

Prints of children set here

Postponed earlier because of inclement weather, fingerprinting of any child of whatever age will be offered free by the auxiliary, Ebert-Parset Post 447, American Legion, Saturday from 1 to 2:30 p.m. in the Legion hall at 112 Truss street.

A deputy sheriff of Richland county and a Plymouth policeman will discuss use of the fingerprints by parents, to whom all fingerprints will be given on Saturday.

Donald J. Pease, D-Oberlin, 11th district, faces primary opposition from two contestants in Tuesday's election.

Fellowship day

May Fellowship day will be celebrated by Church Women tomorrow in First Evangelical Lutheran church.

Written by the Hispanic women of America, it celebrates the heritage and customs of Spanish-speaking families in the United States.

Program at 10:30 a.m. followed by a covered dish luncheon. Public is welcome.

Abuse of card nettles alumna

A 1935 alumna of Plymouth High school, several times a grandmother after an honorable career as a federal civil servant, relied on the law last week to find an errand granddaughter whom she accuses of fraud.

Mrs. Arthur Nordyke, nee Maugerite Post, 268 Plymouth street, told Richland county sheriff's deputies she gave her credit card to a granddaughter for the sole purpose of buying a pair of pants. It was understood the card was to be returned to her immediately after the transaction was made.

Imagine her surprise when the card wasn't returned and shortly thereafter she got a bill for over $800, all for items charged on the credit card at stores in Mansfield, Marion and Bucyrus.

What's more, she can't find the granddaughter. To do so, she sought the help of the law.

Mrs. Ellis succumbs suddenly at 80

Mrs. Carl V. Ellis, 80, 98 West Broadway, was dead on arrival at Willard Area hospital Apr. 24. She was stricken at her home.

Born Mary Elizabeth Plough at Greenwich, she was a product of Greenwich High school. She married Dec. 23, 1926. She served as worthy matron and in other offices of the OES chapter at Greenwich, where she came to Plymouth in 1935, she served in several offices and for a long time as organist of Plymouth Chapter, 231, OES, which conducted memorial services Thursday evening at McQuate-Scor Funeral home.

After her husband was elected village clerk in 1953, she became utility clerk and served in that capacity until he was defeated 12 years later.

On Dec. 23, 1976, they celebrated their golden anniversary in the church of which she was a member, First Evangelical Lutheran.

Mrs. Ellis was also a member of Esther Taylor Bricker Tent, DUV, and often participated in the ceremonial laying of wreaths at the cemetery in Greenlawn cemetery on Memorial day.

Her husband survives. The Rev. Julian Taggart, First United Methodist church, dean of the ministerial corps here, conducted services from the funeral home Friday at 1 p.m. Interment was in Greenlawn cemetery, of which her husband has long been a trustee.

Escapee found dead Coroner rules Manley took own life

The 27-year-old convict who escaped from Mansfield Reformatory Apr. 12 and shot on Apr. 13 a sheriff's deputy in Free road west of Shiloh before fleeing was found dead Apr. 23 in a field in a wooded area near the farm of John Swartz in Kester road.

Dr. William Jeffrey, Richland county coroner, ruled Mark Manley died by his own hand on the previous Saturday, Apr. 21. Instrument of death was the shotgun he stole from the sheriff's car driven by Deputy Edward Ernaberger.

The body was found by Alfred Leid, 19, Shiloh route 2, at about 10:30 a.m.

Manley scuffled with Ernaberger, who was examining a knapsack carried by Manley, whom he had stopped for questioning on the grounds his actions were suspicious, and took his revolver. He shot the deputy three times. Only a bullet-proof vest worn by the officer prevented a wound that might have been fatal.

He is on sick leave with wounds to the solar plexus and back. His guard dog, Bear, also shot by Manley, whose body was identified by his family and brother, all of Bryan, in Williams county, was treated by Dr. W. B. Wright, Shelby veterinarian.

Leid told police he was walking on his father's land to pick up gas cans for a chain saw when he found Manley's body, lying against a brush pile.

Leid said later he walked toward the Swartz farm to summon help. Sheriff Richard Pettv and a covey of law enforcement people, later to include the prosecutor, John Allen, and the coroner, reported to the scene.

The shotgun was identified as that taken from Ernaberger's car on Apr. 13.

A manhunt was immediately organized when word of Ernaberger's shooting reached the sheriff's office. Helicopters circled Shiloh and environs the night of Apr. 13 until the early hours of Apr. 14.

