

An idle hope

It's too much, absolutely too much, to hope that on Sunday, when some pupils will in due ceremony be raised into an association of talent, wisdom and service, the whole business will be witnessed by even half as many as turned out to see others knock heads in a contest involving a perverse oblate spheroid only 16 days before.

Some lessons

What lessons derive from the results of Tuesday's balloting?

As we've said before, the thrust of village government is not likely to change. That Mayor Hebble would win election in his own right seemed certain before Tuesday, to some for some reasons other than fair ones. So long as preference was based on the quality of service and availability to perform that quality service, that's good. Insofar as preference was shown for one candidate because of gender, or the occupational status of the candidate's spouse, that bad.

Mayor Hebble was straightforward in reciting his aims and it is to be hoped that he will command and obtain the support of the village council in reaching those ends. There is a crying need for leadership. Mayor Hebble is in a remarkable position to exercise it. He has the personality to effect it. This village is pretty much like the fighter who has received, right on the point of his jaw, a tremendous punch that has wobbled his knees. A wise corner man with the right smelling salts, encouragement and instruction can rescue the bout and perhaps win the championship.

But it won't be easy.

They mayor was less forceful than we had hoped in pointing out the free lunch, if indeed that's what it was, is over. The village, as we've repeatedly said for over 30 years, must, it absolutely must fund its needs on its own, from its own resources. To do so means that some beneficiaries of the village's spending may need to look elsewhere for their funding. Why? Because there isn't enough money to meet the villages needs and their payroll checks.

The school board election turned out pretty much as we had imagined it would.

Will there be change?

Perhaps.

But it will come slowly.

How slowly?

Too slowly for those of us who've waited almost two generations for significant change. Not so fast for those who want to test the water. There is, among many, a fear, understandable, perhaps, that change will alter the pecking order, will result in a lesser place in the scheme of things, whether in fact or imagined, for those who are less mobile than others.

The issues raised by two of the candidates won't go away. They ought to be addressed. And they ought to be addressed less by professionals than by the duly elected servants of the people. If we have any say in it, and we confess at the start that we probably don't, perhaps never did, and are certainly unlikely to have any in the future, have much influence on the conduct of the schools, they will do so quickly, with dispatch and visible effect. We propose to keep their feet to the fire, in any event.

What is said to reflect, a day or so after the election, is that on matters that count, there was hardly any debate. The people who have to live with the decisions weren't afforded an opportunity, certainly not a strong opportunity, to hear what the candidates thought, or planned to do, or not do.

There was no opposition to anyone seeking a seat as councilman. The campaign for mayor was decent, honorable, neither mean nor unpleasant. No names were called and nobody was called to task in the school board race. And for county school board, until the write-in candidate came forward, there weren't enough in the whole blamed county district who thought enough to seek election.

$20,000 in gas engines stolen at 'Shiloh Mall'

Theft of an estimated $20,000 worth of gasoline engines from Glen's Surplus store, commonly known as Shiloh's Mall, Route 603 east of Shiloh, was reported to Richland county sheriff's deputies Oct. 28.

Glen Arms, proprietor, said the engines were the only items missing from the establishment.

He said at least 32 engines, each weighing about 60 pounds, were taken, apparently on Oct. 28 between 6:15 and 9 a.m.

Arms said "we're putting an armed guard, with a shotgun, on full-time assignment, starting now... I'm tired of the nuisance".

Capt. Larry Flint of the sheriff's department thinks three of four persons may have been involved in the burglary.

It was the seventh time the place has been the target of thieves or vandals.

Deputies said a sledgehammer was apparently used to smash a cement block wall at the rear of the building. The engines were taken from a rack that stocked only gasoline engines.

Arms is hopeful the engines can be recovered. He observed that some of them may be easy to dispose of but "they also will be very conspicuous — in some cases we're the only place in the state that stocks the engines".

The loss was not covered by insurance. Arms said the value of the loss amounts to about two months of the cash turnover of the business during off-season trading.

