This is the last of two good coaches working together with the Big Red. David Dunn is giving up coaching after a long career, but assistant coach Dave Hirshey will still be around.

The girls' Blue team lost by one lone point Apr. 6 in the Firelands Conference All-Star game at Mapleton. Plymouth's Kay Neidermeier more than did her share to keep the game so close. She scored 29 points.

That's our boy Jason! He played on the boys' Blue team at Mapleton. Robinson accounted for 25 points, but the team went down to the Reds, 112 to 103.

Members honored at FFA banquet

Accomplishment of the members of the Plymouth High school chapters of the Future Farmers of America and Future Homemakers of America were recognized at the annual awards banquet Apr. 7 at the school.

State FFA degree was earned by Tami Boock and Shannon Estes. Vicky Stephens received the chapter degree and the junior degree went to Laura Stroup and Jodi Rockford.

Two members placed first in the regional rally. They were Laura Stroup for the chapter activity manual and Shelley Ousley for consumer decision making.

Placing second was Jamie Moyer for her illustrated talk.

Peggy Helms and Vicky Stephens placed third for their chapter activity display, and Kathy Chase was also a third place winner for her state activity display.

The awards were presented by the chapter advisors, Mrs. Carole Kirkpatrick and Miss Cathy Brooks.

Outgoing officers were recognized. They are Tami Boock, president; Shannon Estes, vice-president; Peggy Helms, secretary; Shelley Ousley, treasurer; Laura Stroup, historian, and Kathy Chase, news reporter.

New officers for the 1987-88 school year will be Laura Stroup, president; Peggy Helms, vice-president; Jessica Pultz, secretary; Jodi Rockford, treasurer; Jamie Moyer, historian; Michelle Towless, news reporter, and Julie Wells, recreation leader.

Also recognized were the chapter mothers, Mrs. William Boock, Mrs. Russell Estes and Mrs. Richard Stroup, for their help during the year.

The highest honor the FFA chapter can award went to Greg Neidermeier who was named star chapter farmer. He also received the beef production award for his raising of a steer that had a rate of gain of 2.8 pounds per day.

Star greenhand award went to Jeff Smith. This is given to a first year member who achieved the highest scoring in FFA activities.

Leadership pins for outstanding participation in the chapter's various activities were presented to Dwayne Sexton, Randy Myers and Randy Smith, 12th grade; Steve Arnold and Greg Neidermeier, 11th grade; Jeffrey Smith and John Myers, 10th grade, and

EASTER EGG HUNT

Changes have been made in the village's annual Easter egg hunt. It will be Sunday in Mary Faye park, but at 2 p.m. rather than 1 p.m.

The Plymouth Patrolman's association is sponsoring it this year.

Prizes will be given in three age groups, preschool, first through third grades and four through six.

Ream retires

One of Plymouth's veteran bankers was honored Monday at a reception at the Neal Zick office of Toledo Trust.

Quentin Ream is retiring along with the closing of the bank's branch office in Plymouth.

He began his banking career here with the Peoples National Bank when the Shelby Air depot closed where he had been employed in 1959 and became a teller.

By the time Peoples sold out to First National Bank of Mansfield, he was a vice-president of the local bank. He was then transferred to the First National Branch which was newly built in Neal Zick road, as the branch manager in January, 1979.

When First National became a part of Toledo Trust, he was transferred back here to manage the Plymouth branch on the corner of Sandusky and Dix streets in 1984.

Kevin Stevens, Cory Myers, Larry Vanderpool, Russell Stroup and Jess Smith, ninth grade.

The swine production award went to Dwayne Sexton. His two hogs averaged a two pound gain per day and had a conversion of 3.7 pounds of feed per pound of gain.

Aaron Keinath received the fruit and vegetable award for raising vegetables on 48 square feet of ground.

The diversified livestock award went to Jeffrey Smith for his steer and two market hogs.

The repairing of a tractor and a garage roof which took him 56 hours with the improvement projects award for Jon Smith. Dan Newmeyer was the winner of the sheep production award with his market lambs who gained 65 pounds a day with six pounds of feed per pound of gain.

