

What's next in health care?

Everybody knows that health costs are out of sight.

Our own experience was excruciatingly expensive.

What can be done about it?

Thirty thousand residents of Polk county, Iowa, the most populous in the Hawkeye state, were sufficiently interested in controlling health costs that they sent their ballots back. Every adult in the county was polled. The organizers figured on 5,000 to 10,000 returns. They were shocked when the number passed 30,000. But it shows how deeply people care and what they want done about it.

Of the 30,000 who responded, 82 per cent said steps should be taken immediately to gain control of rising health costs.

Seventy-four per cent said hospitals ought to coordinate planning to avoid duplication of expensive services.

Seventy-five per cent said home care should be provided for older persons with long-term illnesses, rather than care in hospitals or nursing homes.

Seventy per cent said there should be established health maintenance organizations (HMOs) of similar cost-conscious basic health care facilities.

Sixty-five per cent said hospitals should be compelled to agree to provide medical services for predetermined fees, so they would be forced to operate within fixed budgets.

Sixty-one per cent of the respondents emphatically disapprove of a scheme that would, in effect, ration health care. They said access to "very expensive technology" should not be limited for persons who are very old or who have almost no chance for recovery.

Should patients be required to pay higher deductibles on their health insurance policies? Forty-three per cent rejected that idea, 33 per cent favored it and 20 per cent said it should only be done if the problem gets worse.

Exactly half of those who responded said smokers and others who don't take care of themselves should be required to pay higher insurance premiums, but 35 per cent disagreed.

Exactly half of the respondents said Medicare should not be limited to those who need financial help.

Fifty-five per cent voted to require those of low income whose medical care is paid for by the government to use clinics, HMOs and other facilities to keep costs down.

And how, say the 82 per cent who voted for getting medical costs under control, should this be undertaken?

By encouraging persons to have tests and minor surgery done in clinics and doctors' offices rather than in hospitals.

Blue Cross, which is the major health insurer in Iowa as well as other states, proposes a new system by which it would guarantee hospitals "prospective reimbursement" for Blue Cross subscribers' care. This means the hospitals would know in advance how much Blue Cross will pay them and would agree, in turn, to care for all Blue Cross patients without exceeding that amount.

It may be too soon, absent a more careful study of the effects of such a plan in Ohio, to say that it ought to be adopted. But make no mistake about it, the infamous TEFRA (Tax Equity and Fiscal Responsibility Act) laid down by the Congress and the Department of HHS will force it, in time.

Three SJHS pupils make 4.0 grades; 21 on honor roll

Three Shiloh Junior High school pupils made 4.0 grade-point averages for the third six-week period, their principal, Edward M. Kinzel, announces.

Twenty-one were named to the honor roll and 47 to the merit roll. Perfect grades were recorded by Steven Hall and Randy Smith, eighth graders, and Terry Hall, seventh grader.

Honor roll grades went to Craig Baldrige, Winifred Johnson, Jason Robertson, Beth Roethlisberger, Jack Thompson, Becky Carey, Jill Fultz, Janelle Miller, Lana Leaser, Tina Row, Christian Thompson, Beth Fenner, Karen Thornberry, Barbara York and Christine Wilson, eighth graders. Also, LaVonne Brannham, Jodi Putnam, Sherri Wagers, Kathy Welker, Donelle Brannham and Laura Stroup, seventh graders.

'77 alumnus opens business at Monroeville

A 1977 alumnus of Plymouth High school has opened a pharmacy in Monroeville, where there has been none for over a decade.

Charles D. Mack, youngest child of the R. Harold Macks, who is in the grocery business with his father and older brother, John, is the proprietor of the pharmacy, which occupies space in Morrow's market, owned and operated by Donald J. Morrow.

Charles E. Pritchard, Plymouth, who owns and operates a pharmacy in Mack's Super Valu market here, and Joe Tomasic, also registered pharmacists serving the Monroeville pharmacy.

Last pharmacist in Monroeville was a late Edwin Smith, who closed his Rexall store at Main and Monroe streets and went into a sales representation of pharmaceuticals before his untimely death.

Memorial contributions may be made to his church.

Bentley services here

To pass emergency legislation - Council's hands tied: no quorum, one ill, one on vacation

Hands of Mayor Dean A. Cline and four councilmen were completely tied Tuesday night.

