

Income inquiry meets resistance by Shilohans

An inquiry by trustees of public affairs and village council at Shiloh to obtain data respecting the spendable income of residents of the village is apparently regarded by them as an invasion of privacy, the council was told Oct. 22.

Survey letters wound up in the post office waste basket and in trash barrels around the village. Mrs. C. R. Reeder, clerk-treasurer, reported after she spoke with Dice Adair, Richland County Planning commission, who told her only 35 responses to 350 written inquiries had been returned to him.

The village seeks a federal grant to pay for improvements to the sanitary sewer system. To qualify for the grant, the village must show both a need and an inability to fund the project with its own resources. Result: the survey.

But Shilohans aren't having any of it.

And what if the village doesn't get a grant?

"Sewer rates will go up," say trustees of public affairs. "The EPA and the state and the feds insist that our sewer system be updated and the only way to do it is to spend money on it."

Louis Lemaster objected to the council that he is compelled to pay a $15 fee to start and to stop water service to his premises.

He was told to take his complaint to trustees of public affairs.

Celeste, Glenn, Pease, Oxley favored on Tuesday

Ohioans will go to the polls Tuesday to elect a U. S. senator, a representative to the Congress, a governor and lieutenant governor, a chief justice and two justices of the supreme court, a secretary of state, an auditor and a treasurer at the state level and a representative to the General Assembly, a county commissioner and an auditor at the local level.

Incumbent Sen. John Glenn, the first astronaut, seeks reelection. He is opposed by Rep. Thomas Kindness, a Cincinnati Congressman and Republican.

Incumbent Gov. Richard F. Celeste seeks a second term against the man who has served as governor longer than any other, James A. Rhodes. Signs are that Celeste will poll 52 per cent of the vote, Glenn perhaps 56 per cent.

Incumbent Secretary of State Sherrod Brown (D-Mansfield) is opposed by Vincent Campanella, former Cuyahoga county commissioner.

Incumbent Mary Ellen Withrow, treasurer, a Democrat from Marion, faces the challenge of Jeff Jacobs, a young Bay Village entrepreneur and investor whose father and uncle seek to buy the Cleveland Indians.

Rep. Donald J. Pease, D-Oberlin, 18th district Congressman, has a vigorous challenger, William Nien, a rich businessman from Elyria. Signs are that Pease will get 58 per cent of the vote.

Chief Justice Frank Celebrezze is in the fight of his life to win reelection. Much of the daily and almost all of the non-daily print media have endorsed his opponent, Judge Thomas Moyer.

Robert E. Holmes, incumbent Republican justice of the Supreme Court, faces the challenge of Francis E. Sweeney, Herbert R. Brown, a Democrat, is trading on the Brown name in his race against Joyce J. George for the other seat on the bench.

Those who claim to know say the race for chief justice will be close, that Holmes should prevail and that Brown's name is likely to carry his candidacy.

Incumbent Anthony Celebrezze, attorney-general, is favored by most seers to defeat Barry Levy, Republican.

Rep. Richard E. Rench, R-Milan, 9th district Assemblyman, is opposed by a 19-year-old Bucyran, James Gillespie, who has done no campaigning. Gillespie will get a token vote from diehard Democrats who would vote for Adolf Hitler if he were on the Democratic ticket.

Incumbent James Westerhold, the only non-party affiliated commissioner in Ohio, seeks reelection as county commissioner. He is opposed by Gene Shepherd, New London Republican, and Ann Bresnan, Norwalk Democrat.

Westerhold has received the endorsement of the largest daily newspaper in the county, and of two weekly newspapers.

John Elminger, who rose to prominence 12 years ago when at 18 he was elected trustee of his township and who upset the Republican incumbent for recorder 10 years ago, seeks to succeed C.R. Roscoe, who is retiring as county auditor. He is opposed by Mrs. Ardith Chapp, incumbent treasurer. The loser retains his present job for the remainder of the term. The winner's successor will be chosen by his party's central committee.

Elminger has received the endorsement of the Norwalk Reflector and of The Plymouth Advertiser and The Monroeville Spectator.

