

To celebrate Presidents' day, George Washington visited pupils in Plymouth Elementary school Thursday, one day after the 252nd anniversary of his birth.

His real name is Stanley Wilczyk, he's a retired educator (last assignment: principal of Loyal Oak Elementary school in Nordin) and the father-in-law of the principal, Mark Sheely, whose son, Christopher, kindergartener, and Amy Flynn, 106 1/2 West Broadway, a classmate, roped with the Father of His Country, in full colonial regalia, including wig (but no wooden teeth) in front of the school.

Shiloh votes to re-roof police hqs.

A contract to pay $1,665 to Harley Hochstetler to apply a new roof to the police station was approved by Shiloh's village council Feb. 22. Appropriations for 1984 amount to $439,000.

James Smith, Richland county health department, reported through the solicitor that Thomas Sexton, an Indianan, has bought the burned out house at Walnut and West Main street and will renovate it or remove it.

Roger Flanagan declines to allow the village to tap into a storm water tile draining his property to accommodate the property in Church street belonging to John E. Heden.

Mayor Francis Gowitka said the matter will now be decided in court.

Conrail will be requested to install an auxiliary crossing of its tracks in Main street to afford access in Route 603 when repairs are in course.

Codification of the village ordinances for $1,800 will not be undertaken for the time being.

Businesses forced to shut -

Snow blocks roads; schools closed

Heaviest snow of the season fell on Huron and Richland counties Monday night.

Schools in both counties closed for the day.

Delivery of daily newspapers from Cleveland was interrupted.

Mail was delivered, albeit somewhat late.

Municipal and county snow plows worked through the night to keep thoroughfares open.

Drifting in north-south roads seemed worse than in east-west roads.

Snow continued to fall throughout Tuesday.

By sundown Tuesday, an estimated seven inches covered southern Huron and northern Richland counties.

State highway department abandoned about 2 p.m. on Tuesday any effort to keep Routes 61, 596 and 314 open.

Route 39 south from Shelby was open, one lane only. Route 30 was open, one lane only in some places.

Most businesses here closed early. D&N Foods closed at 1 p.m.

Dr. James Holjowy, dentist, cancelled appointments early and sent his staff home before 2:15 p.m.

First National Bank of Shelby closed its doors at 1 p.m.

There was no sign Tuesday evening that roads would be cleared sufficiently to allow passage of school buses Wednesday.

Village council meeting and mayor's court session set for Tuesday were called off. Mayor Dean A. Cline, employed by American Auger Co at Wooster, telephoned his wife to cancel the meetings. He told her he would set out at once, then about 2 p.m. to reach Plymouth, traveling via Route 30 to Mansfield and thence northwest as best he could, in an effort to reach Plymouth by dinner time. But he would make no promise.

McIntire's Plymouth Dry Goods closed before 2 p.m.

Only service stations remained open.

A number of drivers were forced into the ditch because of heavy snow that impeded traction.

Snow forces postponement

Class A sectional tournament play at Bucyrus Tuesday was cancelled and will be played tomorrow.

Today's games will be played Saturday.

Finals will be played Monday.

JUDGE HENSON ... to hear Risner cases

Risners charge bias by judge; Henson on bench

Trial of Gobel Risner in Shelby Municipal court will be before another judge.

A suggestion of bias by Judge Vincent Phelan was made by Risner's attorney, Steven F. Santic, Akron.

As a result, Phelan will step aside and Common Pleas Judge James Henson will hear the case.

Trial will be conducted in April. Risner's brother, Paul, is charged with unauthorized use of a motor vehicle on Jan. 23.

He also is represented by Santic and he also suggested bias by Phelan.

The voice of The Advertiser -

On coaching

It is fashionable, today as it has been for the 30 seasons we've been closely connected with athletics here, to blame the coach when a team does not win, or when it wins less than what the sidewalk quarterback expect.

