Village to seek federal grant to fund industry development

Application for an Urban Development grant was approved by village council Tuesday night. This type of grant can be used by the village as a "loan" to a business or industry that has no other resources to raise sums for expansion.
 It is loaned at a low interest rate and when it is repaid, the principal and interest belong to the village.
 Councilman Keith Hebble introduced the subject and said James C. Root, village administrator, had two companies more or less lined up.

Both are in Shelby.
 Central State Welded Tube needs room to expand and has

Printing of children set again

A second session of fingerprinting of children and the showing of films designed to prevent child abuse and abduction will be conducted Saturday at 1 p.m. in Ehret-Parrel Post 447, American Legion, by the auxiliary of the post and Plymouth Police department.

"We want to emphasize," Police Chief Frank Hodge says, "that the police do not keep these fingerprints. They are given to the parent or guardian. No copies, I repeat, no copies are retained by the police. The prints are taken so that if, in the future, a child should disappear, there will be some record of his identity. But this record will be kept by his parent or guardian. Of course, there is no charge for this."

The Equal Payment Plan.

A convenient way to budget for your electric bill.

Some household expenses are fairly steady throughout the year. But your electric bill varies from month to month because your electric usage fluctuates with the changing seasons. The bill is usually higher in the winter. It dips a little in the spring months, then, for most people, rises during the air conditioning season, before dropping again in the fall.

We can't do anything about the weather, but we can help you smooth out the ups and downs of your electric bill. And that's by offering you our Equal Payment Plan.

With the Equal Payment Plan, we bill you a fixed amount each month based on your average yearly usage.

Your account is reviewed every six months to see that your budget payment is still as close as possible to your average use. At the end of the twelfth month you'll receive a settle-up bill or a credit.

Many of our customers are already taking advantage of the Equal Payment Plan. If it sounds like a good idea to you, simply contact us. We'll take it from there.

We give it our best.

You can't see a natural gas leak, but you can look for some common signs.

Unfortunately, natural gas is invisible. And by itself, natural gas is odorless. That's why we add a distinctive smell before it enters your home. For your protection. Although natural gas leaks are uncommon, we add that smell so you'll be able to recognize them should one ever occur. There are other recognizable signs, too. And it's important that you know them, and know what to do should you spot one.

Common signs include: A smell of gas inside or outside. A hissing noise. Blowing dirt. Bubbling water over a submerged pipe. Or dying vegetation around service lines.

If you smell gas in or around your home: First check to see if a pilot light or burner may be out. If not, and you still sense a leak, call your gas company. Be aware the source of a gas odor could be external — gas from service lines or street mains that could migrate into your premises through walls or drain lines.

If you are inside and detect the odor of gas: Open doors and windows. Shut off gas appliance valves or meter valve. Don't use matches, electric switches or appliances. If the odor is strong, leave the house, call your gas company from nearby and stay there until a representative arrives.

If you are outside in an open area: Eliminate, if possible, potential sources for ignition and leave the area. Call your gas company from another location.

Columbia Gas is concerned about your safety, and we're proud to say calls reporting leaks are low. If you or someone in your family isn't familiar with the smell of gas, call your Columbia Gas offices and ask for a scented folder. Together we can keep your natural gas service safe and efficient.

Edison weeds out candidates

By THE OLD TIMER
Edison High school was to announce yesterday who will succeed Jim Whittington as athletic director and/or football coach. Latest report was that the powers-that-be at Edison were considering both options: an athletic director-teacher and an athletic director-football coach. There was no dearth of candidates.

Neither is there a shortage of candidates for the basketball job. Rob Winton was forced to vacate at New London. Among those seeking the job are three who were eminently successful in the Fire-lanes conference previously, including one who coached the Wildcats, and the late departed head coach of Cleveland State university's quintet.

No determination has yet been made but some of the applications have been weeded out. What New London wants is an experienced coach with a winning record who's old enough to be expected to be mature and young enough to relate to a group of players who've been losing too long.

Some local mentors have actively been seeking other posts. FRESHEST idea to solve the perpetual problem of umpires for midlevel league games is to recruit girls, pay them a small amount when they're trained, and support them when the bitter parent matures and the umpire for all-comings of the child, not the official.

"Girls of the early teens are more dependable than boys," says the proponent of this idea. "Daily newspapers can attest that girls are more faithful carriers than boys, taken on the whole; they don't get distracted by corner lot ball games and scimmages. There's no reason why a girl can't learn the rules of baseball as well as boys. There's a young woman from W. Willard, Pam Postema, who's calling 'em in the Class AAA Pacific Ocean league and I, given a successful season, may very well be in the bigs next year."

NORWALK'S new athletic plant at Baines park is something else. Hindsight is always 20/20. It's a pity the backstop for the No. 3 baseball diamond is so close to home plate. But it's obvious what the trust was, and it's baseball has taken over from baseball. Save for at most eight weeks in April and May, hardly any baseball is played anywhere, although Norwalk exceeds the average by a good deal.

AND SPEAKING of beerball, the entry by Charley Mack in the Tuesday Night league at Mans field is an early favorite to win the crown. The resident expert says Mack's need some luck — as who doesn't? — but ought to be on top when the curtain rings down.