Councilman John E. Heeden is vacationing and Councilman G. Thomas Moore was ill.

Approval of pending ordinances, planned as emergency acts, were held up, although passage was accorded their first readings.

Two special meetings are planned this week to complete the work in the hope that Moore will be well enough to attend.

The council found it necessary to correct the electric rate ordinance passed this month to state that the new rate is in effect as of Jan. 15.

Another ordinance which authorizes the mayor to make a land trade of eight and a half acres of low-lying swamp land for 0468 acres of the roadway which now belongs to the Donneworth family and is essential to any industry locating near the water plant also received its first approval.

An ordinance that states the village income tax money will be divided half for capital improvements and half for the general fund after administrative costs are deducted, which are about 16 per cent of the collections, was approved.

James C. Root, village administrator, asked if a council member would accompany him to the meeting Wednesday of the Richland County Growth Commission.

Councilman Keith Hebble but no one volunteered to attend tonight's meeting in Ontario, during which Ohio Power's rate increase is to be discussed by other municipalities.

Councilman Terry Hopkins said adjustments are necessary in the recently adopted pay ordinance for ambulance personnel. Hebble said it would be necessary to make changes in the appropriation ordinance to take care of the costs of setting up the zoning commission. He also told the council what the proposed fees will be.

The village by resolution will apply for a "litter" grant, which Root says will cover around $2,400. Application is due by tomorrow.

This will help with the village's annual collection of rubbish.

Merger of banks discussed

A merger of Toledo Trust Corp. Inc. and Banc One Corp. may result from discussions now under way.

George W. Haigh, president and chief executive officer of Toledo Trust Corp. and John F. Hines, chairman of Banc One Corp., announced the two bank holding companies are engaged in discussions concerning an affiliation of Toledo Trust Corp. with Banc One but they stress that an agreement in principle has not been reached and specific terms have not been determined.

Toledo Trust Corp. has assets of $1.7 billion and operates five banks with 94 offices in Northwest, Ohio. Banc One Corp., including its pending affiliates, has assets of $7 billion with 310 banking offices throughout Ohio.

Two arrested at Willard

Kimberly J. Adams, 105 Park avenue, was charged by the Willard police of criminal trespassing after a disturbance at a Maplewood street home there.

Bruce Carpenter, Shiloh, has also been charged by the Willard police for disorderly conduct after being involved in a fight near the Hideaway Bar in Spring street.

Kin of villagers now movie star

Home Box Office is making a feature film in Jaipur, India, "The Far Pavilions", based on M. M. Kaye's novel of a forbidden love between a dashing young English officer and an Indian princess.

Ben Cross, Amy Irving, John Gielgud and Omar Sharif will star in the production, said to be the most ambitious production so far for pay television.

And so will a five-year-old girl whose grandparents live in Plymouth and whose father and mother are alumni of Plymouth High school.

Kristi Lesko has been chosen to play the lead, "Ajuuli", as a juvenile. She lives with her parents in New Delhi, where he is assigned to the American Embassy. The movie company flies her with her mother to Jaipur, perhaps 110 miles off.

Her father, who played football for the Big Red, was graduated in 1970. Her mother, nee Claudia Hamons, was graduated in 1972. She has a paternal grandmother, Mrs. George L. Lesko, Sr., and her maternal grandparents, the William Hamones, all living here.

One thing really disturbed me. When it was over and our verdict read, there was a commotion outside the courtroom that really frightened everyone. They were scared of recriminations and bodily harm. It was recognized and we were given a police escort to our cars.

What worries me is whether a jury actually let someone off scot free because of such fears? (Ed. note: It didn't in Chicago!)

If that starts to happen, this country has had it.

It does take a little courage to stand up and stick to what you think is right.

'Tiring, not boring' is Auntie's verdict of jury duty

By AUNT LIZ
There is nothing like having a bunch of "experiences" hang up on you.

Frankly, I think I am too old for such things that tee me out of my every day life.

But I got it, but good. It is called jury duty.

Like just about everyone else, I craftily tried to evade it because of the time involved.

It went over like a lead balloon.

On the form to complete before the holidays I put down newspaper reporter for occupation. I couldn't dream up anything shadier.

