

Who's excited?

The seasoned observer of matters local is too wide to be excited by the latest flap.

He has the advantage of long experience in witnessing other such occurrences, some more serious than others, in this village over the past 30 years. If there is a common denominator to them all, it is that they were efforts to rearrange the power structure, by sometimes painfully transparent means and often coarse, if not crude, devices.

Consider:

Dec. 24, 1957: Editor beaten in his office by three ruffians because he refused (and still does) to disclose the name of the writer of a letter to the editor.

Mar. 1, 1970: Village administrator compelled to resign.

July 7, 1970: Demand by the mayor that the veteran police chief resign, a demand he rejected out of hand; result: he was compelled to "apologize", although for what was not made clear in the apology, although he was required to beat himself on the breast and confess his alleged sin publicly.

Feb. 16, 1972: Village administrator quit in anger because a salary increase of greater than the 5.5 per cent guideline laid down by the federal government accorded to him and to the utility clerk, for whom he was then speaking, was referred to the federal authorities by the mayor, who himself quit in disgust.

May 2, 1974: Councilman arrested on charge he conspired to vandalize the mayor's car. He was acquitted when the testimony of his principal accuser, the police chief, was impeached.

Dec. 3, 1974: Village clerk accused mayor and village administrator of "trying to break the electric fund".

Dec. 6, 1974: Eighty-four citizen electors petitioned to oust the mayor on grounds of malfeasance, nonfeasance and misfeasance, an accusation that was carried to court and collapsed because the accusers could not or would not put their money where their mouth was.

Feb. 15, 1977: Village council voted unanimously to demand the resignation of the mayor, who refused to do so.

Oct. 18, 1977: Dispute between councilman and clerk resulted in siege to village hall, overcome by a cooling in tempers at the end of a trying day.

Jan. 3, 1978: Petition of 21 firemen submitted to village council demanding the resignation or dismissal of the fire chief.

Oct. 3, 1978, and May 1, 1979: Village council formally reprimanded the mayor for actions committed by others.

May 30, 1980: Village plunged into receivership by the mayor, an action that, time proved, was neither necessary nor desirable: not one penny of outside funds was applied to relieve the village 'd straits.

There have been others. It is these that, to this day, are recited, privately, of course, by functionaries at the courthouses and in the stoneware and its several departments when someone or other seeks assistance of a monetary character from a county or state agency. They want to know, "What in Heaven's name are you folks in Plymouth up to now?"

Perhaps it is the Plymouth syndrome. If so, we should quit it. Now. There are other things we can do, and do profitably, with out time, effort and money.

Which is not to say that anyone should be denied his right to seek redress for wrongs whether real or imagined.

An indignant reader called the office by telephone Monday and threatened dire consequences if his name should appear in the paper again. "Sir," he was told, "the only way to keep your name out of the paper for doing bad things is to stop doing bad things."

Schools to study qualifications to join NCASSC

Plymouth schools will consider, for the first time, affiliation with the prestigious North Central Association of Secondary Schools and Colleges, Plymouth Board of Education decided Monday night. Plymouth is one of only a handful of secondary schools in north-central Ohio that does not belong to the association, which oversees the curriculum and quality of instruction of its member schools and whose certification means to its graduates they will receive first consideration for admission to college and universities that by choice are selective in their admissions.

In the past, before the accession of the incumbent superintendent, membership could not be obtained so long as the chief administrative officer then holding the post was on the job, because his advanced degree was in business rather than in education.

The decision to study whether the district can comply with the association's rules and, if so, whether to make application for membership came without much discussion.

It was grouped with a handful of other aims or goals for the coming school year, including:

1. Planning a computer program and organization of another class in computer science.
2. Reviewing of the philosophy of the schools, building by building.
3. Study of the language arts curriculum.
4. Developing a workshop for parent volunteers.
5. Implementing a new lesson plan technique to meet new state standards, which require more depth in lesson plans, thus assuring better teaching.
6. Review of the policies and techniques of retention and promotion of pupils in grades one through eight by involving administrators, teachers and the community.
7. Involving the community in school planning, instruction and activities.

C. J. Krister, Jr., interred here; kin of Geberts

Interment took place Friday at 11 a. m. in Greenlawn cemetery of Charlotte, N. C., of the late C. J. Krister, Jr., 41, son of the former Mary Gebert and nephew of Wayne Gebert.