Richland county voters must also choose a state senator and a judge of the domestic relations and juvenile court.

Incumbent Republican State Sen Richard Schaffner, Loudonville, who was appointed to succeed Lowell Steinbrenner, R-Wooster, who resigned, seeks a full term. He is opposed by Richard Stander, a prominent Mansfield contractor and businessman.

Incumbent Frank S. Sawyer, D-Mansfield, was nearly beaten last time around by his opponent of Tuesday, John F. Swartz, Shiloh potato farmer.

Incumbent Paul L. White, Democrat, seeks reelection as county commissioner. He is opposed by Rick Sowash, Bellville Republican, and Dale E. Bricker, Sr., Shelby, running as an independent.

Freeman J. Swank, Bellville Democrat, incumbent auditor, is not opposed.

Incumbent Michael Oxley, R-Findlay, 4th district member of Congress, has two opponents. One is Clem T. Cratty, said to be a LaRouche supporter, and the other is Raven L. Workman, an independent who has been endorsed by some Democratic groups.

David Arbaugh is retiring as domestic relations and juvenile judge, to the sorrow of but few. Paul Christ, a veteran Mansfield attorney with 22 years of service at the bar, is the Democratic nominee. He is opposed by Terry Kilgore, a Lexington Republican.

Mrs. Burns dies; former villager

Mrs. Marshall H. Burns, 70, Route 61, New Haven, died there Sunday of a lengthy illness.

She was afflicted with diabetes and other ailments.

Born Viola Pearl Hoyles in Richmond township Apr. 15, 1916, she was the daughter of the late William Hoyles. She was a former worthy matron of Plymouth Chapter 231, OES, and a member of the Daughters of United Veterans and of local 804, United Brotherhood Workers.

In her youth she worked as a waitress in a Sandusky street restaurant. Until she retired, she was a production employe of Pioneer Rubber Co.

Widowed in 1985, she is survived by a son, William; a daughter, Mary, both of New Haven, and a sister, Ruth, now Mrs. Leo McQuillen, Shiloh.

Mrs. Burns attended New Haven United Methodist church, whose minister, the Rev. Clark Hogue, 3rd, conducted services at Willard Tuesday at 1 p.m.

Interment in Maple Grove cemetery, New Haven township, was by Fink-Lindsey Funeral home, Willard.

Memorial contributions to the church are suggested.

2.5-mill tax on ballot for village voters Tuesday

One money issue confronts village voters and it is submitted to voters in Plymouth township outside the village in Tuesday's general election.

All Richland county voters will face two health levies and the question of repeal of the piggyback sales tax.

Village council has proposed a 2.5-mill tax, a new levy, to benefit the general fund. It would replace an existing tax that was approved at two mills and is now applied at 1.8 mills, which will be allowed to expire at the end of the term a year hence if the proposed levy passes.

Voters in the township are asked by its trustees to approve a two mill road repair and service levy.

The levy it approved would apply to tax years 1986, 1987, 1988, 1989 and 1990.

A new fire district and ambulance service district has been created by Shiloh and Cass and Bloominggrove townships and it seeks a tax of two mills to pay its expenses. The tax would begin with tax year 1986.

A referendum petition calls for electors of Richland county to decide if the present additional one-half per cent sales tax shall be retained. An affirmative majority vote is required to retain the tax.

A merger of health services took place in late summer. All formally organized health services in Richland county are now managed by one agency save for the City of Shelby.

PAUL CHRIST

Close, no cigar!

Dave Powers, a scion of the celebrated Hampton clan, nailed a pass from Chuck Kosse and outran the Wildcat defender, Jason Kruki, Friday night. To no avail: Big Red lost, 18 to 0.

Girl, 15, hurt, driver held after collision

A 15-year-old Plymouth girl was injured slightly in a collision at Route 61 and Townline road 131 Oct. 22 and 6:30 p.m.