Jeffrey Smith also earned the Wildlife award for his 285 hours of trapping. He also received the public speaking award for his participation in the county FFA rec'd recital contest.

The 10 top pupils selling the most citrus fruit over the holidays which helps to finance the FFA program not covered in the school budget were in order, Randy Myers, John Hoffman, Eddie Fletcher, Scott Jennings, Steve Arnold, Larry Vanderpool, Matt Vice, Randy Smith, Dwayne Sexton and Jess Smith.

Two honorary chapter farmer degrees were presented to Jeff Wilkinson and Don Worden for their help to the chapter.

Worden's citation was for "He cooperated with the corn fertilizer test plots last year on the vocational agricultural farm plot and was vital in the success of the test plots. He provided fertilizer, equipment, and scales for weighing samples from seven acres of test plots. He also provided herbicide for a soybean weed control plot."

Wilkinson, a member of the Richland county Soil and Water Conservation district, was cited for his help to the local chapter. "He was instrumental in establishing a tree planting project on the chapter's farm land last year. His honor actually came a year late because he was on an agricultural tour of Taiwan at the time of last year's awards banquet.

All about town . . .

Academic Boosters are planning a spring drive for more members. Any person interested in joining the group is cordially invited to the group's meeting at 7 p.m. in Plymouth High school library.

The Boosters are planning on giving 10 scholarship grants this year of $200 each. To date they have received 12 applications and hope that if more members can be found, they will be able to increase the grants to 12.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Lewis returned last week from Phoenix, Ariz., where they spent the winter months with their daughter and son-in-law, the James Leonharts.

Dr. and Mrs. P.-E. Haver spent the weekend in Chicago, Ill., with their daughter, Diana.

Plymouth firemen responded to a call Apr. 5 early in the evening to Hazelbrush and Champion roads. Shelly firemen were also called. A steel structured building on the property of Rosemary Miller was saved by a small wooded structure was a total loss.

Neighbors were able to move out before the head of cattle, however, before the building was lost.

Board gives approval to Middle school

Approval was given for the formation of a middle school for Plymouth Local School district by the board of education Monday night.

It will begin with the 1987-88 school year this fall.

After hearing a lengthy discussion of the merits of dividing age groups to make the transition for the elementary grades to the high school level by school administrators and teachers, the board made its decision.

The sixth, seventh, and eighth grades will be grouped in one section of the Shiloh building which school principal Mark Sheely said lends itself physically to the plan.

Another items which came out of the discussion is that the bus routing will be more efficient.

Supt. Jeffrey Slauson said that the plans fit well within the school budget.

The total increase will be $1,454 which will go toward the paying of another secretary for half a day.

John Hart will become the principal of the three grades and Sheely will have a lead taken off him with only five grades and the kindergarten to administrate.

The board accepted a donation from the Shiloh PTO of $680.59 for various items for the Shiloh building.

Approval was given to graduation speakers who were chosen by the senior class.

OES dinner is May 2

Reservations must be made by members of Plymouth chapter 231, OES, for the members' dinner by Saturday.

They are to be made to Mrs. William Day.

The dinner will be May 2 at 6:30 p.m. at the Garden Spot, Willard.

The buffet meal for members will be paid by the chapter. Their spouses' meal is $5.00 or $6.95 depending what is desired.

Virgil L. Sutton, 84, dies in Florida

Graveside services were conducted Saturday for Virgil Lee Sutton, 84, who died Mar. 11 in Pinewood Nursing Home, Venice, Fla.

He had been a life long resident of New Haven until he moved to Florida nine years ago.

He was a member of the New Haven United Methodist church and a 50 year member of the Bellevue Masonic lodge. He had been a Ford dealer in Bellevue for 18 years along with his farming activities in New Haven township.

He is survived by his wife, Helene Fisher Sutton; two daughters, Rosalie, now Mrs. Dean Walker, Springfield, Fla., and Doris, now Mrs. William Wyandt, Orlando, Fla.; nine grandchildren and 16 great-grandchildren.