On Apr. 16, on a report given to Plymouth police by a small boy, another manhunt concentrated on the area north of the village. Mrs. William Chapman reported she had seen a suspicious person in the neighborhood. Two days later, Seneca county areas bordering on Huron and Crawford counties were searched because a report that a man answering Manley's description was seen there.

But Manley went no farther than Cass township, only a scant 12 miles from his place of incarceration.

It is surmised that Manley furtively made his way from the site of Free road where he shot Ernaberger to the place where he took his own life, as the crow flies about two miles, between the dinner hour on Apr. 13 and the time when he took his own life on Apr. 21.

Sentenced six months ago to a year in jail on conviction of assault of his wife, Wendy, former police chief Robert Conley was released from custody at Mansfield Apr. 25 and placed on five years of probation.

He is under order of Judge Nelson Kimerline, Crawford county, who sat on the case because Judge Max K. Chilcote said he had dealt with Conley when he was a sheriff's deputy, to refrain from "annoying harassing or ever coming into contact" with his former wife, whom he attacked Apr. 22, 1983, when she returned to her home in Mansfield.

When Conley eventually changed his plea to one of guilty, Judge Kimerline sentenced him to five to 15 years in the penitentiary but suspended the sentence and put him on five years of probation with a year in the county jail. To incarcerate him in a reformatory, it was then said, "would be his death warrant."

After two months in jail, Conley, 37, sought and was accorded the privilege of leaving jail to attend classes in Mansfield Business college.

Risner found guilty Defendant flees jurisdiction of court

Goble Risner was convicted on four charges Friday by Judge James Henson in Shelby Municipal court. A warrant has been issued for his arrest. It has not yet been served.

The Risner family apparently moved from its Riggs street residence Thursday night.

Risner failed to appear in court Friday mornings as his trial please see page 5

For Hart, Pease, Wenning, Popp, Mrs. Cook, Judge Chilcote, Palm, Colvin

The primary election on Tuesday next is no more nor less than what transpires at the lodge on Thursday night. Or Wednesday night. Or whenever the lodge meets.

It is a private affair. In this state, anyway. Which is to say, one must be a Republican in good standing (which means that he must have declared his fealty to that party in some federal fashion acceptable to the board of elections) in order to participate in that election. He can't vote for a Democratic candidate unless he goes through a somewhat complicated procedure to divest himself of Republicanism.

Why mention this? Because one who has declared himself to be a member of one party may be accused of practicing without a license if he presumes to suggest whom the other party should nominate unless he has acquired some special expertise.

What expertise? The same sort of expertise that characterizes the umpire who lives in Cleveland and presumes to be fair to both the Cleveland team and the visitors. The rules are the rules. Personal preferences, or what's good for one's party, simply should not enter into any consideration of what's good for the other party.

It is from this concept that we step somewhat gingerly into Tuesday's primary contests.

We think that Gary Hart would make a more formidable opponent to Mr. Reagan than any of his opponents and we urge Democrats to choose his delegates.

In Richland county, Mr. Wenning and Mrs. Thompson seem to us to be the preferred candidates for commissioner. At least, it is our view that they are likely to make the strongest race against the incumbent, Mr. Wolf, in the case of Mr. Wenning, and the strongest race against the challenger, Mr. Olson, in the case of Mrs. Thompson.

Republicans in Richland county don't have many choices to make.

Stan W. Popp strikes us as the superior candidate for sheriff. We think he can make a strong race against the incumbent, Richard Pettv, with whose record we have from time to time taken issue, albeit not publicly.

Mrs. Cook's experience as clerk of Mifflin township has won the praise of Democrats and Republicans alike. Her opponent, Michael Smith, is a man of fine character and considerable knowledge. But he doesn't have the immediate grasp of the intricacies of managing a treasurer's office, as does Mrs. Cook. Besides, we think it's long past time that a capable woman is chosen to serve the county at an administrative, as distinguished from a policy-making office (where those who have been elected have, for the most part, done very well indeed) Vote for Mrs. Cook.

Judge Chilcote hasn't done anything to give any cause for his dismissal from the bench. He has riled some of the party actives, which is probably good for them, but he has, we repeat, not done anything to give cause for his dismissal. On the contrary, he has conducted himself with circumspection and the decency one expects of a jurist. Vote for Judge Chilcote.