JOHN ELMINGER

Lisa Ann Risner, 321 Plymouth street, was a passenger of Mike T. Long, 23, Willard, who told police he fell asleep while driving his 1979 Celica Toyota Celica west in Townline road 131 and drove into the intersection with Route 61, where it struck a 1979 Pontiac LeMans station wagon operated by Lewis Sellers, 55, Norwalk.

Garage theft, harassment occupy police

Mrs. Ernest Burton, 99 Mulberry street, reported a radar detector was removed from her car, which was in a locked garage.

Entry apparently was made by smashing a window.

Mrs. Harvey Robinson, Sr., reported to Plymouth police Friday morning that she was being harassed by a person telephoning her home.

A Plymouth business reported to the police that a juvenile employee had taken money from its cash drawer Saturday.

FRANK S. SAWYER

Sellers's car was shoved off the left side of the road into an embankment, where it overturned.

Long was taken to Fisher-Titus Memorial hospital, Norwalk, on serious condition.

Projector theft told at Shiloh

A GTL 3000 overhead projector valued at $40 was stolen from the residence of Carmie Nation, 45 West Main street, Shiloh, during the early morning hour or there after on Oct. 21, she reported to Richland county deputies Tuesday.

She said she returned home at 3:15 p.m., having left at 6:30 a.m., and found the projector missing.

An empty camera of 35 mm. box and a partial bag of chocolate chips were found at the bottom of the basement steps.

Restitution is to be made.

The same day the police investigated a one car collision that occurred when Carla Handohse turned into Sandusky street from the high school driveway, lost control on the wet pavement and slid into a tree. Her car was damaged. No summons was issued.

On Sunday at 1:43 a.m. two juveniles were found to be in violation of the village curfew ordinance. One had a previous warning and will appear in the Richland county juvenile court.

For his first offense court was given a verbal warning.

The incident occurred at West High and Plymouth streets.

J'n'D gets license to sell beer

J & D's Country Farm Market, Route 61 south, has received a C-1 license from the Department of Liquor Control.

The license is for beer carry-out.

Girl held for DWI, consuming

Brenda Barnett, 19, Route 98, was arrested in New street by Plymouth police Oct. 19 at 9:25 p.m. on a charge of drunken driving and consuming while in a moving vehicle.

Her passenger, Thomas Barnett, 18, was also issued on summons on the charge of consuming.

A second passenger in the car was a juvenile.

On Oct. 21, Miss Barnett damaged her car while attempting to turn into the parking area of Plymouth Elementary school by hitting a guy wire.

No summons was issued.

Grid season week longer

A referendum of high school principals who are members of the Ohio High School Athletic association removed from the board of control of which Jerry Stackhouse, Willard superintendent, is president, the power to dictate when the football season will start.

Accordingly, next autumn, the first game will be scheduled for the first week of September. This will extend the season of 10 varsity games into one more week of November, making it, perhaps, more difficult for the OHSAA to conduct its season-end tourney to determine the champions in the five classes of schoolboy football.

Driver averts serious injury as truck flips

A 51-year-old Plymouth driver was slightly injured and his pickup truck heavily damaged in New State road Saturday at 10:43 a.m.

William H. Whittington, 46 Pleasant street, was driving south about two miles south of Route 162 when he lost control on wet pavement and struck a ditch, whereupon the truck overturned.

He was summoned for failure to control his vehicle.

A 20-year-old youth escaped serious injury in Cheeseman road Sunday at 5 a.m. after he fell asleep and drove his car into a ditch.

J. Jeffrey Leach, Cheeseman road, told police he awakened to find he was driving off the left side of the roadway, whereupon he jerked the wheel and struck the ditch across the road, heavily damaging his car.

Son born to Shilohans

A son was born Oct. 22 in Mansfield General hospital to Wanda L. Alonso, 40 Trux street, Plymouth.

Cost of fuel down 3.26% here, Shiloh

Cost of natural gas in Plymouth has decreased 3.26 per cent from last year, according to a survey made by the Ohio Office of the Consumers' Council.

The average monthly cost to the consumer as of Oct. 1, 1985 was $84.94. As of Oct. 1 of this year it has dropped to $81.59 a month.

Shiloh gas users are experiencing the same drop.

