

Enrollment ,179, 'tending to rise' Staggs reports

THE PLYMOUTH Advertiser

Thursday, October 17, 1985

Vol. CXXXIII - 133rd Year, No. 42

Enrollment totals 1,179 pupils, Supt. Douglas R. Staggs told Plymouth Board of Education Monday night, "a new low but we think this is the bottom, there are signs that elementary school enrollment will rise."

Record high was set in 1972-73, 1,516 pupils.

State foundation support, Staggs pointed out, is based on number of classroom units in a school. As enrollment drops, amount of state foundation payments drops commensurately.

Short of a business expansion here in Willard or Shelby that would result in a substantial population rise, a development that Staggs said he cannot now foresee, pupil enrollment will depend almost wholly on the present population of pre-schoolers and kindergartners, a population that he said "seems to indicate that in a few years we will have more pupils."

To get ready for their demands, the board voted unanimously to apply for membership in the prestigious North Central Association of Secondary Schools and Colleges.

Also, Misses. Marilyn Pennell, Sarah and Delores Kinsaid, Michael R. Taylor, Dixie Wells, Sally Stroup, Roy Edler and Carolyn Beebe and Michael R. Taylor and Frank R. Garber, high school.

Advantages of membership were outlined by Slauson in a brief presentation to the board.

These include providing a yardstick to judge this and other schools, to point up strengths and weaknesses, to show that the schools are meeting standards on a regular basis, to provide a means for staff and pupils, to show evidence of accountability to furnish stability of standards at a time when change is rampant, to provide stimulation for growth and development and to prepare for state evaluation, which is mandatory.

Slauson said a critical period of self-study and evaluation must take place after formal application is made. He estimates the district may eventually qualify for accreditation, which is renewable on an annual basis and subject to inspection and approval based on self-proclaimed aims and standards, in the 1988-89 school year.

What he did not say, but what was implied, is that graduates seeking admission to other than state universities (save for Miami university at Oxford, which still has a selective system of admitting freshmen) will stand a better chance of acceptance if the school is accredited by NCASSC.

President Don M. Eichelberger asked "if Shelby has become a member for 75 years, how come we haven't been?"

Staggs responded quickly: in the past it was a question of attitude of the administration and the board. There were some shortcomings in accreditation and certification of personnel, even administrators, which have now been overcome. BCASSC requires that administrators be trained and degreed in pedagogy. The ultimate superintendent took his master's degree in pedagogy.

Staggs emphasized that the board adopted as a policy participation in "Partners Building Excellence", the aim of the state board of education for this year.

Approval was given to pupil performance objectives in mathematics for all pupils, grades kindergarten through 12. The objectives were laid before the board on Sept. 9.

Small cities program aim - $1.13 million sought to revitalize village

Plymouth seeks funding of $1,132,286 through Richland county commissioners in the form of a grant in the small cities program.

Village Administrator James C. Root told the commissioners by letter Oct. 3, when he made the request, "the village's latest concern is for our declining business district. There are, presently 11 empty stores downtown and we seem to be losing more all the time. We have had several planning and community development meetings with hope of revitalizing our Public Square. By improving our Square with new lighting, landscaping, sidewalk repairs, trees, etc., we feel confident that new businesses would be created which would provide new jobs and help the low and moderate income families."

- His list of projects:
- Antique street lighting, 20 lamps @ $1,500 30,000
 - Park area including paving, landscaping 30,000
 - 10 park benches @ $400 4,000
 - 20 trees @ $200 4,000
 - Sub-total, downtown development $68,000
 - South Wall street $1,292
 - Mulberry street alley 500
 - Sandusky-Maple street alley 2,000

$582,900 water service plan proposed by consultants

A $582,900 water improvement plan was laid before village council Oct. 8.

Prepared by Floyd Browne Associates, Ltd., Marion, the study was undertaken Mar. 5 under an agreement with the village.

The study departed from the premise that water pressure is unsatisfactory, form time to time, in several parts of the village.

