Auditor says Beer Dock owes $190 in funds of lottery

Finding for recovery against Plymouth Beer Dock, 57 Brazilian street, for failure to remit lottery ticket proceeds in the amount of $190 was made by the state auditor's office.

John Conley, member of the audit staff, says the money was unpaid as of Mar. 1.

The auditor has requested the attorney general to undertake civil proceedings to recover the money.

Schoolboy injured in collision

A 17-year-old schoolboy was taken to Shelby Memorial hospital May 8 after a collision involving three vehicles, two of them farm vehicles, in Noble road a few rods west of Route 112.

Ryan P. Wilson, Plymouth route 1, was admitted in satisfactory condition. He was charged with failure to control his vehicle after it struck a farm tractor towing a disc harrow operated by Paul E. Biesel, 21, Shiloh route 1, westbound in Noble road, and a 1978 truck towing a corn planter operated by Willis Pratt, 46, Shiloh route 1, also westbound. Wilson's 1973 Ford Mustang crested a hill, could not stop and skidded into Biesel's rig. It was heavily damaged and towed away.

A 31-year-old Shiloh driver pleaded guilty to drunken driving and no contest to a charge of failing to control his vehicle in Shelby Municipal court May 6.

Daniel R. Porter, 39 Prospect street, was sentenced to three days in jail, revocation of his driver's license for a year and to pay a fine of $300 and costs, on the first count, and to pay a fine of $30 and costs on the second.

An 18-year-old Willard man arrested by local police on three charges was remanded to Shelby's lockup pending hearing. Richard S. Risner, Bullhead road, is accused of drunken driving, driving without a state license and reckless operation.

Cars collide at New Haven; man, 20, held

Two cars collided near New Haven Thursday at 8:15 a. m. and the driver sustained injury.

Lester Seward, 59, Route 598, New Haven, northbound in that road, struck a vehicle driven by Elva Cummings, 43, Route 598, New Haven, who was backing into the highway from a private driveway.

He was summoned on a charge of failure to yield the right-of-way. Seward's 1976 Mercury and Cummings' 1981 Pontiac were moderately damaged but able to leave the scene under their own power.

A 30-year-old Plymouth driver was summoned on a charge of failure to yield at a stop sign after his vehicle struck the driver's side of another operated by Victor A. Williams, 19, Shelby, in Route 61 at the State street intersection north of Shelby Thursday at 12:17 p. m.

John S. Robinson, 146 Tru street, had halted his 1962 Chevrolet, which was eastbound, but did not see Williams approaching in Route 61.

One teacher resigns; all coaches renamed

A teacher resignation and assignment of athletic coaches for the fall and winter seasons were approved by Plymouth Board of Education Monday night.

Assignment of a trioka arrangement of two head coaches in wrestling, neither of whom was identified, was put off until the specific duties of each are spelled out to the board's satisfaction. This will be done by Supt. Douglas Staggs at the June 10 session.

Miss Jane Neumann, fourth, fifth and sixth grade learning disabilities teacher at Shiloh, resigned. She plans to marry and will move from the district.

No surprises resulted from nomination by Staggs of coaching assignments. Last time this was done, he was surprised when some members demurred on assignment of the head basketball coach, whose nomination was rejected. He was subsequently appointed after the board considered other options and won election as coach-of-the-year in the Firelands conference.

Some vacancies in coaching assignments exist, Staggs admitted. At least one of them hangs upon whether sufficient candidacy for a ninth grade football team appears. If so, an assistant coach will be detailed to that job.

Nominations that were approved: Sam Cook, athletic director; Lawrence J. Root, junior high athletic director; Richard Roll, head football coach; S. Michael Tracey, assistant football coach; David Hirschy, assistant football coach; one vacancy; Kevin Steinmetz, junior high football coach; one vacancy;

Paul Gase, cross country coach; David P. Dunn, head boys' basketball coach; Hirschy, assistant; William F. Flaherty, ninth grade coach; one vacancy; J. Jeffrey Conklin, marching band; Lisa Hutton, head volleyball coach; Julie Frankl, assistant; one vacancy;

Dunn, head golf coach; Mrs. Karl Pfaff, 3rd, flag corps and majorette coach.

John Eichelberry, assistant girls' basketball coach; Paul McClintock, junior high girls' basketball coach; Paul Gase and

Linville, Strong guilty

Two Plymouth residents accused to theft pleaded no contest in Huron county common pleas court May 10.