Miss Strohm wed at Shelby to Dane Andrew Howard

Miss Peggy Sue Strohm became the bride of Dane Andrew Howard in First Evangelical Lutheran church, Shelby, Oct. 4 at 6:30 p.m. in a double ring ceremony performed by the Rev. Dr. Carl L. Johnson.
The bride is the daughter of the Weldon Strohm, Sr., 7751 Route 98, a 1981 alumna of Plymouth High school who was graduated in 1945 by Ohio Peace Officers' Training council and in 1985 by Merritt Canine academy. She is auxiliary policeman here.
Given in marriage by her parents, the bride was attired in white sheer organza with Chantilly lace, styled with fitted bodice, trimmed with pearls, sheer yoke high neckline, lace-trimmed sleeves that were fitted at the wrists, and chapel-length train. From a Camelot headdress of lace was suspended a fingertip veil with lace and pearl motifs.
She carried a bouquet of white roses accented with white roses, starflowers, lilies-of-the-valley, baby's breath and tiny pearls, tied with long streamers of lace ribbon and blue ribbon.
Her sister, Mrs. Judith Risner, matron of honor, wore a floor-length creation in peacock blue taffeta with matching jacket, styled with ruffled neckline halo with tiny starflowers and baby's breath and long peacock blue ribbons. She carried a fan of white and blue roses lilies-of-the-valley and streamers of white lace and blue ribbons.
The bridesmaids, Wendy Risner, the bride's niece, Rena Didion, Bellevue, the bride's cousin; Theresa Howard, the bridegroom's sister-in-law, Willard, and Lisa Perdue, Plymouth, were attired as the matron of honor.
Theresa King, Plymouth, flower girl, was dressed as the bridesmaid and carried a large basket of white and white roses with streamers of ribbons.

Daryl Howard, Willard, was his brother's best man.
Rodney Strohm, Plymouth, the bride's brother; Rod Reed, Plymouth; Randy Holt, Columbus, and Michael Metcalfe, Plymouth, ushered.
Eric Adkins, Bucyrus, the bride's cousin, was ringbearer.
A reception took place in LOMOose Lodge 422, Shelby, where Mrs. Strohm greeted guests in a long gown of light blue organza with a corsage of two white roses and Mrs. Howard in a white gown of mauve with two white roses in a corsage.
The bridegroom's grandmother, Mrs. Wiley Howard, was also present.

Justine Strohm, Sue Phillips, and Mrs. Ronald Lybarger served from a four-tiered cake made by Mrs. Earl Fidler in the form of water fountain with pillars and ceramic bridal couple and elaborate wedding party.
The bride's brother, Rick, serving in Zambia, and his family could not attend.
Loretta Brown, Weldon Strohm, Jr., Eric Risner and Melissa and Jennifer Howard served guests.
Big Daddy Fred Eichinger was disc jockey during the dancing.
The bridegroom, son of the Andrew Howards, Willard, is a 1982 graduate of its high school. He was graduated as a peace officer in 1985 and attended North Central Technical college, majoring in law enforcement. He is an auxiliary policeman here.
The couple is living in Willard.

Soldier abroad? Yule mail slate

Now is the time to plan for holiday mailings overseas, according to the U. S. Postal Service.
Parcels sent to military personnel in Australia, the Far East and Southeast Asia should have been mailed by Oct. 17 if shipped by surface mail, the least expensive form of shipment.
November is the month when most parcels shipped via Parcel Post office outside the 48 contiguous states, the weight of any piece cannot be more than 70 pounds and the size cannot exceed 100 inches in length and girth combined.
Here are three calendars of suggested mailing dates to assure parcels and greetings will arrive on time. More information on international mailings is available from postmaster or post office window clerks.

Two girls to seek Ohio Class A title

Two Plymouth High school girls will go to Scioto Downs, the harness track south of Columbus, Saturday to compete in the Ohio Class A cross country championships.

Jenny Adkins finished 10th in the Class A regional race at Lorain Community college, Elyria, Saturday in 20:33 and will wear the Red and White Saturday.

