

On Nov. 2

When there is no money issue on the ballot these days, it's unusual.

Voters here will face several of them on Nov. 3.

Huron countians will be asked to support a fresh tax levy to bail the commissioners out of red ink.

Richland countians will be asked to support an increase in the sales tax to bail the commissioners out of debt.

In principle, we feel and have always felt that a sales tax is a regressive tax. It punishes the poor disproportionately from the well-to-do, and we certainly, right now, at least, have more than our fair share of poor in Richland county.

One of the commissioners, and wouldn't you know it would be the only woman, has reservations about the tax. She doesn't want it to be permanent. Her colleagues, comprising a majority of the board, argue strongly that Richland county needs the money.

It is impossible to manage any work force, whether public or private, without some malingering. Reports of such conduct by employees of some departments of the county tend to increase, particularly as unemployment rolls increase. Only recently we saw a crew of about a dozen county highway employees standing around while two others were working. In the brief moment while we waited for one-lane traffic to pass, we couldn't for the life of us see that there was no work for the others to do or be doing.

The point is that better management of existing resources invariably means they'll go farther.

If the commissioners had proposed an additional tax on real estate, we could support that request. A real estate tax is fairer because everybody, whether owner or renter, pays it. If the property taxes go up, the owner raises the rent. It's as simple as that. Nobody is in the business of renting property for his health. From rental income must come the cost of real estate taxes, insurance, upkeep and a return on one's investment.

We think the commissioners ought to go back to school on this question and come up with a solution that won't punish the poor and low income family. Vote No on the Richland county tax proposal.

We are satisfied that the Huron county commissioners have some red ink to face, unless they and their neighbors want to cut services to the absolute bone, perhaps lay off a considerable number of employees.

That they seek to overcome that red ink by spreading the burden equally on every resident of the county, in proportion to his ability to pay (i.e., in proportion to the assessed value of his real estate or that which he occupies), speaks well for them. On the other hand, they can't do what Richland county commissioners seek to do, which is to apply a piggyback sales tax, because they've already done it. They've pledged to eschew application of an additional piggyback tax, which is in the works in Columbus, without the approval of the voters at the ballot booth.

The additional tax on Huron countians isn't much. It merits support. Vote Yes on the Huron county proposal.

The voter can express on Nov. 3 his approval or disapproval of the stewardship of the village council in the management of all funds, not just those raised by the four levies. Anyone with an ounce of sense can see that without the income tax, the village would have foundered long ago. The manipulations of its proceeds haven't pleased us much at all. What every voter should do is ask himself whether the stewardship shown or not shown by the village council merits giving it the money to be raised by the levies.

Mansfielder arrested in bank heist

A 31-year-old Mansfield man was arrested Thursday on a federal warrant charging him with robbing the Shiloh branch of First Buckeye Bank, N.A., about a year ago.

Wendell Odell Gibbs, 582 Springfield street, a suspect since the robbery was committed, is a self-employed car mechanic. He is accused of robbing the branch bank of $38,004 on Oct. 17, 1980. Police have been seeking at least two persons, the robber and another thought to have driven the getaway car, since then.

No trace has been found of the second man.

The car, one that a Mansfield woman said was stolen on the morning of the robbery, was found abandoned after it struck a pile of rocks in a field in Bowman Street road about 2.5 miles north of Route 96. Large splashes of blood were found near the car.

Gibbs is held under $75,000 cash bond set Thursday afternoon by U.S. Magistrate Charles Laurie in Akron.

Police suspected Gibbs on Nov. 14, 1980, after he allegedly discussed the robbery in detail with a informant in the county jail at Somerset, Pa.

An FBI agent interviewed the informant on Nov. 19. What he found was turned over to the Richland county attorney, and Linda A. Faith, a detective in the sheriff's department, obtained a search warrant for the house in which Gibbs resided.

No weapon or cash was found.

Youth, 19, killed in collision in Route 61

A 19-year-old Ontario youth was killed instantly Thursday morning in a head-on collision in Route 61 at the south edge of Plymouth.

Daniel Bowes, who lived in Route 314, was dead at the scene of injuries received when his car swerved left of center in the northbound lane and struck a vehicle operated by Claude Young, 49, Green Springs, who was removed to Shely Memorial hospital and thence to Fremont Memorial hospital.

The collision occurred at 7:15 a.m.

Bowes was a 1961 alumus of Lexington High school who attended Pioneer Joint Vocational school. He was employed as a roofing contractor in Shelby. He attended Steam Corners United Methodist church.

