

Much noise, some smoke, maybe fire— but for what?

A considerable noise, some smoke and perhaps some fire have resulted from a confrontation of parents of pupils attending Christie Lane school at Norwalk and its administration, by which read the head man, Marion Waits, and the board of education.

It is difficult, extremely difficult, to winnow the facts, the real issues, from the passions of the moment.

It is clear to us that these are uncontrollable truths:

1. Parents of pupils were and are enamored of the skills and techniques of Miss Kimberly Holmes, in diametric opposition to the attitude of Waits and the board.

2. These parents, some of them, at least are incensed that the contract of Miss Holmes was not renewed.

3. Waits and the board believe they are within the law by not spelling out specific reasons why the contract was not renewed and within their rights, under law and custom, by dismissing her on the basis of professional evaluations (note the plural) and other reports.

4. Some parents made allegations that abuses, perhaps physical ones, although it is not absolutely certain that is what they meant, occurred at the school. The county has been put to considerable expense, by the sheriff and others, to look into the possibility that these charges are in fact valid.

5. Action by the administrator and the board in notifying parents and friends of the school that their statements in a public session set for June 3 were to be made under oath and recorded as sworn testimony, subject to the laws and rules of perjury, exacerbated them and may have been illegal. They were, we think, uncalled for, if not improper. They tend to inhibit free and open discussion.

6. Waits is understandably and properly sensitive to and sensible of criticism of him and his staff and their performance and keen to ensure that inaccurate, unfair and unethical comments and observations about him and his staff are exposed for what they are. Whether the methodology is suitable to that purpose is perhaps questionable.

7. Support artillery has been wheeled into fire. Whether it was a good idea is problematical. It did aggravate what was already a tenuous situation. The main gun has characterized the whole matter as something of a case of mistaken identity. He says someone mistook what was said at the first meeting as a charge of criminal abuse. Not so, Dewey says. "Questionable practices", he says, but not abuses. He implies that some who do not regularly attend board meetings but came on alert that a big story was about to break may have misread the intentions of the parents. Who, he readily acknowledges, did not make themselves clear.

8. Dewey has said the board is not doing its job. He claims Waits runs the board and the school. He hasn't adduced any proof. It wouldn't be the first time an administrator has done this, if indeed Waits has, and it may be that the board has been less than energetic in the discharge of its duties. But until the facts are in, and they must be facts, we choose to regard Dewey's remarks as just so much needless rhetoric.

9. Unless and until charges of actual abuse are verified by independent investigation, and then proved in court, we must all consider them as made of whole cloth and disregard them. If there are questionable practices, they should be addressed properly, promptly and effectively. The best way to do this is to identify them, to document them, to present them and to afford the staff appropriate time to respond to them, to correct them or to be disciplined for failure to do so.

IT'S NICE WEATHER FOR WINTERIZING.

Now that last winter is only a memory, it's a perfect time to save on next winter's energy bills.

Look around for places where a little attention can make your home more winter-tight. Make sure you have proper insulation. Check the caulking around windows and doors... and weatherstrip them. Consider installing storm windows and doors. And have your heating system checked for efficiency. Remember that installation of a new gas-stingy model can cut your gas usage by up to 30%.

There are also things you can do that will start saving you energy right now. Like putting an insulation blanket around your water heater; adding flow restrictors to shower heads; or installing a night set-back thermostat.

Columbia has hundreds of other ideas on ways you can save on energy bills. Ask at your Columbia office for a free copy of our "Everyday Energy Saver's Guide".

By making your home more energy tight now, you'll save next winter... and for winters to come.

If you're not careful, your TV or CB antenna could put you in touch with a lot more than you bargained for.

Like many do-it-yourself projects, installing your own TV or CB antenna can save you money. But unless you take proper precautions, it could put you in touch with our power lines.

And the slightest contact between you, your antenna and our lines, could be fatal.

So, before you put up your antenna, here are a few suggestions you should follow.

First, we recommend you have a professional do it for you.

Okay, if you're determined to do it yourself, look out for power lines. The ones attached to poles. And the ones attached to your house. If you can't see a power line from a phone line, don't experiment. Steer clear.

OHIO POWER COMPANY

Then make sure you locate your antenna (including supporting mast and guy wires) at least one and a half times its total height from all power lines. Which means, a 30-ft. high antenna should be 45 feet away from all power lines in all directions.

That way, if it falls during construction, or gets blown down during a storm, it won't hit any lines and endanger you or your neighbors.

Wait for a calm day, assemble the antenna where you intend to put it up, be sure to ground the antenna properly and get someone to help you.

And remember: Ladders don't mix better with power lines than do antennas.

