

Whose duty?

What does the ordinary citizen owe to the sponsors of a civic event? Particularly a civic event that is conducted principally for the purpose of raising money?

Obviously, he owes nothing. Legally, that is. If his child participates in interscholastic athletics, which couldn't be conducted without enormous assistance by the Boosters club, he owes nothing to the Boosters club. Not legally. If his sister needs blood and obtains it from the American Red Cross, he owes it nothing. Not legally. If his child plays summer baseball, he owes the league nothing. Not legally.

Any sensible person knows there is no such thing as a free lunch.

There are those among us who've dined off the free lunch, literally and figurately speaking, for almost a lifetime. There are some who marvel at how they do it, and most especially that they do it with no feeling of guilt.

Still, there are those who're understandably bitter about how they've been treated and who do not patronize such events.

One says, "The last time I went there, they took my money but nobody in the whole darned organization so much as spoke to me."

Another says, "If you think I'm going to give those soundsoos the satisfaction of dumping on me again by taking my money and my participation without so much as a handshake or a kind word, you're crazy!"

Still a third complains, "When I ask for their help and support, they're always too busy!"

What is the moral duty of the average citizen?

It is to support the home effort, the home talent, the home enterprise, at whatever cost. To fail to do so is to watch the community wither and die.

How to support that effort?

He who is steersman for the controversial Richland county piggyback tax effort inquired the other day if we would support the proposal. When we told him we wouldn't, not now, anyway, he said, "It figures. Most towns that are dying on the vine are against it."

We think his facts are wrong, but what of it? What counts is the attitude.

There are some activities that simply do not titillate the sensibilities or the risibilities. What of these? Ordinarily, let them prosper or fail without your support. But suppose these activities, whether formal or informal, commercial or non-commercial, partisan or non-partisan, religious or non-religious, involve the basic structure of the community, the fundamental ability of what businesses that are left to meet their payrolls and pay their taxes, the basic opportunity of a program to serve the real needs of the community that are not or cannot be met by public taxation? What of them?

The rule ought to be this:

Those in business should support local businesses, even if it costs a little more. To fail to do so is to lose them.

Those who consume should support local businesses, even if it costs a little more. To fail to do so is to raise one's taxes.

Those who seek the fraternal, patriotic or social life and need to rely on public support should remember, at all costs and at all times, you're in business because there are those who believe in you. If you don't treat them right, if you don't speak to them, or speak well of them, they have every right to let you swing in the breeze.

Strohm kin, Robert Didion dies of cancer

Brother of Mrs. Weldon Strohm, Robert F. Didion, Huron, died of cancer at his home Saturday morning.

He lived in Huron 23 years, having moved there from Bellevue. He was a facility operator for General Telephone Co. He was a communicant of St. Peter's Roman Catholic church in Huron, a member of FOEagles, Huron, and of the VFW post at Bellevue. He served in the Army in Korea.

He is also survived by his wife, nee Marjorie Porterfield; eight brothers, Donald E., James H., Richard C., Thomas E., Gerald L., Ronald F. and David A., all of Bellevue; two sisters, Dorothy, now Mrs. Edward McKenzie, Sandusky, and Margaret, now Mrs. Timothy Walker, Norwalk, and two grandchildren.

The Revs. Gerald Ceranowski and L. R. Carothers were celebrants of the funeral mass from the church Tuesday at 11 a. m. Burial was in Scott cemetery.

Memorial contributions to the cancer fund are invited.

Canvass for heart under way

Mrs. Lionel Howard and Mrs. Roy Barber, co-chairmen of the Heart fund campaign locally, have recruited 16 persons to conduct a door-to-door canvass Feb. 25-Mar. 6.

These are the R. Earl McQuates, Mmes. Dennis Beebe, Bruce Johnson, David Jamerson, Todd Tackler, James McClure, Roy W. Carter, Larry Classen and John Ganzhorn, Mark Sheeley and the Misses Lana Laaser, Cheryl Garber, Sandra Elliott, Tammy Oney and Jari McKinney.

Contributions, they point out, are tax deductible. A receipt will be issued on request. Contributions may be made as a memorial.

Monroeville scored 23 points and placed third in the eighth round of the Firelands Challenge here Thursday. Edison won with 40. Perkins scored 34.

Norwalk, Huron and New London will meet at Norwalk today.