We have said before, and we will say once again, in Class A ball a coach is chiefly a motivator. The game at this level is largely one of enthusiasm. The team that wants to win the most usually prevails.

Which is not to say that some talent is not necessary. But for the most part, average to slightly better than average talent plus enthusiasm, what our Pennsylvania Dutch coach in high school called the "will to win", will produce a creditable season.

The basketball season just closed resulted in nine victories and 11 defeats. This was a considerable turnaround from what occurred in the previous two seasons. Much of it, certainly, should be credited to the individual skills of the players, seven of them 12th graders, boys who've been together for six seasons, and to their desire to excel.

Hardly anyone will deny that these players and their teammates, and certainly their supporters who paid $2.50 a head to see them play, expected great results during the 1983-84 season "because we kicked the hell out of 'em in football, didn't we?"

It should not be necessary to point out that basketball is a different game. The height of a player or players figures significantly in the success of his or her team. When there isn't any, to speak of, other skills must be developed to the point that they compensate for lack of height.

This is easier said than done. Perhaps more diligent drill in shooting the ball, whether from the foul line or elsewhere, would have produced better results. If there is a difference of opinion that is significant, and we do not know that there is, the coach must be given the benefit of the doubt.

For 30 years, at least, coaches here have been engaged first as teachers. If there is a vacancy in, say English or French or mathematics or business education or science, or whatever, candidates are considered for appointments chiefly because of their academic and/or teaching experience credentials and secondarily for any coaching ability. Which is why, in 30 seasons, we have hired only two coaches who've had head coaching experience elsewhere. And, truth to tell, neither panned out.

Some sidewalk quarterbacks came to us some months ago and sought advice and cooperation in the replacement of some coaches. We would have none of it. We told them that advice is worth about as much as one pays for it (and no one was clutching any money) and it is not the business of a reporter to influence the tenure of the coach.

Rumor has it that some coaches are looking to better themselves. Who can blame them for that? If they do so, and resign here, the board of education and the administration will be hard up against the same old problem: can the candidate teach, first, thereafter, can he or she coach?

Certainly, the vacancy will be advertised as a teacher-coaching vacancy. They all are. What with the inception of Title IX, all teachers need to be coaches. But when push comes to shove, an exceptional teacher who can't coach will be chosen over a fair-to-middling teacher who may be able to coach or who has some experience.

To do otherwise would be to subvert the educational process. It's a matter of numbers: consider, on the one hand, the number of graduates over 30 years who've made a living playing ball of one kind or another, and on the other hand, the number of graduates who've made a living, and are making a living, by what they learned in a classroom, whether here or someplace else.

Shiloh, 19, held for DWI after collision

A 19-year-old Shilohan was charged with drunken driving early Saturday after his car left Bowman Street road and then skidded into the railroad crossing, striking a crossing gate.

Douglas L. Nease, North street, was treated in the emergency room of Shelby Memorial hospital and released.

The collision occurred at 12:43 a.m.

"I JUST SAVED $700 ON TAXES"

"I OPENED AN IRA"

There are three good reasons why a First National Bank IRA makes good sense.

One, it reduces your taxes. A $2,000 contribution saves $700 in 1983 federal taxes, if you're in the 35% tax bracket.

Two, there are no set-up charges. Some places charge a set-up fee every time you make a deposit, which reduces your earnings substantially.

Three, First National Bank offers a full range of investments. If you want to lock up today's high rates for a longer term, you can.

So stop by The First National Bank of Shelby today for complete IRA details. And take a big chunk out of your taxes.

Three wrestlers go to regionals

Terry Parrigan, Cunningham win district titles

Two Plymouth wrestlers won first places in the Class A district tournament at New London Saturday and will compete in the regional tournament at Bellevue this weekend.

Another placed fourth and will also compete.

Terry Parrigan, 98-pound class, pinned Mike Hester, St. Paul's, in two minutes 41 seconds to win his division.