Huron countians will, we think, be well advised to opt for the candidacy of Donald J. Pease for reelection to the Congress. He seeks a fifth term. He has earned his keep for eight years. He serves the district faithfully and with much vigor. He has developed a very considerable expertise in his special field of interest, which is the budget, and he has acquitted himself well.

He has survived major surgery splendidly. He is in full vigor and merits reelection. Now and in November.

Republicans in Huron county must choose between George Ford and Michael R. Fegan to run for prosecutor. Fegan ran once before and was beaten. Ford got out of the prosecutor's office for reasons of policy. Each, we think, is capable. If it's important to have a political officer (and we don't think it is, and would prefer otherwise) in the prosecutor's chair, then Republicans must ask themselves, "Who can carry Norwalk strongly enough to prevail throughout the county? That's probably Fegan.

They should certainly opt for Roy Palm for commissioner. We've argued with him, unsuccessfully, we think, but emphatically nonetheless, on one issue that riled us. We very much doubt he'd take that stance, at least publicly, again. He has grown in office. He is at the height of his powers. He merits renomination.

Democrats have only one choice to make, for commissioner. Douglas Colvin appears to us to have earned the nomination and we urge Democrats to do just that.

An issue of importance on the Huron county ballot deserves the consideration of everyone. The mental health levy is a renewal. Its approval is essential. Vote yes.

If you're older, don't wear scanty suit!

By AUNT LIZ
There must be millions of people in their 60's and 70's who go swimming and love it.
But their names are not Reagan. By now everyone has seen the picture from Hawaii of the two of them having a ball in the blue Pacific.

In a way, they never should have let the picture be taken (Ed. Note: By what right?), but on the other hand, they are simply two human beings acting like human beings and having fun.

For years I have volunteered that I would tinker with clothes on when someone tooted a shady magazine down in front of me and said, "Look at THAT!"

I have seen some really nice centerfolds over the years, and frankly I do not blame the gals who posed for them. Pure cash was involved, and everyone needs to eat.

My feelings are the same for the so-called ladies of the night. They have been around since the beginning of history. If they want to take up the profession, that is their business, but what they will produce is already in the stores from the states that have warmer weather.

almost if not entirely. They are being replaced by high school kids and wives who need a little extra moola or are a little bored.

And how did a really old-fashioned really decent grandmother get into this subject? Nancy in her bathing suit, I guess, did it. I do hope she has learned her lesson and will always be photographed in her lovely clothes, which are simple and so nice. She is always getting her picture taken, and it does my heart good to see she is wearing something that has been photographed before. This is a real, economical wife.

What I would be writing in about food. This is the kind of in-between time. No one's garden is producing yet, but what they will produce is already in the stores from the states that have warmer weather.

No one is waiting for local straw-berries, which are over a month away, but rushing out to buy what has come in. It's the same with all the other stuff. So while you are gathering up your zucchini recipes that you will need for the future, try something you can just buy. At least you can buy the hard part of it all. This is for Napoleon.

which are among the very best French pastries you can ever eat.

Instead of spending a day making the puff paste, you can now buy it in a package and just follow the directions on the box to bake it. It comes frozen but takes little time to thaw out, so this can be a quick, last minute dessert.

After it is aged, you layer a luscious creme filling on it. Mix three egg yolks with a half cup of sugar and thoroughly beat until it is lemon colored. Add a half teaspoon of the best vanilla you can find. Mix in a half cup of flour, and beat again.

Do this in a sauce pan rather than a mixing bowl, and you will save yourself from washing another piece.

Bring a cup of milk to a boil and add it to the egg mixture. Beat really hard with a whisk over medium heat until it thickens. Let it cool.

Whip a fourth of a cup of thick cream. Add a teaspoon of sugar to it.

Fold this into the cooled egg mixture, and spread on a piece of puff paste, put another one on top, spread it and add a third one. This makes one healthy serving.

Winton quits by request at New London

Head basketball coach at New London, Roy Winton has resigned. He has just completed his fourth season at the helm of the Wildcats.

He is in the midst of a three-year contract with the New London district but says he will seek a coaching post at a higher level.

The 28-year-old Winton began his coaching career at Admiral King at Lorain, under Mitch Gillam, whom he served two years.

Jim Van Sickle, athletic director at New London, says the school is looking for a seasoned coach to replace Winton.

