flour measured out with a half of a teaspoon of salt and a fourth of a teaspoon of soda. Add this dry mixture alternately with a cup of sour cream, to which a half of a teaspoon of lemon extract is added, together with a teaspoon of orange extract, a fourth of a teaspoon of almond, a half teaspoon of rum and a teaspoon of vanilla. These are all extracts.

When this is all mixed nicely, throw in, but gently, a cup of brandy. It can be plain or any flavored variety.

If you do not have a bundt pan, it can be baked in an angel food one. The pans are to be greased. Bake at 375 for over an hour.

The cake can be frosted, but if served warmish with vanilla ice cream, it is great. Once the cake has cooled and is out of its pan, it can be stashed in the oven to warm it up before it is served.

HALLOWEEN SAFETY TIPS FROM UNICEF

1. Never Trick-or-Treat alone. Go with a friend or in a group. Remember: Trick-or-Treating's more fun when there's more than one!
2. When Trick-or-Treating in an unfamiliar neighborhood, have at least one adult accompany your group. Remember: Grown-ups are people too, take one Trick-or-Treating this Halloween. You'll be glad you did.
3. Avoid Trick-or-Treating after dark. Decorate your costume with reflective tape so motorists can see you at twilight. Don't make the hospital one of your stops on this Halloween. Trick-or-Treat till the sun goes down.
4. Never walk along dark roads or wear masks that block your view of oncoming cars. Even if you're not a "ghost," you might be "invisible" to drivers, so stick to the sidewalks for safety.
5. Practice walking around the house in your costume before Trick-or-Treating. Fix any dangling ends that may cause you to trip or lose your balance. Your outfit should be scary and safe.
6. Keep your UNICEF collection carton in your Trick-or-Treat bag or use a piece of string to hang it around your neck while walking. Always keep one hand free for better balance.
7. Be careful when Trick-or-Treating around pets, scary costumes can frighten them too. Avoid bites and scratches by steering clear of dogs and cats, even those you know.
8. Never eat any unwrapped candy or fruit before letting your parents examine it at home. When in doubt, throw it out.
9. If you see someone causing trouble or damaging other people's property, stop at the nearest house and ask them to notify the police. Make this Halloween more treats than tricks, don't have fun at other people's expense.
10. Eating too much candy at once can make you sick. It's important to brush your teeth and have regular dental check-ups. Take care of your teeth, your smile will love you for it!

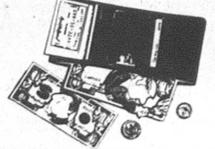

These Halloween Safety Tips have been provided as a public service by the U.S. Committee for UNICEF and your local UNICEF Committee. To find out more about UNICEF and how you can help the world's neediest children this Halloween, call 800-228-1666, or write U.S. Committee for UNICEF, 331 East 38th St., New York, N.Y. 10018