So will her teammate, Susan Helms, who placed 11th in 20:36.

They and Molly Woodruff, South Central's phenom, who raced home in second place in 19:31; Tom Good, the Monroeville girl who is usually in the front of the pack, who placed fourth in 19:56; and Monica Roth, St. Paul's, who finished in fifth place, will represent the Firelands conference.

Miss Roth will be running with the Flyers team, which placed second with 75 points behind Kirtland at 49.

Plymouth scored 82, St. Mary's Central Catholic of Sandusky 93.

Newbury 101, Orwell Grand Valley 126 and Avon 140.

Jenny Chase was 19th in 21:14, Kathy Welker 32nd in 22:14, Angie Cook 54th in 23:19, Kathy Farmer 56th in 23:32 and Donell Branham 60th in 24:45.

Big Red boys placed with 130 points, trailing the winner East Canton, at 79. Lordstown also scored 79 but had to settle for second place because its sixth runner was outrun by the sixth man for East Canton.

Kirtland was third at 86, Maplewood fourth at 100, St. Mary's Central Catholic fifth at 126.

Behind the Big Red were Mohawk at 146, Western Reserve at 186, Woodridge at 199 and Open Door Christian, Elyria, at 232.

Wendell Burton placed 18th in 17:14, Jeff Burton 22nd in 17:30, Lance Combs 38th in 17:51, Jamie Beck 44th in 17:59 and Brian Carnahan 62nd in 18:27.

Brian Beebe placed 74th in 18:53 and Derek Kren 85th in 21:13.

'Cats bomb Big Red with long ball, 18-0

Plymouth made five classic mistakes at New London Friday night and four of them each cost the Big Red a touchdown in an 18-0 rout by the Wildcats that set all kinds of records for a small but jubilant Parents' night crowd.

The Wildcats won at home for the first time in two years.

They set a new single game passing yardage total.

And they broke the school record for most number of yards gained by reception passes.

David Ash, the New London quarterback, passed for 313 yards, most of it in the first half, to surpass the standard set by Merv Nugent in 1965 of 236 yards.

Mike Abfall broke the record of Kirk Saunders, set in 1978, of 186 yards gained as a pass receiver by snaring six passes for 269 yards.

Plymouth's defense, impaired by the absence of Co-Capt. Steve Hall, who did not suit up because he has a bruised shoulder, kept the Wildcats at bay during the first period. Although Ash connected with Abfall on the third offensive play of the game for a 44-yard gain with a bomb, New London ran out of downs at the Red 26.

Forced to punt, Plymouth gave up two big gainers, a 42-yarder to Abfall, his second straight reception out of the hands of Jason Robinson, and a 20-yarder throw to Abfall. Even so, with first down at the Plymouth 10, New London could not advance. In four plays the stout Red forwards threw the Wildcats back to the Red 43. On fourth down, from the Plymouth 21, New London lined up as though to kick a field goal. The snap went to Jason Kruki, who perhaps had no intention of punting it down for the kicker. Even so, he would have had some difficulty in doing so.

But that is a moot point. What Kruki did was seek to run with the ball and Plymouth made him eat it. The loss was 22 yards.

Although the Big Red managed a first down by penalty, it could not penetrate farther and a good punt that carried 40 yards put New London on the offense at its 16.

The Wildcats punted out and Plymouth kicked again, this time for 27 yards to the New London 16. Ash ran out to the 30 but New London was penalized 10 yards for clocking below the waist.

On second down, Abfall slipped behind the Red defense and was

'Colleen' all but wins $5,000 pace at Northfield

She missed by a whisker or two a huge payoff at Northfield Park Friday night in the featured $5,000 open pace.

Scroggie Colleen, five-year-old mare owned by Lysle and Robert Hamman, Noble road, Shiloh, started from the No. 2 hole, was first at the quarter, second at the half in one minute flat, second at the three-quarter pole and second by a neck at the finish in the good time of 2:00 1/5.

She paid $20 and $8.20.

The winner, Mighty Miss Judy, paid $22.80, $10.40 and $7.20.

along when Ash hit him perfectly. The clock read 6:59 of the second period.

