'Ohio Day'

The voice of The Advertiser —

Should matter be left as is?

The capable and experienced Congressman of the 13th district said at Greenwich Saturday, "Every Protestant denomination I can think of testified in Congressional hearings against prayer in the schools. The Roman Catholics are certainly not for it. The Jewish people are strongly against it. What it will all come down to, I suspect, is the wording of the proposed amendment. And depending on that wording, I'll take a stand and stick to it."

Mr. Pease isn't kidding anyone, and he certainly is not trying to do so, and he is not kidding himself. He well knows that a referendum would call for prayers in the schools by an overwhelming majority.

What is it that the proponents of prayer in the schools seek to achieve? As Miss Vandervort of Plymouth pointed out, incisively, on Saturday, pupils can pray now. There is no prohibition against praying by pupils at any time. Any basketball fan wrapped up in the March madness called tournaments can see for himself how players of parochial (read Roman Catholic) teams manifest their supplications to Him who oversees all of us.

Do they seek to improve the schools? Whom are they trying to fool? If prayer would have improved the schools, by itself, the line of those on their knees would have stretched from here to Vladivostok.

We presume that everyone agrees that, by whatever name He is called, there is only one God. Those who pray to Him may call Him by one name or another, but He is God, and so be it.

There is only one nation and only one flag. And there is only one national anthem.

If one can measure the degree of participation and proper conduct during the brief periods when at public gatherings those who live and work and play in this remarkable republic are called upon to pay proper respect to the flag and to the anthem and to take that measurement as a fair integer of what may transpire if and when voluntary prayer in the schools becomes law, we should all rightly conclude that Jerry Falwell and Jesse Helms and their cohorts who urge this amendment upon us are wasting their substance and ours.

It took this district 25 years to awaken to the evils of religious instruction in the public schools. The kind of product we're turning out, so far as we can see, is no less capable of dealing with its problems because it must now obtain its religious instruction at the place where He intended — in His house.

Inclement weather forced a postponement but second grader Mrs. J. Richard Mawhor marked "Ohio Day" Mar. 7, when parents visited. Brian Cibaugh, eight, Eric Rianer, seven, took part.

Foreclosure vs. Abel calls for sheriff sale

A sheriff's sale Apr. 2 at 10 a.m. on the north steps of the Huron county courthouse at Norwalk will deal with a foreclosure against Donald J. Abel, principal in the asphalt firm to which the village accorded title to land in the industrial park in return for some services.

Premises, described as parts of Lot 164, Section 4, New Haven township, lie along Route 598 about one half of a mile north of its intersection with Base Line road. They are appraised at $65,000 and may not be sold for less than two-thirds of that amount.

Plaintiff is Huron County Banking Co.

Kruger kin, Mrs. Chapman, succumbs at 65

Sister of Mrs. Harm S. Kruger, Route 598, Mrs. Keith Chapman, 65, Pt. Clinton, died in H. B. Magruder hospital there Mar. 6.

Born Wileta Ludie, daughter of John and Bessie Huber Ludey, in Greenville, she worked 20 years as a cook in Underwood's restaurant in Pt. Clinton. She retired in 1983. She was a member of and past president of the auxiliary, FOE-agies, and of the Women's Relief corps. She was secretary of the Wednesday Morning Coffee Bowling league and the Sunday Mixed Doubles league, both in Pt. Clinton. She married Mar. 27, 1946. Her husband also survives.

The Rev. Robert Scherfer, St. John's Lutheran church, conducted services Friday at 11 a.m. Burial was in Riverview cemetery. Memorial contributions are suggested to the Ottawa County Heart fund.

Atkinses get coin device — and $300!

A gum ball machine containing about $300 in cash and gumballs for any coin was the farewell gift of parishioners of First Evangelical Lutheran church to the Rev. Ronald Atkins Sunday during a potluck luncheon.

The machine was rigged to accommodate quarters, but a lesser coin produced a gumball also. The first gumball went to the Rev. Mr. Atkins's son, Brett.

The clergyman and his wife, the Rev. Pauline Atkins, Mt. Hope Lutheran church, Shiloh, are leaving to assume the roles of minister and associate minister of First Lutheran church, Dayton, a congregation of about 950 persons.

A cake baked to celebrate the occasion was served. Wallace H. Redden, John E. Heden and Freddy J. Buzard made remarks of farewell and appreciation and the minister photographed guests.