It completely ignored, so when it came time for us to say maybe we should not serve because of this or that, I said that I had had some experiences in conducting a court which was every two weeks for eight years.

It was the defense attorney who pricked that balloon. He just looked at me and said, "You will bring a good background to the jury," so I was stuck.

It was a surprising experience. The 11 I served with were a good cross section of people, and each had something worthwhile to contribute. It truly heartened me to know that we have such people. They listened as hard as I did to two days of a trial, and came forth with some really good thinking. It took us over two hours to agree, and each of us spoke and the rest listened carefully.

One thing really disturbed me. When it was over and our verdict read, there was a commotion outside the courtroom that really frightened everyone. They were scared of recriminations and bodily harm. It was recognized and we were given a police escort to our cars.

Before you start the day, save some energy.

Saving energy is easy. Even in the morning. All you need to know is what it takes and follow through.

Here's a list of little things you can do that won't cost a cent.

So start putting them into practice. You'll be surprised how much energy you'll save.

Surprised, too, that your lifestyle won't change.

Morning Energy Savers
Starting tomorrow, take short showers.

When shaving, don't run hot water continuously. Fill the sink halfway instead.

If you use an electric razor you actually save energy, using less of it in a week than a hand razor and hot water uses in a week.

Whenever possible, use a toaster, toaster-oven or a fry pan in place of the large oven or range surface units.

Never use the oven as a heater. Place a pan on the surface unit before turning the heat on. Heating air is wasteful.

Match pans to the size of the heating surfaces on your range.

If boiling eggs, use a minimum of water. It shortens cooking time.

Save breakfast dishes until evening or a time when all dishes can be washed together.

If frying bacon and eggs, surface units can be turned off a short time before food is done.

Let the retained heat finish the cooking.

In winter, open the draperies so sunlight will warm your home. Turn the thermostat down.

Turn off all unneeded lights, radio, TV, etc. when leaving the house or no one is using them.

One final tip.

After 24 defeats — Red downs Centerburg with strong second half

Plymouth brought an end to a 24-game losing streak here Jan. 18 with a 70 to 60 victory over winless Centerburg which has now lost 14 in a row.

It was not easy during the first half, during which Plymouth saw the lead change hands eight times before it went to the dressing room with a two point advantage at 33 to 31. Rodney Hampton, the game's high scorer with 27 points, managed 14 of them in the first half, eight in the first period.

The Big Red went to work at the start of the second half. It scored four unanswered points, watched as Centerburg watched that performance, then strung together six unanswered markers to establish a 42 to 35 lead. The visitors cut it with two free throws but Plymouth got the ball together and went to the intermission with a six point lead at 50 to 44.

There was still time and apparently opportunity for Centerburg to win. The Trojans certainly have the equipment. But Plymouth got some scoring from Mike McKenzie, whose cannon has been shackled for a few games. The doughy, 11th grader threw in four buckets during the 20-point final period. Hampton had six and Brian Vredenburg, whose shooting returned for this one, four during the same eight minutes.

Plymouth shot well enough on its own floor and that was the reason why it won. The Big Red got off 57 shots at the basket and converted 28 of them, just under 50 per cent. It missed 11 of 25 free throws, which is not so good and which requires improvement. If Plymouth is to rise in Firelands conference standings.

The Big Red took down 32 rebounds, 10 fewer than Centerburg, and committed 18 turnovers, seven more than the Trojans, who unloaded 65 times, making 23. They missed seven of 21 free throws.

Vredenburg had 14, McKenzie wound up with 13 and Tom Baker 10. Craig Thornberry fouled out with 6:48 left in the game without a point. Greg Polachek and Vredenburg played most of the fourth period with four fouls apiece.

Jeff Allen scored 18, John Compton 11 and Bryon Webb 10 for the visitors.

Mounties ride herd on Red girls, 45-35

Mapleton outshot Plymouth in Firelands conference girls' basketball play here Thursday night and walked away with a 45 to 35 victory.

Plymouth hung close for the first half but was in disarray in the third period, when the Mounties scored 12 and held Plymouth to three.

Kathy Freelon scored 16 for the Mounties, Lisa Daron 14 for the Big Red.