Two series later, Plymouth began a long drive that carried to the Wildcats' six inch line, only to peter out because the Big Red had squandered its time outs.

Plymouth drove from its 15 in 14 plays, covering just a whit short of 85 yards, and all but 11 yards of it was through the air. Chuck Koesse connected with Robinson with throws of 14, 12, 24, eight and 24 yards, and five first downs, before Plymouth ran out of time.

After 24 minutes of bruising struggling, the Wildcats held the upper hand but Plymouth trailed only by six on the scoreboard. New London with 33 plays had gained just seven yards on the ground, in a performance that produced five first downs by passing and one by running, five by passing. Plymouth with 35 plays had seven first downs, one of them by penalty, one by rushing, five by passing. It had gained 27 yards on the ground and with five completions in 15 tries just 64 yards in the air. Its penalty loss on two assessments was 10 yards.

Plymouth took the second half kickoff and could not get off a dime. Its punts carried 35 yards to the Wildcat 40.

On first down New London was penalized 10 yards for holding.

On second down, Ash found Abfall again, this time for 64 yards, and the Wildcats had 12 big ones up there.

The run for PATs at 9:04 was a failure.

Erin Echelberry, a throwback to his illitrious cousin, Kevin, on defense, sacked Ash for 12 yards in the next series and Chuck DeKins swarmed all over the Wildcat signal caller for seven yards to obtain possession on downs at the Red 33.

Plymouth attacked once more. Staying on the ground save for two plays, one of them a pass to David Powers that lost a yard and the other a seven yard gain to Robinson, Plymouth marched with three first downs to the Wildcat 22. Here, on first down, at the 19, its fullback fumbled. New London recovered and Plymouth was not again a threat. There was time for one more play in the third period.

Jeff Staggs and Deskins forced Ash to dine on football on successive plays as the fourth quarter began and New London punted out for 23 yards.

After one first down, Koesse was intercepted at the New London eight by Mike Hese.

New London drove, all but 12 yards of it on the ground, and most of it by Keith Shepherd, its big fullback, to the Plymouth 12, where on fourth down Hese was knocked off his feet by Rod Reed for a three yard loss.

Here was the setting for a colossal mistake. The Red backfield could not control the ball, which bounced into the end zone, where Koesse vainly sought to fall on it for a safety. Dwight Booth recovered the fumble for the final touchdown of the night. The clock read 1:51.

W VOTE & RE-ELECT JIM WESTERHOLD COUNTY COMMISSIONER

A dedicated person in serving the people of Huron County...Westerhold has a proven record of performance, dedication and accomplishments...His record as an independent shows that he works for all of the people...not just a certain party or group that helps at election time or donates sums of money for the campaign. All of the voters of Huron County are Westerhold's party and only concern. He too is a very concerned taxpayer, just like you are... Westerhold's record proves he listens and he cares for each of you. Westerhold acts the way the taxpayers want him to...when the taxpayers said about the courts "enough is enough" Westerhold listened.

He voted no for additional funding for the courts...Jim will continue to vote no, to the courts and any other office holder when his vote is in the best interest of the taxpayers. Westerhold voted against the recent increase in sales tax...Westerhold's independence and integrity has served our county taxpayers well...Look at Westerhold's record...He deserves your vote and re-election.

STATE REPRESENTATIVE SAWYER!
More than a promise . . .

In politics, it's results that count, not promises. State Representative Frank Sawyer has delivered our message to Columbus that we want our fair share of tax dollars spent in Richland County, for Richland County.

Because of his efforts, we can point to the following successes:

*Approval of an interchange at Interstate 71 and State Route 29, effectively opening that are for economic development.

*2.8 million dollars in state monies for a new engineering building at North Central Technical College

*$300,000 grant to install sewer lines at I-71 and St. Rt. 13.

*$140,000 from HB 1084 monies for Mansfield's Senior Citizens Center

*$20,000 operating grant for the Renaissance Theatre from the Ohio Arts Council

*Millions of dollars for low-interest loans to farmers and small businesses in Richland County