He was preceded in death by his first wife, Evelyn LaBounty Sutton in 1967, a son, Virgil, in 1984, a grandson, Max Lee Sutton in 1971, and a sister, Mrs. Mabel Hatch and a brother, Claude Sutton.

Burial was in Maple Grove Cemetery, New Haven.

Miss Daron is an elite lifter

Kimberly Daron received the top classification award for women during the second annual Power Plus open held in Zaneville and came home with the first place trophy.

She is now an Elite Lifter.

During the contest she had a squat of 306 pounds, a 156 pound bench press and a 530 pound deadlift which gave her a total of 790 pounds at a bodyweight of 116.

She will be an entry in the Ohio Benchpress and Deadlift championships May 2 at the Ashland YMCA.

Rex Kilgore, a Plymouth graduate who has made a name for himself as a gospel singer, will give the baccalaureate address and Tina Rowe and Christian Thompson the graduates' speeches.

Lou Hall was given a continuing contract as a bus driver, and hours were changed for several of the Shiloh cafeteria workers.

Slauson gave the board forewarning of what financial cuts the district may have to make in the future because of the cut-backs in state funding.

No cut-backs are really planned, just the possibility. He pointed out various areas where money could be saved out of dire necessity.

The district actually has nine teachers over the minimum required which he said that if the district ever had to borrow state money would be the first cut.

Another item was the closing of Plymouth Elementary school because the pupils could be housed in the Shiloh building.

If all cuts were made the district would save over a half million.

On a brighter note, he had pointed out earlier that the district's gas bill for heating dropped rather dramatically this year. The drop was 26 per cent for all the buildings together. The only building which did not drop was the administration building which he said was being corrected.

VILLAGE COUNCIL MEETS

Village council has learned that the court hearing on the water problem with the City of Willard has again been postponed.

Tentatively it is set for sometime in May.

The postponement is due to the fact that the transcript was not ready in time for Huron county common pleas court Judge Robert Smith to give it a thorough study.

During last week's council committee meeting, Police Chief Stephen Caudill said that three parttime patrolmen had taken the tests of toxitation.

Allen Carey has qualified as a senior operator. Dane Howard, and Michael Smith received operator licenses.

The department has received the resignations of Lisa Perdue and Jeff Garrigues, parttime patrolmen.

Legislation was considered to solve the problem of continuous garage sales.

For several years complaints have been received for various parts of the village about those who run them from day to day. Council is considering some kind of a limited garage sale many a householder may conduct.

Council is also planning to advertise for bids on garbage collecting. When a particular hauler is decided upon, every householder will be billed for the service on the monthly utility bills.

James C. Root, village administrator, gave council the list of street repairs which are to be fixed this summer.

They are Wall street, 500 feet; Beahm, Nicholas and McDonough streets, 2,400 feet; West High street, 1,200 feet and East High street, 500 feet.

He also included miscellaneous patching in Bell, Railroad and Riggs streets.

Estimated cost is $22,850.

Newsy notes . . .

Rhonda Sue Sexton, 26 Trux street, and Jeffrey Scott Harris, same address, have applied for a marriage license in Richland county common pleas court.

Trivia of village
It was the first and only automobile put together here in Plymouth.

The Fate-Gonsaulus, former-runner of Fate-Road-Health Co. and Plymouth Locomotive Works, died.

In 1906 they formed the Plymouth Motor Truck Co. after a Toledo firm, Commercial Motor Truck Co., had successfully built a friction-driven truck, and they purchased it bringing it here.

They built a new brick building and hired an engineer, Walter C. Guilder, from Toledo to oversee production. Trucks and buses which could carry nine to 20 passengers were built.

Then one day, in 1910, Harry and Harley Fate, who had inherited the company from their father, John D. Fate, came up with the idea of a passenger car.

It was a five passenger touring model powered by a four cylinder, 40-horse-power Wisconsin engine with a double-disk truck transmission and a chain drive.

It's outstanding feature at the aft-end of the hood was a dome, 12 inches across and six inches wide. It was for a real purpose. Should the car run out of gasoline in a remote place, the cap was large enough to be able to pour in enough gasoline from an ordinary three gallon bucket.

