

PLI buyout dominates —

Changes noted during 1987, village girls for 172nd Yule

Plymouth begins celebration of its 172nd Christmas today. It does so in reflection of substantial changes in the village since holiday time a year ago. Most significant of these was the purchase by employees of the village's only industry, Plymouth Locomotive Works, Inc., by its employee, with subscriptions by them and loans by banks and by the vendor, Banner Industries, Inc. As well as grants by the state.

varisty basketball team in Hiram college, where she is the third Plymouth graduate to matriculate in 75 years. Firelands Lodge 2153, L.O.O.-Moose, bought for $250,000 the former Hilo restaurant at Willard and will vacate the premises at 311 Sandusky street. That this building will soon stand idle means the two latest modern constructions in the village are without occupancy. The oldest licensed watering spot in Richland county has apparently closed its doors. Weber's Cafe, owned by David A. Howard, a Shelby attorney, and William H. Goh, Plymouth, closed last week. Reason? One owner claims police harassment over dog possession by some clients. It is clear that business in the place has been diminishing for some time.

Departure from the Public Square of the second oldest continuing business in the village was recorded in 1987. Mrs. Robert L. McIntire closed the family business and sold its building to Mayor Keith A. Hebble. The business began in the late 19th century.

Six churches in Plymouth and four at Shiloh will begin their Yuletide observances with Christmas eve services today. Church of God . . . Guinea Corner Church of God has set a revival from Sunday through Thursday, with Evangelist Ondie Wireman, Hueysville, Ky., in the pulpit daily at 7 p.m. Public is invited.

For the first time in the history of the high school, accreditation by the prestigious North Central Association of Secondary Schools and Colleges became a certainty. Such accreditation will accord greater of the high school some preferential consideration when applying for admission to private colleges and universities.

Lutherans . . . The Rev. Philip Carl will conduct the service Sunday in First Evangelical Lutheran church in the absence of the Rev. A. Preston Van Deusen, who will be vacationing. Committee chairmen are reminded the year-end reports for the church's annual report are due in the church office Wednesday.

Also for the first time in history, the boys and girls' head basketball coaches, David P. Dunn and Michael Badertscher, respectively, were chosen coaches-of-the-year by the Firelands conference, which also for the first time in history chose two Plymouth athletes for player-of-the-year honors. These were Steve Hall, now a freshman and candidate for the varsity baseball team in the University of Akron, and Kay Niedermeier, now a freshman and candidate of the Roman Catholics . . . There will be a children's mass at 8:45 p.m. New Year's eve in St. Joseph Roman Catholic church. On New Year's day mass will be at 9:15 a.m.

CLARK HUNTER

Hunter sets committee for reelection

Huron county's clerk of courts, Clark Hunter, announces the filing of his petitions for re-election in 1988 and the appointment of his Citizens to Re-Elect Clark Hunter committee.

His philosophy continues to be that good government is maintained so long as interested citizens take part in the process.

Chairman of the committee will be Robert Gentzel of Norwalk. Bonnie Hunter will serve as treasurer.

Other countians include Jordan Holthouse, Celeryville; Mrs. Cory Holthouse, Celeryville; Mrs. Coy Hillis and Robert Jones, New Haven; William R. Miller and John Hays, Plymouth.

Cemetery trustees abolished; sexton's work rules set

Board of trustees of the cemeteries was formally abolished Dec. 15 during a special meeting of village council.

The decision was not made overnight. After reviewing the financial figures of the cemetery fund, it was agreed by all councilmen that by putting it under the village administration it could be managed more effectively. There perhaps is not a person alive who can recall when the board was established, most likely in the last century when Greenlawn was officially opened.

The board's existence according to the Ohio Revised Code is at the Saturday hours at post office today, Dec. 31 discretion of the mayor and not required by law, as is the park board.

As soon as the ordinance was passed, the council passed another ordinance that spells out the duties of the sexton, which had never been done before.

Since the work involved mainly is mowing, the sexton will be required to work a 40-hour week from Apr. 15 to Nov. 1. During the off months, the sexton will only work when it is necessary to facilitate the sale of lots, deal with burials and maintain records.

During the actual working periods, the sexton will be responsible for hiring, filling out time cards and such routine matters along with maintenance of the two cemeteries.

