Now that there are lower "off-peak" rates, the heat is on for Electric Thermal Storage.

Ohio Power Company's request for lower "off-peak" electric rates was recently approved by the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio.

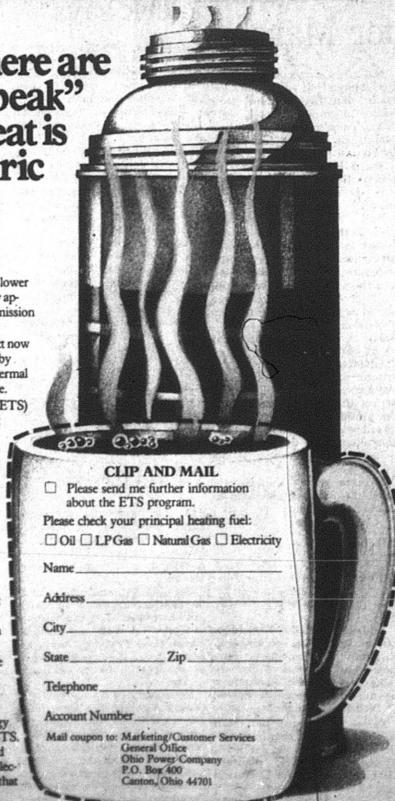

The new, lower rates are in effect now and you can take advantage of them by installing an economical Electric Thermal Storage heating system in your home.

The Electric Thermal Storage (ETS) furnace uses "off-peak" electricity at night to save you on your heating bills all day long. "Off-peak" rates are in effect from 10 p.m. to 7 a.m. With this special equipment you can take advantage of the lower rate. In addition, the lower rate applies to all weekend usage too!

ETS works like a thermostat. It stores enough heat at night to heat your home for the rest of the day. Heating coils inside the ETS furnace heat special bricks throughout the night. The bricks then store heat which the furnace draws from at night, and the rest of the day.

Water heating can also be done at this low rate. And individual room heaters are available, which let you comfort control any room.

Find out more about the energy and money-saving advantages of ETS. Send us this coupon and we'll send you complete information about Electric Thermal Storage, the furnace that pays for itself.

What would it take to persuade you to join the Payroll Savings Plan and buy U.S. Savings Bonds?

We could appeal to your patriotism. Or we could point out the dangers of not preparing for the future.

Instead, we'll just point out in a very friendly way that Bonds are one of the easiest ways to save. Even if saving has always been difficult for you, the Payroll Savings Plan sets aside a little from each paycheck toward Savings Bonds. And that's a nice way of saving, because you'll hardly miss it. But if you need it, it'll be there. Just like a friend.

TERRY FARRIGAN

SCOTT RYMAN

Ryman wins district; three in regionals

Three Plymouth wrestlers will compete in the regional tournament at Bowling Green tomorrow and Saturday.

Scott Ryman, 195 pounds, won the district title at Shelby Saturday. He pinned Scott Grigg, Western Reserve, in the final bout in 5 mins. 9 secs.

Terry Farrigan, 105-pounder, was compelled to default in the final match but will make the trip to Bowling Green. So will Jeff Echelbarger, 119 pounds, who placed fourth in his weight class. He was defeated in the consolation bout, 21 to 1, by Brad Hokes, St. Paul's.

The Flyers walked away with the title in these district affairs. They scored 239 1/2 points, well ahead of St. Mary's Central Catholic, Sandusky, with 192 1/2. There followed Seneca East at 151 1/2, Mohawk at 88 1/2, Carey at 87 1/2, Crestview at 84 1/2, New London at 83, St. Peter's at 75 1/2, Plymouth at 71, Western Reserve at 63, Calvert at 61, Hopewell-London at 47 1/2, Monroeville at 20 1/2 and Mansfield Christian at 0.

Game Plymouth rallies to win over Western Reserve, 82 to 75

Refusing to quit, Plymouth bounced back behind in the fourth period at Collins Saturday night to win a Firelands conference contest from Western Reserve. The score was 82 to 75.

For the first three periods, the Big Red was characterized by stumple, bumble and fumble, despite yeoman efforts by Troy Keene, who scored 30 points, to stem the tide. It was a career high for Keene.

Plymouth had its hands full and then some with Russ Logan, a 12th grader playing his last regular season game for the Roughriders.