John C. Linville, 40, West High street, charged with theft of property, valued at more than $300, a fourth degree felony, will be sentenced June 7. He may get from six months to five years in prison plus a fine of up to $2,500.

Buzard calls it quits after 45 years on job

After 45 years in the employ of Plymouth Locomotive Works, Inc. and its predecessor, the Fate-Root-Heath Co., Fred L. Buzard, 366 Plymouth East road, retired May 1.

Born in Truax street Sept. 13, 1918, he lived here until he was 13, raised by his grandparents. He moved to Delphos to live with his father and as a ninth grader in 1935 he played on the Jefferson High school basketball team there.

He moved to Mansfield to rejoin his grandparents and was educated by Senior High school in 1938. The late Harry Mehock, who coached and taught in Mansfield schools for two generations, was his preceptor.

Buzard lettered three years in track and field and cross country. He worked after school in the Fourth Street fruit and vegetable market.

He was a natural organizer. When he was a schoolboy he assembled boys into teams that won championships in three age divisions.

After he graduated he played semi-pro baseball - he was an infielder - and was invited to try out with the Columbus Redbirds, a farm team of the St. Louis National League club.

He took up dancing in 1939 and with a partner, Mary Wynne, Willard, before 45,000 persons in Cleveland Stadium, to the music of Benny Good-

Terry Pore, junior high basketball coach; Head girls' basketball coach is open.

The board opted to buy, if state funds are forthcoming, a new 65-passenger bus on a package quotation offered by S&S Coach Co., Lexington, by which it would furnish for $23,418.25 an International chassis, Model 1985, with a Ward body. The district will pay half of the agreed cost if the state funding is approved.

Gwendolyn Kilgore and Christine Kurzen were approved as substitute bus drivers and James Blankenship as substitute cleaner.

A new curriculum for library-media studies, as required by state law, was approved without dissent. It was prepared by Mrs. Wayne H. Strine, high school librarian, and Mrs. Gerald Lillo, librarian at Shiloh.

Typewriter repair during the summer will be undertaken by King Office Supply Co., Mansfield, on a bid slightly lower than its sole competitor in the bidding.

Eighty-eight pupils were approved for the diploma of the high school on May 26, subject to satisfactory completion of their work.

Approval of their names now means that if any fails to complete his work by May 26, he may undertake to do so during the summer and if it is done satisfactorily, he may receive his diploma without further action by the board.

A supreme court decision in favor of Ohio Power Co. will result in a decrease of $14,416 in the second half tax settlement by the Richland county auditor, Staggs reported.

Joshua Karl, who lives in the extreme west end of the district, was released to attend classes in the parish school of St. Bernard's Roman Catholic church at New Washington.

C. Michael Pollett and Mrs. Eichelberry, third grade teachers here, reported on the first session of their outdoors education program, which they described as a success. A second session takes place today. The handed board members a printed, bound report prepared by pupils of the year's study project.

John C. Linville, 40, West High street, charged with theft of property, valued at more than $300, a fourth degree felony, will be sentenced June 7. He may get from six months to five years in prison plus a fine of up to $2,500.

Buzard moved to Plymouth in 1950. He designed and built his residence.

In his 45 years at PLW, he worked as sweeper, in the machine shop, in sheet metal fabrication, in layout and as timekeeper, whereupon he transferred in 1945 to the ceramics department, in which he served as draftsman, die designer, customer service manager, costing and planning employee, public relations employee and in the records department.

In 1958, he organized Plymouth Midlet league for boys 10 to 12 and for 11 years was active as officer and manager and coach. He umpired many junior high school baseball and basketball games.

He served as president of the Community chest and as a Cub Scout leader. He belongs to First Evangelical Lutheran church, Plymouth Lodge 210, F&AM, and Ehret-Parsel Post 447, American Legion.

Advice to those who may seek his longevity: "Don't smoke, use grapes or grain sparingly and in moderation, be honest, love to work with people and don't hesitate to use the paddle on your children."

Past commander Memorial speaker

Douglas Lasch, past commander, 5th district, American Legion of Ohio, will deliver the annual Memorial day address in Green-lawn cemetery May 27.

If weather is inclement, there will be no parade and the ceremonies will be conducted in the high school.

Bernard A. Garrett will be marshal of the parade, which will step off from the west side of the Public Square at 10:45 a. m.