Negligence alleged in $1.5 million suit vs. Holthouse driver

A $1.5 million negligence suit has been laid against the driver of a Holthouse Bros., Inc., truck that struck and killed a 22-year-old Bloomville man Aug. 4.

Survivors of John A. Ball, Sr., accuse the driver, Charles A. Shreve, Green-wood, and his employer of negligence. They say the truck went left of center in Route 103 at Celeryville, forcing Ball, riding a motorcycle, to leave the right side of the road and strike a guardrail. Ball died the next day.

Kenneth C. Buckley, chairman of the Wakeman Bank Co. of Wakeman, will be chairman of the 1983 Cancer Crusade for Huron county.

This appointment comes from the board of directors of the Huron county unit of the American Cancer society.

The Crusade will start Apr. 22. Of the total funds collected in the county, 45 per cent will be restricted for use and service to Huron county residents and 40 per cent will be appropriated under grants from the American Cancer society for use in research.

The suit, which calls for a jury trial in Huron county common pleas court, seeks $1.5 million for the alleged wrongful death and $50,000 for Ball's suffering and pain before his death.

Shreve pleaded no contest to a charge of vehicular homicide in Norwalk Municipal court Oct. 19 and was fined $300 and costs of $35.

Buckley heads drive for heart

He'll see action today against Black River here in the finale and at Ashland Monday against New London in tourney play.

Planners to meet here Mar. 7

Village planning commission will meet Mar. 7 at 7 p. m. in the village hall. Monthly meetings have been changed from the first Tuesday to the first Monday.

Willard won't review village water rates: Root

Willard has ignored his request to review water rates charged to Plymouth, James C. Root, village administrator, told village council Tuesday night.

"Perhaps this is the time to bring it out in the open," he said.

Plymouth is not using 170,000 gallons of water daily, as called for by the contract.

He said the village used that much during the first six months of the contract in 1981.

Since then, a number of major water leaks have been found and repaired, about 100 faulty meters have been replaced, and users seem to be making a concerted effort to conserve water because of the high rates, Root said.

The village is averaging about 120,000 gallons daily.

Root wants Willard to consider reimbursement to Plymouth for water lost by leakage and not used and a reduction of the daily amount billed.

This will be a considerable savings to the village, he told the council.

He also said that because of the extensive street repairs made last summer, the streets are in a good condition and much less patching is needed.

Sanvel and Associates, Findlay, will have the contract, he said on the condition of the electrical distribution system.

Jerry Tischer, district manager of Columbia Gas of Ohio, Mansfield, paid one of his "social" visits to the council. He said there have been no rate raises this winter.

Councilman Roy Barber asked him what the position of the company is taking on H.B. 4, which will not allow the company to pass the cost of out-of-state gas to consumers.

Tischer laid the blame on the General Assembly and the governor, saying they

F. Burks, Jr., succumbs at 58 in Pennsylvania

Father of Frank Burks, 3rd, Frank Burks, Jr., 58, Harrisburg, Pa., died unexpectedly Jan. 31.

He is also survived by his wife, Mary, two daughters, a son and a brother.

Funeral services were conducted Feb. 16 at 11 a. m. The Burks family spent that week with his mother.

simply do not understand nor realize that Ohio does not and cannot supply enough gas to meet its needs.

He also said because the federal government controls 80 per cent of an individual's gas bill, what is done at that level could mean about a 25 per cent increase of rates by the end of the year.

Another item he pointed out is that losses by Columbia Gas because of bills not being paid because the company (and electrical companies) have been prohibited from disconnecting service for non-payment during the winter months must be recovered.

Some people who are able to pay are taking advantage of the state ruling.

Councilman Keith Hebble reported he and Root attended the Feb. 15 session of the North Star Council of governments and heard a speaker from the Department of Natural Resources explain what funds are available.

The fire department has already filed for funding for additional equipment and there is a strong possibility the village will receive funding for recreational purposes in 1984.

Cubs to serve annual dinner

Annual Blue and Gold banquet of Plymouth Cub Scout pack will be served Monday at 6 p. m. in the Parsel Post 447, American Legion.

Cubmaster Eric Hedeek says the main dish of baked ham will be provided. Each family of a Cub Scout is asked to bring a covered dish and table service.

Guest speaker will be A. L. Paddock, Jr., a former Cubmaster.

Four Cubs, Brian Carter, Toy Hass, Roy Fletcher and Clayton Loehm, will advance from Webelos to the Boy Scout troop.