He got there by pinning two opponents, first Bob Miller, New London, in 49 seconds, and then Mark Alltop, Crestview, in 1:15. Now 21-and-4, he will face Kevin Scaife, Hopewell-London, 20-1-10, in the first bout of the regionals.

Richard Cunningham, an outstanding football player, also won his district as a wrestler by defeating David Gurney, Seneca East, in the 176-pound class, 8 to 6.

The newly Cunningham pinned Jim Mack, Western Reserve, and won by default over Ken Rosa. He will face Jerry Gerken, Liberty Center, in the first bout of the regionals. Cunningham's record is 20-and-7.

Don (Junior) Adams placed fourth in the heavyweight, beaten by Kevin Klier, Crestview, in the consolation bout, 7 to 2.

Adams will tackle Jerry Moore, Northwood, in the first bout. Adams is 7-and-13, Moore 30-and-3.

Adams saw the reds when Tim Bloomfield put him down in 2:32 and then lost to Kevin Klier, Crestview, 7 to 2.

Jesse James, 126-pound class, was pinned successively by Mark Elbert, Calvert, in 3:15, and John Mitchell, New London, in 1:24, before losing to Darren Hartley, Western Reserve, 11 to 6. He took fifth place.

Seneca East made a shambles of the competition. The Tigers qualified 11 of their 13 matmen and finished with 203 points, well ahead of Crestview, which took second place at 136%.

New London scored 116% for fourth, Western Reserve 113% for fifth.

Hampton all-loop

Rodney Hampton repeated all-league performance in football with all-Firelands conference basketball selection.

He is one of six players chosen to the first team by league coaches. Others are Don Farmer and Mike Landoll, Monroeville; Todd Robinson, Western Reserve; Mike Clifford, Black River, and Tad Walker, South Central.

Tom Baker was accorded honorable mention.

No other Plymouth player was selected.

Four 12th graders will play with the South team in the all-star game set for Western Reserve High school Mar. 29 at 8 p.m.

These are Hampton, Baker and Mike McKenzie and Brian Vredenburg.

Second team choices are Dan Jordan and Chris Ott, Monroeville; Steve Kozel, New London; Pat Landoll, Edison; Mike Smith, St. Paul's, and Gil Kuhrt, Mapleton. Farmer and Robinson were chosen players-of-the-year, Wally Amour, St. Paul's coach who teaches at Monroeville, coach-of-the-year.

Other players accorded honorable mention are Brian Plew and Mark Hershiser, Crestview; Kurt Oestheimer, Edison; Kevin Mahl and Greg Mullins, Western Reserve; Ben Patrick and Scott Pfeiffer, New London; Matt Spriggs, St. Paul's; Don Beck, Monroeville; Brad Johnson, Mapleton.

Other players on the South squad will be Plew, Clifford, Mike Mullins, Black River; Ken Harris, Mapleton; Johnson, Kuhrt, Darrel Hale, South Central, and Walker.

Opponents on the North side will be Pat and Mike Landoll, Oestheimer, Beck, Farmer, Jordan, Ott, Patrick, Pfeiffer, Smith, Mahl and Robinson.

Here're scores last week

Here're results last week:
Plymouth 59, Black River 53;
Edison 76, South Central 47;
Monroeville 88, St. Paul's 65;
Western Reserve 59, New London 57.
Colonel Crawford 70, Plymouth 52.

Winter sports awards night set Mar. 13

Colonel Crawford outscores shorthanded Plymouth, 70 to 52

Colonel Crawford seized upon a shorthanded Plymouth team here Saturday and scored a 70 to 52 victory by leading from almost the start.

Plymouth drew first blood at 2 to 0 but after the Eagles tied it some 13 seconds later, they took charge and Plymouth was never again a factor.

Two starters of the Big Red team, having been tanned for classes on Friday because they went to Richfield to see a professional game Thursday night, were punished by exclusion from Saturday's game. Had there been a game played on Friday night, school authorities said, they would have been barred from it as well.

