Will appeals be taken? —

Zoning variances turned down; inspector quits

Two rezoning requests have been denied by Jack Laser, zoning inspector, with the approval of the planning commission.

They are for businesses in areas zoned residential in the village.

One is to install a grain and seed business in the barn on the Fackler property in Mills avenue between Plymouth and Mulberry streets.

Years ago it was used for such an operation and also for trading.

The second request is to build a Farmers' Market on the property in Route 61 south of Woodrow Smith's land.

However, the door is still left open.

Both requests can go to the board of zoning appeals for a conditional zoning permit, such as was granted to Mack's Super Valu last month.

However, the door is still left open.

Echelberry in — Forquer to retire as sexton of cemetery

A 1948 alumnus of Plymouth High school, Kenneth Echelberry, 54, will succeed Burton Forquer as sexton of Greenlawn cemetery on Jan. 1.

The octogenarian Forquer will retire after 15 years in the post, his health problems too much to sustain the duties.

He is the grandfather of Mayor Dean A. Cline.

Forquer has been paid $8,800 a year in the part-time assignment. Echelberry will be paid at that rate, subject to councilmanic action on a proposed pay raise.

He left the job for two years when William Taylor was sexton. Ill health forced Taylor to give up the post, whereupon Forquer was prevailed upon to reassume the duties.

Echelberry, son of Robert F. Echelberry and the late Mrs. M. Echelberry, has been active in athletics most of his life. He was for several years president of the Boosters' club. He is now assistant fire chief in charge of the ambulance service, a post he intends to keep.

Echelberry operates Plymouth Beer Dock at Brazilian and New streets, an enterprise he intends to continue.

He is married to the former Betty Chronister. They have three children: Linda, now Mrs. Thomas Riah, Shelby; Mary, now Mrs. Robert Whiteman, Columbus; and Kevin, Willard. There are four grandchildren.

Will Shiloh's water rate go up by 20 per cent?

A 20 per cent increase in water rates at Shiloh was laid before its village council Nov. 28.

Ralph Hawkins, trustee of public affairs, told the council the rate increase is necessary to cover equipment maintenance costs and annual deficits.

Trustees are asking for an increase of $3 a month to $12 and to raise rates for businesses served by water meters by 20 per cent.

Councilmen Dan Hockley and Charles R. Reeder supported the request. They said there seems to be an annual trend that produces deficits in the water fund and added it is vital to maintain equipment.

Opposition was voiced by Councilmen Delmar Nesbitt and Barbara Music. They said costs are rising in all areas and must be halted at some point. Further, they said, although water accounts of late have been in the red, the black ink of previous years permits the water department to swallow the red ink.

Two councilmen, Frank Cline and Richard Tallman, were absent. So the question will be discussed at the next meeting.

Because Wednesday is church activity night in Shiloh, the clerk-treasurer, Mrs. Reeder, asked the sale of the plot will thus not only cover the cost of the Ellis property in West Broadway, which amounted to $50,000 net to the board, it having sold off a parcel with a dwelling to George Breznicki, but will produce $19,000 in the permanent improvement fund, a move the board took on separate resolution and recommendation by Supt. Douglas Stags.

Phillips' check for $6,900, 10 per cent of the bid, was attached to his formal, written tender. Closing will take place on or before Dec. 28.

Two plots in Skinner road, New Haven township, and another in Route 61 have been sold, Haron county recorder reports.

Chester and Belle Holen bought two acres in Route 61 from Glenn W. and Virginia Ruggles.

He is also survived by his wife, nee Della Adams; five daughters, Pauline, now Mrs. Wayne Tachapat, Cuyahoga Falls, Julia, now Mrs. Robert Danhoff, Willard; Barbara, now Mrs. Ruben Turner, Avon Lake; Rosemary, now Mrs. Karl Lenhart, Attica, and Susan, now Mrs. Kenneth Moyer, Sandusky; two sons, Antonio, Jr., Attica, and Stephen, Willard; two brothers, John and James, Willard; 19 grandchildren and five great-grandchildren. The voice of The Advertiser—

Let it stand UNLESS . . . !