Plymouth was awarded 36 free throws, Mapleton 19. Plymouth missed 19, Mapleton eight. Mapleton outbounded Plymouth, 41 to 27.

In the reserve game, there were 51 fouls whistled by the officials, who encountered several disputes from the Mountie bench in the varsity game that necessitated two technical fouls.

It was the lengthiest night in the history of Plymouth girls' basketball.

Riders stomp Plymouth in loop play, 73-56

After three minutes 21 seconds of play at Collins Friday night, Western Reserve was out in front by 10 points and Plymouth hadn't a point on the board.

When it was all over, the Roughriders had outplayed, outpassed, outshot, outbounded and outscored the Big Red, 73 to 56.

It was no contest.

The Riders took it to Plymouth from the start. The wonder is they did not use their big man, Todd Robinson, more often and more effectively. He scored only 13 points, took only 12 shots, making six, and was credited with seven assists.

The Roughriders shot extremely well. They got off 33 shots at the basket and converted 33 of them. Fully 60 per cent of the shots were from a range of eight feet or less.

Plymouth was compelled to play catch-up basketball. Once it got to within six points, early in the second period, but Western Reserve put on a splendid shooting display as pulled away easily. At the half the Roughriders led by 14 at 36 to 22.

Western Reserve only outscored Plymouth by eight in this period, which balanced scoring from six players, and the game might as well have been called after that. For Plymouth never did get into the game again. The Riders allowed the Big Red to score seven unanswered points midway through the fourth quarter but it was too little and too late.

Plymouth did not shoot well in the first half, when it got off 28 shots and made just 10. Neither did it rebound well. It couldn't, with Robinson on the floor, but he was not the only one. Overall, the Riders had 41 rebounds, Plymouth just 29.

And Plymouth made only 23 of 55 tries for field goal, which would not be a bad record for another night, on another floor and against another opponent. Had the Riders not made so many turnovers they would probably have pushed their total into the nineties. As it was, with 15 mistakes in moving the ball, Western Reserve lost that many opportunities to score when Plymouth was desperate to reverse the trend.

Plymouth was charged with only 10 mistakes.

Jeff Bohn scored 17 for the winners. Kevin Mahl had 14. For Plymouth, Rodney Hampton had 17 and Greg Polachek 14. Without Polachek's great efforts, especially in the first half, Plymouth would have been completely out of it. He scored 10 in the first 16 minutes and got into foul trouble in the fourth, but it hardly made any difference by this time.

'79 grad wins football awards at Wilmington

Jim Wallace, a starting outside linebacker for the Quakers, received his fourth varsity letter award and was also honored as being named to the first team All Hoosier-Buckeye Central Collegiate conference squad and for receiving honorable mention to the NAIA District 22 all star team.

Wilmington finished at 8-1, shared the Hoosier-Buckeye Collegiate conference crown, and for the second time in three years participated in the NAIA, Division II, national playoffs. The Quakers now have chalked up 12 straight winning seasons, the last 11 under Coach Bill Ramseyer, who coached here 1960-62.

Wallace is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Wallace. In addition to playing football at Wilmington, he is a member of the baseball team, serves as a dormitory resident assistant, and belongs to the market management club. He is majoring in marketing and business administration.

'79 alumnus, tennis star, in new post

A 1977 alumnus of Plymouth High school working as a communications systems representative for Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Co., has been given technical support responsibility for one of Southern Bell's largest accounts, Georgia Power Co. After receiving a marketing degree from the University of Akron in 1981, Robert M. Davis, younger son of the James C. Davises, joined Southern Bell. He now designs data networks for remote computer locations in the Atlanta area.

In addition to academic success when he was a pupil here, young Davis excelled in tennis - he played No. 1 for the Big Red team - and played basketball.

Miller hurt

Jesse Miller was taken from Plymouth high school Saturday noon by the Plymouth ambulance squad to Mansfield General hospital.

He was injured while wrestling.

Sixth graders divide pair

Sixth grade Vikings won one and lost one last week. St. Peter's was the winner in overtime, 25 to 19, perhaps because the Vikings' leading scorer, Billy Weisa, was bereaved and therefore did not play and Stacy Hall was sick with influenza.