The sexton will be under the supervision of the village administrator. Along with an annual salary for the position, fringe benefits include hospitalization and participation in the Public Employees Retirement System.

Kenneth Eshelberry, incumbent sexton, was not much pleased with the council's decisions. He claimed a full-time employee is entitled to the same benefits as other village employees who work on a full-time basis, including longevity pay and paid vacation time.

Because there had never been anything in writing in the past, it was always understood that the sexton's job was seasonal. There had never been any complaints by former sextons. They only received hospitalization and PEBS.

A resolution was passed to transfer funds from one account to another. None of the accounts went over its allotted appropriation for 1987. In fact, they were well in the "black". The problem for the clerk is that some of the items were overspent and some underspent, so it is a matter of juggling figures.

The vacating of six alleys in the vicinity of Woodland and Porter streets was passed on its first reading. Councilman E. Adrian Cole, who was one of the signers of the petitions of property owners, abstained from voting.

Once the ordinance is formally passed, each property owner will have to check his deed for revisions of what land he will own and what will be involved with his property taxes.

The council approved the advertising for bids for a computer system for the clerk-treasurer's office.

It will cost about $14,000 and has been provided for in the 1988 appropriations, which will be passed at the Jan. 12 meeting.

Part of it will be paid from a debt service account which is no longer active in the amount of $5,504.24. In order to free the money the clerk must request Huron county common pleas court to do so.

The remainder of the meeting was spent mostly in executive session to allow the council to determine a new pay ordinance and discuss the 1988 appropriations. Its hands were tied because two cruisers were provided for in this year's appropriation for the police department and had not yet been purchased so the problem was whether they should be provided for in 1988.

However they were purchased the next morning from the state patrol. Police Chief Stephen J. Caudill, Capt. William Burkett and Sgt. Richard Garm went to Columbus to do so.

They are 1984 Plymouth Fury III's at the cost of $1,950 each. Because they were used by the drivers' license division, they are in better condition than previous ones purchased, since they were not subject to the wear and tear that characterize those used by troopers on the highways.

Police hold Hamman once again

Enforcing a warrant issued in Clark county alleging theft, Plymouth police arrested Robert L. Hamman, 18, 51 Porter street, Dec. 14 at 7:55 p.m. in Plymouth street.

He was taken to Shelby jail to await extradition action.

Hamman pleaded no contest to an indictment alleging breaking and entering of the Handshoe premises at Mills avenue and Railroad street and awaits a presentence investigation report before he is dealt with by Richland county common pleas court.

Mrs. Hebble wins furniture at 'Market'

Mrs. Keith A. Hebble was the winner of the handmade wooden table and chairs Saturday when the village Christmasmarket closed.

Mayor Hebble donated the use of the McIntire building, which he recently purchased, for the four day holiday market.

Schools engage Mrs. Blankenship to be cook

Jessie Blankenship, Shiloh, has been hired by Plymouth Board of Education as a parttime cook at Plymouth Elementary school.

She replaces Mrs. Julian Taggart, who resigned Nov. 30. She will receive $2,463 annually for three hours of work each school day.

Her position as dishwasher in the Shiloh cafeteria will be filled by Sharon Kennard. She will receive $4.20 an hour.

Audrey Kamann succumbs at 48 at Monroeville

Sister of Russell and William Kamann, Miss Audrey T. Kamann, 48, Monroeville, died Dec. 18 at her home. She was ill only a short time.

Born in Monroeville, daughter of the Harold Kamanna, she was a 1957 alumna of Monroeville High school and a communicant of St. Alphonsus's Roman Catholic church, Peru. She was a member of its Altar and Rosary society and of the auxiliary, Seb-Loe-Man Post 547, American Legion, Monroeville.

After 12 years in the employ of Norwalk Truck Lines, Inc., she worked 17 years for Van Dresser Corp., Norwalk.

Her father died in 1975, her mother in 1976.

She is also survived by three brothers, Donald, Monroeville, and Eugene and Roland, Willard; and two sisters, Mrs. Ruth Moser, Galion, and Mrs. Margaret Mainzer, Norwalk.

The Rev. Herman Willman was celebrant of the funeral mass from the church Saturday at 10 a.m. Interment was in the parish cemetery.