He is survived by his parents, the Turney Bowers; a brother, Timothy; Mansfield; a sister, Karla, at home; his grandmothers, Mrs. Evelyn Pore and Mrs. Ada Bowes, Kittanning, Pa., and his great-grandmother, Mrs. Altaan, Kittanning, Pa.

Services were conducted Saturday at 2 p.m. at Lexington by the Rev. Joseph Roush. Burial was in Shely cemetery.

EST returns Sunday

Ohio returns to Eastern Standard time Sunday at 2 a.m.

All timepieces should be turned back one hour at that time.

Holders of liquor permits will be required to observe the EST rules.

Township seeks rise of .3 mill in fire levy

Plymouth township voters will be asked Nov. 3 to approve a renewal of a fire levy of 1.2 mills plus an increase of three-tenths of a mill, making a total of 1.5 mills for fire protection.

It will run for five years beginning with the 1981 tax year.

The township contracts with the village to provide the service.

The contract in effect now is for a period of three years and eight months.

The eight-month period ends Dec. 31, because the contract was not signed until May 1 of this year.

The rate was .85 cent per $4,925 for fire calls up to 20 and those over that figure.

During 1982, the township will pay $7,500 for 20 calls, in 1983 the rate is $8,000 and in 1984 it will be $8,500.

The runs over 20 each year will be billed at $200.

Fire Chief Wayne E. Strine says it is unlikely that the township will exceed its 20 calls a year and so far this year has not.

Her husband survives.

The Rev. Jerry L. Townsend, assistant rector, Grace Episcopal church, conducted services Monday at 1 p.m. at Memorial, where burial was in Memorial park.

Wolfe in race for judge at Ashland

Village Solicitor Richard P. Wolfe, 2nd, is a candidate for judge of Ashland Municipal court.

Wolfe also serves Ashland as its city attorney.

He has the endorsement of State Sen. Thomas A. Van Meter, president pro tempore of the Ohio Senate.

Term of office is six years. Wolfe seeks to defeat the incumbent.

A barn on the Thomas Miller property in Baseline was completely destroyed by fire Sunday morning.

Plymouth firemen answered the call even though it was in Shiloh's district. By the time they reached the scene, there was no hope of saving the structure.

A second law firm will open offices in Plymouth.

McKown, Schaefer & McKown, L.P.A., with principal offices at Shely, will open a branch to serve clients in the northern part of Huron county and the southern part of Huron in the remodeled premises at 8 West Broadway, in the westerly portion of First Buckeye Bank, N.A.

The hours will be from 5 until 6 p.m.

Persons who plan to pass out treats are asked to turn on an outside light. Parents whose children will be making the rounds are asked to explain that if there is no light on, they should go on to the next house.

Trick-or-Treat night has been set by the village council for Oct. 28.

His name will be on ballot—Howard withdraws from council race

Dr. Johnson pays $17,300 for house

High bid of $17,300 by Dr. Roy L. Johnson, Jr., Shelby physician, bought the Dr. E. G. Guthrie residence at 66 Bell Street Saturday.

It is understood Dr. Johnson bought the place for investment purposes.

Councilman Ervin Howard threw a surprise into the Nov. 3 general election picture last week.

He told the Richland county board of elections he wishes to withdraw his name as a candidate for reelection. He gave no reason.

The board told him his name must appear on the ballot.

His wife said he did so for "personal reasons", but she wouldn't elaborate on them.

His younger brother, David A., also resigned as a councilman for "personal reasons" that he steadfastly refused to specify.

Those who claim to know him say that Howard may now resign as councilman. If he does so, whether before or after the election, the votes cast for his candidacy on Nov. 3 would be valid for his reelection if he should decide to accept the election. He is unopposed.

If he decides now to accept the nomination, the new council will have 30 days in which to select a citizen-elector to fill the seat, failing which, Mayor Dean A. Cline will appoint a successor.

Village funds showed strong balances Sept. 30

Strong balances were shown in all village funds on Sept. 30, according to the report of the clerk-treasurer given to the village council last week.

Practically all the lines are installed, but there has not been a date set for the actual connection.

Cemetery trustees hold off on fee rise

Greenlawn cemetery board trustees apparently plan to wait until after the Nov. 3 election before raising any cemetery fees.

There will be a half mill renewal levy on the ballot. They hope it will be approved. If not, this will make a difference in what fees will be raised and by how much.

The decision will be made at the board's December meeting, with the new rates effective Jan. 1, 1982. Meanwhile, board members are checking the fees charged by other local cemeteries.

The board will have its regular monthly meeting Monday night. It is expected that the resignation of Burton A. Forquer, long-time cemetery sexton, will be accepted.

Criticism of chief 'unwarranted', council told

Village council dealt Oct. 13 with a number of lesser matters, including inquiries made by Councilmen Bill Taubee and Ervin Howard and a response to some of them by the village administrator, James C. Root.