Village seeks federal grant

Perry Jump, head of the village electric department, explained insurance companies are forcing such agreements upon communities because of their coverage should an accident occur while a village employee is in another community. This agreement, he said, makes certain there is insurance coverage under all circumstances.

Jump said the state is divided into four sections. Plymouth is under the Green Sector, which covers the north-central part of the state.

Communities within it are Sycamore, Galion, Lucas, Shelby, Spencere, Wharton, Milan, Oberlin, Carey, Greenwich, Republic, Shiloh, Monroeville, Wellington, Alhambra, Grafton, Columbus and Westerville.

Councilman Roy Barber said the village financial report for April was in good order. He added there has been an 18 per cent increase in insurance benefits and suggested perhaps the village should be looking for other coverage. He also suggested that several municipalities should get together to see what group action could be undertaken.

Councilman Bill Taulbee reported a new building for equipment is badly needed at the cemetery. He said there has been a 15 per cent increase in insurance benefits and suggested perhaps the village should be looking for other coverage. He also suggested that several municipalities should get together to see what group action could be undertaken.

Taulbee said there is a chance the Plymouth Historical society, when it is formed, may be interested in maintaining it as an historical site.

Estimates to repair the roof of the water plant are being obtained, he said.

Police Chief Frank Hodge presented his monthly report and Fight cancer with your bare hands.

The best way to guard against breast cancer is right in your hands. It's called breast self-examination. You see, changes are continuously taking place in your body. That's why a monthly breast self-examination is so important. Ask your doctor to teach you the best self-examination. And while you're at it, ask about mammography — a low dose breast x-ray. What kind of gift to buy

By AUNT LIZ

There is one thing that is certain in this world, you cannot stop one day from following the one before.

Soon we will all be getting Christmas catalogues in the mail. We are almost half way there.

But right now it is June brides, although June is no longer the really big month it was for wedding years back.

There are thousands of us, though, who were married in June and there was a darn good reason for it. World War II was really over and everyone got back to real living about then. I know I wrote the discharge papers for thousands of guys on the east coast, and I am willing to bet that they all rushed right out and got married, clutching that nice discharge check they had. Every enlisted Marine got mustering out pay of $200, which was a lot then.

What to give a young couple can be a problem. I have always said, "Give them some little luxury that they will not buy for themselves."

Being a little old fashioned, I really think that a young couple that is getting married should have been thinking about it all ahead of time and managed to buy some of the real necessities, like sheets, bath towels and a few pots and pans.

I cannot remember how many times that I heard a young bride-to-be didn't even have a towel stashed away. They just hoped a few showers would do it.

There was a time when mothers would stash things away, hoping their daughters would get married and out of their hair. Mine did. I still have some of the sheets and tablecloths from back then. They are stashed away in the cedar chest. They are beautiful materials but require ironing. Need I say any more? They will stay stashed. Usually in buying a gift, everyone heads for the houseware department.

A new house can use anything shiny and new, but you can also be practical, even though you have a lovely piece of glass would be great.

Head for the tool department. No matter who you are, some things are really needed like a good hammer, pliers, two types of screw drivers, flashlights and an assortment of little nails for this and that. Throw in some good Scotch tape. Sure, they sound dumb, but when you have to rush out to buy when they can add up.

Another idea is to stock a medicine cabinet with just the necessities, like bandaids, rubbing alcohol, stuff for colds and their favorite brands of toothpaste and soap, and even those spray cans of room fresheners.

These little things can fill up a nice box. And never underestimate the lovely dish cloth. They are needed and last Christmas our daughter-in-law had them on her list.

The big catch is that these are not lasting as a wedding present should be, but they sure help a young budget over the hump. If you don't agree, you can always find a beautiful piece of water-proof or an original painting around. And this is our gift to any bride who will read this or their mothers.

It is an old, old recipe that a friend gave me and it goes way back to the gold used in wood burning cook stoves and it still works.

It's for biscuits that are real and great for short cake.

Mix two cups of flour with four teaspoons of sugar, some salt and three teaspoons baking powder. Then work in a half cup of lard, nothing else. Slowly blend in somewhere between two-thirds and a cup of lard, mixing as you pour until it looks and feels right, not too stiff and not too thin.

Drop on a buttered cookie sheet in sizes you want and bake at 400 degrees until they look done.

Cooking can be plain guess work. Nothing is cut and dry, really, so you are not cooking but "creating."

Plymouth High school's Class 1934 is planning its 50th anniversary reunion, but no date has been chosen.

It was the first class to be graduated in the school's auditorium. In previous years the commencement was rotated among the village churches.

It also has the distinction of having twice as many girls as boys, 14 versus seven.

These are W. Lawrence Cornell, Sam Fazio, Carl Fox, Richard Major, James C. Root, Paul Stoodt.

Also, James Bachrach, Lenora Cornell, Doris Cramer, Helen Dick, Clara Fogel, Gwendolyn Forsythe, Mary Gundynio, Lois Hatch, Lenora Lee, Lois Miller, Ruth Moore, Zella Rackman, Loris Teal and Barbara Turson.