Theft of a video cassette recorder p.m.

Her next door neighbors, the A. L. Paddock, Jr., who live at 78 Plymouth street, and the Ronald Cooks, who live at 60 Plymouth street, report they neither saw nor heard anything unusual. The Paddocks said their dog, a cocker spaniel that usually barks when a stranger approaches, was silent throughout the afternoon.

Footpads kicked in the door of Plymouth Beer Dock, 57 Brazilian street, early Monday and made off with about $5 in change.

Police discovered the break-in only a few minutes after its proprietor, Kenneth Echelberry, closed for the day.

The break-in remains under investigation.

Plans for a community-wide observance of Veterans' day Monday in Plymouth are laid by Ehret-Parrel Post 447, American Legion, with the assistance of its auxiliary.

A potluck dinner will be served at 6 p.m., in the post home with meat, rolls and beverage furnished. Members are asked to bring a covered dish and table service. Continuous service pins will be awarded. Third annual presentation of the Gerald W. Caywood Memorial award, to the outstanding Legionnaire of the past year, will be made.

Commander William Bland, urges everyone to take part in this event and to take time to remember the men and women of Plymouth who served their nation.

"On this Veterans' day, we point with pride to all of America's veterans from the minutemen of the Revolution to the 20th century defenders of freedom. Each veteran is cast from the same sense of duty. We should make sure their sacrifices do not go unnoticed," Commander Bland stated.

All arguments for the activities of the Veterans' day celebration are coordinated by the Veterans' day committee under the leadership of 2nd Vice-Commander Harvey Robinson. Members of the committee are Bland, Lt. Vice-Commander Bernard A. Garrett, Commander William Fazio, master of ceremonies Theodora A. Ross and President of the auxiliary, Mrs. Robinson.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Duane Baker and the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Baker and the late Mr. and Mrs. Dennis J. Baker.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Jones, Shelby.

The Rev. James Gardner performed the ceremony.

An arrangement of white gladioli with Fugyiana chrysantheums, red carnations and baby's breath decorated the altar, which was lighted from each side by candleabra.

The family pews were marked with large white satin bows with white and red flowers.

Lynne McKown was soloist and Brian Sokol guitarist. They were accompanied at the organ by Rita Eldridge, playing the couple's favorite songs, including "We've Just Begun".

The Bakers gave their daughter in marriage. She chose a white organza gown over taffeta with Alencon lace. It was designed with a high mandarin neckline, leg-topline sleeves and a princess waistline. The skirt ended in a cathedral train.

She wore a Marry Stuart headpiece in satin with steel pearls. A waltz length veil fell from it. Her flowers were a cascade of gladiolus with red roses, lilies-of-the-valley and baby's breath.

Lisa Baker was her sister's maid of honor. Kelly Baker, another sister, and Laura Calver were bridesmaids.

They wore red taffeta gowns with princess waistlines. The bodices were designed with sweetheart necklines and small ruffled capped sleeves.

The maid of honor's headpiece was a halo of red rose, lilies-of-the-valley and babies breath. The bridesmaids' halos were of red roses and baby's breath.

They carried small wicker bridecakes filled with the same flowers and topped with small white lovebirds.

Niki Baker, the bride's niece, flower girl, wore a white taffeta gown with small red bows at the shoulders and a red sash. Her flower halo was similar to the maid of honor's.

Adam Baker, the bride's nephew, was the ring bearer.

Gregory Jones was his brother's best man. Jeffrey Pegg and David Ruckman ushered.

Moose lodge in Shelby was the setting for the bridal reception.

The red and white color scheme was carried out at the tables. The bride's cake was three tiered decorated in red and white with small birds and topped with a miniature bride and bridesroom. It was encircled by smaller cakes joined with lacey stairways.

Mrs. Baker chose a silver gray satin shirtdress gown. Mrs. Jones wore a red knit gown, and both had corsages of gladiolus and red roses.