William Fazio, former mayor of Plymouth and adjutant of Ehret-Parsel Post 447, American Legion, will be master of ceremonies.

The Rev. Thomas Hoover, Plymouth United Methodist church, will speak the invocation and the benediction.

Jesse Miller, a candidate for the diploma of Plymouth High school, winner of the American award, will read General Logan's Order establishing memorial day.

Orlo Strohm, in costume, will present President Lincoln's address at Gettysburg.

Debbie Schrader, winner of the American award, will recite John Macrae's "In Flanders Field."

Weather at the cemetery will be laid thus: Mrs. Theodore A. Ross, War of the Revolution; Mrs. Richard Mitchell, War of 1812; Mrs. Carl C. Carnahan, War With Mexico; Miss Florence Danner, War of the Rebellion; Mrs. William L. Van Wagner, Spanish-American war; Also, Mrs. John Lasch, World War I; Mrs. Lacey Williamson, World War II; Mrs. Salvatore J. Glorioso, Korean Conflict; Vietnam Engagement; Mrs. Wilford Postema;

Also, Mrs. Jack Laser, Plymouth Fire department. Life members of the post will raise the standard to full staff at the conclusion of the ceremonies.

Connie Ross, younger daughter of the Theodore A. Rosses, is 1985 Poppy queen.

Nine Scouts at Shiloh stoop to win over trash

Lewis wins in battle of Stevs at Ontario

The anticipated duel between the two Stevs, Lewis of South Central and Hall of Plymouth, the one a 12th grader headed for West Point, the other a 10th grader of remarkable academic prowess who may be headed anywhere, came off at Ontario Thursday and the older Steve won.

With a 9 to 1 victory in the Class A sectional tourney, the Trojans advanced to the district at Old Fort.

And Plymouth, with just one game left on a season that with this one amounts to seven wins and 15 defeats, can chalk this year up to character development.

The younger Steve had a perfect game going until the roof fell in in the fifth, when South Central scored eight times. Here's how:

Lewis led off with a single, Tackett doubled, Phillips doubled, scoring two; Aaron Wadlin, headed for the Coast Guard Academy at New London, Conn., fanned, whereupon Rollie Bovia singled, John Vogel was safe on the catcher's error, Music singled, and three runs were in; Beekman walked, stole second, and when Lewis singled for the second time in the inning, the damage was completed.

The Trojans added an unnecessary score in the fifth.

Plymouth got only four hits off

Lewis. Two of them led to its only score, by Troy Keene in the fourth, establishing a 1 to 0 lead for the Big Red.

Lewis struck out five and walked three. Hall fanned nine and issued only one base on balls. The Trojans combed him for eight safeties.

Black River's big inning scuttles Big Red, 15 to 11

When the Great Scorer comes, at last, to mark down the results of competition during 1984-85 between Black River and Plymouth, He'll have to note that in seven boys' events, the Big Red managed to win just one.

The Pirates came here Friday to close out Plymouth's 1985 baseball season and that's what they did. They closed it out with eight runs in the third inning en route to a 15 to 11 victory.

The Big Red outdid the visitors, 12 to six. But the big inning syndrome that has plagued Coach Dave Dunn's team all season jumped up and bit Plymouth.

The Big Red had a lead of 4 to 1 when the roof caved in.

Plymouth scored four in the first on as many hits, a single by Tim Deskins, a double by Steve Hall after Jamie Brown fanned, then a single by Troy Keene after Jeff Lasch struck out. Dave Burks drew a pass, Jeff Staggs doubled and four runs were home.

In the big inning, Warden doubled off Lasch, Channel was safe on the second baseman's error, Ensign reached on the shortstop's boot, T. Channel tripled, Dave Savick was safe on another error at second, Clifford singled, McCommas walked, Kostecki was safe on the shortstop's error, Buchanan reached on a miscue at first base, seven runs were home and there was none out.

With one down, Warden sacrifice fly scored the eighth run. The Pirates got four more in the fourth, on only two hits. And they put it away with two in the seventh.

The Big Red managed one in the third, on two hits, and three each in the two final frames. But it was too little and too late.

Plymouth wound up its season with seven wins and 16 losses.

Cougars overcome Plymouth, 4 to 1

Crestview defeated Plymouth, 4 to 1, at Olivesburg May 8 in Firelands conference competition.