Memorial contributions to the Medical College of Ohio at Toledo or to her church are suggested.

No issue next week: vacation!

Although this issue is dated Dec. 24, it was prepared Monday and printed Tuesday morning. To afford its staff its customary annual leave, the editorial and business offices are closed until Tuesday at 8 a.m.

There will be no issue of The Advertiser on Dec. 31. The next issue will appear Jan. 7, 1988.

This issue presents the annual letters to Santa Claus by second graders and "What Christmas Means to Me" pieces by third graders.

In those days a decree went out from Caesar Augustus that all the world should be enrolled. This was the first enrollment, when Quirinius was governor of Syria.

And all went to be enrolled, each to his own city.

And Joseph also went up from Galilee, from the city of Nazareth, to Judea, to the city of David, which is called Bethlehem, because he was of the house and lineage of David, to be enrolled with Mary, his betrothed, who was with child.

And while they were there, the time came for her to be delivered.

And she gave birth to her first-born son and wrapped him in swaddling cloths, and laid him in a manger, because there was no place for them in the inn.

And in that region there were shepherds out in the field, keeping watch over their flock by night.

And an angel of the Lord appeared to them, and the glory of the Lord shone around them, and they were filled with fear.

And the angel said to them, "Be not afraid; for behold, I bring you good news of a great joy which will come to all the people; for to you is born this day in the city of David a Savior, who is Christ the Lord.

And this will be a sign for you: you will find a babe wrapped in swaddling cloths and lying in a manger."

And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God and saying,

"Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace among men with whom he is pleased!"

Two hearts beating in TLC time

Watchword of the nursing profession is "tender loving care" — TLC, a quality that some patients assert is lacking in today's scheme of treatment in hospitals large and small. This piece aims to show how county's only nurses' training school is preparing two Plymouth-educated students to deliver that kind of treatment.

Two lissome and comely alumnae of Plymouth High school, the last of a special breed of professional student, will enter a seller's job market next spring and they have some advice for those who may wish to tread in their footsteps.

It's this: "C'mon in, the water's fine, but it's hot as hell sometimes, and the work will break your back and your spirit unless you're careful. But it's all worth it, but we would hardly do it all over again."

That's what Renee Carter and Bertha Hall, 1985 graduates of Plymouth High school who'll qualify as registered nurses when they pass the state examination next year, having been graduated by Mansfield General hospital's school or nursing in the last three year class in its history, say about what they're doing.

Succeeding classes — and theirs shows an attrition of eight students, to the 19 now enrolled and in good standing — will complete the professional studies in two years.

These two young women have made a cash investment as well as a personal investment in their professional education.

And they have some deeply felt ideas about how it works, how it ought to work, what needs to be changed, and when.

Each asserts "the guidance program at Plymouth is all right. There may be some who don't like the counselor, but that's their lookout, I got along with him all right and he served me well."

And each is quick to point out that curriculum deficiencies here were something of a handicap in their studies in Mansfield.

What deficiencies?

"We had no anatomy or physiology, and no chance to take those courses. The students who're in our class, in a number of instances, had had the beginnings of those subjects in their high schools."

Hold on, girls. Are you talking about oranges and apples, large school districts with enormous assets versus small districts?

"Not on your life, sir. We have one girl who comes from Canton, which is a big city district. Most of them come from such places as Wooster, Galion, Norwalk, Strongsville, smaller towns. How much easier it would have been for us had we been able to take those courses in high school."

And?

"And the second thing that needs to be changed is the amount of assistance that's afforded to a needy and deserving student. Take me, for example," says Miss Carter, daughter of the Richard Carters, now living in Arizona, and granddaughter of the Carl M. McPhersons, 132 Franklin street. "I was No. 2 in my class, academically, only a fraction of a point or so off No. 1, and what'd I get? One hundred dollars, that's what. The No. 1 got about $8,000. Many below me got some money, but nowhere near enough to make a dent in the need. Surely there must be some way to correct this situation."

What's the need?

Under the new program, cost for the two years is $5,419, which includes the dormitory fee of $818 for the first year and $696 for the second. Ohio State university tuition for 33 hours in the first year amounts to $1,561. Tuition fees to Mansfield General hospital total $714 for the first year, $1,530 for the second.