The bride is a Plymouth high school graduate and attended North Central Technical college, Mansfield. She is employed by Shelby Mutual Insurance Co.

Mr. Jones is a graduate of Shelby High school and received his bachelor's degree in marketing from Ohio State university in 1968. He is employed by Tenny Tool and Supply Co.

Honored guests at the ceremony were the bride's grandparents, Russell Wilfong, the bridegroom's grandfather, and Mrs. Otto Curpen, a lifelong neighbor of the Bakers.

Garlic thingies real prizewinner

BY AUNT LIZ

Winning a prize for just about anything is about the most popular sport in this happy country.

The big prizes you always hear about are things like exotic jaunts to romantic places; throw in Las Vegas, if you will, it has got to be special.

You can win all sorts of things to perk up your house, but of all the prizes people go after, I really think the cooking ones have got to be the most fun.

I hate to say this, but men seem to win more of them than the family cook. And their recipes are very tasty.

What kind of guy would bother to dream up some oddball deal, send it off and win a prize? Just about anyone.

This comes from a retired Nebraska farmer, something he entered in the annual Garlic Festival last summer in a town called Gilroy, Cal. We once went past Gilroy.

Can you imagine that 1500 recipes were entered in this, all garlic?

The farmer's idea can perk up any meal and it's easy.

Thaw two loaves of frozen white bread dough.

Have this ready: five minced cloves of garlic, a third of a cup of melted butter, a fourth of a teaspoon of basil, two tablespoons of chopped parsley and a small onion chopped finely.

Grease a pan, it can be a bundt one, or a loaf pan. Roll bits of dough into small balls, but them in the pan, and when it is covered, drizzle the butter mixture over it, then make a second layer, and drip the rest of the butter over it.

Cover and let rise until double, bake at 375 degrees until a nice golden brown.

Cool, then dump it out so the

Red mistakes lead to big early lead, Mapleton defeats Plymouth, 34 to 14

The tragedy of simple mistakes was pounded home to Plymouth's football team in the final game of the season at Polk Friday night as Mapleton's Mounties thrashed the Big Red, 34 to 14, in Firelands conference competition.

Plymouth thus closes its season with a 6-and-4 record. All of the defeats came in conference play. The Big Red had a 3-and-5 league record.

The Mounties capitalized on the first Plymouth mistake early in the first period. They kicked off and the Big Red could not advance. On fourth down, Junior Porter stood at the Plymouth 12-yard line to punt into the teeth of a quartering southeast wind of substantial velocity.

He never got the kick off. As has occurred five previous times this season, the snap from center trickled along the turf. By the time Porter got his hands on it, Mapleton's defenders had their hands on Porter. He was compelled to swallow the ball for an 18 yard loss.

This was on top of nine yard sack of Troy Keene on third down. With first down at the Red eight, Mapleton was shut down when Dion Bowersock hit left tackle. But on the next play Brian Mohrman, the bellwether of the Mounties' attack this windy and cold night, plowed into the end zone. The clock read 9:52.

Mapleton lined up to kick the PAT, with the wind at its back. It, too, encountered trouble with the snap of the ball and the kick never materialized.

Despite a 15-yard completion from Keene to Steve Hall in the next series, Plymouth could not make a first down and into the same wind Porter punted. It carried for 19 yards and Mapleton attacked from the Red 40.

The Mounties needed nine plays. They scored at 4:11 on a 27-yard pass play initiated by Daryl Young, certainly the best quarterback Mapleton has seen this season, perhaps the best in the league. He found Dan Moore in the end zone amid three Red defenders, on a second down play from the Plymouth 27 because of a clipping penalty that set the Mounties back from the Red 13.

Young threw to Terry Gerwig for the PAT's and Mapleton led by 14. It was a piece of cake after that. Plymouth managed to get into Mapleton territory as the first period ended. It advanced to the Mounties' 41, where on fourth down Porter punted again, for a net of three yards.