These situations obtain, the report says, because water services are of two inches and less in those

- Fire station parking lot entrance 2,210
- West Broadway, bridge to end of west kerb 16,784
- Brooks court 18,700
- Springmill road 11,200
- Willow court and circle 11,200
- Sub-total, street resurfacing $63,286
- Backhoe (trade-in possibly involved) $32,000
- to 45,000
- Bucket truck 65,000
- New police cruisers 5,000
- to 20,000
- Large cemetery mower 6,000
- East Main street water line 35,000
- Sub-total capital projects $201,000

Root notes that the bucket truck could be paid for from the electric fund and the East Main street water line funded by the water fund.

Cost of police cruisers would depend on whether option is for new or used stock. Price of backhoe depends on amount of trade-in allowance, believed to be between $6,000 and $8,000.

Remainder of the $1,132,286 request is bound up with the water service improvement plan suggested by Floyd Browne Associates, Ltd., reported elsewhere today.

areas. Flow of water through hydrants is inadequate for fire protection purposes.

Twenty-two hydrant flow tests were conducted on Mar. 13. Basically, the recommendation of Browne Associates is to construct seven separate projects to enlarge existing two inch or less services, in the long run to construct an additional system to effect a loop service and to check present service lines at some points where the roughness coefficient of the water pipe, affected by incrustation and tuberculation, or formation of rust knobs, is high. Thirty-seven individual projects, ranging in estimated project cost from $7,400 to $70,000, are recommended.

A detailed map reflecting locations of the proposed construction is submitted with the report.

What the council will do with the report is anybody's guess. The water fund as now constituted is not able to sustain such an expense.

15 seeking appointment to head job in PPD

Fifteen have applied to be police chief, Councilman Terry Hopkins reported to village council Oct. 8.

Whether the utility clerk may be assigned to dispatch duty for the police department was suggested by Hopkins. The council agreed to look into the question, particularly to determine if there was funds to pay the clerk if it should be determined that additional pay for the assignment is appropriate.

Halloween Trick-or-Treat night will be Oct. 30 from 5 to 6 p.m. Household holders wishing to participate should leave a porchlight burning.

Arnold Roberts was appointed to the fire department. He is employed by the U. S. Postal service at Mansfield. He is active as a Licensed OHSAA baseball and softball umpire and in Plymouth Midget League. He lives at 95 Trux street.

Prohibition against open burning was again called to the attention of householders.

A resolution accepting tax rates for next year, as prepared by the Richlands county auditor, was approved.

The following table shows the taxes:

Friendly persuasion.

What would it take to persuade you to join the Payroll Savings Plan and buy U.S. Savings Bonds? We could appeal to your patriotism. Or we could point out the dangers of not preparing for the future.

Instead, we'll just point out in a very friendly way that Bonds are one of the easiest ways to save. Even if saving has always been difficult for you. The Payroll Savings Plan sets aside a little from each paycheck toward Savings Bonds. And that's a nice way of saving, because you'll hardly miss it. But if you need it, it'll be there. No. 17, Steve Hall, at left, nears end of 51-yard runback of punt that led to Red touchdown in second period. No. 78 is Co-Capt. Terry Mansfield.

Red defense stops Edison, 21 to 0

Keene-to-Hall combination produces three touchdowns

An aroused defense that sacked the passer five times and reduced 26 per cent of Edison's running plays to losses led Plymouth to a stunning 21 to 0 upset of the Chargers in the annual Homecoming game here Friday night.

A disappointing but not dis-appointed crowd watched in awe as the Big Red struck for two scores in the first period.

In the second Plymouth series, Junior Porter punted 26 yards to the Edison 18, where a fumble was recovered by the Big Red. It is the best play in football: kick the ball and fall on the opponent's quarter-back. On first down, Troy Keene, the redoubtable Plymouth quarterback who was to throw 28 times this chilly night, completing 13 and nearly completing five more, gave his receivers simply dropped the ball, found Steve Hall in the end zone with a pass that covered 18 yards. Randy Myers booted the PAT and Plymouth was in charge by 7 to 0 with 7:09 on the first period clock.