Schools advance Kinsel; one principal for grades

Reorganization of the administrative character of Plymouth schools was approved without dissent by the board of education Monday night.

The system of two separate elementary principals will be scrapped in favor of one principal and one assistant.

Edward M. Kinsel, senior administrator on the staff, will be elementary principal. Mark Sheely will be assistant.

Contracts for these administrators and for Jeffrey Slauson, high school principal, were renewed, Sheely and Slauson for three years, Kinsel two years.

Administrative reorganization will enable the district to serve all elementary pupils in one cohesive unit, rather than as two separate schools, Supt. Douglas Staggs said. "There will be more coordination between the two schools and the pupils who attend class in one school will go ahead with the same work as those in the other school."

High school commencement will be addressed by the two honor pupils, Loren Kranz and Daniel Spomer, the board ruled, on recommendation of the high school principal, who said the Class of 1984 voted to do this. No outside speaker will be engaged.

The schools last class did this four years ago, Charles Reinhart, member stated.

Owing to inclement weather, schools were closed for several days. Make-up days were approved thus: Apr. 19, a Thursday, for the day missed on Mar. 1; Calamity days of Jan. 10, 24 and 30 and Feb. 28 and 29 were approved.

All teachers will be notified as of Apr. of extra-curricular assignments open for the 1984-85 school year.

Scheduling of high school instructional assignments will be effected by computer. The district has entered a new consortium to perform these services, at a cost of $4.04 a pupil. The new arrangement is attractive, the board was told, because in time savings will accrue to each participant, around-the-clock use of the computer will become available to all participants, and ancillary use of the computer will furnish data about job availability.

Fazzini's reconciliation shows the village has $542,500 in investments and $86,511.79 in cash on deposit, showing the total assets of $629,011.79.

En route west in a 1969 Pontiac Catalina, he struck a tractor operated by Lewis LeMaster, 43, Noble road, which was backing into a driveway.

LeMaster was unhurt. Roger Shepher was taken to Willard by the Shiloh ambulance.

A native of Plymouth and mother of Mrs. Robert Boock, Shiloh, Mrs. Harold P. Teevens, 88, Woodlawn Nursing home, Mansfield, died in General hospital there Mar. 5.

She and her husband, who died earlier, formerly operated a business in Shiloh.

Mrs. Teevens was born Oct. 17, 1895 but lived most of her life in Mansfield, where she was communicant of St. Peter's Roman Catholic church and a member of the Daughters of Isabella. She was also a member of the auxiliary of MSC, Shiloh.

Sams, 76 Portner street, admitted he cashed on Jan. 27 a check drawn on an account in Willard United Bank that did not belong to him. The check was in the amount of $5,460.

He will be sentenced Mar. 30. Meanwhile, he remains in Huron county jail in lieu of $5,000 bond.

Baldrige fire occupies vamps

A plea of guilty to drunken driving was entered by Short. He was fined $300 plus costs and sentenced to three days in jail. His license was revoked for one year.

He also pleaded guilty to driving without a license. He was fined $50 and costs.

Legion to mark 65th anniversary

Ehret-Parsel Post 447, American Legion, will observe the 65th anniversary of the founding of the Legion at a potluck dinner tomorrow at 6 p.m.

Chicken and potatoes will be furnished. Each family is to bring a covered dish.

The Legion was founded Mar. 15, 1919 in Paris, France, by a group of American men who had served in World War I.

The idea quickly spread across the ocean and posts were established wherever there were returning men. The local post was founded June 1, 1920.

Founders were J. Elden Nimmons, Carl Mizner, Arthur E. Brumback, Ray E. Bixler, Paul C. Bassen and Otto A. Cuppen. Carl M. Kaylor, Arman H. Clark, James H. Wilson, Hal L. Cron, Lawrence E. Wilford, Frank J. Wick, Roscoe W.

No interest in library manifest at meeting

Turnout for discuss a new library building was disappointing, village planning commission says.

Five members of the commission, Mayor Dean A. Cline, Councilman Roy Barber, Miss Luella Vandervort, Doug DeWason and H. Lee Welzer, and out-of-town newspaper, and Mark Sheely, Plymouth Elementary school principal, attended.

The group toured the library and heard Mrs. J. Harold Cushman, librarian, say that if there were more room for more equipment, he is certain the circulation would double.

For years the library has been housed in the former Peyton W. Thomas home in West Broadway in a area of three rooms.