Vikes defeated Clear Fork, 28 to 12, Monday night. They led by 13 to 2 at the end of the first period.

Vikes are now 13-and-3 for the year.

Matmen nip Crestview; Pirates win

Plymouth won one and lost one in a triangular wrestling meet here Saturday in action marred by injury to Jesse Miller, 132-pounder, who dislocated and fractured an arm.

The Big Red took the measure of Crestview, 38 to 41, despite Miller's default, but fell before Black River, 45 to 18.

Terry Parrigan, who's now 12-and-2, and Scott Ryman recorded the only pins for Plymouth, the former against Crestview, the latter against the Pirates.

Summaries:

Plymouth 38, Crestview 31

185-lb: Spies (B) pinned McVey (P), 3:23.

Hwt: Worcester (B) pinned Adams (P), :56.

Those who follow Big Red basketball know that No. 42 is Chad McGinnis, an inch shorter than six feet, struggling now with an injury to his left hand because a knife slipped while he sought to separate a frozen hamburger patty.

... and No. 44 is Darrin Branham, just six feet, also an 11th grader, a mainstay of the reserve team that has lost only four games so far. This photograph and that adjoining were transposed last week.

Pamela Garrett, B. R. Wirick wed

Mr. and Mrs. Brett R. Wirick (nee Pamela A. Garrett)

Miss Pamela A. Garrett was married in First Evangelical Lutheran church here Jan. 15 at 5:30 p. m. to Brett R. Wirick, son of the Duane Wicks, Lexington.

The Rev. Ronald Atkins, the pastor, performed the double ring ceremony in a setting of pink carnations on the altar. Bows of pink and burgundy marked the family pews.

Only daughter of the Bernard A. Garretta, the bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a poly-knit gown of ivory styled with Queen Anne neckline encircled with pearls, trimmed Venice lace and long sleeves trimmed with lace. A floor length skirt with chapel-length train was cut with pleated panel down the center front. Venetian lace girl the waist.

Her hairpiece was a point de esprit, brimmed, hat trimmed with lace, sprinkled with pearls and adorned with a self-fabric rose at the center back. She wore pearl earrings, a gift of the bridegroom's mother, and a pearl necklace loaned by her aunt, Mrs. Laverne Moore.

Her flowers, pink carnations and burgundy silk roses with baby's breath, were tied with a bow of ivory lace. They were arranged on a Bible carried by her mother when she was married.

The bride's cousin, Jennifer Caudill, Plymouth, maid of honor, wore a floor length gown of burgundy polyester, styled with butterfly sleeves and scoop neckline. She carried pink carnations and pink roses with baby's breath, tied with burgundy ribbon.

Bar-Jones, Mansfield, was best man.

Mrs. Garrett watched from the front pew in a floor length gown of suede rose polyester, styled with Empire waist and matching jacket. She wore pink carnations and silk burgundy roses with baby's breath.

Mrs. Wirick chose a floor-length gown of burgundy in crushed velvet with A-line skirt and matching blazer jacket. Her flowers were as those of Mrs. Garrett.

A reception took place in Ehrst-Parsel Post 447, American Legion, where pink and burgundy streamers, pink and white bells and pink and white bows decorated the tables. A three-tiered wedding cake prepared by the bride's aunt, Mrs. Robert Marnes, Belle via, was served by Pamela Howard and Barbara A. Klemm, assisted by Jamie Woodward, Ann Hopkins and Linda Akers. Vicki Handshoe registered guests.

a 1960 alumna of Plymouth High school, the bride attended Bowling Green State university. She is employed by Shelby Mutual Insurance Co. The bridegroom was graduated by Lexington High school in 1976. He is employed by AMF, Inc., Shelby.

The couple is living in Lexington.

Daniel Hawk takes bride at Columbus

Janet Evans and Daniel Hawk were married Jan. 15 in Grove City.

The new Mrs. Hawk is the daughter of Mrs. Betty Evans and the late Mr. Evans, who served as police chief of Grove City for many years. She is a graduate of Grove City High school and is studying for her doctorate in psychology in Ohio State university, Columbus.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Hawk, he is a graduate of the New Philadelphia High school and of Kent State university. He is a private duty registered nurse in Columbus.