Financial aid of three types is available to applicants who qualify. There are scholarships, grants and loans. Scholarships and grants need not be repaid. Loans are just that, interest bearing accounts that total $2,625 for the first two years, $4,000 a year for the remainder of undergraduate study. Maximum outstanding debt limit is $17,250 for undergraduates.

Interest rate during the first year is eight per cent, during the second and subsequent years 10 per cent.

Parents and independent students may borrow funds at 13 per cent interest under the Plus Loan program. Maximum award of $4,000 a year must begin to be settled within 30 days after the money is disbursed.

It is these expenses that Miss Carter refers to.

But isn't it true, an inquirer suggests, that with the shortage of nurses almost everywhere, there is a seller's market and wage levels for registered nurses are so high that repayment of the loans is easy?

Nobody, they respond, can say how difficult or how easy it may be to pay off a loan until he tries it himself. True, there is a shortage of nurses, and true, some graduates of Plymouth High school who went ahead in nursing are finding employment far from home at impressive pay levels.

But what if a newly graduated nurse for whatever reason can't easily leave this area? Is he not then governed by established wage rates applicable to Mansfield and its orbit, smaller hospitals whose wage scales are certainly not higher than MGH's and in all likelihood somewhat lower?

The Misses Carter and Hall can say from experience that this is so, even though neither has actively entered the employment market. Why? Because each displays, third finger, left hand, the marquise that indicates matrimonial intentions, with suitors who are committed to local employment.

Miss Carter will marry Matthew J. Blankenship on June 4. Miss Hall will become the bride of Stephen K. Mowry on June 11.

And the conclusion? Society ought to fund at least some of the cost of training servants without, whom society cannot be healthy and happy, in the form of non-refundable scholarships and grants to deserving applicants. Which specifically means nursing students.

And once the schooling is tunded, comes the next question, how tough is it? When a young girl transfixes one with a direct glance and a slight touch of the hand and says, in a voice that's unmistakably firm, "Orthopedics is a terror, OB (obstetrics) and surgery 'pure pleasure', the present quarter is by far the roughest," one cannot but be impressed. And so it is with Renee Carter and Bertha Hall — they lay it on the line and one cannot avoid the conclusion they both know what they're talking about and mean what they say.

Complaints about the school? "Not academically, none at all. The instruction is good, the library seems adequate, but the rules ought to be adjusted and the furnishing of the dormitory rooms and the equipment in the kitchens on each floor ought to be brought up to line."

What rules? Students — the females, that is, and there aren't any males

Mrs. Eleanor Rohrer, house mother, keeps tab on all residents of the student dormitory. She's firm, fair and friendly, students say.

in the current graduating class — live in a dormitory if they are not Mansfield residents or emancipated children who've living quarters of their own. On week nights the curfew is 12:30 a.m. On weekends, it is 2:30 a.m.

And do these curfews interfere with ordinary life?

"If a student has a babysitting job, she might be kept out later than 12:30 a.m. Of course, she can phone in and usually the house mother will wait up for her. But that's embarrassing, and besides, when a student is away from home in a college, seriously working toward a career goal, she ought to be trusted to manage her life properly."

And the kitchens?

"When you go to the kitchen to prepare something, a snack or even a meal, with your own supplies, there's never enough equipment, pots and pans and spoons and stuff like that, to do the job. Or it's in such poor condition that you're better off not using it."

"It seems like they could bring that kind of stuff up to snuff. God knows we pay enough for it."

"Now take her" — Miss Hall nods toward her roommate, Miss Carter — "if she brings her little sister up here to stay a weekend, sleeping in my bed, which I am not using because I've gone home for the week-end, she's got to pay, and pay a stiff amount, to do it. That's not right. Some students who live away from the dormitory can stay the night, maybe because they're going to use the library, and pay only $1. But a sister or someone like that costs you money."

And what of visitors of the opposite sex?

Each laughs. "Oh, you mean guys? They have rules that they can't be in certain places later than certain hours, but if you can't do what you ought not to do in the time they allow for it, forget it!"

Mansfield General's school of nursing differs from others. Neither the hospital nor the school requires the wearing of the cap, which is not a distinctive one, such as the remarkable serotial displays that distinguish some notable institutions.