He died June 29 of asphyxiation in a Wilmington, Del., hospital, where he was a patient for several months.

He was born Nov. 14, 1943. He is survived by his parents, who live in Carcroft at Wilmington, and a sister, Mary Katherine, recently married in Boston, Mass., to Richard Reinert and living there.

The Rev. Thomas Hoover, Plymouth United Methodist church, conducted graveside services in the presence of the immediate family after cremation in Delaware.

Villager's kin, Mrs. Springer, 93, dies at Shelby

Mother of Kenneth Springer, 24 Portner street, Mrs. Charles Springer, 93, a widow for 15 years, died July 10 in Heritage Care center, Shelby, of a lengthy illness.

Born in Custer Oct. 22, 1891, she lived 20 years in Shelby, having moved from Willard, where she was a member of United Methodist church and of the Golden Age club.

A son, Gale, Shelby, five grandchildren and four great-grandchildren also survive.

The Rev. Carl G. Beighley conducted services at Shelby July 3 at 10:30 a. m. Interment was in Centerton cemetery.

Schoolboys—

Three killed in collision in Route 224

Three boys were killed instantly July 3 when the driver, just 16 years old, steered left of center and collided head-on with a tractor-trailer rig in Route 224 about 1.5 miles east of New Haven.

Jeffrey C. Beier, 16, 1710 Route 224; his brother, Kevin J., 12, of the same address, and Robbie Jordan, 17, Castalia, had just completed a three-day wrestling clinic at Willard Junior High school and were en route home.

The collision occurred at 4:18 p. m., less than a mile from the Beier residence.

The semi-tractor rig, belonging to Holthouse Bros., Celeryville, was operated by Jerry Grove, 30, Shelby, who was treated at Willard Area hospital and released.

The elder Beier would have been an 11th grader in Willard High school. His brother would have been a seventh grader. The Jordan boy would have been a 12th grader in Margaretta High school.

His mother said she planned to collect her son from the Beier home where her son was staying during the clinic, later that day.

Rick Brown, state highway patrolman who investigated, said the carnage was worse than any he has seen in five years of duty. The 1980 Chevrolet Monza was torn apart by the impact.

Brown said, "There're no scuff marks, no skid marks, no mark at all to indicate he was out of control. The terrain around the crash area is flat and level and it was a beautiful day."

Grove said he estimated his speed at between 50 and 55 miles an hour. Speed of the Beier car was estimated at 55 miles an hour.

The trucker told police officers the boys' car simply "appeared in my lane and I tried to go around him to the left."

Brown said the boys had passed the Beier residence but he had no idea where they were going.

The Beier boys were born in Sandusky to the Leo Beiers. The Jordan boy was their cousin. Jeffrey was employed by Huron County Landscaping at Willard. He competed in football and wrestling and played in the orchestra. Kevin competed in wrestling at the junior high school level, played drums in the band and was a member of the 4-H club and the YMCA football team.

They are also survived by their maternal grandparents, the Thomas Jordans, Castalia, and their paternal grandparents, the Woody Earharts, Clyde.

The Rev. Jack Woods conducted services from First Assembly of God church at Willard Saturday at 10 a. m. Interment was in Maple Grove cemetery, New Haven township.

Girl injured in collision in Route 224

A Plymouth girl was injured July 3 in a two-car collision in Route 224 about 1.5 miles east of New Haven.

She was riding with Darlene E. King, 25, Bellevue, declined treatment.

The King vehicle was headed east in Route 224 and slowed to turn south into Mills road when it was struck by another eastbound vehicle driven by Jatinder Singh, 21, Buena Park, Cal., who was summoned on a charge of failing to halt within an assured clear distance.

A 16-year-old Plymouth boy was charged with driving without a license and driving left of center July 3 when his car struck a truck in Route 224 west of New Haven.

Jeffrey S. Gayheart hit an eastbound truck driven by Kenneth R. Risler, 39, Sycamore.

The Cornells have also contributed to a lawn mower fund.

Cashman said he is beginning his 35th year as a trustee. He was appointed June 1, 1980, while he was also serving on the Plymouth Board of Education.

Charges for opening and closing graves for both cemeteries are $150.