From time to time we've thrown brickbats at the village council for dragging its feet on the question of zoning. For a long time, a close friend bitterly opposed zoning and since he held public office, he exercised that dislike by voting against it. Mostly, his view and his clout carried the day.

Now it's on the books, which is the correct phrase even if it not the meet one. It got there without the public having seen it, in the slickest sleight-of-hand maneuver this village has seen in two generations. But the fact is that it's there and it ought to stay as written, and be enforced as written, unless there are absolutely compelling reasons to alter its provisions.

We have been witness lately to a variance that was presumed to be in force long before it was in fact the case. Nobody got hurt, particularly, except perhaps just everybody who cares about doing things right, according to law, and with proper concern for the rights of all affected.

Two later requests have been denied by the capable zoning inspector, who also turned in his badge, more's the pity. Now the variances will be decided by the board of zoning appeals, if indeed that's what the applicants want to do.

The time to lock the barn is before the horse is stolen. The time to protest about zoning restrictions is before they are applied. After they are applied, despite that those who might suffer by their application had no due and proper notice of the fact, they should be strictly adhered to. Variances should be made with this concept: "Can the neighbors live with it?" Not "Will the rest of us profit by it?"

By now all cookies for your family and friends should be baked.

It's better if you saved fancy containers all year to put them in, and if they go to folks close at hand, you may get some back for next year.

All of a sudden all the nice ones we have had for years are either in California or Iowa and I was in a tizzy about it all when a thoughtful friend came forth with the nicest little tray-like things. They came from TV dinners she devoured while on a diet. They are great and very reusable for microwaves.

And if anyone gives you some special jelly or something in a jar, remember who and return the jar, empty, so maybe you will get another one.

The best things are those you make, yes?

Now that people are taken care of, there must be some good friends who have a dog whom they consider about the most important part of their family.

No one will believe this, but this recipe for a real dog treat was tucked away in our recipe box under cookies.

The dogs will love them and their two-legged friends will be impressed.

In a large bowl mix three and a half cups of ordinary white flour, a cup of rye flour, a cup of cornmeal, two cups of cracked wheat, a half cup of non-fat dry milk, a tablespoon of salt, a package of dry yeast and two cups of either chicken or beef broth.

Roll it out and cut into shapes like regular cookies. You may have to add a little more liquid. Grease a cookie sheet or sheets and bake for a little less than an hour at 300.

All about Plymouth . . .

Mr. and Mrs. L. Ray Windecker, Livonia, Mich., were Friday guests of her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. G. Thomas Moore.

The Neil McKowns are in Cancun, Mexico, on holiday. Their son and daughter are staying with their grandparents, the Robert A. McKowns, Diner road.

Mrs. Charles J. Pugh, Columbus, nee Holly Pitzon, Plymouth, her sister, Mrs. Roger Gayheart, Shelby, nee Linda Pitzon, and her niece, Wendy Berberick, U. S. Navy, Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, visited kin here Monday. Miss Berberick is also the niece of Mr. John A. Turson. Miss Pugh and Gayheart are the sisters of Mrs. Ronald Predieri.

Mrs. Harry Sybrandt, Mrs. Darrell B. Faust, Mrs. Frank Burks, Mrs. Robert A. Lewis, Mrs. William Flaherty and Miss Joan Maerckisch went to Ashland college Sunday for the Ye Olde English Madrigal Feast, a holiday event at the school.

Thanksgiving guests of Dr. and Mrs. Pierre E. Haver were their daughter-in-law, Mrs. David Haver, Lancaster, Pa., who stayed the weekend and took home her daughter, Cary, who had been here all month; Diane Haver, Indianhead Park, Ill.; John Haver, East Lansing, Mich.; Mr. and Mrs. Peter Haver, Belleville; Jay Haver, Wooster, and Dr. Haver's mother, Mrs. Oliver Haver, Fostoria.

You can brush the tops with a beaten egg with a little milk, which will give them a gloss.

Every dog will love you and you will probably have them lined up at your back door for more.

And this should have people love you too. It's different from that tasty cereal mixture everyone gives every one every year.

It is extremely munchable.

Pop enough corn to make two and a half quarts, then put it with a three ounce can of Chinese noodles and a cup of salted peanuts in a roaster and put in the oven at 250 or 300 degrees to keep it all warm.