Mrs. Cushman says at one time purchase of the entire house was considered, but the arrangement of the building was not suitable for a library.

Another problem is that since the library is part of the Richland county system, it must be in that county. At one time, when the Charles H. Rhine Army building was available at little or no cost, it was not considered because it was in Huron county.

Over the years, Mrs. Cushman says, a building fund from memorial gifts has been built up and its balance now is about $15,000.

In other action during the meeting of the commission, the mayor said that membership on the planning and zoning commissions may not be simultaneous. Richard Wolfe, village solicitor, has advised him they should be separate bodies.

The mayor plans to sort out the members and make new appointments.

Becker and A. Brock Snider. The post was successor to McLaughlin Post, Grand Army of the Republic, organized here in 1884.

The local post, then called Ehret Post, named for Samuel Canton Ehret, a Navy ensign who died in France of a respiratory ailment, was formerly founded June 1, 1920 with 13 members, long since dead. J. Elden Nimmons was the first commander.

After World War II the name of the post was changed to Ehret-Parsel in honor of Capt. Elmer Parsel, who lost his life while serving in Army Air Corps near New Delhi, India.

After the dinner, pins will be presented for lengthy membership increments of five years. Ceremony for those who have never been formally initiated into the post will also take place.

Could village have survived without Fate-Root-Heath Co.?

"There wouldn't be a Plymouth today, probably, if it weren't for Fate-Root-Heath Co."

That statement comes closer to the truth than any which relates to the history of the village.

All of its originators save one, Percy H. Root, have died. He is now 83, semi-retired.

With his father, the late Clayton F. Root, and his brother-in-law, the late Charles E. Heath, who married Mabel E. Root in 1892, Percy Root and his brothers, the late John A. Root and Halsey F. Root, came here in 1893 from Medina. They occupied a building offered by the village. It is now Plant No. 4 of the company.

The Root Bros. Co. then manufactured a cobbler's outfit. On a cold night in March the equipment of the firm was moved in box cars on the P. A. and W. railroad, predecessor of the Akron, Canton and Youngstown.

IN 1902 THE FIRM INCORPORATED. Clayton F. Root was elected president, Charles E. Heath vice-president and general manager, John A. Root treasurer, Halsey F. Root secretary and Percy H. Root superintendent.

Root Bros. Co., also known as the Heath Foundry & Manufacturing Co., merged with the J. D. Fate Co. in 1918.

This company was the brainchild of John D. Fate, Jr., who associated with E. M. Freese to form Ohio Brick & Tile Machinery Co. at Crestline in 1879. In 1881 the firm moved here.

In 1890, Fate sold his interest to Freese and organized the Fate & Gunsallus Co., in 1891, to make brick and tile machinery. Seven years later, he admitted his sons to partnership. Harley H. Fate was elected vice-president, George B. Drennan treasurer and Miss Edith K. Drennan secretary. She was the first woman to be elected to any responsible office, public or private, in the village.

When John D. Fate died in September, 1902, Harley was named president, Harry Fate vice-president and Drennan secretary and treasurer.

Death of Harry Fate in 1918, two years after Harley died, prompted the merger of the two companies. This was finally effected in 1919.

IN ADDITION TO THE manufacture of brick and tile machinery which it inherited from the Fate firm, the new organization continued the manufacture of industrial locomotives, first of which it undertook in 1914, after designs by the late Floyd B. Carter, chief engineer. From 1907 to 1913, the firm built the Plymouth Motor truck.

The first friction-drive locomotive drew broad interest in the trades for which it designed. Ultimately 1 of them were sold.

In 1937, Carter designed larger locomotives, up to tons, utilizing planetary transmissions, with side drives. Electric and Diesel geared locomotives have 1 normal since. In 1903, the company's predecessor had acquired half interest in a patent owned by William H. Fetters for the manufacture of a machine to sharpen lawn mowers.

This was the beginning of the grinder division, which today occupies the first building acquired by the company, naturally enlarged to 175 by 50 feet.

THE FIRM HAS PRESIDENTLY an employment of about 300. Descendants of the original incorporators, or their kin by marriage, hold the principal offices of the company.

Chairman of the board is John F. Root, elder son of John A. Root. His brother, H. James, is president.

Miles W. Christian, who married G. Emeline Fate Simmons, daughter of Harley Fate, is vice-president and general manager.