Edison couldn't move with the kickoff and punted.

And although it made a first down, Plymouth couldn't advance either and Porter punted, 27 yards to the Charger 22.

Paul Bellamy, the big Edison tackle who is a first class punter, got 43 in fly and roll on his kick and Plymouth set up at its 39.

A pass on first down was incomplete. On second down Keene found Porter for just two yards. On third down, Plymouth brought out the old flea flicker, which usually is good for one play a season. And this was it.

Keene passed smartly to Hall, who lateraled splendidly to Jamie Brown, dashing along about four yards in Hall's ruck. Brown sprinted down the north sideline for a total of 42 yards and first down at the Charger 17.

On first down, Keene again found Hall at the edge of the end zone. The little 11th grader gathered in the throw with ease and strode across the first stripe.

Myers' kick was wide to the right and Plymouth led by 13 to 0 with 1:33 remaining in the first period. The scoring drive covered 61 yards in four plays.

Plymouth blew the chance to break it wide open with the next kickoff that Edison fumbled at its 11. Plymouth recovered and on second down, a pass to Jason Robinson being incomplete, Keene was intercepted in the end zone.

Neither team did much in the next series. After Porter punted 27 yards to the Edison 28, the Chargers poked to the Edison 31, where three successive penalties, two for encroachment and one for complaining about an encroachment penalty, cost Plymouth 26 yards. Even so, Edison was not into Plymouth territory. Nor did it get there. From the 50, Bellamy's punt carried 37 yards to the Red 13, where Hall got a strong runback to the Charger 34.

This gave Plymouth the golden opportunity for Touchdown No. 3. Billy Castle hit left tackle for five, Brown was stopped cold and then, from the 29 Keene hit Hall in the end zone again. The clock read 2:40. Plymouth had driven 34 yards in three plays after a strong punt return.

Coach Richard Roll was having no part of a rally by Edison that would scure his team out of victory. He called for a running play for the PATs. And Keene, after faking a pass, rolled out, just as Chuck Long of Iowa did to win against Michigan State, and pushed into the end zone.

That was all the scoring for the night.

At the half, Edison had a minus five yards by rushing and 30 yards by passing, with two completions in seven tries.

Plymouth with six fewer plays had 30 yards by rushing and 150 yards by passing, having completed nine of 20 tries, with two lost by interception.

Edison's main weakness was inability to hold on to the ball. It was charged with five fumbles in the first half, two of which it lost.

The second half was mostly for exercise.

Edison managed to penetrate

Plymouth territory with its first series, but it got only as far as the 32, where a shot into the line on fourth down fell a few inches short of the down stake.

When Plymouth punted out, having made a first down and missed with two passes and completed a third for a five yard loss, the Chargers came on again. Two passes after a penalty gave them first down at the Edison 49. Then a series of running plays, three of them by Eric Cameron and two by John Glider, established the Chargers with fourth down at the Red 39. A pass play connected for only two yards and Plymouth took over at its 37.

Hall ran the end around play for 13 yards and Plymouth stormed to the Charger 13, with time running down. On fourth down, after Hall had completed a fourth throw to Hall in the end zone that was called back because of a procedure penalty, Keene was sacked for eight yards.

Chuck Deskins, a willowy ninth grader, ran for 33 yards on first down in the next Red series but Plymouth could not score again, although it reached the Edison four. A fumble by the second string backfield was recovered by the Chargers and the Edison 12.

This was a creditable performance by a team that wanted to play football, giving testimony once again to what has been said here many times: in Class A football, it's mostly a matter of attitude and enthusiasm, perhaps 85 per cent of it, the rest is talent and luck.

Plymouth was not without its mistakes, errors that against the Chargers on another night, might have proved to be expensive. Such as poor snaps to the punter (Porter had to play shortstop with two and centerfielder looking for an overhead one) that reduced this fine kicker's average substantially. He was all but out-kicked by Bellamy not because Bellamy is the better kicker but because he had to commit a limited amount of time to getting his hands on the pass from center so he could kick the ball. Plymouth sustained two 15-yard penalties for unsportsmanlike conduct and eight procedure penalties.