Editor writes 'Bottom Line' in magazine

"The Bottom Line", a piece about costs of owning, training and competing a standardized horse in Ohio tracks, is the work of A. L. Paddock, Jr., editor and publisher of this newspaper, that appears in the May-June issue of Hub Rail, a nationally circulated magazine devoted to the standardized industry.

He was earlier the writer of "The Greening of a Young Man", a nostalgic piece about his experiences with harness horses, some of them belonging to his late father, when he was a boy.
Another nostalgic work, "I Love You, Gill Capron", is scheduled for the July-August issue.

Two fined $25 each for burning

Two cases were heard in Mayor Dean A. Cline's court Apr. 24.

Thomas F. Kibbens, Greenwich, and Bertha Sexton, Plymouth, pleaded guilty to illegal open burning and were fined $25 and court costs.

Robert O. Hall, Mansfield, paid a waiver of $30 for speeding.

Eagles overcome Red in FC, 7 to 1

Monroeville took an early lead against Plymouth on the Big Red field Apr. 25 and came away with a 7 to 1 Firelands conference victory.

Tom Schaffer and Bob Stacey hurried for the Eagles' limiting Plymouth to just three safeties.

Stacey fanned one and walked three. Schaffer struck out three and passed two.

Their opponent was Rodney Hampton, who also allowed three hits. But he issued 11 bases on balls, which killed the Big Red. Hampton fanned four.

Steve Hall had two safeties for the losers, Pfeiffer two for the winners.

Red loses two in league play

Big Red did not do well in Firelands conference play this week.

On Friday Plymouth was clobbered by New London, then 14 to 3. Monday, Western Reserve came here and went home with a 13 to 5 win.

Joe Tuttle started at New London and didn't last the first inning. Tim Deskins relieved Plymouth to hold to seven safeties by Norman, the Wildcat left hander, returning after an injury. New London collected 10 hits, including a homer by Mike Batley and a double by Nestor.

Plymouth was held to just four hits Monday afternoon. The Big Red had tied it at two after two but gave up four big ones in the fourth.

Hampton winner, loser in Northmor twin bill

Plymouth split a double at Northmor Saturday, winning the second game, 11 to 7, after dropping the opener, 4 to 3.

Rodney Hampton fanned 12 and walked out three in the second contest but gave up 10 hits. The Big Red jumped off to a three run lead in the opening inning. Chad McGinnis hit a homer and Steve Hall and Jamie Brown collected doubles.

The first game went eight innings, Plymouth having gone ahead by a run in the seventh only to have the Golden Knights tie.

Hampton was the losing pitcher, although he struck out seven and issued two walks. Plymouth collected six hits, three of them by Tom Baker, one of them a double.

Hampton clouted a homer and the Knights' pitcher, Sedmak, who struck out 10 and walked six while holding the Big Red, got a triple.

Risner guilty on four counts, now a fugitive was continued for another hour after an all-day session Thursday.

The charges are two for assault on Police Chief Frank Hodge and Mrs. Buford Sexton; one for resisting arrest, when officers went to his home to investigate a complaint, and one for disorderly conduct for pouring beer, then rubbing it on the head of Buford Sexton.

It all started with a neighborhood party Dec. 3, 1983 at the Sexton home in Nicholas street.

As the party progressed, it got out of hand because of drinking. The police received a report that someone was killed. When they arrived they found this was not true, but that an assault had occurred.

Then they went to the Risner home, where a scuffed ensued before the police could get Risner into the cruiser to be taken to the police station. Hodge was knocked down. He injured his back. He was hospitalized. So was Patrolman Ronald Croxford, who also was injured.

The trial was a "free for all" with accusations on both sides. Risner testified under oath that Mrs. Sexton was drunk and tried to assault him sexually.

Risner's lawyer, Steven Sancic, Akron, cast doubt on the validity of Croxford's statements on the witness stand. He asked Croxford if he was dismissed as a police officer because of drunkenness. Croxford emphatically said this was not the case.

Henson said such questioning was "reprehensible" and ordered Sancic to apologize.

Witnesses for both the defense and the plaintiffs agreed on one thing: everyone had been drinking and no one was sober.

This also seemed to include some under age drinking.

After hearing the testimony Friday morning of Dr. Paul Leidheiser, Columbus, who was on duty in the emergency room of Shelby Memorial hospital where Risner was taken after he had become unconscious when reaching the Plymouth jail, the judge said no viable injuries could be found, as the doctor had said, Risner's claim of being hit with a poitc club did not hold up.