Cleland Marvin, the other trustee, and Cashman said they need to think about any raise of fees.

The question of buying additional land belonging to Roscoe Hutchinson was discussed.

Scheiberry said the land which can be developed for grave sites that are not yet plotted. The land is low lying, but he said there is good drainage.

He also recommended the chapel have some needed repairs and painting, which would come to about $10,000, rather than tearing it down and rebuilding.

'Damaging' accusation filed here

A charge of criminal damaging was laid July 3 against Michael Branham, 23½ West Broadway, accused of breaking a water meter.

He occupies the premises with Kenneth Tuttle and Ronald Shepherd.

In public health—

'Sparky' winds up formal career

Howard C. Sparky has for the last time laid down the tools of his calling but he won't leave his native county.

Born and bred in New Haven township and resident of Ridgefield township most of his adult life - he was a student at Ohio State university after he was graduated by New Haven High school and he did his internship outside the county, he retired Saturday as county health commissioner, a post he held 10 years.

The 77-year-old Sparky nevertheless went to the office Monday to provide part-time clinical services as examining physician in the pre-natal care, family planning and immunization departments.

For the first two months, his services are volunteer. Thereafter he will be paid for part-time services.

How come? He has 60 days of accumulated leave, with pay, and he intends to use that up.

A 1935 alumnus of Ohio State's college of medicine, he practiced in Monroeville many years before joining his office and going to Ottawa county as health commissioner for a time.

What's he going to do now to keep busy? "I'm going to buy my wife, I think," he says, tongue in cheek. Hardly any one bugs Ruth Sparky. Not and get away with it, that is.

Cemetery funds running low, trustees told

Trustees of Greenlawn cemetery were told by Clerk John Fazzini at their June meeting their financial situation is "tough and so."

J. Harold Cashman said the trustees would try to live within the remainder of the appropriation, which is $13,782.99 for the rest of this year.

Kenneth Scheiberry, sexton, suggested raising the costs of lots, which are now $100 for village residents and $175 for those who live outside the village.

He pointed out lot charges in Maple Grove cemetery, New Haven township, are $175 for everyone. The trustees have always kept the cost lower for village residents since they pay a tax levy for the operation and maintenance.

Charges for opening and closing graves for both cemeteries are $150.

Cleland Marvin, the other trustee, and Cashman said they need to think about any raise of fees.

The question of buying additional land belonging to Roscoe Hutchinson was discussed.

He received the Sailor-of-the-Month citation of the Integrated Logistics Overhaul Program site, at Philadelphia.
He has also received the Navy Achievement Medal citation for professional achievement in superior performance while serving on the USS Guan from Nov. 12, 1983, to Apr. 19, 1984 from the commander of the Sixth Fleet.

Friends invited to see guard of president
Staff Sgt. Becky Seaman, USAF recruit at Mansfield, is a Shilohan born and bred.
And she invites her old friends and neighbors to see the Air Force Presidential honor guard perform in Ram stadium adjoining Madison High school in conjunction with the prisoner of war/misling incident program July 19 at 6 p.m.
She adds: "If it rains, the event will be in the gymnasium."

All about town...
Mayor and Mrs. Dean A. Cline spent the weekend in Akron. They occupied the "honeymoon suite" of the Quaker Square motel.
The Fred L. Buzards returned Friday from Perry, N.Y., where they attended a three day family reunion of the Buzard and Pachuti families. These consisted of the Fred L. Buzards, the Fred J. Buzards and their children, Route 598; the Terry A. Buzards and new daughter, Elissa, Fall River, Mass.; the Bradley Buzards and daughter, Veronica, Rochester, N.Y.; Tina K. Buzard, North Olmsted; the Frank Pachutis, the John Pachutis, the Mark Pachutis and Paul Pachuti, all of Perry; Roger Freeman, North Olmsted, was also present. They watched the Ring of Fire celebration at Silver Lake on July 4, a ritual in which 1,000 home owners on the three-mile shores of a Finger lake set off 10,000 red fuses. There is a continuous fireworks display of two hours duration.
Mrs. David Holt and her son, Randy, Dublin, spent the weekend with her parents, the Arthur and Mrs. Helen Holt, at their home and father-in-law, the Frank and Helen Holt.