Logan scored 18 points in the first half and 30 for the night. There were two other Western Reserve players in double figures, Chip Motelik with 14 and Brendan Burke with 10.

Plymouth clawed from behind and got as close as four points at 58 to 54 at the end of the third period. The Big Red scored nine unanswered points at the outset of the fourth quarter, tying the score at 71:10 on a basket by Keene and going ahead a whisker later on a bucket by Brian Christoff that resulted in a three-point play, he having been fouled by Greg Mullins.

From this point Plymouth looked back apently but was not headed. Another nine-point surge midway in the period put it away. When this had ended, Plymouth led by 12 at 84 to 62. The Riders tore off seven unanswered points to cut the lead to five at 78 to 73, but by this time the clock showed only 21 seconds left to play and Western Reserve did not have a Chinaman's chance.

Each team got off 73 shots.

Plymouth converted 31 of them, Western Reserve 30. Plymouth was afforded 33 free throws and it made 20 of them. The Riders failed with eight of 23 tries.

The visitors were outbounded heavily, in part because their best rebounder, Kevin Taylor, rode the bench for much of the second half, in deep foul trouble. He collected No. 5 at 4:24 of the fourth quarter, having been hit with No. 4 at 7:09 of the third.

Keene was as hot as a Saturday night special. He scored 13 field goals, six of them in the first half, when he totalled 12 points. Steve Hall had 11 and Jeff Lasch, in his final regular season game, collected 17. There were six of the Big Red that broke into the scoring column.

For Plymouth it was victory No. 11 among 20 games. No team since please see page 4

Dunn coach-of-year, Hall on second team

Steve Hall collected another honor Sunday. He was chosen to be the second team by all-Firelands conference coaches.

And his coach, Dave Dunn, was chosen coach-of-the-year.

Jeff Lasch and Kevin Taylor were accorded honorable mention.

Matt Spriggs, St. Paul's, which is the league champion, is player-of-the-year.

Spriggs and five others were named to the first team.

These were Steve Kozel, New London; Russ Logan, Western Reserve; Dave Shupe, Edison;

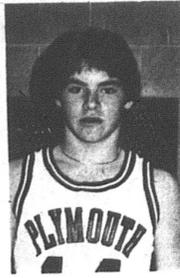

Ron Lorcher, South Central, and Brad Alge, St. Paul's.

Other second team coaches: John Landoll, St. Paul's; Tim Channel, Black River; Dave Detamore, New London; Dave Kezei and Tom Schafer, Monroeville.

Honorable mention was also accorded to Shannon Wolfe, Western Reserve; Kevin Rutherford, Edison; Scott Nickoli, St. Paul's; Mark Hersher, Crestview; Steve Lewis and Dave Ronk, South Central, and Jim Goon, Mapleton.

COACH DAVE DUNN

STEVE HALL

KEVIN TAYLOR

Two to play on all-stars at Polk on Apr. 2

Jeff Lasch and Jeff Caudill are 12th graders chosen to play on the South All Stars basketball team at Mapleton Apr. 2 at 8 p. m.

Rock-a-thon set by volleyballers

Volleyball squad and stationaries will stage a rock-a-thon in the gymnasium of the high school from tomorrow at 4 p. m. to Saturday at noon.

Aim of the program is to "establish togetherness among the players" and to "raise funds for our program, which we want to make stronger, better and more winning".

JEFF LASCH

Sir:

The success of the basketball team, regardless of what happens in the tournament at Bucyrus, is more than anybody dared hope for. Certainly the players deserve much credit. But let us not forget their coach, who was punched in the mouth by the jocks on the schoolboard in August, subjected to public humiliation, then re-hired because the jocks couldn't find anybody else to take the job. He has done a fine thing: it is a long time since Plymouth's basketball team has even won half of its games, and with this bunch of players, without much visible talent, he has done wonders. Who says you can't make a silk purse out of a sow's ear?

Coach Dunn may not be the best coach in the business. But he's a heckuva way from being the worst and the jocks on the school board owe him, and all of us, an apology.

Fat chance for real sport.

Danbury ousts girls, 59-45

Big Red girls reached the end of the tourney trail at Willard Saturday evening because they couldn't deal with the all-district Class A player-of-the-year.

Diane Grech of Danbury scored 33 points to lead the Lakers to an easy 59 to 45 conquest of Plymouth in the final game of the sectional tournament.