Joy W. Herbert, his brother-in-law, who married the elder daughter of Harley Fate, is a director.

Paul H. and Thomas F. Root, sons of Percy H. Root, are vice-presidents. So is Robert Heath Root, son of

A labor of love, with respect

This sesquicentennial edition represents the best efforts of The Advertiser in presenting a clear and responsible account of 150 years of the village's history.

It was planned to be a history in three parts: what happened, what people did over 150 years, and who they were.

We have always believed that to study and/or write history, one should always ask "why?"

If history is to teach lessons, its student must always inquire why an event occurred, why a man or woman did what he or she did, or didn't do, why people behaved or failed to behave in their own best interests.

So far as we have been able, that is what we have done in this edition.

Although most of the work was done by the editor and his wife, special thanks are due many people for their kind and willing assistance: State Sen. Don J. Pease, Rep. Richard M. Christiansen, Rep. Charles A. Mosher, Mrs. Peyton W. Thomas, Miss Florence Danner, David H. Bachrach, John Bradford, William P. Day, Carl V. Ellis, Mrs. Kenneth V. Myers, Thurman R. Ford, Nathaniel Spear, Jr., and others.

The Advertiser's loyal staff, Donald H. Newton, Paul A. Zipfel, Donald E. Williams and Mrs. Samuel Carter, were faithful in carrying out the plans of the editor.

Special thanks are due A. L. Paddock, 3rd, for his assistance.

If this effort falls short of its aims, the editor is solely at fault.

His wife has been patient, forbearing and loyal to his plan. To her he owes much more than he can ever pay. And to her, he hastens to point out, her adopted community owes the thanks due a painstaking researcher who has a warm and generous spirit for the glorious past.

The meat of this edition was carved by her. And it is to her that this sesquicentennial edition, of which she is in fact the principal architect, is lovingly dedicated.

Higher academic requirements for participation in extracurricular activities and upgrading of such requirements on a phased-in basis were urged Mar. 12 by the state board of education.

It is the goal of the state board of education to achieve excellence in all aspects of education. "State Supt. of Public Instruction Franklin B. Walker said. "The state board of education is continuing to demonstrate its commitment to academic excellence by requesting school districts to examine their policies for participation in extracurricular activities."

The board further requested the Ohio High School Athletic association to continue to review its academic requirements for participation in extracurricular activities and give serious consideration to the upgrading of such requirements on a phased-in basis.

Present rules allow those D's and two F's. Some want the level raised to 1.5 cumulative grade-point average.

The board also adopted proposed rules for licensing school district treasurers and business managers.

In accordance with Am. Sub. H.B. 291, the board is required to establish standards for licensing school district treasurers and business managers, for the renewal of such licenses, and for the issuance of duplicate copies of licenses. Previously the law only required standards for employment qualifications of treasurers. A public hearing state board urges school districts to examine academic requirements enacted in Am. Sub. H.B. 291. A public hearing was held on the proposed rule on Nov. 14. The new rule will become effective Apr. 1.

OHIO NATURALLY

Two new accounts funded solely by contributions from Ohio's taxpayers will allow the Ohio Department of Natural Resources to become involved in additional preservation and management activities. Ohioans are now able to donate all or a portion of their personal state income tax return to these special accounts.

Created by law, a Natural Areas and Preserves Special Account and a Nongame and Endangered Wildlife Special Account will generate money for vital conservation programs. Money contributed to these accounts will not supplement or replace budget appropriations, but will be designated for innovative projects which have not been undertaken due to funding shortages.

Making a donation is simple. Contributors designate the amounts and the funds they wish to support on lines 20 and 21 of the state income tax form. Then, these amounts are deducted from the total refund. Contributions can be made to one or both funds.

The Natural Areas and Preserves account will help protect the habitats of endangered plants and animals, and the state's nature preserves and scenic rivers. Donations will be used to develop visitor facilities, provide workshops and educational programs, and help to locate and preserve the last and best remaining natural areas in Ohio.

More than 1,000 species of wildlife not taken for sport or commercial purposes will be protected by the Nongame and Endangered Wildlife fund. The money will assist in the restoration of endangered wildlife populations and the reintroduction of species once extirpated from Ohio.

Ohioans not receiving a state income tax return can contribute to the funds by sending a check to:

 Here's How: When you stop your car, turn off the ignition. Even a minute's idling uses more fuel than starting again. You waste money and gasoline when you let your motor idle endlessly.