"We wear a pin that says we're Mansfield General graduates," the Plymouth girls point out. "It's all right, maybe it would be okay to wear caps — which are a pain, mostly, and get in your way — but it will take some time to establish that tradition. Who needs it? It's not so important!"

And social life?

"There's not much in Mansfield, but then, if you do what you're supposed to with your studies, there's hardly any time for social life. Most of the students go home for the weekend, even if it's to places as small as Plymouth. Home is home, and that's where our people are."

Girls are supposed to be untidy housekeepers in their own rooms, or at least the sitcoms on television that are shown during prime time so suggest, but the Carter-Hall menage is neat, clean, tidy, attractive, conducive to a pleasant life. Sure, the furniture is somewhat old. But who has brand new furniture in his bedroom each year? Or even each two or three years?

What's it all boil down to? "Hard work, first of all. And if you don't want to work hard, and keep your eye on your goal, this isn't the place for you. Or anybody."

What place is?

Prayer helped during 1987

BY AUNT LIZ
 Either I am slowing down or something has happened to a 24-hour day. They are definitely getting shorter by about 12 hours. There is nothing I would rather do than send holiday greetings to everyone who reads this, so this is it.

We deeply appreciate all the nice friends we have made here with the paper. For years I have joked that we could take a cross country jaunt and find a house to stay in each night without going near a motel. And I know we would be very welcome, which is a nice feeling.

This has not been a very good year for us, but it seems it is under control now. But a lot of you have also had some miserable problems. All I can say is never, never underestimate the ambulance service, our doctors and all those kind nurses.

Another thing not to be underestimated is prayer. Somehow when we were going through those dark days, I discovered that every church here was praying for a good recovery. It happened.

All I can say is thank you. And wish all of you a happy holiday and a nice year.

So next week starts a new year. I don't know if we will be around to see the year 2000 come in. But if we are, you are all invited. When our child were little, we would sit and plan that party.

About now I feel like starting on it. You can make all sorts of tidbits that freeze beautifully, but for 12 years?

All about town . . .

Dana Geller: It's a time for getting toys

What Christmas Means to Me.
Christmas means a time of happiness. It means a time of celebration for Jesus' birthday. It is a time to meet relatives. It is a time to get toys. It is a time to get to know people. And a time for meeting friends. And that is what Christmas means to me.
Your friend,
Dana Geller

What Christmas Means to Me.
I like Christmas because it is fun and you can build snowmen.
From,
Ryan Howell

What Christmas means to me.
Clothes, Santa, toys, Mom, Dad, Grandmas (Pa), candy, dinner, Baby Jesus, Christ, church, family.
Presents, candles, angel, aunt, uncle, cousin, decorations, elves.
My birthday is December the 4th.
Richard Lee Morganstern

What Christmas Means to Me.
Candy, candles, celebrate Baby Jesus, snow, aunt, cousin, star, family, toys, holiday angel, wrapping paper, star of Bethlehem clothes, tree, friends, December elves, Christmas dinner, Santa Grandma, Grandpa, decorations.
Angel Johnson

When it is Christmas families should get together and celebrate Christmas eve or Christmas. I like to get presents from your Mom and Dad who buy toys, or Santa Claus. Oh I forgot what I like best of all is food. I like to throw snow balls at my brothers but I missed every time.
Kim Powers

Christmas means getting presents, giving presents. It means celebrating Jesus' birthday. It means family gatherings.
Chris Chase

What Christmas means to me: It means you give gifts to people. And you celebrate Christmas with your family and friends.
Jill Roberts

What Christmas Means to Me.
We go shopping and get presents. Christmas is the day Jesus was born. That is why we celebrate on Christmas day.
We put up the Christmas tree and I help put ornaments and on Christmas day we open presents and we thank our Mom and Dad and sisters and brother. Then we have supper.
Heidi Hixon

Christmas is the day Jesus was born! That is why we celebrate on Christmas day. This year we have a fake tree. We might put it up tonight!
Laurie Stephens

Christmas is the finest holiday there is. You get presents at Christmas. And the best thing on Christmas is that Jesus was born. At every Christmas Jesus has a birthday. People gather around to sing songs and watch the Christmas light come on and after that all of the people go to the Plymouth freestation to get donuts and hot chocolate.
Mandy Roberts

What Christmas Means to Me.
I like Christmas because it is Jesus' birthday.
I also like Christmas because I like to open presents and to decorate the tree.
Nichole Nester

What Christmas Means to Me.
I like Christmas because there is alot of stuff to do. I like to see my relatives and they give me presents. We get cookies too. We celebrate Jesus' birthday. We decorate our tree.