Plymouth missed Dave Powers, who was injured in the Crestview game.

In Deskins it may have a dependable substitute, but he needs seasoning, and two of the next three games are against Division IV opponents.

Sidelines noted "Edison's middle is wide open, it's been that way most of the night" but Plymouth did not exploit it. The game plan seemed to be a cautious one. Where the Big Red boldly passed on first down, particularly at the outset of the game, it disdained that tactic in this one.

Plymouth has played Edison five times and won two of them. One of them was for the Firelands conference championship, in the mud and snow at Norwalk in 1983.

But this one will go down in the records as a deserving victory, and when the historians look closely, they will find that the defense, which, when you come right down to it, is what the game is all about, won this game. Those who trained and encouraged the defense are entitled to plaudits.

Girls, at last, win, not once but twice! Tournery play Saturday

Plymouth defeated South Central in straight games, 15 to 12 and 15 to 12, Thursday for its second win of the season, both in Firelands conference play. The Big Red has lost 14 times.

Earlier, on Oct. 8, in a double-header with Mapleton, the Big Red split. Scores in the first meeting were 17 to 15 and 15 to 1, Plymouth prevailing. In the second, the Mounties won, 15 to 10, 16 to 14 and 15 to 13.

Janelle Miller scored eight and she and Michelle Collins notched an ace apiece in the match against the Trojans. Beth Roethlisberger scored two aces, Miss Miller two kills.

In reserve play, South Central won, 15 to 13 and 15 to 11.

Against Mapleton, Plymouth reserves won 15 to 11 and 15 to 13 but lost the second, 15 to 9, 9 to 16 and 9 to 15.

Protagonists practice for Nov. 2 game

Black River retained third place in Region 13, Division IV, after six weeks of schoolboy football.

Western Reserve is tied for fourth in Region 14, Division IV. Mapleton is 17th and Crestview 20th.

Among Division V schools, Monroeville holds 10th place. St. Paul's is 12th, Plymouth is 15th, South Central is 16th and New London is tied for 30th and last.

Edison ranks 19th in Region 10, Division III.

His opponent, A.L. Paddock Jr., admits he is "less confident than I was, but still morally certain I'll ride, not Doc."

What's at stake?
The Nov. 2 meeting at Columbus between up to now undefeated Iowa and Ohio State.

The stakes? "Whatever handicappers the oddsmakers at Las Vegas give to either team accrues to its supporter. No ties. Winner must be clear. Loser pushes winner in wheelbarrow from his office to post office and back, and gets a reasonable time to whoop up a crowd. And photographers!"

Newsy notes . . .
Percy Dean was released Oct. 7 from Willard Area hospital. Gary Anderson was admitted at Willard Thursday, and Elizabeth Dorion on Saturday.

Vs. Black River tomorrow —

Will defense hold? Will ground game aid air attack?

Can Plymouth's defense put on two consecutive brilliant performances?

Can its rushing game gain enough yardage to make the passing attack a sufficient threat to undefeat Black River?

It's all on the line at Sullivan tomorrow.

The Big Red has everything to gain and hardly anything to lose by going all out against the Pirates, who've scoured the Firelands conference with four straight victories, amassing 164 points and giving up only 13.

Plymouth has never been defeated on the Black River field. It has played there just once.

The Big Red holds an advantage over Black River in previous contests.

But it is a decided underdog tomorrow.

Why? Black River has a splendid aggregation, one that last week ran up 54 points on a South Central team that has played in hard luck all season, an outfit that Plymouth will engage a week hence.

In Jim Foky the Pirates have an outstanding running back. He is shifty, has some speed and keeps his head on.

CARD OF THANKS
I wish to thank Dr. Butner, the doctors, nurses and staff at Cleveland Clinic, Pastor Van Deussen, all of our relatives, and friends for their prayers, cards, phone calls, flowers and visits while I was a patient at Cleveland Clinic.