Methodists to house Head Start
Plans are underway for the Plymouth-Shiloh-Shelby Head Start program to be conducted in United Methodist church.
The classes have been housed in the MSC Center, Shelby. Because the center has closed and is up for new space had to be found.
Robert Beebel, who heads the Richland-Morrow Head Start program, met with the administrative council of the church June 28. He said a number of sites were investigated and the Plymouth church meets the state requirements and needs better than any.
He is now preparing the legal documents and will meet later with the council.
The program, which has been in operation for a number of years, provides pre-school for children primarily from low income families.

Schools approve six month budget of $1,251,855

A six month budget for Plymouth local school district was approved without dissent Monday night.

New Ohio law requires the budget for 1986 to be prepared, submitted and approved at the beginning of the year. Therefore the budget considered in public hearing Monday is for six months, through December.

General fund balance at the end of this year is estimated at $152,475.

Total receipts for the six month period are estimated at $1,251,855, of which $859,302 will derive from state foundation payments. Real estate taxes will produce $315,000.

Salaries for teachers will take $717,455, for administrators $122,860. Total instructional outlay, exclusive of estimated administrative costs, for the six month period is $883,388.

Operation and maintenance costs are estimated at $171,309, pupil transportation costs at $78,233, fiscal services (treasurer and staff) at $32,971.

Gas rates to drop $55 a year

Natural gas rates will be reduced by about $55 a year for the average residential customer, starting this month, Columbia Gas of Ohio announces.

A residential customer will save $4.60 a month, based on typical usage of 10,000 cubic feet of gas per month on an annual basis, according to Richard A. Newbold, Columbia's Mansfield manager. The price cut is to reflect lower costs of buying gas for our customers, and we are very pleased to pass along these savings, dollar for dollar," Newbold said.

The reduction will be reflected in bills mailed to customers beginning July 11, subject to Public Utilities Commission of Ohio approval.

The reduction was made possible by Federal Energy Regulatory Commission final approval of an agreement between Columbia Gas Transmission Corp., its customers, including Columbia of Ohio, and other parties which provides for substantial rate reductions. Columbia Transmission is a major supplier of gas to Columbia of Ohio.

Mrs. Smith, sister of villager, dead at 59

Sister of Mrs. Marvin Tanner, Plymouth East road, Mrs. Leo Smith, 59, Route 224, died Saturday in Quality Care Nursing home at Willard of a lengthy illness.

Born Margie K. Snyder in North Baltimore, she lived in Willard since 1946. Her husband and two brothers, Leroy Snyder and Melvin E. Bevier, died earlier.

She is also survived by two sons, Chester T. Attie, and James E. Willard; her mother, Mrs. Leola Bevier, Willard; a sister, Mrs. Iva Pearl Gill, Cygnet, and four grandchildren.

Services were conducted from Secor Funeral home at Willard Tuesday at 2 p. m. Interment was in Maple Grove cemetery, New Haven township.

Who's excited?

Professional conduct by village functionaries, whether elected or appointed, and a reasonable, constrained attitude by the public, setting aside the immediate provocation, at least until there is an opportunity to offer an explanation, will avoid such black eyes.

A wise man once said, "The world will find enough ways and reasons to laugh at you, for God's sake, don't create them yourself."

Hodge's benefits expire July 13

Sick leave and village benefits will expire this month for Police Chief Frank Hodge, village council learned last week during its committee meeting.

John Fazzini, clerk-treasurer, said Hodge told him Workmen's Compensation has agreed to carry him through the end of this month.

The village has been compensated for a good part of his salary during the year and a half he has been on sick leave.

Fazzini told the council the police fund is almost reaching the bottom line, but it is a "wait-and-see" situation to determine if the expenditures can stay within the $69,000 that remains in the appropriation.

The council was shown slides of the Department of Natural Resources on shade trees through the efforts of Councilman Keith Hebble. The department representative made a number of suggestions, mainly involving the creation of a Shade Tree commission by the council.

Hebble has been concerned over the condition of the large trees in tree lawns through out the village because of their age and vulnerability to cause damage.

The budget hearing was also set July 2. As usual, no one came.

Acting Police Chief Bill Spagnardi brought up the problem of blocking traffic through the village during the annual firemen's parade.