Colonel Crawford led by 11 points after eight minutes and by 12 at the half.

In the third period — and Plymouth has not been a strong third quarter squad throughout the season — the Eagles took it to the home team, doubled the score on 5em and went into the final eight

Trojanettes oust Red, 42-26

Branham's injury stymies Plymouth offense

Loss of its offensive gun in the second period, owing to an ankle injury to Rhonda Branham, cost Plymouth its chances in the Class A girls' playdowns at Willard Feb. 22 and the Big Red was ousted by South Central, 42 to 26.

It was such a disastrous outing that Plymouth did not score its first goal in the third quarter, when it managed a measly three points.

The Trojanettes outshot, outpassed, outplayed and outbounded the Red, but did not score its first goal in the third quarter, when it managed a measly three points.

After the Big Red scored the first bucket, South Central put up six unanswered points. It got four more unanswered markers toward the end of the period and led by four after eight minutes.

Sue Ott continued to lead the Trojanettes offense in the second quarter. By the half she had accumulated 13 of her 17 points and South Central was ahead by 11.

The third period was an un-common disaster for the Big Red. South Central got seven from Debbie Walcher and four from Miss Ott to seize a commanding lead of 20 points at 35 to 15 going into the final eight minutes.

Lori Fidler came alive with five as Lisa Baker with four as Plymouth outscored its opponent by two in the final quarter. But it was too little and too late and the Big Red went down.

Its season's record was 8-and-12. Lineups:

Red collars Pirates, finishes 7-6 in league

Plymouth won it at the foul line at Sullivan Feb. 21, raising its Firelands conference record to 7-and-6, a considerable turnaround in one season.

The Big Red took on Black River, an upset winner over the Big Red here earlier, and made a first half lead stand up for a 59 to 53 victory.

The Pirates outscored Plymouth from the field, 24 to 22, and outpointed Plymouth in the last half by three.

Plymouth was afforded 24 free throws and converted 15 of them. The home team shot only six times and made five.

Plymouth led by five after eight minutes and by 10 at the half.

This was thanks to some good shooting by its scoring pair, Rodney Hampton, who concluded Firelands conference play with 22 points, and Tom Baker, another 12th grader, who scored 18.

Mike Clifford countered with 18 for the Pirates and Tom Channeil had 15.

By winning, Plymouth avenged a defeat on the Pirate floor last season on a night when illumination was less than suitable. And the victory also brought a positive league record and the opportunity for a 500 season.

For its part, Plymouth shot for field goal 54 times and was successful with 22 of them. It missed four of a dozen free throws.

Tom Baker, shooting from the extreme outside, wound up with 13 points. Mike McKenzie contributed 10.

For the visitors, Darin Miller scored 15 and Chris Roe 14.

Annette Carey guest of honor at shower

A pre-nuptial shower honoring Miss Annette Carey, who will be married to Gary Smith Mar. 17, took place at her home Feb. 26.

Mrs. Keith Clawson, Mrs. Donald Cunningham and Mrs. Mark Carey conducted the games.

Guests were Mrs. John Stephens, Mrs. Emory Smith, Mrs. Richard Smith, Mrs. John Smith, Mrs. James D. Cunningham, Jr., Miss Kitty Cunningham, Mrs. John Iale and daughter, Mrs. Robert Klgore and daughter, Mrs. Florence Beck, Mrs. Carey and daughter, Mrs. Paul Jones and daughter, Mrs. Ronald Carey and daughter, Mrs. Clawson and daughter, Mrs. Allen Carey and the guest of honor's mother, Mrs. Ray Carey.

24 games slated for baseball team

A slate of 24 varsity baseball games has been arranged for the Big Red team to be coached once again by David P. Dunn.

Dunn has some seasoned performers to rely upon.