The Big Red trailed by only eight after 15 minutes but simply could not deal with the aggressive Grech, who shot 13 field goals and seven free throws.

Jeanine Strouse was only a tad behind, with 18.

Miss Grech was also a demon in defense. She took down 23 rebounds.

Lori Fidler and Patti Payne had 13 apiece for the Big Red, which converted 17 of 38 tries for field goals and 11 of 18 free throws. Plymouth failed to get off a shot on 14 advances and rebounded only 25 times.

The Lakers shot 48 times, making 25, a fantastic percentage in a girls' game, and missed seven of 16 free throws. They collected 40 rebounds and made 19 mistakes on offense.

Chargers win over Red, 74-60

Edison seized the lead at 4:03 of the second period. Miles Friday night and ran off with a Firelands conference victory over Plymouth, 74 to 40.

It was odd that Plymouth played so badly yet was not beaten so badly.

The Big Red committed 24 turnovers and, despite no great height disadvantage, was heavily outshouted, 47 to 26.

And it was caught.

Four Chargers got into double figures. Edison got off 62 shots at the basket, making 27. Plymouth finished with 47 minutes. Where the Chargers drubbed the visitors was at the foul line. They were afforded 26 opportunities and they converted 20 of them. Plymouth had 16 shots and came away with eight successes.

An eight point run midway through the first period seemed to have cooled Plymouth's goose early on, but the Big Red rallied to tie it at 20 and go ahead at 21 to 20 in the first three minutes of the second quarter.

It was tied at 24 on a bucket by Steve Hall, who was all Plymouth had at the beginning of a nine point surge by the Chargers that established a lead of 29 to 24. Edison was not thereafter threatened in any way.

Kevin Rutherford scored 18, Jim Hall 19, Dave Shupe 16 and Kevin Oestheimer 13 to lead the winners. Hall's 21 and 10 each by Jeff Lasch, who got all his points in the final period, after going 0-for-5 before that, and Kevin Taylor were the best that Plymouth could produce.

Edison is a much improved ball club from what it was earlier when Plymouth won. But has it improved that much? No one will know, because the two teams will not meet again this season. Perhaps not ever. For Edison will apply for two vacancies in the Sandusky Bay conference. Norwalk and Oak Harbor will also apply. Vermilion, a fourth team that of the 1971-72 season won so many games. Even if the Big Red does not move another step along the victory trail, this season is something of a monument. The season was thin, a fact that everybody could see. The coach undertook his duties after having been fired from the same job. He deserves great credit for his patience and his faith in his players, some of whom excelled more than they or their supporters had any right to expect.

Only three players will be graduated. There is a strong nucleus for team that next season is likely to make waves in a conference that will be tougher than it was this year, even if Edison leaves.

courted by the SBC, will probably not apply. A final decision will be taken Mar. 13.

This Plymouth team, that nobody thought would even be respectable, has managed to win 10 games, a feat no Red team has done for a decade.

It does not have much style, a fact that its loyal fans readily admit. It has some class. Class always sits higher at the table than style.

Red nips Trojans for 10th, 54 to 52

Plymouth clawed from behind in the third period at Greenview Feb. 26 to defeat South Central, 54 to 52, in Firelands conference play.

It is nothing particularly new for Plymouth to defeat the Trojans. It has been done before. What is particular about this victory is that it averages an earlier defeat on the home court, it was scored over a team coached by Jacques Daup, who learned and played his basketball at Shiloh and Plymouth, and it produced the 10th win of the season for the Big Red, which was not expected by anybody, perhaps not even its coach, to win half its games when the season started.

It is a long sentence, but then so has been what Plymouth players and fans have completed a defeat after defeat.

Even should the last two games of the regular season end in defeat, Plymouth will have completed a respectable season. As of this game, it is 10-and-8, with Edison, which it has already beaten, and a decimated Western Reserve down the road.

Indeed, down the road is the right term. Each of the games will be played on alien courts.

And by the time this piece reaches print, Plymouth will have played its first tournament game, against a strong Seneca East team with Chad Riedel and some other stalwarts who have been the scourge of Seneca county this season. The Big Red entered that contest a decided underdog.