'62 alumnus heads firm

A 1962 alumnus of Plymouth High school, Richard A. Lewis has been appointed president and chief operating officer of Western American Financial Corp., says Floyd W. Sedlmayr, Jr., Western American's chairman of the board.

Lewis, who joined Western American in 1973, formerly served as senior vice-president and treasurer. Prior to that, he was a CPA with Arthur Anderson and Co.

Western American is Arizona's oldest and largest mortgage banker. Its servicing portfolio is over $750 million. Founded as Western American Mortgage Co. in 1947, it was renamed Western American Financial Corp. this year.

Lewis is active in the Arizona Mortgage Bankers association, holding the position of first vice-president, and serving as a member of the board of directors. He previously chaired the AMBA's education committee, the ethics committee and the legislative committee.

He is a graduate of the School of Mortgage Banking, Northwestern university, Evanston, Ill., and received his master's degree in business administration from Kent State university.

A veteran of Air Force service, Lewis is the son of Mrs. Robert A. Lewis and the late Mr. Lewis. He is married and the father of two children.

A daughter, Jennifer Renee, their second child, weighing 7 lb., 12 ozs., was born Jan. 19 to Mr. and Mrs. Randy Kennard in Fisher-Titus Memorial hospital, Newwalk. Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Parnell Kennard, Shiloh.

All about town . . .

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel M. Henry spent Sunday in Columbus with their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Gary Hammond, to celebrate the third birthday anniversary of their granddaughter, Carly.

The James Leonharts, Miller and the Dan Carters were Sunday dinner guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Lewis.

Dr. and Mrs. W. Martin Miller and their children, Saturday night with her parents, the Wallace H. Redden. Sunday they were dinner guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William R. Miller.

Scouts give 14 musicians in 'Who's Who'

Plymouth Boy Scouts and Cub Scouts have donated to the Jaws of Life fund of the Plymouth Fire and Ambulance departments.

Fourteen Plymouth High school musicians have been chosen for mention in the 1983 edition of Who's Who in Music, pupils nominated for academic achievement, community service, leadership in extracurricular activities and potential.

These include 10 girls and four boys, who are Lynn Snider, alto saxophone and piano; Melanie Wolf, French horn, flute and percussion; Phyllis Pritchard, trumpet; Glenda Will, trumpet; Fayette Hudson, flute and percussion.

Also, Michelle Hamons, flute; Lisa King, clarinet; Julie Ross, percussion and flute; Kim Wilson, clarinet; and Robin Harness, clarinet.

Also, Rodney Hampton, percussion; Loren Kranz, trumpet; Frank Garber, baritone horn, and Frank Lawrence, trumpet.

Their director is Jeffrey Riser.

15% of riders in ambulance 'deadbeats'

Plymouth ambulance made 58 runs during the last six months of 1982.

Response to Plymouth village, 36; Plymouth township, 10; New Haven township, 2; Auburn township, 2; Ripley township, 1; Tiro village, 4; Vernon township, 2, and Cass township, 1.

Since the service began about 10 years ago, a total of 864 runs has been made.

Expenses for the six month period were $4,697.37 plus $26,172.54 for a new vehicle, which was financed partly from the ambulance reserve fund and partly from the federal revenue sharing funds.

Payments received during the period were $3,904 for services, and $3,875 from contracts with the townships, bringing the total to $7,779.

Of the runs made since its inception, 141, or almost 15 per cent, remain unpaid and uncollectible.

TLC* MONTH FOR PEOPLE'S DIAMONDS
*Your diamonds deserve Tender Loving Care.

Rings can wear thin—and you know what can happen then
Maybe your diamonds would look better in a new mounting
Diamonds are lost when prongs are loose
All diamonds deserve to be cleaned—at least once a year!

FREE DURING JANUARY
CLEANING OF YOUR DIAMOND JEWELRY
Making it sparkling again. Just take your diamond jewelry and bring it in.
SAFETY INSPECTION OF YOUR DIAMONDS. Looking for weak prongs, for worn ring shanks, for defective catches etc. This may prevent the loss of a valuable piece.
ADVICE ON OLD-FASHIONED DIAMOND STYLES. We will tell you how you can remodel old jewelry. How much it will cost. (Surprisingly little) How it will look. How long it will take us to do it.