Taubee also asked about building electricity on a budget plan which several have requested who have all electric homes.

Root said he believed that John Sawvel, electric contractor, would include it in his bid.

Taubee suggested that Sawvel be asked to attend the next council meeting.

A lengthy executive session requested by Howard was called.

and that the criticism was unwarranted.

Another criticism he brought up was that council members had been forwarded to him that the police cruiser was seen outside the village.

Councilman G. Thomas Moore said the council had driving of the cruiser out of town, mainly to New Haven, on the third shift when no eating place was open in the village.

Holloway told the council that his committee is studying the roof repairs and doing some insulation to the village hall which will cut down the heating bills. He estimates that it will cost about $4,000.

Mayor Dean A. Cline said he planned to work closely with the Chamber of Commerce to perk up the business area of the village and was considering appointing a councilmanic committee to work with the chamber.

Leaf collection set

Village employees will collect leaves that are bagged and at kerbside for the next three weeks.

Huron county will be collected Wednesday and Richland county on Thursdays.

Mayor Dean A. Cline says that leaves are not to be burned and that the state "open burning" ordinance will be enforced.

Gasparac enters guilty plea

A former Shiloh man pleaded guilty in Huron county common pleas court to aggravated assault and breaking and entering.

Charles Gasparac, 25, originally charged with attempted murder and aggravated battery on April 8, 1981, engaged in plea bargaining.

He was accused of beating Paul Rizner, 29, 11 1/2 miles away. While Rizner was in bed in his house.

Most likely there is navy a soul alive who would willingly admit that advertising really gets to him.

Advertising is anything but subtle. It definitely hits like a brick wall or none of us would be wearing what we do not driving what we do or even eating what we eat.

A beautiful colored page in a magazine that came in the mail the other day has really gotten to me. It has given me much food for thought and I now realize that life is not complete and we are not really living.

The ad was for the most beautiful sheets, little green clover leaves on white. We probably can afford the cost of the sheets.

Harry Garbeth,
ex-villager's kin,
succumbs at 73

Father of Mrs. Monroe Van Wagner, formerly of Plymouth, now of Denver, Colo., Harry Garbeth, 73, Willard, was dead on arrival at Area hospital there Saturday morning.

He was ill only briefly.

Born in Shelby Aug. 15, 1908, he lived in Willard 45 years. He was an electrician for the Baltimore & Ohio railroad for 17 years and thereafter cemetery superintendent in Willard for 16 years until he retired in 1975.

He was a member of First United Methodist church, of Goldie Rule Lodge 562, F&AM, and a veteran of the U.S. Marine Corps.

His wife, nee Ruth Bundschu; two daughters, Frances, now Mrs. Robert Dotson, Greenwich, and Mrs. Sharon Van Naufer, Willard; a son, Raymond, McKeepsport, Pa.; a sister, Mrs. Mary Cox, Loudonville, 15 grandchildren and 11 great-grandchildren also survive.

His minister, the Rev. Bruce Baetke, conducted services at Willard Tuesday at 1 p.m. Burial was in Greenlawn cemetery, Greenwich.

BUT GOOD ARCH SUPPORT IS EVEN BETTER."

My philosophy on the cosmos can help boost a runner's morale, but my knowledge of arch supports won't make you jog any easier. For that variety of wisdom, run to the Consumer Information Catalog.

It's published by the Federal Government and lists over 200 booklets you can send away for. Over half are free. And all are wise. With tips on jogging and weight control, appliance warranties, stretching your food budget, even what to do when your car engine overheats.

So send for this free catalog which you will find very helpful. Write: Consumer Information Center, Dept. B, Pueblo, Colorado 81009. After all, wearing the wrong shoes for jogging can be just as silly as climbing the Himalayas in high heels.

Another increase in interest rates for U.S. Savings Bonds.

That's the good news about U.S. Savings Bonds.

The Series EE Bonds you buy today grow bigger, with an increased interest rate of 9%. And they do it faster, with a shortened maturity period of only 8 years. Interim rates have been improved, too. Bonds earn 6% after 1 year and 8 1/4% if held 5 years.

These changes make Bonds much more desirable. And with the Payroll Savings Plan, it's easier to save more, in a shorter time.

In fact, almost all outstanding Savings Bonds will benefit from a 1% increase to their next maturity.

So take another look at Bonds. They're still easy to buy through the Payroll Savings Plan; they're safe, guaranteed. Take a look at the tax benefits. The new interest rates. The shortened maturity. And you'll see Bonds do make sense.

For you, and for your country.

Take stock in America.