The car with two 1908 Cadillacs set out on July 8, 1911, for a test drive to New York City. They did not get out on July 8, 1911, for a test drive to New York City. They only got there, but the Plymouth car went on to visit Atlantic City, N.J.

That is where disaster struck. A cracked cylinder which could not be repaired on the spot caused the men and the car to return to Plymouth via the railroad.

That was the first and only passenger car produced here.
What happened to it? Thomas Root remembers his father, the late Percy Root, who was a boy at the time, saying that it was simply dismantled and parts used elsewhere.

Trolley parks, first developed during the late 1800s, were America's first amusement parks. These parks were located at the end of trolley routes to encourage the weekend use of trolleys.

Social News

Remembering is a great indoor sport for everyone

You know I have had a lot of time to do some real thinking about life in the last month.

First, the big thing that really hit was when I started doing that 25 year back stuff which was the editor's contribution each week.

Sure, I knew about a lot of you out there who have done very well, but it really hit home when I realized how many, some, I am sorry to say I had almost forgotten over the years, who went on and made it.

Considering that Plymouth schools have not really been tops in any kind of contest, the kids did well. Part of it was a few good teachers but the biggest part was parents who cared.

What else can you give your kids but a good education. That, no one can ever take away like diamonds, land and even money. We all went through it, and I can say that I wore the discarded sweaters from the girls at Wooster for four years. And they were really nice sweaters.

We came here as "city" people, and there was no question that we were like ducks out of water. I can remember one remark made shortly after we came when someone said "you have to have a Webster's to read the Advertiser. Frankly, to this day, I still think it is the nicest thing ever said about us."

But we were oddballs, and no one really wanted to accept us as ordinary human beings which I thought was strange, because I considered myself among the very normal of the whole world.

I know enough about psychology to know that people are plain fearful of anyone who can replace them in their little social niche. It existed when we came, and still does today, but it is getting a little better.

For years I kept saying - ask so and so to be on this and that, they just need to feel wanted. I won't but about half way over the years, but still there was the old guard who did not want to give up.

What happened in Plymouth also happened in all the other small villages around here, the old guard did not take in any new "guards", they died off and some lovely traditions died with them.

Plymouth once had what was called the Twentieth Century Circle which had started back in the early years of this century. It was the social force of the village when we came. Membership was highly selective. They never asked me feelings. Then after a few years, it simply collapsed.

No one was even interested in belonging to it, it no longer was important.

Maybe if we could go back to some of these old traditions, there might be more community spirit.

When I look back over the years or what the two of us have done which is now completely forgotten because of all the nice new people who have moved in and the fact that those are here were too young at the time to have known.

Sunday is the Easter egg hunt - guess who dreamed that one up? The editor did and got his son to paint gold and silver wadded eggs as the big prizes which were used for years.

We once had a real going Chamber which as some of you may remember began in our living room over a couple bottles of Scotch. Then there was the Community Chest drive which still exists but rather meagerly. The Little League, thank God, is still going, and the Girl Scouts are doing well. They got revived also in our living room when we all had kids ready to be Brownies.

The best thing we ever did, or rather the newspaper did was to start a Golden Age club. Every other town had one, so Stella Hatch and I got together and we had one. It was a ball, and the people really enjoyed it. I will never forget the first dinner we had to get it going. It was in the old Legion hall over the bank, and I conned the guys into helping. It lasted a number of years and they always very nicely invited me to their anniversary pot-lucks which hit home because I was not eligible again, but they were fun. It got them all out of their houses and together which was good. The other good thing was that every one took enough left over food home to last a week which they all loved.

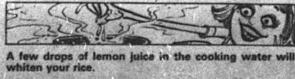

And speaking of left-overs, you will not have any of this to contend with the next day. It is too tasty to leave uneaten.

The only name I know for it is Chick a la Dorothy. When our children were home a few weeks ago, she nicely invited us to dinner knowing I was planning quick hamburgers.