Planning to fall? Go backwards, there's mre padding there!

By AUNT LIZ
If you are planning to fall down on a little icy and snowy patch, arrange to fall backward.

This is where just about everyone is better padded. You may bounce a little, but you aren't so apt to break anything.

Falling forward doesn't give you a chance. Just five days in the hospital is what you get.

The last time was about 13 years ago, then just for traction, so this was really a new happening.

Since then, everyone knows how hospital rates have gone up, so to have their services.

Patients mean employing a lot of people, and a lot of people must have things to do, so they really watch over you.

They have you in their clutches. You can't get out of bed (even if you are mobile) until someone comes along and lets the side of the bed down. You could escape, but it is a difficult climbing maneuver.

For years, when I Gray Laddie, people would complain about being trapped in bed, and I felt sorry for them. No more. I was downright grateful for those aides. Never have I seen a bed so easy to roll out of, and it must have been a 10-foot drop to a hard floor. Maybe only two feet, but you certainly could have been more badly hurt than what you started with.

And another thing I did not know. If you absolutely do not want to be safe in bed with no bars, you must sign a release. I do not know any hospital one bit.

Back to the happy around-the-clock services. Taking temperatures, pulses and blood pressure is an indoor sport with them. I finally came to the conclusion that the on-coming shift simply did not believe one word the previous shift had written down. So they did it all over again. The attention was flustering, but not at midnight, then at 2 a. m., then at 4 a. m. By 6 a. m. you are really awake, so that one was not too bad.

These were all nurses and medical doctors I was dealing with and not a dentist in the crowd.

They took a greater interest in my teeth than our dentist does.

Their problem was trying to figure out if they were in, and if not, where I had stashed them.

Even when I was stretched out on the operating tablem out on the operating table, someone leaned over, glared, and asked, "What did you do with your teeth?"

Some energy saving reminders for the whole family.

(Clip and Save.)

Stick these ideas on your refrigerator.

MAGNET GOES HERE

The more you use, the more energy you'll save.

- Whenever possible, use a toaster, toaster-oven or an electric frypan instead of your large oven or range.
- Never use the oven as a heater.
- Place pans on the surface units of your range before you turn on the heat.
- Use a small amount of water when boiling eggs and vegetables. Use tight-fitting lids, too.
- Place the most often used items in the front of your refrigerator shelves so you can get to them quickly.
- Make sure refrigerator door seals are tight, free of grease.
- Don't wash your dishes until you've got a full load. That's usually after dinner.
- Turn off the lights, radio and TV before you leave.
- Don't let the hot water run while you're shaving. Fill the sink halfway instead.
- If you can, use an electric razor. It uses less energy in a year than the hot water your hand razor uses in a week.
- Set your water heater's temperature at a moderate 140°F or as low as possible to allow for enough hot water.
- Take shorter showers.
- Wash and dry only full loads of clothes.
- Keep your thermostat at 68° or less in the winter, at least 78° in the summer.
- In winter, open drapes and shades to let sun heat your home. When sun sets, close them.
- In summer, close drapes and shades to keep your home from getting overheated.
- Don't heat or cool unused rooms. Close them off.
- Keep the damper on your fireplace closed when not in use.

Cougars edge Plymouth in middle periods, 72 to 66

Crestview outscored Plymouth in the second and third periods on the Cougar floor Friday night and came away with a 72 to 66 victory in Firelands conference play.

Plymouth will play Black River in a return match here today for possession of the cellar. Each team has won only one conference game. The Pirates won earlier, in a dimly lit affair at Sullivan.

It was not that Plymouth was outshot. The Big Red showed good shot selection almost throughout. Its record was 25 successes in 53 tries; certainly enough to win a dozen games. Its free throw performance was less than the best. It missed eight of 24 tries.

But even if each team had managed to score each time it went to the foul line, Crestview would have won. More narrowly, assuredly, but it would have won all the same. The Cougars missed five of 13 tries. They hit with 32 of 65 attempts at field goal.

Where Plymouth was beaten was on the boards. By the only seven shots, true, but those seven could have meant the difference. Plymouth could not control its offensive boards.

During the second period, into which Plymouth went with a 15 to 12 advantage, Brian Easterling cut the Big Red into little carmine shreds with five field goals and one of two free throws. He concluded his play for the night with 15, one short of game high, shared by Mike Williams and Mike Kochheiser with 19.

