'Fun day' set by local schools

Tomorrow will be "fun day" in both Plymouth and Shiloh Elementary schools.

Each school will stage its Halloween parade Oct. 30 at 2 p.m. Plymouth pupils will follow their regular route.

Shiloh pupils, Mark Sheely, school principal, said, will probably march around the ball field because of the lack of police traffic control in Route 933.

He said this will work out well because the pupils will be able to see the costumes of others better than when marching in a straight line.

Sheely told the board of education during its monthly meeting Monday the fluoride rinse dental program has been successful in the Shiloh building participation was 88.9 per cent and in the Plymouth building it was 89.5 per cent.

A special assembly will take place Nov. 3 in both schools when Ray Grob, a naturalist, gives his presentation of "Wild Places".

Pure drudgery? Is she kidding?

By AUNT LIZ
There was a survey in one of our daily papers the other night that gives me great thought to the question.

It was "Would we have a better society if women returned to more traditional roles?"

The answer was yes from 222 persons. The nays were from 132. I am willing to bet that the yes answer came from men who simply answered without thinking. (Ed. Note: You'd lose, pal.)

A lot of us can remember when women did not work outside the home. It was almost impossible back then.

No one had invented a washing machine nor a dryer let alone refrigerators that now hold frozen foods, nor the microwave, which has them ready to eat in seconds.

Soups were made from scratch, which can be an all-day affair. The good old days were a real pain and pure drudgery.

Beside the physical work it took to keep a family going, there was a social stigma against women acting like men in the world. Even though most of the teachers were women, girls simply did not have much chance in school.

A few did. I was amazed when I was doing family history to learn

Try this for a different apple pie which will take a speck longer than an ordinary one.
It's the crust that is different. Use your pet recipe, but instead of ice water, use cider. Mine was given to me years ago by the best cook in West Broadway. Just two cups of flour, two thirds of a cup of shortening (it should be lard, but the other works) and a fourth of a cup of cider.
This new version has a half cup of crushed pecans worked into the dough. That makes it different.
The filling can be a regular apple pie deal, add raisins and even a little candied fruit along with a dash of lemon juice and a little butter.
You can just sprinkle the top with a sugar and cinnamon mixture, or if you really want to be impressive, beat an egg yolk and spread on top, then add the sugar.

Teresa Wright wed at Attica to M. R. Willman

Miss Teresa Annett Wright was married Sept. 5 in St. Peter and Paul Roman Catholic church, Attica, by the Rev. Herbert Willman to his nephew, Mark Richard Willman.

She is the daughter of the Mitchell Wrights, Plymouth, an alumna of Plymouth High school and of Providence hospital school of nursing at Sandusky. She is a registered nurse on staff of Mansfield General hospital.

The bridegroom is the son of the Richard H. Willmans, Attica, an alumnus of Seneca East High school.

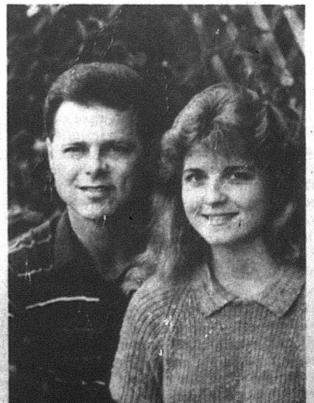

The bride's sister, Deborah was maid of honor. Another sister, Michelle, and the bridegroom's sister, Barbara, were bridesmaids. So was Miss Susan Kistling. The bride's niece, Jennifer Hicks, was flower girl.

Mark Martin was best man. Michael and Christopher Willman, brothers of the bridegroom, and Donald Thompson, unbrer, the bride's nephew, Timothy Shriner, was ring bearer.

Rev. Kilgore, vocalist, was accompanied by Krista Heiberterhausen, organist.

A reception took place in Mary wood hall near Bellevue. The bride's sister, Mrs. Tina Shriner, Margene Thompson, her cousin, and Beth and Lynn Kraft served guests.

The couple resides in Attica, where he is self-employed.

Head cook engaged for cafeteria here; enrollment down 4.1%

A new head cook-cashier was appointed for Plymouth Elementary school cafeteria Monday night by the board of education.

She is Mrs. Janet Ryman, Henry road, who has eight years of experience with the Head Start program. She replaces Mrs. Max Caywood, who resigned last month after serving 11 years.

Mrs. Ryman was hired at an annual salary of $8,314, but because she assumed her duties on Sept. 24, she will be paid $7,599 for the school year.

Supt. Jeffrey Slauson's request to hire a part-time custodian to work three hours daily in the Shiloh building was approved.

The position will go to Kathy Patrick, Plymouth, at $5.60 an hour.

Slauson said the two regular custodians have been too willing to work overtime and simply need more help. He said the Shiloh building is now in better shape than it has been since it opened because of their labor.

Official enrollment count was taken the first week of this month. The district is down to 1,146 from the count of 1,151 taken after the first week of school.

Last year's enrollment was 49 more than this year. The district loses a certain amount of state foundation funds which are distributed according to enrollments, but this year, Slauson said, the district was told it would receive about two per cent more, which covers most of the loss.

The board heard that more pupils are eating school lunches than before.

Average at Shiloh is up 35 to 452 served daily. In Plymouth Elementary cafeteria the count is 109 and in the high school 189.

As a result, Slauson asked that the board approve adding another half hour to the time allotted to the dishwashers, who have that many more dishes to contend with.

Approval was given to accepting a kindergarten pupil to the Plymouth class from Willard's district at Willard's request because of a family arrangement of baby-sitting with a grandmother while the mother works.

Also given approval were the transportation charges for one Plymouth pupil to attend St. Mary's school, Shelby, and for one attending the Celeryville Christian school, which will be paid to the parents.

High School Principal Granville S. Fleisher asked the board to approve a resolution to allow the school to participate in the state theme project for 1987-88.

This year's program, ABC, which is for Accountability, Basics and Citizenship, is in six parts.

The board approved a change in the transportation policy which call for stronger disciplinary actions against unruly pupils on the buses and also requires drivers to send in their reports of such incidents within 48 hours.

Schools to split grant of $11,822 for drug study

Plymouth Local School district along with Clearfork, Crestview and Lucas districts, will share an $11,822 federal grant for a drug prevention program.

Each district will send staff members to the workshops. These in turn will return to their schools to instruct other faculty members and develop a local program.

The grant will pay the expenses of the teachers attending the workshops.

Village staff expects 10% pay raise in 1988

A 10 per cent wage increase is the goal of village department heads in 1988. Mrs. Terry Jump, clerk-treasurer, told village council during its committee meeting Oct. 6.

She said the raise is built into the 1988 budget. This also happened last year, but the council consented to a five per cent raise.

No decision was made and the council has several months yet to work out a new pay ordinance.

James C. Root, village administrator, said he is resigning as building inspector.

His reason is "I won't mess with it any longer". He strongly objected to the fact that his decisions of what the zoning ordinance calls for have been overturned by the zoning appeals board, specifically concerning installation of trailers. Councilmen agreed that once the board makes a decision, everyone was powerless to do anything about it.

Root's resignation was tabled with the hope he will change his mind, since he is the likely person in the village to hold the position because he issues building permits as part of his administrative duties.

Resignation of Mrs. Terry Hopkins as secretary of the fire department was received and is to be approved.

Councilman Roy Barber reported Fire Chief Terry Hopkins told him he is planning on purchase of a new ambulance in 1988 and not this year, as had been thought earlier.

An all-out effort is being made to collect unpaid ambulance bills, which go back several years. If necessary, the village will turn to legal means to collect money owed.

The ambulance has been financed solely on money received from its usage and not on tax money, and if this self-supporting aspect is to be maintained, the bills must be collected.

Specifications for the proposed single hauler trash pick-up were briefly discussed. Councilman A.H. Lee Welker said he favors a monthly charge on utility bills to finance a spring and fall pick-up. Barber said he was having "second thoughts" on the choosing of one hauler, to whom every household would have to subscribe.

The council also agreed to review the paid holidays for village employees. Because several new legal holidays have come into being, they have not been included. Most of the council seemed to think that giving "free days" rather than the designated federal holiday would be more welcomed by the village employees.

$3,000 lost by Sextons to late fire

A fire Saturday night in the Clovia Sexton home, 203 Riggs street, caused about $3,000 in damage.

Mr. and Mrs. Sexton were at home when about 9 p.m. they smelled smoke and called Plymouth Fire department.

The blaze was apparently caused by an overheated vent of a gas hot water heater, which ignited insulation.

Can red trim Eagles?

Showdown at Monroeville puts Plymouth in underdog role

In the locker room and on the practice field, they have another way of saying it. To please the Nice-Nellies and the postal inspectors, let's say it like this: For Plymouth it's a wave the scepter or descend from the throne.

In the Big Red cherishes any dream of winning or even of sharing the Firelands conference championship in 1987, it must defeat Monroeville at Marsh field tomorrow night.

There are those who say that Plymouth has two chances; slim and none. Not all of those who say it are Eagle fans; a goodly number of elite quarterbacks who customarily wear red on these Friday nights say, too.

What will it take to defeat Monroeville?

Don't ask New London's Wildcats, who outgained the Eagles Friday night, both on the ground and through the air, but couldn't win.

Don't ask Western Reserve, which played Monroeville at Colina and couldn't win.

The Eagles are undefeated. A narrow 8 to 7 victory in the first game is the closest any team has come to heading Monroeville.

A scout shared some of his findings:

1. "Watch out for Kevin Smith. He is experienced, he knows Coach Ringholz's strategy and system, he's cool, he can throw, and when he has to, he can put his head down and run. If he doesn't get hurt, he's my choice for all-conference quarterback."
2. "Look out for this Jerry

Morrow kid. He can run the ball. And watch that boy named Hales - good receiver."

3. "Monroeville's defense buckles sometimes, but it doesn't break. Not often, anyway. It handles the running game with hard charging up front and good linebacking."
4. "You can pass on Monroeville but your passer has to be quick and your receivers have to be fast."
5. "Monroeville shows a lot of discipline, especially when the pressure is on. It has a good kicker. Mike Lindenberg, and he can get it in on the 25 on in."

Bart Colahan leads the Monroeville secondary. He is a strong tackler, reads the pass well and encourages the rest of the secondary by example.

Steve Ringholz is arguably the best coach in the conference. He is a home town boy who played end for an earlier Eagle team but did not play college ball.

You don't have to be a Frenchman to teach a bunch of school-boys how to speak French. The run-and-shoot offense is not so easy to defend.

What will it take by Plymouth to win?

Its defense must hitch up its socks, its suspenders, its supporters - whatever it can hitch up - and deal with the running game of Monroeville as it did that of Danbury in the first half Friday night.

Its pass defense needs to be more aggressive and much more alert. Its running game needs 100-yard efforts by Chuck Deskins and Co-Capt. Dave Powers early on, not in the fourth quarter when the issue is no longer at stake.

Its aerial game could be bought at most flea markets for two or three expired hotspots, a telephone slug and 11 cents in coin of the realm. To have thrown 12 times and completed only one for a mere yards against a weak Laker eleven was shocking. To have given up the ball by interception five times was unspeakable.

Can Plymouth do so?

If its coach and the players think so deep enough, the answer is what the Devil said when he answered the Infernal Telephone: "Hell, yes!"

Red whips Danbury on first half play

Plymouth made a strong first half stand up against a sorry second half at Danbury Friday night and came away with a 25 to 14 victory over the Lakers.

The Big Red is now 4-and-2 over all. Plymouth defeated Monroeville at Marsh field there tomorrow for a shot at the Firelands conference championship. If Plymouth can win it, it would be tied with the Eagles and New London for leadership of the league.

After Plymouth completely dominated the Lakers in the first half - Danbury did not make a first down until six seconds remained in the second period and went to the halftime recess with no rushing yardage and none through the air, either - there was just one question on the sidelines: is this the Danbury team that defeated New London and Mapleton?

After a four yard poke by Matt Hudak, the Lakers went to the air. Del Culver telegraphed his intent as well as his plans. Powers intercepted at the Danbury 37 and ran in it the Laker 12.

In seven plays the Big Red had scored, by recovery of Powers's fumble in the end zone by Co-Capt. Terry Hall. Schneider again kicked the PAT. The clock read 2:18 of the second half.

As time was running out, Plymouth recovered at Laker fumble at the Danbury 35. A 15-yard pass interference call helped the Big Red to reach the Danbury 20, where Chuck Deskins ripped through right tackle for 15 yards in two assaults. On fourth down, squarely in front of the uprights, Schneider booted a 23-yard field goal to give Plymouth a 19 to 0 lead.

At the half the Big Red with 38 plays had 11 first downs, 110 yards by rushing, only four by passing.

Coach Brad Bauer injected a mysterious elixir into the Danbury team during the halftime and it came out with the bit in its teeth.

A fight that resulted in offsetting penalties and two disqualifications shortly after the second half began did not cool the Lakers' enthusiasm.

On their fourth possession, the Lakers produced their first score. Having intercepted Koesse deep in Plymouth territory, Danbury set up at the Red six, a six yard penalty against Plymouth having done no harm. On first down Culver passed to Brendan Jones for the touchdown. The Red defense intercepted the pass for PAT.

Both teams made more mistakes than a paying customer ought to be compelled to watch. Plymouth fumbled five times and led the ball twice. The Lakers lost three of five fumbles. The Big Red did not pass so much, only 12 times, completing just one, losing five by interception. Danbury was picked off four times in 17 attempts.

Early in the fourth period, after Powers had run to the Laker 38, Danbury recovered another Red fumble. On fourth down, Suchi sought to punt from his end zone. He dropped the ball, Ernie Echeberry recovered and Plymouth had 25 points. Schneider's try for PAT was blocked.

During the next series Danbury electrified the crowd and established a new school record with an 88-yard pass-and-run touchdown play. On second down, from his 12-yard line, Culver found Jones lurking down the Plymouth sideline. He hit him squarely. Jones faked Hall out of his shoes and then raced to the end zone. Brian Kowalczyk bucked in for the PAT.

It was thereafter an exercise in futility for Danbury, which could not sustain any offense.

But neither could Plymouth. During the half, whether by analysis, prayer or seigneur, Danbury had devised a defense that throttled Plymouth all but completely. The Big Red could not complete a pass and was limited to 74 yards on the ground. Its pass defense was not what it should be to be competitive for the remainder of the season. Culver is not a grade A passer but he connected with four for 10 yards.

Powers powers! Co-Capt. Dave Powers plows ahead for big yardage in first period at Danbury Friday night.

Evidently it was not but the fat was in the fire and bearing a miracle, Danbury stood as much chance to win as does Judge Robert Bork. Indeed, the fire purposely started by the local fire department, a blaze in which $1.25 million in paper currency, shredded by Treasury department authorities, went up in smoke, merely aggravated the Lakers's situation.

The Big Red scored by every device known to schoolboy football.

The first score was a simple touchdown, scored by Chuck Deskins on a one yard play with 6:43 remaining in the first period. Plymouth had obtained possession by a pass interception. This theft was perpetrated by James Fletcher at the Danbury 37. He ran it in to the one end Deskins scored with the first play.

The reliable Bernd Schneider booted the PAT.

Unable to gain with the next kick, Andy Suchi punted 36 yards to the 23.

Todd Wilson ran it in for a second score but a yellow flag resulted in a 10-yard penalty against Plymouth. With first at 19 it marched to the Danbury 21, where what seemed to be an unwise call on fourth down forced the visitors to give up the ball.

Mayor guest selector today

A remarkable 8-and-2 performance by Fred L. Buzard last week brought Guest's record into parity with that of Past Dad at 27-and-18.

Guest's darling, OSU, took a terrible shipping, a point that Past Dad suggested but lacked the moral courage to choose Indiana. Young Dad is at 30-and-15, Older Grad at 28-and-17.

Guest selector this week is Mayor Keith A. Hobbie, an alumnus of Purdue university, who's "true blue for old Purdue" in his selections: he picks the Boiler-makers to dump the Buckeyes. Perish the thought, say the other four (well, three of them; Past Dad thinks it would be great for the Big Ten but lacks the moral courage to vote that way."

No. 2 seed foe

Plymouth drew Monroeville (12-6) in the first round of the Class A volleyball tourney at Willard Oct. 24.

Winner advances to meet the victor of South Central and St. Mary's Central Catholic.

St. Paul's is the No. 1 seed, Monroeville the No. 2.

Plymouth's record is 1-and-15.

Golfers fifth in conference; Mounties win

Big Red golfers finished fifth and last in the Firelands conference championships at New London Oct. 6 won by Mapleton with 358 strokes.

Scott Gano fired a 94 and won second team all-conference selection for this 10th place finish.

New London shot 367, Black River 385, South Central 402, Plymouth 404.

Big Red scores:
Gano, 94; Greg Niedermier, 96;
Aaron Lemmer, 101; Todd Gundrum, 111.

Heath Howard fired a 113.

Girls defeat Trojans: first win

Plymouth defeated South Central in three games Oct. 8 for its first volleyball victory of the season. Scores were 9 to 15, 15 to 10 and 15 to 4.

Toni Hill scored 16 points at service for the Big Red with one ace. Jill Willes had nine points at service with one ace.

Marianna Franceschi notched eight spikes and three kills for Plymouth, Janna-Rinehart three spikes for the Trojans.

In the reserve match, South Central won in three games, 6 to 15, 15 to 2 and 15 to 9.

Any Beverly scored 10 points at service with four aces for Plymouth, Robin Burks five spikes with three kills.

Red ranks 22nd after sixth week

Friday's foe, Monroeville, rank highest of any team in the Firelands conference after six weeks of computer ratings by the OHSAA.

The Eagles hold second place with 20 points in Region 18, Division V, just a point behind a team Monroeville has defeated, Calvert.

Mapleton is tied for 14th with Wellville in Region 13, Division 5. St. Paul's and South Central are tied for 22nd and last.

Western Reserve ranks 15th in Region 14, Division IV, New London 17th.

Plymouth is 22nd, Crestview 24th.

Black River is rated tied for 17th in Region 13, Division IV.

Here's what selectors think

Young Dad: "I hope I lose the Plymouth pick but Monroeville looks awful tough. Western Reserve looks like the No. 2 team in the Firelands conference. When does St. Paul's play South Central?"

Past Dad: "It's time, long past time, for New London and Crestview to play as they are capable of playing. I wish I had the moral courage to choose Purdue. A Boiler-maker would be good for the Big Ten."

Older Grad: "I still don't know what the Buckeyes have, maybe this will enlighten me."
Older Grad: "Eagles by 14. Ohio by seven over Miami. Roundriggers by six over Wellcats."