In a bowl mix a half cup of vegetable oil, two tablespoons of soy sauce, a teaspoon of five-spice powder try the Chinese shelves for it, it is worth having around, a half teaspoon each of garlic powder, salt and ground ginger, a fourth of a teaspoon of cayenne pepper and an eighth of a teaspoon of sugar.

Pour over the stuff in the roaster, tossing it around so it mixes well.

Put the roaster, uncovered, in the oven for about 10 minutes and stir a couple of times.

It can be stored in a good container with a good top.

Holidays are special and need some good surprises to perk up everything.

This will perk up an ordinary tossed salad.

Eat a jar of dill pickles somehow and save the juice (you should always save pickle juice for potato and macaroni salads and egg salad).

Heat the juice to boiling and pour over onion slices. Chill at least overnight in a covered dish, and when you make salad, put them either on top or mixed in with everything.

IT'S TIME TO STOP WALKING ABOUT EDUCATION.

The topic's been covered up one side and down the other. Reports tell us that over half of our high school graduates can't even write a simple letter. Can't think through the most basic kinds of problems. And therefore, aren't adequately prepared to join our country's work force.

But haven't we said enough? Published enough dismal findings? Isn't it time something was done?

Yes. And the fact is, every one of us can help. Many already are—individuals, small businesses, large businesses, and all types of organizations. Here are just a few ways:

Individuals can: volunteer as teachers' aides • attend school meetings • run for school board • support school bond issues • donate time to school libraries • urge elected officials to push for better funding. Businesses and other organizations can: loan or donate equipment • provide internship programs • hire teachers for summer jobs • support new legislation • help train school personnel on the latest technology • form partnerships with local schools • work with a state task force on education.

There's no denying we have a problem. One that threatens our individual lives, as well as our nation's economy. Because without quality education, America won't have a quality future.

Talking isn't going to change that. But doing something will. To find out more, write: Task Force on Education for Economic Growth, P.O. Box 76696, Washington, D.C. 20013.

It's just plain smart to get involved.

Lori Fidler scored 13, Rhonda Branham bagged 13 and Jodi Piten 10 as Plymouth steamed to its first victory of the season.

The Big Red got off 59 shots at the basket and converted 20. Despite the presence of a giant in the visitors' lineup, Plymouth outrebounced Mansfield Christian, 34 to 25. And the Big Red made fewer mistakes, 1 to 14.

Each team canned 14 free throws.

Hall ignites last ditch rally, Red wins, 62-59

A Plymouth team that in the last four minutes played with the guts of a burglar and the toughness of a two dollar steak pulled off a minor upset at Northmor Saturday by rallying furiously to win, 62 to 59.

Stieve Hall's basket with 16 seconds left gave the Big Red a 60 to 59 lead. It was only the third time the Big Red had held the lead all night.

Rick Liberti, who played quarterback on the Northmor team during two successive seasons by Plymouth, was fouled by Eric Rath. He had scored six points on three buckets to that point and he strode to the line with obvious confidence. Coach Dave Dunn called for a time out. He wanted to "ice" the shooter.

It worked. Liberti missed the shot.

At 15 seconds, David Sedmak fouled Eric Rath, who had prior to this effort canned eight of nine tries from the penalty line. Rath took aim and let fly. It skittered off the rim to the hands of Jeff Caudill, who threw it in off the baseline just before the buzzer sounded.

Plymouth went into the final period trailing by 11 points at 47 to 36.

The Big Red scored five unanswered points to cut the lead to 37 to 42, whereupon Matt Burggraf fired one down and Doug Sinclair, the game's high scorer at 19, another, this one a jumper.

After a time out by Plymouth, Liberti got one down and Northmor led at 53 to 42. The Big Red scored four straight, a 16-footer by Jeff Lasch, who found his eye in the fourth period with four of five after an horrendous performance prior to that time, and two free throws by Rath.

Northmor sought time out at 4:17. It had two left.

When play resumed, Lasch fired another one home, this time from 15 feet out, and after Sedmak canned two penalty shots, Plymouth was on the scoreboard again, this time with successive buckets by Lasch, one on a rebound, the other from 14 feet away.