The judge dismissed two charges of the original six. These were of the assault against Garland Sexton and of trespassing at the Sexton property. To the last charge, the judge's comment was that it seemed everyone was welcome at the Saturday party.

Shiloh appoints Baker full-time, permanent staff

A former Plymouth resident was given permanent status as attendant in the electric and water distribution and sewage collection system of Shiloh Apr 25.

He is Wayne Baker, who has been on the job as a temporary employee, albeit on full-time basis, since August of 1983.

Baker will be paid $12,500 a year. When he obtains a Class I sewer operator's certificate, he will be paid $15,000 a year.

His appointment was recommended by J. Michael Bauer, chairman of the board of trustees of public affairs.

Baker's salary will be frozen, the council ruled, until May 1, 1986.

Renewal of the police protection contract with Richland county sheriff's department was approved without dissent. The village will pay $11,000 a year.

Trustees of public affairs will be reimbursed $15 for any special meeting outside the village. Mil-age at 20 cents a mile will be paid.

Solicitor Jon Burton told the council by letter cost of preparing a law suit against Roger Finnegan, whose land lies in Church street and affords access to a storm sewer through which the village wishes to conduct overflow, will begin with a survey for easement, estimated to cost $2,000. An appraiser's services will cost another $200.

The solicitor said total cost to the village, to reach a solution that Finnegan would apparently resist, will be between $12,000 and $15,000.

Mayor Francis Gowitzka said a lift station might be feasible in Church street to conduct the water into another tile.

This solution will be investigated.

Efforts will be made to provide a village collection of trash and debris on May 18 and 19.

Father of councilman succumbs at Willard

Father of Councilman Terry Hopkins, Ivan Hopkins, 58, Greenwich route 1, died Apr. 25 in Willard Area hospital after an apparent heart attack.

Born in Ripley township Sept. 18, 1925, he lived all his life in or near Greenwich. He was employed by Plymouth Locomotive Works, Inc. and was also engaged in farming.

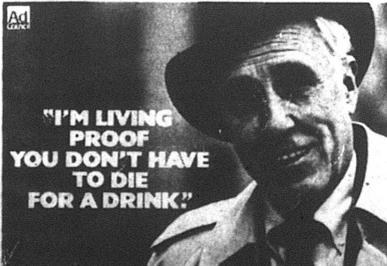

He attended Ripley United Church of Christ, Congregational, whose minister, the Rev. Eldon Sheffer, conducted services there Saturday at 10 a.m. Burial was in Edwards Grove cemetery.

He is also survived by his wife, Frances; a daughter, Deborah, Lebanon, Ky., a sister, Mrs. Fern Coffman, Greenwich; a brother, Leman, Greenwich, and a grand-daughter.

Memorial contributions to the church building fund are suggested.

Here comes man's best friend.

Since the invention of the printing press, nothing has filled modern man's need for information as objectively and reliably as the newspaper. Whether it's your hometown weekly or a multi-edition daily, nothing else even comes close.

Today, newspapers are covering more of the news, in greater detail, than any other medium can. Did you know that three times as many people read newspapers every day as watch a network news program (137 million vs. 45 million)? Or that newspapers place more advertising than do T.V., radio and magazines combined?

As timely as this morning's events, and as timeless as the words of Benjamin Franklin and Thomas Jefferson, the newspaper is a friend and servant to all. And it's even more vital to your life today than ever before.

Get ahead in your reading—read the newspaper.

AND NOW THE REALLY BAD NEWS.

The disaster isn't over when the emergency teams leave. For tonight these families need food, clothing, shelter. Tomorrow they'll start rebuilding their lives. And that takes months.
The good news is that the Red Cross will help these families every step of the way.
No matter how long it takes
If you ever need the Red Cross, you can bet we'll be there.
We'll help. Will you?

The scars of an abused child can stay with us
all his life.

Many teenage drug addicts and teenage prostitutes report being abused children. Many juvenile delinquents also report being abused as children.

And because we pay to respond to those problems, we are all victims of child abuse.
Yet child abuse, and the results of abuse, can be prevented.
The National Committee for Prevention of Child Abuse is a private, charitable organization that knows how to do it. But we need your help. We need money. We need volunteers. Send us your check today, or write for our booklet.
Because if we don't all start somewhere,
we won't get anywhere.

Help us get to the heart of the problem.