The two teams split the season's series.

Plymouth was limited to just three hits by Knowlton. Jamie Brown and Troy Keene gave up only four safeties to the Cougars, who scored all their runs in the first inning.

A walk to Anderson, a single by Gee, another one base blow by Knowlton, a walk to Markel, Bernhard struck out but was safe on an error, Herahiser singled and that was all for Brown. Hart greeted Keene with a single and the damage was done.

Plymouth got its run in the seventh. Hall singled and was forced at second by Lasch, who scored on successive singles by Keene and Dave Burks, not much of a hitter at the outset of the season but one who has come on substantially since then.

Hillsdale wins over Red, 7 to 5

Non-conference teams were the bane of Plymouth's existence on the diamond this season.

Hillsdale made its third straight at Hayesville May 7 with a 7 to 5 victory.

It was another big inning that did the Big Red in. Hillsdale scored six times in the fourth.

Plymouth jumped off to a three run lead in the st. Tim Deskins led off with a single, Jamie Brown walked, Steve Hall walked, Jeff Lasch skied to the third baseman, and on one base knock that scored two. After Dave Burks walked, Gary Brown was safe on a fielder's choice and Jason Robinson scored the third run with a single to left center.

The Big Red added the fourth run in the second. Deskins led off with a walk, Brown walked, Hall fanned, Deskins taking third, and Lasch's brought the run home with a fly to deep center.

The big inning resulted from four hits, three of them doubles. Two of them came off the loser, Gary Brown.

Plymouth was held to five hits. Hillsdale had seven.

SOME OF THE GREATEST THINGS IN AMERICA NEVER CHANGE. SOME DO.

U.S. Savings Bonds now pay like money market accounts! At the current rate—10.94%—you could double your money in less than seven years.

Just hold your Bonds five years or more and get the new higher variable rates. Plus, you get a guaranteed return. That means you can earn a lot more—but never less than 7½%. That's the kind of change anyone can appreciate.

But some of the best things about Savings Bonds haven't changed. They're still as safe as ever. They're still exempt from state and local income taxes. And since Bonds cost as little as $25, they're as affordable as ever.

What's more, Savings Bonds remain a great way to keep our country strong.

You can purchase Bonds almost anywhere. At neighborhood banks, savings and loans and credit unions.

Or easier still, through the Payroll Savings Plan where you work. Today, more than 5.5 million Americans are saving the easy way—through Payroll Savings. Isn't it time you joined them? That's a sure way to appreciate how much Bonds have changed for the better.

Kim Daron scares men in '85 Open

When one door is shut, she knock on another.

And Kim Daron, Plymouth's doughty weightlifter, did just that Apr. 27 in the 1985 Buckeye Open.

Since there was no female competition, she entered the male 123-pound division. She lifted 123 pounds in the squat and 255 pounds in the dead lift. She bench pressed 120 pounds, bringing her total to 575 pounds, only 25 pounds beneath the first place score of Jeff Beatch.

She will vie in the Ohio Women's championship at Findlay Saturday.

Red defeats St. Paul's; Manuel, Taylor excel

What Plymouth's boys could not do at St. Paul's in basketball and baseball was done in track and field at Norwalk Thursday.

They edged the Flyers in a dual meet, 69 to 63.

Paul Manuel won the shot put and the discus and Kevin Taylor and the high jump and the long jump.

And the Big Red girls won, almost as closely, 68 to 60. Kathy Welker was a dual winner, in the high jump and the 440-yard dash. So was Donell Branham, in the hurdle races.

Cooking by twos? Not hardly, says Auntie

By AUNT LIZ
Something new is sweeping the countryside.
Another form of "togetherness." This we have been through before.

First it was get really chummy with your kids and taking them wherever you go and talking to them like real people.
Anyone who has raised a couple of youngsters will have to agree that there are times, many, to be exact, that they should stay behind closed doors. Children can be fascinating to talk to. At times. But I grew up with the old adage, "Children should be seen and not heard," and whoever dreamt that one up was a genius.

So after all the togetherness with kids passed over, the next thing was real togetherness in bed. Millions of dollars were made on that one and certainly used up a vast amount of paper to print all the little quizzes to be sure you were doing something that is instinctively right. You just checked them off, and if your score was right up there, you were great.
The newest method of togetherness, however, is much more serious.