It was here that the doughty Hall showed his mettle, which he had concealed, whether by intention or accident only he knows, until this point. He stole a pass and converted it to a field goal and then, after another steal, he bagged a bucket from underneath.

The second shot gave Plymouth the lead.

Northmor called for time.

Liberti sank a shot when time resumed and the Golden Knights' fans went wild, their darlings were in the lead by one at 57 to 56.

Caudill scored at 1:36 after Rath had missed his first free throw of the game and with 1:01 remaining, Sinclair scored, establishing a 59 to 58 lead for the home forces.

The Knights' coach spent his last time out with 59 seconds left. Was it a mistake? Who knows? What everyone does know is that Plymouth took charge at this point and pulled it out.

Lasch with 14 and four players, Hall, Kevin Taylor, Caudill and Rath with 10 apiece, made up all but eight points of Plymouth's scoring. The Big Red fired for field goal 50 times and made 25, a splendid performance anywhere. It was charged with 17 turnovers and credited with 32 rebounds.

Northmor's shooting performance was no less spectacular, at 25 of 49, with 17 turnovers and 23 rebounds.

Princess! '83 alumna on girls' team at Heidelberg

A Plymouth High school alumna is making a mark in Heidelberg college basketball.

She is Lori Caudill, a five feet eight inch sophomore majoring in computer science, who played in just three games last season and scored just two points, having taken just two shots. She is a forward on the Student Prince quintet, which has six letter winners on the squad. Eleven of the 23 players are freshmen.

I'm in great shape to drive. You're not serious are you? What's a couple of beers? Nobody drives my car but me. I've never felt better. I can drink with the best of them. But I only had a few. So I had a couple. I can drive rings around anybody. I can drive my own car, thank you. I'm not drunk. I drive better when I'm like this. Who says I can't drink drive? I can hold my booze. I know I'm doing. I always drive like this. Trust me. What's a few thing to me. I'm with my eyes with me. drink

Flyers soar in 3rd period, bomb Plymouth, 67 to 50

"In any game where it's close, say within seven points, at the half, the first three minutes of the next period are critical - the team that wants to win will assert itself then."

Al McGuire, the television pundit, says that. It proved true at Norwalk Nov. 27 when St. Paul's came out from the halftime break leading by five 29 to 24 and turned John Landoll loose. He banged down three field goals, quick as a wink, and Plymouth was dead.

Landoll went on to score 10 points in the period, 12 for the whole game, and the Flyers, favored to win the Firelands conference this season under their new coach, John Schlessman, won going away. The Norwalk team outscored Plymouth by 12 points in the second half.

And it did so with some remarkable shooting in a game that was marked, nay, marred, by almost countless turnovers. Plymouth was charged with 25, the Flyers with 18. That's where the game was won, by shooting. The Flyers got off 50 tries for field goal and converted 24 of them, whereas Plymouth fired 57 times, making 19.

St. Paul's jumped off to an early lead, scoring six points before Plymouth was able to get on the scoreboard with two free throws by Steve Hall, and would have run away with it easily save that the Big Red strung together eight unanswered points at the end of the first eight minutes that made the visiting team at least respectable. St. Paul's led by five going into the second quarter and they held that lead, more or less, until the halftime horn.

Plymouth got to within three but couldn't maintain the pace. Jeff Lasch scored five buckets for the Big Red in the second quarter to keep his team in the running. He was game high scorer with 23, seven of them in the final period.

Until Landoll's heroics in the third period, St. Paul's was held up by Brad Alge, who scored nine in the first half, and Matt Spriggs, who scored eight.

Charley Meyer, a Flyer letterman, got into foul trouble early into the third canto and went to the bench. The Flyer bench is green but seems strong.

Landoll and Spriggs completed the game with 16 apiece and Meyer had 12. Alge scored 11 and Scott Nickoli 10.

No Plymouth player other than Lasch got into double figures. Hall was closest with nine.

Plymouth seemed unsure of itself. It committed eight turnovers in the first period and was saved only by the fact that St. Paul's returned the favor with seven. Both teams employed the zone defense but that of the Flyers appeared to be more aggressive in the first half, anyway, despite the fact that Plymouth matched St. Paul's field goal for field goal in the first 16 minutes, when each team scored 10.