Crestview's output of 24 points in the second eight minutes resulted in a Cougar lead of 36 to 34 at the half.

The Cougars were 16-of-36 at this point, the Big Red 13-of-21.

Crestview maintained the pressure in the third period. Plymouth has not been a strong third period outfit this season and this was no exception. After tying at 38, Plymouth let Kochheiser score from the end line and Williams from 17 feet away with a jumper and never got closer than two for the remainder of the period.

Going into the last eight minutes, Plymouth trailed by six. And that's how it ended. Crestview outscored Plymouth by two field goals but Rodney Hampton and Greg Polachek made three and four, respectively, at the foul line.

Hampton played splendidly in a losing cause. He scored 22, Polachek 18, Craig Thornberry 12. When he is on the bench, as he was forced to be two third of the way through the third period with a fourth foul, Plymouth does not figure so strongly in the outcome.

Tom Baker's 12 points was high for him this season.

Buck girls explode in fourth quarter, 45 to 23

State-ranked Buckeye Central broke open a tight game in the fourth period here Thursday night and stormed to a 45 to 23 victory over Plymouth.

The Bucks blew Plymouth off the floor early in the fourth quarter and did not let up until the buzzer.

They scored 23 points and held Plymouth to just two.

Until then it was close, just a point separating the teams at the end of 24 minutes.

Eight visitors broke into the scoring column, led by Theresa Luidhardt with 10, Laurie Kehres with 10 and Becky Zoltanski with nine. The Bucks fired 56 times and made 20 and were nearly perfect at the foul line, where they missed just one. They took down 28 rebounds and made only 14 mistakes.

Plymouth managed to put only three players on the scorebook. Lisa Daron led them with 10. The Big Red shot 38 times and made 10 and missed four of seven free throws. It rebounded 22 times and committed 24 turnovers, 15 of them in the last period.

Plymouth ends its season 9 and 10.

Big Red's 'Silent Man' to see action today

The Quiet Man of the Big Red is Tom Baker. Not much for holler, but dependable, a good shot, a sound floor player and a team man. He's started some games of late, and some of them he hasn't started before the first eight minutes have passed. An 11th grader, he also plays football (well) and baseball (equally well).

Bucyrus annihilates Plymouth; reserves lose second in row

Plymouth absorbed its worst beating of the season at Bucyrus Saturday night. The score was 72 to 39.

Plymouth was beaten because it couldn't handle the big man.

He was Ken Tuttle, a six feet six inch giant who scored 12 in the first half and passed off for another 12 and added six in the third period before he went to the bench with four fouls. By this time the Redmen were so far in front they couldn't have been caught with an SST.

Bucyrus intimidated Plymouth from the start. Tuttle made the rebound on the first five shots Bucyrus took and scored with three of them.

Todd Brenner, another big fellow, about only six feet three, had six in the first period as well. This output and superior rebounding gave Bucyrus a 15 to 9 lead after eight minutes.

The Redmen built on this in the next period. Six players managed to score, a total of 16 points, and Bucyrus went to the intermission in the van by 21 to 19.

After 16 minutes, Plymouth had gotten off just 18 shots at the basket, making eight of them. Craig Thornberry had five points to lead the pack. He was game high for Plymouth with 13.

The Redmen showed familiarity with their baskets and their varnish in the third period, making half of 14 tries for field goal. Going into the final period, Plymouth trailed by 14 at 44 to 30.

The Big Red managed just one field goal in the final quarter. Bucyrus scored 11 of them. All told, the Redmen outscored the visitors by 19 points, 26 to 9. Second line Bucyrus players pooped the lineup when the fourth period started and shortly thereafter Coach Dave Dunn inserted his reserves.

It was not a satisfying exhibition.

Plymouth succeeded with 12 of 33 shots from the field and 15 of 20 free throws. It was credited with only 18 rebounds, which is why it lost so badly, because Bucyrus took down 40 rebounds.

The Redmen shot for field goal 63 times and scored with 32 of them and missed seven of 15 free throws.

Plymouth was in disarray in the second half. It was charged with 14 turnovers, 10 of them in the final period. All told, Plymouth made 22 mistakes, Bucyrus only 16.

The game ended a two-year contract with the Redmen. There were seats for half of the population of the county.

Upstairs store helped 240

Upstairs Store assisted 60 families with 180 children during the last six months of 1982.