Wendy Thornsberry first winner of McQuate plaque

Wendy Thornsberry, seventh grader, youngest daughter of the Daniel Thornsberry, 80 Plymouth street, is the first winner of the Jack E. McQuate Memorial plaque given to the Shiloh Junior High school pupil who shows most improvement in geography and Ohio history.

She was chosen by a panel of the principal, the president of the PTO and a teacher of the junior high school, all that no teacher who nominates a pupil may judge any nomination.

The plaque was donated to the school by the A. L. Paddocks, Jr., in memory of their friend of 31 years' standing who died suddenly.

Bike-a-thon raised $861

Craig Gowitska won a 10-speed bike, Adam Taylor a radio and Shawna Meade a $10 gift certificate at Miller's Hardware during the bike-a-thon to benefit St. Jude's hospital, Memphis, Tenn., its chairman, Mrs. Jack Laser, reported.

Total of $861.44 was realized.

Don Echelbarger was taken by Plymouth ambulance squad to Willard Area Hospital May 28.

William Kilgore was released Thursday from that hospital.

Effie Gilger was released Sunday.

New apparatus in final stage

Fire Chief Wayne E. Strine and Assistant Chief Kenneth Echelbarger drove the chassis of the new fire pumper from Hantville to Roanoke, Va., last week.

The vehicle will be assembled there. Plans are that it will be finished by the end of July and delivered to the village in time for the annual Firemen's Festival the first week of August.

Kowitts wed in mass here, honeymoon in Europe

A honeymoon in Europe took place after the marriage May 25 at 3 p.m. in St. Joseph's Roman Catholic church of Miss Lisa Ann Robinson, daughter of the Wayne Robinsons, 101 North street, and Kenneth Brian Kowitt, Rochester, N.Y.

The Rev. Donald Mueller, pastor, was celebrant of the double ring ceremony, performed in a setting of red, yellow and Kilian daisies with carnations on the altar. The bridal couple presented long-stemmed pink roses to the mothers of the bride and bridegroom.

Joseph Tuscan, uncle of the bride, and Michael McFarren, a former teacher of the bride, sang. Marlene Schwengen was organist.

Given in marriage by her parents, the bride was attired in ivory silk organza with lace on the bodice and sleeves embroidered with seed pearls. She wore a hat of ivy. Her veil was embroidered with seed pearls.

She carried pink roses, cymbidium orchids and baby's breath.

Her sister, Mrs. Andrea Linhardt, Columbus, matron of honor, wore pale blue summer taffeta with ivory lace on its sleeves and hem. She wore an ivy hat with veil.

Nancy Hirahan, White Plains, N.Y., maid of honor, was similarly attired save with hat and veil of blue.

Each carried pink roses and daisies, carnations and baby's breath.

Another sister, Sarah, Miss Susan Morrow, Columbus, and Miss Kathy Starck, Cleveland, also bridesmaids, were dressed as Miss Hirahan.

Jennifer McCloud, Plymouth, flower girl, chose a summer taffeta of ivory. She carried a basket of red rose petals and daisies.

Michael Hirahan, White Plains, N.Y., was best man.

The bride's brothers, James and Jason, Plymouth, and her cousin, Joseph Tuscan, Canton, ushered.

Mrs. Robinson watched from the pink rose petals and daisies.

Mrs. Kowitt was dressed in dusty rose with pink roses and daisies.

A reception took place in Holiday Inn, Mansfield, decorated with snapdragons, carnations and baby's breath.

Tami and Nicole Robinson served cake. Lisa Kleman registered guests.

An honor graduate of Plymouth High school and of Bowing Green State university, where she received the B. S. Degree in business administration, the bride

U.S. SAVINGS BONDS NOW PAYING 10.94%

U.S. Savings Bonds now pay higher variable interest rates like money market accounts! At the current rate, you could double your money in less than seven years.

Hold your Savings Bonds
for five years and you automatically get the higher variable rates that change every May 1 and November 1. Plus, you get a guaranteed return. You'll probably earn a lot more—but never less than 1½%.

Money market rates. A guaranteed return. You couldn't ask for better reasons to buy Savings Bonds. And Bonds are still a great way to keep America strong.

Savings Bonds are easy to buy, too. Purchase them at almost any financial institution.
Or easier still, through the Payroll Savings Plan where you work. Start today.

U.S. SAVINGS BONDS
Paying Better Than Ever

Variable rates apply to Bonds purchased on and after 10/1/82 and before 10/1/83. Bonds purchased before 10/1/82 earn variable rates when held beyond 10/1/82. Bonds purchased after 10/1/83 earn fixed rates.