The Big Red bench did not contribute much to the scoring, although Coach Dave Dunn substituted often. He used eight players.

Why no home meets?

athletic director who needs money! Respectfully,
Lee Brooks

Ed. Note: Athletic Director Cook responds in substance thus:

1. For a while, two or three seasons back, Plymouth's till was low and "we twisted the arms of some of our friends to allow us to schedule wrestling events here, even quadrangular ones, so we could obtain greater gate receipts. Now our friends expect us to scratch their backs so we have had to agree to wrestle them on their mat."

2. There were some opponents with whom Plymouth had home-and-home agreements who, for one reason or another, were not able to meet their part of the contract. Western Reserve is one of these. Plymouth was supposed to go there last year but its facility was not available. So Plymouth goes to Western Reserve this season.
3. Over the long run, the scheduling of home events for wrestlers will occur. There is no intention to make local fans angry or to prevent them from seeing Plymouth's boys-in-action on the Plymouth mat. The new coach has noted this and he understands what happened.

Sir:
I am a wrestling alumnus and follower of Plymouth sports in general. I've seen the wrestling schedule and am grossly insulted. I'm sure the parents and fans of our grapplers are too. One home match and the rest away.

Wrestling has the potential to be your second or third money maker, football and basketball being in most of the revenue. Wrestling girls' basketball and girls' volleyball help add to revenue. This helps pay for golf, cross country, baseball, track and field, plus upkeep and new equipment.

Athletic Director Sam Cook makes these schedule contracts. Our school administrators have let them pass. Does our athletic department have so much money that they don't need dual, tri, quad or tournament matches? Do they have so much money that they can alienate parents and fans of our wrestling program? Is the answer, yes, or have the costs grown fat and lazy? It seems the answer is yes. We are the only school in the state with more money than we need. Fine, next time the school's in financial trouble let Mr. Cook bail it out with that big wad of athletic money. This could be a teaching approach called "Why work for the money when the taxpayers will give it to us for the asking?" I'll remember this and others will too when the school has a levy on the ballot. After all with Mr. Cook as

Your energy-saving options are as easy as:

1. Electric Thermal Storage.
Electric Thermal Storage, ETS, a very efficient whole-house heating system that works in a unique way. It stores enough heat at night to heat your home for the rest of the day.
Because ETS uses electricity at night, when the cost of electricity is less, ETS customers qualify for special rates. So you'll get lower electric rates for heating. And for all other electricity you use at night.
What's more, the same lower rates apply all weekend.
ETS is not only heats your home, it also heats your water. Individual room heaters are available, too.

2. Add-On Electric Heat Pump.
Another very modern option to save energy, and money.
An Add-On Electric Heat Pump works with your existing furnace - no matter what kind of fuel it uses - to heat your home more efficiently all winter long.
In summer, it's a central air conditioner, cooling and dehumidifying your home.
So an Add-On Electric Heat Pump can actually work year round for you and save you money on your winter heating costs.

3. Add-On Resistance Heating.
Another add-on option. Your third way to save energy and money.
Add-On Resistance Heating is simply an electric element that's slipped into the duct of your furnace. It takes over for your furnace on weeknights and weekends when the cost of electricity is less. And, as an Add-On Resistance Heating customer, you pay special lower rates for nighttime heating - as well as all other electricity you use during those same hours.
For a low initial investment, Add-On Resistance Heating can be a real comfort to your nighttime heating costs.

Every year the Government publishes thousands of books. And every year the Government Printing Office sells millions of these books to people in the know. Now there's a book that tells you about the Government's "bestsellers"—but it's not for sale... it's free!

It's our new catalog of almost 1,000 of GPO's most popular books. Books like Infant Care, Merchandising Your Job Talents, The Statistical Abstract, Starting a Business, The Space Shuttle at Work, How to Select a Nursing Home, Voyager at Saturn, and Cutting Energy Costs.

This catalog includes books from virtually every Government agency.

Because It's Free! So the subjects range from agriculture, business, children, and diet to science, space, transportation, and vacations. And there are titles on military history, education, hobbies, physical fitness, gardening, and much, much more. There's even a special section for recently published books. Find out about the Government's bestsellers. Send today for a copy of the book we don't sell. Write—