Jeff Davis

What Christmas Means to Me.
I think Christmas is a joyous time of year. It is a time of year when people celebrate because Jesus was born. I think Christmas is a special holiday. I don't think receiving presents is as fun as giving. But giving to the poor shows Christmas in a way.
Nick Perkins

What Christmas Means to Me.
I like to watch the Christmas lights go on and off and I like to wrap Christmas presents for my cousins and my babysitters and brothers and I like to sing songs too, and it goes like this: "Away in a manger no crib for a bed, the little Lord Jesus lay down his sweet head. The stars in the skies look down where he lies, the little Lord Jesus asleep in the hay." The end of the song.
And I like to open presents, and see what's inside. I like to celebrate Thanksgiving and eat good food. I like to eat the good food especially the turkey.
Renee Brown

What Christmas Means to me is that I love Baby Jesus and Santa's reindeers, and Santa too. I get five dollars from my Mom and Dad. We are going to Michigan for Christmas, December 25th, on Friday.
Amber Dye

What Christmas Means to Me.
It means that Jesus was born. It means that Jesus was born at Christmas in a church. He is nice to people.
Crystal Lewis

What Christmas Means to Me.
Christmas means to me is when Christ was born. I think Christmas is fun. I like Santa. I like it when you get to toys. When baby Jesus was born.
Your friend,
Matt Kennard

What Christmas Means to Me.
That baby Jesus was born. And we have a Christmas dinner. And that the family is together. And it is a happy holiday and a happy time of year. Christmas is a time of year that we have for opening presents. A time to love others. And Santa and the reindeer. And have relatives come. And you get to make a snowman. And we get candy. It is a time to think about others. It is a time we give thanks. And to give money. And eat candies. Time to have friends.
James Jamison

What Christmas Means to Me.
I like Christmas because it is Jesus' birthday and I like to go to my best Grandma's house to eat good food, very good food, and I like to decorate the tree.
Rebecca Hicks

What Christmas Means to Me.
I like Christmas because all of my family gets together and we have turkey and stuff like that. Then when we are done eating we go open presents. Then I go to my other Grandma's house. I have already eaten so I don't need to eat again. Then we open presents. Then we sing songs about Jesus. It's a lot of fun!! Then the next day we go downstairs and look at the presents Santa brought us. I always get good stuff. Then we eat breakfast. Then at lunch we eat Christmas cookies and milk. And I forgot we leave cookies and milk and carrots for Rudolph.

Tracy Childs

What Christmas Means to Me.
I like to decorate our Christmas tree. We put up funny decorations and cute decorations.

We also celebrate Jesus' birthday. We eat and pray and have thanks that Jesus gave us food and cared for us.
Kim Stone

What Christmas Means to Me.
It means that we can enjoy all the things that mean caring, and loving, each other. All of us get presents and caring of each other.

All about town . . .

The Jeffrey Morravs, Columbus, will be Christmas day guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick E. Ford.

The William Taulbees are hosts for a Christmas eve gathering of the Jaque E. Donnerwith family. Christmas day their daughters and sons-in-law, the Gary Halls, Ashland, and Frank Coombes, will be dinner guests.

Experiments

are undertaken for the purpose of proving a theory.
The theory was that ownership by its employees could be successful by the application of good sense, diligence and faith in the idea.
In May the experiment began.
Seven months later, we can report the theory was valid. The employee buyout has been a howling success. This enterprise has shown a profit in every month since May. There are signs its hegemony in a highly competitive field will grow.

We couldn't have gotten this far without the conviction of every workman in the plant that the theory would work if each of us put our best efforts forward, the cooperation and confidence of the community in which we have labored for nearly a century should continue, and the faith in Him whose arrival among us we celebrate tomorrow.