Chief among them is a southpaw pitcher-outfielder, Rodney Hampton.

Tom Baker is an experienced infielder, probably best at second base but useful at shortstop and third base.

Darren Branham figures to come back. His forte is defense.

Brian Vredenburg and Chad McGinnis, outstanding contributors in football and basketball, are no less so in baseball, the former in left field, the latter in right. When Hampton is not pitching he plays center, giving the Big Red as strong as outfield as there is in the Firelands conference.

Jeff Leuch, who played about most of last season, will be back. He has a strong arm and his hitting is bound to improve.

Troy Keene was used primarily as designated hitter last year but is likely to be a first base candidate.

Joe Tuttle is another pitching candidate. There are those, admittedly some biased, who think he may become the best pitcher Plymouth has had in a dozen seasons.

Where Dunnans has to find capable replacements is a catcher, where Greg Polachek has departed via graduation; at first base, where Craig Thornsbury took his diploma and went off to college; at third base,

CHURCH NEWS

Prayer day here tomorrow

World Day of Prayer will be observed tomorrow at 10:30 a.m. in St. Joseph's Roman Catholic church. It will follow by a potluck luncheon in the church's social hall.

The local observance is sponsored by the church women of Plymouth and Shiloh, who invite the public and associates.

What of Mar. 17? Celebrate, match!

By AUNT LIZ

So another happy holiday is coming.

St. Patrick's day, which we all observe like mad, it is the best excuse for a good binge that I know about.

Even though part of us is really Irish, we have hardly observed it. Somehow we even forget to wear anything green.

The Irish are great about bread. This is for soda bread.

Combine a tablespoon of soda with four cups of flour, a table-spoon of sugar, some salt and a fourth of a teaspoon of cream of tartar. Mix. Add two cups of buttermilk and a tablespoon of butter.

Stir it until moist. Pat it on a floured board and knead it while you sing one verse of "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling", which is long enough.

Shape into a ball and put it on a greased cookie sheet. Make four slants in top and bake at 375 degrees for a little less than an hour. When it is done, brush the top with butter.

You can add raisins or caraway seeds with dry ingredients to give it more oomph.

If you want to observe the day, drop a little green coloring into the buttermilk.

As for dining atmospherically, put in green light bulbs. This the kids will think is great. You really can't be a mother unless you have a little imagination. But don't try it in kids too little or you will scare them out of their little minds.

Another "and" for the day: a small shamrock plant at each place can be something to keep and watch grow.

even with a sauce of mushrooms in melted butter and cheese over it.

There is always Irish stew, only with turnips and any other odd vegetables you might have growing.

OHIO NATURALLY

Two new accounts funded solely by contributions from Ohio's taxpayers will allow the Ohio Department of Natural Resources to become involved in additional preservation and management activities. Ohioans are now able to donate all or a portion of their personal state income tax return to these special accounts.

Created by law, a Natural Areas and Preserves Wildlife Special Account and a Nongame and Endangered Wildlife Special Account will generate money for vital conservation programs. Money contributed to these accounts will not supplement or replace budget appropriations, but will be designated for innovative projects which have not been undertaken due to funding shortages.

Making a donation is simple. Contributors designate the amounts and the funds they wish to support on lines 20 and 21 of the state income tax form. Then, these amounts are deducted from the total refund. Contributions can be made to one or both funds.

The Natural Areas and Preserves account will help protect the habitats of endangered plants and animals, and the state's nature preserves and scenic rivers. Donations will be used to develop visitor facilities, provide workshops and educational programs, and help to locate and preserve the last and best remaining natural areas in Ohio.

More than 1,000 species of wildlife not taken for sport or commercial purposes will be protected by the Nongame and Endangered Wildlife fund. The money will assist in the restoration of endangered wildlife populations and the reintroduction of species once extirpated from Ohio.

Ohioans not receiving a state income tax return can contribute to the funds by sending a check to:
