Ox roast

Annual ox roast of Ehret-Parson Post 447, American Legion, will be staged at its grounds at 112 Trux street tomorrow and Saturday.

Hot beef sandwiches will be served each day from noon to closing time.

The will be fired tonight to accommodate 1,800 pounds of quality meat. Theodore A. Ross, finance officer of the post, meat chairman, ordered the supply. Harvey Robinson, second vice-commander of the post, and Bernard A. Garrett are in charge of firing the pits.

Joel Van Loo, a past commander, is chairman of tables and tents.

Arden Kessler is parking chairman.

William Bland, a past commander, is games chairman.

Vance C. Hoffman, Sr., also a past commander, is drawing chairman.

Ross and Garrett have dealt with publicity and advertising.

There is some dispute as to the number of this celebration.

There are those who count the ox roasts that were conducted jointly with the fire department, until an unfortunate dispute broke out between the two groups, and those who insist that only those consecutive ox roasts conducted by the Legion post should be counted as Legion ox roasts.

The dispute is useful for conversation in places where veterans gather but not of much importance elsewhere.

"What's important," says John E. Heden, adjutant of the post, "is that the Legion over the years, since it raised the new building in Trux street on land given by the Teen Age Rendezvous and by the late Maurice Bachrach and dedicated it during the sesquicentennial in 1965, has improved the property, added substantially to its attractiveness, made a parking lot and outdoor serving and cooking facilities that will accommodate a good many people, and improved the interior so that this facility is certainly the equal of any Legion hall for many miles around. During this time, the post has continued to support civic enterprises, from softball teams to pupil contests, always the Boys' State encampment, made contributions to the park and to other civic activities that one would expect an honorably discharged veteran who's proud of his country and certainly not ashamed of his own service to do. That's what's important!"

Booster's club dunking machine will be manned by Plymouth JayCees during the ox roast weekend.

The post will conduct dancing tomorrow and Saturday, starting at 9 p.m. Ox roast goes need not pay to dance.

Auxiliary of the post, led by its new president, Mrs. William D. Hill, will participate by preparing and selling sandwiches, pies, cakes, baked beans, soft drinks, potato salad and other arrangements of such an affair. Crafts will be placed on display and sold.

Drawing will take place Saturday night.

Some of the proceeds require presence of the winner. Major portion of the proceeds to be awarded to him who holds the winning ticket do not require his presence.

Shiloh insists on promptness

The Moose has been hiding in the bushes.

As a result, some employees at Shiloh, where Delmar (Moose) Nesbitt is mayor, will be wounded where it hurts the most — in the pocketbook.

It steered through village council Aug. 13 an ordinance empowering the clerk-treasurer to reduce the pay of any worker who is five or more minutes late for his job on one-half his regular pay. If late four or more times, he will be docked for a full day's pay.

Earlier, the council met in executive session to look over time cards of village employees. Nesbitt has been arising early and stationing himself furtively to determine if employees are in fact on the job when they punch in at the time clock.

That the legislation resulted suggests the mayor knew what he was talking about.

Mrs. C. R. Reeder, clerk-treasurer, told the council that before it may undertake an income survey, it must obtain approval of Farmers Home administration.

Shiloh wants a grant to update its sewage treatment system. To get a grant, it must show that its population is increasing by the average. Richland County Planning commission told Mrs. Reeder she could get guidelines from FmHA.

Its utility billing schedule has been devised by the solicitor, Jon Burton.

By its terms, each subscriber would receive his billing by the third day of the month and be afforded a fortnight to pay it. If the bill is not paid by the 17th day, a delinquent notice will be sent. If the bill is not paid by the end of the month, service will be terminated.

As of now, bills are due on the 25th day of the month, although sent for delivery on the third day. Delinquencies cannot be disconnected until the 15th of the next month.

Repairs to the backhoe will cost about $1,000 the council was told.

Doris Beck has been hired as clerk of the board of the new fire district, CSB, which stands for Central-Shiloh-Bloomington. Fire district, which will seek a two mill operating levy on Nov. 4.

The district will enable residents of the two townships and the village to ensure continuing fire protection of a high order by funding established by the district vote among electors of the post.

Up to now, funding is arranged by fees voted upon by trustees of the townships and councilmen of the village. Shiloh has a 2.5-mill tax to provide fire protection.

Under the new proposal, if its electors vote for the tax, they would pay one-half mill less in taxes for the same service. Taxpayers in Bloomingservice and Cass townships will shoulder a larger burden in the tax bill but a smaller charge in appropriations from the general funds of their townships.

What was it? Stargazers show alarm

No one knows what it really was, but the Fred J. Buzards and their guests thought it might have been the end of the world.

On Aug. 12, the night that annual Perseid meteor shower was to be seen, the Buzards invited a group of friends to their farm in Fenner road to watch.

Not only did they see the meteors, but something else! Buzard says it was a large, swirling, bright mass headed right for them. Then it diminished about 15 minutes into a swirling cloud.

Other in the eastern part of the country also say it. Radio and television stations were flooded with calls.

Even scientists are not quite certain what it was. One who was interviewed on a Detroit station said it had occurred in November and at that time it was thought that it was waste materials from a space ship (he said they could have fluffed their toilets) or a satellite.

Wire service reports filed later said the display resulted from discharge of fuel from a rocket of Japanese origin.

Dryer afire in Akers house

A defective dryer caused a fire at the Hubert Akers residence, Route 61 south, Saturday noon.

The Akers' daughter-in-law, Mrs. Ronald Akers, was driving past the house when she saw smoke and summoned the Plymouth fire department.

Mrs. Akers had turned the dryer off before leaving the house. It is surmised that lint may have ignited while it was still running.

The dryer was destroyed with the clothing still in it and there was considerable smoke damage.

Two hurt in collision at Rts. 61-224

An 80-year-old Plymouth woman was injured Friday when her husband drove his 1976 Ford LTD into the path of a 1976 Chevrolet station wagon at Routes 224 and 61.

Mrs. Ollie Row was taken to Willard Area hospital and admitted there.

So was her husband, who was charged with making an improper left turn. He was treated and released.

He was headed west in Route 224 and drove into the path of Marvin Siferd, 20, Findlay, proceeding east in Route 224. Row sought to turn south into Route 61.

A 67-year-old Plymouth driver was charged with failure to halt within an assured clear distance and hit-and-run driving Thursday after a collision in Route 61 about 1.1 miles north of here.

Frank R. Garber, 213 Springmill road, headed south in a 1975 Ford, struck the rear of a 1969 Buick Skylark driven by Darwin K. Hudson, 78, Fremont. State highway patrolmen said that after both cars stopped, Garber left the scene.

Hudson's car was heavily damaged. A passenger, Nelli R. Hudson, 48, Fremont, was slightly injured.

What room? See page 3 here today

Classroom assignments for pupils in grades eight through kindergarten appear today. They are believed to be correct. Inquiries must be directed to either school, Tel. 687-6721 or 689-2691.

Students whose names are omitted should report to the school at once.

Fees will be paid tomorrow, from 9 to 11:30 a.m., 1 to 3 p.m.

Fees due vary from class to class. A receipt will be issued upon payment of fees in the Plymouth and Shiloh Elementary schools.

Young to serve long sentence at Chillicothe

James E. Young, Jr. will serve his prison term in Chillicothe, not Mansfield, in a surprise reversal of intent by the bureau of prisons.

A warrant committing him to that institution was issued Friday by Judge Robert W. Smith, who also ordered that Young be charged court costs of $16,298.

Young is indigent. Judge Smith did not say how he expects Young to say the money.

The convicted youth will receive credit for 183 days served in the Huron county jail.

Judge Smith said he knows the youth has no money but "the whole point in the long run is so the county can recover some of its costs. In the future he may have some assets, who knows?"

Young must serve a full 33 years, less the 183 days, before he may be paroled.

Is it proper to pay solicitor to answer media questions? Village council says yes!

Is it proper for the village to pay its solicitor to discuss village business with the media at their request?

Mrs. A. L. Paddock, Jr., who has more elective experience in village office than any other citizen now serving, thinks it isn't and she said so in characteristic fashion Aug. 12.

She objected to the village paying Richard F. Wolfe, 2nd, Ashland, the village solicitor, a total of $45 for conversations he had by telephone with reporters and editors of the Willard Times and the Norwalk Reporter. The conversations related to the village's posture in a dispute with Willard over water rates.

Wolfe told her he charged the village because discussing the matter was official business and he was instructed by the village council to turn in his expenses for such calls.

Councilman Billy Taubee said the village should pay Wolfe's charges for dealing with the inquiries because he was speaking as the solicitor and responding to contractual obligation.

Mrs. Paddock said the mayor should do whatever speaking is needed by the village and it is unwise to pay such a bill at a time when the village seeks to obtain approval of a 2.5-mill fire operating levy. She declined to vote to approve payment of bills.

Village Administrator James C. Rott told the council he has ordered $500 stamped envelopes to carry a letter to each elector of the village erging support of the levy but they remain in the post office because he is prohibited by law from spending public funds to pay for them. A fact of which he was apprised by Mrs. Paddock on Aug. 11, and he asked for instructions as to how he should proceed.

Mrs. Paddock suggested that Councilman E. Adrian Cole might ask the Firefighters' association to foot the bill from the profits of its festival, which she said are about $17,000.

Cole retorted angrily that the gross profit was $17,000, not the net. He said the firemen might be persuaded to make a donation but absolutely wouldn't do so on her order.

Mary Fate Park pool has operated at a loss throughout the summer, Rott reported. Payroll is almost $700 a week, he said. With three weeks of summer remaining — the pool usually closes on Labor day night — the swimming pool fund balance is $450.

The council decided to allow the deficit to run until season's end, then to cover it by transferring from other funds.

Douglas A. Dickson, representing Plymouth Historical society, announced a goal of $10,000 has been set for public and private contributions to a fund to pay for a new museum by 1989. The Advertiser has learned that he has already undertaken initial negotiations to obtain such a building.

Whether Village Days on Oct. 4 and 5 will materialize this year is problematical, Dickson said. Problem: no money, no help. A decision is due by Sept. 1.

Use of the radar gun, Police Chief Stephen Caudill said, is the main reason why mayor's court revenues are on the rise.

This came in response to an observation by Councilman Roy Barber that the police department is ahead of schedule in collecting fines. Some councilmen remarked they have heard talk that "Plymouth is nothing but a speed trap".

New trial sought for Young; Levin claims misconduct

A new trial for James E. (Jamie) Young, Jr., convicted murderer of his father and step-mother on Feb. 14 at their home in Route 99 outside Monroeville, is sought in a motion filed by Dennis Levin, one of his defense lawyers.

Levin's motion is laid upon 10 arguments, the most prominent of which is that Assistant Prosecutor Dean Holman improperly and prejudicially accused counsel for the defense of tampering with evidence.

In this claim he refers to Holman's shouted insistence that the Levin's had altered the magazine of State Exhibit No. 16, the rifle with which Young admittedly did in his parents.

As it turned out the Levins, father and son, did not tamper with the magazine. They substituted for it a virtual duplicate that they had modified to show such a magazine could accommodate 18 or 19 bullets.

"The assistant prosecutor's personal attack on my counsel and the suggestion that counsel tampered with evidence were as unethical as they were offensive," the younger Levin claimed.

Bystanders on the media bench listened to the confrontation to a classic Burger-Mason engagement, in which the wily white knight, Perry Mason, outdoes his perennial opponent, Hamilton Burger, by executing a play, a trap, into which the prosecution falls because it failed to look before it leaped.

Levin asserts as well that the prosecution did not furnish exculpatory evidence, material and relevant to the case. He says in his motion the prosecutor well knew the rifle would accommodate 18 rounds of ammunition but argued repeatedly to the jury that the magazine would hold only 15.

JayCees to place flags on holiday

JayCees will place United States flags around the Public Square on Labor day, Sept. 1, beginning at 7 a.m.

Holman asked improper questions of the defendant.

Holman improperly characterized the defendant's testimony as lies and improperly asserted it was fabricated.

Holman made snide remarks about objections by the defense.

Holman made "an absurd number" of objections.

Levin described Holman's conduct as "blatant, unwarmed and perverse".

The prosecutor, Michael Fegen, didn't seem concerned about the motion, which he said is routine in each and every instance where a conviction is had.

Jamie Young shook hands with counsel, Jack Levin, after Judge Smith pronounced sentence of 33 full years without parole.

Karen Steele married

Miss Karen Diane Steele became the bride of Thomas Daehn Norman in an afternoon ceremony July 19 in First United Church of Christ, Shelby.

Hand in Hand.
Mr. Steele gave his daughter in marriage.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Lee Steele and the granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Steele.

She wore a gown designed with a Queen Anne neckline and leg-top mounted sleeves of organza. The fitted bodice of Venice lace had a bow in the back. The full skirt was edged in scallops of lace and ended in a cathedral train.

Mr. Norman is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald D. Norman, Beaufort, Tex.

Her headpiece was a wide brim hat with a veil of French illusion down the back. She carried a white Bible which her mother had carried on her wedding day. It had an arrangement of white and blue silk roses with baby's breath with ribbon streamers.

The Rev. John J. Brodley conducted the double ring ceremony before the candlelighted altar, where there were vases of pastel colored daisies.

She wore her grandmother's necklace, which she wore, and carried her handkerchief. She also wore a garter her mother had worn.

A bouquet of five white roses on the piano was in memory of the bride's grandparents, Jessie Ebersole and the Steeles, and the bridegroom's grandparents, Perry and Margaret Norman. Centered in the bouquet was a pink rose for the bride's great-grandmother, Mary Higgins, who is 99 years old but unable to be present.

Trisha Calver was her honor attendant. Bridesmaids were Cheryl Ross, Veronica Brown, and Becky Alfrey. Betta Cackley, a cousin, was the junior bridesmaid.

LCW to meet here Thursday

Lutheran Church Women will meet Thursday at 1 p.m. in the church rooms of First Evangelical Lutheran church.

They wore gowns in shades of blue designed with off-the-shoulder scooped neckline of taffeta. The skirt waltzers in ruffles. Their hats were turned up at the sides with lace ruffles and beading.

They carried P.M.I. silk flowers on fans to match their gowns. Each wore a heart-shaped necklace, a gift of the bride.

Scouty Hall was ringbearer.
The bridegroom's brother, David Allen Norman, was best man. The bride's brothers, Jeffrey and David Steele, Michael Latimer, Columbus, and Jon Cookley, ushered.

A reception took place in LOMoose hall, Shelby, with music by Mark Dorion. Dondi Fitch provided the square dancing music.

Assisting the guests were her aunts, Mrs. Arlene Harriet, Chatfield; Mrs. James Gullett, Plymouth; Mrs. Loreta Ebersole, Mrs. Patricia Kempf, Mrs. Barbara Amato and Mrs. Jean Steele. The bride's cake was made by Mrs. Kempf.

The couple went on a wedding trip to the Pocomos in Pennsylvania.

The new Mrs. Norman is a 1983 graduate of Shelby high school. She has attended Mansfield campus, OSU and plans to enroll in Eastern Michigan university, Ypsilanti, Mich.

Mr. Norman is a 1980 graduate of Alden Central High school, Alden, N. Y., and Delta Institute of Technology, Columbus, Ohio.

They are living in Milan, Mich., where he will be in computer work.

Alumnus wed to Shelbiana, living there

An alumnus of Plymouth High school who attended Pioneer Joint Vocational school, Vernon Wayne Burkey was married June 28 in First Church of God, Shiloh, to Miss Susan Marie Livingston.

He is the son of Mrs. Vernon Burky, New Washington, and the late Mr. Burky. She is the daughter of the George Livingston, Shelby, a graduate of Shelby High school and of Mansfield Business college, employed by Victor Temporary service. He is employed as a custodian by Pioneer Joint Vocational school.

A sister, Mrs. Mary Baldrige was matron of honor. The bride's sister, Mrs. Brenda Boothe, was a bridesmaid. A niece, Stephanie Baldrige, was junior bridesmaid. Another niece, Jennifer Baldrige, and a niece, Jennifer Boothe, were flower girls.

Howard Kraft was best man for his cousin, Kenneth Boothe was groomsmen. Richard Ruckman and Harold Fetzer ushered.

Mary Lou Hartz was organist. Richard Ruckman, Betty Solomon and Leah Solomon soloists.

Tonya Ruckman registered guests.

The couple is residing in Shelby.

Five years ago, 1981 Councilman D. Douglas Brumbach will resign, effective Sept. 2. Ronald J. Fredieri was sworn as village councilman by 4 to 1 vote. Councilman Brumbach voted nay. Cecil Smith, 70, New Haven, died at Willard.

Jim Wallace is a veteran candidate to play on the Wilmington college football team.

Zucchini? Simple with this recipe!

I give up. No way will I ever really understand this world.

For years I really thought I could figure people out just because I had a smattering of psychology.

Now comes the other side of the story, which is simply not understandable.

This summer in New York state — to be polite, I will not mention the city — they had some kind of an "eat-off".

The winners were members of an English family who seem to have monopoly in the Guinness Book of World Records on how much one can eat and in the shortest amount of time.

At this affair, someone managed to down 17 bananas in two minutes, another went through 23 hot dogs in three minutes, and two pounds of strawberries vanished in about 22 seconds. I don't make sense. That amount of food could keep a lot of people going for a couple of days, but it all vanished among three people in less than five minutes, if my arithmetic is right.

I think what really bothers me the most is that they simply could not enjoy the tastes in such a hurry.

We are lucky that we do live in this land of plenty, and I go on the theory since it's here, enjoy it, but, for heaven's sake don't waste it.

It does not have to be something fancily expensive, it is just how you put it all together.

This is another zucchini deal. Brown a sliced or chopped onion with about a pound and a half of ground meat. Drain the excess fat.

Then mix in three eight ounce cans of tomato sauce (if you have your own, just measure it out), a cup of red wine, a tablespoon of sugar, a fourth of a teaspoon each of ground black pepper, marjoram, thyme, basil and oregano. Salt if you still use it, too.

Simmer it all for about an hour. Cut smallish zucchinis lengthwise, trimming the ends, and arrange in a greased baking dish.

Pour the sauce mixture over it all and sprinkle with cheese.

Bake, uncovered, until it bubbles and the zucchinis are cooked.

Sounds simple, yes? It would be the feast of a life time to a lot of people.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Sir:

My cousin and I were visiting in Plymouth for the last couple of days. Plymouth has a very nice pool so we decided to go swimming. We brought our billfolds along so we had something to put our money in. While we were in the pool, someone took my billfold and money and all my cousin's money. We have heard that this happens to kids around here, too. Don't people in Plymouth know the difference between right and wrong? We think we should warn parents to tell their children to be careful with their money and to teach them not to take what isn't theirs.

Thank you,
Lynn Kuhlman, age 12
Olivia Inkrott, age 10

Boy Scouts set campout here

A campout on the Fenner farm, in Route 598 by Troop 411, Boy Scouts, and Cub Scouts will take place tomorrow.

All Cubs will be in Indian costume, which they are making. Michael Reynolds will raise his authentic tapes for the boys. Mark Hersman, game warden who deals with education, will attend.

Leaders will conduct a brief session to plan fall meetings.

Scouts will make a survival hike on Saturday.

Mechanics commence service

Two automotive mechanics have opened a repair business at Sandusky and Brazilian streets, site for many years of Morrison's Sohio station and lately of a branch of Moore's Auto Parts business.

Sale of the premises by G. Thomas and Betty M. Moore to David P. and Barbara B. Egner has resulted in establishment of Egner's Service Center, with Allen W. Carey, 329 Willow Drive, as assistant manager.

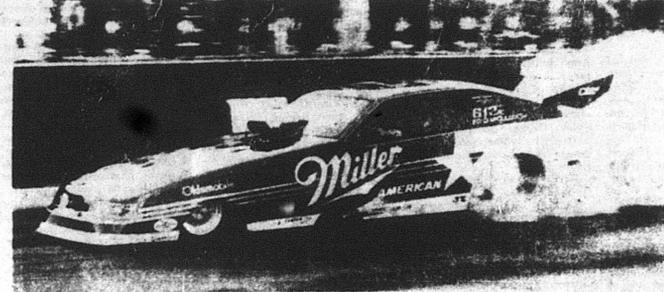

Egner, 29, collects and restores classic cars. He is the son of Paul Egner, long a Bloominggrove township trustee, and his wife Carey, 28, is the son of Ray Carey, for many years an auto mechanic in Henry road south of here. Carey is also a special patrolman in the police department.

Formal opening took place Monday.

The business will deal principally with automobile and other gasoline engines. Parts and accessories may be stocked in volume if a demand is consistent.

Egner said he plans to "do some remodeling" and may install a solar energy system.

He has worked in the engineering department of Plymouth Locomotive Works, Inc., with his father-in-law, Eldon Burkett, who is head of the department, and Mrs. Egner.

Keep That Great GM Feeling With Genuine GM Parts

Red wallops Lucas; Reed, Halls shine

How to replace 10 players who graduated, nine of them starters and how to fit candidates on a 37-man roster into his needs have worked Coach Richard Roll, the 33-year-old Big Red coach, into a sweat these hot August afternoons.

After what he, and about 150 excited spectators, saw in Mary Tate park Saturday morning, in a scrimmage with Lucas marred by the failure of the Cubs to put in an appearance until 11 a.m., an hour late, because they couldn't find the key to unlock the bus garage, Roll is not so pessimistic.

Plymouth won the scrimmage 4 to 0. Each of the leading candidates for the quarterback post vacated by Troy Keene managed to produce a touchdown through the air. A young ninth grader, Shawn Garrett, came on and led the Big Red to two scores, one in the air and one on the ground. The touchdowns had better look to their guns.

On balance, Plymouth showed harder, crisper tackling than in any season at this time for certainly 12 or 13 years, put up a stout defense that made only a few mistakes, against a Lucas club that is not so representative of that school as previous ones, and from time to time showed some brilliant offensive.

Roll feels he has suitable replacements and/or assignments in what he is pleased to call the "skill" positions. He speaks of Steve Hall, a two-time letterman who will play at running; back and at split and alternately this season; Terry Hall, Jason Robinson, David Powers and Chuck Deskins, who will be Ballcarrier No. 2.

"Sure, we've got to settle on a quarterback. Each of the two top candidates, Chuck Koesse and Jeff Staggs, has his strong points," Roll said Sunday. "We'll have to decide. It may be decided by Wednesday, when we scrimmage Clyde, which has a new coach. We are committed to a controlled scrimmage in which each team must pass five of the 10 downs in the series. Not in any special rotation, but five out of 10. We'll probably do more than that in any series."

Roll was eminently pleased with the work of Red Reed over the ball and at middle guard of defense. He has assigned Brian Flaherty to a tackle post on the right side and Billy Castle to a guard spot next to him.

"We've got an equal number of talented candidates for backfield jobs but we can only use three or four at a time and some of these jobs are too good to keep on the bench," Roll said Sunday. "So, we've assigned them to places in the line and for the most part they've done well there."

He admits that on the left side of the line, to which most schoolboy offenses run, because most schoolboys are righthanded and it's more comfortable for them, needs attention. Attention, in fact, is an understatement.

"We've got to find the right people, and find them right away, because time is running out. I looked at Crestline on Saturday. They're strong in some ways and last year we had them beaten until the last minute or so before they pulled it out, 33 to 30. They don't have Perry, that outstanding black player, any more, he graduated, but Crestline is already tough, and especially at Hutson stadium."

Crestline in the person of Jerry Harbaugh and Jim Glauer scouted Plymouth here Saturday.

Lettermen back for the Big Red, in addition to the two Hall, Powers, Reed, Staggs, Castle, Flaherty and Robinson include Greg Burks, Eric Eichelberry, both of whom showed well on Saturday; Randy Myers, whose number counted up to be a strong leader up front; Rodney Stumbo, Jeff Redden and James Fletcher. There are 13 in all.

In addition to Keene, Roll must replace Eric Rath, Rodney Bever, Jamie Brown, Walter Lasez, Scott Lynch, Terry Mansfield, Paul Manuel, Clarence Porter and Scott Thornberry.

Scrimmage tomorrow on road

Big Red fans who expect to see Plymouth scrimmage Hillsdale of the Wayne county league here Saturday at 10 a.m. will be disappointed.

Athletic Director Bryan J. Neff learned Monday Hillsdale has scheduled the scrimmage for the Hayesville field tomorrow at 7:30 p.m.

Best route to the field: Proceed east in Route 603 to Route 30, turn east (left) and continue beyond Route 60 ramp to high school and stadium in south side of Route 30.

TORO

Have you done without a Toro long enough?"

Will Cougars claw way to top of conference?

It's easier to say what Firelands conference teams won't do than what they will do this season.

"I've not seen this league so well matched at any time since we've been in it," says Coach Richard Roll at Plymouth.

Edison has departed. The old North and South division is eliminated. Each team plays each other team once. The champion will be a true champion. It will have prevailed over all opposition. None of the teams in the league is likely to be a doormat.

New London failed to win a game last year. It has a new coach, Joe Studer, Bob Haseman having departed for an assignment in Indiana, and the word from there is the players like him, and that's half the battle. We're green and we have a lot of places to fill, but we're willing."

New London expects to win some. And the rest of the league expects New London to win some. How many? Maybe three.

Mapleton is thought by some to be weak. Others don't think so. The Mounties have an experienced backfield.

"I look for Mapleton to be competitive and win a couple," says one seasoned observer.

So who'll be at the top.

Consensus it is likely to be

Crestview, where Steve Gilbert has a seasoned outfit with some size and speed and more depth than usual. Can he replace Matt Bernhardt. He thinks he can.

But the Cougars are accorded first spot, the same experts say Black River, despite heavy graduation losses, and Monroeville will knock heads for second place.

"Black River has the biggest enrollment, now that Edison is gone. Those farm boys have size if not speed and they don't totally lack speed, so they'll be up there. Question is whether the Pirates have a passing game."

"Ringholz at Monroeville never has a bad year. His system always produces capable replacements. He is a sound coach, a lot of Monroeville's success is because Ringholz keeps them together and maintains discipline. Don't count Monroeville out."

Next fight?

"St. Paul's will be tougher than usual. It's the smallest school in the league and it works in the shadow of Norwalk High school but the Flyers will be hard-nosed this year."

"Western Reserve has a new coach because Dick Taylor went to Arizona. His assistant is the new head man. The Roughriders were hard to beat last year and it won't be any different this year.

"Bill Lewis is a seasoned coach and he intends to install the wheel chair at South Central. I don't count the Trojans out of it all this year. They always toughen up as the season wears on."

"Plymouth is smaller than usual, but I think somewhat faster. In State Hall they may have the best athlete in the conference. If they can get him some help, they'll be hard to beat at home. Nobody likes to go down in the Plymouth gym, but it intimidates them. If the Big Red gets off to the good start, Crestview had better watch out in the first league game at Plymouth."

Admission prices have been advanced to $3 for adults and $2 for pupils, with no advance sale at any school.

All league games will begin at 7:30 p.m. save those on Saturdays at 8:00 p.m. The Roughriders still don't have lights and will begin Saturdays at 1:30 p.m.

Colleen' fifth

A return to fast competition at Northfield Park by Scrogie Collection Friday night didn't pan out.

The five-year-old pacing mare owned by Lysle and Robert Hamman, Noble road, Shiloh, finished fifth in the feature race, an open $5,000 event. She started from the No. 2 hole, was third at the quarter, half and three-quarter mile poles and faded to fifth at the finish.

C. N. Coy dies; worked here

A MUST FOR ANYONE WHO WANTS TO MODEL OR ACT

DON'T LET WINTER TAKE YOUR HEATING BILLS FOR A RIDE.

When temperatures take the plunge this winter, your heating bills needn't climb. Not if you're on Columbia's Budget Payment Plan.

The plan averages your bills into 12 equal payments, so there are no peaks and valleys because of the weather. Instead, the monthly amount stays the same, higher than you now pay in the summer, but a lot lower in the winter.

Rather than ups and downs, your gas bills stay on a smooth, even track all year 'round.

It's easy to be a Budget Payment customer, too. All you do is pay the "Budget Amount" on your August bill, and you'll be billed that amount every month. Your meter will continue to be read as usual, and each month's bill will continue to show the amount of gas you used. A review in March determines if your budget amount needs to be adjusted because of weather.

Another good idea: sign on for Checkfree! too. It automatically makes your gas payment from your checking account each month, so you save time, postage and check charges.

Join the Columbia Budget Payment Plan. You'll take the ups and downs out of your heating bills... and leave the high cost of winter behind.

The person who repeatedly demonstrates improper pelvic alignment is at risk for developing lower back problems. Controlling the lumbar lordotic curve may be one way to alleviate low back problems. Three sets of muscles primarily affect the lumbar lordotic curve: the abdominal muscles, the hip flexors, and the muscles of the buttocks and hamstrings. Proper contraction and stretching of these muscles helps to flatten the lumbar curve by tilting the pelvis up and back.