With first down at the Mapleton 38, the home club marched 62 yards in 13 plays. All of it was on one down. Young threw just one time. Dion Bowersock, pounce for pounce perhaps the best back Mapleton has seen this season, ran in from 16 yards away. Young passed to Moore for the PAT's.

From this point on, perhaps because it was disappointed with its performance and behind by 22 points, the Big Red defense began to foul. It was hit with three unsportsmanlike conduct penalties of 15 yards apiece during the next Mapleton possession and with 3:55 remaining in the half, Mohrman ran in from two and a half yards away. The Mounties covered 65 yards in 10 plays after Porter's punt.

Plymouth took the kickoff and on second down, from its 30, resorted to the Bomb. To this point, Plymouth had thrown the ball just seven times, far fewer than what has been its wont.

Keene found Hall deep beyond the Mountie secondary with a pass-and-run play that covered 58 yards before Hall was tackled from behind at the Mounties' seven. Jamie Brown bucked for six, the Mounties were guilty of a personal foul that cost them half the distance to the goal line, a matter of a half a yard, and in two tries Keene sneaked in. The clock read 1:58 remaining in the half.

He passed to Hall for the PAT's. Mapleton clearly was the aggressor.

With 40 plays, Mapleton had 13 first downs, 175 1/2 yards by rushing and 27 yards by passing, with one completion in three tries. It had lost 55 1/2 yards in five penalties and did not punt once.

For its part, with only 27 plays, Plymouth had collected just three first downs, with 13 1/2 yards by rushing and 64 by passing, on three completions in eight efforts. Its punting, in part because of the wind, was execrable: four for an average of 11 yards. And it had been socked with seven penalties for 64 1/2 yards.

When the second half started, Plymouth having kicked off, the Mounties did no better into the teeth of the wind than did Plymouth. On fourth down, Mapleton was afflicted with Plymouth's, the snap from center went over the kicker's head. By the time the kick was recovered, Mapleton had lost 15 yards. Plymouth was at the Mounties' 15.

Dave Powers was thrown for the loss of a yard on second down. Keene passed to Hall for the score. The clock read 9:41. The run for PAT's was short.

Mapleton reached the Plymouth 33 in the next series, only to run out of downs. It intercepted Keene on third down when Plymouth struck back and from the Red 43 attacked once more. Despite a fumble, which it recovered, Mapleton advanced to the Red 14, where on fourth down Young was thrown for two yards in loss and Plymouth was out of it.

But it was only a matter of time. Born in Toledo, Ill., he was carried 40 yards, and the Mounties set out from their 46.

A pass interference call cost Plymouth 15 yards. But the big play was a throw from Young to Gerwig that was in and out of the hands of Powers and was ruled an interception after an interception. The play carried 21 yards to the Red nine.

Mapleton used four shots and on fourth down from the four Terry Mansfield sacked Young for five yards.

Plymouth put together two first downs before Keene was intercepted by Terry Hissong at the Mounties' 40.

And Mapleton hurried to its Here're scores last week:

Black River 41, New London 0; Mapleton 34, Plymouth 14; Crestview 16, South Central 8; Monroeville 14, Edison 0; St. Paul's 21, Western Reserve 8.

Red places 17th in last ranking

Black River's Pirates finished second in Region 13, Division IV, over 10 games, highest ever for a Firelands conference team, and will play Oberlin (5-and-5) at Ashland tomorrow at 7 p.m. in the first game of the playdowns.

For the second consecutive season, this situation will obtain because one of the winners is involved in a playdown game. Last year it was Western Reserve.

So the league championship will again be divided, this time between Black River and Monroeville.

Western Reserve finished in 11th place, Crestview in 14th and Mapleton in 15th among other Division IV schools, albeit in Region 14.

Among Division V competitors, Monroeville's Eagles took seventh ranking in Region 17. St. Paul's was 10th, Plymouth 17th, South Central 19th, New London tied for 32nd and dead last with no points.