Friendly Town program, directed by Mrs. Ivan Rhodes, Willettside, does not sign away its Plymouth to which to send inner-city children for a week or two weeks during the summer.

It's no problem to sign up, and one need not sign away his household or anything of the sort, Mrs. Rhodes says. "These inner-city children have come here before - not these, but children like them - and they were happy and so, far as I am aware, nobody hereabouts who has a host family or is unhappy. It is a desirable program and anyone wishing one or more children may call me."

Dyers' kin, Marine Reed end training

Grandson of the Kermit Dyers, Route 603, Shiloh, Airman Russell A. Estes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell A. Estes, West Bath, Me., has completed Air Force basic training at Lackland Air Force base, Texas.

Estes is a 1953 graduate of Morse High school, Bath.

Pvt. 1st Class Richard Todd Reed, USMC, has completed five days of special training at Camp Perry, Ft. Clinton. He underwent exercises in close order drill, the M-16 rifle, interior guard duty, physical training, ESP and first aid as well as helicopter orientation.

He is the son of the Robert Reeds, Mills road.

Sir: I kind of doubt you will publish this but I hope I am wrong and you do. It seems for the past few weeks there has been a few editorials and opinions expressed in this paper.

So now I figured it is time the editorial and opinion of the student should be granted equal time. First I would like to thank the group of this community who showed up for this year's musical and conference choir performances.

It was very encouraging and rewarding to know a few people in this town care. Granted things come up and some can't make it due to last minute happenings. But what's wrong with the other per cent of the town? In response to the remark made in the paper the week before that the musical was poorly advertised is greatly resented by me, if that be the case, how did the people who did show up find out about it? I'll never be sure through pure accident. If people would open their eyes and ears they would know it was sent to radio stations, newspapers and posters were made. They were listed in the stores and on bulletin boards throughout the town. The cast and director put in long hard hours to make the music program in this town a success. And we take GREAT pride in what we do, so please next time try to come up with a better excuse for not supporting us.

By the way, Plymouth's best choir concert will be May 17th. As advertised in The Plymouth Advertiser.

It has not been edited to conform to what is the truth, which is that The Advertiser encountered more difficulty in obtaining even the most rudimentary data about the musical than at any time in the 30-year tenure of its management.)

If you don't like thinking about safety think where you might be without it

A reminder from the National Safety Council: A non-profit, non-governmental public service organization. Our only goal is a safer America.

Here comes man's best friend.

Since the invention of the printing press, nothing has filled modern man's need for information as objectively and reliably as the newspaper. Whether it's your hometown weekly or a multi-edition daily, nothing else even comes close.

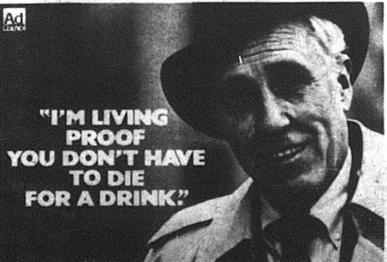

Today, newspapers are covering more of the news, in greater detail, than any other medium can. Did you know that three times as many people read newspapers every day as watch a network news program (137 million vs. 45 million)? Or that newspapers place more advertising than do T.V., radio and magazines combined?

As timely as this morning's events, and as timeless as the words of Benjamin Franklin and Thomas Jefferson, the newspaper is a friend and servant to all. And it's even more vital to your life today than ever before.

Get ahead in your reading—read the newspaper.

New Variable Interest Rate.
Finding the ideal investment is something everyone dreams about. One with a variable interest rate. One that lets you share in the rates offered in today's securities market.
But it must be safe. A plan where rates can't drop below a certain level.
Sound too good to be true? Well, it is available to everyone, even the saver with as little as $25 to invest.
It's the U.S. Savings Bond. A vastly improved Savings Bond that changed from a fixed to a variable interest rate. There is no limit on how high the rates can go.
A Guaranteed Minimum:
Although interest rates will fluctuate, you're protected by a guaranteed minimum. And if you hold your Bonds to maturity, you'll absolutely double your money. You may do even better.
So take another look at Savings Bonds. We did, and then we made them better.

AND NOW THE REALLY BAD NEWS.

The disaster isn't over when the emergency teams leave. For tonight these families need food, clothing, shelter. Tomorrow they'll start rebuilding their lives. And that takes months. The good news is that the Red Cross will help these families every step of the way. No matter how long it takes. If you ever need the Red Cross, you can bet we'll be there. We'll help. Will you?

The scars of an abused child can stay with us all his life.

Many teenage drug addicts and teenage prostitutes report being abused children. Many juvenile delinquents also report being abused as children. And because we pay to respond to those problems, we are all victims of child abuse.

Yet child abuse, and the results of abuse, can be prevented. The National Committee for Prevention of Child Abuse is a private, charitable organization that knows how to do it. But we need your help. We need money. We need volunteers. Send us your check today, or write for our booklet. Because if we don't all start somewhere, we won't get anywhere.

Help us get to the heart of the problem.