A complaint was received in August, 1982, which he had on file of several cars en route from Norwalk to Shelby for a funeral that were unable to get through the village, mostly, it appears, because the officer who stopped them at the north edge of the village did not know the streets well enough to bypass the parade.

The council agreed that directions should be visible.

Councilman E. Adrian Cole suggested a route from Plymouth East road to North street, through Portner to Mulberry and down Birchfield street to the water tower.

Councilman Terry Hopkins suggested ending the parade at North street rather than Hoffman.

Three delegates tell experiences at Girls' State

Three delegates sponsored by Ehret-Parrel Unit 447, American Legion Auxiliary, recounted their experiences at Buckeye Girls' State recently at Ashland college.

Kristi Staggs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Staggs, was assigned to Zeller city, Yunge county. Her appointment was deputy director of merchandising under the State Liquor Control in the governor's cabinet.

Sandi Polachek, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Polachek, served on the board of elections. She was a member of the Nationalist party and was assigned to Burwell city. She served as the clerk to the county commissioners in Eshelman county.

Maria Ousley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Ousley served in the Ohio State Parol cadet program. She was selected as one of 50 of a total of 160 girls. At the completion of the week, she was then selected as one of 20 to attend additional training at the Ohio State Patrol academy in Columbus. She left Monday night for training this week. Graduation ceremonies for those completing the course are tomorrow at 1 p. m. at the State Patrol academy. There were approximately 25 boys selected from the Boys' State cadet program to also attend this week. The auxiliary donated $500 to Plymouth Local school for playground equipment at Shiloh.

common pleas court by Melvin Thornberry, 113 Mulberry street. Thornberry, through his attorneys, Richard B. Hauser, Willard; denies claims made by Beverly in a suit lodged in April after an altercation in the police station on Feb. 28 and makes 18 of his own in the suit filed July 1. Jury trial is demanded.

Beverly and Thornberry engaged, according to a police report in a scuffle in the police station on Feb. 28. Beverly was treated, he said, for a broken nose.

Reason for the scuffle was said to have been a family matter. Criminal charges were filed against Thornberry but never brought to trial.

Beverly was dealt with by administrative discipline by Acting Police Chief Bill Spagnardi, a move he resisted. After his attorney, Gregory A. McDowell, Willard, and the village solicitor, Richard Wolfe, 2nd, were cloistered with village council in executive session for about an hour, the administrative reprimand and proscriptions against Beverly were nullified.

Thornberry alleges in his complaint that Beverly and other sworn officers of the police department arrested him without just cause and employed excessive force against him; that Beverly and his colleagues falsely imprisoned him; that Beverly and his colleagues conspired to falsify official reports, resulting in false and malicious prosecution of Thornberry; that Thornberry has suffered personal injury, emotional distress, lost wages, medical expenses, attorney's fees and loss of reputation as a result of this action.

Also, that Thornberry's civil rights have been violated; that the village permitted Beverly to represent himself as a police officer when he had not been properly trained and was not a graduate of the Ohio Peace Officer Training course; that the village did not properly supervise Beverly when it had reason to know he was a "problem officer"; that the village was negligent in retaining Beverly as a police officer when it knew he had a propensity to be assaultive; to carry his personal problems into his police work, and to not properly control his emotions".

Most serious charge in Thornberry's counterclaim is that when the village discovered the alleged falsified reports, it did not disclose this fact to the defendant or to his counsel.

engaged to replace Mrs. Debra Hudson, high school art teacher, who resigned to be with her husband, who has taken employment at Cleveland. He taught two years at Shelby. He was also assigned as yearbook adviser.

Mrs. Linda Bevier, business education teacher, resigned to join the Willard system.

Miss Barbara Schamadon, a third grade teacher, will leave to join Mansfield city system after seven years here.

Miss Diane Smart, with four years of experience, three of them in Crestview schools, was hired to teach fifth grade at Shiloh.

Fee schedule for 1985-86 school year was approved without dissent. Junior high art fee was raised because the cost of supplies has advanced. Other fees remained at the previous level.

Scott Ryman was employed for summer maintenance work. He is a 1985 alumnus of the high school.

Cost of insurance for pupils in kindergarten through sixth grade will advance by $1 to $12. Other costs remain the same. Jack Stidam, Shelby, is the local agent.