Edison, competing in Division III, will leave the conference after this season. The Chargers finished in 25th place in Region 10.

final score. It needed just four plays. Mohrman tore around Plymouth's end the Mounties had scouted Plymouth well, knew the Big Red's shortcomings and exploited them; one of them was that you can run all night around end—for 36 yards and first down from Young to Gerwig. The clock read 3:06. A run for PAT's failed.

Despite a furious passing attack, with four successive completions, one of them a screen pass to Porter that lost six yards, Plymouth got only as far as the Mountie 31 before time expired.

It was not a pleasant performance. Some of the Big Red stalwarts who had played splendidly for much of the season had little to boast about as they hurried from the field.

Dale E. Thompson, 1946 PHS alumnus dies 57 at Willard

A 1946 alumnus of Plymouth High school, Dale E. Thompson, 57, 2111 Spring street, Willard, died Sunday in Area hospital there.

Born in Toledo, Ill., he was raised here by his sisters, his mother having died when he was of tender age.

After service in the Navy, he went to Willard and worked for some years with the old Willard Dairy. Later he and a partner, the late William Miller, a Willard plumbing and heating contractor, bought the Brunswick Grill from the late Harlow Staff. He directed and managed the business for 16 years until his health compelled him to sell to Mansfielders a few weeks ago.

He was a member of Willard Lodge, EPOEks, and of the American Legion at Willard. He belonged to Willard Men in Action.

A fervent golfer, so long as his health permitted he spent many hours at that pastime.

He survived by his wife, Irene; four sons, Richard H., Harrison, Bruce, and Gregory, Amherst, Mass.; Timothy, Columbus, and Mark, Willard; a daughter, Mrs. Nancy Aitchison, Oressaw, Mich.; his father, R. Glen Thompson, Sidney, Ill.; his sisters, Mrs. Dorothy Stoops, Gainesville, Ga., and Mrs. Helen Mayer, Summerville, S. C., and eight grandchildren.

The Rev. James Peiffer conducted last rites from Secor Funeral home, Willard, Tuesday at 2 p.m. Interment was in St. Joseph's Roman Catholic cemetery there.

VETERANS DAY NOVEMBER 11, 1985

VETERANS DAY honors the 25 million gallant Americans — men and women — who served in our Nation's armed forces during time of war. Through their valor and sacrifice they have met the highest obligation of citizenship. Now, in all walks of life, they continue to strive toward new pinnacles of achievement for the benefit of mankind.

On this VETERANS DAY we join with The American Legion in remembering the veterans of our community with grateful appreciation of their sacrifice and continued service.

Now that there are lower "off-peak" rates, the heat is on for Electric Thermal Storage.

Ohio Power Company's request for lower "off-peak" electric rates was recently approved by the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio.

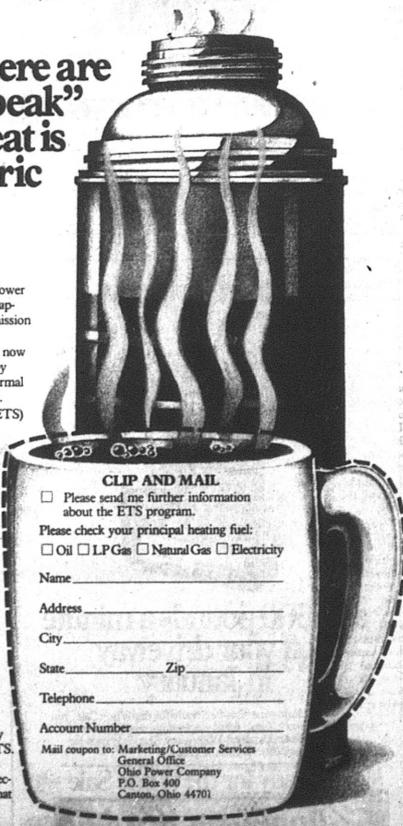

The new, lower rates are in effect now and you can take advantage of them by installing an economical Electric Thermal Storage heating system in your home.