It was all greatly appreciated. God bless each of you. Marilyn Fidler (Mrs. J. Max Fidler) 17p

He is also an outstanding defender against the pass. He returned one throw for 27 yards and a score last week.

Larry Ensign and Larry Clifford — there've been more enigma playing for Black River than there are Ensigns in the Chicago telephone book, and the Cliffords are almost as plentiful — are cut off the old cloth touch, seasoned competitors who produce. Ensign scored two touchdowns against South Central, Clifford two as well. And Chad McComas, who's been a thorn in the Big Red's side in other sports, is the pitcher. He can throw the long ball and he throws with accuracy.

Dave Savick, who gave Plymouth all it could handle in the brouhaha here last year, is the kicker for PATA. He also plays a lot of tackle.

What does Plymouth need to do to beat Black River?

Defensively, it must contain the Pirate running game. If it can limit the Black River rushing assault to 10 first downs, Plymouth has a good chance to win. The Pirates can pass but they'd rather run. To run is Coach Matt Stoll's concept of the game, he learned it under Jim Whittington at Edison, and his team stays on the ground 80 to 85 per cent of the time.

Offensively, Plymouth must move the sticks by rushing more than has been its wont so far. If it can do so seven or eight times, look for the Big Red to be in there at the finish. It also must make zero mistakes. Its punting game, one of its best assets, must, not be shackled by poor snaps from center. Its offensive line must play as did Chicago's against San Francisco last week, like there is no tomorrow.

Best route to the Black River stadium:

Proceed east in Route 224 to Route 58 at Sullivan, turn north (left) at traffic signal, proceed north across railroad tracks to sign indicating Black River school, turn east (right) and proceed about two miles to stadium.

Game time is 7:30 p.m.

Are men the reason why world's in a mess?

By AUNT LIZ
The world has been kind of a mess the last couple of weeks. It has taken me a while of deep thinking to figure out why.

It's MEN.
You never hear of women, well, hardly ever, being part of a hijacking, a smuggling, threatening to destroy the next country with missiles and on and on.

It is always the guys.
Maybe our happy heads of state should gather with their wives, and go off a play golf, and let the gals handle it all. (Ed. Note: It occurs to us now that a woman, Mrs. Thatcher, and a queen, Elizabeth II, head Britain.)

There is no question, each one will be very nationalistic about her own country and how much better it is than the others. And she will lord it over the others.

I can just hear the Russian wife saying, "Our caviar is the best." And the French lady will say, "You can't live without our clothes nor perfume!" And the Italian lady will say, "What is life without pizza and spaghetti?"

Then they will really get down to business. Most of them are mothers and even grandmothers, and not one will want to think that their children will get killed off in some stupidly arranged war.

So there goes any idea of a war. Then they will get down to helping their kids to get along in the world. Every mother want here to be the very best and know all there is, so there can be a real inter-exchange of kids. Let the kids of the Egyptians come here and see how we live, and let ours go there. This does exist with a small segment now, but it certainly could be expanded.

The next thing the gals will get down to is food, and start exchanging recipes. Some countries have it, some don't, and being foxy housewives, they will work out a great exchange that could do wonders for everyone's economy.

The next thing the gals would get into is clothes, which is a subject close to every woman's heart. What could be nicer than a good trade for American-made tennis shoes which are the best in the world for something really warm and snugly like a Russian sable coat?

Men have been handling the world since the beginning of time. History simply shows that the most brilliant minds somehow got wasted on war. Outside of three women in known history, Cleo of Nile river fame, Elizabeth of England, who played one boy friend against the other, and Cathy the Great, who didn't think she had enough land in Russia, it has been the boys who have directed traffic.

Wars are economic, who has what you want. Just let a couple of housewives get together, and when they discover that butter is cheaper in one country, they will want it too. It can happen; this may seem like a large world, but it isn't. We can all share.

For years we didn't speak to the Chinese, but still we all ate Chinese food and loved it. Then there were all the standbys handed down in families because of their heritage, German, French, English, Italian, they are all there. That's what makes us such a good eating country.

Some die-hardies only want what they think is American when they sit down at the table.