Transportation of handicapped pupils to special education facilities at Mansfield was hired at $25 a day with Shelby schools. That bid was $1 a day more than Willard Taxi Co. Supt. Douglas Staggs said, but he recommended the Shelby connection because the vehicle assigned to the task is "safer".

Two-way radio connection between Plymouth and Shiloh school will become a reality when equipment ordered Monday night at $11,250 is installed. The schools must apply for a license to operate its station.

Robert Precht, Shelby, is agent.

Electricity is one of the most convenient and dependable forms of energy we have. But care must be taken when you're around it, because contact with it can injure or kill. So treat electricity with respect and make sure you follow these safety rules:

1. Never go near any fallen lines. If you see a victim of electrical shock, don't touch him if he's still in contact with the wire.
2. Don't use electrical yard tools when the ground is wet. And make sure they're double-insulated or properly grounded with a 3-wire plug.
3. When using a ladder, make sure it will not come in contact with any power lines.
4. Before installing a CB, TV or ham radio antenna, make sure it's at least one and one-half times its total height away from all power lines.
5. If you're trimming trees, painting a house, repairing a roof or putting up aluminum siding, make sure you're well clear of overhead power lines.
6. Before you do any type of digging, contact your electric company to make sure there are no buried electric cables.

Neff to return as athletic director

Bryan J. Neff is the new athletic director at Plymouth High school. After a hiatus of 11 years, during which he was engaged in the home supply business with his father, first in Marion, where he resides, and then in Mansfield, Neff is returning to his first love, teaching.

He was hired Monday night by Plymouth Board of Education to succeed Sam Cook, who has resigned to become assistant principal and high school athletic director at Madison.

Neff was one of four male candidates for the post, two of whom are already employed in the system.

He came here fresh from Aahland college, where he was a student assistant coach, in 1968. After Ron Hostler left by request with 10 years and in-and-out success with the Big Red, Neff was raised to head coach, a job he held three seasons before he resigned for "personal reasons" in June of 1974.

His first club went 12-and-7, the next two 6-and-14.

S. Michael Tracey, assistant football coach, resigned without reciting a reason for doing so.

The vacancy will be posted among the staff, first, then filled from outside if there is a teaching opening.

Michael Badertscher, new head signed as assistant volleyball girls' basketball coach, was as coach at the junior high level.

Hall's two wins help Trailblazers

Incoming 11th grader Steve Hall pitched two victories in the Twitty City Classic at Nashville, Tenn., helping Mansfield Trailblazers to a 9-and-3 record in the tourney. He whipped Phillips Builders on a four hitter, 6 to 4, recording 10 strikeouts, and he defeated Clarkeville, Tenn., entry with a six hitter, 6 to 5.

And he clouted three homers in the 12 game tourney, leading all hitters.

Trailblazers benefitted from two no-hitters, one by Robert Johnson, Galion, in an 8 to 0 victory over Music City, Tenn., the other by Scott Seasar, Crestline.

Shoetique, a Tennessee, won the tourney with an 11-and-1 slate, its only loss coming at the hands of Mansfield.

Trailblazers are 25-and-7 so far and lead the George Sialer league in Columbus with a perfect record of 9-and-0.

Candidates for athletics need exam

Girls wishing to compete in interschool athletics will be given free physical examinations Monday, July 22, at 8 a.m. in Willard High school.

Transportation will leave the high school at 7:30 a.m.

Girls should be attired in blouse and shorts.

Boys wishing to compete in interschool athletics will be examined on the same basis Monday, July 28, at 8 a.m.

Transportation will leave the high school at 8:30 a.m.

Boys should be attired in shirt and shorts.

Dr. Stoller's wagerer on Buckeyes!

"I thought it was clear as to whom reference was made."

Excuses, excuses! But that's what he said when he was asked about who it was he was referring to in his piece last week about the classic wager.

Everybody knows who the only alumnus of the University of Iowa is. If he doesn't, he hasn't had his eyes or his ears open for the last 31 years. But the Ohio State graduate?

It's Dr. Jeffrey B. Stoller, dentist, whose practice is at 4 East Main street.

Miss Daron vies in Toledo Open

She will seek her master's title in the Toledo Open on July 20.