The Electric Thermal Storage (ETS) furnace uses "off-peak" electricity at night to save you on your heating bills all day long. "Off-peak" rates are in effect from 10 p.m. to 7 a.m. With this special equipment you can take advantage of the lower rate. In addition, the lower rate applies to all weekend usage too!

ETS works like a thermostat. It stores enough heat at night to heat your home for the rest of the day. Heating coils inside the ETS furnace heat special bricks throughout the night. The bricks then store heat which the furnace draws from at night, and the rest of the day.

Water heating can also be done at this low rate. And individual room heaters are available, which let you comfort control any room.

Find out more about the energy and money-saving advantages of ETS. Send us this coupon and we'll send you complete information about Electric Thermal Storage, the furnace that pays for itself.

CLIP AND MAIL.

Boys outnumber girls in schools; will attendance in 1994 total 1,194?

Twenty-one more boys than girls attend classes in Plymouth Local School district, its annual report shows.

Total male enrollment is 557, female enrollment is 556.

There are 44 pupils enrolled in Pioneer Joint Vocational school, five pupils who mentally handicapped are three who are physically handicapped.

Total enrollment is therefore, 1,207 pupils, of whom 1,188 are caucasian American, seven are blacks, five have Hispanic surnames, and seven are Oriental Americans.

Projected attendance through the 1993-94 school year shows a total of 1,194 pupils, with 79 in the graduating class.

There are 76 certificated teachers with an average of 10.93 years of classroom experience. Average salary of a classroom teacher is $19,124.69. The teaching staff is predominantly female, 63.9 per cent.

Problems with the high school heating system were disruptive in the past year, the report says.

High school attendance is the poorest of any school in the district. Steps to correct this situation are referred to but not spelled out.

Space for expanded high school services is at a premium again, the report says. Compliance with increasing state standards add to the teachers' work loads.

A state inspection is anticipated next year. Staff is preparing to deal with its requirements, the report says.

Plans are under study to raise eligibility requirements for co-curricular and extra-curricular activities to conform to the same standards as Ohio High School Athletic Association.

Staff is working toward compliance with accreditation demands of North Central Association of Secondary Schools and Colleges.

Attendance at Shiloh is 590 pupils.

Principals here complain that there is insufficient parking, particularly for special events.

Profits up almost 100% on Sept. 30, says Banner

Jeffrey Steiner and his associates who bought control of Banner Industries, Inc. apparently knew what they were doing.

Earnings of the conglomerate nearly doubled during the first quarter that closed Sept. 30.

Net income for the quarter advanced to $1.8 million, or 46 cents a share, which compares with a net of $826,984, or 21 cents a share, for the same period a year ago. Sales increased 17 per cent to $35.1 million.

Banner reported its aviation aftermarket group showed a 24 per cent increase in income and a 13 per cent rise in sales. Industry products group, of which Plymouth Locomotive Works, Inc. is a part, more than tripled its increase, owing to a rise of 24 per cent in sales and a reversion of pension plan assets, resulting in a $360,000, or nine cents a share, contribution to net income.

Banner says the outlook for the remainder of the fiscal year, which expires June 20, 1986, is "excellent." It said demand in the aviation aftermarket group is strong and international sales continue to improve, accounting for 40 per cent of total sales in the first quarter.

Net sales for the first quarter amounted to $35,131,665, compared to $30,048,317 for the same period a year ago. Net income for the corresponding period was $1,835,225 and $826,984, respectively, amounting to 46 cents and 21 cents a share, respectively.

Scuffle results in fines vs. pair

Accused of disorderly conduct as a result of a scuffle during the Monroeville football game here Sept. 27, former assistant coach Richard Hutton, Willard, pleaded not guilty in Mayor Keith A. Hebble's court Oct. 30.