That's all I can say now. Merry Christmas!
Your friend,
Dae Chammassouk
What Christmas means to me is when you give gifts to people and you celebrate. What you get for Christmas is very much fun, a holiday, when you buy everyone you know gifts. But you celebrate it with all your family. You also celebrate when Jesus is born.

What Christmas means to me. It stands for when Jesus was born. Mary and Joseph were in a stable and had Jesus. Meanwhile three shepherds were watching there sheep when angels appeared and said that Christ was born. Then three shepherds went to three wise men. And wide found in a book that the saviour would be born under the north star. And so they went under the north star and found Jesus and gave him gifts of precious metals of gold, silver, and brass. And ever since that day we have Christmas to think about Jesus and give gifts like the wise men did.

Tommy Nation

Spartans sink Big Red, 70 to 43

St. Peter's Spartans saw it Friday night that the 1987 Christmas of Coach David Hirschy and his Big Red basketball team won't be so merry after all.
The city slickers showed the kids from the sticks how the game is played with an horrendous 70 to 43 shelling.

Plymouth was never a part of it after a 2 to 2 tie early on in the first period.
The Spartans pressed from the outset and Plymouth did not react to it.

Result? Thirty-three turnovers, 22 of them in the first half, 16 of them in the second quarter, including 13 steals by the Mansfield outfit, leading to a monstrous Spartans lead of 26 points at 42 to 16 at the half.

St. Peter's outscored Plymouth in every period save the last, when with second line players in the lineup the Spartans failed by two to put more points on the scoreboard than did the Red and White. Plymouth outrebounced St. Peter's, 32 to 28. But the Spartans showed too much shooting skill and too much speed for the Big Red.

St. Peter's got off 60 shots at the basket and came away with 28 successes, a percentage of 46.6, certainly enough to see Jesus. Division IV team to the state semifinals.

The Spartans missed only three free throws in 15 tries, a percentage of 80.
And they made so few mistakes on offense you could almost count on offense you could almost count them without taking your shoes off.

For its part, Plymouth fired 55 times and converted only 19. It failed with nine of 14 free throws.
Red fans saw a remarkable performance by Andre Brooks, who was game high scorer with 23 points. Held to just two in the first quarter, he broke out with 17 in the second period, when St. Peter's shot 104-15.

Lonnie Feagin bagged 16 for the winner.
Only Eric Breznick, the third man off the bench, got into double figures for Plymouth. He produced 11 points, all of them long after the horse was stolen.

Plymouth may not have learned so much about how to play the game as what it needs to do to win next year. Which is, Jesus.

The Spartans ran nine points in the middle of the second period and Plymouth's goose was cooked, albeit a whole week before Christmas.

And immediately thereafter it ran six, all of them of steals before the Big Red could advance from its back court.

Nine of the 12 Spartans players on the roster broke into the scoring column. This is a formidable team, indeed, and it will go far in March.
The next opponent is Buckeye Central almost as fine a club as St. Peter's. It is fortunate that no opponent in the Firelands conference is so strong as St. Peter's and Buckeye Central. It will take a magnificent effort by the Big Red to stay even with the Bucks, particularly on their floor.

What refrel Red reserves may have been an omen for the big team.

Plymouth failed with its first nine shots, not one of which even touched the rim. The Spartans led by 12 before the Big Red got on the board at all, and this came at 1:30 of the first period, after five and a half minutes had gone by.
St. Peter's won, going away, 60 to 23.

Girls fail to hold lead at Mapleton

Big Red girls came out in the fourth period at Park Dec. 15 and went down before Mapleton, 36 to 27, in Firelands conference play.
Plymouth had two players on the hardly able list — Donell Branham and Laura Paul and sustains a stiff loss in the second quarter when its ace, Kim Gibson, turned an ankle.

The Big Red led at 23 to 20 with eight minutes to go. But the Mounties applied the pressure and got home with 16 points while holding Plymouth to just four.

The Mounties outshot the Big Red in the field, 15 to 12, and at the foul line, six to five. Mapleton shot 47 times, Plymouth 38. The Mounties missed four free throws, the Big Red three.

Mapleton controlled the boards, 30 to 25, and made two fewer errors on offense, 19 to 21.
Kim Ritchey scored 10 to lead all players.
Miss Gibson accumulated eight before she had to retire.