Drills to start for volleyball here Tuesday

Pre-season workouts for volleyball candidates will begin Tuesday at 10 a. m. at the high school.

Sessions will be an hour in length.

Remainder of the schedule: July 17, 18, 23, 24, 25, 26, 29, 30, 31; Aug. 1.

Official volleyball practice will begin Aug. 6 from 6 to 8:30 p. m. at the high school. All candidates must attend this session or be excused by the coach, whose telephone number is 935-8288.

Flyers, Eagles seek coaches in basketball

Another head basketball coach is needed for Firelands conference teams.

John Schlessman, runner-up for coach-of-the-year at St. Paul's in 1984-85, has resigned to become head coach of the Sandusky Blue Streaks, a Class AAA team.

He formerly coached at Perkins, a Class AA school, where he won 121 and lost 85 over a 10-year tenure.

He won three Sandusky Bay conference championships and placed second three times. His conference record was 91 and 38. In his final year the Pirates did not lose a game and went 20-and-2 for the season.

So St. Paul's is looking for its fourth head coach in many seasons. The others were Steve Fisher, now at Monroeville; Wally Amburn, now at Margaretta, and Schlessman.

Bob Stitt, Monroeville head coach last year, won't be back. He has moved from the area. Dr. Milton Levy at Monroeville is looking for a coach whose specialty is mathematics, is he can find one.

It is understood he is not partial to the technique of assigning a non-teacher as coach.

St. Paul's, meanwhile, with a non-teacher as head coach (he doesn't teach at St. Paul's, anyway), is seeking a head coach mentor. Whoever it is, he will inherit the remainder of a team that won the Firelands conference championship and finished with an 18-and-3 record, the first time that it ever won an outright championship in the league. St. Paul's is by several boys the smallest school in the conference.

Two linkmen set for tourney at Galion

Two Plymouth High school golfers are among contestants in the 11th Crawford County Golf association youth tourney starting July 24 at Valley View Country club, Galion.

These are Scott Gano, incoming 10th grader, who will tee off at 9:19 a. m., and Larry Trout, who will fire his first shot eight minutes later.

They are among 106 entrants.

Reds roll on, clout Cubs

Pete Rose's National League Reds may not be doing so well as he had hoped, but nobody can fault what Coach J. Lee Fenner's PML Reds are doing.

They romped to another victory, this time over the Cubs, 21 to 9, Monday night. The Reds are unbeaten so far.

Yankees defeated the Indians in the first game, 27 to 12.

Taking The Bite Out Of The Bear.

Some Wall Street investors spend a lot of time looking over their shoulder. Even during bull markets, when things are surging ahead, they worry about the bear showing up to take a bite out of them.

But you can get the best of the bull and take the bite out of the bear, if you join the Payroll Savings Plan and buy U.S. Savings Bonds every payday.

Bonds have a variable interest rate, so when the bull is leading the Wall Street parade, you get to share in those higher returns. And where others may quake at the coming of the bear, you're protected by a guaranteed minimum.

Bonds let you relax and enjoy the bull markets, knowing that if the bear does make an appearance, for you, his growl will be worse than his bite.

Mayor serves champagne to some bridal couples

Ohio law makes no provision for a fee to be charged by a mayor acting in a magisterial capacity to perform a marriage. Plymouth's mayor doesn't charge any. Why? "Well, the law doesn't say I must. If a fee is tendered, I politely refuse it. Heel it is a good will gesture for the village. After all, we want responsible people to settle here. Of course, I have no control over whether they're responsible or not because I don't have anything to do with issuing the marriage license. But I'm not compelled to perform the ceremony, especially for non-residents of the village. I do feel an obligation to perform the ceremony for a resident of the village and would not refuse to do so." And why doesn't she accept a fee, since the village can use the money? "I don't know what fee is appropriate. I would of course pay any fee into the general fund, the same as I do any fee-paid to the mayor's office. But this is a bother for the clerk and for the mayor, although the bookkeeping is a relatively simple matter. Besides, there aren't that many weddings -- in 18 months I have performed just four." Three of them were performed in the village hall. One of them took place in the sitting room at 78 Plymouth street. A special bonus at two of the weddings was champagne. Who paid for it? "I paid for it," the mayor says. "There's no law that says I as mayor can't do a little something for special friends of mine and this is what happened in these two cases. I wouldn't want anybody to think that I favor one against the other, one against another. But I want everybody to understand that sometimes I may choose to do something extra for a friend. So for that extra treat, be a resident of Plymouth friendly with the mayor and ask to get married by her!

ed. Fine grading not completed. Conduit to scoreboard, accidentally disrupted during tiling, not viable. (But technicians standing by to make it so). Sod ordered and contracted for. Funds appropriated to pay for sod.