Start with pieces of deboned and skinned chicken breasts. Salt and pepper them then sprinkle them very thoroughly with paprika and place each in a shallow baking dish.

Mix a can of cream of mushroom soup with a cup of real coffee cream - no cheating, use the real stuff, and pour it over breasts.

Bake at 350 for about an hour and a half. The sauce mixes with the paprika and is delicious. Change amounts for how many to be served - but this worked for six servings.

A few drops of lemon juice in the cooking water will whiten your rice.

Carl J. McCoy, Willard, pleaded guilty to possession of marijuana and intoxication in last week's mayor's court.

He was fined $15 on the first charge and $150 on the second plus three days in jail. Mayor Keith Hebble suspended the jail sentence and $100 of the fine provided he have no similar violations within a year.

Matthew L. McClain also pleaded guilty to driving while intoxicated and a stop sign violation.

He was fined $15 for the latter and $700 plus a 30 day jail sentence.

Mayor Hebble suspended 20 days of the sentence and $200 of the fine providing no similar violations within one year.

The charge of false license plates against Donald T. Risner was dismissed.

Carrie Tuttle, Plymouth, pleaded guilty in intoxication and having an open container and was fined $30 and $15.

Paying waivers for traffic violations were Anthony W. Sendelbach, Butler, Ky., $15; Eleanor Swain, Mansfield, $38; Barry L. Neuman, Galion, $15; and Jo Anne Kaylor, Willard, $24.

Rita R. McCoy, North Fairfield, is to appear this week on charges of driving without a license and a traffic control violation.

Charles E. McCoy, North Fairfield, will also appear this week on a charge of intoxication.

John S. Robinson, Shelby, pleaded not guilty to a turn signal violation and driving while under the influence which was continued for a pre-trial hearing as was the charge of not having valid license plates against John E. Stima, Tiro.

Carol L. Mahon, Bucyrus, is to appear this week on a charge of intoxication.

Dean A. Miller, Willard, Michelle Brewster, Milan, and Homer Lopez, Willard, did not appear for their charges of traffic violations.

AND NOW THE REALLY BAD NEWS.

The disaster isn't over when the emergency teams leave. For tonight these families need food, clothing, shelter. Tomorrow they'll start rebuilding their lives. And that takes months.

The good news is that the Red Cross will help these families every step of the way. No matter how long it takes. If you ever need the Red Cross, you can bet we'll be there. We'll help. Will you?

The first formal rules for baseball required that the winning team score no fewer than twenty-one runs.

Primary ballots now available

Absentee ballots are now available at the Huron County Board of Elections, 180 Milan Ave., Norwalk, for the May 5, 1987 Primary Election.

Any registered voter in the county is entitled to vote by absentee ballot for one of the following reasons:

- a) You are sixty-two years of age or more.
- b) You will be absent from the County of the day of the Election.
- c) You will be confined to a hospital on the day of the Election.
- d) You are disabled and unable to go to the polls.
- e) You are a service person or service spouse.
- f) You will be confined in a jail or workhouse, under sentence for a misdemeanor, on the day of the election.

You may vote in person at the Board's office or make a written application, in which you state your reason for voting absentee, your home address, and voting precinct, the address to which you wish the ballot sent if it is different than your home address, the party ballot you wish to receive and that you wish to vote in the Primary Election of May 5, 1987. If you wish to vote for issues only, please state this in your application.

Two local issues for Plymouth voters will be in the ballot: 2.5 mills for the village general fund and 2.5 mills for guards for permanent improvements in Plymouth Local school district.

The deadline for receiving applications, or in-person voting, is May 2, 1987 at 12:00 noon.

All ballots returned to our mail, or in person by the voter or a near relative, by the closing of the polls on the day of the election are eligible to be counted.

Union service . . .

A community Good Friday service will be at 7 p.m. in United Methodist church, Plymouth.

Congregations of all the area churches are invited. First Presbyterian church will be host for the Easter Sunday sunrise ecumenical service at 6 a.m. Breakfast will be served afterwards.

Methodist . . .