One newspaper had it headlined like this: "Cooking couples find a new setting for togetherness, teamwork and talk."
Without meaning to, we have done this, and it ends up in a disastrous battle, where I have been tempted to bash a head in with my best salad bowl.

Some of you know that we have a good-sized kitchen, but even if it consisted of the whole downstairs of our house, it would not be big enough for two cooks.
Over the years I have been very cooperative and patient and silent to the point I wanted to scream. Even though one person has lived in this house for over 30 years, he has no idea where the measuring cups are, nor the spices or anything else. So we share that part of it. Some really tasty dishes have been the result, the only catch is that it takes longer to clean it all up than to eat it. (Ed. Note: Do I get equal time?)

There is such a thing as being an economical cook with utensils. We have four measuring cups, and I can get by with one for just about everything by simply using a system of doing dry ingredients first, then the wet ones. And when you want to make a couple of batches of cookies and double a recipe, it is easier to line up two bowls and measure into them with each thing which makes it easier to mix together with a smaller amount. There is a catch to this, though. It has happened that one thing like flavoring got left out of one bowl, so you have to really watch it.

And have you ever had raisins and nuts laid out to go into something and when it's all in the oven, there are nuts? I cannot remember how many times I had to pull a pan out of the oven and poke them in.

Under such circumstances, you do not want anyone standing around to see how dumb you are. This would be a complete breakdown in family communication. Some poet said that to "err is human," and the kitchen is where you are.

Kitchens should furnish some nice surprises every now and then. This can perk up a good meal of dinner.
I comes from a Shaker cookbook and is called Saturn Crumbles - probably from the colors involved.
Cut the tops of two green peppers and scoop out the seeds.
Dissolve a tablespoon of unflavored gelatin in three tablespoons of cold water. Add this to a cup of hot tomato juice.

Stand the peppers upright, put a hardboiled egg in each then fill them with the juice. Chill until they set, and thinly slice to serve on tender new lettuce leaves with your favorite dressing.
But first, dummy, char the peppers until they're black, then slice the black part off under running water!

Gardeners attend spring parley

Six members of the Plymouth Garden club were among gardeners at the spring meeting of the Mansfield district, Garden Clubs of Ohio, Inc., at a luncheon Thursday at Mansfield.

These are Mrs. John Heeden, Mrs. Douglas McQuate, Mrs. Martha McCoy, Mrs. Nevin Border and Mrs. Richard Farnor. Mrs. Lena Wyandt, New Haven, was their guest. She is a member of the Willard Garden club.

The theme of the meeting was "LeFleur avec Chapeau" with Mrs. John Ponstinger, Cleveland, a life member of the Cleveland Garden club and an official flower show judge, as guest speaker.

The local club will observe June 2-8 as National Garden club week. Monday night members planted flowers at the old water tower.

Sixth grader wins contest for poster

Duane Adams, sixth grader in Plymouth schools, won the poster contest sponsored by the Richland Soil and Water Conservation society during Soil Stewardship week, which began Sunday and ends Saturday.

On Monday morning he went to the Richland county courthouse to receive a plaque and proclamation from the Richland county commissioners, Terry Wolf, Edward Olsen and Paul White.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Adams, North street, Shiloh, and a pupil of Miss Barbara McBride.

Posthumous honors accorded

The late Jack E. McQuate, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Earl McQuate and brother of Douglas McQuate, received a posthumous award for best investigative reporting from the Indiana Associated Press (AP) Broadcasters association.

McQuate was recognized for his report "Judicial Candidate Breaks into Doctor's Office."

Until his death in October, 1984, McQuate worked for WBST public radio station at Ball State University. The station, the only public station entered in the AP competition, earned seven awards.

Judging was done by the Kansas City, Mo., AP bureau.

About Bulls & Bears & Savings Bonds.

According to people in the stock market, bulls are good and bears are bad. But if you're buying U.S. Savings Bonds through the Payroll Savings Plan, you don't have to worry about missing a ride on the bull or being devoured by the Wall Street bear.

And that means there's no limit on how much you can earn.

But if the bear takes over and rates decline, you're protected by a guaranteed minimum of 7.5%. And that's only minimum.

Chances are you'll do a lot better over time.

All you have to do is hold your Bonds five years or more and you can ride the bull and beat the bear.

When the bull is dominant in the market and rates are high, you'll share in those higher returns because Bonds now have a variable interest rate.

Take stock in America.