Minimum of six weeks in place required for sod to root and be suitable for football.

Volunteer labor will be used to lay the sod. Theodore Fox, himself a letter winner as a Big Red footballer, now a graduate horticulturalist, has volunteered his expertise in reading the site and sodding it.

Time is running out. If the first home game with Fredericktown can't be played here, it'll be switched to the Freddie's field and some arrangement on sharing of gate receipts will be established.

Medallion was presented to Charles F. Hanline, right, by Dr. Clive W. Donoho, Jr., at Wooster. It recognizes significant contributions to Ohio agriculture.

Hanline given special award for farm work

A local resident was among a select number of Ohioans recognized by the Ohio Agricultural Research and Development Center during Centennial Show during a four-day celebration of the institution's 100th anniversary. Charles F. Hanline, president, John F. Stambaugh & Co., was presented a bronze centennial medallion designed especially for the Research Center's 100th anniversary. Ohioans receiving the me-

David Holt 13th Eagle in Plymouth

Plymouth's first Eagle Scout in eight years is 15-year-old David Holt, whose father, Franklin, is serving in the Air Force. Thursday night he submitted to examination by the board of review Fate Scout hut in Mary Fate park and was approved for Scouting's highest award.

you'd have to hire an appraiser to determine just what that value is." Proceeds of sale of the 38-acre site at Shelby and of the sale of the Ellis house and 50/100 of an acre of ground that it occupies will "come pretty close", said President Donald M. Echelberry of the board, "to paying for the deal." It is the board's intention to assign use of the land to the vocational agriculture department for instructional purposes. About nine acres is wooded. Supt. Douglas Staggs told the board, and could suitably be used as a biology-botany laboratory out-of-doors site. Eventually, Staggs said, the site can be developed as an athletic complex. It has access via Hoffman street at the east side and via West Broadway (there is an access strip measuring 155 feet in width leading north from West Broadway) from the south. Additionally, access can be had via Curtiss drive and Pleasant street and Walnut street as extended. The property abuts Weber field, where Plymouth Midget league plays. That site was bought from the Ellis family almost 22 years ago. Echelberger said it is the board's main concern "to get these youngsters off the highways, which they must do now in going back and forth to Shelby in their cars and on farm equipment." He pointed that "we probably will end up trading land for land gaining about 12 acres in the bargain, and it's only three blocks for the high school." This was in response to an inquiry from Mrs. Roger Pugh, one of the four patrons of the school district present (the others were two reporters and Fazzini), who asked how the board intends to finance the purchase.

High Blood Pressure? Me?

You Set Your Life!
23 million Americans—young and old, men and women—have high blood pressure.
Like half of them, you could have it and not know it. You can feel healthy, be active and still have it.
Untreated, it can lead to stroke or heart attack. It's easily detected, and can usually be controlled.
Don't take chances. Have your blood pressure checked, and follow your doctor's orders.

U.S. SAVINGS BONDS
NOW PAYING
10.94%

U.S. Savings Bonds now pay higher variable interest rates like money market accounts! At the current rate, you could double your money in less than seven years.
Hold your Savings Bonds for five years and you automatically get the higher variable rates that change every May 1 and November 1. Plus, you get a guaranteed return. You'll probably earn a lot more—but never less than 7 1/2%.

Money market rates. A guaranteed return. You couldn't ask for better reasons to buy Savings Bonds. And Bonds are still a great way to keep America strong.
Savings Bonds are easy to buy, too. Purchase them at almost any financial institution.
Or easier still, through the Payroll Savings Plan where you work. Start today.

U.S. SAVINGS BONDS
Paying Better Than Ever

Variable rates apply to Bonds purchased on and after 11/1/82 and held at least 5 years. Bonds purchased before 11/1/82 earn variable rates when held beyond 10/31/87. Bonds held less than 5 years earn lower interest.