He was found guilty and fined $100 and costs, half of which was suspended on condition of no similar violation for a year.

His protagonist, Carrel Beverly, Plymouth, also charged with disorderly conduct, pleaded guilty and was fined $100 and costs.

Half of his fine was suspended on condition of no similar convictions for one year.

Sentence 10 days in jail and fine of $300 and costs was levied against Charlie Robinson, Plymouth, accused of driving while under suspension. The jail sentence was suspended on condition the fine payments are kept current.

Michael R. Meyer, Shiloh, was fined $150 and costs on conviction of driving with an expired license. All but $50 was remitted on condition of no similar violations for one year.

Jay J. York, Shiloh, pleaded not guilty to a charge of tire peeling. It was continued to Nov. 6.

Charge of assault Leonard Jessie, Plymouth, was continued to Nov. 20. So was a charge of assault against Denny Smith, Monroeville, which will be heard Nov. 13.

Fines in other cases:

Ronald P. McCorkle, Mansfield, speeding, $42; John A. Strina, Mansfield, speeding, $32; James M. Ritchey, Willard, stop light violation, $15; Gloria M. Cantrell, Shiloh, speeding, $34; Wanda S. Daron, Shelby, speeding, $26.

Also: Barbara A. Riley, Mansfield, speeding, $28; Walter E. Hay, Shelby, speeding, $32; Calvin Wadsworth, New Haven, speeding, $36; Bernard H. Jones, Shelby, public intoxication, $15; Gwen Borens, Monroeville, speeding, $38; David A. Adkins, Plymouth, consumption of alcoholic beverage while under age, $25; Charlie Robinson, tire peeling, $10; no license tags, $10.

Also, Ralph Gayhart, Plymouth, speeding, $15.

Predictions in capsule to be opened in 1990 only 40% right so far

It was five years Thursday that 10 pupils of Karl Pfaff, 3rd, in Plymouth High school buried a capsule that they pledged to disinter in 10 years, in 1990.

In it, they placed statements of their estimates of what life would be like when the capsule is opened.

Some of these were:

All buildings will be heated electrically.

Thirty per cent of all U. S. power will be generated by nuclear plants.

U. S. will be world power. Japan will be a world power. ERA won't be ratified.

The draft will be reinstated. Age limit to obtain a driver's license in Ohio will be raised to 18.

Metric system will be universal.

Living on the moon may be tried.

Deeper space probes will be possible.

Price of gasoline will be $5 a gallon.

Minimum wage will be $5.10 an hour.

A woman or one of the minority population will be president.

U. S. will engage Iran in a war within 10 years.

All types of cancer will be curable.

Marijuana will be legalized for personal use in some states.

By law families will be limited to two children.

Unemployment will increase.

Automobile will be more efficient and smaller.

Society will depend more on solar energy.

Some telephones will project images.

Puerto Rico will be a state.

Big Root will be in a zoo.

It may be embarrassing to the pupils, not to say their names: Rick Stephens, Randy Holt, Montelle Levering, Patty McKenzie, Steven Mowry, Chris Tucker, Amy Echebarger, James Will, Kim Schriener and Paula Phillips.

How accurate were they?

To lean over backwards in fairness, they were right, or nearly so, with nine of 22 predictions. This figures out to just over 40 per cent, not a passing grade in any other course. But then, they've got five more years to prove out.

These Americans took time off their jobs to serve their country.

Washington, Lincoln, Teddy Roosevelt. Citizen soldiers are more than just a part of our country's history. They are our country's history. For over three centuries they've been leaving their homes and jobs to defend America. They still do today. They're the members of the Guard and Reserve. Their readiness is vital to our defense. Be far from them when their time comes to go on duty. Don't penalize them when promotions and raises are due. Our country's future still depends upon our citizen soldiers. They depend upon you. To find out how you can support today's Guard and Reserve write Employee Support, Arlington, VA 22209. Or call 800-336-4590. Protect their future while they protect yours.