Congregation of Plymouth United Methodist church will join the Shiloh congregation today in a joint service at 7 p.m. there. It will be a communion service. The Good Friday service will be here at 7 p.m. Easter Sunday during the 11 a.m. service, the sacrament of confirmation will be conferred.

Society to meet April 27

Plymouth Area Historical society will meet Apr. 27 at 7:45 p.m. in Plymouth Public library.

This is a special meeting for all members and those wishing to become members. The "Florence Danner Collection" will be shown. Miss Danner, who now resides at Hillside Acres, Willard, is a life-long resident of the village and has collected local history over the years.

The society will have a fundraising auction June 10. Items are needed for it.

John Haver is the auction chairman.

The society in cooperation with the Plymouth planning commission is also sponsoring a "Preservation" contest for the older structures within the village.

Persons who either own or rent a building may enter. Forms are available in the village hall. Three prizes will be given, $50, $30 and $20.

The contest is part of the Ohio Historical society's preservation section and will be announced during "Preservation Week", May 22-25.

The society raised over $100 at its bake sale Saturday. Doris Backensto was the winner of the $10 gift certificate.

St. Joseph's Roman Catholic church will have a Good Friday service at 1 p.m.

There will be a vigil service Saturday at 10 p.m., and mass on Easter Sunday is at 10:15 a.m.

Lutherans . . .

During the congregational meeting Sunday in First Lutheran church, it was agreed to replace the church roof and do some other smaller repairs.

The funding for most of the roof is a gift from Mrs. Leonard McCollum, Huston, Tex., the former Eleanor Searle whose earlier forebearers organized the church.

Pastor Preston Van Deurson will be vacationing from Monday through Thursday.

The evening group of Lutheran Church Women will meet Monday and the Alice Willett class will meet Tuesday at 2 p.m.

Union service . . .

Wesley Evangelical Church, Route 603, Shiloh, has planned special services for the upcoming Easter celebration.

A community Good Friday service will begin at 7:00 p.m.

Easter morning services will begin at 10:30 a.m. Holy Communion will be celebrated during this service.

The Rev. William Kren extends a warm invitation to the public.

SAVING BABIES

... TREATMENT BEFORE BIRTH

April Murphy's life was saved two months before she was born, at the threshold of treatment before birth.

Prenatal diagnosis showed that April inherited a rare enzyme disorder that had been fatal to her older sister. Mrs. Murphy was given massive doses of a vitamin needed to activate the enzyme.

The courage and hope of the Murphy family, and of the March of Dimes grants, which developed the treatment, were rewarded when April was born. She was the FIRST CHILD successfully treated in her mother's womb for this inherited birth defect.

You can help make miracles happen.

Card of Thanks
Now that Pete is home, life can get back to being normal.
It has been a long haul, and we want to thank all of you for everything.
Our special thank you to the churches for including us in their prayers which we firmly believe in.
They worked.
There is no way really to thank everyone individually, so all we can say is that our door is always open and you are very welcome.

R_x for Flu or Chicken Pox: Kindness

Be good to yourself when you've got the flu or chicken pox.
Take it easy. Get plenty of rest.
Viral illnesses such as these are usually self-limiting. Time will cure them.
Check with your doctor about using medications to treat flu or chicken pox. For children—including teenagers—medications such as aspirin and aspirin containing products may not be a good idea. A rare but dangerous condition called Reye syndrome may develop in young people just when they appear to be recovering. Studies suggest a link between the development of Reye and the use of aspirin to treat the flu or chicken pox.
So, treat yourself right when you've got the flu.

NO ONE SHOULD HAVE TO CHOOSE BETWEEN OUR NATIONAL SECURITY AND THEIR JOB SECURITY.

But that's just the position volunteers in the National Guard and Reserve find themselves in every day. They're torn between serving their country and serving their employers.

We can't afford for them to have that dilemma. The Guard and Reserve makes up a full one-third of our nation's defense, which means without them our country would be a lot weaker.

When they ask for one weekend a month give them all the support you can.

It may be the only time you benefit more from employees not being at work than when they are.

Protect their future.