Twenty-six families with 76 children were from the Plymouth area, 34 families with 104 children from the Shiloh area. Extra clothing was given to 35 of these families in December. Two adults asked for clothing.

Adult clothing has been taken to four area nursing centers. Volunteers of America, Mansfield, have taken several boxes of surplus adult clothing and items unusable for the store's needs. Several bags of rags have been given to individuals. Ivan Hawk has taken bags of unusable items to the dump.

Bedding, sheets, blankets, pillow, towels, as well as kitchen utensils are used.

Used clothing is brought in almost every week. Clothing is received from the school for lost and found boxes. This is sorted, washed and used for school needs.

A large amount of new clothing has been given by Fisher's Big Wheel in Shelby. A slight defect is in some, a broken zipper, a broken seam — these are repaired and used for school needs. Clothing has also been donated by McIntire's store in Plymouth.

Several boxes of new clothing were given by First Methodists to unite Sunday

Congregations of the Plymouth and Shiloh United Methodist churches will have a joint service Sunday at 7 p. m. in the Shiloh church.

Mrs. Robert Barr, wife of the church's pastor, will deliver the sermon.

United Presbyterian church in December for the extra December giving. Toys and games were also given.

Funds for the Upstairs store are received from paper drives organized by church Women United, contributions from six area churches, a sizable check from the Employees' Civic fund of First Buckeye Bank in Plymouth, a check from the Lions club, the Sun-shine club, and Ehret-Parson Post 447, American Legion. Memorial gifts and individual gifts have been received. The sale of adult and other surplus clothing, at a low cost, also is used for operating funds.

The Upstairs store board welcomes Wesley Evangelical church of Shiloh into the project.

Mrs. Harry Sybrandt is chairman.

Film set at Shiloh

The newly released film "Kevin Can Wait" will be shown at Wesley Evangelical church, Route 603, Shiloh, Sunday at 7 p. m.

"Kevin Can Wait" introduces Jim Peterson, a young man who was convinced he could accomplish great things for God as a TV talk show host or as a pastor of a large, thriving church or even as a pioneer missionary.

As Jim plans for Christian service, his new friend David tries to "teach him some" "heavenly" insights. In spite of his youthful flamboyance and high idealism, Jim learns an important Biblical truth through his other friend, Kevin.

The Rev. William Kren invites the public. Eighty-eight pints of whole blood were collected Friday when Plymouth Lions club sponsored the visit of the ARC Bloodmobile.

There were 11 deferrals.

Lutherans alter times of sessions

Youth groups of First Evangelical Lutheran church have changed their schedule of meetings.

The catechism class will meet the first and third Sundays from 2 p. m. until 5 p. m.

The youth group is meeting the second and fourth Sundays at 7 p. m.

New council members of First Evangelical Lutheran church are Mrs. David P. Dunn, Douglas A. Dickson and Fred Buzzard.

They replace retiring members Mrs. William F. Flaherty, Mrs. Kent Knaus and Jack Courter.

Lutheran Church Women will meet in the parish hall today at 10 a. m. to sew.

Unstable dynamite removed

Unstable dynamite stored at the Richard Fry home in Kuhn road was removed by Plymouth firemen Friday at 4 p. m.

Sheriff's deputies and an explosive team of the Ashland sheriff's department assisted.

"The problem with old, leaking explosives," Sheriff Richard Petty explained, "is that the crystals that form on the box or other container can be exploded when struck by a hammer or suddenly jolted."

Village native, G. H. Clark, 83, dies at Shelby

Born here Apr. 22, 1899, George Kenneth Clark, 83, Shelby, died in Heritage Care center there Saturday morning.

He was ill a long time. He was for 30 years a mail carrier. He retired 27 years ago. A World War I veteran, he was a member of NARCE.

His wife, nee Reva Eckstein, survives.

The Rev. Robert F. Peoples, First United Church of Christ, Shelby, conducted services Tuesday at 10 a. m. Burial was in Oakwood cemetery, Bucyrus.

88 pints!

Eighty-eight pints of whole blood were collected Friday when Plymouth Lions club sponsored the visit of the ARC Bloodmobile.

There were 11 deferrals. Prayer day set

World Day of Prayer will be observed Mar. 4 in First United Presbyterian church.

Sponsored in the United States by Church Women United, this annual observance unites women in 170 countries on six continents. This year marks the 96th consecutive one in which women will gather to be part of this world-wide prayer vigils.