Jeff Lasch had a hot night Feb. 26. He scored 20 points. Steve Hall, his right bower, contributed 15. Plymouth outscored its hosts, 35 to 26, and made one less mistake on offense, 10 to 11. Six Big Red players hit the scoreboard, all sold.

For the Trojans, Matt Brett scored 17, Steve Lewis 12 and Brett Wilhelm 10.

Where Plymouth was was at the foul line. South Central having outshot the Big Red from the field, 20 to 18. The visitors made 26 chances from the foul line and converted 18 of them. South and shot 12 of them.

The game was worth the price of admission, as if usually is when these friendly rivals get together, and Plymouth clearly deserved to win. Daup does a nice job of turning out a team and he deserves credit for the orderly manner with which his team approaches its task and its sportsmanship in carrying it out.

Turkey legs make good soup, good for diet

By AUNT LIZ

Every few weeks I get plain frustrated over something.

It all started when I decided to make a quilled pillow, the easiest way I could figure out. Merely two inch squares. Everyone else has done it. Not me. I am using old scraps from old dresses and one happens to be a beautiful shade of red, algeppay velvet. Just try to use a decent looking square of the stuff and then try to sew them together. Downright tricky.

Somehow I will figure it out, but the next thing has been at a standstill.

This is an appeal for help from all our happy, suntanned friends in Florida.

I have been told by someone whom I believe like mad that a new food has become the rage down there. It is called an Onion Loaf and seems to be made of French fried onions and a special batter which does something weirdly so you do not cook the onions (I think that is stupid because I like to smell onions and consider them in the same class as Chanel No. 5). Apparently, once it is all put together, it is deep fried.

It may not fit into some diets I know about, but you do need a treat now and then.

Our house has been on a miserable diet regime and happily it is showing results. But I am starving. It simply would not be decent to sit and eat a nice plate of pasta while the poor guy at the end of the table is eating a skinny chicken leg. I do cheat a little and even eat my sweet potato plant the other day. They can make beautiful bushy pants but should be untreated. I knew mine was treated, but tried it anyway. I habited all along for almost two months and decided the end had come, so I plunked it in the oven, not knowing what it would be like inside. It was great.

And we have another thing at

All about town . . .

Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Hanline spent the weekend in Pittsburgh, Pa., where they visited his cousins.

$66,255 put into savings by village, clerk says

That fund is being closely watched to determine if the appropriation for the year will have to be increased because of the additional expense caused by the sick leave of Police Chief K. Frank Hodge. Acting Chief Bill Spognardi thinks he can stay within the budget so no action has been taken by the council.

our house that is great. We are expectant parents. This is going to be easy, no fancy little clothes, cribs and all the stuff you usually need. We are going to have to do something about a food dish and a potty. We are getting a calico kitten when it is ready to leave home.

It is more for our fuzzy dog than us. She needs someone to play with and will love it.

I know a lot of young mothers say no pets. This includes our kids too, but every child should have one. Ours always did, and each dog loved them and followed them around wherever they went. Once a cocker went to church. He just followed them up the street and there he was. And I will never forget the Sunday we all went to the police and left Cookie at home. Cook was a good beast and knew enough that sitting on furniture was out. When we came in the back door, there is Cook completely stretched out on top of the kitchen table. He raised his head, gave a dirty look and went back to sleep. He was plain mad at all of us for leaving him at home.

Animals are like people. Their feelings get hurt.

And they like treats, and sometimes I find myself cooking something that I know they will like a tidbit of.

Right now I have discovered turkey legs. They are cheap, the dark meat is better protein-wise than the white and you can do a lot with them. Start them out in a kettle with everything you can scrape up in your refrigerator as a soup. Some of the meat will come off the bones and stay in the soup, but you can rescue enough to make a tasty turkey salad in hunks or grant it up with onions and celery plus some flavorings to make a sandwich spread. You do this by guess-work, smell and taste a little to get it just right. If there is an authorized recipe, I have never seen it.

In respect to Jack E. McQuate, Plymouth native, common council of Muncie, Ind., his home, has approved without dissent two resolutions commending his volunteer service.

One resolution praises him for his inception of live broadcasts of council proceedings.

The other, initiated by the emergency medical board, recognizes his efforts to improve the service and that a vehicle of the service be named for him, in perpetuity, by means of a transferable plaque.

Copies of the resolution were sent here to his parents, the R. Earl McQuates.
